SNOWSLIDES, FOLLOWING THAW, TAKE TOLL OF LIFE IN SLOCAN COUNTRY

Railway is Closed as Result of Mud Slides in Kootenay District

NELSON, Feb. 5.—Two lives were snuffed out and a ranch house destroyed and the railway line closed for the season as a result of snowslides during the past 24 hours following a day's thaw. The rain on Wednesday morning caused a snow slide which demolished the ranch house of John Hoyle at Queen's Bay, overwhelming the portion containing Hoyle and his wife and carrying away with her the son and servant who occupied rooms. The latter two escaped serious injuries but the two former were buried, and a gang of 22 men were working yesterday to remove the tons of mud but without finding the bodies. Work was resumed today.

As a result of the three big slides on the Kaslo and Nakusp branch of the C.P.R. the Kaslo and Slocan service will be discontinued for the winter.

Representative of Mill Owners Discussed With City Council Water, Power and Assessment

J. A. Ward Bell, representing the new owners of the Prince Rupert mill, met the members of the city council last night informally and laid before them the situation in connection with the operation of the mill here. He discussed with them the question of water supply, power and a fixed assessment on the plant.

Mr. Bell said he was given a fair hearing and his proposals were promised careful consideration. Members of the council showed themselves desirous of co-operating to secure an agreement which would prove satisfactory. This agreement may have been submitted to the people.

Mr. Bell will be in the city for ten days and during that time will probably discuss the matter further with the council.

Arriving with Mr. Bell yesterday from the south was D. D. McMaster, superintendent of the plant, and two or three men who will be employed there. Other men required will be secured locally. Work is commencing at once on the reconditioning of the mill in order that it may be ready for operation at as early a date as possible.

The conference last night between Mr. Bell and the members of the city council was in progress for three hours and a half. At its conclusion, Mr. Bell was told that the city's answer would be made in a few days.

Outlines Plans

In outlining his plans to the council, Mr. Bell said that, while it was the intention at present to cut lumber and to put in a box factory and shingle mill, the ultimate plan was to install a pulp and possibly a paper mill. This would take a lot of money and the treatment given them here would influence them largely in connection with it.

At present the company would purchase its logs rather than cutting from its own limits, John Smith and himself were the only ones interested in the concern and it was an operating proposition and not a promoting plan.

In connection with the possibility of erecting a pulp and paper mill here, Mr. Bell said it would take six, seven or eight million dollars and it was difficult to induce people to put that much money into it just now. He was satisfied, however, that this could be done and that it would be the economical method of handling the timber, 75 per cent of which in this district was suited only for pulp purposes.

BROTHER USMAR WAS CHARGED

Will Stand Trial For Manslaughter Following Death of Boy.

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—Following the finding of the coroner's jury, charging him with responsibility for the death of Henri Usmar, a lad eight years of age, in the Brothers school, brother Usmar was charged with manslaughter.

The boy died on January 24 as a result of a scalding he suffered when the brother gave him a bath at the school.

Dr. Drome, morgue physician, stated it was likely the "lad had been held under water," as not only was the skin scalded but the flesh underneath had begun to cook.

LACK EVIDENCE AGAINST WATSON

Charge Against Former Seattle Policeman Withdrawn In Bon Marche Case.

SEATTLE, Feb. 5.—The suggestion was made in court yesterday that charges against Ross Watson, as one of the defendants in the $22,000 Bon Marche departmental store robbery trial, set for February 9, might be dismissed for lack of evidence.

Watson's exoneration in this case will have no direct effect on the charge of participation in the Nanaimo bank robbery, for which he is now being held for extradition.

Watson was formerly a member of the Seattle police force.

RAILWAY TRACK IS NOW CLEARED

Train From the East Hill Arrive About 9 Tonight And One For the East Will Leave Shortly After

The four day tie-up on the railway between Kwikwitsa and Ansbury on account of snow slides and drifts was ended this morning when the rotary plow that had been working from this end got through and the west-bound passenger train, which has been waiting at Prince Rupert, was despatched to Prince Rupert. It was stated at the office of the general superintendent at noon that the train from the East would be in between 8 and 9 o'clock tonight, probably nearer eight o'clock. The train for the East will leave soon after that from the East arrives.

It is over five days now since there has been a train in from the East and it was last Saturday that the last one left here for the East. The company intends to keep its snow plowing equipment near Kwikwitsa until all danger of further tie-ups from snow is removed.

Fred Weaver, American vice-consul here, is leaving tomorrow for Vancouver en route to Corinto where he is to assume the position of vice-consul.

Sir Henry Thornton's Message to People of Great Britain is Broadcasted to Them by Radio

MONCTON, N.B., Feb. 5.—"Canada wants no other flag than the Union Jack and wants no other form of government than that which subsists under the throne of Great Britain," declared Sir Henry W. Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, in a message sent out from radio station CNRA in a broadcast which forged a new link in the bond of Empire which joins Canada to the Motherland. It was the first real attempt of any station in Canada to broadcast a concert designed entirely for the entertainment of listeners in the other side of the Atlantic.

It was made possible by the messages which have been received in large numbers telling of successful trans-Atlantic transmission by the Moncton station of the Canadian National railways on numerous occasions.

So the voice which went quivering out over the Atlantic was the voice of Canada speaking to the Motherland, a voice that was caught up in London by the powerful stations of the British broadcasting company and re-broadcasted from that station throughout the British Isles.

Value of Wireless

Sir Henry in the message which was delivered for him as one of the features of the program, says in part, "The experiment we are conducting tonight shows the value of the wireless in bringing large enterprises such as the Canadian National Railways into close contact with the staff and the public. Here in Canada with our vast and widely flung railway mileage, we find wireless of great value in maintaining a human contact between the administration and our men. For after all the success of any large transportation undertaking depends upon the goodwill of the public and the loyal, enthusiastic support of the staff."

Signs Of Progress Seen In City.

There are a few of the signs of progress for the city and district and there are others in the offing: Elevator contract let and equipment on the way here. Seal Cove Mill to open this spring. New cannery to be built near Seal Cove. Port Clements Mill to operate. Hamal and other mills to open soon. Abattoir to be built by P. Burns. Contract let for building for I.O.D.E. Plans being prepared for other buildings. More boats than ever before to engage in fishing.

Victory For Auto Over The Horse.

Only a few years ago people were wondering if the automobile was here to stay. Now we are told in the city of Los Angeles the horse is to be prohibited access to the crowded thoroughfares. Protection against horses is to be established. The horse has served a useful purpose. He has been a faithful slave to man and he is still the faithful friend of the farmer. For speed and distance, however even, the farmer takes to the berated Lizzie and steps on the accelerator. This is a world of change. If some of us are slow, we move forward with the mass.

Keeping Animals In Captivity.

There is a controversy going on in Victoria over the keeping in captivity of the little white bear cub that was taken to that city from Butedale, Princess Royal Island. From a scientific and tourist point of view it is argued that he should be kept and properly housed. The opponents take two lines of argument. One is that of expense and the other that of cruelty to animals. The members of the Property Owners' Association see in the bear no material gain but just an expense to the city. The other group advocate returning the bear to his natural habitat on Princess Royal Island, as being the only solution of the problem. They say it is cruel to shut any animal in a cage or small house. Even in the city council there is strong difference of opinion and it was only on a vote of six to four that it was determined to spend a thousand dollars on a suitable bear house.

The Victoria Times says: What Ursus Kermodei really needs is a trip to home and friends in northern British Columbia. Captivity and loneliness have reduced her to a pitiable spectacle. She is losing her hair and shape and at her present rate of deterioration soon will be anything but an attraction to even the guileless occasional tourist interested in white bears, if there is such a person. The impression created in the minds of most visitors by the pathetic little captive would not be complimentary to the good sense and humanity of the city of Victoria. If we really want to make a hit with visitors with bears, let us start with either a family of the burly polar species, or three or four eight-foot grizzlies with authentic records of crime whose baleful glares would give even the most sophisticated tourist a real thrill.

Similar Controversy Over Training Animals.

There is a similar controversy going on in other parts of the world over the training of animals. There is a big group of people that says it is cruel to train an animal to do tricks. There is a club, known as the Jack London Club, which uses its influence against the training of animals either pets or wild ones, and the exhibiting of their cleverness in public. They all claim that cruelties are common in training these animals and that the only way to prevent it is to stop training them altogether. Possibly these sympathizers with the animals, while well-intentioned, allow their sympathies to carry them too far. They do not give any credit to the people who treat animals kindly and train them to do things which they enjoy doing. People who have kept animals know how much they enjoy doing tricks. Dogs are especially tractable. Let a boy throw a stick and have a dog fetch it and the animal fairly pleads for a continuation of the game. Every gesture indicates enjoyment. Doubtless there are cruelties and these should be stopped, but there are kind trainers and they should be encouraged.

JUNEAU WANTS COLD STORAGE

Wrangell Has a Plant and is Erecting a Second For Fish Business

Last year public spirited citizens of Wrangell built a cold storage plant, says the Juneau Empire. They found it so profitable that the plant will be enlarged for this year's business. Not only that, but a second cold storage plant is being erected and prepared for business there. Awakening to the value of the fresh fish business to a community the people of Petersburg are already raising the money with which to build a cold storage plant at that place. The Petersburg Herald says the money will soon be subscribed. This enterprise on the part of Petersburg is following the construction of a municipal water, electric lighting and hydro-electric system. It shows what an enterprising community can do through co-operation when it sets itself about it.

Juneau's Neglect

Juneau has almost wholly neglected the fisheries business and it is being proved every year that she has missed a lot in doing so. This city is still the largest and, financially speaking, the strongest in the territory. That is because of her mining interests, because she is the center of one of the best producing and most prosperous sections of the Pacific coast, because she is the capital of the Territory and official headquarters for so many branches of the government and because, in spite of herself, she has a fine little fish business of her own. But think how much larger and stronger she would be if she had not neglected the fish business! Think what it would mean if there were 100 more fishing boats operating out of this port!

Argument For All

Juneau's neglects are of the past, but what of the future? It is conceded that the first step toward developing a fishing industry here would be the establishment of a large cold storage plant. If Wrangell and Petersburg can build cold storage plants and find them profitable, Juneau ought to do so. Fishermen contend that this city is better situated for a fresh fishing centre than any other in the Territory. She is nearer the fishing banks than any other town that has equally advantageous shipping facilities. She has large stores and machine shops. She has good schools and fine living conditions for those who want to live here and bring their families here. She has hospitals and all the other necessities. She has about the finest population on earth.

RUPERT MENTIONED AS PRAIRIE PORT

Will Do Business This Way Only if It Is Least Expensive Says Newspaper.

A movement is afoot to hold a conference, probably in Edmonton next summer, of the premiers of British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Alberta with the mayors and Reeves of important municipalities, and representative newspapermen, says the Edmonton Bulletin.

The object is stated to be to gain a wider recognition for the claim of Vancouver to be the logical outlet and inlet for Alberta and Saskatchewan. The purpose is of mutual importance to the people of the three provinces and it may be that something worth while can be accomplished at a "get-together" of the kind.

The interest of Vancouver and of British Columbia in the question is obvious. That of Alberta and Saskatchewan is equally real though different. Prairie people are concerned in getting their products to market by the cheapest route, and in bringing in their imports also by the cheapest route. If they are to do their selling and buying via Vancouver or Prince Rupert that will be because that is the least expensive method. Any reduction in the rates to and from Coast points must react to bring down the rates going and coming over the eastern route. If the proposed conference develops into a conference on freight rates and how to get them reduced that will perhaps be the most effective way of promoting the common interests.

Appointed Director Canadian Pacific

Ross Huntington McMaster

The recent election of Mr. Ross Huntington McMaster to be a director of the Canadian Pacific, filling the vacancy created on the board by the death of the late Lord Shaughnessy, is a recognition of the Company's part of his long-proved ability. A GOOD WAY TO INCREASE BUSINESS

Many advertising messages fail to attract attention because they are either unattractive or are too stereotyped.

This is the opinion of one of our busiest and most successful business firms—Albert & McCaffery, Ltd. They have succeeded in interesting many new customers in the story of the famous Nanaimo - Wellington coal and since the coal itself lives up to its reputation these customers are coming back daily for more. Nanaimo - Wellington coal is the premier fuel for the fireplace, range and furnace. More heat—less ash—no rock or clinkers.

You should try Nanaimo-Wellington as soon as your present supply gets low. Better still, if you order some now you can test it out with the coal you are now using. Nanaimo - Wellington stands supreme when a comparative test is made.

To secure a supply phone Albert & McCaffery Ltd., who are sole agents here. Their phone numbers are 416 and 564. tf

"I would have lost a finger but for Zam-Buk," says Mr. A. Rowlett, Gilbert Plains, Man. "It was my right fore finger—black with poison and swollen four times normal size. I tried poulticing; bathing it with antiseptics; even had the doctor lance the finger for 1 1/2 inches, but throbbing pain continued day and night until the druggist put me on to Zam-Buk. Nothing could have been done so quick as the great healer ended the terrible pain and removed poison. It set me right in a week."

SITKA TOTEM MADE JOURNEY TO ST. LOUIS

Is Now Erected in Public Park There And Is Fine Specimen of Native Artistry.

One of the finest and tallest totem poles in existence is in the Sitka National Monument Park adjacent to the Sheldon Jackson School campus, says a Sitka paper.

Carved by Haida artisans and originally erected in the village of Kasaan it was procured for the World Fair at St. Louis in 1904 and removed to that city as a part of the Alaska exhibit. At the close of the fair, through the efforts of Governor Brady, it was sent to Sitka to be erected and permanently preserved in the public park, along with other totems of similar origin.

The totem pole, which is but one expression of the totemic system, is now a thing of the past in Alaska. Aside from the diminutive and inferior specimens prepared for tourist trade totem poles are no longer made and the totem carver, a man of ability and distinction in former times, has vanished along with his outgrown social conception. The passing of the totem pole and of the totemic system in general carries with it the disappearance of a real art and brings a feeling of regret even to those who have been most instrumental in supplanting old superstitions with modern truth.

Totem poles were of four principal classes: genealogical, historical, legendary and mortuary. In as much as the natives of Alaska believed that men were once animals the principal characteristic of the totem pole is its animal figures. From the construction or design of the totem pole native people were able at a glance to distinguish the clan of the communal house in front of which it stood and to determine whether or not a welcome awaited within. These carvings were not worshipped as idols nor intended to represent deity. They were highly honored and revered because vitally associated, in the minds of the Natives, with questions of origin, the supernatural, and the proper respect due to the great heroes of the past.

IMMIGRANTS ARE ALREADY COMING

People From Many Countries Help Build Up Canadian Prairies.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 5.—Speaking many languages and garbed in many strange clothing outfits, a party of seventy-nine immigrant representing British, Scandinavian, and central European countries, reached Winnipeg last night over the Canadian National Railways, completing the second lap of their journey to new homes in Canada. The party comprised 25 Poles, 20 Russians, 10 Swedes, 12 Norwegians, 8 Hungarians, and the balance from the British Isles.

Last night interpreters from the colonization department met a party of 18 from the S.S. Regina, of whom 10 were English, 4 Germans, 3 Danes, and 1 Swede.

CITY MANAGER AND POWERS AGAINST IT

(Ottawa Citizen)

One of the principal objections to the city manager plan is that the system is undemocratic. The answer is that political patronage is in itself undemocratic. The city manager plan has been devised mainly for the purpose of abolishing political patronage and thereby removing one of the most undemocratic factors in all kinds of government. The city manager plan has met with defeat only when the powers of political patronage have been temporarily more active and of more avail than the adherents of the merit system.

MILLER IS AT SWANSON BAY

C.G.M.M. Vessel Arrives at Mill Town To Load One Million Feet for Atlantic.

C. G. M. M. Steamer Canadian Miller, Capt. Doullon, was off Rachel Island at 8.30 this morning on her way to Swanson Bay, where she will load one million feet of lumber for the Atlantic seaboard. The vessel is inbound from the Orient and is expected to arrive at Swanson Bay about seven o'clock this evening.

Capt. John McKernan, C. G. M. M. coast pilot; W. McKinstry, supercargo from Vancouver, and W. J. Nelson, local customs officer, left here at 2.30 this morning on the launch Pachena to pick up the vessel at Triple Island.

The Miller has 140 tons of Oriental cargo which she will discharge at Vancouver after loading at Swanson Bay.

This is the first visit of the Canadian Miller to this part of the coast. She was built at Montreal in 1919 and is similar in size to the Canadian Scottish. The vessel has been operated in the Atlantic service.

Had Rough Trip

The Pachena returned to port at 10 o'clock this morning bringing in Mr. Nelson, the customs officer. The Canadian Miller arrived off Triple Island at 2.30 this morning, but, owing to the roughness of the seas, it was impossible for the pilot to get aboard the vessel. At 8 o'clock he and the other officers boarded the Miller at Rachel Island.

Capt. Doullon reported a rough passage of 22 days across the Pacific ocean from Miike, a coal port in north Japan. Otherwise the voyage was uneventful.

The skipper also reported that the Rose Spit light was out and that there was a menace to navigation in the form of two submerged logs northeast of Lantara Island.

SALMON IN LAKE ONTARIO SUCCEED

For Six Years Experiments Have Been Conducted and Fish Are Now There.

Salmon from the seaboard of America live and grow fat in the waters of Lake Ontario and the streams of British Columbia, according to a bulletin issued by the Canadian department of marine and fisheries announcing success of a six-year experiment. Fully matured sockeyes, native to the Pacific coast, have been taken from Lake Ontario this year and 2-year-old Atlantic salmon have been caught in the Pacific coming down the Cawichan river of Vancouver Island.

An average of 200,000 young sockeyes have been released in Lake Ontario each year since 1918, and 500,000 Atlantic salmon have been planted in the rivers of British Columbia in the same period.

Last year's Canadian fisheries production was estimated at $12,565,545, with British Columbia having the most extensive salmon resources on the continent accounting for 50 per cent of the business. Salmon, halibut, lobster and codfish constitute 69 per cent of the Dominion production.

LONDON NIGHT CLUBS TO BE SUPERVISED

Evidence Being Collected By Scotland Yard Prior To Legislation Being Passed.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Proprietors and habitués of night clubs suffered a jolt when they learned yesterday that Scotland Yard had had its eye upon them for weeks. The police have been gathering evidence for Home Secretary Johnson Hicks, who is preparing a bill giving the police greater powers of supervision, especially in preventing the sale of liquor out of hours.

BARGE BINGAMON HAS DISCHARGED HER CARGO

Barge Bingamon has discharged her first load of logs at English Bay and has proven a success as a carrier, according to the owners. J. J. Coughland, managing director of the British Pacific Transport Company Ltd., expressed himself as much pleased with the experiment of carrying logs in that manner. She encountered heavy weather on the way south but found no difficulty.

A CANINE SPEEDOMETER

The city motorist was indignant. "How do you know I was exceeding the speed limit when you haven't a watch or anything?" he demanded. "Well, ye seen that yaller dog a-chasing ye, ain't he?" inquired the rural constable. "When that dog can't keep up with a feller I know that feller's goin' more'n thirty miles an hour."
