VISCOUNT MILNER DIED TODAY AGED 71

ONLY EIGHT THOUSAND DOLLARS BID FOR STEAMER PRINCE ALBERT TODAY

Viscount Milner Dies After Distinguished Career as Statesman

Rose from rank of humble journalist to one of highest in land; victim of sleeping sickness epidemic

LONDON, May 13.—Viscount Milner, 71 years of age, a former secretary for war in the British government, who had been ill for some time from sleeping sickness, died at his residence near Canterbury today.

Lord Milner had a distinguished career of service in Britain during which he served as under secretary of finance in Egypt, Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, and Governor of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony. He was a member of the war cabinet without portfolio and Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Viscount Milner's death is the first fatality of the sleeping sickness epidemic, which has attacked several hundred persons throughout Britain recently. Physicians are unable to explain the sudden appearance of the disease but the victims heretofore have usually recovered rapidly.

Not of Governing Class

Confronted in early life with many obstacles in earning a living and disappointment in his attempt to enter parliament, the rise of Alfred Milner from a humble commoner to be a peer of England and a knight of the most exalted Order of the Garter was a characteristic example of the social revolution in England that followed the Victorian days. He was one of a group of men who, in the latter part of the 19th century, pushed their way into political power in England, against the tradition of a governing class.

Lord Milner's first attempt to enter politics was through parliament at the request of several prominent leaders of the Liberal Party.

He went before the constituency of the Harrow division in 1885, but was defeated. The result removed from his mind any further thought of adding M.P. to his name, but the way for his entrance into politics was opened when he was named private secretary to the then Chancellor of the Exchequer. From that time his rise in politics was rapid.

DAILY EDITION

Wednesday, May 13, 1925.

Tell It Right Or Don't Talk At All.

If the editor of the Saturday Tribune knows as much about the Wong Sing abduction as he claimed he did in the screed he published last week denouncing the daily press of Vancouver for the manner in which it handled the news of the case, he should certainly be called upon to give his evidence at the forthcoming enquiry. The editor seems to be very nettled over the course that things are taking and somewhat dissatisfied with steps that have been officially taken though he cautiously explains that it is not up to him to tell what he knows for fear it would interfere with the official investigation. If he really feels that way about it and is desirous of having the mystery solved, the proper thing for him to do is to offer his information to the authorities instead of haranguing them with lectures which really amount to the attitude of "I know but I won't tell you. You are not smart enough to find out for yourselves."

Germany And Its New President.

Though fears have been expressed of what will happen with Field Marshal Hindenburg as the president of Germany, it is not likely that anything serious in Europe really will happen. True it seems that the Nationalists have taken control in Germany again but they will not be allowed to put into effect any radical policies. Such predictions that the monarchy will be restored are hardly likely to come to pass. Too wide a gulf lies between the Nationalists and the Monarchs for that.

Germany, we are led to believe, has been for some time breaking the strict letter of the Versailles treaty and has been building up a large civil police which amounts to nothing more or less than a new army. Hindenburg will undoubtedly be in favor of continuing this practice. It is no more or no less necessary for the Allies to take steps to prevent this now than it was before Hindenburg became president.

Lord Byng's Trip North.

The people along the Mackenzie waterway are to have for the first time a visit from a governor-general. Lord Byng will leave Edmonton on July 13 and go right through to the Arctic, the trip taking six weeks. That the people of the north will give him a welcome of the heartiest description is as certain as that he will thoroughly enjoy the outing. All who have made the journey have come back delighted and Lord Byng's example is likely to be followed by many others.

While the governor-general will, on arriving at Herschel Island, be a very long distance from the seat of government and the mileage he will have traversed will give many of those who read about his trip a new conception of the size of the dominion, he will be nothing like as much out of touch with the world as was his predecessor, the Marquis of Lorne, when over forty years ago he came to what is now Alberta. To reach it, a long overland journey was necessary from the nearest railway. Lord Byng will be able to travel in comfort all the way to the Arctic and with the radio service will get the news from day to day.

EARLY HISTORY OF HOSPITAL

Was Founded in 1909 And Has Steadily Improved Under Careful Management

On February 16, 1909, the citizens of Prince Rupert gathered in the Methodist Church for the purpose of organizing a general hospital and a committee was appointed under the chairmanship of J. A. Kirkpatrick with M. M. Stephens as secretary to carry into effect the incorporation of a hospital association. Through their aggressive efforts the committee was successful in securing from the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Company and the Provincial Government, a suitable hospital site which together with certain government and municipal grants enabled them to bring the hospital into being.

On January 14, 1910, the first annual meeting of the association was held and the first board elected. It comprised J. A. Kirkpatrick, president; R. Cuthbert, secretary; and E. K. Strathy, T. D. Paitullo, D. G. Stewart, G. R. Naden and A. Carss, directors. On September 20, 1910, Miss Kate McFavish was appointed the first matron.

Opened in 1911

Construction of the first unit of the present building was proceeded with and toward the end of January, 1911, the hospital received patients. At the annual meeting held February 3, 1911, D. G. Stewart was elected president and under his able administration the institution grew from year to year, keeping good pace with the advancement in the science of nursing throughout the province.

Mr. Stewart remained as president of the hospital for thirteen years, from February in 1911 until January in 1924, when he was succeeded by D. C. McRae. During that period many obstacles were met and many difficult problems arose; and through conscientious effort and resourcefulness, these were surmounted, leaving an institution capable of performing the highest possible service for the community. The crowning work of Mr. Stewart's hospital activity was his part in the erection of the nurses' home which will remain as a monument to his faithful service.

Sources of Revenue

The sources of revenue from which the hospital derives its income are the accounts of paying patients, grants by the municipality and the provincial government, and donations by the public. The prime object for which hospitals exist is to provide a means for assisting in the humanitarian work of restoring and maintaining health, to which all other phases of hospital work are secondary and merely a means for the accomplishment of that object. Bearing that in mind and having regard for the fact that the doors of hospitals are open to everyone who desires or needs hospital treatment, irrespective of whether or not they are able to pay for that service, it will be apparent that the success of those institutions must depend to a very large extent upon the moral and physical assistance of the general public.

There are perhaps few cities in British Columbia whose citizens and civic authorities back up their hospitals better than do those in Prince Rupert and the reason is perhaps to be found in the fact that those charged with the administration of hospital affairs here, since the inception of the association, have adopted a real spirit of self-sacrifice and service which has demonstrated to the citizens the value of their work; and as long as boards of management continue to give their unstinted effort, guided purely by public-spirited motives, so long will citizens and city council support them.

Hospital Day

National Hospital Day marks a time when every citizen is asked to pause and give thought to a phase of social service which commands the best patronage. The city is extremely fortunate in having as medical practitioners outstanding men. The matron and nurses are most efficient and extremely loyal to their noble profession. Only those who have passed through the experience can fully realize what it means to receive the dispensations of love and mercy, when group which adjoins the Ter-

The secretary is always on the job and his only interest is that of the hospital which, after all, is that of the public. It is, therefore, worth while to lend moral and physical support to the greatest extent possible.

"For all washing and cleaning you can't beat this soap —" says Mrs. Experience, who chooses soap for its economy and labour-saving value.

"Sunlight puts the sunshine of cleanliness into the home! For washing clothes, dishes, wood-work, linoleums, in fact, for anything that can be cleaned with soap and water—I call on Sunlight. And Sunlight does its work so well and leaves everything sweet and clean."

"Sunlight really is economical, too! You see, every bit of it is pure, cleansing soap, containing no filling or hardening materials, which are only waste as far as we women are concerned."

"You get greater cleaning value out of a pure laundry soap—and so I say, 'Always keep a good supply of Sunlight on hand.' It really improves with age. And because of its purity, Sunlight is kind to your hands and keeps them smooth and comfortable." Sunlight is made by Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto.

ROTARIANS ARE HONOR GUESTS AT KETCHIKAN

Flag Brought From Overseas Was Presented to Club by Visitors From This City

BANQUET ON MONDAY

Arriving home yesterday afternoon on the Princess Mary were a number of members of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club who went to Ketchikan last Friday for the purpose of taking part in the ceremony of presenting the charter to the Ketchikan Club at which Governor Frank Riggs of Portland, Oregon, officiated. Those making the trip were F. G. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. George Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee, John Dore, H. F. Pullen, C. H. Orme and Thos. Trotter. Several local men went across on the Cagan which called here Monday but they arrived too late for the big event. They were Consul Wakefield, Jarvis McLeod and T. H. Johnson.

The visitors were taken in charge on their arrival by Harry Nunan, president of the Ketchikan Rotary Club, and a number of others and from that time on they were given the freedom of the city. Autos were at their disposal and they were dinner guests at a number of Ketchikan homes. The Elks Club and other organizations made them welcome and the whole visit was a round of sight-seeing and entertainment.

Climax Monday

The climax of the whole affair occurred Monday night when a big banquet was given at which members of the club and their wives were present. There the Union Jack intermingled with the Stars and Stripes and everything possible was done to make the visitors feel that they were welcome and that their visit was appreciated.

The local speakers at this event were F. G. Dawson and C. H. Orme, the former responding to an address of welcome and the latter presenting the club with a standard and bell for the use of the president at meetings and a fine Union Jack donated by Sydney Johnston, a flag which he had brought from overseas and which he prized much. Mrs. Johnston sang most acceptably, surprising a number of her friends who were not aware of her ability in that line.

The full program follows:

- 1—Anglo - American Anthem, All.
- 2—Dinner.
- 3—Roll Call and Introductions.
- 4—Community Singing, All, led by N. R. Walker.
- 5—Address of Welcome, Rev. C. M. Van Marter.
- 6—Response, Fred Dawson.
- 7—Solo, selected, Mrs. Van H. Fisk.
- 8—Presentation of Charter, Governor Frank C. Riggs.
- 9—Presentation of Flag and Rotary Emblem, Cyril Orme.
- 10—Acceptance, President Harry Nunan.
- 11—Solo, selected, Mrs. Sydney Johnston.
- 12—"Our Club in Rotary," John R. Beegle.
- 13—Remarks, Frank Parrish.
- 14—Address, Frank C. Riggs.
- 15—Solo, selected, Ed. Sande.
- 16—Parting Song, Everybody.

MEETING OF FAIR BOARD

Tender for Printing Prize List Accepted — May Obtain Services of Local Band

The Fair Board held its regular monthly meeting last night, directors present being President Ben Self, Frank Dibb, S. D. Macdonald, D. Jabour, Ald. Brown, John Bulger, Fred Scadden, W. D. Vance, A. D. Plant and D. McD. Hunter. Business was principally of a routine nature.

Tenders for the printing of the 1925 prize list were opened. The only tender submitted, that of Rose, Cowan & Latta, was accepted.

The sports committee reported on behalf of the joint committee of the Fair Board and Elks that arrangements for the forthcoming May Queen carnival were well under way and that rehearsals were already being held under the direction of Mrs. David Thomson in the Elks Home.

The matter of obtaining the services of a band for the Fair was discussed and it was decided to approach the instructor of the North B.C. Regiment band with a view to possibly having that band perform.

MAYOR OF EDMONTON MAY BE CANDIDATE

Kenneth Blatchford Will Have Name Before Liberal Convention of Edmonton East

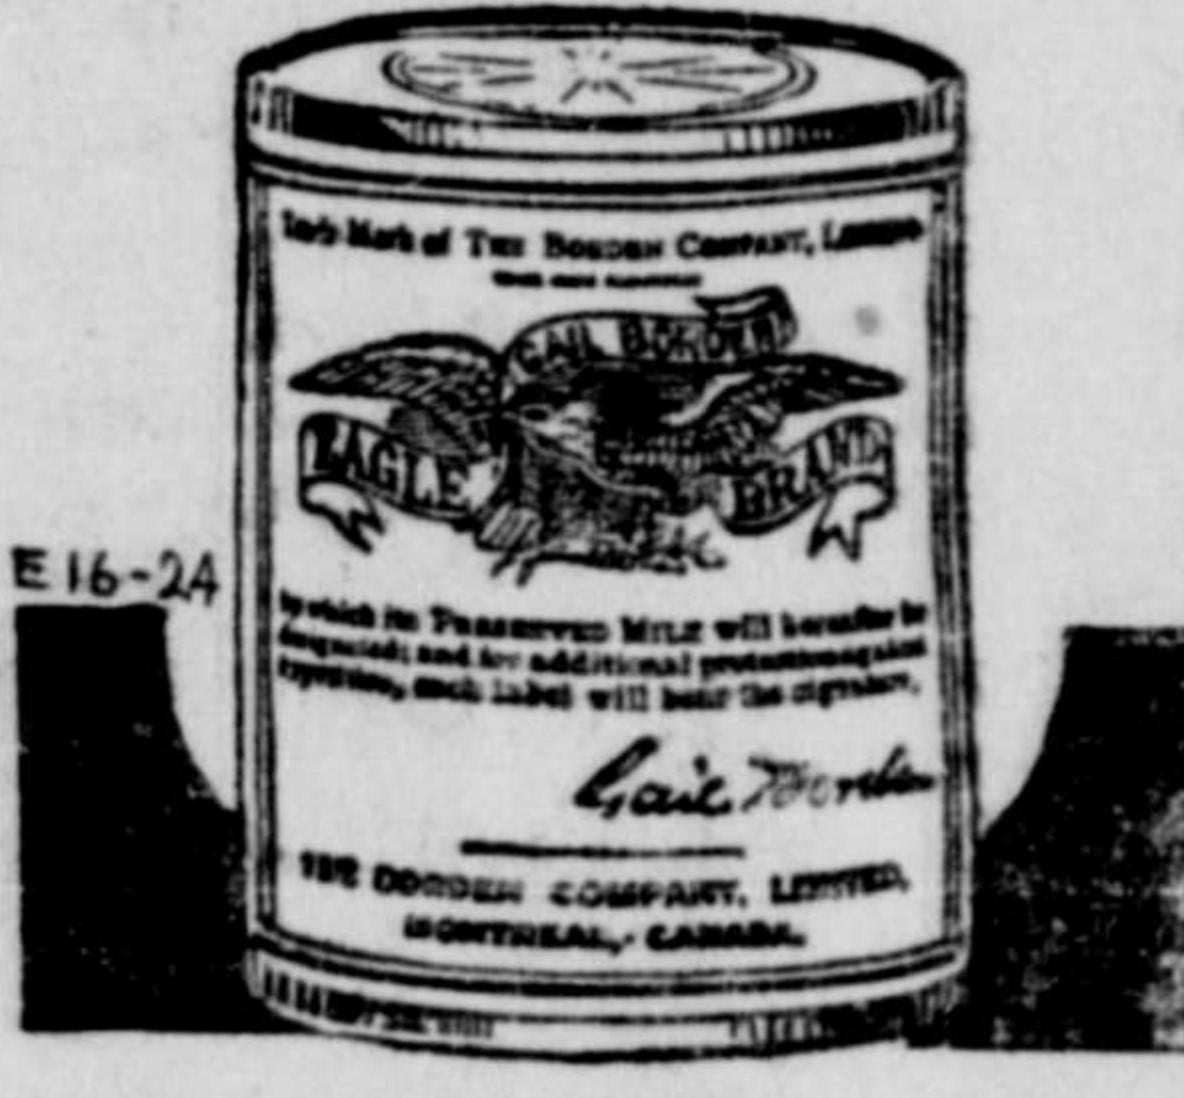

EDMONTON, May 13.—There is no prospective Conservative candidate in the field for the East Edmonton Federal riding up to date, as far as can be learned. It is understood, however, that it is planned to put a candidate into the field and the organizers will get busy within the next few weeks to get the constituency lined up.

There are three prospective Liberal candidates, Mayor Kenneth Blatchford, A. R. McLennan, M.L.A., and Joseph A. Clarke. These three have all announced their intention of allowing their names to go before the nominating convention which is to be held on May 27.

It is understood that the Conservative convention will not be held until some time later.

There is also likely to be a Labor candidate in the field. No definite announcement has been made by this organization as yet, but it is understood that they are laying plans and hope to secure the support of the rural sections of this community. It is not likely that the U.F.A. organization will put a candidate into the field, because of the small rural vote in comparison to the city. It has not been decided however, that this organization will link up with labor.

Motorship Fairbanks, Capt. McKay, arrived in port this morning with 30 tons of palladium concentrates for transhipment east over the Canadian National Railways to Irvington smelter, New Jersey, from the Salt Chuck mine, Alaska.

While the visitors were at Wrangell the Commercial Club gave a luncheon to the men who were planning the flight to the interior to prospect the mineral deposit which had been found years before and which was to be reached by airplane. The plane had not yet reached Wrangell.

The plane is a large one and will carry in three tons of supplies and bring out ore samples for assay. The ore shown at the luncheon was said to go $300 to the ton in gold alone.

Among the local men on the first party going into the Dease country was J. F. Ritchie Jr.

Mr. Miller took in Jack Wynne who is to act as customs officer at the boundary on the Stikine River. He had Mrs. Wynne and child with him.

GOOD TYPE OF MEN FOR DEASE LAKE DIGGINGS

While Number Going in Was Few, They Were Mostly Old Prospectors

J. E. Miller, inspector of customs, and T. Mason his assistant, who arrived from Wrangell on the Princess Mary yesterday say that the rush into the Dease Lake gold diggings did not amount to very much. Only 103 went up on the three boats that left on their first trip while he was there and 25 went in over the ice previous to that. A few others were preparing to leave. The redeeming feature of the move was the quality of the men who were going in. They were mostly old prospectors who know the game well and who will do some real work in the country and will probably find the gold if it is there.

The vessels leaving were the Hazel B. 2, Hazel B. 3, and Hazel B. 4. One of these towed a barge which carried tractors, automobiles, a team of oxen and a team of horses and a lot of other things needed in the country, including many tons of general supplies.

While Mr. Miller was there, word came from Telegraph Creek that the water had risen four feet and therefore the boats would be able to reach their destination. While the stream was fairly clear there was a still a certain amount of ice coming down which had to be avoided in navigating the Stikine.

MACKINTOSHES ARE DOING WELL IN SOUTH

Eric is Star in Olympic Football Club Which Cleaned up City Honors

F. W. Mackintosh, who formerly resided here for some six or seven years and who was a former manager for the Fair board, writing to E. H. Mortimer from San Francisco, intimates that both he and his son, Eric, are doing well in the southern metropolis. Mr. Mackintosh is now chief accountant for the Fleischacker Playfields under the San Francisco Parks Commission. Eric Mackintosh, a former star in local football circles, is now playing for the famous Olympic Club of that city. His team has not only won the local league but also two cup series. The writer states that the soccer game is played much faster down south and that there is a surfeit of old country talent.

URGES ALASKANS TO CO-OPERATE

Editor of Daily News Writes Editorial for Ketchikan-Alaska Chronicle

MAY HELP EACH OTHER

Many Points of Agreement Though Differences on Some Questions

Monday's edition of the Ketchikan Alaska Chronicle contains a front page signed editorial article by H. F. Pullen, editor of the Prince Rupert Daily News, entitled "Ketchikan and Prince Rupert," which follows:

Several Prince Rupert business men have been in Ketchikan for the past few days. Primarily they came here to attend a Rotary function which takes place here tonight but another reason for their coming was to try to help cultivate a spirit of co-operation between the neighboring cities.

There will always be rivalry between Canada's most northerly seaport and the First City of Alaska and there will be differences of opinion, the result largely of selfish motives. We cannot get away from human nature. On the other hand there are so many questions on which we agree and so many ways in which we may help each other and at the same time benefit ourselves that it will pay us to get together and form much closer associations in the future than we have done in the past.

Really Same People

There is the international boundary line which divides us but there is the fact that we are really the same people and that should unite us.

There is no real difference between an American and a Canadian. We speak the same language, have similar customs, amusements, business ethics, aims and aspirations.

Canada has a transportation system that is of some benefit to Alaska. Alaska has many products that could be shipped by the Canadian route with benefit to her. The Alaskan people, like Canadian people, are somewhat isolated from the rest of the world and they have to fight their way. If they can benefit themselves by making use of Canadian facilities and at the same time benefit Canada, their interests and ours will be one.

Mutual Helpfulness

Here is an instance where there might be mutual helpfulness. Today Ketchikan has a lumber mill which is helping to build up this city. At present the product is practically all consumed locally. The time is bound to come, however, when a foreign market will have to take some of the cut. If this does not occur, there will be other

A lump sum for the work is desired.

The terms of the unsuccessful tenders will be returned. The cheque or draft of the successful tenderer will be retained as security for the due payment of the contract to be entered into, or cheque may be substituted with equivalent par value of bonds of the Dominion of Canada.

Plans, specifications, and all necessary information regarding the proposed work may be obtained from D. Howe & Associates Consulting Engineers, Whalen Building, Port Arthur, Ontario, Deposit of one hundred dollars ($100.00) is required for plans and specifications, deposit to be returned on return of plans and specifications in good condition.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

mill start in the neighborhood, the product of which will have to be shipped to a foreign market. By co-operating ships might call at both Prince Rupert and Ketchikan and make up their cargoes for off-shore shipment. As with lumber, so with canned fish and fish products. There is no reason why inspection should not be made right here and the product be shipped direct in order to avoid the double handling and thus handicap the industry.

Ketchikan and Prince Rupert will both be busy ports from this time on. Prince Rupert expects to ship grain from the Canadian prairies and bring back Oriental goods for distribution on this continent. These goods might well come in bond to Prince Rupert for Ketchikan or the same vessels which call at Prince Rupert might put in here and discharge Alaska cargo instead of taking it south. There seems to be no good reason why Ketchikan should not be the distributing center for the whole of Alaska just as we expect Prince Rupert to be the distributing center for Northern British Columbia.

Before long we are bound to have more regular freight and passenger service between Ketchikan and Prince Rupert. We must from the nature of our joint interests associate much more closely than we do today. There is everything to gain and nothing to lose from such association.

Admire Pluck

We have enjoyed having Ketchikan visitors in Prince Rupert and members of the Prince Rupert delegation now here cannot speak too highly of the reception that has been given them. We are learning much from our visit to your city and possibly you may learn something from us if it is only what not to do. We admire the pluck and enterprise shown here. We are enthused by the optimism of the people and encouraged by their faith. They have had great difficulties to overcome but have faced them with courage and in many cases have overcome the difficulties which have presented themselves.

We wish you all possible success and trust to see Ketchikan a great city some day.

BEST FOOTBALL SO FAR PLAYED

Sons of England and Callies Met Last Night and Result was Three all Draw

A fair crowd assembled at the Aerropolis Hill grounds last night to watch the Sons of England play to a three all draw in the best football game so far this season. Play was fairly even, particularly in the first half. The Sons of England played a more open game and the Callies hampered their own efforts through the halves and forwards being too crowded.

The Sons of England won the toss and decided to kick up hill, making the two opening scores of the game through Johnson, first on a cross from the left and second on a cross from the right. Dave Scott opened the score for the Callies and at half time the tally was 2 to 1.

Some wonderful fish stories emanate from the Burns Lake district. While they may be a little exaggerated, they at least indicate that the angling is good around that part of the world. Nearly everyone around Burns Lake was out fishing last Sunday. It is stated that a number of young persons who started out in a Ford truck met with such success that they had to walk home because there was not room on the truck for both the fish and the original occupants. From Endako comes an even stranger yarn. It appears that a lady and a man were fishing in the same stream when both got a bite and, on hauling in the lines, discovered that a large trout had taken both hooks. With usual masculine selfishness, the man claimed the fish and took it home.

HEAD SQUEEZERS AMAZON BASIN

Dr. McGovern Will Try to Find Out How Crania Are Reduced

LONDON, May 13.—Efforts to solve the mystery of the "human head squeezers," a tribe of which almost nothing is known and which lives in the wilds of the mountains between the main Amazon basin and the northern Andes, is to be one of the aims of an exploring expedition to South America to be made next summer by Dr. William M. McGovern, one of England's most daring anthropologists. Dr. McGovern, who was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., visited Lhasa, the forbidden city of Tibet, disguised as a Buddhist monk, last year, and has headed numerous other expeditions in various parts of the world in the interest of anthropological research work.

The "human head squeezers" who have a way of reducing the heads of their victims to the size of a person's fist, according to Dr. McGovern, also are supposed to be the possessors of gold and diamond mines in their native haunts just to the north of the Amazon jungles. The Londoner plans to spend seven to ten months in their midst, studying their habits and customs. No white man has ever solved the process of how heads are reduced in size without so much as disfiguring any of the victim's features and in the interest of science Dr. McGovern hopes to be able to overcome this riddle in the course of his explorations of this tribe and its haunts.
