Rapid Work on Workhouse Bins Completed Tonight but there is Yet 80 Feet to Add to Height

Quick work has been done on this part of the building. A record pouring of cement was made toward the end of the week when 14 feet, 2 inches was added to the height in 24 hours. The height of the workhouse bins is 70 feet. Beneath that is the first floor of the workhouse 20 feet high and 13 ft. basement below that.

There is yet to be added cupola, in which there are five floors. The roof of the storage bins will be finished Wednesday.

Douglas Stork Tells of Flight to Vancouver in Vickers Viking Boat

"It's great stuff," said Doug Stork on his return to town this morning on the steamer Prince Charles after having flown from here to Vancouver at the end of the week on the Laurentide Air Service flying boat, piloted by Col. J. Scott Williams, D.S.O., M.C. In fact, Doug is such an aerial enthusiast now that he is already talking about getting an airship of his own and becoming a regular aviator. The Sunbeam No. 2 will never be able to give him the same thrills again, he admits.

The flight from here to Vancouver took six hours flying time. The plane left here at noon on Friday and reached Alert Bay at 4 o'clock. After refuelling there, the machine took off again, but ten miles out fog was encountered, so Col. Williams returned to Alert Bay, where the night was spent. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock departure was made from Alert Bay and at noon the big Vickers Viking flying boat soared over Vancouver city and landed safely at Jericho Beach station of the Royal Canadian Air Force. The trip was a very smooth and uneventful one, Doug says. An average altitude of 2000 feet was maintained.

Two Men In Field For Local Contest.

There are now two men in the field for the local contest in the federal election campaign. Both are excellent men and either would do credit to the city and district. Personalities cannot enter into the fight so it will be for electors to determine questions of policy.

Fred Stork, who was nominated Friday night by a representative gathering of Liberal delegates, has already secured some experience in parliamentary practice. He knows his way around at Ottawa and has the ear of the Government. In the new House there will be 225 members and it will be worth something to have a representative who can approach the Government at any time and secure a sympathetic hearing.

Who Will Form Next Administration?

There is little doubt that the Liberals will be returned to power at the elections. Canadians will wish to give them a chance with a real majority. So far they have not had that. It was only because the Progressives on the prairies were keen on getting competition on the Pacific Coast that it was possible to pilot through the million and a quarter dollars necessary to erect the elevator here. Everything had to be done subject to Progressive approval. This meant that many good measures were either killed or stultified.

If Mackenzie King is given a majority at this election he will be able to carry out his policies and he will present a much different figure as a leader from what has been the case in the past four years. Even as it is, his conduct has been beyond serious criticism except by those who are hopelessly biased against him.

Local Conservatives Much Encouraged.

Local Conservatives have been much encouraged at the fact that they have a good candidate to uphold their cause. They have started the campaign with a new energy and there is likely to be a stiff fight as a result. The difficulty with the Bushby campaign is the handicap it starts out with in having the Drayton policy dragging him down. He is tied by the policy of his leaders and, much as he may protest, he is a Conservative and they are the Conservative leaders. Their duty is to lead and his is to follow.

Drayton, Meighen and Co. are opposed to Prince Rupert and opposed to northern B.C. generally. They are opposed to the progress of the Canadian National Railways and would stifle that road. They are opposed to all capital expenditures on the railway, which means they are opposed to the Peace River road.

Under these circumstances it is not surprising that the Drayton party is finding the going difficult in this constituency. The surprise is that so many people are willing to uphold a policy which is inimical to all progress.

Salmon Eggs To Fraser River.

Salmon eggs taken from Lakelse Lake are being transplanted in the Fraser River watershed. In that way the local supply is being depleted by just that much. It may not be a serious depletion but it is more than we can afford to lose, especially considering that most of the Fraser River fish are taken by American fishermen in Puget Sound waters.

Some year or two ago it was promised that if salmon eggs were taken from the Skeena an equal quantity of eggs would be replanted in this watershed from the Fraser system. We hear of the Skeena eggs going to the Fraser but not of the Fraser eggs coming this way. We have protested at various times against this system and shall continue to protest. We object most strenuously to salmon eggs, which should be hatched for the Skeena River, being taken to the Fraser where they are liberated to supply the American canners on Puget Sound.

MANY ATTEND BIBLE LECTURE

Eloquent Address Given in Westholme Theatre on "1925 Prophecy and Fulfillment"

There was a large attendance and an interested audience last night out to hear the lecture given by W. E. Van Amburgh of Brooklyn lecture at the Westholme Theatre on "1925 Prophecy and Fulfillment."

That 1925 is pregnant with great possibilities no careful observer will deny, said the speaker. What it will finally bring forth is still uncertain. All the world is watching.

When Martin Luther was summoned to the diet of Worms in 1521, little did the actors imagine that they were starting a movement which would shake the religious world to its foundations, nor did they know that the date had been foretold in divine prophecy 3660 years before. When the writers of the Declaration of Independence met at Philadelphia in 1776, little did they realize that the momentum of their action would increase until it would rock the foundations of the political world.

Focussing Interest

Not only are the strenuous events passing before us focussing interest upon this year and its outcome, but prophetic statements in the Bible throw a search-light upon it. Ominous signs portend that 1925 will stand out as one of the prominent landmarks for the future historian. The year is but little over half gone, yet movements are already under way which threaten the destruction of present political and religious structures so completely that they can never be repaired. In their places will have to be erected better and more stable institutions.

The boldness with which the Bible foretold future events, and in many cases also gave the dates thereof is startling to those who have never investigated. The fact that history verifies every prophetic event due up to the present time places the stamp of divine approval upon Bible prophecy.

Jeremiah foretold the destruction of Jerusalem and the 70 years desolation of the land. History records that the Jews were privileged to return just 70 years later, by order of Cyrus, whom Isaiah had named a hundred years before. The prophecy of the destruction of Babylon was fulfilled so completely that even its location was lost for centuries. The place, date and manner of the birth and death of Christ were foretold and fulfilled, even to the details.

Great Pyramid

Alexander the Great, Augustus Caesar, Napoleon and many others are so clearly silhouetted by the prophet Daniel that they are easily recognized on the pages of history. Several Bible prophecies focus on 1925. The Great Pyramid of Gizeh in Egypt, a Bible written in stone, gives the dates of 1944 and 1925, besides many others.

The prophets Isaiah, Jeremiah and Zechariah foretold the rejection of their Messiah by the Jews, to be followed by a period of divine disfavor, equal in time to their special favor. The period of their national favor began at the death of Jacob, 1813 B.C. and ended with their rejection of Christ in the spring of 33 A.D., 1845 years. It was 40 years later, 73 A.D. the last vestige of their nationality went down.

Not until 1878, at the Berlin conference, did the Jews receive any evidence of returning divine favor, just 1845 years after 33 A.D. In 1918 they were permitted by the ruling nations to again celebrate their national passover at Jerusalem, which had just been freed from Turkish rule. This was 40 years after 1878 and 1845 years after 73 A.D.

Jewish National Flag

The law of the Jubilees outlined a still greater movement of the Jews towards Palestine in 1925. This last March the Jews were again permitted to fly their national flag, for the first time for nearly 1900 years, on their own ships between New York and Palestine. Few recognize the hand of Providence in this or know that long ago Jehovah had set the date 1925 for the beginning of this work. They are returning in rapidly increasing numbers, under their own flag. Over 1000 returned during last June, and Jerusalem is again the centre of Jewish national activity.

The Lord couples this freedom of Jerusalem and the return of the Jews with world-wide political disturbances, great distress and perplexity of all other nations. The Jews are going back and all nations are in distress and increasing perplexity. The daily news and editorials are filled with forebodings.

Religious Revolutions

The prophet Zephaniah adds that great religious revolution will be connected with these world-wide disturbances, and that Jehovah will sweep away all mixed religions. "That all may call on the name of the Lord, to serve him with one accord."

The trial of Professor Scopes, at Dayton, Tenn., a small local affair of itself, has aroused the so-called Christian world to intense interest. Nothing like it has ever before been known. Under the extreme nervous tension manifest everywhere today, who will presume to say what the outcome may be. Conditions are ripe for a religious explosion such as the world has never yet experienced.

The Bible has much to say about the Kingdom of God on earth, and the great changes to be expected, politically, religiously, socially, governmentally and seismically. Jesus said, "Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth." God did not promise to take all the meek to heaven, but to overthrow every form of unrighteousness and to re-establish his authority here, and restore Paradise, under Edenic conditions, and have homes of their own with joy and prosperity and none to molest.

Increase Average Life

It is no longer rare to hear of a centenarian. The Bible says the time is coming when to die under 100 years of age will be the exception. The average span of life is rapidly increasing. It is now 58, whereas a few decades since it was but 33. God did not create the earth for a cemetery, nor as a target for a celestial bomb. He created it for the eternal home of man, and promised the time would come when "There shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for those things shall pass away." That promise is to be fulfilled literally, and Christ taught his followers to pray, "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth."

The great increase of scientific knowledge, Biblical and otherwise, the automobile, the aeroplane, the radio, and the thousand and more wonderful inventions of the past 50 years are but foretold advertisements of the Kingdom of God, said the speaker in concluding. The time is close by when funerals will be unknown, and our dead ones will also be returning to life to enjoy the blessings of God. Many now living will see and enjoy these things. We therefore confidently announce, the Kingdom of God is at hand. Let all the world rejoice.

The Man in the Moon SAYS

VANCOUVER asks which you would rather have a puget sound or a false creek. A question like that puts one in a helluva strait.

A WORM may turn but who cares. He still crawls.

THIS is the time to buy your coal,
Buy your coal, buy your coal;
This is the time to buy your coal
And lay in your winter stock.

But my wife she wants all the cash I have,
Cash I have, cash I have;
But my wife she wants all the cash I have,
To buy a new party frock.

THE only thing that puzzles me is why I was not sent to a lunatic asylum many years ago.

MY Mary had a motor car;
I bought it with a note;
But now I'd swap that darned old thing
For a second-hand coat.

He's mighty wise,

And never tries.

BRINGING UP FATHER

RUPERT BEAT ANYOX AGAIN

Deciding Baseball Game of the Series Resulted in Local Victory by 9-to-4 Score

Prince Rupert won the third and deciding game of the baseball series with Anyox yesterday afternoon by a score of 9 to 4. Dan Lidstone pitched a steady game for the home team and had one strike-out to his credit in each of the nine innings. He was accorded good support with Stan Moran playing a particularly good fielding game at second. Jack Cody, captain of the Anyox team, who played behind the bat in the first two games, took the mound for the visitors, but proved no problem to the local batters. Dooly Dean was catcher.

Off with a Bang
Anyox started off with a bang in the first inning and made four hits—two of them two-baggers, by Cody and McDougall—with the result that three runs were scored. Not the least daunted, the locals came to bat in the second half of the inning and made two runs, Farquhar and Balfour making two-base hits. Dan Lidstone, the local hurler, got down to business in the second inning and held the visitors until the seventh hitless and unscathed. In the meantime, the locals again scored twice in the second through three-base and two-base hits by Farquhar and Vallance respectively. Prince Rupert added another run in the fifth as a result of two safe hits and two more runs in the seventh. There was a double play from Farquhar to Moran to Menzies in the seventh. In the eighth an error resulted in two more runs for the locals. With the score standing 9 to 3 against them, the smelter town players came to bat for the last time in the ninth and touched Lidstone for three hits, but were only able to make one run out of it. Soon after the start of the game, Rabideau, catcher for Prince Rupert, suffered a painful injury to a finger and had to leave the game for medical attention, being replaced by Dave Balfour, who played the position with his usual effectiveness for the balance of the game. In the eighth inning, Jimmie Farquhar was hit on the leg by the pitcher while at bat, and Chet Schlenker finished the game at third for him.

P. Laporte and Ralph Smith were umpires and the game was watched by a large crowd of fans which filled the stands to capacity. A substantial collection was taken up in place of the usual admission. The teams lined up as follows: Anyox—Brown, ss; Smith, cf; Sheen, 2b; Cody, p; McKeown, 3b; McDougall, 1b; Beaulieu, rf; Dean, c; McColl, lf. Prince Rupert—W. Mitchell, lf; Moran, 2b; Frizzell, cf; Jones, cf; Rabideau, c (Balfour after first inning); Menzies, 1b; Farquhar, 3b (Schlenker after the eighth); Vallance, ss; Lidstone, pitcher.

OCEAN FALLS WINS SOCCER

Defeated Prince Rupert for Second Time Saturday Afternoon and Captured Championship Cup

Again outplaying the locals, the Ocean Falls football team defeated Prince Rupert by two to nothing in Saturday afternoon's game and captured the Fair Board's cup, significant of Northern B.C. soccer championship. It was Ocean Falls' game all the way. The visitors had the play in their control and excelled the locals in combination. O. K. Lord scored the first goal for the paper town in the first half off a penalty, and W. Smith made the second for the visitors in the second half—a close shot. The game was featured with a good deal of roughness, and three or four men were knocked out and forced to leave the field for a few minutes. Tom Jones refereed, A. Clapperton and F. Woram were linesmen, and the teams took the field as follows:
Ocean Falls—W. Marshall; O. K. Lord and R. Main; J. Gunn, L. G. Best and W. Chapman; J. Paul, T. Faiggen, J. Munro, W. Smith and W. Mitchell.
Prince Rupert—A. H. Howlett; S. Erskine and D. Jack; J. Harries, D. Scott and R. Woods; F. Russell, R. McDougall, C. Wiper, W. Mitchell and G. Norrington.

JAPANESE WRESTLER FLOORS LOCAL BOXER

Mixed Wrestling and Boxing Bout Was Staged Saturday Night in Empress Theatre

The mixed wrestling-boxing bout on Saturday night in the Empress Theatre between Professor Takahashi of San Francisco and Brick Skinner of Prince Rupert resulted in a win for the Jap in the second round when he pinned the local man down with a double wristlock. There were preliminary boxing exhibitions between Herbie Morgan and Joe Chenoski and Ted and George Howe. George Cochrane refereed the main event and P. Laporte, the preliminaries.

Sport Chat

Prince Rupert's Fair week visitors have come and gone and now it might be in order to make a few observations as to how we found them. On the whole a spirit of good fellowship was observed among all the players although there might be a few criticisms as to how some of the visitors behaved. Certainly as far as three of the four teams that were here during the past ten days were concerned nothing but the highest praise can be given as to the way they conducted themselves when things were going against them—the time that real sportsmanship is put to the test. One of the visiting teams was inclined to grouch and express its feelings perhaps a little too forcibly. This certainly did them no good and did not raise them in the estimation of their hosts. Having made our observations as to the strangers that have been in our midst, it might be well for us to take stock of ourselves so that when it comes time for us to do the visiting our conduct may be such that our hosts may also judge us a bunch of "good sports" and not an aggregation of "crabs." The making of suitable arrangements for visiting sporting aggregations during Fair Week has always been more or less of a vexed question in Prince Rupert, though it was carried out better this year than in the past. No doubt there has always been the desire to treat our visitors in the best way possible but, with the rush of Fair Week, plans have sometimes miscarried. The visitors have sometimes found time hanging heavy on their hands and have not known which way to turn. The suggestion made by Ben Self, president of the Fair Board, that an official be appointed and paid to take charge of arrangements for accommodation and entertainment of visiting teams would seem to be a good one. It is that way any dissatisfaction ought to be removed and there would always be somebody to see that things were going smooth.

Mrs. C. E. Cullin Gets Interesting Letter from Visitor Who Was Here

SEES GREAT THINGS Even Rain in This City Preferable to That in Other Places She Says

At least one visitor to Prince Rupert has been pleased. Miss G.-R. Johnson of New York City was here during the summer spending a holiday as the guest of Mrs. C. E. Cullin, of Clapp Apartments. She wrote recently from Lake Louise telling how much she appreciated this city, as follows:

"Certainly Lake Louise with its turquoise water and surrounding mountains is the loveliest spot I have ever been in, but I should probably enjoy it better if I were on my road to Prince Rupert instead of back therefrom. I never went to any place where I felt so absolutely at home. Mark my words, fair lady, Prince Rupert will some day loom large upon the map. Where now are vacant lots and open spaces will be hotels and homes and shops and offices. When that day comes it will have lost some of its charm for me, but nothing will rob it of its beauty. There will always be the water and the heavenly beautiful hills and the glory of the sunset. No commercial success can rob it of these gifts, though factories and elevators may mar it somewhat.

"I suppose the rain does grow monotonous, but it seemed to me a much nicer rain than I have seen elsewhere—it was so clean and fresh looking. Rain in big cities is a combination of mud and rust. Rain in Rupert is the earth's shower-bath in which man is permitted to share.

"I told several people about Rupert on the boat, and they were all so sorry not to have stayed there. They had never heard of the place before, they said, except as a junction for the boat and train. That is exactly it: in the east of the U.S.A. British Columbia is just West. It isn't the 'Golden West' as is their own California. Pictures of it are not hung and printed everywhere as are pictures of California. And yet, B.C. in all natural beauties transcends California, with the added advantage of a good climate—I mean an enjoyable, healthy climate. A haphazard half a dozen of Los Angeles children and a similar number of Rupert children would, I believe, tell a surprising story on the subject of health. California is a beautiful place, and everybody knows it. British Columbia is a beautiful place and only a few people know it, for even some of the ones who live there don't. Native Californians are rarely rich (there are almost no opportunities there for making millions), but they prosper exceedingly because they are so healthy.

"I suppose you would scorn the idea of tourists in your midst, but I am terribly tempted to write to Sir Henry Thornton suggesting a scheme for sending you a thousand or so next summer for a little fishing and boating, etc. How much would it cost to put up a golf course? A golf course overlooking the water would be a tremendous attraction, as would a swimming-pool—a natural one I mean. All that Prince Rupert needs to have its fortune made in a few years is a little enterprise on the part of the inhabitants and intelligent publicity—not the kind that screams through a tin horn a trade of advertising slogans that have no foundation in fact, but the kind that states plain facts to people who ought to be interested therein. Tourists would provide the publicity and Rupert would soon find, like the dairy-maid of old, that its face was its fortune.

"It is dinner time. More anon. "ROSE."

cause they are such good boosters that they attract the wealth from all over the United States. I have been driven along Millionaires' Row in Pasadena. A more beautiful collection of homes it is impossible to conceive, though their value is lessened by there being too many of them together. They do look rather more like a 'collection' of houses than a street of homes. The most striking thing about them, however is the fact that hardly one belongs to a Californian. You are told, 'This one belongs to Mr. — of New York; this to Mr. — of Philadelphia; this to Mr. — of Chicago,' etc.

"You people dream of a Prince Rupert with tall factories and machinery and bartering in the millions, and electric cars and taxicabs (which latter kill and maim people at a rate that is causing traffic regulators sleepless nights), and I can't feel I should ever like to see it change into that. I would so much rather see it grow slowly, for I remember that in everything a slow growth is the best, into a Cowes. Of course you've never been there, but in common with all the rest of the world you've heard of Cowes Regatta, for it is the social event of the world, gathering its participants from north, south, east and west. Cowes has something of the charm of Prince Rupert, but it lacks the mountains, and when it rains there (and it does at all seasons of the year) a mist comes down, a cold clammy mist, which seeps through your bones and chills your very soul. They are not poor, the people of Cowes, and some of them are wealthy. You might wonder what they did for a living if you went there. I marvel at their ability to apparently live on nothing. But if you happened to know some of the natives you might discover that the man who wants a first-class launch is very apt to have it built at Cowes; that many of the launches attached to the expensive yachts owned by royalty and millionaires are built there; that the most beautiful silk and woollen underwear the British Isles produces is sold there, and so on. At times I ponder on these things.

"I suppose it seems quaint that I'm writing about Cowes when my real intention was to tell you how much I enjoyed Prince Rupert, but after all our joys are so intermarried, as it were, that it is almost impossible to write of one without bringing in another.

"British Columbia is lovely. The memory of its beautiful hills will always stay with me, but I shall always like Prince Rupert better than any other town because the water and the hills are together and the sea but a stone's throw away. I am too good a Britisher to ever live contentedly very far away from the sea.

"I suppose you would scorn the idea of tourists in your midst, but I am terribly tempted to write to Sir Henry Thornton suggesting a scheme for sending you a thousand or so next summer for a little fishing and boating, etc. How much would it cost to put up a golf course? A golf course overlooking the water would be a tremendous attraction, as would a swimming-pool—a natural one I mean. All that Prince Rupert needs to have its fortune made in a few years is a little enterprise on the part of the inhabitants and intelligent publicity—not the kind that screams through a tin horn a trade of advertising slogans that have no foundation in fact, but the kind that states plain facts to people who ought to be interested therein. Tourists would provide the publicity and Rupert would soon find, like the dairy-maid of old, that its face was its fortune.

"It is dinner time. More anon. "ROSE."

BEYOND THE BORDER BRISTLES WITH SNAP

Story of Deception that put Hero in Queer Predicament

When Bob Smith, sheriff, rode into town with his prisoner, Bob Smith, and discovered that he was no longer sheriff, he suspected underhand work in which his prisoner was unwillingly involved. He surrendered him to the law, however, and determined to help him.

The boy asked one favor — would Smith pretend to Molly Smith when she arrived the next morning that he was her brother and take her to his ranch?

Molly arrived and Bob, in the rush of events was accepted as the unknown brother, and fearful that the truth would break the pretty little thing's heart, he allowed the deception and that's what started things humming.

From there on the story races on with rapid-fire action gathering speed with every new incident until it ends up in a whirlwind punch that fairly bristles with snap. It's a humdinger western that will outclass anything you've seen before. It is to-night's theatre offering.

"ZEBRUGGE" FINE FILM SPECTACLE IS TO BE SHOWN HERE

Although the late war is relatively out of favor as a screen topic, and has been for some considerable time, no such ban could possibly apply to a film spectacle like "Zebraugge," a British super production that comes to Canada endorsed by the Sovereigns of Great Britain and the highest naval authorities. It will be seen here at the week end.

There is universal agreement that the picture is a truly remarkable achievement in realism. It is a marvellous reconstruction of the Battle of Zebraugge, which occurred on St. George's Day of 1918, and was one of the decisive operations of the Great War.

The opening reels are concerned with the preliminaries of the attack, the necessity for which is explained by means of striking pictures of the sinking of British ships by German "U" boats. These views are actually from German cameras, and were obtained by the British when an enemy submarine was captured on the way to the United States.

Following this comes a series of scenes that show the units in training and the life of young volunteers during the waiting periods. Then comes the drama proper. The story is unfolded vividly and thrillingly. It is a moving sight to watch H.M.S. Vindictive sending marines over the Mole in the face of death-dealing fire from the German batteries, and there are episodes that have such intense realism that the watcher half forgets he is not seeing the actual thing.

CHEAPER TO MARRY IS RATHER TRAGIC STORY

Immorality Shown to be Costly as Well as Wrong and Ending in Much Suffering

Jim Knight and Dick Taylor, life long friends, start a new business. As partners they agree that neither is to assume the financial responsibilities of matrimony unless the other consents. Jim, because his parents had been unhappy in their married life, does not believe in marriage. Convinced that mutual freedom is the only solution of the sex problem, he provides a luxurious apartment for Evelyn Gardner, a music store clerk. He keeps this relation a secret from his partner and the world, and though Evelyn hates her position she accepts it because of love for Knight. The friendship and music of a young composer aid her in concealing the wound.

Now she hates the money she wanted for the young musician's sake and, after forcing the firm to accept it, she leaves alone Sadder and wiser. Knight has learned, at the cost of the woman he loves, that it is cheaper to marry.

The picture is to be shown Wednesday.

Money and Marriage

In order to secure new credit for the firm, Knight arranges a party at Evelyn's apartment for Everett Riddle, an elderly bachelor who is a banker. Florence Lowry, who admits her quest for a husband; Dick Taylor and Doris Parker are the other guests. Dick reveals his desire to marry Doris. Knight is furious at first but later he consents, and admits his affair with Evelyn, thinking Taylor will in turn accept her as a member of the firm.

Taylor in anger refuses to allow the girl he loves to associate with Evelyn, but Doris censures him for being old-fashioned. The business is saved when Riddle, believing both couples intend to marry, grants needed credit. The old banker, citing his life, declares it is cheaper to marry. What follows proves his theory.

Dick and Doris wed, but Knight continues his arrangement with Evelyn, who, fearing the day when she may be cast aside for another resorts to familiar frauds to gain financial independence. Pride forces Knight to accept her reckless extravagance. He draws on the business heavily and finally the crash comes.

Then the difference between wife and mistress is clearly shown. Doris offers to sell her furs and jewels to aid the firm but Evelyn, although she has thousands of dollars will not part with a cent.

Why It's Cheaper

She now loves the young composer and plans to go away with him. Knight kills the last spark of her love for him by threatening wearing two pairs.

to have her arrested for fraud. Evelyn tells Masters her story. While willing to take her as a discarded wife he spurns her after learning her true position.

Now she hates the money she wanted for the young musician's sake and, after forcing the firm to accept it, she leaves alone Sadder and wiser. Knight has learned, at the cost of the woman he loves, that it is cheaper to marry.

The picture is to be shown Wednesday.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON APPOINTMENT OF SIR HENRY THORNTON

(Edmonton Journal)
Coming as it did with the news of the general election, the announcement of the reengagement of Sir Henry Thornton for another three years did not receive the attention that it would under ordinary conditions. His salary is to be advanced from $50,000 to $65,000 a year. If his services could only be retained by this increase, there will be little objection to it. Sir Henry is in the midst of a great task and it would be a misfortune if this were interrupted. He is still far from attaining his objective, that of making the government owned system an asset rather than a liability to the country. But, in spite of the difficulties that have been encountered in recent months, progress towards that end has been made. It is accordingly gratifying to learn that he will remain at the helm.

Somerville Cannery Co., returned on the Prince Charles this morning from a business trip to Vancouver.

THOUGHT MURDERED BUT EVENTUALLY WAS FOUND AT HAMILTON

Robert Fled From United States and So Did His Family

WATFORD, Ont., Sept. 14.—An interesting story is told of the first settler of Hamilton, Robert Lund, whose descendant, Mrs.
Mary Jane Stapleford of this place, has just celebrated her 100th birthday. Her direct descendants number 126. Mrs.
Stapleford, speaking of Robert Lund, says that he born on the banks of the Delaware River, took sides with the British when the Revolutionary War broke out. Carrying despatches, he was severely wounded and the same night Indians burnt his cabin.
His family searched in vain for him and then followed Loyalists to New Brunswick, while Lund, believing his wife and children murdered by the Indians, fled to Canada. He settled first near Niagara and then, in 1778, taking up 300 acres on the site of Hamilton. Several years later his family moved to Niagara and heard of Lund, walked to Hamilton, and found the long-lost father.

VETERAN PRINTER IS RETURNING TO STEWART

Peck MacSwain Says He First Met Fred Stork Thirty Years Ago at Bellingham

Peck MacSwain, the veteran printer of Stewart, who has been here looking after the mining exhibit, is returning to his home town this evening on the Prince Charles.

Mr. MacSwain has been a printer for 45 years but he finds it difficult to work at his trade any more. He has been in nearly all the mining camps of the west, both in the United States and Canada and has travelled extensively.

It was just about 30 years ago that he met Fred Stork at Bellingham Bay and he cannot see any other man to vote for now.
He says what he likes about Fred is that he is just the same in his attitude to his old friends as he was when he met him first.

Peck is a native of Waterloo county, Ontario.

PEOPLE RETURNING FROM UNITED STATES

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—Immigration to Canada for the first three months of the present fiscal year, that is from April 1 to June 30, 1925, totalled 32,449, according to a report issued by the department of immigration. Of this total 16,994 came from Great Britain, northern Ireland, and the Irish Free States, 5,307 from the United States and 11,048 from other countries, almost entirely from northern Europe.

In the same three months 9,- 141 Canadians who had been in the United States for six months or longer, and who went to that country to settle, returned to the dominion. Since the department of immigration and colonization began to keep a record of these returning Canadians on April 1, 1924, a total of 52,916 have come back up to the end of last June.
