HALIBUT CATCH FOR YEAR IS LARGE ONE

PARLIAMENT VERY LIKELY WILL NOT MEET UNTIL SECOND WEEK JANUARY

Halibut Catch for Year Much the Same as Last Nearly 30,000,000 lbs.

Halibut landings at Prince Rupert from American and Canadian schooners during the year 1925, the first year that the close season has been operative on both ends, namely from January 1 to February 15 and from November 15 to January 31, will compare very favorably with 1924 when there was only six weeks of close season and years previous to that when there were no close seasons at all.

A preliminary tabulation of the 1925 Prince Rupert landings made yesterday showed a total for the year of 28,644,200 pounds. Within the next few days something under twenty schooners are expected to land fish here that was caught before last Sunday when the close season started. This will further swell the year's total which cannot be definitely compiled until the last outstanding boat is in.

KIRKLAND MINE AT ATLIN SOLD

Tommy Becomes Almost a Millionaire as Result of Deal Just Put Through

VICTORIA, Nov. 20.—An agreement whereby "Tommy Kirkland" pioneer prospector of Alaska and the Yukon becomes practically a millionaire by turning over his interest in the Kirkland Mine, adjoining the famous Ingermeyer Mine at Atlin to a group of New York financiers, was signed here today. The new owners will spend more than a million dollars in developing the claim.

Several small shareholders, friends of Kirkland, who invested in the mine at a small fraction of the par value of the shares, received full price for their holdings under the agreement.

VICTORIA, Nov. 20.—A motion of S. D. Twigg, Conservative, demanding a committee of investigation into the use of remains of an inmate of the Escondido mental asylum for experimental work in the Janet Smith case was voted down in the Legislature 30 to 13.

The Labor, Provincial and Independent members of the House voted with the government against the motion.

TEST ELEVATOR MACHINERY NOW

Power Connected Today and First Turn Over to be Made Tomorrow

At noon today the elevator was connected up and tomorrow the first machinery test will be made at the elevator. The power was off today a little over an hour while the change was being made.

While the power was off the voltage was raised back to normal so that from this on the lights will be better and the power will be greater throughout the city.

It was a good thing that the power was changed to the Drydock plant recently, else the city would have been without light and power for two days when the water main washout took place a day or two ago.

Ernest Love, superintendent of utilities, will relinquish his duties with the city on December 3 and will leave the city on December 7.

KINGSTON DEAN DIES SUICIDE

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—The very reverend Dr. George Starr, dean of St. George's cathedral, Kingston, Ontario, committed suicide yesterday at the Deaconess Hospital where he was a patient. He was admitted to the hospital on October 24 suffering from a chronic ailment.

Beyond the statement that "he died of his own volition," the authorities gave no details.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 20.—Seven Mennonite families who arrived in a penniless condition last fall cleared a profit of $26,000 by leasing 2,080 acres of farm lands at Provost, Alberta, according to a statement made by the manager of the Herzog Canada Colonization Association. The Mennonites have now purchased the land outright.

Ottawa Opinion is Parliament Will Not be Able to Meet Until Second Week in the New Year

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—It is doubtful whether all the returns will be in so that Parliament may open on December 10. In the meantime preparations are going ahead in readiness for the event.

It is expected that by the end of the month it will be definitely known whether it will be possible to open before the holiday. The general opinion seems to be that a date about the second week in January will be set, as none of the members would wish to be away for the Christmas or New Year celebrations.

The opinion here is gaining ground that there would be no advantage to be gained from the adoption of the Parliament meeting before Christmas, as no business could be done until January. All that then to adjourn.

Dowager Queen Alexandra Died Today at Sandringham following Several Severe Heart Attacks

SANDRINGHAM, Eng. Nov. 20.—The Queen Mother, Alexandra, died late this afternoon as a result of heart trouble. The end had been expected for some days and King George, Queen Mary and his third daughter, Queen Maude of Norway, and other members of Royal Family were at her bedside before she died.

A bulletin sent out earlier in the afternoon by the physicians read: "Queen Alexandra is sinking rapidly following a recurrence of heart attacks during the morning." Free recourse to oxygen was had to mitigate her sufferings.

The Queen, daughter of King Christian IX. of Denmark, was born in 1844 and married the Prince of Wales on March 10, 1863. She was Queen of England from Jan. 22, 1901, to May 6, 1910, when King Edward, her husband, died. She would have celebrated her 81st birthday on December 1.

Her marriage to the British Prince was said to be purely a love match, but, like most other Royal matches it was to some extent arranged. The bride was well received in Britain and since that time has held a prominent place in the affections of the people.

The eldest son of the Queen, the Duke of Clarence, who, had he lived, would have been king, died in 1892 aged 28, just after his engagement to Princess Mary of Teck had been announced. The Princess later married the prince who is now King George.

Manson in the Legislature that the Grand Jury, which tried the murder charge against Wong Foon Sing should have returned a true bill, the Jury in its presentation to Mr. Justice Macdonald, who conducted the assizes, replied that it heard no evidence that the crime had been committed or connecting the Chinaman with the crime.

Only Thirteen Against Peace Pact.

Only thirteen people voted against the Locarno Peace Pact in the British House of Commons yesterday. It was practically unanimous. There had to be some opposition, of course, but it was negligible.

Of course everybody wants peace or professes to want it. The only difference is as to ways and means of securing it.

Finger Print Plan Proposed For All.

The Grand Jury at Vancouver has a new scheme for annoying the people. It would have finger prints taken of every person in the country and the individuals so recorded to pay the cost. This is another recommendation made without considering the consequences. We have enough laws of that kind, especially laws accompanied by fees. The tendency would be to try to escape it and those who escape being tagged would be the ones to whom it should particularly apply.

It is easy enough to sit in a jury room and make recommendations but much more difficult to get laws passed and have them properly enforced dealing with the matter. Already there are too many laws and some of them are not enforced to the extent desirable.

Protect Consumer As Well As Producer.

We hear such a lot today about protecting the producers. The manufacturer wants protection and the farmer wants protection and the fruit grower wants protection and so does everybody else if he can make a dollar by it. The consumer is not heard from in all this medley of demand. He suffers in silence. He is robbed on every hand. He is made to pay high prices for food and clothing and cars and is never heard beyond an occasional mutter. Now and then he decides to start a co-operative association and he votes against the high protectionist candidate but that is the extent of his protest.

Pity the consumer. He is the goal.

Where Is Heaven? People Asking.

A despatch to some of the newspapers says England is agitated today over the possible location of heaven. Dean Inge seems to have started the furore by stating in a recent book that there is no such place but that it is simply a spiritual condition.

The Dean says that for years people thought the Earth was the centre of the universe, that hell was beneath the ground and that heaven was above the sky. This was purely imaginary, he says.

After all the main thing to consider is what we are going to make the present existence. Is it to be heaven or hell? To many it seems to be hell but to hundreds of others it is heaven. Then there are those who live in the intermediate state. Today they are lifted to the seventh heaven and tomorrow they are cast down to the uttermost depths of despair.

Local Police Magistrate Sees Little Breaking of Liquor and Other Laws in United States

Tells of His Recent Trip at Luncheon of Rotary Club Yesterday Afternoon; Americans Much Like Ourselves

"During my recent visit to the United States I kept my eyes open to see if I could detect any signs of the breaking of the prohibition law or see the crime wave spoken of so much in the press and I could find none of it. Press reports to the contrary I saw no indications of it and as a result the people of the United States are prosperous and happy." That was the verdict brought by Thomas McClymont, police magistrate of this city, who recently spent a good deal of time at New York, Chicago, Buffalo and other American cities and who also explored the country districts.

"During all the time I was on the other side I saw only three persons who could be said to be under the influence of liquor. Two of those were in New York and one in Buffalo and there was not much the matter with them. Only once was I asked to have a drink and that was from a little flask in the smoking car of a train and it I refused. There is no sign that drinking is prevalent or that crime is rampant in the country. Probably if I was looking for it I could find it. It is unfair to judge the people from New York and Chicago. In the country districts I found there the same spirit pervading the people that moved the Pilgrim fathers and President Lincoln." That was the opinion of the speaker in regard to conditions to the south of the boundary line.

Just Like Ourselves

Mr. McClymont gave a long and interesting talk about his trip. He said he found hardly any difference between people south of the line to those north of it. He was well treated in crossing and in Wisconsin the most of the people were either Canadians or the descendants of Canadians who had crossed from this country thirty or forty years ago. This showed that there was a flow of population south even in those days. He would not have known which country he had been in if he had not had to pass the customs officers. All looked alike.

Passing on to Ontario, Mr. McClymont said that while the prairies were spoken of as the breadbasket of Canada, Ontario he thought was the garden of Eden. When he was there the country was very beautiful with the leaves turning color, the vineyards and fruit orchards in bearing and with cattle all around the farmyards. They gave it a homelike appearance.

Power of Advertising

Buffalo was the nicest city, Mr. McClymont said he visited in his travels. He visited the Rotary Club there and heard the singers from Blossomtime at the luncheon. He ate at table with eight Buffalo men and they never heard of Prince Rupert. However they knew something about Alaska and all wanted to visit that territory. That showed what advertising did.

The speaker also told of visiting in the country where people went to church on Sundays and where the types of people were just like ourselves, he did not feel like a foreigner there. There were no indications of great wealth and neither was there any sign of poverty. All seemed comfortable and happy.

Liked New York

The speaker said he liked New York and was more impressed with it than on a former visit years before. The traffic handling was wonderful. He was interested in transportation and was told there were 30,000 taxis owned by the larger companies irrespective of the smaller ones. They charged 25c for the first half mile and 15c for each quarter of a mile afterwards. He saw the houses of the millionaires and the churches and other public buildings, several of which he described.

One place in which Mr. McClymont was interested was International House. It cost three million dollars and was presented by one of the Vanderbilts. It was for the use of students from every land, three-fourths other than the United States. There were in all 535 residents at all times comprising 67 nationalities. A Canadian girl was in charge and a girl was there from British Columbia. The students were divided into groups, among which was the British Empire group. These gave entertainments, concerts, debates, and stunts.

Mr. McClymont told of visiting Albany, of meeting Governor

Smith, of Practice House where girls learned housekeeping as part of their work in the training as teachers and where babies were adopted so that they might be trained in motherhood.

Nearly Equal to Skeena

The scenery along the Hudson from New York to Albany, the speaker said, ranked next to the Skeena for scenery. At Toronto Mr. and Mrs. McClymont entertained the Kerzin boys and Miss Lorna Tite to tea at the hotel and at Winnipeg they met the Waitons. Also in Winnipeg they heard Rev. Fred Kerr, who was formerly in charge of the Presbyterian church here. He was one of the biggest men in his line in the west. In that city however he noticed a lot of empty stores right near the centre of the city and he did not think it looked well for business.

Returning to Prince Rupert, Mr. McClymont said he would not say he would rather live here than any other city for that would not be true, but he would say that it was easier to make a dollar here than any place he knew. That may not be good to the people here but he believed it to be true.

LAST HALIBUT BOATS COMING

Total of 96,500 Pounds Was Marketed at Exchange Here This Morning

About a dozen boats are still expected from the fishing grounds with halibut caught before the close season opened on Sunday. It is possible, however, that some of these boats may go to other ports with their catches and not come here. Some of the American boats will probably proceed direct to their home ports in the south.

This morning 96,500 pounds was marketed here including one Canadian boat with 8,000 pounds. The American schooner Scandia did not accept a local bid and proceeded to Seattle with her catch of 25,000 pounds.

Arrivals and sales here were as follows:

WILL OF THE PEOPLE WAS NOT MADE CLEAR

Had Majority Been Necessary in Each Case More Liberals and Progressives Would Have Been Elected

(Manitoba Free Press)

Out of 47 minority candidates who were elected in Ontario and the four Western Provinces, 15 were Conservative, 22 Liberal, eight Progressive and two Labor. If there had been the necessary provision in our election law to enable the will of the majority to prevail in each constituency, it is practically certain that at least 10 of the 15 Conservatives elected in three-cornered contests, would have been replaced by Liberals or Progressives. The verdict on the tariff issue would have been modified to that extent. Instead of 117 candidates being elected in the Dominion as supporters of Mr. Meighen's tariff policy, there would have been only 107. And instead of 124 Liberals and Progressives, there would have been 134. These figures would have shown more accurately what the people thought regarding the chief issue of the campaign, and Mr. Meighen's policy would have been seen to be more decisively rejected than now appears from the election results.

SPORT CHAT

Following a decision of the New York Boxing Commission that fighters who demand exorbitant sums to appear will be suspended, Tex Rickard, the world's greatest boxing promoter, has announced that he is through making guarantees to champions and that in future his terms will only be on a percentage basis. "No fighter is worth more than he can draw at the gate," Rickard has decided. Tex plans to stage championship fights in every class this winter even Jack Dempsey's division. Rickard also hopes to get Benny Leonard back into the game this winter. He says that the public has made Leonard what he is and that he owes it to the public to return to the ring.

Jake Schaefer, king of the world's ballyhoo billiard players, will defend his title for the first time since winning it nearly a year ago when he will meet Edouard Horemans, the Belgian cueist, in a fifteen hundred point match in Chicago beginning November 30. Horemans finished second in the playdown tournament last winter which position gives him the right to again challenge for the championship. According to the rules Schaefer is compelled to meet him. The match will be played in blocks of 500 points each.

USING SEAWEED AS FERTILIZER FOR ALL CLASSES OF CROPS

Seaweed is a useful fertilizer for all classes of crops along our Atlantic and Pacific coasts where it can be collected at many places in large quantities at little expense. It is especially valuable for roots, vegetables, and other plants with an abundance of foliage, which require potash and nitrogen. A new pamphlet issued by the Chemistry Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture gives the results of analyses of samples of seaweeds collected from different beaches. These analyses show that seaweeds are essentially potassic in character and they also contain a high percentage of nitrogen. According to the pamphlet which may be obtained free from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, seaweed compares very favorably, weight for weight, with barnyard manure, and besides it does not bring to the farm any weed seeds or insects or fungus pests. Its manurial value is greatly enhanced by its ready decomposition in the soil, rapidly liberating its constituents in forms available for plant nutrition. The best way to use it is to apply it direct to the soil as soon as possible after collecting.

LUMBER BUSINESS WITH JAPAN SEEMS LIKELY TO IMPROVE

The nice easy cutting of Jap squares is about to be resumed in a fair-sized volume by local sawmills. Japan is buying lumber again says the Vancouver Sun.

All the material shipped there on consignment some time ago and remaining unsold for some time has now been absorbed, and at the same time the government has lifted certain financial restrictions that hampered importations of lumber, with the result that the year 1926 is expected to bring heavy demand for material for building purposes.

City planning has been completed by the Japanese Government and temporary wooden year of contest far exceeded in interest the most successful results of last year's event. Each of the sixteen contestants winning his or her way to Toronto, goes as the guest of the Canadian National Railways to compete for the challenge cup presented by W. D. Robb, vice-president.

Each boy and girl will receive a gold medal as a souvenir of the occasion and each will have an opportunity of viewing the features of the most important winter agricultural exhibition held in the Dominion.

VICTORIA WATCHING KLAN MOVEMENTS

Chief of Police Says it is not Contrary to Law but Will be Under Surveillance.

VICTORIA, Nov. 20.—As far as the police department of Victoria is concerned, the Ku Klux Klan can organize here without interference. At a meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, Chief of Police John Fry was questioned by the Commissioners as to what action he was going to take in the matter.

"The Ku Klux Klan is not contrary to law," he said, "I cannot do anything unless they break the law."

Chief Fry explained to the board that the Ku Klux Klan was organized mainly for the purpose of seeing that the law is enforced.

"We won't stand for them or any other organization taking the law into their own hands," said Commissioner Staneland.

"We will not," added Commissioner Aitken.

Mayor Pendray agreed with them.

"They are a strong organization," said the Chief, and at a recent meeting in Vancouver had about 1,500 persons present.

The Chief of Police added that he and his men would watch the Klan closely here and will report to the board on the matter.

BOYS' BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

New Organization Will Make Its Debut in Empress Theatre Ten Weeks After Instruments Arrived

At yesterday's luncheon of the Rotary Club, Colonel J. W. Nicholls reported on the progress of the boys' band. He explained that on August the first the club had agreed to guarantee the salary of the bandmaster up to $50 a month and that it was planned to give a concert in the Empress Theatre on December 2, ten weeks after the instruments had arrived. It was to be a big slap-up affair and the members of the club were asked to co-operate in selling tickets and other work.

In addition to the selections by the boys there would be two vocal soloists and one or two instrumental solos. As the guarantee of the club extended only to February, it was hoped to make the band self-sustaining after that time. He had had two applications for them to play but had refused as they were not ready.

A committee consisting of Thomas McClymont, John Dore and Walter Fisher was appointed to co-operate with Walter Vance in making complete arrangements for the concert.

DISPUTE IN ALBERTA GREEK CHURCH ENDS IN ARREST OF PRIEST

Father Zimenoff Committed for Trial on Charge of Stealing Church Property

EDMONTON, Nov. 20.—The dispute between different sections of the Greek Church reached a climax in Wostok, to the northeast of Lamont, this week, with the prosecution of Rev. Father Zimenoff, former priest of the church there, on a charge of theft. Information was laid by Stephen Esknow, a farmer of the district and chairman of the trustees of the church, charging the priest with the theft of a double bed, writing desk, gold wedding cross, wedding crown, incense burner, ten Greek books, and other articles, all valued at $250.

According to the report of the provincial police the priest took the articles knowing that there would be trouble and it was his desire to test in the courts the question of who was in control of the church property. The church is a Greek orthodox church and the accused is a priest of the Greek Catholic faith.

After making considerable investigation into the contentions of the two parties to the dispute, the police executed a search warrant and the articles mentioned were recovered. Later, the preliminary hearing came on before G. H. Molesey, J.P., Lamont, and the accused was sent up for

SHIP OF STATE IS HELD BY MEIGHEN

Everything There Except Rocks on Which Ship was put by Tory Leader

At the Rotary luncheon yesterday Thomas McClymont told of paying a visit to Hon. Arthur Meighen's room, which Mrs. McClymont wished to see at Ottawa. He found it was decorated to represent a ship. The spaces between the floor boards were as if caulked with oakum. Various features about it represented a ship and the ceiling was finished to represent a huge compass. The idea, he was told, was that this room represented the ship of state with Arthur Meighen steering.

"But where are the rocks Arthur put the ship on four years ago?" inquired Mr. McClymont from the man who was showing them through.

The reply was that it was not Meighen but Harry Leader who put them on the rocks.

The Man Who Talked at Random

HE sat in the window-corner of the Pullman's smoking compartment, and breathed fatly and uttered large opinions in a suety voice. It grew late, as so often it does; and he put the quietus on a discussion with the ponderous statement:

"I don't read advertisements. They have no effect on me at all. I'd never miss them if they stopped printing 'em."

Then he glanced at his advertised watch and sought his lower birth.

In the morning the ad-skeptic contorted himself out of his advertised pyjamas into his advertised underwear, drew on his advertised socks, adjusted them with his advertised garters, got into his advertised clothes, laced his advertised shoes and added himself to the congestion in the wash-room.

There he shaved with an advertised razor, using advertised shaving cream; brushed his teeth with an advertised toothbrush and advertised dental cream, washed with advertised soap, and brushed his hair with an advertised brush. Buttoning his advertised collar on an advertised button, he neatly knotted his advertised tie, gave his advertised suspenders a tug or two, and finished dressing.

Let us leave him there, this man who never reads advertisements!

Everything worth using is advertised. Everything that isn't, rarely is.

BANJO PLAYER IS TRANSFERRED FROM DIGBY WIRELESS STN.

W. Cooper of the Digby Island wireless station staff sailed for the south on the Prince Rupert this morning having been transferred to the Bull Harbor wireless station.

This will be bad news to a wide circle of friends for Mr. Cooper, familiarly known as Bill, was always willing to assist with his banjo at dances and other entertainments and in addition kept a popular bachelor shack on the garden island, which was always open and the rendezvous of many happy picnic parties in the summertime.

Mr. Cooper was always out to make the time pass pleasantly and he'll be missed but still the good wishes of all his friends will follow him to the new station. Bill has been operating at the island station since the winter of 1923 when he left as wireless operator on the Australian run of steamers to take over land duty.

URGES EXEMPT BIG ELEVATORS

Vancouver Paper Scores Council of That City for Refusing to Submit Bylaw

(Vancouver Star)
Last Friday, when the Vancouver council decided not to resubmit to the ratepayers the elevator improvements tax exemption bylaw, it failed in its duty to the people. It is true that the bylaw, when submitted a year ago, was defeated; but it was defeated by electors who were ill-informed.

It is the duty of the council to study just such problems. It is its duty to come to considered conclusions and then to give to the people a clear lead; and, if that lead is not at first accepted, it still remains its duty to stand by its convictions and to carry on a campaign of courageous education until the people accept its views.

The by-law proposed to give to private elevators erected in Vancouver and having a capacity of over 500,000 bushels, exemption from taxation on improvements only for a period of ten years. This would leave the land taxable as at present, but it would give relief to capital invested in buildings and equipment until the new industry had a chance to find its feet. No income the city is now receiving would be forfeited.

Victoria voted in favor of complete exemption for a period of 60 years, by 2470 to 131; and two elevators are about to be erected there. New Westminster is prepared not only to grant exemption, but also to assist in financing construction. Calgary has carried a proposal to grant a fixed taxable assessment

Does That Cough Stick On Your Lungs?

Mr. Islay MacNab, Bognor, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with a terrible cough that I could not get rid of, and my doctor told me that I had a slight touch of bronchitis. Nothing I took seemed to give me any relief until I got a bottle of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup
I got such relief by using it that I would advise all those who are subject to bad colds or coughs to keep a bottle of this remedy in their homes all the time."

equal to the land value only for a period of fifteen years, voting in favor of the by-law by 1721 to 41.

Vancouver alone has remained aloof. And Vancouver stands to gain more than all the other cities named put together—if she will but show keen business foresight and consistent courage. To grant exemption in perpetuity would be insane. To grant it for 60 years would be foolish. But to give encouragement to new bona fide investments for the brief period of 10 years would seem the course of wisdom.

PRAYER BOOK BEING REVISED BY CHURCH

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The revision of the Prayer Book is being undertaken by the Church authorities and great difficulties are being faced in making it conform to modern usage and at the same time not offending those who have used it faithfully and believed in it fully for the past half century.

When the new Prayer Book is printed it will remain with the people of any individual church to say whether it will be used or the old book continued.

RESERVOIR ON MOUNTAIN USED

Water Mains at Shawatlans Were Broken Preventing Pump Doing Work

The little reservoir up the side of Mount Oldfield proved a valuable auxiliary water supply yesterday when it was found that the pipes at Shawatlans had been broken in and no water could be pumped from the lake. In conjunction with the reservoir at Acropolis Hill, it will supply the city for about 24 hours. Now the steam plant is working and by the middle of next week the big supply will be connected again.

The slide on the hillside above Shawatlans Lake which put the plant out of business did not all come down and it is likely to give way at any time. To prevent this the city employees will put in a charge of dynamite and force it to come down so as to protect the main in future. All this will be done before the system is again put into operation.

TALKED TO HAZELTON BY TELEPHONE TODAY

Sun Shining There and no Snow on Ground Stated Operator to Daily News

At 12:15 noon today the Daily News office was connected by the Government Telegraphs with Hazelton for a telephone conversation with E. R. Cox, Government Telegraph manager at that point. The conversation was transmitted very clearly indeed with no disturbance whatever. It was just like talking over the city lines only that it was just a little less distinct. It was said to have been the most satisfactory telephone connection that has ever been made between this city and Hazelton, a distance of over 150 miles.

There was little doing at Hazelton today, Mr. Cox said. The weather was fine and sunshiny with the trees all green and no snow on the ground, indicating that winter had not yet arrived in the interior. At the same time it was cloudy and threatening rain here.

Mr. Cox stated that word had also been received at Hazelton of the death of Queen Alexandra.

WESTERN CANADA IS SURPRISING HERSELF

This is Opinion Expressed by Edmonton Journal in Speaking of Prosperous Condition of Country

(Edmonton Journal)
It is a happy and significant fact that, in the face of much complaining about conditions in western Canada, business persists in going on, expansion continues on this hand and on that, and plans for a busy future keep on making. Things are not at all right, it is generally acknowledged, but that is not being taken as a reason for inaction; western Canadians will show that and will make progress despite conditions. They believe that is a very good way of making conditions better.

A case in point is the announcement that a power scheme in Manitoba is to be proceeded with at once, in which is involved an expenditure of nearly two million dollars. And in its train will come a long list of industries, with attendant benefits to the province and the west.

There are announcements, too, of great building programs in the western cities, some of them running into figures that would be unreasonable if present conditions and future prospects were not pretty good, after all. The years record here in Edmonton, for instance, will be found to indicate a greater measure of prosperity than its own citizens suspected.

A country that persists in making progress and in building itself up is in a very good way, notwithstanding its difficulties and imperfections. All in all, there is reason to believe that the west as a whole is on the upgrade and that the final results of the present year, when all the crops are accounted for and all the business figured up, will be surprisingly satisfactory.

"Charley's Aunt"

The world's funniest farce, "Charley's Aunt" from Brazil, where the nuts come from. She's the zippiest old lady in the world; she's been running nearly forty years. The girls confided in her, the men made love to her, then the skirt slipped off and the news slipped out. Have your sides reinforced before you see it. You will laugh about it for years. Don't miss the greatest comedy chase ever filmed; Syd. Chaplin in skirts and Spettigue close behind with his breath in short pants. It's the funniest ever. The stage can boast no funnier farce, the screen no funnier comedy than this sparkling production teeming with vivacious humor and spontaneous fun. Brilliant cast: Syd. Chaplin, James E. Page, Alec B. Francis, Jimmie Harrison, Ethel Shannon, Eulalie Jensen, Mary Akin, Priscilla Bonner and others.
