BIG FIRE AT SEATTLE SATURDAY EVENING

POLITICAL SITUATION LOOKS BETTER FOR LIBERALS; THREE TO HEAR FROM

Political Situation is Practically Unchanged Liberals Still Control

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—There is little change in the political situation since the end of last week except that two more prairie seats have gone Progressive leaving the Conservatives 116 with only three doubtful seats. This means that the groups opposed to the Conservatives will control the House if they unite their forces.

It is unofficially announced that the Mackenzie King government will carry on until Parliament meets in February and the expectation is they will continue to administer affairs.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—Premier Mackenzie King meets his cabinet today to discuss his course of action. The expectation is that a decision will be reached to remain in office and meet Parliament.

The Conservatives, who hold the strongest group, meanwhile are adopting an attitude of watchful waiting. With three constituencies to hear from the Conservatives hold 116 seats, Liberals 100, Progressives 23, Labor 2, Independent 1.

WINDYBEE, Nov. 2.—Two more prairie ridings were removed from the doubtful list over the week end with the election of J. Garland, Progressive, being indicated in Bow River, Alberta, and the election of G. Spence, Liberal, in Maple Creek, Sask.

The standing in Alberta is Liberals 4, Conservatives 3, Progressives 8, doubtful 1.

In Saskatchewan there are Liberals 15, Progressives 5, and doubtful 1.

EDMONTON, Nov. 2.—Eight more polls report improved position of the Liberal candidate in Peace River, cutting into Collins' Conservative majority to the extent of 221 votes. The final result is still very much in doubt as there are 131 polls to be heard from. Collins' majority on Saturday stood at 317.

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—The Gazette today carried the following in its news columns under a Quebec date line: "There will be a session of the House of Commons within three months, according to a message received here from Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, saying that Premier King and the Liberal Government would not resign."

Salmon Pack of District Second Largest on Record According to Official Totals Compiled Here

The salmon pack in District No. 2 this year was the second largest on record having been exceeded only by last year's pack it was announced at the Dominion Fisheries Office today. The pack this year was approximately 1,049,600 cases as compared with a total in 1924 of 1,180,679 cases. It will be some time yet before the final boxed up figures are available but these may be regarded as fairly accurate.

The sockeye pack in the district this year is slightly in excess of last year, the figures being 317,000 cases for 1925 as compared with 305,000 cases for 1924.

On the Skeena River the total pack for 1925 was 321,000 cases as compared with 390,900 cases last year. The Naas River shows a large dropping off, the total pack for this year having been 87,000 cases whereas the 1924 pack was 142,000 cases.

The Queen Charlotte Island pack this year was also lower than last but the areas south of Prince Rupert and on the mainland showed increases.

Fishing is now entirely finished for the season, the Queen Charlotte Island fishing having ceased on October 23.

Fire at Seattle Swept Automobile Row Block

Million dollars' worth of tires belonging to one concern were damaged by huge holocaust at Puget Sound city

SEATTLE, Nov. 2.—Damage estimated at two million dollars was caused by a spectacular fire which swept a block of Seattle's "automobile row" Saturday night. The blaze was the most costly which has taken place here in years. Street car and automobile traffic was held up and telephone and power lines disrupted for hours.

Two firemen were slightly injured when a bursting hose joint knocked them of their feet. Numerous explosions of oil and gasoline scattered the fire and within ten minutes after the flames were discovered the building was ablaze in many places.

Low pressure of water impeded the efforts to prevent the spread of the flames.

The heaviest loser was the Firestone Company which lost 75 car loads of tires valued at more than a million dollars.

Later Despatch
 SEATTLE, Nov. 2.—Damage on Saturday night by fire was cut to $765,000 this morning when it was discovered the damaged stock of the Firestone Company to have considerable sale value.

This Boy Gets Lesson

For obvious reasons we cannot give the name of the mother whose son brought home three cans of an eastern canned milk when she had sent him to get Pacific Milk. The boy is 18 and works in a local factory. She writes that she made him go back and change it because he should realize that his own position depends upon others using Made-in-B.C. products. We admire this mother.

ELECTION POT SIMMERS SOON

Local People Will Now Interest Themselves in Arena of Municipal Politics

With the bigger federal election kettle off the stove for the time being at least, the civic election pot will soon begin to simmer. To start with there is a good deal of uncertainty and it is difficult to say just yet who will be in the field for the honor of the chief magistracy although there is said to be more than one prominent citizen who has designs on that more or less coveted position.
It is generally understood that Mayor S. M. Newton, who has been mayor of Prince Rupert more than any other citizen and has served six terms, will not be a candidate again. The names of three of the aldermen are connected with the forthcoming mayoralty contest—Ald. Casey, Ald. McMordeie and Ald. Stephens. If either of the first two mentioned run, they would have to resign from the council for they were elected for two year terms. Outside of the council the names of Ex-mayor Harry Rochester and George W. Nickerson, president of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade, are mentioned. The latter, though recently defeated in the federal field, his supporters say would make a much stronger bid in the civic arena. He is said to have a number of rather important matters concerning the development of this port "on his chest" and he believes he might get some action on them if he held the prestige of the mayor's chair. Another possibility for the mayoralty is mentioned in the person of W. H. Montgomery, who retires this year from the police commission.
Besides Ald. Casey and Ald. McMordeie, the two other two-year members of the council are Ald. Brown and Ald. McKechnie. The one year aldermen, who retire at the end of this year, are Ald. Perry, Ald. Larsen, Ald. Stephens and Ald. Smith. It is expected they will all seek re-election.
The school trustees retiring this year are C. H. Orme and W. E. Williams, the latter of whom resigned on leaving the city some time ago.
As said before, W. H. Montgomery retires from the police commission this year. It is possible that there will be an election for both police commissioners next January for James Coombs, who was elected for two years at the last election, has been in the military hospital at Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver, for some months and the latest word was that it would probably be necessary for him to remain there some time longer. On account of his absence from the city he has been intending to resign.

Another fond sporting legend has been exploded. The word "pig-skin" is a misnomer, for a football he it either the oval-shaped Rugby ball, or the Dutch-Cheese-like Soccer implement. This was announced by certain manufacturing gentlemen interested in running a leather-producers' exhibition. Originally it seems, the football was made from a pig's bladder. Then gradually because they did not last very long, this was encased in the skin of the animal, but such a combination has been out of use for many years. Late in the outer-covers of the footballs have been made of cowhide and of the best double-grained quality. The old name however has been retained and nearly everybody attending or reading about a football game is convinced that it is correct.

Editor, Daily News.
Through some misunderstanding the organization of the Ladies' Musical Club of Prince Rupert has been credited to other parties. In 1915 when the Ladies' Wednesday Music Club was organized there was no Ladies' Music Club in Prince Rupert. The Club was organized by me along different lines from an earlier defunct club.
The name was changed from the "Wednesday Music Club" to the "Ladies' Music Club" a few years later by vote of the club. I was the first president of this club and continued to be President until 1924 when I resigned because of an attempt by some of the members to change the policy and objects of the club.

Roy Lancaster arrived in the city on last evening's train from Smithers.

VAGARIES OF THE COMPASS

Valuable Aid to Mariners But Not Always Reliable in Some Places

NEARLY 5,000 YEARS OLD

Made Possible Discovery of America by Columbus and Other Notable Achievements

The invention of the compass is lost in the dawn of history. It is first found mentioned in a quaint Chinese legend which relates that the Emperor Ho-ang-ti in 2634 B.C. led forth his army and attacked the rebel Kiang on the plains of Tehoulou. But Kiang, getting the worst of the conflict, called the wizards, magicians and sorcerers to his aid who raised a great fog to hide Kiang and his army. Then the Emperor, not to be outdone, in his turn used the greater magic of the compass, which led his army through the great fog so that he was able to overcome Kiang and capture him.

Led Way to New World
The compass appears to have been brought to Europe in the twelfth century, most probably by the Arabians, as it is known that the Arabian and Chinese traders met in the Persian gulf, and on account of its very great practical value as a guide in all weathers, it rapidly came into general use and enabled Christopher Columbus to sail straight west from Spain, by day and by night, through fair and stormy weather, to the discovery of the New World.

Does Not Point North
But contrary to story book report, the compass does not point north, but more or less to the east or west at different places. Scientists state that this is because the magnetic poles of the earth are not situated at the geographical poles as shown on our maps of the world; that in fact the north magnetic pole is near

Surveys Necessary
In order that the compass may be used with reliance, therefore, the different countries of the world carry out magnetic surveys to measure its direction, and picture the information on magnetic charts for compass users.

First Work in Canada
Compass information is particularly valuable in such a large new country as Canada, and it is interesting to note that Champlain measured its direction at Halifax about 1604, John Davis in Davis Strait 1585 and Capt. Baffin in Baffin Land 1616, Capt. Middleton at Churchill and York Factory 1725; while Capt. Cook in 1778 and Capt. Vancouver in 1792 measured it along the Pacific coast. Later Sir John Franklin 1819-26 and Sir John Lefrey 1843-46 made some measurements, but comparatively little was done in Canada before 1880.

Canada's Magnetic Survey
Since 1880, however, the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, has carried on a most extensive magnetic survey in this country in conjunction with its other work, at practically no expense, because the compass direction can be measured in a few minutes when the survey parties are already on the ground; until it now possesses more than 20,000 measurements, and regularly publishes magnetic maps which picture all this information for compass users.

Leads Way Today
In spite of the fact that the compass has been known for so long, it is today more widely employed than ever before; it is the sure-fire pathfinder, the cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night to the sailor afloat on the heaving main; the airman above the hiding clouds; the miner far underground in the deepest shaft; and explorers, surveyors, hunters, trappers, prospectors, pioneers and travellers penetrating the trackless forest, the jumbled mountains, the virgin wilderness, and the Far North.

Riddles Yet Unsolved
But the compass still has hidden secrets. Elusive earth currents and stubborn static still act the part of highwaymen and hold up our friends the telegraph and wireless and radio. It is known that these highwaymen are in the nature of first cousins to the dancing northern lights and magnetic storms that torture the compass, and black cyclonic sunspots that try to rob us of our light and heat, but all these things are still seen through a glass, darkly, and scientists believe they never probably can be forced to take the stand and lay bare their inmost secrets until the direction of pointing of the compass has been properly mapped all over the world.

"THE AIR MAIL" DEALS WITH BAND OF CROOKS WHO ROB THE MAILMEN

"The Air Mail," here tonight, deals with a band of crooks who prey upon government air mailmen, making away with valuable hauls. As the picture opens we see Baxter, as Russ Kane, exhibiting a war medal awarded for heroic conduct in the air service during the World War. He is given a pilot's job and, once outside, passes over the medal to a pal. He had just borrowed it for the occasion. His real purpose in becoming a pilot is to rob the mails.

One day the pilot on the Frisco to Reno run arrives during a terrific storm, almost dead from cold and exposure. He is glad that Russ is to be the man to carry the mail on and lapses into unconsciousness as Kane takes off. He goes through with the mail but is greeted by his partner-in-crime, Speck, who has news of a big haul.

This sort of thing, however, has lost all its old glamour for Kane since he has fallen in love and seen a fellow pilot give his life in the service. He's through. But the crooks won't have it. They won't believe he's quitting. They think he is double-crossing them for the girl (Billie Dove) and go after his scalp. There is a battle royal both in the clouds and on terra firma, resulting in the breaking up of the rival bandit gangs and capture of the leaders.

Young Fairbanks furnishes a real thrill in the picture when he leaps from Baxter's lunging plane with the precious mail packet.

RACE TRACK STORY THE DIXIE HANDICAP

Tale of the Mare "Southern Melody" Who Wins Back Fortune to Former Master

Judge Jeffery Roberts, aristocrat of the old Southern school, is facing ruin and disgrace. For years he has been living a magnificent life in posing as wealthy in order to keep his beautiful daughter Virginia in an expensive private school. To do this it has been necessary to mortgage his once large Kentucky estate and mansion until he has little left but the house and stable. From "Southern Melody," famous old racing mare, he has bred "Dixie," and on this colt he has placed his hope of regaining lost fortune.

On land which the judge has been forced to sell, Bosworth, a New York millionaire, is building a modern racing plant and clubhouse. His superintendent and manager is Dexter, who at once sees through the thin screen of supposed wealth which the judge has thrown around him, and because he wants to marry Virginia he tells the daughter how near the father is to ruin.

To save her father, Virginia consents to marry Dexter, although she is in love with Johnny Sheridan, a young race track follower who has trained "Dixie" and become a partner of Judge Roberts. The colt has shown promise of great speed in trial races, and Bosworth has tried to purchase her. On learning of the sacrifice which Virginia is to make for him, Judge Roberts sells Bosworth his beloved horse, and with the money he sends his daughter to Europe with Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth.

The old aristocrat's path leads downward as he loses his home, is defeated for re-election as judge and sinks to the level of a drunken hobo. Sheridan, sick at heart because he believes Virginia is in love with Dexter, leaves and follows "Dixie" to Belmont, where Dexter has entered the colt in her first race in preparation for the $50,000 derby at Latonia. Under new hands "Dixie" behaves badly and is left at the barrier while the jockey beats her brutally, attempting to make up for the bad start. "Dixie" falls and is declared worthless for future racing, and, rather than have the colt shot, Bosworth gives her to Sheridan.

Dramatic Reunion
Johnny returns to Kentucky with the horse and finds Judge Roberts with his old servant who refuses to be discharged, even though his old master is penniless. A dramatic re-union takes place between the old judge and his horse. Together Sheridan and the judge nurse "Dixie" until derby day finds them in Poverty Row at Latonia, but with the colt entered in the race.

KEEP OUT of the Puddles

COURTLY Sir Walter Raleigh—cynic savant and first-class fighting man—desired a favor from good Queen Bess. A puddle in the queen's path made his opportunity. Across it he flung his costly cloak. Her majesty, smiling at his devotion, trod on, dry shod, and Sir Walter's unique self-advertising produced results.

Though most advertising is less spectacular to-day, it is far more serviceable. It smooths out the every-day pathways of each one of us.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once would have been worth a king's ransom are yours at little cost. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, manufacturer against manufacturer. This competition brings out the best there is in everything for your personal benefit.

You wouldn't know about many boons of modern life were it not for advertising. That is why you are not taking full advantage of the better things in life to-day if you overlook ADVERTISEMENTS.

GHOST INDIAN OF PAWHUSKA

Hermit of Osages Was Once Buried and Then Came to Life but is Shunned

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Nov. 2.—A living ghost among his own people is John Stink, hermit of the Osages. Buried as dead and resurrected from the grave, he lives today alone in a tepee, an outcast from his tribe, a spirit shunned.

John is 62. He is wealthy, on royalties alone bringing him more than $1,000 a month. But he is shut off from almost all communication, because he cannot speak English and none of his people dare talk with him.

Twenty-one years ago Ho-tah-moie, which was John's Indian name, became ill of a fever. He swooned and in falling was knocked unconscious. All the witchery of the Indian medicine man could not restore him to consciousness. So he was pronounced dead and a few hours later was buried with the tribal ritual.

The Osage custom was to bury the dead in a shallow grave, the corpse in a sitting posture, with the head alone uncovered.

The cool earth and a few hours' time restored John. He worked his way out of the grave and crawled to his tepee. It was night. John's relatives' mistake the figure at the tepee entrance for a ghost. And to them he has remained a wraith ever since.

For some years Ho-tah-moie asked out an existence in Pawhuska. His only companions were dogs. With them at least he could commune.

When oil came, a guardian was appointed and John was removed to his own land near here. There he lives, like an Indian of old, hunting, fishing and talking to his dogs.

Miss Rhona Saunders sailed last night on the Prince Charles for Vancouver on a vacation trip.
