HOTEL DAMAGE ACTION IS ON

Hugh Gillis Claims $3,600 from Prince Rupert Hotel as Result of Fall

The civil case of Hugh Gillis vs. the Prince Rupert Hotel Co., Ltd., in which damages in the sum of $3,600 is claimed as a result of the plaintiff having fallen into the basement of the hotel when he mistook a door in the beer parlor on September 4, commenced in the Supreme Court this morning before Mr. Justice Murphy and is continuing this afternoon. L. W. Palmore is appearing for the plaintiff and Milton Gonzales for the defendant company.

The principal witness heard this morning before court adjourned for the noon recess was the plaintiff who was on the stand for about an hour. He recounted the details of the accident which occurred after he had mistaken a door leading from the beer parlor into the basement for that of the lavatory. He claimed that the door was unlocked and had no sign on it. On opening the door and stepping inside he was precipitated down an open shaft on to a flight of stairs. The result was that he broke two ribs and was incapicated for over two months. Plaintiff said he was a fisherman on the halibut boat D.S.T. up to the time of the accident.

Felt Good, Not Drunk

Damages are claimed to cover medical fees, loss of time from fishing, etc. The details of the accident and the movements of plaintiff both before and after were gone into at some length both in examination and cross-examination. Witness said that he had a thorough recollection of various incidents at that time and denied that he was under the influence of liquor although he admitted, as a result of drinking beer, he was "feeling pretty good."

Evidence was also given by Dr. C. A. Eggert who described the nature of plaintiff's injuries and gave expert evidence as to their effect.

The case is proceeding this afternoon.

SCALE TESTS AT ELEVATOR

Carload of Grain From East Delayed But Work Proceeds Without It

Scale tests at the new elevator here were made this week by J. G. White of Fort William, chief weighman for the Board of Grain Commissioners, who sailed this morning on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver. R. Heatherington, of Fort William, general manager of government elevators, who has also been in the city in connection with the tests, expects to return East on tomorrow night's train.

It had been expected that a carload of grain from the prairies would have been used for the tests but its arrival here was delayed and the work was carried out without it. The grain is expected here today by freight and will still be used for testing purposes.

There are about 130 men working at the elevator construction now. The plant will be completed and ready for operation soon after the New Year.

Twenty Arrested Yesterday Implicated in a Liquor Ring; Canadian Alleged at its Head

District Attorney Buckner said one of the prisoners, whose organization had eighteen steamers engaged in bringing liquor to rum row from foreign ports, was William Dwyer of Montreal, part owner of the Mount Royal race track, the sportsman who is alleged to head the ring.

STORMY SESSION IS PROPHESIED

Politicians Pleased That Postponement Has Been Made Until Next Month

LEGISLATION SUGGESTED

OTTAWA, Dec. 4.—Both parties here seem pleased that the opening of the session has been adjourned so that the echoes of political warfare may not interfere with the Christmas celebration. Within a few days of the official opening of the House in January, the bombardment of the government will commence and a stormy session is anticipated.

The Liberal cabinet is carefully preparing a program of Legislation, which will be outlined in the speech from the throne at the opening, and the probability is that some useful legislation will be passed before the House rises next summer. The matter of imigration is pretty sure to be dealt with and among other subjects likely to find a place in the speech by the governor is that of rural credits, proportional representation or some similar measure.

Speech From Throne

Prairie members are clamoring for inclusion of legislation dealing with the return to the provinces of their natural resources so that they may be on the same basis as British Columbia in that regard. The completion of the Hudson Bay railroad is also mentioned as a possible matter for legislation and debate.

International Harvester Co. Buys Beaver Cove Pulp Plant; Will Spend Huge Sums There

VANCOUVER, Dec. 4.—Negotiations were completed yesterday between the trustees of the Beaver Cove Pulp & Paper Company near Port Hardy on Vancouver Island not far from Alert Bay and the International Harvester Company through the agency of C. S. Baillie of Vancouver whereby the Harvester Company will advance up to $16,000,000 to put this plant or a new one in operation in consideration of receiving sixty per cent of the capital stock.

December 15 is set for the date for the shareholders' meeting here and in Michigan to ratify the deal. Then all the creditors' claims totalling two million dollars will be paid.

The International firm will pay creditors every cent due them plus seven per cent interest. It has already paid $800,000 for interest and maintenance and other charges on the plant.

The firm intends to spend $12,000,000 on the newsprint plant and $4,000,000 on a sawmill.

The Beaver Cove properties include 82,000 acres of timber made up of mixed fir, cedar and pulp wood timber with 5,000,000 feet standing. The pulp and sawmills are out of date but there is a very good shingle mill on the property.

Beware Of Using Firearms Carelessly.

The community was shocked to hear of the death of Edward Howe under tragic circumstance, and the sympathy of the whole community goes out to the family who have been so suddenly bereaved. Especially do we feel that the young man, David Hudema, who was present when the accident happened, is in need of sympathy.

From time to time we draw attention to the need of care in the handling of guns. This accident will act as a warning but by next season it will be almost forgotten. Those who go out after game cannot be too careful and boys especially should be taught to think all the time of the danger of the loaded gun.

Vancouver People Want Art Gallery.

Vancouver people who have made money and are looking for places to spend it where it will benefit the community have hit upon the idea of buying pictures and statuary for an art gallery. That is a very commendable object. Some day we shall possibly have something of the sort here, but the time is not yet ripe. In the meantime the public museum has been started and is making progress. Already there is a nice little collection and other articles are coming in and gradually making it an interesting institution.

U.S. Congress Will Now Play Politics.

Politics will be the lodestone in the first session of the Sixty-ninth U.S. Congress, which begins Monday at Washington.

Leaders of both parties will have as their chief concern the writing of records upon which they may go to the country in the 1926 congressional elections, which will crowd closely upon the ending of the session.

The Republicans will seek to enact a legislative program upon which to stand in asking the voters to return majorities for their party in both houses during the closing two years of the present administration of President Coolidge.

The Democrats will devote their efforts to focusing public attention upon what they will denominate the shortcomings of administration, legislative and executive, under the power of the Republican party, and to outlining a program of government which they would undertake to carry into effect should they be returned to the control of Congress.

In this process vast waves of words will inundate both chambers, but more especially the Senate, where there are fewer handicaps upon flights of oratory than in the House. In the latter body many political "speeches" will remain unspoken, but will find their way into the Congressional Record under the privilege of "extension of remarks."

Will Delay Work But Not Unduly.

Political manoeuvres and speeches will necessarily delay the work of Congress, but probably neither side will be loath to stretch the session out until mid-summer or later, for the Senate and House furnish a ready forum for political orators, a forum that has few counterparts anywhere else on the globe.

In the campaign which will be inaugurated almost immediately after the gavels fall on December 7, and which will be continued until next November, there will be involved every seat in the House and 33 of those in the Senate. The Republicans have comfortable majorities in both houses and their fight will be not only to retain them, but to strengthen their hold.

In the contests for Senate seats, however, the majority party will find itself on the defensive at the outset since 26 Republicans come up for re-election against seven Democrats, all of whom are from solidly Democratic states in the south.

David Wilton Tells Rotary Club How Wheat is Treated After it Reaches Mills

Now that Prince Rupert is about to become a grain port, people here are interested in anything pertaining to the grain business. That is why the members of the Rotary Club were particularly interested in an address on the handling of grain after it reaches the market by David Wilton of this city.

Mr. Wilton explained at the outset that he had been in the employ of the great Spillers firm for 25 years in the Old Country, where they had wheat coming in from all over the world. It was part of their work to examine the condition of each cargo on arrival, to note if the wheat itself was in good condition, if the lining of the ship had done its work of preventing damage and if the cargo had been properly stored.

Cleaning the Wheat

After delivery of the grain had been accepted, the first thing to do was to get rid of all foreign matters by a series of exhaust fans. The second stage was to separate any other grains such as oats or barley. Then the wheat was put through another process which automatically graded it according to size. Metal substances were taken out by means of magnets and stony substances by washing. The wheat was then dried until there remained only fourteen per cent moisture, when it was ready for the blenders.

Having wheat coming from all parts of the world, blending becomes necessary in order to secure the kind of flour needed. In that way only the best results could be obtained.

Smut had to be carefully watched for in all wheat coming in and when found had to be taken out. A small amount of smut would spoil the flour.

Milling the Grain

In milling the grain it was passed through four distinct processes. In the first it was cracked, further reduced in the second process and the bran extracted in the third. It was then passed over silks and sifted. Drying followed, the latter process being particularly necessary if the flour had to be stored.

The very white flour so much esteemed by patrons of bakers is bleached by electricity, this making it appear uniform.

Mr. Wilton said he felt Prince Rupert was about to be a grain port. He expected that private interests would come here before long. He had been in communication with certain grain interests that were looking for information in regard to the port and he felt sure something would result.

ROMOLA TONIGHT IN PLACE OF SEVEN DAYS

Famous Classic from the Novel by George Eliot to be Shown Here

The film for the picture "Seven Days" did not arrive this week but is expected at the next week end. In its place has come Romola.

"Romola" is founded on the novel by George Eliot dealing with the vibrant, pulsating life of the Italian Renaissance in Florence, when that city was in her golden age; the days of the splendid de Medicis and of the martyred reformer, Savonarola. The dates are 1492-98. "Romola" is a classic of literature and its transfer to the screen has revived interest in it to such an extent that the photoplay edition of the novel is making a new record for sales, and New York libraries admit they were unable to supply the demand that has been created.

Before the filming of the attack of pirates on a Fifteenth Century sailing ship in the Bay of Leghorn, one of the stirring scenes in the picture, it was necessary to train upwards of two hundred modern amateur pirates, each handling a long oar in perfect time. Evey one of the men who rode in the three galleys had to be as proficient as a member of an American varsity crew.

Keen rivalry developed among the oarsmen of the three vessels, for the crews had to be recruited from separate districts of the city of Leghorn, and in the course of practice they were always racing, while the triumphant yell of the winning crew could be heard for miles.

It is doubtful if the city of Florence had been stirred in years as it was with the coming of Lillian Gish and the moving picture company which invaded their fair city to film the romance. Florentines rise late and take life easy, and for awhile the natives refused to be disturbed, but with the rebuilding of the cathedral, an old church, and various extensive interiors, —and the busy Americans ransacking every part of the city for locations—the one topic of conversation was the "wild Americans" and their strange doings.

Rain, oh rain, you jolly old rain.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

December 4, 1915.

A word picture of how Prince Rupert had suffered under Tory mismanagement and another of what it would have been like under Sir Wilfrid Laurier was painted in stirring addresses at Liberal headquarters last night by Fred Stork and G. R. Naden. T. D. Pattullo presided and J. E. Myers of Terrace was also a speaker.

At the conclusion of the conference with the government fisheries advisory board and local fishermen last night, George Morrow delivered an able speech in which he pleaded for the rights of fishermen as against the monopoly of the cannerymen.

The Red Cross sale yesterday in the store of Miss Barbeau was a great success, $80.05 having been realized. Mrs. Olier Besner and Mrs. R. L. McIntosh were in charge.

Truly a Lovely Stock this Year

Our Christmas stock is about all here now and in a few days we will have everything arranged so that you can look it over easily.

We have many cute little novelties this year such as small china salts and peppers from 50c to $1.00 a pair and many other new china pieces.
Our silverware stock was never better and the values are excellent.

We are now in touch with a good firm of diamond cutters of Antwerp, Belgium, and can offer very low prices on diamonds.

PRESENTATION MADE TO MR. AND MRS. WALL BY TELKWA PEOPLE

Large Gathering Gives Them Great Send-off in Town Hall

The majority of the citizens of Telkwa and vicinity congregated in the Town Hall on Tuesday night when a farewell party was held for Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Wall who left yesterday for Vancouver.

It was a most novel and interesting evening, which opened by the singing of "O Canada." Then there were songs by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Chettleburgh, T. P. Smith, W. Robertson, and J. P. Wheeler. The orchestra composed of W. Couldwell at the piano, and P. Sparkes saxaphone played for a number of dances.

A sketch entitled "Who Sent It," given by Misses Hedl, Nock, McMillan and Fairbairn, and Messrs. Chettleburgh, Wheeler, Phillips and Smith was very funny and caused a great deal of laughter. After some more dancing there was supper and later some community singing. Towards the close of the evening T. J. Thorp, on behalf of the citizens, presented Mrs. Wall with a beautiful box of chocolates and Mr. Wall with a club bag.

Mr. and Mrs. Wall had lived in Telkwa for a number of years, and in his position with the Royal Bank Mr. Wall has proved himself a most capable citizen whose presence in the community it will be hard to fill.

ASK CO-OPERATION IN BUILDING ROAD FROM TAKU HARBOR

JUNEAU, Dec. 4.—The Alaskan authorities will get in touch with the government of British Columbia with the idea of securing the building of a road to the interior from Taku Harbor. This road would be quite practicable and would open up a fine scenic and mineralized zone.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here H. T. Trip urged that Canadian authorities ought to be induced to carry such a road into the Atlin and other contiguous sections. Such a road, he said, would tap the great mineral crack of the continent which extends from the north down through Canada, the United States, Mexico and on down into the Andes regions of South America. He said such a road would be practical, and declared that there is a well defined mineralized country on both the Alaska and Canadian side of the line in the Taku country. He declared that he proposed to spend some money in that country himself next year in prospecting and development on the American side and that other development would be carried on in the country.

Neglected Coughs

Often lead to serious trouble—Are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Many people regard a cold as a simple incident. But Coughs and Colds when neglected lead on to pneumonia and consumption—the most dreaded diseases common to this Northern temperature.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is well-known as a most effective treatment for coughs, colds bronchitis, croup and asthma. For many years it has held its place in the homes of Canada as absolutely dependable and was never so popular as it is today.

Composed of simple and yet powerfully effective ingredients it is suitable for children and adults alike and is found constantly in most homes for use in case of emergency. Prompt treatment is half the battle when fighting colds.

SPORT CHAT

Now that the handsome Milburne trophy for girls' basketball competition has arrived in the city and since the Benson Cup has become the permanent possession of the invincible Maple Leafs, leaving, up to now, no trophy for the local girls, there is talk of surmounting the difficulties that have attended the reorganization of basketball for this winter and getting a Ladies' League at least in operation again this winter. Truly it would seem a shame to have such a splendid trophy so generously given, go without competition for even one season. At the outset, there seems to be one thing necessary and that is the breaking up of the Maple Leaf team as it is now constituted. The organization is so strong that there is probably no other collection of girls in town that could effectively compete with it. If the team were split in two to form the nucleus to two new teams, it would increase interest in the activities of the lady basketballers and would probably mean the inception of a group of evenly matched ladies' teams.

The famous Newsy Lalonde, skipper of the Saskatoon puckchasers in the Western Hockey League, after losing Monday's game at Vancouver and winning over Portland on Wednesday night, will lead his Sheiks on an invasion of Victoria tomorrow night opening the hockey season in that city, though the Cougars played their first game at Vancouver last night. It is expected that the Willows Arena will accommodate a capacity crowd to witness the deadly combat between the Sheiks and Cougars. Portland is now leading in the league with two wins and one loss. After winning last night from Vancouver, the Cougars, world champions, will have a good start if they can do the same thing to the Sheiks as they did to the Maroons. Calgary will play its opening game tonight at Portland.

Acting Inspector William Spiller of the provincial police returned on this morning's train after a trip to the interior. He was accompanied to the city by Chief Constable W. J. Service of Smithers.

A charge of intoxication against Mrs. Blondel was withdrawn in the city police court this morning. She was arrested last night in the lane to the rear of the Royal Bank.

HIS DAUGHTER GAINING FAME AS AN ARTIST

Miss Ruth Pryce Does Credit to Her Father, Prof. Pryce, Local Teacher

The following article on the career and bright promise for the future of Miss Ruth Pryce, talented violinist and daughter of Prof. H. Aubrey Pryce of this city, appeared recently in the musical section of the Vancouver Sun:

Miss Ruth Pryce will be recalled by many, as first one of Winnipeg's though latterly one of Montreal's outstanding violinists. While still a child, her work attracted the attention of critics and music lovers of the Prairie City, where she received much encouragement, and some assistance from the Women's Musical Club.

She had her first musical instruction from her father, who was well known as a teacher of the violin and orchestral leader in Winnipeg, having been for many years leader of the Walker orchestra. Soon recognizing her unusual talent, he placed his daughter under the care of Camille Couture, Belgian violin virtuoso, and teacher of recognized ability, who, when he left Winnipeg to become a resident of Montreal, was followed by this promising and enterprising pupil, for she felt that she could make better progress by continuing under his tuition.

In the eastern city Miss Pryce, though still quite young, continued in her rapid advancement. There, too, she was sponsored by the Women's Musical Club, appearing before them in several recitals, after which she filled many concert engagements.

In Montreal Debut

Her appearance in Montreal in concert with such well-known vocalists as Paul Dufault, the French tenor; Arthur Hackett, tenor of the Chicago Opera Company, and Joseph Sarcier, the noted baritone, and with Carl Lamson and Miss Elin Van Barentzen, world renowned pianists, speaks well for her artistry. Such a record is remarkable for one without any European tuition. At that time she received much praise for her work from such world-renowned artists as Isolde Menges and the celebrated Belgian violinist, Eugene Ysaye, who predicted a brilliant future for her.

Several short concert tours in the Eastern States, as well as in the province of Quebec and Eastern Ontario, followed her successful appearances in Montreal, but she did not at any time neglect her studies.

After three years of study, she was awarded the gold medal for highest honors, by the Academy of Music in Quebec. In the year 1920 she was the successful competitor in what is known throughout the east as the European Contest or Quebec Scholarship, and was awarded "the Prix de Europe," which entitled her to three years' tuition at one of the musical centres of Europe. This award carrying with it a cash prize of $3,000, was the coveted scholarship of eastern students, and although three months of residence in the province is required for competitors, it is nevertheless considered an open competition.

In 1921 Miss Pryce entered the "Royal Conservatoire de Musique" in Brussels. She had private instruction from Mathieu Crickboom. Chamber Music under the direction of Jacques Gaillard, and private lessons in harmony under the noted Paul Gilson. In her final year, she played first violin in the quartette which was awarded the 'Prix Marie Errera,' as well as first prize in Chamber Music. A cash prize of 4000 francs accompanied these awards.

Gained Popularity

The quartette gained popularity through its success, and many important engagements followed Concerts throughout Belgium, Holland, and several in the City of Paris, added to the fame of these four young girls. Miss Pryce also appeared on several occasions in Paris as solo violinist, one occasion being in concert with Roy Royal, the Canadian baritone and M. Maurice Servais, the Paris pianist, when the following flattering criticism of her work appeared in the June 1923 number of 'Le Courrier Musical'—"Miss Ruth Pryce and M. Maurice Servais interpreted brilliantly the Sonata of Lekou. The style of this young Canadian violinist is clear and expressive. She possesses a big beautiful tone, and her powerful bow shows an excellent school."

The proceeds obtained through orchestral and concert engagements added to her scholarship award, enabled this ambitious student to continue her European studies for another year, and it was not until the autumn of 1924, that she returned to Canada for a much needed rest. She has been spending the year in Vancouver and Prince Rupert with her parents who are now residing at the coast.

Masters Language

During her four years' residence in Brussels and Paris, she has completely mastered the French language, now preferring to speak it to her mother tongue. This is not altogether a matter of surprise, for she undoubtedly received her preliminary lessons while a resident of Canada's French province.

But more than this, she has absorbed so much of the old-world atmosphere that, as a place of residence, she now prefers the Continent, with its many and varied opportunities for study, as well as for the countless other advantages that are to be enjoyed in its cities. And although it is a matter of regret to those who had hoped that she would remain in Canada, Miss Pryce has definitely decided to answer the call of her profession and will return to Eurpoe, where she hopes to still further perfect herself in her art. In September she expects to leave Vancouver for Paris, where she will for a time continue in concert work. Soon after her arrival there she will appear in concert with the distinguished French baritone Jean Sucinio.

BANQUET GIVEN IN BOSTON HALL

Elevators Staff Have Celebration of Practical Completion of Their Work

Celebrating the practical completion of the work on the new elevator here the staff and subcontractors of the Carter-Halls-Aldinger Co. held a banquet in Boston Hall Wednesday night, the guests of honor being D. M. Shearer, superintendent of construction, and W. N. Chater, engineer for C. D. Howe & Co.

The dinner was an elaborate one, turkey being the piece de resistance. Twenty-five persons sat down around the loaded table, of whom about twenty were foremen in charge of the various phases of the work.

Following the serving of the dinner, two minute speeches were the order of the evening, the guests of honor being highly complimented by those present and replying in suitable terms.

Following the speeches there was community singing and solos were given by F. H. Holioake, J. Knox, Billy Murray and others, the party breaking up about half past two after a most enjoyable evening.

These dinners are events which follow the completion of every elevator built by this company and serve the purpose of cementing the good feeling prevailing between the different departments with a view to better co-operation.

WORLD COURT AND THE U.S.

Senate Will Discuss Momentous Matter at Session Opening Monday

TREATY WITH TURKEY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.— The World Court and the treaty with Turkey are the principal subjects within the realm of foreign affairs that will await the attention of the new Senate when it convenes next Monday.

Both face some rather determined opposition, but administration leaders are confident that the required two-thirds majority for favorable action on each can be obtained.

Under an agreement entered into by the Senate at the special session last March, the question of American adhesion to the World Court will be taken on December 17, but there apepars now to be little prospect that it will be pushed to a conclusion at that time.

No definite date for consideration of the Lausanne treaty with Turkey has been fixed, but President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg desire early action and since Chairman Borah, of the Foreign Relations Committee, is in accord with their view this matter may be disposed of before there is a vote on the World Court.

Russian Soviet

Whether the question of American recognition of the Russian Soviet government is to come in for any extensive Senate discussion is not clear. Senator Borah is hopeful that there soon will be a change in State Department policy on this matter, but ha made no announcement of any intention to press his resolution which would place the Senate on record as favoring recognition.

Besides the World Court and Lausanne Treaty, one other treaty—on extradition with Turkey—is pending before the Senate and four others are before the Foreign Relations Committee Making up these four are treaties wth Great Britain guaranteeing American rights in mandate territories, The Cameroons, East Africa and Togoland, and an international treaty for the suppression of the circulation of obscene publications.

Two other treaties negotiated since the last session are to be submitted by the President early in the session. One is a commercial pact with Hungary and the other the international convention touching the traffic in arms negotiated recently at Geneva.

Does That Cough Stick On Your Lungs?

Mr. Islay MacNab, Bognor, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with a terrible cough that I could not get rid of, and my doctor told me that I had a slight touch of bronchitis. Nothing I took seemed to give me any relief until I got a bottle of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

I got such relief by using it that I would advise all those who are subject to bad colds or coughs to keep a bottle of this remedy in their homes all the time."

EXERCISE IS KEEPING PRINCE OF WALES FIT

Plays Squash Raquets, Swims, Hunts and Revels in all Kinds of Hard Training

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The Prince of Wales is becoming one of the fittest men in England, according to his friends.

His daily round of exercises are conducted with as much thoroughness as if he were a boxer in training, and it is said that he simply revels in good, hard exercise.

Every morning he has half an hour at playing squash raquets, followed by five minutes' hard skipping, a visit to the Turkish bath, and ten minutes in the swimming bath.

This is generally followed up by a strenuous day's fox hunting or a round of official duties, and in consequence the Prince enjoys the best of health. It is said that the Prince has only been confined to his bed once in his lifetime.

Fox hunting continues to be the Prince's passion, but due to the prevalent hoof and mouth disease he has not been able to get much hunting in as yet this season.

brought to bear on some of the Progressive and other members by the opposition, it is said, with a view to have them abstain from voting when the first big test comes in the House. This would weaken the support of the government and might possibly result in bringing on an election.

Premier's Election

As the session can scarcely be carried far without the presence of Premier Mackenzie King and some other ministers, it is possible an adjournment may be taken as soon as the debate on the address is completed, but that is not decided on. Should a vote be forced in the first few days of the session, the election arrangements could proceed while the debate on the address is in progress.
