New York Police Trap 3 Convicts, 2 Killed

Detective Loses Life, Another Seriously Hurt in Gun Battle
By The Canadian Press
NEW YORK — Police trapped three convicts yesterday and killed two of them in a blazing gun battle that cost the life of one detective and seriously wounded another. The third desperado was captured unhurt.

A hall of pistol and machine-gun bullets ended the careers of two bank robbers, Joseph Nolan, 26, and his brother, Ballard, 22. Captured was Elmer Schuer, 21.

Police said Schuer admitted the three robbed a Bronx gun store last Monday of 12 weapons and on the following day looted a Bronx bank of $12,760 in a daylight holdup.

The desperados have been the object of one of the east United States biggest manhunts since they escaped Sept. 10 from Lewisburg (Pa.) federal prison.

They stabbed and kidnapped their way to freedom, terrorizing the Pennsylvania countryside on their flight to New York.

They were surprised in a tryst with three Negro women when police stormed their seventh-floor apartment in upper Manhattan shortly after midnight. One of the Nolan brothers, partly clad, and Schuer were in the bedroom with one woman when police broke in.

Thirty-one officers converged on the apartment on a tip. They met with a burst of gunfire as they broke down the door. One of the desperados used a machine gun in the brief battle.

The Nolans were cut down in the middle of the room. Detectives Philip Lamonica, 45 and Nicholas Cotter were wounded. Lamonica died in hospital.

Schuer is charged with homicide, felonious assault and violation of the Sullivan Act.

The women, who were uninjured, are being held as material witnesses.

Police Search For Art Thieves

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police today were in search of "art" thieves who escaped with some rare paintings valued at $30,000 from the home of Polish immigrant Adolph Ingre, who came here last April with the $75,000 collection.

He told police 20 of his valuable canvases — some worth $4,000 each — were stolen from a storeroom.

U.S. Soldiers Play Dead in Bid For Life

SEOUL (CP) — Five American soldiers—wounded, hungry and without a drop of water, played dead and lived through 72 hours of hellfire on the rugged Korean hill known as Old Baldy.

When their buddies from the U.S. Second Division retook the height Sunday after savage in-fighting with Chinese Reds, the five stopped playing dead and crawled or were carried from their battered bunker.

They had huddled in a dilapidated log and earth cave under the earth shaking with the pounding of Allied and Communist big-guns.

Twelve men had crawled into the bunker Thursday evening when an assault force of Chinese swarmed over their positions. Seven died in the bunker or may have escaped.

Only food the five survivors touched during the 72 hours was a can of grapefruit juice and a couple of oranges.

CBRE Ends Stormy Convention

OTTAWA (CP)—The 32,000-member Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees Union, put a quiet end Saturday to the most important and stormy convention in its 44-year history.

The five-day meeting resolved in a battle for leadership of Canada's biggest transport union and was seen as a victory for 72-year-old founder, A. R. Mosher, even though he gave up the presidency.

Into the leadership post went Mosher supporter Harry Chappeil, 49, of Winnipeg. Mosher himself was made honorary life president with a pension of $6000 a year.

Delegates at the convention urged that no ceiling or floor be put on the amount of medical expenses that should be allowed as deductions from income taxes and urged federal, provincial and municipal governments to bargain with unions of employees in the same way as does private industry.

11-Year-Old Saves Life Of Pal From Drowning

Quick work by 11-year-old Ronnie Brydges saved the life of his chum on Sunday afternoon when the boy slipped off a hand-made raft near Fairview cany-

Ronnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Brydges, 502 Sixth Avenue East, dove into the water and assisted his friend, a non-swimmer, back onto the raft.

A third boy, also a non-swimmer, who was riding on another hand-made raft, helped to get the others to shore.

Ronnie, who took early instruction in swimming at the Civic Centre, is considered an

Board of Trade Claims Loss Of Timber at 35 Millions

An appeal to the provincial government to force clearance of land in Tweedsmuir Park that will be inundated by waters of the Aluminum Company project was made today by the Burns Lake and District board of trade.

Calling for "immediate consideration to this very grave matter," the board estimates that failure to carry out the work will mean a loss to the district of $35,000,000 in trade and wages. It also foresees loss of a tourist attraction that could become one of the greatest on the continent.

"History will point to this rape of Tweedsmuir Park as a profitable instance of government-sponsored sabotage of natural resources and beauty," it quotes an American visitor as saying. "We would not stand for it in the United States."

Signed by Walter Wilson, secretary of the highway committee, the brief is the second on the subject that the Burns Lake group has addressed to the provincial government. The first was submitted to the Coalition government which had taken no action on it before its defeat at the polls.

GOOD TIMBERS
Claiming that 100 million board feet of merchantable timber can be cut from the area involved, the board of trade observes that there are areas of good timber which will remain inaccessible unless the section to be flooded is cleared and so permit access to the shoreline.

"To leave the timber uncut means a wage loss of $5,000,000," the brief maintains. "Each one dollar of such income is reckoned as representing $5.00 in trade made possible by repeated turnover. Before this lumber becomes a house or other finished product there is a loss of at least another $5,000,000 in wages."

The submission discounts the Aluminum Company's much lower estimate of the timber involved on the grounds that most of the survey was made from the air and apparently missed much of what is involved.

On the tourist possibilities of the area, the board of trade remarks that the great high inland sea to be created "would become one of the greatest tourist resorts of the continent, certainly of the west," teeming

Fishermen Vote on Salmon Sale

VANCOUVER (CP) — Some locals of the striking fishermen's union plan to vote on a proposal to sell fall chum salmon to United States buyers to subsidize their strike against Canadian firms.

Vancouver and New Westminster groups voted to table the proposal for discussion at local union meetings throughout the province.

Meanwhile there has been no break in the 14-day strike.

Mrs. Johnson Enters 19 1/2 Lb. Coho in Derby

Saturday and Sunday entries in the Rod and Gun Club salmon derby brought up to five the number of salmon now in the contest, headed by a whopper coho 19 pounds, eight ounces, weighed in yesterday by Mrs. Bernice Johnson.

The huge silver fish was caught yesterday at Finlison Island. Mrs. Johnson used a No. 5 Wonder spoon and landed her catch with regulation rod and reel and a 36-pound test line.

Other entries are by Bob Armstrong, 14-pound, 12 ounce coho, caught on a teaspoon Sunday; an 11-pound, and a 10-pound coho by Perry York, caught in Cloyah Creek Saturday; and the 10-pound, four-ounce coho entered last week by Howard Walker.

Senator to Bare Expense Fund Slander

PORTLAND (CP) — Senator Richard Nixon, in the strongest sign yet that he will stay on as Republican candidate for vice-president, announced plans today for a radio-television report to the voters of the United States on his finances—personal and political.

The California Senator caught in a campaign squeeze by his $18,000 expense fund, broke off his current western trip temporarily to present his case to the people, either tomorrow or Wednesday night. But he emphasized that he intends to resume his tour.

"I informed General Eisenhower last night in a telephone conversation of my decision," Nixon told newspaper men.

This was immediately taken as a strong indication that Eisenhower has decided to stand by his running mate. Nixon has contended he used $18,000 for his fight against Communism and corruption and not for personal profit.

The expense fund was contributed by some 75 Californians many of them wealthy. Individual contributions ranged as high as $500.

Skeletons Found in Remote Cave; Police Investigate

Discovery of six skeletons in a cave at a logging operation on Crow Lake, about 65 miles north of here, is being investigated by RCMP.

More Sun Forecast by Weatherman

The warm sunny skies on Sunday were just a forerunner of what's in store for Prince Rupert all week—the weatherman thinks. At any rate, he said it should be clear and warm today and again tomorrow.

The thermometer rose to an official 69.9 degrees at its height yesterday, hottest day since August 8 when it was 72 above.

A weak disturbance is moving inland over southern Alaska and will give some clouds to northern sections of the province today and Tuesday however a ridge of high pressure covers the remainder of the province and skies will remain sunny.

North Coast Region—A few clouds today a few clouds southern section and cloudy northern section Tuesday a little change in temperature. Winds light today and southerly 15 on west coast Charlottes Tuesday. Low tonight and high tomorrow at Port Hardy and Prince Rupert 48 and 65 Sandspit 48 and 62.

Mr. Jetter said the skeletons were found after he had felled a tree in a heavily-wooded section.

He did not elaborate on the area and after loading supplies on his boat returned to the campsite late Saturday.

Police believe the cave is located on an old Indian graveyard and may be one of the graves used by Indians in 1886 when dozens died during an epidemic of measles in that part of the province.

There are several known graveyards on the Queen Charlotte Islands and a special section of the law provides that logging operators must report findings to police.

The law forbids anyone from removing anything from the graves.

The RCMP boat should reach the scene sometime today.

This Also Concerns Governments

AN institution almost as old as the city itself, established over the years by sincere effort and labor of love, is destined to go on the rocks unless some drastic action is taken immediately.

The museum is on its last legs. There is no more money for continued operation, a director of the board told a city organization last week. And it isn't as if the museum has been operated on a gigantic budget.

Including heat, light, salaries and a few very necessary minor jobs, the museum has been operated yearly on $800 to $900 and that, as one of the directors said recently, "is really scraping the meat off the bone."

This is a sad case. In the first place, it is not fair to the public to withdraw from circulation exhibits which cannot be replaced and are the only link in existence with the northern and central British Columbia's original inhabitants.

Secondly, to let our museum sink into oblivion is to part with one of the main tourist attractions this city has to offer.

And thirdly, it would appear to be a poor return for the efforts expended by pioneer collectors who donated the exhibits and for work done since—all voluntarily—to keep up the museum to let it disintegrate.

The museum board—a group of city folk greatly interested in this phase of community work—has decided there is only one answer to this calamity: a new building for the museum.

The present building is not only condemned as a fire hazard but is on provincial government owned land. Sooner or later the province or the city of Prince Rupert is going to want it. Then the museum must go in any event.

We feel that keeping the only museum north of Vancouver and Victoria in this province in operation is of importance not only to Prince Rupert but to the entire province, Canada, and to the museum world as a whole.

While a community can and should support projects which concern only the people in it, Prince Rupert alone can hardly be asked to entirely support the museum.

We believe the provincial and federal governments, as well as the Carnegie Foundation, chief benefactor of museums, should come to our aid now. The Prince Rupert museum merits this aid just as do the museums in Vancouver and Victoria, although necessarily on a smaller scale.

Representation, therefore, should be made immediately to these bodies, explaining the dire need in which stands a recognized collection of cultural items not to be found anywhere else in the world, and asking for aid to keep it in circulation—in Prince Rupert.

A Strange Train-Load Visits

THE fabulous kingdoms of fairy tales are no more fascinating to children than the animal kingdom of reality. There has always been an affinity between lions, tigers, monkeys and youngsters, and it is a relationship which survives the years.

The young and the not so young will be alike in their pleasure that the railroad zoo has come to town. This remarkable menagerie makes up what is surely one of the strangest train-loads ever to arrive in Prince Rupert.

It is incongruous that such tropical creatures as llamas, tapirs and toucans should ever get this far north. Yet they are here and on view for all to see.

Although we will visit the travelling zoo primarily to be entertained, this is not the only purpose it serves. It also has educational value and, under the auspices of the Shriners, it helps a philanthropic cause.

We welcome these strangers to town and hope they will enjoy us as much as we enjoy them.

AVIATION MARKS NEW HIGH

OTTAWA (C)—Canada's civilian air lines flew to new records in 1951, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Highlight of the year was a sharp climb in net operating revenues, which reached $5,374,100 compared with $1,268,300 in 1950. This was on contrast to deficits from operations in the seven years prior to 1950.

In total aircraft miles flown, commercial planes logged 48,159,000 during 1951 compared with 41,368,000 in 1950, an increase of 16.4 per cent.

Stevenson Gains

FROM what I saw and heard in the United States, Stevenson seemed to be gaining ground from Eisenhower day by day and almost hour by hour.

Ike is at times an effective speaker. I heard him last year in England at a reunion for the famous Eighth Army. His little broadcast talk there was a masterpiece of wit, brevity and punch. But there he was talking without script, even without notes. It came freely right from the heart.

In the present U.S. election campaign Eisenhower is obviously reading speeches prepared for him by "ghost writers." What is coming out is not only not the true Ike—it is second class stuff by any measurement.

STEVENSON on the other hand has already established himself as one of the greatest speech makers who has yet appeared on the American scene. He not only prepares his speeches himself, and polishes them with care and craftsmanship like the great Churchill uses. But these speeches are something new in U.S. politics. He is telling the majority of the American people many things they want to hear. But he is also telling some of the pressure groups and highly vocal minorities some of the things they do not want to hear. Stevenson even told the American Legion, right to its face in convention, that some of its pet policies were mischievously contrary to the public good. He told the veterans, the farmers and even organized labor, that their particular group could expect no preferred treatment from him, if elected.

I HEARD some pained criticism of Stevenson's techniques, even from newspapermen who fervently hope for a Democratic victory. These said that Adlai was overestimating the IQ of the American people. They feared that he was "talking over the heads of the voters." I do not agree with that criticism myself for I believe that in all countries, including the U.S.A., the "common people" have a far higher average level of intelligence than machine politicians give them credit for.

Anyway I admire Stevenson for this: He has apparently made up his mind that he is going to go right down the line, and state the case as he sees it. If the people agree with him—well and good. If they do not he and the Democratic party will go down to defeat.

In other words it seems to me that Stevenson would sooner lose on the kind of campaign he is putting on than win on one deliberately lowered to what some old fashioned ward politicians hold to be the "peoples' level."

GENERAL EISENHOWER seems to me to be "a good man gone wrong." His only chance to carry the country was to win and hold the support of the "independent vote" that swings in the middle between the two parties. He actually did have the sympathy of this public in his struggle to beat Taft.

But no sooner did he beat Taft for the Republican nomination than he began to talk each day more like Taft and less like Eisenhower.

Finally he felt compelled to stand on the same platform with and for Senator Jenner, who, like McCarthy, had slandered and maligned Ike's mentor and dear friend—the great General Marshall.

It was a humiliating and demeaning come-down. I think it lost Ike all hope of the independent vote.

New Brunswick Voters Use Unique Ballots—Blanks

FREDERICTON — (CP) — New Brunswick's unique ballot—a blank sheet of paper on which voters write their choices—may have an additional marking in today's provincial election. For the first time the voters will be allowed to use an "X" if he wishes. In previous elections such a marking nullified the vote.

Actually there is no official ballot as the term is known in federal and other elections. A voter may use the blank sheet of paper and write his own ballot or he may use ballots printed by the opposing parties and carrying only the names of their own candidates.

Thus the voter has three choices of procedure:

1. Cast the printed ballot of one party.
2. Strike out one or more names on the ballot and substitute one or more other names, making a "split" ballot. (All the constituencies are multiple-seat ridings.)
3. Ignore the party-printed ballots and write his choices on the blank ballot.

Revision of the province's election act permits the use of the "X" marking. The change was made because of the large number of spoiled ballots from voters confused over the different voting system in other elections.

However, the New Brunswick ballot will be acceptable either with or without the "X" marking, and, if used, the "X" may be placed either before or after the names. Any marking other than the candidates names and the optional "X" would spoil the ballot.

11,836 motor vehicles and 18,640 bicycles were stolen in Canada in 1950, and 11,600 motor vehicles and 15,244 bicycles recovered that year.

Reflects and Reminisces

"How's that name, again?"
"Johnson."
"Has it a T or an E or both?"
An uncomfortable pause.
"Well, I'm not sure—a moment and I'll find out."

And so it goes, in Prince Rupert as well as anywhere else. This name business is important, particularly in the newspaper line. For no one wishes to see his name omitted when it should be there, or see it spelled the wrong way.

The necessity of names, and the need of care in handling them is one of the first things the cub reporter is taught. There is a great deal to know about what seems to be a simple enough little job, but this does not describe it.

To understand a strange name over the telephone can often mean making more than one inquiry. It is not at all unusual in the construction of a word for S or F to have a similar sound. One way, for example, to get around this might be the suggestion of "Sandy" or "Fresh" in detecting the difference.

A story can be as long as erudition, or the glamour of descriptive power, as well as the tedium of extended detail. Where it's a newspaper, it follows there must be news, which is another way of saying there will be people. Who are they, where from and why?

To discover this is only part and it is a responsibility that has weight. A partial knowledge of names is reflected in what is read, in the shape of inaccuracies and incompleteness.

Something else
that "makes the man"
(and does even more for him!)

"Clothes make the man", says the old adage. And certainly a trim appearance can do much to help you make a good impression on others.

But today more and more men are learning another way to enhance their standing with the people. That is, to own life insurance.

Take employers, for instance. To them, a man's ownership of life insurance suggests that he is forward-looking, thrifty, realistic. Above all, it reflects willingness to accept responsibility — an attitude that impresses every employer.

In fact, anyone who learns that a man owns life insurance regards him with added respect. It represents one of the most important assets any man can have — an asset held by nearly all successful men in the walk of life.

Yet perhaps the most important effect of owning life insurance is on the policyholder himself. It gives a sense of achievement. For in no other way can you create such a valuable estate for so little in so little time. And this, in turn, adds to his own self-confidence.

So life insurance can do more than provide financial security for your family and yourself in later years. It also influences people in ways that help win success.

Women Give Equipment To Hospital

Equipment totalling $389.47 has been donated to the Prince Rupert general Hospital by the Women's Auxiliary the first fall meeting was advised last night.

Equipment includes oxygen tent and regulator for children, an electrical breast pump, and a hypodermic needle sharpener. One-hundred and eighty-three pieces of sewing had been turned in.

Newest project of the auxiliary is to publish a cook book compiled of prize recipes, all tested by a qualified dietician which will be placed on sale this fall. Local business firms have pledged generous support with advertising displays and in appreciation the auxiliary plans to give each advertiser a complimentary copy of the cook book.

A Hallowe'en tea is planned at the home of Mrs. C. C. Mills to be held Oct. 31.

Secretary Mrs. Sid Elkins, delegate to the convention of hospital auxiliaries at University of British Columbia in June, gave her report outlining various activities of the auxiliaries throughout the province which now have a combined membership of more than 5,000.

With Mrs. L. M. Greene, president, in the chair, the meeting welcomed as new member Mrs. W. F. Stone. Mrs. Roy Collinson introduced as her guest Mrs. Robertson, proposing her for membership.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. W. Large, Mrs. Collinson and Mrs. Ray Johnson.

WELL-KNOWN and formerly of Prince Rupert, Miss Joyce Watts, R.N., last season's graduate of the Victoria Royal Jubilee Hospital, has recently taken a nursing position at the General Hospital in Nanaimo to where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Watts, moved from here. Mr. Watts, well-known former city businessman, was mayor here.

In 1950 the public hospitals of Canada averaged 47,625 patients a day, or about 35 out of every 10,000 persons in the country.

Couple Wed at Kitwanga First Meeting Held by

KITWANGA—A wedding of local interest took place at Kitwanga when Olga Mary Stashniak, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stashniak became the bride of Leroy Anton Hobenshiel.

The Rev. J. Hayhurst officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was radiant in her gown of white satin with full-length veil and a coronet of lily-of-the-valley presented to her by her mother.

She wore pearls and carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby-breath.

The bride's attendants were Miss Julia Stashniak, sister of the bride, and Miss Janet Doll. The former was gowned in pale green taffeta and the latter in pale green nylon marguessa, each with matching headdress. They carried bouquets of white carnation and salmon pink gladioli.

Groomsmen were Vernon and Lorne Hobenshiel, brothers of the groom.

Following the service, a lovely supper was served in the Institute's Hall. The bride's table was decorated with vases of flowers, centered by a three-tiered wedding cake.

Serviteurs were Mrs. F. Doll, Mrs. Wm. Elsworth, Mrs. J. Onean, Mrs. J. Mould, Mrs. J. K. Iversen, Miss Sylvia Moore.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Hayhurst, responded to by the groom. Dancing was enjoyed in the evening.

Annunciation

Thirty-two members attended the first Fall meeting of Annunciation Home and School Association at which plans were made to participate in the Fall Bazaar Oct. 9-10.

With president N. R. Young in the chair, members decided to sponsor the boys boxing club if the Holy Name Society approves of it.

The association also decided to have a speaker at every second meeting, holding business to 35 minutes each time.

A Christmas raffle will be sponsored by the group and delegates discussed the possibility of sending a representative to meetings of the dental clinic.

Parent Club Holds 20th Birthday

Vancouver Credit Women's Breakfast Club, sponsors of the Prince Rupert unit, holds its 20th birthday party Thursday in Hotel Georgia.

Junior past president, Miss Evelyn Reeves will cut the cake and Prof. L. Vukelich, who recently visited Prince Rupert, will be guest speaker.

British Girls Visit City on Global Tour

The two British girls who spent a few days in Prince Rupert recently, and from here went north, are finding their adventurous journey full of interest.

They are Sylvia Taylor of England and Corinne Young of New Zealand. They have undertaken a trip around the globe, having started at Vancouver, from across the Pacific. They are at present in White Horse, and in a message to friends in the south, said they were in splendid health and had received wonderful hospitality throughout. They saw snow in places, and it's been cold, yet sunny.

How Much is Left in The USED CAR You Buy?

Chap in here the other day brought up an interesting point about used cars. Wants to know how much life is left in the car when he buys it. Well, it's a good question and we've been answering it whenever we have a used car for sale that meets our rigid standards.

How much life is left in the used car you want and need? Is price based on what the market can stand or how much actual value in miles, is left in the car?

Franky, some of the cars we get in trade are not worth much. Aren't worth one iota of longevity that we could put our reputation to. We sell these cars to the first "Junker" that comes along. We figure it's good business NOT to let our neighbours have them.

We've been selling fine cars, both new and used, to fine people for many years. When anyone buys a used car from FRIZZELL'S MOTOR PRODUCTS it's a cinch that it's got a lot of good miles left in it. It's priced according to "what's left" like the man said.

As new General Motors Products deliveries increase, we have many used cars suitable for local ownership. We know who owned them and can give a complete history.

Why not come over today, meet us, take a look and see what kind of a deal we'll make? You'll be surprised at some of the good buys we have. And we're easy to get to and easy to get along with.

Health Changes Hurt Dentists

CARDIFF, Wales (P) — Before new charges were imposed under Britain's health service last June, some dentists were making as much as $12,000 a year. At the annual convention here of the British Dental Association a statistical report disclosed that under prevailing arrangements the average gross amounts paid to dentists were only about half what they were in 1949. "Some are earning no more than in 1939," the report said. "In many industrial parts of the country dentistry has definitely passed from a boom to a slump period."

Association members charged that earnings had been greatly reduced following the 28 percent reduction in dentists' fees, saddling patients with half the cost of dentures and the recent imposition of a basic £1 charge for dental treatment for adults. Since the changes were introduced there had been an important drop in attendances, said A. P. Husband, chairman of the association's executive council.

It was believed in the profession, he said, that the £1 charge was a retrograde step. He believed it placed an unfair burden on the regular patient wishing to keep his teeth in good order.

"In the long run it will cost the country more ill-health," he said.

A Glasgow dentist who earned £300 a month when the plan began reported that his earnings dropped to £40 in the first month of the new scale.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

'Different Situations' Throw Mr. Muzzy For Loss

After some weird bidding, Mr. Muzzy landed in a contract of three no-trump. The opening lead by Mr. Dale was the four of hearts. Mrs. Keen won with the ace and returned the eight.

Mr. Muzzy covered with a nine and Mr. Dale was in with the jack.

He figured the true situation in hearts and made a good shift to the jack of clubs. Mrs. Keen played the six and Mr. Muzzy won with the queen.

After much thought he came to the conclusion that in order to make nine tricks he would have to bring in the diamond suit without loss. More thinking, then out came the deuce of diamonds.

When Mr. Dale played low, the nine was put in from dummy and Mrs. Keen won with the 10 and returned her last heart. Now Mr. Muzzy could win eight tricks but no more.

"You bid the hand like a madman," commented Mr. Champion, "but, as the cards lie, you can actually make it. Your best play to bring in five diamond tricks is to lead the jack first—not the small one. Assuming Dale covers with the queen, you win with the king and Mrs. Keen drops the eight spot."

"Admittedly, you now have to make a good guess and cash the ace of diamonds rather than finesse for that card. But the way you played it, you were going to lose the first trick in the suit if Mrs. Keen had EITHER the queen or the 10."

"Didn't you just tell me on the last hand," retorted Mr. Muzzy, "to lead the smallest card when leading toward the strong holding in a suit for a finesse?"

"But this is a different situation," said Mr. Champion. "Different, always different," said Mr. Muzzy with a gesture of mock resignation. "Listen, if you are going to be my teacher, you've got to make up your mind and stick to it."

Jet Industry Prepares Rush of Overseas Orders

By E. S. JOHNSON
 LONDON (CP) — Britain's aircraft industry, set in a torrid pace in the jet field, is preparing for a rush of dollar-earning orders overseas for its latest jetliners.
 The most urgent demand has come from the United States, where inquiries have also been received from South America, West Germany, Japan and other countries.
 The industry is interested in a larger version of the jetliner that will come in some form in operation on some of the routes of British Airways Corporation. This is a problem of early design.

Any reshaping of the arms program, Churchill said, would leave room for the industry to take commercial advantage of the military as well as civil aircraft it develops.
 An indication that steps would be taken toward that end was given by the Prime Minister in the economic debate before the Commons rose for its summer recess.

ADVANCE DATES
 The new program, he said, would centre on the quickest possible build-up of new aircraft and weapons of the latest type which constitute the most formidable deterrent to aggression. The industry would be asked to exert its utmost efforts in advancing the dates when the latest types can be brought into service.

"We are anxious that civil exports should be increased and we hope that there will in future be more military aircraft to spare to meet the demands of our overseas customers," Lord Alexander said.

Overcome Cold Winter Floors With 'Perimeter Heating' Plan

Perimeter heating, newest warm air heating system that blankets wall and windows with warm air, has been specifically designed to overcome the number one comfort upsetting problem—the cold floor.
 It is called "perimeter heating" because the warm air from the furnace is introduced into the rooms from diffusers located at the base of the outside walls under the windows—at the perimeter of the house. The outside walls account for from 65 to 80 per cent of the heat which is lost from a house.
 All houses lose heat when the outside temperatures fall below the comfort point. But it has been found that various areas of the house lose more of the heat than others. Percentage-wise, the locations responsible for heat loss are about as follows: ceiling, 13.2 per cent; floor, 7.8 per cent; outside walls, 30 per cent; doors, 16.4 per cent; and windows 32.6 per cent.

When you figure up the percentage of heat loss for which the outside walls, doors, and windows are responsible, you will find that these areas account for 79 per cent of the total heat lost.
 Heating specialists point out that to make a house really comfortable the heating system should "replace heat that is lost, as fast as it is lost, at the point where it is lost." This point, as shown by the above percentage figures, is the outside wall areas of the house.
 By locating the warm air diffusers at the base of the outside walls, preferably under the windows (window glass loses heat faster than any other building material), the warm air heating engineer uses a fundamental law of physics to provide comfort for the home owner. This is the fact that as air is warmed it becomes lighter in weight and, accordingly rises.
 By directing a flow of warm air upward along the walls and windows the perimeter system warms these areas so that none of the room air in contact with them can become chilled. Thus, no cold air can fall to the floor to form drafts.

COLD AIR ELIMINATED
 As evidence that this comfort objective is achieved the traditional "cold" air return grilles, usually located under the windows in older systems, have been eliminated. The air is returned to the furnace through a grille located on an inside wall. In fact, even the term "cold air return" is no longer used because there is no "cold" air to return to the furnace.
 Excellent results have been realized from the stringent tests made on the warm air perimeter heating system by the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association, sponsors of a continuous research program at the University of Illinois. Temperature differences of only two degrees or less between floor and ceiling are not at all uncommon with this system.

 "This means that the kids can play on the floor even on the coldest winter days without mother worrying that they are sitting in a draft. In fact, the colder the weather outside, the better the system functions in adding warmth to the walls and windows of the house."
 Another advantage is that by keeping a constant stream of moving warm air across the window surfaces forestalls condensation on glass areas—acting much like the windshield defroster in your automobile.
 Allied Navies Need Carriers
 LONDON (CP) — Admiral Lynde McCormick, supreme Allied commander in the Atlantic, said Friday the Allied navies need more aircraft carriers.
 He told a press conference at naval headquarters in Pitreavie, Scotland, that after surveying results of the big North Sea maneuver he concluded the forces suffer from lack of maritime patrol aircraft for combating submarines and shortage of minesweepers.

Tips For Painting Outside Porch

If you are planning on painting the porch of the house while Indian summer is here to give the paint a chance to dry and so protect a well-treaded porch of the house exterior from further wear during the winter months, the following tips may be of considerable aid.
 Proper preparation of surfaces is important for a good, durable job. Porch and steps should be washed with soap and water and rinsed. Scrape off loose particles with a stiff scraping knife, and remove any grease with paint thinner.
 To give the new enamel a "tooth" on which to cling, sand all surfaces lightly with No. 00 sandpaper. After sanding, wipe with a damp cloth to remove sandpaper dust. Be sure surfaces are dry before applying new enamel.
 Use a pure bristle varnish brush 2 1/2" to 3" wide. Brush should be of medium thickness. If surface is in good condition, one coat of top-quality floor

Women's Club To Hold Tea

The Women's Canadian Club will hold a tea Oct. 16 to obtain funds for the Over-Seventy Christmas banquet held each year for city oldsters.
 At its meeting last week, the Club also voted $15 to be given to the Prince Rupert Public Library and $10 each to the Girl Guides and Boy Scout Association.
 With Mrs. F. E. Anfield in the chair, a minute's silence was called in memory of two former members, the late Mrs. J. B. Gibson and Mrs. D. McD. Hunter.
 A call for volunteers was made to canvass in the coming drive for Civic Centre membership.
 Following the business meeting, a film, "Newfoundland Scene" was shown by Rowland Miles, of the Civic Centre staff, showing life in small towns and villages in the rock-bound bays and inlets.

Handicaps Play Big Part

Handicaps played a big part in the second week of play in the Mixed Five-Pin Bowling League although it caused some confusion for awhile.

Genial secretary Bertha Dunbar, however, went to the aid of those unable to figure out the system.

Isobel Caswell now has the best score of the season so far. She rolled a neat 317 for the CCC Woodbutchers in their match with Cook's Jewelers although her team snagged only one point.

Cliff Silversides has the high game of the season for men with a 292, which he rolled on opening night.

High three in Group 1 last week was bowled by Betty Hyndman when she racked up 665, including high single of 242. George Morgan with a 283-game for high single, also had high three of 691. He bowls for the Hi-Jackers.

The Penguin Hobby sextet had high single game of 1119 and the Orphans chalked up the high three with 2,952.

In Group 2, Alma Whatman had high three of 705. Steve Dziapka, who bowls for Cook's Jewelers, had high single for men with 291 and George Bradley of the Pinbusters had high three of 653.

The Pushovers also rolled a neat 1,379 in one game and had a three-game total of 3,558.

There were 231,295 golf clubs, 104,483 dozen golf balls, 290,730 baseball bats, 40,295 footballs and 53,094 tennis badminton and squash racquets made in Canada in 1950.

RIDERS STOPPED—Toronto Argonauts had to come from behind three times to edge Ottawa Rough Riders 24-19. It was the third straight win for the Big Four league leaders. Riders' Pete Karup made one of the sensational plays of the game when he intercepted an Argos pass and ran 80 yards for a touchdown. ## SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

GROSSINGER, N.Y., (AP)—"I guess the thing I'm proudest of about Rocky Marciano," said Charlie Goldman, the little man who trains the challenger, "is the way he has developed into a great body puncher."

"You've got to realize that when I took him over he didn't know what a body punch was. In the first 10 fights I handled him he didn't throw a single one—and I mean not a single one."

"So I hired a sparring partner for Rocky, and for weeks I had him go in there and not punch once to the head."

"Now body punching is Rocky's best weapon. It's how he wears them down and sets them up for the finisher. It was a punch in the belly right at the end of the first round which really knocked out Harry Matthews in Rocky's last fight, though the end didn't come until the second round."

"Another thing Rocky can do now with the best of them is feint. If Walcott tries feinting him next Tuesday night, you will see him get feinted right back. If Joe thinks he's going to make a sucker out of Rocky with that funny stuff of his, he's going to get a big surprise."

NOT A CLASSIC

"Rocky never will be a classic-looking fighter, but don't make the mistake of thinking he's awkward. In all the little things I had to teach him I had to be careful not to do anything that might affect his punch. That was the big thing he had—that punch. I think it is a great tribute to his intelligence and determination that he has learned to box without letting up on his terrific hitting power."

Walcott Not Worried About Rocky Marciano

By JACK HAND

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., (AP)—Return bout contract or no, Jersey Joe Walcott calmly goes about the work of preparing for his heavyweight title defence Tuesday at Philadelphia, against rugged Rocky Marciano.

"I leave those business details to my manager," said the 38-year-old champ. "If he (Felix Boechchio) says 'fight' okay. If he says 'no' then we don't. I do think we're entitled to a return as consideration for being champion."

Despite reports that Jersey Joe has made disparaging remarks about the young challenger, Walcott labeled Marciano "a good rough puncher with a rough and tumble style."

"I fought that kind of fighter a lot of times," he said.

How did he expect Marciano to fight?

"It will be a question of knowing what to do and how to do it," he said. "He's a different kind of fighter than Ezzard Charles. I won't have to spend so much energy chasing him. He comes in swinging."

Jersey Joe is touchy on comparisons between his two losing fights with Joe Louis and Marciano's knockout of the Brown Bomber.

"The Louis that fought Marciano was a different man," he said. "He was slower. His coordination was gone. Marciano was fighting just the name."

The champ shied away from any outright prediction although his trainer, Dan Florio, has picked Jersey Joe on a first-round knockout.

In sharp contrast to his lackadaisical workouts for the Charles fight in June, Walcott has been belting his sparring partners. When he knocked out Pete Nelson in the second round yesterday, it was the sixth time he had dropped a man in his pre-fight work.

If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.
