SHIPPING OUT OF PRINCE RUPERT DISCUSSED

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR QUEEN ALEXANDRA AT WESTMINSTER ABBEY

Discussed Shipping in Connection with Port of Prince Rupert in South

"I was in Vancouver discussing the possibility of putting on an Oriental and United Kingdom service for the Canadian National boats out of this port and also of increasing the facilities for the handling of grain through the elevator here," said F. G. Dawson, director of the railway on his return from Vancouver last night.

Mr. Dawson left Prince Rupert recently to meet W. A. Kingsland, general manager of the western region on the prairies, along with other officials of the line and went through with them to Vancouver. There the conference was held with B. C. Keeley. The matter will have to be placed before Sir Henry Thornton for his approval before being finally decided on.

Mr. Dawson has been also interested in the grain business in connection with the elevator here and with other matters pertaining to the work of the railway. He hurried home because of the illness of his sister, Mrs. Grieve, who has undergone an operation at the hospital but who is improving.

TERRACE HOUSE WAS DESTROYED

Home was Owned by Mrs. Griffiths of Prince Rupert and Occupied by W. Doole

TERRACE, Nov. 23.—The home of Mrs. Griffiths near the Catholic Church was completely destroyed by fire on Saturday evening about 9:30 with all its contents.

Mrs. Griffiths resides in Prince Rupert and her little home here has been occupied for some time by W. Doole, who is at present taking out poles across the river. He was in town Saturday and had evidently left fire in the cook stove and it is thought the wall behind the stove must have caught from this as there had been no one in the place for some hours. The building was one of the very few plastered houses here and burned more slowly for that reason. At the fire alarm signal given from Little's mill a large crowd soon gathered but it was too late to do anything towards saving the house or contents and effort were centered on saving Mr. Gold's large barn right near the house. As there was practically no wind and the roof of the barn was soaked with rain this was easily accomplished.

The loss is reported to be carried by insurance.

P.G.E. BEING DISCUSSED AT VICTORIA NOW

Will Not be Extended into Peace River Country but Connected Up

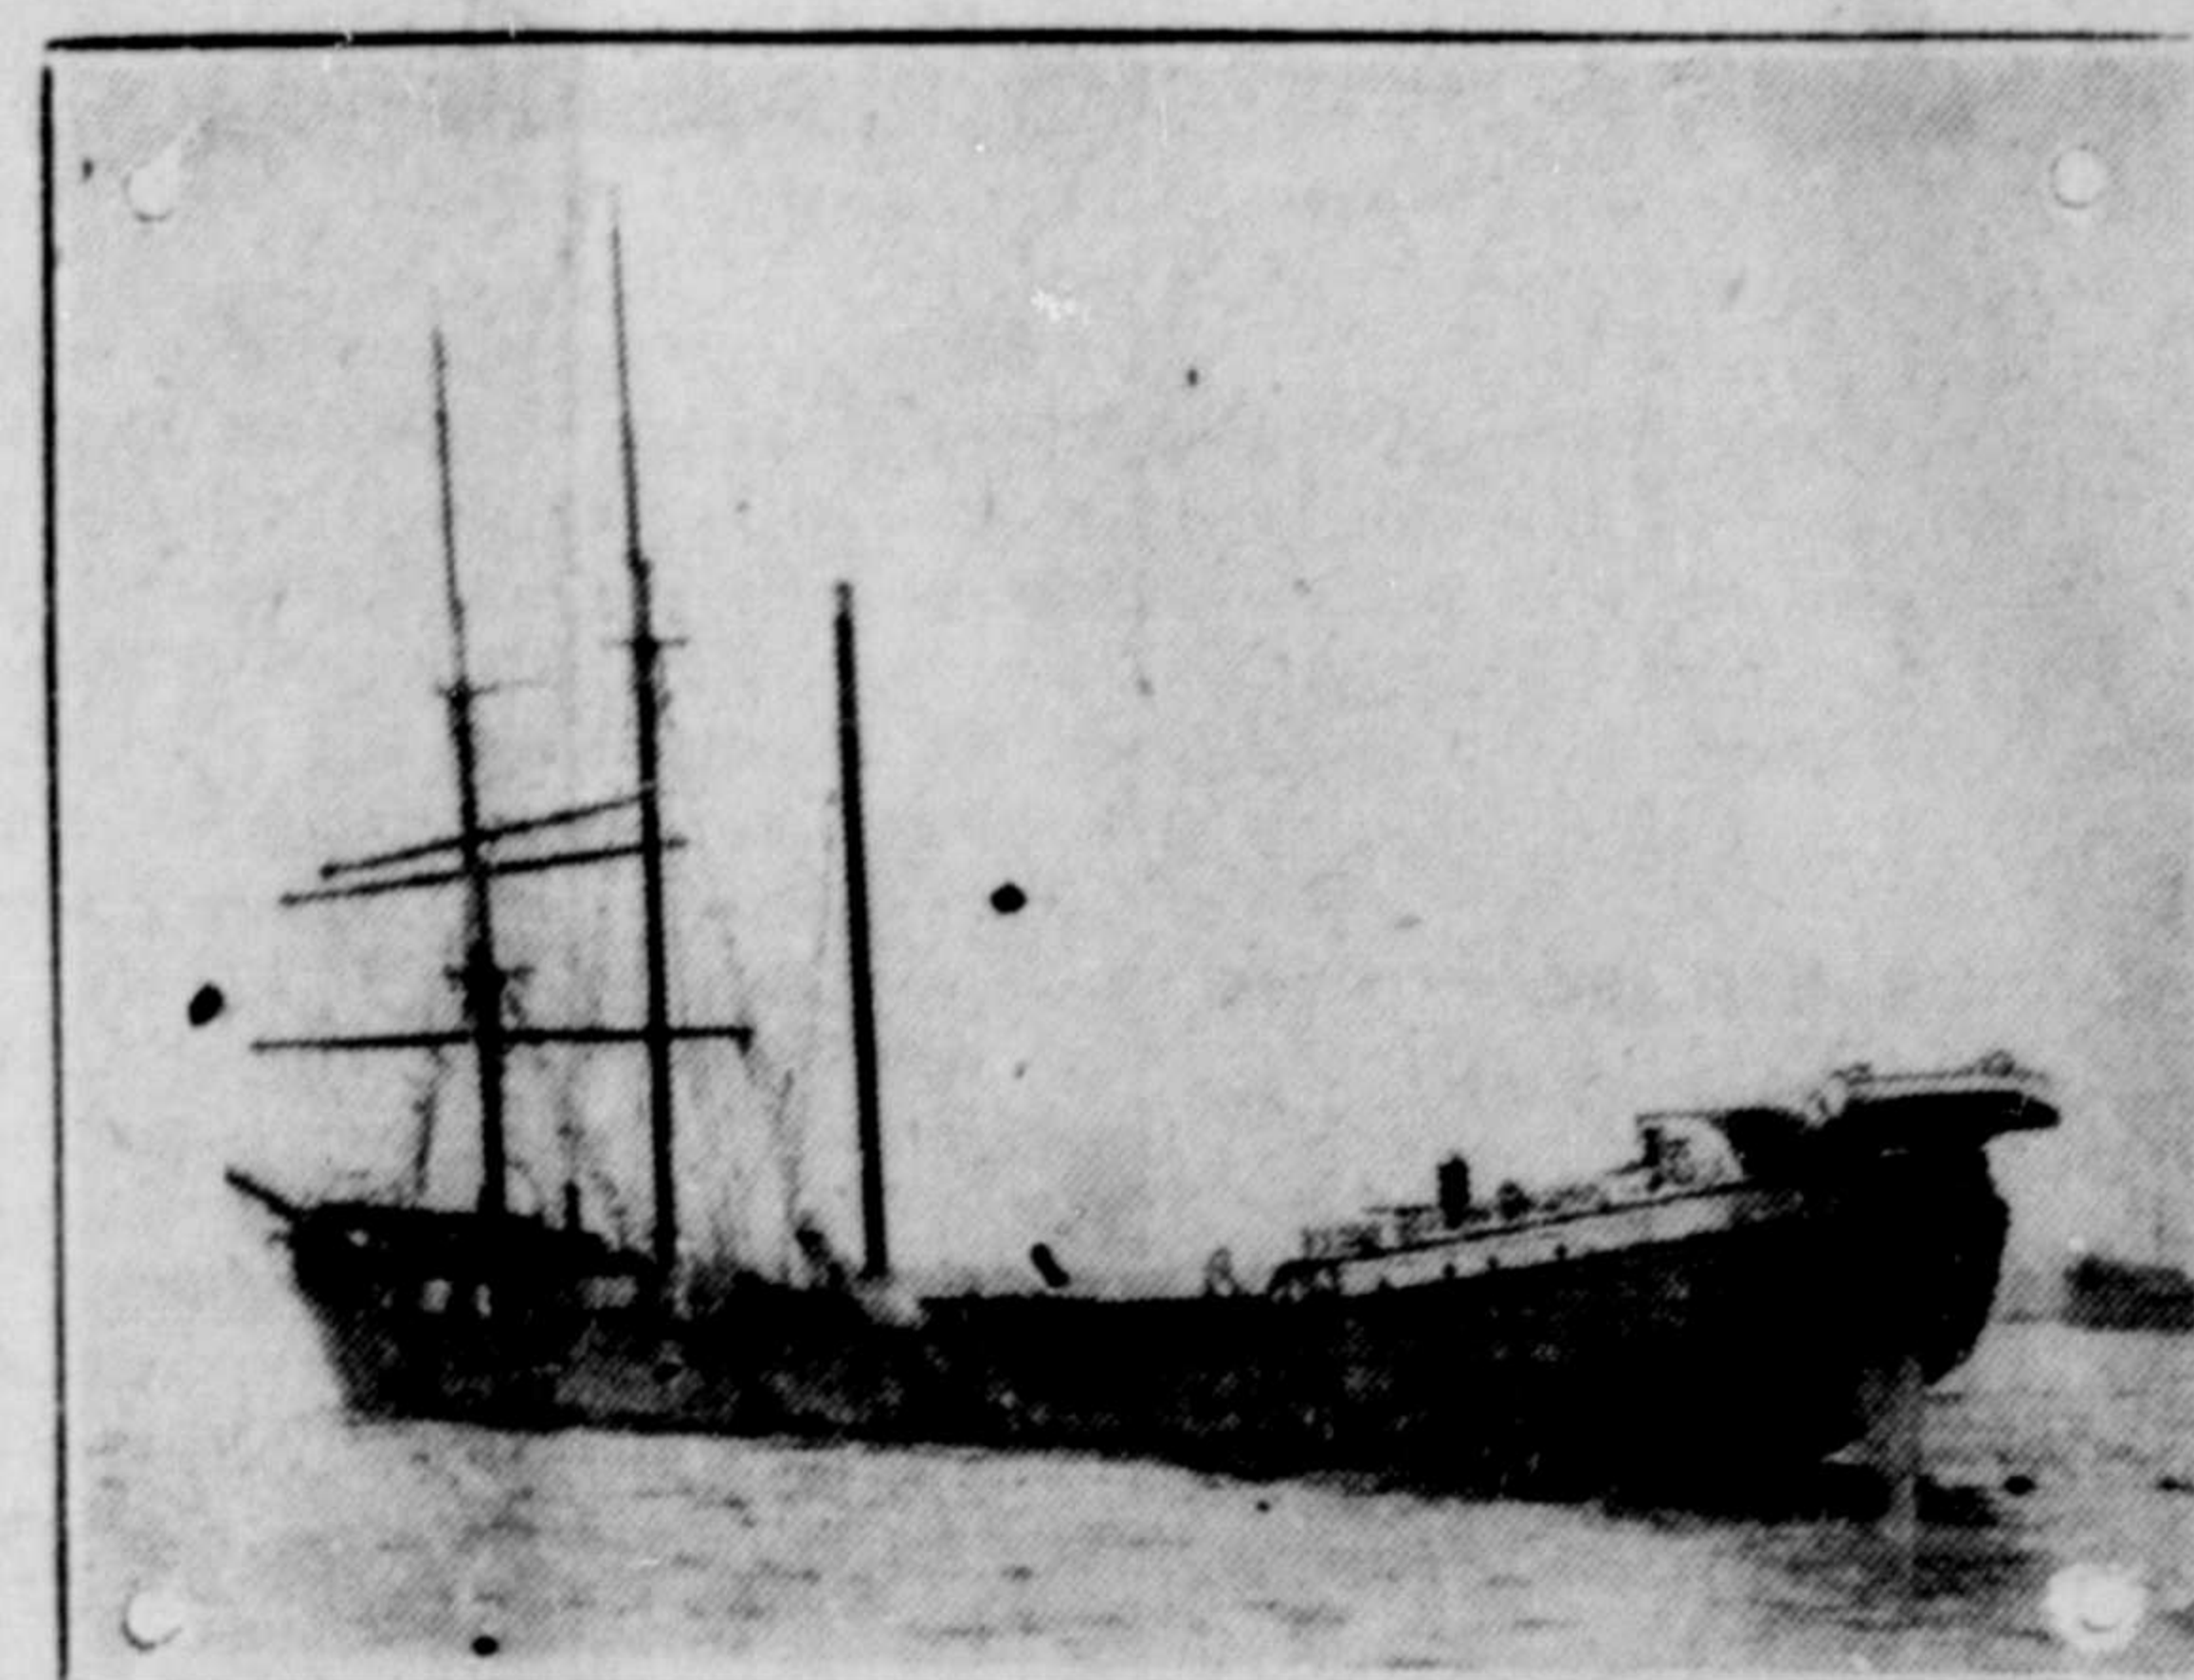

(Special Daily News)
VICTORIA, Nov. 23.—The fate of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be definitely known within 48 hours according to an official statement made in the legislature today. Meanwhile it may be taken as a fact that talk of scrapping or abandoning the line is without foundation and it is also certain that the line will not be extended into the Peace River country as proposed by some of the northern members particularly H. G. Perry, M.L.A. for Fort George. The government is undecided as to whether it will extend the railway north from Quesnel to Prince George or south into North Vancouver.

May be Tried Here if Committed for Trial at Preliminary Hearing

The three half breeds arrested at Hazelton last week in connection with the alleged murder of Matthew McLean, Indian, whose remains were found recently at Salus, were Frans and Alex Bird and Albert Pierro. The crime is alleged to have been the result of a drinking bout on the Hazelton Indian reserve over a year ago. It is expected the three men will have a preliminary trial at an early date either at Smithers or Hazelton and, if they are committed for trial, the case will likely come up at the Assizes here in December. The provincial police are said to have linked up a strong chain of circumstantial evidence involving the three men arrested.

Activity Necessary To Prevent Deterioration.

We change our minds and change our course of action very often with little apparent benefit, and yet the change is desirable if only to stimulate activity. Activity is necessary to prevent deterioration.

It is a well known law of nature that anything which is not used deteriorates and in time tends to disappear. If the brain is not used it becomes useless. If the arms or legs are not used they gradually lose their values as a part of the human body. The tendency of the day to ride instead of walk in connection with the ordinary activities of life is being offset by a revival of interest in golf and other games. Activity is necessary and if not taken one way has to be taken another.

What is true of individuals is true of groups of individuals or communities. The moment an organization of individuals loses its aggressiveness, it begins to die and unless a revival of activity is brought about it decays and passes out. This is true of churches, fraternal organizations, athletic clubs and all groups, whether public service groups or groups organized for mutual advantage. Activity is necessary or decay sets in and the doom of the group is sounded.

Cities in Same Class With Others.

Cities are in the same class with others. A city that is not active is sometimes spoken of as being dead. While that is not literally true, there is a lot of truth in it. While not dead it is bound in the direction of the cemetery. Only activity keeps cities alive.

Where does Prince Rupert come in on this? Is she alive? Are the business people here alive to the general interests of the city and to her future welfare. Are we functioning to the best of our ability? What of the future?

Pretty soon there will be a civic election going on and the best possible men are required to fill the civic offices. Where are they? If the city is to advance, the best must be in the field, offering their services for the benefit of the city. Every civic organization must be active and no efforts must be spared to keep things moving. Beware of stagnation. It spells disease, death and a funeral.

Some Don't Believe That They Will Pass Out.

Some people do not believe that the end of activity means the end of life or pretty nearly that. How many people who retire from active business live very long afterwards? Not very many. With the impetus to work gone, the impetus to live goes and they are not required any more, so nature does her bit and quietly removes them. Such is the benevolence of nature.

Even a long holiday is dangerous, unless it is spent in activity. To sit down and laze away the hours is as fatal as taking a dose of poison. Activity is life. Inactivity leads to death.

THE SPANIARD IS THRILLER

Week End Film is Full of Adventure and Features Spanish Bull Fight

"The Spaniard," here at the week end is a screen version of the immensely popular novel of the same name by Juanita Savage.

"The Spaniard" is first met in London on the eve of his departure for Spain. He meets Dolores Annesley, an English society beauty, played by Miss Goudal who, as a heart-breaker, is more than his match. He accompanies her home from the ball, but she repulses his ardent love making. He never loses his smiling self-assurance, however, and tells her suavely, "I get what I want."

Although she had deliberately set out to fascinate him, once she had succeeded in her object Dolores only laughs at the Spaniard's protestation of love and twice refuses to marry him. When he vows he will yet conquer her, she pays no attention to him. To her he is merely another victim and disappointed lover.

Bull Fight

While visiting relatives in Seville, Dolores attends a bull fight at which the great matador, Fernandez, is the hero of the hour. The fight is packed with thrills, and at its conclusion the matador bows beneath the girl's box. She is humiliated to find that he is the hero of her ardent love adventure in London—The Spaniard.

In the picture, Gomez, is used by Don Pedro, The Spaniard, to decoy Dolores to his isolated castle in the mountains when she goes on an expedition into the mountains. Don Pedro tells Dolores that he means to hold her here until she has learned to love him.

After a fruitless attempt to escape, the girl sees that she will have to fall back on her woman's wit to out-guess The Spaniard. She brings him to believe that she has fallen in love with him at least, only to give him the slip on the morning they go out riding.

Thrilling End

Dolores loses her way, in the mountains and comes across a lone rider. She asks the way to town, and, instead, he directs her to a bandit's mountain stronghold where Gomez, Don Pedro's servant, banished by The Spaniard because he had caught him assisting the girl in her attempt to escape, is in command.

From this point the action builds to a climax that is a real thriller.

HOOT GIBSON SEEN IN WESTERN PICTURE

Auto Driving and Horsemanship Features in Story of Kidnapping and Ranch Life

An exceedingly amusing story combining city and ranch jazz with rapid outdoor Western action is the current offering at the mid-week when Hoot Gibson appears in "Taming the West."

Gibson is given ample opportunity to demonstrate his skill at automobile driving and at horsemanship. Playing the part of a dissipated city youth who went into the West to recover his health and self-respect, Gibson demonstrates that he is quite properly the champion horseman of the world, a title gained in competition at the Pendleton Rodeo for the past three years.

He breaks a bronco, gets a mean spill, but remounts the animal and subdues it. Other scenes call for daring horse-back riding and Gibson shoots his horse past sheer declivities and outruns a group of pursuing cow-punchers. He is also given a chance to excel in automobile piloting and drives a heavy racing car over the hills and plains of the roadless ranch. Tearing through fences and barns and taking dangerous stunts as he discovers himself in an impasse and turns about abruptly.

The story is clever. It starts with a city youth whose aptitude for getting into trouble finally arouses his father to action. The action consists of banishing the son from the fireside until he has made his character over into something of value. The son is sent to the father's western ranch where he goes through the various tenderfoot initiation-but turns the tables on the mocking cow-punchers and fights the biggest of them, proving himself an adept with his fists.

He falls in love with the neighboring rancher's daughter but is ordered off the ranch when her father discovers that the youth is the son of his old enemy. However, the son gives battle to the cowboys of the neighboring ranch and wins the respect and love of the girl. He drives up to the ranch house and kidnaps the girl, making his escape from the ranch property after a thrilling chase.

The two get married and as they return from the minister's they meet their fathers on the road scolding each other. When the two see their children they decide it is best to forget their petty animosity and the picture ends happily.

THE DESERT FLOWER STARS COLLEEN MOORE

Man is Killed by Gunshot and Three Confess to Killing Him

A shot. A man falls dead. "I did it," cries the girl, stepping forth. "It was I," insists the handsome young man.

And as the sheriff scratches his head in perplexity and indecision, Jose, the faithful Mexican, protector of the woman, appears on the scene like an apparition, displaying a gun with one of the chambers empty, as mute testimony of his guilt.

But who, really, was guilty? You'd never guess, unless you sit through the entire showing of "The Desert Flower," with the delightful Colleen Moore in the leading role here tonight and tomorrow.

The story shows the lights and shadows of the existence of a little waif in a desert camp of a railroad construction gang, who escapes from the persecutions of a brutish step-father to make her own way in the world and provide for her baby sister.

Finding the only avenue open to her the rough environment of a mining camp dance hall, she yet remains untarnished and in the end wins the love of the prodigal whom she had inspired to try again and to conquer.

Next to Miss Moore's touching characterization of the little creature of drab exterior but golden heart is that of the wayward youth by Lloyd Hughes. Excellent support is rendered these by a cast.

PRINCE GEORGE

At a largely attended meeting of the Prince George Board of Trade, a resolution was passed approving of the efforts of H. G. Perry, M.L.A., in pressing on the legislature that the Pacific Great Eastern Railway should be finished to Prince George and extended into the Peace River. A strongly worded resolution along these lines is to be drafted and Mayor Alward will also take up the question at the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of B.C. in Chilliwack next week. The city council has also gone on record as approving the efforts of Mr. Perry.

The city council has decided to strictly enforce the Pound Bylaw here this winter and, with that end in view, a poundkeeper will be engaged. A two night Hullabaloo and Cabaret dance was held in the Rits-Kifer Hall on Thursday and Friday nights for the purpose of raising funds for a nurses' home in connection with the Prince George Hospital.

At the last meeting of the city council a list was presented showing that 38 people have buildings encroaching on city streets and lanes. They are to be given notice to make the necessary readjustments.

Is Your Back
The Weak Point
Then get your kidneys right
by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Very few people are in perfect health. There is a weak spot somewhere. When you get tired or your system gets a little run down you feel the effects at your weak spot.

If your weak spot is your back, then you may suspect that your kidneys are not in perfect order. The back aches or is weak and sore; you may have headaches; there will be dryness of the skin, pains in the limbs and disorders of the bladder.

The quickest way to regulate the kidneys is by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They are bound to be effective because they arouse the action of the kidneys, liver and bowels and thereby ensure the elimination of poisons from the system.

MANY WERE PLAYING BADMINTON YESTERDAY

Tryout of the Elks Courts Made by Members of the Other Club

Yesterday the courts of the Prince Rupert Badminton Club were crowded all afternoon and a number of fast games were seen. Probably the fastest and most spectacular player was Larry Wyles, the redoubtable Bank of Commerce champion. Bob Bartlett who is the club holder for the championship of the city, has not been practicing as much as some of the others and seemed to have slipped a little. Harold Thompson and several others are close runners up while Owens, who was new to the game at the beginning of the season, is bidding fair to make a mark before long.

Owing to the courts being crowded, some of the members went over to the Elks' courts and gave them a try out. Playing there is quite a different game owing to the high ceiling and the rather short courts. The general opinion was that they were an improvement on the other courts in the city. The main objections are the slipperiness of the floor and the closeness of the wall to the back line of the courts.

SPORT CHAT

Sport events scheduled for the week are as follows: Monday (tonight). — Cribbage League; Elks vs. C.N. Mechanical; G.W.V.A. vs. P.R. Hotel; L.O.L. vs. Moose; S. of C. vs. St. Andrew's; Dry Dock vs. Cold Storage; C.N. Operating vs. K. of C.

Tuesday. — Senior Billiards; G.W.V.A. vs. P.R.B.P. Ladies' Whist (postponed games)—D. of E. vs. Mooseheart; L.O.B.A. vs. Pythian Sisters.

Thursday. — Men's Whist: St. Andrew's vs. L.O.L.; S. of E. vs. K. of P.; S. of G. vs. K. of C.; Elks vs. Moose. Second division billiards.—G.W.V.A. vs. P.R.B.P.

The most wonderful increase of popularity of any sport in Canada these past few years is that which has attended the game of badminton, a pastime which ten or even five years ago was only indulged in by a few and those mostly ladies. Since then a Canadian Badminton Association has held big championship meets and the popularity of the sport has spread from east to west and north to south and from the largest cities to the smallest hamlets. The big badminton event of this winter and one which promises to put the game even more on its feet will be the visit of the crack Old Country team to the Dominion next month. To accommodate the many people who will wish to witness the games in Mohr, the Winter Club of that city is putting up special stands that will take care of a thousand people.

Smithers had its first skating of the season last week when the cold snap made excellent ice on various sloughs in the vicinity of the town. Several parties took advantage of the occasion to enjoy the exercise and indications point to an increase of popularity for skating this winter. The ice was melted soon, however, with the arrival of another warm spell and a downpour of rain.

The Hazelton District Rod and Gun Club at a meeting this week decided to ask the provincial government to put a bounty of $1

VANCOUVER TO HAVE SLATE OF CIVIC OWNERS

Quiet organization of a municipal ownership campaign having for its objective, election of a slate of city council members including a mayor, pledged to submission of a plebiscite calling for development of a $3,000,000 Vancouver Hydro-Electric plant on the Cheakamus river power site, is being undertaken here at the present time, it transpired in civic political circles today says the Vancouver Star.

Ex-Alderman Hamilton, and an engineer named Ross are reported as prime movers in the scheme, and it is reported strong efforts are being made to bring out a mayoralty candidate in opposition to Mayor L. D. Taylor who has expressed unwillingness to pledge himself to the policy. In this connection Ex-Ald. J. J. McRae, defeated mayoralty candidate in Ward 6, announced himself today a candidate for alderman in Ward 6, in opposition to Ald. C. Worthington and R. Parn Pettipiece, Labor. Mr. McRae is a well known exponent of municipal ownership and it was hoped by the founders of the movement that he would seek election as mayor.

RUPERT MENTIONED REGARDING GRAIN

An embargo against the movement of grain to Edmonton was issued by the Canadian National Railway today says the Vancouver Star. The move was made because Edmonton yards are clogged with tough and damp grain. Grain, specially wheat, is therefore, backed up to country elevators and marketing is badly affected.

One result may be death before birth of the expected heavy movement of northern Alberta grain.

Flour, Lard, Smoked Meats, Potatoes, Sugar, Tea, Dried Fruits, Nuts, etc., are all going up

The wheat market is advancing sharply and advances may soon be expected in local retail prices of flour and feed. At the end of the week there was an advance of 20c per barrel in flour—this having been the first advance in six weeks.

New Zealand butter will soon be in and it is expected that it will stabilize though possibly not reduce present butter prices which are high.

The lard and smoked meat markets are firm and there is no chance of an immediate decline.

Due to an oversupply of pullet's eggs, there has been a slight decline recently in the price of fresh eggs in spite of the fact that fresh and firsts are still scarce. Storage eggs have been firming up.

The potato market is going "out of sight" and the lowest retail price today is $3.85 per hundred pounds. The wholesale price continues to soar with the lowest quotations on the Vancouver market $65 per ton for gems and $55 for locals. Wise householders are laying in stocks at the best prices they can obtain.

The shortage of potatoes is also causing the general vegetable market to firm up.

Naval oranges are due soon at lower prices than those that are now being asked for. Valencia's. The opening price for Jap oranges is 90c per box and, with stringent regulations on exports by the Japanese government, there will probably be little if any reduction throughout the season.

The sugar market advanced 10c per hundred during the past week.

The tea market is strong and an advance of 11c per pound on better grades is reported.

Raisins have advanced three cents per pound and nuts will be 35c per pound for Christmas this year instead of 25c last year.

The first shipments of choice Valencia figs to be received for years arrived recently. The price is 15c per pound.

The Man Who Talked at Random

HE sat in the window-corner of the Pullman's smoking compartment, and breathed fatly and uttered large opinions in a suety voice. It grew late, as so often it does; and he put the quietus on a discussion with the ponderous statement:

"I don't read advertisements. They have no effect on me at all. I'd never miss them if they stopped printing 'em."

Then he glanced at his advertised watch and sought his lower birth.

In the morning the ad-skeptic contorted himself out of his advertised pyjamas into his advertised underwear, drew on his advertised socks, adjusted them with his advertised garters, got into his advertised clothes, laced his advertised shoes and added himself to the congestion in the wash-room.

There he shaved with an advertised razor, using advertised shaving cream; brushed his teeth with an advertised toothbrush and advertised dental cream, washed with advertised soap, and brushed his hair with an advertised brush. Buttoning his advertised collar on an advertised button, he neatly knotted his advertised tie, gave his advertised suspenders a tug or two, and finished dressing.

Let us leave him there, this man who never reads advertisements!

Everything worth using is advertised. Everything that isn't, rarely is.

Read the advertisements for value's sake

TERRACE MAN DIES CALGARY
"Dad" Weeks Well Known Throughout District Passes Away at Advanced Age
TERRACE, Nov. 23—Word was received in town on Friday last of the death of Charles Weeks, more familiarly known in this district as "Dad Weeks" in the Calgary General Hospital on Friday, November 13. "Dad" was a very well known resident, having been on the river since 1904 when he landed at Essington. He came to the Kitsumkalam valley in 1905 and pre-empted a quarter section of land near the Kitsumkalam steamboat landing. His original home on the bench above the river is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. Ackroyd. Of later years he was postmaster at Kitsumkalam until the office was closed, and occupied the living rooms behind the store building where the office was located. Around this he had quite a large fruit and vegetable garden in which he took great pride. He was of a very genial disposition and was noted for his hospitality.
Mr. Weeks was born in Richibucto, New Brunswick, about 80 years ago. He was pre-deceased by his wife and son after he came to B.C., they both having died in the east.
A year ago this last fall "Dad" left Terrace on a trip to his old home. He was evidently on his way back west and was visiting with a nephew in Calgary who sent the news of his death.
Interment took place in the Calgary Cemetery on Saturday, November 14th.
