CONSERVATIVES CREEPING UP ON LIBERALS

SPEECH FROM THRONE SAYS LOW FREIGHT RATES WILL IMPROVE BUSINESS

Position of Government is More Precarious as Result of Returns Giving Conservatives 118 Seats

If all parties unite against Tories they will have majority of only seven or eight without speaker

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—The Conservatives have made two more gains with the result that they now have 118 members out of a total of 245 in the House and with Provencher still in doubt. Provencher goes Conservative, the united opposition to the Conservatives will muster a majority of only seven and with a speaker taken out it will drop to six.

It is not known yet whether the Progressive, Labor and Independent members will unite against the Conservatives, so the position of the government is most unstable just now. Possibly it will not be known what can be done until the House meets.

Queens, Prince Edward Island, has gone Conservative, the present line up being Liberals 100, Conservatives 118, Progressives 23, Labor 2, Independent 1, doubtful 4.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—While Premier Mackenzie King declines to make any statement at present, the opinion prevailing here is that he will carry on and summon the Fifteenth Parliament.

The meeting of the cabinet yesterday afternoon lasted several hours and the situation was discussed from all angles but the Prime Minister had nothing to say at the conclusion of the meeting. In the evening the Premier conferred with the Governor General, after which he announced that he would have no statement to make until the final returns were available. An order has been made for a recount of the vote in Provencher, Manitoba, on November 9, so it will be some time before the returns are all in.

The cabinet meeting yesterday was well attended, only four ministers being absent. While it was reported before the meeting that some of the ministers favored resignation, the view held generally was that the decision would be to continue and meet Parliament.

Speech from Throne Comments on Reduced Freight Rates as Likely to Improve Business

VICTORIA, Nov. 3.—As was expected, the speech from the throne at the opening of the Legislature yesterday contained an announcement of extraordinary legislation for the fall session. It referred to improved business conditions expected to result from freight rate reduction secured since the last session together with the large crops produced on the prairies this year. The speech mentioned that the scenic highway systems were being extended and referred to the inter-provincial highway on which satisfactory progress was being made as establishing for all time a closer connection between the coast and inland cities.

Reference was made to the increasing number of inmates of the insane asylum as a matter for serious concern.

Four Grizzlies Charged at Ed. Anderson up Khutze Inlet but were Shot from Vantage of Rock

To be attacked by four grizzly bears, to come off victorious, and to secure photographs of the game after the battle is an experience few people have or would wish to have. J. Ford, a hand logger of Swanson Bay, who is in town, brings word that such was the experience of Ed. Anderson, hand logger and trapper recently in Khutze Inlet.

According to the story Anderson was out with the object of locating a new trap line at the head of Khutze Inlet and was crossing a bare spot on the side of the mountain when he was suddenly charged by four grizzlies. He made a dash for a high boulder and managed to get on top of it before the bears reached him. The first made an effort to scale the boulder but Anderson had the advantage of location and pumped two bullets into him before he rolled over. The second bear then charged up the rock but it also was killed. The other two were smaller and were dispatched without difficulty.

On his arrival back in camp Anderson was covered with blood and, guided by him, Mr. Scully, a mining engineer, visited the spot next day and photographed the bears, thus securing evidence of the truth of the story.

Mr. Ford says those who know the grizzlies of that district declare that they are always ready to charge and are the fiercest animals of their kind.

Equipment of the department was reported to be in good order, the usual monthly inspections having been made.

MOOSE CHARGED C.N.R. ENGINE

Bull Saw Possible Rival in Headlight but Cow Tried to Escape; Both Killed

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—Engineer James Strouthois of the Canadian National train Number 403 made a record in moose hunting yesterday when he killed two with his engine about one mile west of Yolliffe station.

Yolliffe, which is in the heart of the big game country, is about 39 miles from Sioux Lookout and Strouthois was running west when suddenly he saw a bull and a cow moose step out into the middle of the track and stand facing the engine in the broad glare of the headlight. The cow seemed somewhat uneasy at the approach of the engine but the bull mistook it for a rival. He did a few war stamps, bellowed a challenge and then charged.

It was a short battle so far as the bull was concerned. He was eliminated by a ten foot throw and wound up in the ditch. The cow decided it was not the usual rutting season battle, but before she could jump to safety the engine struck her.

There is now plenty of moosemeat at Yolliffe.

His legs were amputated in a German prison camp after Pernot had crashed and been taken prisoner in Belgian territory during the war.

Little Serious Business Before The Legislature.

The speech from the throne yesterday indicates that little serious business is to come before the legislature at this session. Possibly that is the best thing that could happen. We already have too many laws and it has been the custom to add about a hundred each year. Soon we shall be burdened with laws if that continues. Many of the laws are wholly unnecessary and some of them are never enforced.

Laws are necessary but too many laws are worse than none. The Legislature meets once a year and if the members do not pass some laws the people begin to think they are useless and should not be returned. If the present Legislature is willing to brave popular opinion and hold its hand from new legislation it should receive the commendation of all citizens. However it will not do that. Laws will be forced on it and we shall be the sufferers.

Religion Largely Matter Of Environment.

The religion a person adopts is largely a matter of environment. At the farewell to Dr. Grant last night M. P. McGaffery suggested that if Dr. Grant had been brought up in the same environment as himself he would have been a better Catholic than himself. In saying that he uttered a truth which is very apparent everywhere. A man is a Presbyterian or a Catholic largely because his parents were Presbyterian or Catholic. Another is a Baptist because he was brought up a Baptist. It is seldom that any person is brought to the age of discretion without religious bias and then asked to choose after having the features of each presented to him. In that case he might not adopt either.

We differ on matters of religion and many people feel very strongly that their particular religion is the best, the right one or even the only true religion. Yet even that religion is largely a matter of environment. The best Anglican in the community would probably have been a Methodist if brought up in a devout Methodist family.

Insanity Result Of Diseased Body.

The speech from the throne delivered yesterday at Victoria commented on the increase of insanity in the province. That is largely the result of the loose habits of life of the people leading to disease and often to death. Physicians say that a large proportion of insane cases are the result of syphilis of the brain and syphilis is a contagious disease usually contracted as a result of immoral living. Women contract it because their husbands have lived loose lives before or after marriage. Loose living is instigated largely by the use of spirituous and other liquors. It is when under the influences of liquor that the disease is often contracted.

Government Will Carry On.

As was suggested yesterday, the Government of Mackenzie King seems to have tentatively decided to carry on and meet Parliament. The Prime Minister had an interview with the Governor General following the cabinet meeting and kept him informed in regard to the situation.

As long as the Government does nothing unconstitutional it is the province of the Governor to take the advice of his first minister in all matters. The day is past when a Governor would dare to interfere with the ordinary affairs of state just as in Britain the King acts only on the advice of his constitutional advisers on state matters.

PRESENTATION TO DR. GRANT

Members of Congregation and Others Gather in Presbyterian Church to Bid Pastor Farewell

Last night there was a presentation to Dr. H. R. Grant at a formal farewell in the Presbyterian Church by members of his congregation and others who had gathered for the occasion. Dr. Grant who is leaving on Friday for Fort William with Mrs. Grant and family was the recipient of a beautiful album bound with moosehide and suitably inscribed by Morte Craig, the burnt leather artist, accompanied by a purse of gold. There was vocal and instrumental music and refreshments were served in the hall afterwards. The inscription on the album read:

"Presented to Rev. Hugh R. Grant, D.D. on the occasion of his departure from Prince Rupert, B.C. and the consequent severance of his connection as minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

"For eleven years from 1914 to 1925 Dr. Grant served, not only his congregation but also the city and its varied activities freely and with the greatest acceptance to all; and this testimonial, along with a purse of gold is handed to him in token of the high esteem in which he is held by the Community.

"By his kindly and unselfish spirit and example he has raised to himself in the minds of all his friends a memorial more lasting than bronze."

Many Take Part

George Munro presided and with him on the platform were the officers and managers of the church and Sunday school. Mr. Munro said they had gathered to say farewell to Dr. Grant. The retiring minister had been very close to most of them. It was hard to part but they had to do so and it was best to do it in a cheerful way.

F. G. Dawson, representing the Board of Managers, spoke of the long service here of Dr. Grant. He felt that his best friends were going. He had hoped that when the new church was built Dr. Grant would stay and occupy it but since then his health had not been so good and it was felt that a change of climate would be beneficial. The good work of Mrs. Grant was also mentioned by Mr. Dawson, who said she was a tower of strength to her husband.

Session Representative

J. W. McKinley, representing the session, said he could not begin to speak what he felt so would not attempt it. He thought Dr. Grant had been in the west too long to content himself in Ontario. He expected to hear of his shipping strawberries from his ranch at Terrace to the Presbyterians of Prince Rupert.

Consul Wakefield said he had always found Dr. Grant a friendly, genial comrade and Christian gentleman. He was one of the best citizens. Speaking for himself he feared he was not saying an heroic, like the others present, but good-bye. He would like to see the Doctor on the golf links at Fort William or curling on the rink. Should their paths meet again it would be a sincere pleasure. Dr. Grant was a real man. He was not perfect. Only one man was ever perfect on this earth and his own nation crucified him two thousand years ago.

Other Churches

Archdeacon Rix made a very humorous speech in which he told a number of interesting anecdotes of his recent trip through the diocese. Then changing to a serious vein he said it was a sign of genius when a man's work lived after him. It would be no compliment to Dr. Grant if there was any diminution in the work of the church. If they wished to show their appreciation they should not only continue the work but increase. It was up to the people to prove what seed had been sown in their hearts. Dr. Grant would carry with him the best wishes of the people of St. Andrew's Church.

Bishop Buzo of the Catholic Church sent his regrets wishing Dr. Grant God speed. He was ably represented by M. P. McGaffery who said: "If Dr. Grant had been brought up in the same environment as myself he would have been a better Catholic than I am. Dr. Grant is broad-minded and knows something about human nature." He expressed regret at the Doctor leaving and added his good wishes to those of others there.

An Old Friend

Fred Stork spoke of friendships formed in the pioneer days. He had first met Dr. Grant at Pincher Creek and later at Fernie. Then he had lived with him eleven years in Prince Rupert. To separate now seemed like tragedy. The church was built largely as a tribute to him and the funds were subscribed by members of almost every religious denomination in the city. Dr. Grant would live long in the hearts of those who knew him.

The presentation was made by George Rorie, who read the inscription and said he could not add anything to it.

Dr. Grant Replies

In thanking them Dr. Grant said he had already expressed himself to the congregation at length the previous evening. He spoke of the many kindnesses he had received. The relation of a minister to his people were very close, he was with them in trouble and distress as no other could be. However he had received his marching orders. It was a wrench to leave. He was glad Archdeacon Rix had referred to the one thing that counted most, that his work should live after him in the lives of those he left behind. He hoped though absent to walk hand in hand with them, as in the past.

Vocal solos were given by Miss Nada Johnstone, Mrs. Jarvis McLeod, Mrs. William Millar, Mrs. J. B. McMillan; a quartette by Messrs. Campbell, Davie, Wakefield and Jackson and an instrumental duet by Jimmie and Wismer Bryant.

Refreshments were served by the ladies and farewells were said before the gathering broke up.

GRADING OF FIFTH AVE. WEST FULTON

Theo Collart Writes Letter to Council Regarding Work to be Done on Thoroughfare

A letter from Theo Collart, suggesting that the semi-permanent grading of Fifth Avenue west of Fulton Street should be carried out in such a manner as to permit trees and gardens not being interfered with was read at last night's meeting of the city council and referred to the board of works. Mr. Collart advised that the grading should not be done on the extreme south side of the avenue and pointed out the desirability of making the street as beautiful as possible in view of the fact that a good deal of traffic towards the sports ground and the exhibition hall passed over it.

FRENCH WOMEN ARE GREAT TALKERS SAYS VISITOR TO PARIS

EDMONTON, Nov. 3. — Dr. Charles Saunders, addressing the French Club of the University of Alberta spoke on "A Student in Paris." One of the first things that a stranger notices about the French people, he said, is their love of speech. "The women are the worst offenders, but women in all countries have always lots to say! The French women speak more clearly and distinctly than we, for laziness in speech is one of the Anglo Saxon's weaknesses.

RESIGNS FROM FINANCE COM.

Alderman Accuses Mayor Newton of Disregarding Him as Chairman

After complaining with some heat as to procedure which disregarded him as chairman of the finance committee and accusing the mayor and city treasurer with overriding him on matters of the city's financial policy, Ald. George B. Casey at last night's meeting of the city council submitted his resignation as chairman of the finance committee. Ald. Casey insisted on taking this action in spite of the fact that Mayor Newton explained at some length that there had been no intention of going over Ald. Casey's head.

The wrangle came up in connection with a recommendation from the city treasurer that the city pay 5 1/2 percent interest on local improvement debentures in stead of six percent. Ald. Casey complained that the matter had been brought direct to the council before he, as chairman of the finance committee, had been consulted. Mayor Newton was inclined to favor the 5 1/2 percent and Ald. McMordie urged that the matter should at least be thoroughly gone into before making such a change. The city solicitor reported that 5 1/2 percent had been approved both by the city treasurer and the inspector of municipalities.

It was finally decided to leave the matter to be dealt with at a special meeting of the finance committee tonight which will report to a special meeting of the city council tomorrow night.

Mayor is Through

In the course of the discussion, Mayor Newton said that he had endeavored at all times to work in harmony with the various committees but the pressure of business was at times so heavy that it seemed impossible to avoid occasional misunderstanding. His Worship stated that he was finding the work of carrying on both public and private business very arduous and, as far as the former was concerned, he would be through at the end of this year.

BULKLEY VALLEY MARKET TO OPEN IN PRINCE RUPERT

W. H. Doodson Will be in Charge of Meat Department Here

In an effort to give the farmers of the Bulkley Valley practical support in the marketing of their produce, Messrs. Sealy and Doodson, merchants of Smithers, will open up a wholesale and retail meat, poultry, vegetable and fish market on Sixth Street in the Empress block on Friday morning. Carpenters are now busy fixing up the interior of the store in the most modern and sanitary manner.

The enthusiastic support of the Bulkley Valley farmers is behind this new enterprise and a sufficient quantity of live meat is in sight to furnish a continuous supply for the local store. It is the intention to make the Sealy and Doodson meat and fish market one of the permanent businesses of the city.

A carload of fresh Bulkley Valley beef, mutton, chickens, turkeys, pork, etc., arrived in the city from the interior yesterday, all killed at the Sealy and Doodson abattoir in Smithers.

W. H. Doodson will be in active charge of the meat market and will be assisted by R. Arthur Sr., who will have charge of the fish marketing end.

There were sixteen tables of whist and prize winners were: Ladies' first, Mrs. A. Quinton; ladies' second, Mrs. J. A. Bartlett; men's first, P. Pierce; men's second, C. R. Biggart.

Refreshments were served and dancing followed, music being furnished by Kenny Rood's Serenaders. Fred Wesch was master of ceremonies, George Lambert was on the door and H. M. Blake was also a member of the committee. The ladies' committee in charge of refreshments consisted of Mrs. George Johnstone, Mrs. D. McCulloch, Mrs. W. Gilchrist, and Mrs. A. Ivarson.

FISH SPECIAL WAS SENT EAST MONDAY

Fourteen Car Express Train Despatched at 11.15 Yesterday Morning

The heavy arrivals of halibut at this port during the past few days made it necessary for the Canadian National Railway to despatch a fourteen-car fish special East yesterday. It left at 11.15 in the morning just before the regular passenger train. Since the daily train service was inaugurated, there have not been many fish specials sent east. The shipments lately, however, have been heavier than the regular trains could handle. With the close season impending, there is a good demand in the East for fresh halibut and at the same time cold storage stocks are required. The consequence is that the fishermen are receiving consistently good prices in spite of the large volume of arrivals.

SPORT CHAT

As a result of the World Series debacle, it is understood that the Washington Senators will make a number of changes on the line-up before the 1926 season opens. There is to be considerable strengthening up in the infield. The Pittsburgh Pirates, although they are the world champions, are not letting the gross grow under their feet. It was announced last week that Paul Waner, sensational outfielder of the San Francisco Coast League team, had been obtained for the Pirates.

"I will not fight again anywhere," said Floyd Johnson, heavyweight boxer, who was defeated in one round at Newark last week by Harry Wills, the negro. "I have learned that even if a fighter has the will to win he cannot unless the physical self responds to the will." Johnson says it will not be necessary for the Newark Boxing Commission to bar him for he is already planning to return to his home in Auburn, Washington, for good.

All games in the second division billiard tournament tonight between the Grotto and Great War Veterans will be played in the G.W.V.A. rooms, the teams meeting as follows:

Beri Morgan (Grotto) vs. W. J. Nelson (Great War Veterans) 8:30.
J. Hillman vs. Dr. J. A. West 9:30.
Joe Beesley vs. Joe Howe 8:30.
G. Howe vs. G. L. Youngman, 7:30.
J. Bond vs. G. Fleming, 9:30.

Fancy Dresses and Decorated Hall Made Bewildering Scene in Fruit Centre

TERRACE, Nov. 3.—Lakelse I.O.O.F. No. 33 celebrated the third anniversary of the inauguration of their lodge here at a fancy dress ball held in G.W.V.A. hall on Friday evening. Despite the steady downpour of rain a fairly good crowd turned out and the hall which was tastefully decorated with the lodge colors presented a bewildering aspect with the many and varied costumes displayed. The prize costumes for the evening were: Ladies' fancy dress—Mrs. Cassells as an Egyptian Lady. Gent's comic—Floyd Frank as Italian Organ Grinder.

Ladies' original—Mary Desjardins as returned wounded officer. Gent's original—Joe Cook, dressed as a lady.

The judges for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Gordon, Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parker.

J. McLaren was master of ceremonies for the evening. The music was furnished by Mrs. Allwood's four piece orchestra while the ladies of Mountain View Rebekah Lodge were responsible for the delicious refreshments served at midnight.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY TERRACE SATURDAY

Girls Were Guests of Mrs. Glass; Two Boys Lodged in Safe Keeping For Night

TERRACE, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Glass entertained about fifteen young girls at a Halloween party at her home on Saturday evening. The early part of the evening was spent in seasonal games after which the girls went out to "do the town" Halloween style. They then went to the home of Mrs. W. C. Sparkes and listened in on the radio for a time, returning again to Mrs. Glass' home where dainty refreshments were served, which the girls certainly enjoyed after their evening's sport.

Halloween passed fairly quietly here, although the youngsters were out in force to do their usual pranks. Most of the stores were heavily bombarded, with demands for apples, nuts, candy bars, etc., while gates, wheelbarrows, etc., found new and unusual resting places. Two local youths who carried their pranks beyond the bounds of fun and harmlessness were given free lodgings in the town jail. They were released next day and no doubt next year they will have just as much fun in a less destructive way.

HALLOWE'EN PRANKS AT SMITHERS CAUSE DAMAGE TO FEW CARS

SMITHERS, Nov. 3.—Halloween, eagerly looked forward to by the younger generation, was fittingly celebrated by the youngsters of Smithers. Soon after supper time they gathered in groups, some small, some large and marched from house to house, persistent in their demands for Halloween apples, and by curfew time the majority of them had their pockets filled with apples, nuts and candies.

The pranks of the youngsters were mostly confined to writing on the windows with soap, but when the older boys started out later in the evening nearly everything moveable on Main Street found a new billet. Next morning saw cars and wagons piled on the sidewalks in a dozen places and blocking the doors of stores or offices. A new law office also appeared at one of the street corners during the night and in the morning it was noticed that it also carried a "For Sale" sign.

A couple of cars had been damaged by the handling they received and the owners are trying to locate the guilty parties in order to present a bill for repairs.

KEEP OUT of the Puddles

COURTLY Sir Walter Raleigh---cynic savant and first-class fighting man---desired a favor from good Queen Bess. A puddle in the queen's path made his opportunity. Across it he flung his costly cloak. Her majesty, smiling at his devotion, trod on, dry shod, and Sir Walter's unique self-advertising produced results.

Though most advertising is less spectacular to-day, it is far more serviceable. It smooths out the every-day pathways of each one of us.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once would have been worth a king's ransom are yours at little cost. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, manufacturer against manufacturer. This competition brings out the best there is in everything for your personal benefit.

You wouldn't know about many boons of modern life were it not for advertising. That is why you are not taking full advantage of the better things in life to-day if you overlook ADVERTISEMENTS.

Read advertising and keep abreast of the times in Smithers between trains, having come down to take charge of an Indian boy who had run away from the Indian Industrial School at Fraser Lake.

Mr. Boswell, accountant in the Hanson Tie and Timber Co.'s local office left for Prince George on Saturday evening where he will spend a few days on business for his firm.

Freddy Cook did the honors on Friday afternoon when he invited a number of his little chums in to help him celebrate his fourth birthday.

The annual Halloween dance under the auspices of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary was held in the Town Hall on election night and the large crowd in attendance enjoyed one of the best dances of the season. The affair was most successful financially as well as socially and the ladies intend using the proceeds in purchasing linen for the hospital.

Election day in Smithers passed off without any undue excitement perhaps due to the inclement weather, it being either snowing or raining the greater part of the day. There was very little betting on the results, most people looking for a Stork majority in fact a couple of small bets were made that he would have a majority of 100. It turned out the majority was 103. Election results were received at the Halloween dance in the town hall and also at the G.W.V.A. club-rooms.

PUT TEACHERS IN UNIFORMS

That is Proposal Made in Chicago and Those Concerned are Agreeable

(Winnipeg Free Press)
The dress of the teachers in the Chicago schools has become a problem that has led the superintendent of schools to recommend that the teachers be put in uniform, and, what may surprise many, the majority of the teachers are reported to be agreeable.

Parents in Chicago may have become distressed over bobbed-haired daughters and banded-haired sons rushing home to dilate upon what their teachers wear. Young girls may have been implying how much more presentable would be their mothers if only they would keep up with the prevailing board-of-education styles. Or else, the youth of so impressionable a city as Chicago, may be making unbridled demands for cravats and spats and fobs and rings and fancy stripe suits they may enviously have studied instead of listening to their male teachers' instructions.

Should it be Drab?
The hope, presumably, is that all this expensive expectation and usurped attention to studies would be obviated if only all teachers appeared in a garb that would be uniform. But in what uniform? To meet its self-denying purpose, it would need almost to be dull, drab, unspiculative, which could hardly endear it to wearers whose looks it would spoil even though their teaching efficiency be increased. And on the other hand, should it be captivatingly becoming, as it might

ALLOWING PRISONERS TO BUILD ROADS IS BEST FOR COUNTRY

Colorado Penitentiary Warden Has Unique Methods of Handling Those Entrusted to His Care

CANON CITY, Colo., Nov. 3.—Thomas J. Tynan, who has just completed his sixteenth year as warden of the Colorado state penitentiary, has reached the conclusion that 60 per cent of the inmates of penal institutions do not need to be locked up. "Get 'em out in the open," he explains. "Make them build roads, dig in the dirt, farm. Prison conditions aren't normal—and 60 per cent of the prisoners are."

Here are some of the activities of this warden, whose methods have been adopted by many of the largest prisons in the United States:

Adoption of the group honor system that enabled him to build 1,000 miles of roads through Colorado by means of convict labor. At these camps the men are put entirely on their honor; no armed guards are permitted. Only two civilian overseers are present.

Use of the motion picture machine as a recreational and educational feature inside the prison.

The Wasserman blood test, and systematized treatment for venereal disease.

Encouragement of correspondence school courses for prisoners. This, together with his graded school system, has resulted in a daily school attendance of 300.

Tynan came to the institution without previous experience in prison work. He had been a salesman and a newspaperman.

Because of Colorado's climatic situation, its penal institutions draw a large percentage of tubercular inmates. Tynan has had one man die of that disease within the walls, while hundreds of "cures" have been effected. Tynan himself came to Colorado in the late 90s for his health.

TRIUMPH FOR LEAGUE

Newspaper Comment on Recent Victory in Preventing War in Balkans

(Victoria Times)
It is officially announced that all the Greek troops have now been withdrawn from Bulgarian territory and that the complete evacuation was actually carried out seven hours before the time limit stipulated by the Council of the League of Nations.

This is indeed a triumph for the League. It is considerably less than two weeks since the incident which caused the Greek invasion took place. The council met in Paris on Monday and ordered the immediate cessation of all belligerent acts and the evacuation of occupied territory by today. All this has gone according to schedule.

It is quite probable now that that will be a demilitarized zone to separate Greek from Bulgarian territory. This would round off the League's victory to excellent purpose. It would be a practical step towards permanent peace in the Balkans.

Of supreme importance for the time being, however, is the fact that two of the most peppy nations in Europe have bowed to the authority of the League. Well might be said that the Locarno gathering ushered in a new and more hopeful era for a war-torn Europe.

FIRST PUT PICTURES CIGARETTE PACKETS

J. B. Duke Was Man Noted for Originating Custom; Followed in England

(Manchester Guardian)
J. B. Duke, whose death is reported, introduced a very durable if unnecessary article when he first put pictures into his cigarette packets. Packets in those days were of stiff cardboard, and the cigarette picture did not perform the function which it did later in England when the packets were of limp paper, to which the card gave the required stiffening.

The cigarette picture by this time has covered nearly every subject of popular interest. Mr. Duke began, I think, with stage beauties and since then the English cigarette makers have pictured famous sportsmen, horses, politicians, soldiers, actors, ships, locomotives, motor cars, uniforms, flowers, trees, flags, birds, characters in fiction, historical figures, castles, butterflies, colleges, golf courses, old furniture, china, and badges of every kind.

The men whose job it is to devise attractive new subjects for cigarette pictures must be feeling the strain. They have at any rate compelled many family men to smoke cigarettes that they did not particularly admire because of sons whose collections had to be fostered through particular brands.

Curiously enough, the cigarette picture has almost dropped out in America, while it is more prevalent in England than ever, although English smokers would much prefer no pictures but cheaper cigarettes.
