WITCHCRAFT CASE BEFORE COURT TODAY

INDIAN WOMAN ADMITS SHE CAUSED DEATH OF LAD: THREE ACQUITTED

Liard River Indian Witchcraft Case Is Heard Today in Assize Court by Judge and Local Jury

Four men and woman charged with murdering tribesman in far north by leaving him bound and exposed

THREE ARE ACQUITTED BY COURT

Woman named Edie admits tying lad up and later trying to revive him

Certainly no stranger and perhaps never a more sensational case has ever been presented in a Canadian court than that which opened at the Supreme Court Assizes here this morning at 10 o'clock when Big Alex, Dan Loo, Jim Loo, Glen Loo and a woman, Edie, were arraigned on charges of murder in connection with the death at Thirty Mile Bar, Liard River, in March 1923, of Atol, otherwise known as Moccasin. The Grand Jury yesterday afternoon brought in a true bill against all the accused who, like the man alleged to have been murdered, are members of a nomadic tribe of Cassiar Indians.

OBJECTIONS TO POOLEY LEADER

Proposal to Bring Back Bowser to Victoria or Possibly H. H. Stevens

(Special to Daily News) VICTORIA, Aug. 20.—The question of provincial leadership of the Conservative party is one that is once more being discussed. R. H. Pooley has not been a success and cannot ever enthuse the rank and file. W. J. Bowser never led his party to victory but he was a strong leader and many of his admirers would like to see him back at the head of the party.

In view of the possibility that H. H. Stevens may be defeated in the federal contest, if opposed by G. G. McGeer, there is a possibility of Mr. Stevens later being secured for the leadership. The one thing sure is that Conservatives will not be satisfied to continue long under Pooley leadership.

GOLD PAN IS PAYING CREEK

Whiting River Reports Exaggerated But Prospectors in Other Parts of Cassiar Got Results

SEATTLE, Aug. 20.—A special despatch to the Post-Intelligencer from Telegraph Creek says reports of gold strikes in the vicinity of Sheslay at the head of the Whiting River district have been greatly exaggerated. The prospectors who went in there have found nothing worth mentioning. Elsewhere, however, prospectors are meeting with better results.

The despatch says that great excitement reigns throughout Cassiar mining district as the result of recent developments on Gold Pan Creek. It is now admitted that Gold Pan will prove a pay creek and that it may rival Dease Creek as a producer of gold.

VICTORIA HAS NEW MYSTERY

Hydroplane Missing Draws Attention to Probable Smuggling Operations

VICTORIA, Aug. 20.—The mysterious disappearance of a hydroplane reported to have capsized at dusk Tuesday near Discovery Island resulted in the suggestion that the island was being used as a base for smuggling liquor and narcotics into the United States, according to information in the hands of the provincial police.

Residents in the vicinity have noticed two large airplanes making regular trips to and from the islands for more than two months past.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police are investigating the case.

Discovery Island is close to Victoria, just across a narrow strait from Oak Bay and about three miles from that place. Many of the houses in Oak Bay overlook the islands and people from their windows can see planes or ships approach or leave any of the islands of the group. Chatham Island, the second largest of the group, is an Indian Reserve while at the north end of Discovery is a lighthouse with a resident lightkeeper.

Natal Road Foreman Shot Dead by Rancher of District who also Wounded 2 or 3 Men Tuesday

FERNIE, Aug. 20.—George Whiting, the government road foreman, who was shot and slightly wounded in the shoulder in Tuesday's shooting affray at Elk Prairie when Jesse Mansfield, a rancher, shot up the road gang, was shot and killed by Mansfield yesterday afternoon from an ambush.

Whiting was travelling by car with his son from Natal to his home and was just half a mile from home when, passing through a wild bush district, Mansfield emerged from hiding and shot him dead.

Mansfield's hiding place was passed several times during Tuesday night and Wednesday by police, but he made no attempt to molest them, apparently awaiting the opportunity to attack members of the road gang against which he had a grudge.

Mansfield's hiding place was surrounded and last night he was taken into custody by Constable Smith of the Provincial Police, who, although covered by Mansfield's rifle, talked him into surrendering. He was taken to Fernie under escort and is now in jail awaiting a preliminary hearing.

FERNIE, Aug. 20. — Jessie Mansfield, alleged slayer of Geo. Whiting, was formally remanded for eight days when he appeared in court this morning charged with having shot Frank Norstrom with intent to kill and murdering Whiting.

Three-Year-Old Son, of Liard River Indian Mother Charged with Murder, Loves Policemen

The three year old son of Edie, principal in the Liard River murder case now being tried at the Assize Court here, has become quite a pet with provincial police officers during his stay of the last year in Okalla Prison with his mother. "Billy," as he is nick-named, has, in fact, formed such a strong affection for Sergeant "Bob" Owen that he cries when the custodian of the natives leaves him and he seems to even prefer the company of the officer to that his mother.

NO UNIVERSITY CLASS IN CITY

School Board at Meeting Yesterday Decides Against Re-opening Grade at High School

There is to be no university class at the High School. The school board at a meeting held yesterday decided not to reopen the senior matriculation class in this city, giving the same reasons that were given personally, the smallness of the class and the need of money.

At a recent meeting of the board, a delegation was present asking that the class be continued and stating that the conditions had changed since the board came to its previous decision. Now there were eight pupils who would attend. The board decided to give the matter consideration.

Chairman Orme announced this morning that the board felt the need of economy in school matters and decided that there was no material change in the local situation sufficient to warrant a change in policy. It had been announced last Christmas that the class would be discontinued and final action on it was taken at a meeting a couple of months ago.

STRUCK NEGRO WITH JACK KNIFE

Faustino Pena Found Guilty of Unlawfully Wounding With Intent to do Bodily Harm
HAD BEEN DRINKING.
Evidence Indicates There was a Brawl in Which Accused Was Aggressor

Guilty of unlawfully wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm was the verdict brought in yesterday afternoon by the jury at the Supreme Court sittings in the case of Rex vs. Faustino Pena, Peruvian, who stood indicted for the attempted murder of C. Agarde, colored, at the Premier wharf in Stewart on June 8 last. The accused was a fireman on the American steamer Curacao which, at the time, was lying at a dock in Hyder, Alaska, and the man who he attacked with a jack knife following a drinking bout at Stewart was a negro mess boy. The case was heard with despatch, evidence was of a simple nature, the whole hearing last about two hours and it took the jury a matter of less than ten minutes to reach its verdict. Sentence was reserved by Mr. Justice D. A. Macdonald until the end of the sittings. L. W. Patmore prosecuted and E. F. Jones appeared on behalf of the accused. The jury consisted of A. T. Parkin (foreman), G. A. Kelsey, D. Scherk, Joe Brown, H. F. Glassey, J. Taylor, Fred Gilhuly, E. W. Wesch, Steve King, M. McArthur, J. W. Exley, J. Harris and G. W. Rudderham. Sam Wood and J. Taylor were challenged by the crown, Mrs. E. Morris, W. H. Sherman and E. Davidson by the defence and W. H. Montgomery was stood aside by the crown.

Case for Crown
 In briefly outlining the case for the crown, Mr. Patmore said that evidence would be submitted to show that the crew of the Curacao had been drinking on the Premier dock after getting hold of quite a quantity of liquor. Agarde was talking to a white man when accused approached and struck him. Agarde took it all in good part and accused could not get a fight out of him. Accused then left and came back brandishing a knife with which he stabbed Agarde in the neck in the proximity of the jugular vein. Agarde then followed accused and gave him a punning. The fight continued until the police arrived on the scene when accused was placed under arrest and taken to jail. Agarde being removed for medical treatment. After having been in hospital, Agarde had rejoined his ship which, since that time, had diligently kept away from Canadian waters, making it impossible to subpoena him to appear as a witness.

The First Witness
 Gordon D. Mills, carpenter at the Premier mine, was the first witness. Having been addressed by Agarde earlier in the evening, he was standing talking to him about 11 o'clock when accused, who seemed to be in a surly mood but was not drunk, approached Agarde and asked him to rejoin the party which was drinking and making merry further down on the dock. Agarde said he would be along in a few minutes but this did not seem to satisfy accused who attempted to shoulder him towards the crowd and then struck him in the stomach. They elbowed and accused struck Agarde in the jaw. Accused then went away and returned with a jack knife saying: "Now you will come?" Agarde told him to put the knife down, accused then with one blow stabbed Agarde in the neck. Agarde put up his hand, felt blood and saying "Ain't that hell? He's cut me," followed accused. Ascertaining that a knife had been taken away from Pena and thrown over the wharf, Agarde then knocked accused inside the Premier office and started to pound him. Both Agarde and accused, witness said, had been strangers to him before this night.

 Under cross examination by Mr. Jones, witness said that, while accused had been with the drinking party, he did not hear the appearance of himself being drunk. He looked to be in a surly mood and had been swearing. He did not know that Agarde was a prize fighter but it appeared that he was able to take care of himself.

Constable Islip
 Constable W. F. Islip told of making Pena's arrest. After the fight, he (accused) was found crouching on all fours in the corner of the wharf shed. Accused was apparently sober although he might have had some drink in him. His attitude was offhand and he obeyed orders. The constable said that he was leaving on the steamer Carletona at the time for the south with prisoners and had instructed that accused be taken to the lock-up. Witness told how Dr. Standard of Hyder, who had attended Agarde, had been served with a subpoena to appear as a witness and later had been tendered fare to come to Prince Rupert to appear but had refused to accept either.
 Under cross-examination, Constable Islip expressed the opinion that the blood on accused's clothes could not have been from his own person. He was not present when the knife was taken away from accused. He considered that accused was sober.

Doctor's Evidence
 The evidence of Dr. Dan Standard of Hyder at the preliminary trial was then put in by the crown in the absence of the doctor personally. This evidence was to the effect that Agarde, on being brought to the doctor, had two wounds—one on the hip which was not serious and another on the neck which was very close to the jugular vein and was dangerous, a vein having been severed.
 Edward J. Adduddell, gas engineer at the Bush Mine, told of the knife being taken away from accused and thrown over the wharf. He did not see the actual stabbing but saw Agarde with blood running down the front of his shirt. He saw the tussle that followed. He heard Agarde say to accused: "You cut me." Under cross-examination witness said he could not say whether or not accused had been drinking.

 A. L. Sharpe, clerk at the Premier dock; Walter G. Broad, customs officer, and Edward Bronson, watchman, witnesses at the preliminary trial, were called for cross-examination but Mr. Jones had no questions to ask them.
Was Very Drunk
 John Scott, Stewart butcher, who was called upon by Constable Islip to assist in arresting Pena, said that accused was very drunk at the time. He had reason to know this for he had taken accused a distance of two miles to the lock-up. He had talked to the lock-up man and had rolled about the car. This was almost immediately after the stabbing and there could have been no chance of his getting drunk in the meantime.
 Donald O'Neil Hayes, a miner, remembered the fracas and said that accused was drunk.

Alfred E. Hayler, seaman, gave evidence corroborative of that given by Gordon Mills, the first witness, and this completed the case for the crown.
Accused on Stand
 Accused, a stocky little dark, bespectacled man, speaking very broken English, then took the witness stand on his own behalf. He said he had gone to the show in Hyder on the night in question and later had had seven drinks, rum, beer and gin—paying 50c each for them. He got drunk and did not remember anything more that happened that night. He had been on friendly terms with Agarde and there was no trouble between them. They had been together on the Curacao for some time. He remembered he had a knife on the ship.
 Under cross examination, Pena said he had been drinking with Agarde up to 9.30 after which he remembered nothing till the next morning when he found his lips swollen up and other marks of a beating he had apparently received. He had been in jail since the night in question.
Argument of Counsel
 In addressing the jury, Mr. Jones said that, from the evidence, the jury must be convinced that the charge of attempted murder could not stand. It was apparent that accused had been drunk and, of a surly disposition, had been irritated by Agarde refusing to comply with his wish. His conduct had not been that of a man attempting to do murder. His action had been more the result of a drunken impulse after having imbibed mixed drinks. His mind had become a blank after he had been loaded up with liquor. The most that could be imputed was that he had committed the stabbing under the influence of drink. His attitude had at first been friendly changing, as a drunken man's would, after being crossed. At the utmost the jury could find accused guilty only under the second count—that of wounding and causing bodily harm. Did the jury not think he had already been punished sufficiently through having been in jail since June??

 Mr. Patmore said it was not a trivial thing for a man to take a knife and stab another within a quarter of an inch of the jugular vein. The accused might just as easily have been facing a charge of murder and of wounding. A man was supposed to be responsible for his actions and if he stabbed another man in

Strong Soaps
No soap that is safe for toilet use will "remove" germs any better than Palmolive
If guarding a good complexion is your aim, use a soap made to protect it

THIS is to protect beauty seekers from some false impressions. Good complexions are too precious for experiments. There's an idea, we are told, that some soaps combat germs; and others not. That for aseptic reasons certain soaps must be used. Soaps to "destroy" germs should be used only on advice of a physician. All soaps "remove" germs to a certain degree. No soap suitable for toilet use will "remove" germs any better than Palmolive. In your own interest, carry that in mind. For beauty's sake, take care. Would you gamble with the good complexion it has taken you probably years to attain? In old days, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." For soaps were too harsh. Then Palmolive came . . . a soap made of cosmetic oils . . . a soap made to protect the skin. Women tried it, and found amazingly improved complexions and charm. Palmolive became quickly the leading toilet soap of the world. In France, home of cosmetics, Palmolive is one of the two largest selling soaps. French women have found it their ideal of a soap. That is because Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study. It is made solely for the skin. Palmolive is not intended for laundry use or even for fine fabrics. For to be good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And millions of good complexions be thus endangered. As a "germ remover" no other soap suitable for toilet use is more effective. But Palmolive results don't come from those other soaps. They don't come from strong soaps. They don't come from medicated soaps. Don't expect them. And don't take chances. To protect your beauty, use a soap made to protect it. Palmolive, we frankly grant, is not the only fine complexion soap. We know of two others. But they cost you 25 cents, while Palmolive costs but 10 cents—no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost. Wash, launder, cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care. Use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. It is nature's formula to "Keep That School-girl Complexion."

No "Two-Purpose" Soap
Will Bring Palmolive Complexion Results
 Palmolive Soap is made for ONE purpose ONLY—to guard your complexion and charm. It is not intended for laundry use, nor even for fine fabrics. To make it good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And good complexions are too precious to be thus imperiled.
 Don't expect Palmolive results from common soaps. Don't expect them from "jack-of-all-trades" soaps—soaps claiming to be good for scores of different uses. Palmolive is a secret blend of rare cosmetic oils, a scientifically made soap to be used freely and safely on the skin—millions of clear, pretty skins prove Palmolive results.
Note carefully the name and wrapper. Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.
