HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN GETS AFTER SCALP OF PREMIER MACKENZIE KING

Meighen Flays Premier in Opening Speech of Campaign in Ontario

WINGHAM, Ont., Sept. 9.—In a speech replying to charges made by Premier Mackenzie King, Saturday, and making a declaration of the policy of the Conservative party on major issues, Hon. Arthur Meighen today opened his election campaign. He repeated a declaration made before that the present Government "is feeble and futile" lacking a policy on the main problems of the day and quite unable to carry on the business of the country in a successful manner.

The Conservative leader satirized the part of the Premier's speech in which King blamed Meighen for being the "principal cause of the country's calamities."

ART EXHIBIT PATRONIZED BY EVERYONE

Splendid Collection of Pictures Loaned by National Art Gallery Seen at Fair

One of the attractive features of the fair this year was the art exhibit which has been loaned to the local association by the National Art Gallery. It includes nearly twenty pictures by famous Canadian artists and the subjects are very varied. The pictures are being sent on from here to be shown in Vancouver and Victoria, where they will be featured.

That Prince Rupert people appreciate art was shown in the number of visitors to the art exhibit. Nearly everyone attending the fair visited the separate building where the pictures are hung. Most of them can be seen to advantage, a great deal of care having been taken with the lighting arrangements.

Considerable discussion took place among visitors as to the relative merits of the various pictures, and seldom did two people agree as to what picture they liked best. Most of the pictures are done in oils, but a notable example is that of the yellow moose in flowers, or ladies' slippers, which are in water-color.

Father Godfrey arrived in the city from Ocean Falls on the Prince George this morning.

Splendid Exhibits at Annual Fair Opened Last Night by Mayor

That the fruit, vegetable and flower exhibits this year are better than they have ever been before at any previous exhibition is the general verdict of those who attended the big fair at the opening last night. The exhibits were well displayed and particularly well arranged and attractive were the big exhibits put in by the Terrace, Francois Lake and Prince George districts. These covered a very wide range and showed what fertile soil and equable climate combined with industry will do.

This year there was an absence of the big freak vegetables and potatoes, these being replaced by quality exhibits, many of which showed great excellence. Some of the potatoes shown there could scarcely be beaten anywhere.

Opened by Mayor

The fair was opened by Mayor Newton, who officiated in the absence of Fred Stork, who was unavoidably detained owing to train dislocation. Ben Self, president of the association, introduced the speaker, who referred to the excellent work that had been done by the association and the co-operation that had been shown by the districts. He spoke appreciatively of the recent efforts to secure a greater degree of co-operation in all efforts in which both town and country were interested.

On the platform with Mr. Newton were the officers of the fair and directors.

Throughout the evening excellent music was provided by two native bands—one from Mellakatta, Alaska, and the other from Aiyash on the Naas River. Both played well and their efforts to please were appreciated.

The flower exhibit this year is better than usual, but unfortunately the judging was delayed and many complaints from exhibitors were heard that their flowers would not appear at their best after being so long exposed to the rather rough usage of the big crowd that gathered to watch the shooting and roping stunts of Capt. Ash. They were well staged and excited many compliments from visitors.

Many Exhibitors

Turning to the left upon entering the hall is the exceptionally fine mineral display of northern British Columbia, in which high-grade ores play a prominent part.

The Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. is represented by a miniature cannery built of "Rupert Brand" salmon tins surrounded by real water in which trout of every description gaily disport themselves. The trout were caught at Shawatlans by Bill House, the veteran trout fisherman.

The postal educational exhibit is a very interesting one and gives all sorts of advice in pamphlet form on the correct way to use His Majesty's mails.

Walker's music store is featuring sewing machines, gramophones and player pianos, which are tastefully set out.

Mussallem's Ltd. are represented with a fine stall at which soft drinks, ice cream, etc., are dispensed.

Gainer's Ltd., famous for bacon and hams, have a nice display just at the entrance to the Midway.

F. G. Dawson Ltd. have a very representative exhibit in which are displayed the many well-known lines handled by the local wholesale grocery concern.

Excellence Of Fair Is Commented On.

The excellence of the exhibits at the fair this year has been commented on a good deal. The interior farming country is well represented and there are a number of good samples of local grown flowers, vegetables and fruit. The fair made a good start yesterday and it is expected the interest will gradually increase if the weather allows.

Most Important Event Of Year.

The annual fall fair is the most important event of the year. It is held at a time when many people may attend who at any other time would be kept away. It is the close of the fishing season and the canners have nearly all put up their pack and the employees have a little money to spend.

The fair is the one attraction that brings people here from all surrounding districts. It has become a custom for residents in the Bulkley and Skeena Valleys, the Islands or the mining camps to spend a holiday here on the big occasion and as a result the city is livelier than at any other time of the year.

Rapid Changes In Viewpoints.

A few years ago, comparatively, any person saying anything against the government or the country was liable to lose his head or at any rate to be imprisoned indefinitely. Today much latitude is given and people openly advocate changes in systems of government which would upset the constitution of the country. In Britain this is evidenced more than in Canada. Sometimes the "Reds" become too bold and their activities are checked but it is no crime now in that country to openly advocate the establishment of a republic.

The laxity of authority and tendency to change results in much confusion and often ends in disaster and it will be many years before stability will be re-established.

Population Increase Shown In Schools.

The registration of pupils in the public schools is an indication that the population of the city is on the increase. There are already 1947 pupils enrolled or about seventy more than last year. It is probable that the number will be increased because some have not yet returned to school.

While the increase in population is not rapid it is steady and sure. The exact population of the city is not known and estimates are unsatisfactory. It seems a pity that instead of letting the assessor make an estimate, it cannot be arranged to have a real count. One man ought to be able to make a census in a week if there is nothing more to do than count heads. Two weeks at the most should do it. This would not cost much and it would give real information. Estimates are often misleading.

Two citizens recently giving information to a visitor in regard to the population of the city differed in their estimates by two thousand. It should be possible to get at the exact number quite easily and thus prevent misleading information going out to the world.

USE OF RADIO IN FAR NORTH

Chief Officer of Signal Corps Was Visitor in City at End of Week

Major W. A. Steel, M.C., chief wireless officer of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, who was in town at the end of the week, has just returned from a trip down the Mackenzie River with the Governor General's party. Major Steel went into Fort Smith, the seat of government of the Northwest Territories, early in July and installed on the S.S. Distributor complete equipment for the transmission and reception of messages by radiotelegraphy. The equipment used on the boat consisted of a Canadian Signal Corps standard 500-watt valve transmitter, with all the necessary power plant and accessories and a four-valve receiver, also manufactured in the Signal workshops in Ottawa. This was the first instance in which radio had ever been employed on river boats in Canada, and the installation involved considerable work, since special masts and aerial gear had to be installed on the boat.

The station on the S.S. Distributor was operated as one link in the Northwest Territories radio system, which system is operated by the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals for the Department of the Interior. The other stations of this radio chain are located at Edmonton, Dawson City and Mayo, Yukon Territory, and Fort Simpson, Fort Smith and Aklavik, Northwest Territories. The last two stations mentioned have just been put into operation this month. This radio system operates in conjunction with the Canadian National Telegraphs at Edmonton, and handled for several months this year all communications both into and out of the Northwest Territories and Yukon.

The Distributor station was in operation on July 18 and handled considerable business between Fort Smith and Edmonton for the government and also for the various trading and transportation companies operating out of Fort Smith. The station was just completed in time to transmit the story of the delays experienced at Vermilion Chutes when the S.S. Athabasca River of the Alberta and Arctic Transportation Company was unable to reach the vice-regal party and the boat had to return to Fitzgerald to pick up the gas-boat Canadusa. Mr. Romanel, district manager of the Hudson's Bay Company, who was on board the Athabasca River, gave the details of the trouble to Major Steel, explaining that the gas-boat, pushing a light barge, would work its way up over the sand bars that were closing the channel for the larger boat, and bring His Excellency and party down over the 120 miles of rapids to the deeper water below.

It was known that a broadcast receiver was being operated on board the S.S. Thomas, the Peace River steamer that was carrying the party as far as the Chutes, and a message was sent from the Distributor to the Thomas explaining the trouble and the steps that were being taken to look after the Governor General. Fortunately this message was picked up and the operator on the Thomas was able to convey the necessary information to His Excellency.

Handled Much Business
Major Steel reports that the traffic handled by the Distributor was much heavier than had been anticipated. In addition to the traffic for the Governor General and party, considerable business was handled for the various posts and trading companies along the river. At Aklavik several important messages were delivered to officials of the Hudson's Bay Company, and it was while tied up at that post that the news of the loss of the Bayesimo in Ungava Bay was received. As soon as it became known that communication with the outside was available, many took advantage of the opportunity to effect last-minute changes in their shipments of freight for the final trip of the boat down the river. This was of considerable value to the trading companies, as it is only possible for the boat to make three trips down the river in a season.

Use of Radio
The Canadian Press maintained a daily press service for His Excellency. The press reached the boat early in the morning through the C.N. Telegraphs and the Edmonton radio station. In this way the Governor General was supplied, in effect, with his morning newspaper throughout the entire trip to the Arctic and return. This service was very much appreciated by both the passengers on the boat and the inhabitants of the various points at which the boat touched.

During the trip there were many instances of the way in which radio has annihilated distances in the North. On one occasion while the boat was north of Fort Good Hope, 1,500 hundred miles north of Edmonton, a reply was received within fifteen hours to a cable sent to London, England. On another occasion a reply was received to a message sent from the boat to Montreal, in two hours and fifty-five minutes.

Radio Popular in North

Major Steel reports that broadcast reception is very popular in the North, especially during the fall and winter. This popularity has been largely created by the activities of Canadian newspapers in carrying out special programs and news services for the people of the North. The long daylight hours experienced in that part of the world during the summer season make reception during the summer almost impossible, at least with ordinary sets, but everyone is looking forward eagerly to the hours of entertainment made possible for them in the fall and winter by the development of the radiotelephone.

Major Steel reports that they did not find that the radio-telegraph signals were greatly affected by the continuous daylight. They did, however, find several spots on the river that appeared to be "blind" insofar as radio was concerned. The first of these occurred at the Ramparts. As the boat entered the narrow cut the signals from Simpson gradually faded out, only to re-appear again when the boat emerged from the canyon at Fort Good Hope. Again, between Thunder River and Arctic Red River, practically no signals were heard from any of the stations. Even Mayo, only 250 miles away, was inaudible. From this point on to Aklavik communication was normal. Exactly the same conditions were experienced at these places on the return trip.

Local Business

While the new station at Fort Smith was not sufficiently far advanced to be used during the trip, a receiving set was installed there and the officials of the transportation company were notified daily of the location of the boat and of the doings of the party on board. During the return trip, when it became evident that the party would be behind schedule in reaching Edmonton, the radio was employed by the Governor General to effect a new schedule of dates and appointments.

Major Steel arrived in the city from Edmonton by train Saturday afternoon and sailed Monday night on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver. While here he inspected the local detachment of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals which is working in conjunction with the aerial fisheries patrol.

SINKING FUNDS ARE SHORT IN CITIES OF PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

EDMONTON, Sept. 9.—A rather disappointing feature of the report of the Department of Municipal Affairs is the shortage which exists in the case of the sinking funds of virtually all the cities. In no case is there a surplus. Four cities have a material deficit in their sinking funds, while two have no sinking fund account, which is the equivalent to a deficit. The total deficit from sinking fund requirements is in excess of $6,800,000. Calgary with a specified sinking fund of $8,072,164, has a deficit of $3,161,288. Edmonton with a sinking fund specified of $8,273,813 shows a shortage of $2,560,626. Lethbridge and Medicine Hat respectively show shortages of $555,809 and $562,457, while Red Deer and Wetaskiwin have no sinking fund accounts.

WATER SUPPLY FOR ELEVENTH AVENUE

Following up a suggestion at last week's meeting as to the need of Eleventh Avenue for a better water service, the council last night adopted a recommendation from the utilities committee that the sum of $1,450 be taken from this year's Fourth Avenue water appropriation to construct a three-inch main from Ninth Avenue and McBride Street via Sherbrooke and Albert Avenues to and along Eleventh Avenue, and that Fourth Avenue be reimbursed in next year's estimates. Ald. Perry referred to the necessity of the new line being out in, particularly from the standpoint of fire protection.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Prince Rupert Beat Ketchikan at Baseball Yesterday when They Met at Acropolis Grounds

The locals played better baseball than the visitors so Prince Rupert won the first of the Fair Week baseball games from Ketchikan yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 2. Though the home players had the edge on the Ketchikanites all the way and excelled them in every department, it was an interesting match until the seventh inning, when the local batters touched "Blockie" Stewart, the visiting pitcher, for six hits and four runs. It was in this frame that a thick fog came up making it difficult for the outfield to handle flies. This was undoubtedly responsible for some of the runs made in that inning, but the advantage or handicap was even between the two teams and the locals got the best of it because the batters were able to find the ball and send a series of long clouds into the outfield and past.

Lidstone Pitched

Dannie Lidstone pitched for the home team throughout and kept the visitors guessing in such a way that he had fifteen strikeouts to his credit as against Stewart's eight. Vallance was the star batter for the locals and his hitting was responsible for several of the runs scored by Prince Rupert. With the bases full in the second inning he poled out a safe two-bagger which brought in two runs. Again in the seventh inning, Vallance started the local batting frenzy with a three-bagger that resulted in four runs being scored after several safe hits had been made, including two-baggers, by Lidstone and W. Mitchell. In the sixth inning, Sidney Bazett-Jones made a peg from right field to the home plate that will go down in local baseball history. It was one of the most accurate long-distance throws ever pulled off on the local diamond and, directed right into Balfour's mitt as he stood on the home plate, resulted in the base-runner being tagged out as he approached there. In the fifth inning, with no men down, the visitors ran into a double play when Jimmie Farquhar fielded an infield fly and, converting the ball to Moran at second, put a runner out there. The pitching of Lidstone being all that could be desired, and the catching of Balfour also being of first-rate order, the local battery throughout the game was given great support by the field and the only error chalked up against the locals was in the seventh inning, when Willie Mitchell might have been excused for dropping a high fly that, on account of the thick fog, was pretty hard to judge, especially in the difficult left-field position.

Visitors Stars

For the visitors Walls and Downs were perhaps the star players. The former played his position at second base in effective manner and also made two safe hits. Downs, besides making three good catches in left field got on the bases three of the four times he went to bat and, on bases, proved the most dangerous man of the visiting team. Ireland played an effective game as catcher for the visitors. There was little changing of the line-ups during the game, the only change being in the third inning, when Ackervik, the Ketchikan right fielder, after

BOXING BOUT TO BE HELD SIX O'CLOCK

Time Changed to Allow Ketchikan People to Witness the Main Event

The fact that the Canadian National boat to Ketchikan this evening, which will take back the party of Ketchikanites visiting the fair, and the principals in the main bout, is not being held over, and is scheduled to sail earlier than was originally expected, the boxing tournament to be held in the Empress Theatre, and originally scheduled for 9 o'clock, will commence at 6 o'clock sharp. As a number of fight fans came down from Ketchikan and Alaska to see the main bout, the management have therefore changed the time to avoid any disappointment.

The boat will leave immediately after the main bout.

There was a smoker at the Elks' Home and a midnight frolic at the Westholme Theatre last night, both under the joint auspices of the Elks and Moose lodges, which entertained a great many people and was kept up until a late hour. The smoker started as soon as the fair closed, and it lasted until the frolic commenced, so that there was a continuous round of entertainment. This was particularly in honor of the Ketchikan visitors.

CO-OPERATION WITH SMITHERS

Prince Rupert Visitors at Fair in Interior Meet Board of Trade There

SMITHERS, Sept. 9.—Taking advantage of the large number of Prince Rupert businessmen visiting in Smithers, President L. S. McGill of the local Board of Trade, arranged for a special meeting of the Board on Saturday night to which the visitors were invited and many matters of joint interest were brought up for discussion.

The question of reduced railway rates on shipments of Bulkley Valley farm products to Prince Rupert has been receiving considerable attention from both the Prince Rupert and the Smithers Boards of Trade and Geo. W. Nickerson, president of Prince Rupert Board, outlined to the meeting steps taken by his Board in their fight for cheaper rates. A slight reduction was granted by the Railway some time ago but there is still room for improvement and the matter was taken up with Sir Henry Thornton on his recent visit, as a result of which it is hoped that a further reduction will be made in the near future.

Assistance to Farmers

The local members explained to the visitors the reasons for their requests for more assistance to the farmers in the way of Illustration Stations and the meeting freely discussed this question, some being in favor of a central experimental farm and others of a number of stations, similar to the one on the Oulton farm, being placed in the different sections of the district. Geo. Oulton gave a history of the station of which he is in charge, and which now consists of 25 acres. The work at these stations is done under the supervision of A. E. Richards from the Summerland experimental station. Mr. Oulton considered this line of education of great benefit to the farmers throughout the district.

Fred Stork, federal member for the district, was present and he was asked for his co-operation in the extension of this work. The Prince Rupert members expressed themselves as willing to endorse and assist any project that might be advanced by the local body for the development and advancement of the great district for which Prince Rupert is the natural outlet, and the same co-operation was assured the visitors by Mr. McGill, on behalf of the Smithers Board.

MRS. F. R. ROSS OF TERRACE LEAVES LIVE IN FLORIDA

TERRACE, Sept. 9.—About 50 guests enjoyed the delightful hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gilbert on Friday evening when they were entertained at a farewell dance for Mrs. F. R. Ross, in Progress Hall. The hall presented a very homelike appearance with its dainty curtains, prettily arranged tables and profusion of flowers. The music was provided by Mrs. Atwood's orchestra while there were cards for those not wishing to dance. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening and as the guests were leaving all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne" and then "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." A splendid time was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. F. R. Ross and family left on Monday to join her husband in Miami, Florida. She went via Vancouver and will visit with her mother and sisters in Toronto and Ottawa enroute. Mrs. Ross has lived in Terrace for a number of years and will be very much missed by a very large circle of friends here.

BELL CONSECRATED IN TERRACE CHURCH

Bishop Bunoz Officiates and Two Singers Present from Prince Rupert

TERRACE, Sept. 9.—At a very impressive service held in the Sacred Heart Church, Terrace, on Sunday, September 6, Bishop Bunoz of Prince Rupert consecrated the new bell which is being erected in the tower of the church. The bell which came from France, is a very fine one, and is beautifully engraved and suitably inscribed. The local choir ably assisted by G. Couture and E. Sabourin of Prince Rupert with Mrs. Von Hees at the organ, rendered very appropriate music.

High mass was conducted by the Bishop, assisted by the Rev. Father Chartier at the Sunday morning service and this was followed by the confirmation service. Soloists at this service were G. Couture and E. Sabourin, Prince Rupert and Fred Dubord, Terrace.

TERRACE MAN SHOWS EXCELLENT PICTURES

Soft Finish Photographs at the Fair Excite Good Deal of Comment

Visitors to the photographic department of the Exhibition this year will be interested in a number of entries made by W. Ross Thomson, a Terrace rancher, and Mrs. Thomson. The former entered in ten classes and the latter in nine, and many of the entries won prizes.

The feature of the pictures is the soft finish in direct contrast to the sharp outlines usually seen here. These soft pictures are particularly suited to certain classes of pictures. Some of the effects seen in California scenes at the fair are particularly pleasing. It is noticeable that the judge gave the prize in almost every case to that class of picture. The work of this photographer is almost uniformly good and deserves high commendation. Mr. Thomson, who is a mem-

INEQUALITY IN CITY WATER BYLAW CLAIMED

Pioneer Laundry Says It Would Be Cheaper to Keep Taps Open Continuously Than Part of Time

A letter from the Pioneer Laundry suggesting that the present scale of water rates charged by the city did not protect the small consumers, was read at last night's council meeting and referred to the utilities committee. The letter stated that the laundry used 58,500 cubic feet of water during August and had paid $79.50, whereas, if 160,000 cubic feet, or three times as much, had been used the cost would have been less—$72. It would thus have been of benefit to the laundry to keep the water running continuously, though it would work a hardship on householders in the vicinity in the matter of pressure. If this course were followed, the city would have to replace the present two-inch main with a three-inch at considerable cost. Consideration of the matter was asked in the letter.

FINE EXHIBIT WOODWORKING

Big Bay Lumber Co. Has Display That Should Be Seen by Everyone

MODEL BUNGALOW

The exhibit of the Big Bay Lumber Company in the exhibition hall this year is a very fine one and is attracting a great deal of attention. In this display is shown to what an art the manufacture of lumber has been brought and one marvels at the beautifully finished surfaces of the various pieces on display. The exhibit occupies the same position in the exhibition hall as it did last year, just near the entrance to the dog and poultry show.

The Interior

The interior of the booth has been entirely remodelled and does not contain a single piece of wood or sample displayed last year for the reason that last year's display is now on exhibit in England, having been handled through the Canadian National Railway's publicity department throughout Canada and ultimately sent to England.

The entire booth, including the samples and models, has been manufactured by the Big Bay Lumber Co. at their Georgetown mills. Miniature lumber piles on the counter show how lumber is piled in the lumber yard and include a miniature sample of a one inch lumber pile showing how the pieces are laid for drying purposes.

The walls are built of different sized spruce and cedar V joint and the ceiling is an interchange of cedar and V joint also. The walls of the booth are adorned with samples of every description from standard mouldings to export lumber.

The floor is built of flat grain spruce and edge grain hemlock, all of which is highly polished.

Model of Mill

In the centre of the booth is a wonderful working model, built

GOVERNMENT ASKED TO MARKET BLOCK

City Council Wants to Get Taxes Out of Square Formerly Occupied by Government Buildings

The city council, on recommendation of the finance committee, decided last night to request the provincial government to sell the block between Second and Third Avenues and Third and Fourth Streets on which the government buildings were formerly located. The reason advanced by the committee for the request was that the city was entitled to receive taxes from this property which it could not do as long as it was held by the government. The mayor further expressed the opinion that it was not desirable to have such a blank in the business section.

ASK BEAUTIFICATION COURT HOUSE GROUNDS

On recommendation of the finance committee, the city council decided last night to ask the provincial government to proceed with the plan proposed in 1923 for the beautification of the grounds between the Court House and McBride Street. Mayor Newton, stating that the government had said that such a scheme was under consideration when the request had been made that the ground be allocated for use of junior athletes, referred to the possibilities of making a beauty spot at the point referred to.

CLEVER SHOOTING OF CAPTAIN ASH

Canada's Champion Cowboy Shows Skill with Guns and Ropes

Captain Ash, world famous sharpshooter and roper, gave a fine exhibition of shooting and roping in the exhibition building last night before a large and appreciative audience. Captain Ash demonstrated what wonderful control and accuracy he had with a rifle and revolver. The stunts included shooting in various positions, standing, laying down backwards, and shooting while aiming by means of a looking-glass. His demonstration of roping was very clever. A very interesting entertainment was brought to a close by the captain shooting up in the ceiling at targets which, when hit, released Allied flags.

COW BAY TO HAVE FIRE ALARM BOX

City Council Decides to Move One at First Avenue and McBride Street to that Location

A long felt want at Cow Bay is to be filled by the city council. A recommendation from the utilities committee that the fire alarm box at present located at the corner of First Avenue and McBride Street be transferred to Cow Bay at a cost of $65 was adopted by the council last night. Mayor Newton stated that this would give the many boats moored at Cow Bay a chance to notify the fire department during the night when needed. Up to the present, when offices and business places at Cow Bay during the night had been closed, there had been danger of fire starting having serious consequences before the department could be called.
