WINTER, SNOW AND BLIZZARD ON PRAIRIES

CAPTAIN AND CREW OF THE TILLIE S. LIVED ON CLAMS, FISH AND BERRIES

Lived for Ten Days on Clams, Fish and Berries West of Graham Island

Captain and crew of Tillie S. arrive in port after trying experience following burning of boat

After living for ten days on the beach on the west coast of Graham Island, some fifty miles from Skidegate, their boat burned and sunk, grub and clothes all lost, and with nothing but what they stood in, E. C. Tibbits, skipper, Ghas. Mordant and Fred Miller of the gasboat Tillie S., are back in town today and thankful. Ten days unchanging diet of mussels, clams, salmon and berries, even with no rush of business, palls at last.

The Tillie S. was out after halibut and on September 17, developed engine trouble. There was a considerable swell, and not being able to get the engine going, the skipper, E. C. Tibbits, finally got into the dinghy and pulled to Seal Inlet for help. Between the big sea and small cranksy flat bottomed dinghy, the trip took nine hours and when he finally got there, the skipper was so cramped with having to sit in a strained position so long, that he had to be lifted out.

Engine Repaired

The salmon trollers Taklero, Thorburg and Tom and Ed, put out to the disabled boat and brought her in. Repairs were effected and the Tillie S. got under way again, but on the night of the 20th, engine trouble again developed and the boat drifted out to a lee shore. The crew got her off, however, and when the engine did get going, it backfired and set fire to the engine room. The gas tanks caught and finally the boat blew up. The men were lucky in that only two were on board at the final catastrophe, as the dinghy could only hold two and in such a swell, would undoubtedly have swamped had three attempted to crowd into her. The third man had got wet and was on shore drying his clothes at a beacon fire.

Fortunately, they had some matches in their pockets, but landed without any other clothes or food. There was a creek close by with salmon and at low water a bed of great mussels was found, which boiled together made a strong chowder. The only variety to the ten day's diet was whether the mussels or the salmon was put into the can first to boil.

Rescued by Morrison

It was impossible to hike to Skidegate, owing to the steepness of the shore line and there was nothing else for it but to stay where they were. Finally on the night of the 3rd, the exhaust of a gas engine was heard like music in the distance and the G.S.T. halibut boat, Captain Jack Morrison hove to at the mouth of the creek, whither she had come for fresh water, by chance. And the crew of the Tillie S. were not sorry.

Being overdue, the customs office here had wired to Skidegate to keep a look out for news of the Tillie S. and arrangements were under way for a search being sent out this evening. The Tillie S. was owned by F. E. Hunt Ltd.

MEIGHEN SAYS EXTRAVAGANCE

No Immigration Policy For Country Declares Conservative Leader

EDMONTON, Oct. 5.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, carried the western campaign into Alberta's capital on Saturday night when he spoke in two crowded halls. Speaking on the railway situation he declared: "Amalgamation is not the goal I seek. It is the result I seek to avoid." Amalgamation or bankruptcy would be the inevitable result of the policy of extravagance which, he said, had been pursued in the administration of the railways in recent years.

Fourteen announcements and four ministers in four years' was the way Meighen summed up the present immigration policy of the government. He declared that in spite of the expenditure of a million dollars every year besides great expenditures by the railways the stream of immigration had been gradually drying up and large numbers of those who came out to Canada had subsequently gone to the United States. The government, he claimed, rested on its oars and had no immigration policy except to spend money without stint.

GOOD PAYSTREAK GOLD PAN CREEK

Alice Arm Man Returned to City Last Night After Spending Summer in Cassiar Mining Area

"There is a good paystreak in the Gold Pan district but it is nothing to get excited about," commented J. Macdonald of Alice Arm who returned to the city on the Prince Charles last night after having spent the season in the new gold strike area. Mr. Macdonald admitted that there had been reports both favorable and adverse as to the prospects of the Gold Pan district. He was of the opinion that the adverse statements had been given out by people who had not actually reached and seen the part where the Grady and Ford discovery had been made. Genuine and experienced prospectors were meeting with success he said. Mr. Macdonald returned with H. F. Kergin, M.L.A. with whom he is associated in the ferry business between Alice Arm and Anyox. Mr. Kergin had been making his annual tour of the northern part of his constituency of Atlin. Both went north to Alice Arm on the Cardena.

UNITED CHURCH WAS REOPENED

Church Crowded to the Doors at Evening Service When W. J. Parsons Preached

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY Building Completely Redecorated and Now Looks Like New Edifice

Yesterday marked the reopening of the United Church in Prince Rupert and special services were conducted in connection with the event. After having served the congregation for fourteen years the auditorium was closed during the summer and thoroughly overhauled and redecorated. The exterior was also repainted and, as the building is a very substantial one, it now looks like a new church.

At the morning service, Rev. Evan Baker of Kingston, Ont., preached a strong and clear-cut sermon on the text: "Men Cannot Live by Bread Alone." Mr. Baker's message was greatly appreciated. The choir rendered the cantata "The Magnificat."

Rally Day
It was Rally Day in the afternoon in the Sunday School, 125 scholars being present and some fifty visitors. The program was impressive and well-rendered. The graduation of the Primary scholars and a pageant by the Canadian Girls in Training were special features. Frank Derry, Jr. showed splendid talent in his recitations. The training of the scholars had been ably carried out by Mrs. Alfred Plant, Miss I. Haddock and Earl Barrie. Clifford Cameron was pianist.

The church was crowded to the doors for the evening service. Rev. W. J. Parsons of Terrace was the speaker and he delighted his audience with the subject: "A Man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." Mr. Parsons is not a stranger in Prince Rupert and his messages are always appreciated.

The audience was delighted with the solos of Miss Adele Advant of London, England, who sang for the first time in public in Prince Rupert. Her voice is sweet and powerful, showing signs of perfect training. The choir of the church gave splendid assistance under the leadership of A. J. Lancaster.

Floral Decorations
There was a bountiful supply of beautiful flowers used in the decorations. The flowers came unsolicited from the gardens of friends of the church.

Several improvements in the interior of the church were noted. These included the reconstruction of the platform and the putting in of an extended and moveable stage for concert work. Silversides Bros. were responsible for the entire decorative scheme which was carried out.

PICNIC HELD AT LEWIS ISD. RANCH

Party From Here Goes South on "Oh Baby" and Returns by Moonlight

A party of some twenty young people were the guests of Jeff Lambly at a delightful picnic held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lambly, Lewis Island. The trip was made on the Lambly launch "Oh Baby" and splendid weather conditions prevailed. The day was happily spent in exploring the beauties of the island, and in the evening music and community singing were much enjoyed.

Jack Crane, who is spending his holidays at the Lambly ranch, accompanied by Mr. Lambly bagged a fine black bear on Pitt Island last week. The carcass weighed around 500 pounds and the hide was particularly good.

The picnic party returned home at 10.30 o'clock last night after enjoying the beauties of an ideal moonlight trip.

PROGRAMS RENDERED BY RADIO STATIONS

Tomorrow evening at 8.30 the Canadian National radio station at Vancouver will broadcast a studio program by Frederic Kidson and Mrs. Frank Evans which will include tenor solos, soprano solos, duets and piano selections.

Tonight KGO at Oakland will broadcast an educational program commencing at 8 p.m. the course including addresses on health, physical culture, public speaking, selling, new books, and character analysis.

Tuesday night there will be a concert sent out by KGO Little Symphony Orchestra with Albert S. Garbett, musical interpreter, writer and Waldemar Engberg, basso.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

MOST people tell the truth but there must be a lot of different kinds of truth at election times.

SOME people think if they buy a gun license it gives them the right to do anything.

I WENT out after deer, my dear, I tramped from morn till night But of the game I went to seek I never caught a sight.

TALK is the stock in trade of the politician.

I MET a candidate one day; I thought it was absurd; He went all o'er the countryside And never said a word.

ONE of the things that does not get you anywhere is trying to get a dyed in the wool Tory to vote Liberal.

ANOTHER thing that does not get you anywhere is trying to induce an old school Brit to vote Tory.

BOOTH SCHOOL TAKES LEAD JUNIOR LEAGUE

Defeated High School Saturday Afternoon in Best Played Game of Season

The best played and best attended Junior League football game so far this season was played on Saturday afternoon between Booth School and the High School and the result was a victory for the former team by a score of one to nil. It was a hotly contested match in which a good deal of good soccer talent was displayed. The good work of the half back line of Booth School in defence was a feature although the forward line played energetically missing a number of scoring chances that came in their grasp. The High School boys did not seem to hit the same stride as they did in the last match with Borden Street and also missed scoring chances. The only score of the game was made shortly before the final whistle by Jack Nelson from a corner kick by Harvey Grate. Nelson made a number of break-aways during the game but failed to finish to effect. A penalty was awarded against the High School in the second half, Tom Kelsey missing by kicking over the bars.

Jack Campbell was referee and the linesmen were J. S. Wilson and George Cochrane.

The next game will be on Saturday between Borden Street and Booth School.

The league standing to date is as follows:

	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
Booth School	4	3	1	9
High School	3	3	1	7
Borden Street	3	4	0	6

SPORT CHAT

Two of the most important players in the World Series between Pittsburgh Pirates and Washington Senators opening on Wednesday of this week will probably be "Goose" Goslin and Roger Peckinpaugh, both of the Senators. The hitting of Goslin, who carries a consistent stock of home runs, three baggers and singles, was a feature in the World Series last year and it is expected he will drive a number of runs over for the Senators again this time. As left fielder for his team, it is also expected that Goslin will leave no holes in that position. Roger Peckinpaugh, the Senators capable shortstop, was injured in the World Series last year but his team went through to victory without his services. His presence on the diamond this year should mean a good deal to the Senators. Peck is not a noted hitter but he may develop into a poisonous slugger without notice. With his sixteen years' experience he is a valuable unit in the Washington infield.

FLOUR AND FEED LINES ARE DOWN

Egg Market is Stiffening With Shortage of Supply—Sugar Price Drops

The principal change in the market report during the past two weeks has occurred in flour and feed lines. Flour is down $1.10 since the middle of last month. Owing to heavy rains of the past month, threshing on the prairies has been delayed and this may have a bad effect on crops which a month ago were expected to be record breakers in some districts.

The past fortnight has seen a gradual stiffening in the price of eggs. Shortage of supplies and extraordinary demand has placed poultrymen in a position where they may demand high prices. Unless a heavy increase in production occurs, prices will remain high for some time as the market can easily absorb all offerings.

The sugar market has declined 20c per hundred during the past fortnight.

WEEK AT THEATRE

Monday and Tuesday "The Devil's Cargo," Flying Fishes Series No. 1, Bennie Leonard in "Breaking In," International News. Thursday Only Richard Barthelmess in "Soul Fire." Friday and Saturday "The Great Divide."

THE DEVIL'S CARGO IS STORY OF GOLD RUSH DAYS IN SOUTH

Tells of Cleanup in Sacramento and of Boat Drifting Out to Sea

A story that has all the accuracy and all the atmosphere of the pioneer days of California without dragging in scene after scene of purely historical and geographical interest, is what is claimed for the new Paramount picture, "The Devil's Cargo," which will be shown here tonight. The picture is an adaptation of Charles Whittaker's "The River Boat." It's a highly dramatic story of California in 1850 when lawlessness ran riot, told in a forceful, straightaway manner.

The story deals with the advent in Sacramento of John Joyce who comes to edit the local paper. He accidentally meets and falls in love with Faro Sampson and is greatly taken back when he learns that she is the daughter of a gambling hall proprietor.

Joyce is of a more or less puritanical frame of mind and sides in with the vigilantes and their plans to deport the city's undesirable. Faro learns of it and "squares things up" with Joyce by exposing him in a very unfavorable light. He and his sister are deported with the rest, as a result.

Motley Array A river boat leaves Sacramento with a motley array of passengers, gamblers, thieves, cut-throats. The captain is refused the privilege of landing at San Francisco. A mutiny breaks out. The ruffians take command and the dock is rammaged and most of the passengers hop ashore. Faro, Joyce and a couple of others remain aboard as the boat, helplessly, drifts seaward.

Out on the Pacific, in a flimsy river boat, an innocent girl and a good man surrounded by a human cargo—"the scum of the earth"—battle their way through and find their salvation in the end of what is as gripping a romance as anything you've ever witnessed on the screen.

SOUL FIRE FEATURES DICK BARTHELMESS

Music and a Beautiful Girl Found in South Seas Romance

"Soul Fire" starring Richard Barthelmess at the Westholme at the mid-week moves before a picturesque background, for Eric Fane's quest of his great sympathy leads him from Italy to Paris and from Port Said to the South Seas. His pilgrimage carries him to the pinnacle of success as a writer of jazz in the Latin quarter of Paris, and to the very depth of the mire as a derelict, a revolutionist against the sham of society, in the "wickedest city of the world," Port Said. It is not until he shakes off the shackles of civilization and gets back to the simplicity of nature itself—in the lonely and lovely isles of the South Seas—that his genius strikes fire. Then the great symphony comes—and Fane is world-famous.

Not only does he find great music in the South Pacific, but he finds a very beautiful girl as well, one Teita, the castaway daughter of English parents. With Barthelmess playing Fane and Bessie Love portraying Teita these love interludes become things of sheer lyric beauty. Indeed, Barthelmess, it should be noted, never played with such compelling sentiment and romance. His work has great histrionic vitality and great charm as well.

THE GREAT DIVIDE SEEN AT WEEK END

Story of Wild Thrills in Arizona Where at One Time Might Was Right

The story, "The Great Divide" the week end feature concerns a prim Massachusetts girl with New England ideals meeting a strange, uncouth man of the Painted Desert of Arizona.

The girl, Ruth Jordan, is captured by three marauders of the West, who are drunken and bestial. They shake dice to see which will possess her, and the other two are not satisfied when Stephen Ghent wins, so he has to fight one and give the other a chain of gold nuggets to seal the bargain.

He marries the girl and during the first nights when she has not yet become enough of a reality for him to touch, he becomes her dreamed-of ideal lover surrounded by romance and adventure. He is in ignorance of her fineness and her moral laws and sees her only as a woman and desirable.

Her Ideals Killed

By his passion he tears down the ideal she has built around him and her pride makes her see herself as the property of a beast who has bought her with gold. She weaves baskets and sells them to get money to buy herself back and eventually she obtains the original chain of nuggets and gives them to Stephen, and triumphantly leaves him. A baby is born, after which Stephen wins his love and his kindness wins Ruth back.

The story is brimful of thrills and the scenery of the gorgeous Painted Desert makes a fitting background for the staging of it.

The local school board, which recently decided to cut the salaries of teachers here, decided last week to restore the old scale.

The liquor vendor's store here has been removed to the new building recently erected on 3rd Avenue by McInnis and Wilson.

J. A. Fraser, Conservative candidate for Cariboo riding, will speak in Prince George next Thursday.

Revival services are being held in the local Roman Catholic Church by Father D. J. Moriarty of Vancouver.

McGinnis and Wilson, local contractors, have been given the contract for the erection of the new Canadian Bank of Commerce here. The cost complete, it is estimated, will be about $14,000.

Nearly four hundred parcels of land were offered at the municipal tax sale here last week. There were practically no buyers.

The residence of A. McNeil on Tenth Avenue has been purchased by the Misses Douglas.

LUMBER BUSINESS IS LOOKING UP ON VANCOUVER ISLAND

Coast Mills Looking Forward to Participation in Japanese Business

VICTORIA, Oct. 5. — This month will probably be the brightest period in the lumber export trade for 1925, according to Mr. Johnston, of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company, who announces that the company would ship out no less than 3,775,000 feet of lumber on nine vessels.

Transporter Loading

Fifty thousand feet of white pine timber is being loaded in the Canadian Transporter at the Ogden Point Docks, to be delivered at Liverpool, while for the same vessel there is 25,000 feet clear fir filches for delivery in Glasgow. The windjammer Forest Dream, which is loading 1,000,000 feet of lumber for Mauritius, will be towed to sea during the early part of next week.

On October 15 the McMillan Export Company will send a vessel here to pick up 400,000 feet of lumber for delivery in New York, while on October 20 the ss. Berwin Moor will load 700,000 feet of lumber for New York. The steamer Claremont is due October 25 for 400,000 feet of lumber destined for California, while the first shipment of lumber for Japan to leave Victoria in months will go out on a Japanese freighter due here October 27, to pick up 400,000 feet of timber. This completes the list of lumber boats due this month, but the export business to Japan is expected to pick up in the new year.

Japanese Market Bright

The eastern seaboard is dropping off in demand, Mr. Johnston said, as also are other markets. On January 1, however, the permanent construction program in Japan goes into effect and Pacific coast mills are looking forward to heavy orders from this market toward the end of December and January.

MAKE COAST GUARD CUTTER INTO MUSEUM

That is One Proposal for Dealing With Well Known Little Bear

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Many proposals are being put forward for disposing of the Coast Guard cutter Bear, when she retires from nearly half a century of duty in the Arctic waters of Alaska, but none have been approved. The Coast Guard has under consideration the construction of a modern vessel to relieve the Bear, but is loath to part with the veteran craft that forms an integral part of its history.

An Alaskan Chamber of Commerce has sought to have the Bear utilized as a floating museum for America's Northwest-ern Territory. The Explorer's Club has put in a bid for the ship's hull. There are officers in the Coast Guard who say the vessel will ultimately be a training vessel for the service, probably at San Diego, Cal.

Doing duty since the early '80s, the Bear has been known to the Eskimos as "oomiak puk" (powerful big ship). Recently Mrs. Aneva Mattson, a native born Eskimo, educated at Carlisle Indian School in Pennsylvania, wrote of the Bear to Coast Guard headquarters.

"The Bear has written her beautiful heroic deeds and devoted faithful service in our hearts and lives as the year and time have gone by. She has brought hope and light from civilization to our hearts strong and secure. The Bear will be the Eskimos' most reverent memory in the years to come."

SUGGESTS GOVERNMENT PURCHASE GRAIN CROP

North Dakota Senator has New Panacea for Ills of Farmer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. — (By Canadian Press)—Declaring that farmers of the northwest had not yet by any means emerged from their difficulties, Senator Frazier of North Dakota said today that he would urge in the next session of Congress a bill for a government commission empowered to buy and sell wheat, cotton, and one or two other agricultural staples. The plan is to empower the commission to purchase the product when the price goes below the cost of production, and to sell it to the best advantage. Senator Frazier would limit the operations of the commission to 90 per cent of the amount required for home consumption. In wheat, for instance, the amount needed for home consumption is well known and if the price went below the cost of production, Senator Frazier under his bill, would have the government deal in wheat up to not over 90 per cent of the amount necessary for consumption at home.

This plan Senator Frazier thinks, would keep the market up to a point where the farmer would be protected against loss. At the same time, he says, the government would not lose. Inasmuch as the government would not deal in the entire crop and there would be a surplus which the farmer might have to sell at a loss, Senator Frazier says the measure would not stimulate an unduly large acreage.

The idea that the western farmers are out of the woods is disputed by Senator Frazier. He says their condition has been in some degree helped but many of them are so far in debt that it will take much more than one good season to put them on their feet.

It is unlikely Congress will pass legislation such as Senator Frazier proposes but it indicates that there is going to be in the next session continuation of a strong demand for farm relief. The administration is opposed to such legislation and its opposition will dictate the votes of most of the regular republicans. Republican leaders are expected to favor passing of a co-operative marketing bill.
