How Shall We Pay Our Taxes?

We have to pay taxes. We cannot escape. We have spent a lot of money on what we call permanent investments such as roads, bridges and public buildings and we have incurred debts in so doing. The interest on the debts is being paid and the principal will have to be returned. We must pay our way. Everyone but a Bolshevik will agree with that.

The question then arises as to how that money shall be collected. We experiment a great deal in regard to this matter and we often change. Just now we pay income taxes, we pay property taxes and if we die an inheritance tax is deducted from our estate before the legacy is turned over to the relatives. And there are other taxes.

Some of the Vancouver property owners have objected to the present plan of collecting income tax, they object to the inheritance tax and they do not like to pay the property tax.

Fair Method Raising Money.

The income tax seems to be the fairest method of taxing people. The rich pay more in proportion than do the poor. The very poor pay nothing. If a man has a family he gets an exemption that the single man does not get; thus the man is taxed for being a bachelor. The tax rate increases according to the income of the person taxed. If the tax is taken off the income it must be imposed elsewhere, but nobody wants it, yet it must be paid.

Succession Duty Not Excessive.

When a person dies he usually leaves his property to his wife and family. But before this is done the state steps in and takes a part known as the succession duty. If a man dies worth $100,000 the state asks four per cent. In Saskatchewan he takes five, in Ontario five, in Nova Scotia four and half. If he has three million dollars the state takes 36 per cent in B.C. a great deal more than they take in any other province of Canada. That means that the government of British Columbia is conducted on democratic principles. The very rich have to pay high whereas the people who are moderately rich are used much better.

The average person will take no exception to British Columbia's method of taxing incomes or legacies. It is not a Liberal or a Conservative measure particularly but is recognized by all parties as a proper way of levying.

There are growing up in British Columbia today a number of men who are so rich that they fancy themselves injured by these just laws. They do not like to have to pay. So they are petitioning the government to make changes in accordance with their selfish views. They want the poor to pay more and the rich less.

British Columbia people as a whole will not stand for taxing the poor and allowing the rich to get off free. They will resist it even to throwing out of power any government that attempts it.

Spirit Of Times Dangerous.

It is the spirit of trying to get everything and leaving nothing for others that makes bolsheviks, socialists, reds, communists. The selfishness of the rich has always bred strife and rebellion. It is absolutely opposed to the spirit of the times. It is the spirit that goads the workingman to take an active and sometimes an unwise part in strikes and in political life. Today we in British Columbia are well to the fore in social and governmental methods. We have many advanced laws which are rather costly. We have fairly equitable taxation and any attempt to turn backward should be resisted to the utmost.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES HELD

Special Services Took Place at Most of Services in City Churches on Sunday

The Thanksgiving season and the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which brought the World War to an end in 1918 were specially referred to at the services in all city churches on Sunday. There were large congregations in every instance and special attention was paid to seasonal decorations, the effect in most cases being pleasing indeed.

In the morning at the Baptist Church, Rev. E. G. Turner spoke on world history since the signing of the Armistice, referring particularly to the pact recently signed at Locarno. There was a chorus of girls of the Mission Band. In the evening, the pastor's subject was "Thanksgiving," and Miss Catherine Jones was soloist. W. Vaughan Davies was organist at both services.

Lutheran Church

The subject of Thanksgiving was dealt with by Rev. P. E. Baisler at both services of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in the Metropole Hall. In the evening the pastor took as his subject, "Christian Stewardship," and referred particularly to the "every member canvass" which takes place next week when all followers of the church will be interviewed for the purpose of obtaining subscriptions and enlisting new members. This is a regular campaign at this time of the year in the Lutheran Church. There was special music by the choir, the evening anthem being "Heaven For Me," with Edward Baisler as organist.

There were special Thanksgiving lessons and prayers at the morning service in the United Church and Rev. G. G. Haeker gave a partial report of the United Church Conference in Vancouver which he attended. In the evening there was special music by the choir with A. J. Lancaster as organist and Rev. W. H. Pierce of Port Essington gave the address.

Presbyterian Church

Rev. Dr. Charles J. Cameron, the relieving pastor, took both services at the first Presbyterian Church. In the morning there was an anthem by the children's choir under the leadership of John E. Davey, the organist.

Lieut. Kenny spoke in the morning at the Salvation Army Citadel and Capt. Rea in the evening when there was also a vocal solo by Mr. Wilson and a piano solo by Mrs. Mastin.

Street collections by the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, as a result of the Poppy Day tagging on Saturday, totaled $118.34. There were also receipts from the sale of poppies in the schools as follows: Borden Street, $20.75; Booth School, $17.50; Seal Cove, $2.35; High School, $7. The sum of $24.80 was turned in from Georgetown; $12.50 from the St. Regis Cafe; 50c from Bryant & Greer; 40c from the Prince Rupert Billiard Parlor; and $4.05 from Gil's Cigar Store, bringing the total, with some returns yet to be made, to about $200.

CHURCH PARADE AND UNVEILING

Features of Special Services at St. Andrew's Anglican Church on Sunday

The parade in the morning of members of the First North B.C. Regiment and the Great War Veterans' Association to attend special Armistice Day services and the unveiling in the evening of a handsome pulpit erected by the Daughters of England in memory of Englishmen from this city who lost their lives while on service in the Great War were features of special services at the St. Andrew's Anglican Church on Sunday.

Members of the regiment and the G.W.V.A. mustered for the parade some eighty in strength and were marshalled by Col. J. W. Nicholls, officer commanding of the regiment, and Joe Hutchison, president of the Great War Veterans' Association. It was impossible for members of the regiment to be in uniform on account of the annual inspection of equipment. The parade was accompanied by the regimental band some eighteen in strength augmented by six members of the newly formed Boys' Band who showed splendid results of the intensive training they have recently been undergoing. The sermon for the occasion was delivered by Rev. Walter Allen and "The Last Post" in memory of comrades who lost their lives as a result of the War was sounded by Bandsman W. Rance.

Pulpit Unveiled

Archdeacon G. A. Rix officiated at the evening service when the beautiful new solid oak wax finished pulpit made by the Valley City Furniture Co. of Dundas, Ont., and erected by the Daughters of England in memory of Englishmen from this city who lost their lives in the War was unveiled by Willie Donald, son of the late Pie, Matthew Donald.

Another feature of both services at the Anglican Church, was the presence of the boys' surprised choir which assisted for the first time in the musical program which consisted of patriotic and national hymns. This innovation has been due to the energy and interest of the organist, Miss L. M. Ellett. The church was beautifully decorated with patriotic and seasonal adornments.

CANADIAN COURTESY APPEALED TO HIM

J. A. Werner, Well Known Yakima Fruit Rancher, Was Visitor to City at End of Week

Among the visitors to the city over the week end was J. A. Werner, a well known fruit rancher of Yakima, Washington. Mr. Werner came north on the Prince Charles, made the round trip to Hyder, Alaska, and, departing here Sunday night, proceeded east by train to Chicago and Minneapolis which cities he will visit before he returns to Yakima. Mr. Werner remarked on the courtesies that had been extended him by railway officials and business people in British Columbia. The people in the United States he said seemed so intent in their chase for the "Almighty Dollar" that the ordinary courtesies of life were often overlooked.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S BENEFIT LARGELY FROM THE SALMON FISHERIES

SKIDEGATE, Nov. 10.—It is estimated that the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company has left $75,000 on the Queen Charlotte Islands this year in cash paid out for salmon caught at Hippo Island and other points. A considerable sum of this has gone to the merchants at Prince Rupert. The money paid for fish on these islands is one of the main sources of supply to the settlers, five hundred of whom benefit from it.

A proposal has been made that there should be an effort to prospect for herring in these waters as it is known they run here. The government may be asked to assist. If the herring were taken here for halibut bait it would head off much of the business that now goes to Alaska.

Scot Tomkins of Telkwa has been victor of many a fray since leaving school in eastern Canada, but the apex of success fell to his lot last Friday evening when he killed a big black bear with a week says the Interior News.

The shift was over and he was wending his way homeward with a team from the Telkwa coal mine, and a little over a mile out of town he was awakened from his reverie by a certain fractiousness of the team. Calling the horses to a stop, his gaze fell upon a black bear sitting in the middle of the road, and he walked toward him, thinking the animal would disappear into the bush. But no, the bear was just as interested in the determined Scot's chin as the latter was in the stupidity of Mr. Bruin. Something had to be done, so the hunter-farmer looked around for a missile. All he could see was a rock which probably weighed about two or three pounds. Armed with this he approached to within ten feet of the bear, who went on "Charlestoning" from one side to the other. Scot made one or two moek passes as if to throw, but this only centered attraction as far as the bear was concerned. Then Scot let go, for better or for worse, and was prepared to beat it back to the wagon. The bear received the rock right between the eyes and keeled over, and no one was more surprised than Scot himself. Finishing him off with an iron rod he had on the wagon, the bear was loaded on the wagon and brought to town.

flames streaked to the heavens. When the smoke cleared the nose of the Mandalay was beneath the surface and she was slipping rapidly to her last resting place. In five minutes she was gone. A $900,000 ship had been sent to the bottom of the Atlantic for one thrill in a picture. But the cost was more than that of the actual building. First National paid, according to Hudson, approximately $125,000 for the ship and the incidental expense that went with the filming of the fire and explosion scenes.

THREE WOMEN LOVE ONE MAN RESULTS DISASTROUS TO ALL

"Three Women" is a Curious Mix-up of Matrimonial Tangles and the End is Curious

Another Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen is to be presented to the public at the Westholme Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. With memories of "The Marriage Circle" still lingering, theatre-goers will look forward to seeing a production equal in merit. They will not be disappointed. First of all, Ernst Lubitsch is the director, and his successful productions are still fresh in our minds. Secondly, the Warner Bros. have chosen a cast which will do justice to this Classic of the Screen.

"Three Women" deals with the love affairs of three women for one man. At first he is in love with a middle-aged widow, Mrs. Wilton, or rather with her money; then he becomes infatuated with her daughter, whom he marries. Still not content, he has an affair with another, the chagrin of his wife and her mother, Mrs. Wilton, in a fury, comes to demand her daughter's release, but Lamont merely laughs at her and hints at her still being in love with him. Then comes the tragedy when Lamont is killed by his mother-in-law and former sweetheart. Days of suspense follow for the mother and daughter before the trial, but the picture comes to a happy conclusion when a verdict of "not guilty" is brought in by the jury and the girl gives her love to a former sweetheart.

Exciting Race to Reach Land Office and Marvellous Escape From Forest Fire

Of the many tremendous action scenes in the picture, two, in particular, stand out by virtue of their intrinsic dramatic value and the startling realism with which they are depicted.

The first is an exciting, nerve-racking race to the sheriff's land office between Moore on horseback and Butler and Hartigan in an automobile. The first to reach the sheriff's office will be awarded the deed to a valuable piece of land that had been unexpectedly opened up to homesteaders. It looks hopeless for Moore, despite the fact that he has fresh horses stationed along the road. By hard riding he manages to catch up with his rivals, and as they near the office, Moore throws himself from the horse into the automobile and is the first to jump out and rush into the office.

A HOT CUP

The second spectacular scene is the raging forest fire that sweeps down from the mountain-side and traps Moore and Miss Bennett in their cabin. They attempt to escape on Moore's horse, knowing there is a chance of the animal finding its way out of the forest. Moore, however, falls off and the girl turns back to aid him. This delay apparently seals their doom, for they find themselves hemmed in on all sides by the flames. Desperately they battle through until they reach a high cliff overlooking a river. Without a moment's hesitation, horse and riders make a daring leap—a sheer drop of several hundred feet—into the waters below. It is a scene that will thrill even the hardened critic.

GIRL GUARDS AND BOY SCOUTS HAVE THANKSGIVING PARTY

The girl guards and boy scouts of the Salvation Army spent a most enjoyable evening last night at the Army Citadel. The time was spent in singing and playing games after which refreshments were served.

At the close of the evening a vote of thanks was passed to Captain and Mrs. Rae by Nellie Gurvich and seconded by Helen Sim. About 9:30 the girls and boys adjourned home.

PRINCE CHARLES MET BY POLICE

Circumstances Pointed to Mail Having Been Tampered With Between Ocean Falls and Here

The disembarking of passengers and unloading of freight from the steamer Prince Charles, arriving from the south Saturday evening, was held up for almost an hour while police officers investigated circumstances which pointed to the mail on board ship having been tampered with between Ocean Falls and Prince Rupert.

Just after the Prince Charles left Ocean Falls late Friday night, a member of the crew found the mailroom door unlocked with the padlock lying on the floor. Just inside the door was found a hammer and marlin spike. Further circumstances lending themselves to the belief that something might be wrong were that a member of the crew had deserted the ship at Ocean Falls and that the mail shipment was one sack short. Capt. Neil McLean wirelessed ahead asking that the police meet the steamer on arrival.

Accordingly no less than seven officers were on hand when the ship tied up. They were Inspector Aeland, Acting Inspector Spiller, Chief McNeill, Sergeant Bailey, Corporal Brice and Constables Markland and Smith. The passengers were detained on the ship and the public was excluded from the wharf while the police, assisted by Postmaster J. M. Morrison, made an inspection which established that the mail had not been tampered with. The one missing sack it was found

VANCOUVER VIEWPOINT ON GRAIN BUSINESS AT PORT OF PRINCE RUPERT

On points on the Canadian National Railway the freight rate on grain is now the same to Prince Rupert, as to Vancouver says the Vancouver Province. The new rate to Prince Rupert was put into effect September 15, not by the Board of Railway Commissioners, but by the management of the Canadian National Railway.

Information to this effect has been received by Hugh Dalton, secretary of the B.C. division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, from his head office in Toronto.

Following the statement Thursday by Mayor L. D. Taylor to the effect that such a rate had been fixed by the Board of Railway Commissioners, Mr. Dalton wired to Toronto for details.

Competitive Point
Lorne McCutcheon, general freight agent of the C.N.R. states that the rate to Prince Rupert was established on September 2. Since an elevator is under construction at the northern port, it becomes a competitive point with Vancouver and was placed on the same rate schedule for export grain. The elevator is not likely to be in a position to handle grain for shipment abroad till the end of this month.

Robert McKee, Vancouver grain man, in discussing the effect of the new rate, said that it would not be in any way detrimental to Vancouver. If Vancouver grain men could do business more economically through the Prince Rupert elevator there was no reason why they should not have the privilege of doing so.

To Develop Traffic
The feeling is that the C.N.R. wants to develop a volume of west-bound freight on the northern line to counter-balance the eastern movement of lumber and fish.

J. M. Horn, general agent here for the Canadian National Railway, informs The Province that export rates to Prince Rupert and Vancouver elevators from prairie points are exactly the same.

PROTECT GRIZZLIES

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 10.—A bear known in this region as "the last of the Grizzlies," roaming the Tulare county mountains, is not to be made the target for cattlemen if the efforts of the American Academy of Science are successful. Members of the organization have offered to pay for any depredations which the bear may inflict on livestock, believing that it is the only grizzly left in the California mountains.

DOE WITH HORNS

VISALIA, Cal., Nov. 10.—The remarkable caprice of nature, a doe with horns, was shot recently and has been turned over to the museum of vertebrate zoology at the University of California. Prof. J. Grinnell of the zoology department said an examination showed that the animal was sterile, which probably accounted for the unusual growth of horns.

Mrs. W. Janowski and Mrs. H. Sevill of Stewart, who have been on a trip south, were passengers returning north on the Gardena Sunday afternoon after a visit to his former home on Vancouver Island.

SUCCESSFUL HUNTING TRIP DOWN COAST TO GARDNER CANAL AREA

After a successful week's hunting trip in the course of which such places as Kildala, Giltees and Bartley Bay were visited, a party consisting of R. F. McNaughton, S. K. Campbell, C. E. Str, W. J. Nelson, and Douglas Stark returned home Sunday night aboard the Prince Rupert Boat House powerboat Leila R. The party bagged some seven or eight geese and large number of ducks. It rained a good part of the time they were away but nevertheless good sport was enjoyed and it was a memorable trip. The Leila R. was purchased recently by the Prince Rupert Boat House for the specific purpose of being used for hunting trips and this party found her to be eminently fitted for such use.
