ELEVATOR TO BE OPERATED BY COMMISSION VOLUNTEER FORCE TO SERVE IF GENERAL STRIKE IS CALLED IN BRITAIN

EDITORIAL

AGAINST THIS PROVINCE

Led by Montreal the powers that control the provinces of Manitoba, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are out in active opposition to doing justice to British Columbia in the matter of railway freight rates. They look at it not from the point of view of right and wrong but simply that of self-interest.

Montreal has controlled not only the railway but the government in the past and British Columbia has been the victim. At last there has been found a government that is willing to dare the eastern powers and treat this province with fairness. Mackenzie King and his cabinet ordered the railway commission to set the rates on a basis of equity. The order was made by the commission and is being partially obeyed. Already British Columbia is benefiting and Prince Rupert stands more than any other point except Vancouver to benefit from the change.

British Columbia has to stand up for her own interests. Now that she is being treated right she should see to it that this state of affairs continues. The way to guarantee it is to return the Mackenzie King government to power. To do otherwise is to work against our own interests.

THOSE NOT REGISTERED SHOULD DO SO AT ONCE

It Costs Nothing to Get on the List of Voters

A report is current that it costs $2.00 to register a name on the Voters' List now being prepared for use in the approaching Dominion Election. This is incorrect. It costs nothing to register. A British subject by birth or naturalization, 21 years of age, having lived in Canada one year and in this Electoral district two months, both immediately prior to Sept. 5, 1925, male or female is entitled to be registered. Names between A and L register at McLaren's Music store and M to Z at J. W. McKinley's, 215 Fourth Ave. E.

Union Of B.C. Municipalities
Endorse City Manager Plan.

The city manager plan of civic government has been endorsed by the Union of B.C. Municipalities at their annual convention. That is falling in line with the modern trend. It means that before long we shall be able to have a city manager if we want it. The present government may or may not pass legislation giving effect to the recommendation, but some government will do it in the near future for it will be demanded of them in such a way that they will not be able to refuse.

The present method of government by committees will be set aside as obsolete and the more efficient method will take its place.

Whalen Company
Plan Reorganization.

The Whalen Pulp and Paper Company has a reorganization scheme in hand that promises to give the present owners of the property a chance to recover part at least of what they invested. They have the master in hand and within a few months the plan will either be adopted or rejected. In the meantime the sale of the property is held up.

It is to be hoped that whatever scheme is adopted will protect the interests of the present owners. There have been too many cases where the owners have been sold out to large outside interests who have reaped the benefit of the failure of the parent concern. The company is paying now and if the business is carried on efficiently will continue to pay.

Miners Of Britain
Again Dissatisfied.

Again there is a tense situation in Great Britain over the question of wages in the coal industry. The government stepped into the breach recently to prevent a strike and the men went to work again. Now there is further disagreement and a conference is called to go into the whole situation.

Britain depends upon her coal for her industrial life. Cut off the coal supply and everything is cut off. Every time the coal mines are closed, even temporarily, much business is lost to the country, and very often it never returns.

No Country Can Advance
Much Faster Than Others.

If any country advances faster than others in the matter of high wages, it suffers loss of business and there is consequent unemployment. In Britain the wages are much higher than in many other European countries, hence business goes to the other countries.

In Canada wages are higher in the West than the East, hence most of the factories are in the East. The West cannot compete.

By the use of labor saving machinery and by increased efficiency a country may be able to pay high wages and yet compete successfully, just as does Henry Ford in the United States. That is exceptional and does not disprove the general rule that the business goes to the country or the section of the country where wages are low.

Wages Should Be
High As Possible.

We believe in high wages. We believe in men being paid as much as it is possible to pay them and still make a success of the business. In cases where wages are high there has to be a spirit of co-operation with a view to getting the best possible results. That spirit is not always in evidence in England where the unions often try to curb the output and thus injure the country in which they live.

MUSICAL DAY
ROTARY CLUB

Good Program Enjoyed by Members at Luncheon Yesterday
Afternoon

ADDRESS ON NURSING.

There was an unusual day at the luncheon of the Rotary Club yesterday afternoon when the program was in charge of Colonel J. W. Nicholls. The Westholme orchestra played several selections, and there were vocal numbers by Mrs. Sid Johnstone and Miss Nada Johnson. In addition the club sang several choruses.

There was a short variation in the program when Miss Randall gave an address on the nursing profession. She said it mattered little whether the hospitals were carried on as they are today, whether there was a scheme of health insurance or a hospital tax was levied. In any event there would always be the sick poor to take care of. Today there was no difference in the treatment meted to the rich or poor. Each had the same food and the same attention. The best of food and plenty of it was provided and plenty of linen. To keep up the hospital and maintain it in a degree of efficiency was looked upon as a civic duty.

The hospital in the early days meant shelter and a certain amount of nursing care. It was a place in which to die. Today it was a place where sickness was prevented and a little spat added to life.

The nurses who cared for the sick had little reward for their services. They cared for the young Canadians coming into the world, watched over the mother and nursed her back to health, looked after the cripples and the sick, many of whom came to them without friends in the world. If the nurses were able to help and cheer the patients and for those who went down into the valley of the shadow of death make the time they spent here a little easier, that was their reward.

REVEILLE IS STORY OF WAR AND AFTER

It Begins in 1918 and Shows the Great Events Which Closed the Horrible Cataclysm.

September, 1918. The Great War is nearing to its close and London is a whirlpool of hectic artificial gaiety. The world is going to pieces; laugh while there is yet time . . . happy laughter, wild laughter, hollow laughter! Any laughter rather than the laughter of the guns . . . but above all the laughter of the flappers who live for one end only; one burning passionate conviction, the boys who are back on a few days' leave. Give them good time!

Mothers of sons sit alone. They hear the never-ending tramp of soldiers marching to the grave.

Typical of all the flappers is Mick. Before the war she lived with her brother, Fred, over a tiny greengrocer's shop, sewing a little and keeping the two rooms clean . . . a little mother. Then war took Fred from his work and Mick carried on alone, brave as a soldier, happy as a child, waiting for the bloodshed to end.

Widow's Shop

Downstairs, the tiny greengrocer's shop is kept by a widow, the mother of three fine boys; Sam, dour, strong and grim; Ted, a careless, happy youth, and the Kid, the youngest; a thinker, but ever a boy? And Kid and Mick are just a little fonder of each other than mere friends.

Above Mick live a quaint pair of maiden sisters, the Misses Fitch, existing on a pittance and very respectable. They had missed the glamour of love, but war had shaken their reserve and stirred in them feelings which they hardly knew they possessed.

And then the Great Night! The Boys are coming home! Seven days' leave! The quiet little house is all agog with excitement which even the maiden sisters share. Mick is a flurry of joyous expectation. Mother is quietly happy, waiting with radiant smile for the brief re-union with her boys.

War Is Over

Then Armistice! London raving mad! The hell of war is over! Hotels and streets thronged with happy, riotous crowds. It

KLANSMEN MEET ON CANADIAN BORDER

Many Canadian Members of Order Will Attend It is Stated

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25.—Hooded knights of the Ku Klux Klan 30,000 strong, will attend the first open-air Konklave held in proximity to the Canadian border, when they meet at the Fair Grounds, Lynden, Wash., tomorrow.

Preparations are being made for the erection of a huge fiery cross which will be visible for miles around, and special preparations are being made to welcome 100 Vancouver members of the order who are expected to take part.

Kleagles from the various Northwest states are heading bands of klansmen to the konklave, which will be the largest yet held in the Northwest.

Huge signs, with the letters K.K.K. three feet high, and with arrows pointing the way to Lynden have already appeared on Pacific Highway and other thoroughfares, and an effort is being made to have as many Canadians as possible attend the konklave. The initiation of Klansmen will be held in the open.

PRINCE OF GLOOM IS CONFOUNDED BY LATE APPOINTMENT

(Montreal Herald)

The news that C. Vincent Massey has joined the King government as minister without portfolio must surely be a sad blow for the Tory party. Mr. Massey, as president of the Massey-Harris Company, is the biggest manufacturer in Canada by far, and his company is the one which, according to the Prince of Gloom, was alleged to have been hurt by the King tariff. The fact that he has signified his approval of the King

BATTLE WITH AN OCTOPUS

Huge Creature Weighed More Than 120 Pounds and Had Nine and Half Feet Spread

SEATTLE, Sept. 25.—After a life and death battle with three men, and with two spears and a pike pole in its slimy carcass before it was subdued, an octopus, terror of bathers, weighing more than 120 pounds, was yesterday afternoon landed from the waters of the sound about 100 feet in front of the residence of Heribert Cormode, its captor, 7043 Beach Drive.

Cormode was out in his boat sparing sole when the monster showed one of its long tentacles, and, Cormode believes, intended to reach up into the boat from the rocks to which it was clinging with a good hold.

Octopus Gives Fight

Cormode thrust his spear into the devilfish and called for help. Two other men rowed out to his aid and armed with another spear and pike pole gave battle to the now thoroughly infuriated creature which was wildly casting its tentacles across the bow of the frail row boat in an apparent effort to draw the bow under water.

After a fight of more than 20 minutes during which the fortunes of war changed from side to side, the octopus began to weaken and was later hauled into the boat.

Seizes Youth's Foot

Here again it commenced a battle with its captors and with a lunge threw one of its tentacles around the foot and ankle of young Cormode. Fortunately he was armed with a hunting knife and with this he severed the slimy arm.

The monster had a spread of nine and a half feet from tip to tip of its many tentacles.

CROOKS MEET WITH POLICE

Interview Head of Morality Squad to Know if They Really Mean Business

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25.—Without compare in police annals of Canada is the action of Viceland in sending a delegation of men who live on the avails of immoral women, of gamblers, crooks, and confidence men, to see the Chief Inspector of the Morality Department, John Jackson, at headquarters asking for "the straight tip" on that "go to work or get out" order.

Tipsters, three-card men and crooks of all kinds, including men who live off the immoral earnings of women, sent representatives, and in the private office of Inspector Jackson, they faced the official and were told that Vancouver was no longer a haven for their ilk.

Warned to Get Out

They were told at a meeting unique in city history that the full force of the law would be unleashed against the entrenched forces of vice and that trains could not leave fast enough with men who organize law-breaking.

Inspector Jackson today expressed astonishment at the nerve of these men, known to him personally, who met in formal conclave yesterday and elected their flashiest spokesmen to make a full-dress call on the police in their very lair.

Hitherto they have been protected, not by the bluecoated officers, but by a weakness in the law itself.

Ruling Helps Police

Police have been handicapped by a ruling that possession of money prevented conviction on vagrancy charges. But the judgment of the higher courts last week that money is in itself no protection, and a legitimate occupation must be shown, has removed a barrier. So, when the police began their drive and cells were filled with "men of easy life," the quarry wanted to know. And they thought the best place to find out was headquarters itself.

Inspector Jackson told the men to get out, even the delegation, and to vanish from Vancouver within 48 hours or show where they were working.
