WITH THROAT SLASHED, NURSE STILL LIVES

EDWARD HOWE, LOCAL YOUTH, VICTIM OF TRAGIC ACCIDENT WITH SHOTGUN

Head of Nurse Almost Severed from Body by Former Hospital Patient

Miss Roedde, girl of 21, attacked and gashed with razor, and all veins and arteries severed

VANCOUVER, Dec. 3.—Benito Pasquale, 41 years of age, Spaniard living in this city, last night visited the General Hospital and while seated beside the bed of a friend in one of the wards suddenly attacked Miss Ann Roedde, 21 years of age, a night nurse, with a razor and inflicted a terrible gash on the young woman's throat. He then attempted to take his own life by cutting his own throat.

The condition of the nurse is serious but Pasquale is expected to recover. The latter, it is believed had been brooding over his illness. He had been a patient in the hospital for a month and was discharged on December 1.

Miss Roedde's head was nearly severed from the body and only for the fact that expert medical attention was immediately available was responsible for the prolongation of her life. Virtually all the veins, arteries and muscles of her neck were severed and the bones of her spinal column were partially exposed. The windpipe alone escaped injury.

Later Despatch

Miss Roedde is reported to have passed a good night and the hospital authorities believe there is a good chance for her to recover. The condition of the patient is due to quick blood transfusion.

Pasquale is out of danger.

The newspapermen were forced to leave while the House discussed the Government's Safeguarding of Industries proposal, which Liberal and Labor members strenuously oppose on the ground that it is equivalent to a protective tariff.

Instantly Killed When Charge of Lead Enters Left Side of His Head

Edward Howe, aged 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Howe of this city, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun aboard the gasboat Rex G. near the beach at Ridley Island yesterday. The loaded gun was discharged into the left side of his head and he died instantly.

With deceased at the time was David Hudema, who in telling of the shooting said he had decided to go south to Swindle Island near Swanson Bay on a trapping expedition and had picked up Edward Howe yesterday morning about eight o'clock, leaving here at 9.30. About three miles out they saw some ducks and loaded a twelve bore shotgun they had in the boat. They did not get the ducks so left the gun loaded in the canvas case.

About three miles farther on they again saw ducks and Howe reached for the gun and in lifting it out must have allowed the hammer to get caught on a small wooden box near where the gun was resting with the result that it discharged the shot hitting him on the side of the head and killing him almost instantly.

Judges Should Stiffen Their Backs.

In the Legislature this week R. H. Pooley, K.C., leader of the Conservative party in this province and a prominent member of the legal profession, confirmed what this paper has mentioned more than once, that the judges of this province are too prone to be swayed by technicalities in the hearing of appeals made by members of the criminal class. Dozens of criminals have been set free just because some clever lawyer dug up some petty irregularity in connection with the trial. Prince Rupert has suffered a good deal in this respect. It is very disheartening to the police to put in good work catching the criminals, to secure convictions in the ordinary way and then have the conviction upset by the courts at Vancouver or Victoria.

Lawyers who take such cases seem to know what judges are likely to favor their pleas and manoeuvre the appeals in such a way as to get before them.

It is not suggested here that the judges are anything but upright, but they are human and liable to err. The country places great confidence in them and has made their tenure of office secure as long as they do their duty. This, it seems to us, should make them set their faces against any action on their part that would tend to bring the law into disrespect.

Mr. Pooley, in criticizing their position, was speaking in the Legislature and could not at that time have been speaking for political purposes, as the members of the bench come from both political parties and are appointed by the Dominion and not the provincial governments.

Difficult Position For Premier Briand.

The very brief reports of the proceedings of the French Chamber of Deputies following the formation of a new cabinet by Premier Briand seem to indicate that the government there is having a very difficult time. Yesterday a vote of confidence was given the new government, but early this morning the house divided twice more and on each occasion the government was sustained and confidence in them was expressed. The necessity for three votes within so short a time seems to indicate that violent assaults were being made upon them by the opposition.

Boys' Band And Public Support.

Last evening the Boys' Band, which has been backed by the Rotary Club, gave its first performance and it was a very creditable one. The lads acquitted themselves with honor. The playing had not that finish which will come later but it was a good indication of the excellence of the work being done and the interest taken both by the boys themselves and their instructor.

When the boys appear in public again they will do much better. Last night's entertainment will give them an idea what concert work is like and the reception given them should encourage them to make themselves master of their respective instruments.

Native Born Canadians And National Views

There is a marked difference between the views on nationality of the native born part of our population and those of people who were born elsewhere and who have made Canada their adopted country. The average native born boy is a nationalist. He sees Canada first, last and all the time. It is difficult for a person born elsewhere to feel just that way. There is usually a bias toward the land of his birth and a lack of real love for his adopted country. He is in a period of transition. He has happy remembrances of the land he left behind and these are mellowed by time.

As the years roll on and more young Canadians take their places among the makers of Canada, a keener sense of nationality will be expressed. It is noticed more today than it was ten years ago and the next ten years will see a still greater change.

JUDGE MURPHY AT GYRO CLUB

Interesting Address on Early History of British Columbia Delivered Last Evening

NATIONAL SPIRIT NEEDED Many Guests in Attendance to Hear Prominent Member of Bench Speak

An interesting and detailed account of the feats of early explorers of the province and a brilliant appeal to people of the present day to carry on with the intrepidity of those daring pioneers and the wisdom and zeal of the Dominion's first statesmen, such as Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, Sir George Etienne Cartier and Sir Wilfrid Laurier featured a highly informative and eloquent address that was delivered before the Gyro Club last night by Mr. Justice Denis Murphy on "The Early Days of British Columbia."

The judge, who is himself a native of British Columbia and who is regarded as a leading authority on the history of the province, handled his subject in a capable and interesting manner. The first part of his address was devoted to an account in considerable detail of the explorations of this province in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries by representatives of Russia, Spain and France who at that time were rivals for the possession of the western part of the North American continent. He told of the voyages of Capt. Behring on behalf of Russia, Capt. Cook, Capt. Vancouver and Capt. Meares on behalf of Great Britain, and Capt. Quadra for Spain. Many interesting incidents in connection with their activities were related and the overland trips of discovery by Sir Alexander Mackenzie, Simon Fraser, David Thompson and others were also described as well of the trips instituted to the West by the Americans after the Declaration of Independence. The relation and effect of important world events of the time such as the Seven Years' War, the French Revolution and the war between the north and south of United States to British Columbia history were clearly shown.

Great Heritage

The early explorers, as reward for their efforts, had gained little more than gnarled hands, bent and broken bodies and early old age but they had played a great part in making British Columbia the great and pleasant country it was today. Canadians of today had a great task to perform but they also had a great heritage. Emphasizing the necessity for British Columbia's well-being of a united Canada, His Lordship declared all that was needed to make this a great country was unity and peace among ourselves with malice toward none and charity toward all. Following in the footsteps of great statesmen of the Dominion who had now passed away, Canadians of today should labor for the establishment of a Canadian national spirit broadly tolerant and designed to embrace every citizen of Canada. His Lordship also urged the advisability of having the history of Canada and British Columbia thoroughly taught in the schools so that the spirit of pride in the native country might be developed and that the zeal of the early explorers and statesmen might be instilled into the rising generation.

To quote the judge's own words: "With charity towards all and malice towards none let us bend our energies to the solution of our country's difficulties. Great as these are, all that is necessary to the application of the task is unity among ourselves and confidence in our country. Let us endeavor to acquire some of the confidence in Canada shown by Macdonald, Brown, Cartier and Tupper and some of that passion for unity shown by Laurier, to speak only of the great Canadians who have passed away. Let us labor to establish here a spirit of Canadian citizenship broadly tolerant enough to embrace every dweller in Canada and make of every such dweller a citizen for Canada's cause."

"If we do this we may be sure that before the twentieth century passes into history there will be here in Canada a population numbering millions of people; men and women who will rejoice in the possession of a prosperous, united, peaceful and peace-loving country, men and women who possibly in their moments of reflection will give a kind thought to our memory because of the good work that we shall have done in Canada, men and women who in their turn will proclaim with all that deep sincerity, with all that strong emotion, with all that burning love with which you and I here and now proclaim the only battle cry that we trust will ever be heard in this Canadian land in the future—forward with stout hearts, unity and peace, Canada always, Canada forever."

The meeting of the club was presided over by Roy McNaughton, president, and Mr. Justice Murphy was introduced by Milton Gonzalez who referred to the fact that the guest was himself a native of British Columbia and a man who had led in his studies as a youth as he was now leading in his life work. It was a privilege for the Gyro Club to have him as a speaker and it was his Mr. Gonzalez' particular privilege to be permitted to introduce such a distinguished guest.

Many Guests Present

There was a large attendance of Gyros and guests at the meeting. Contributing to the program of the evening were J. Shute of Montreal and Miss Nadya Johnstone with vocal solos. Miss Blanche Curtin acting as accompanist. There was community singing under the direction of S. K. Campbell.

In the course of the meeting, W. H. Tobey, C.N.R. superintendent, a new member of the club was welcomed by President McNaughton.

CONVICTION IS QUASHED

Fine of $300 on Clara Brown for Selling Liquor is Ordered Remitted

The conviction last June by Magistrate McClymont of Clara Brown on a charge of selling liquor was quashed and the fine of $300 imposed was ordered returned by Mr. Justice Murphy in the Supreme Court this morning. Certiorari proceedings had been taken by L. W. Patmore on the ground that Miss Brown had been fined after a plea of guilty had been entered by her counsel, W. E. Fisher, without her consent and when she was not actually in court. E. F. Jones appeared in the case on behalf of the finance committee of the city hall.

Miss Brown, herself, at present being in Minneapolis, did not appear in the proceedings; but W. E. Fisher was called to the witness stand. He stated that he had advised his client to plead guilty on the charge and had, accordingly, entered such a plea when she was not present in court. He admitted that he had overstepped the mark. He thought the magistrate had confused this case with some other when he stated in his affidavit that Miss Brown was in court when the plea of guilty was entered.

Cross-examining Mr. Fisher, Mr. Jones attempted to establish that Miss Brown had really meant to enter a plea of not guilty. Otherwise, why had remittance at the plea not been made earlier?

In quashing the conviction, Mr. Justice Murphy stated that when a plea was entered the accused should always be in the courtroom. In view of the circumstances, there was nothing for him to do but to quash the conviction and order return of the fine money. Mr. Patmore waived the question of costs.

This was the only case heard in the Supreme Court this morning. Adjourment was taken until tomorrow morning when the case of Hugh Gillis vs. the Prince Rupert Hotel, a $3,600 damage action, will be proceeded with. An adjournment till next Assizes was to have been asked in this case but counsel have agreed to proceed.

AUTOS COLLIDE BUT NOBODY IS INJURED

Lindsay Cartage Truck Had Impact With Pioneer Laundry Delivery Car This Afternoon

One of the trucks of the Lindsay Cartage Co. became out of control while going down the steep hill on Fourth Avenue East just beyond Colton Street about 1 o'clock this afternoon and, after skidding considerably, struck the Pioneer laundry car which was on the runway beside Sid Hamblin's house. With the laundry car partly under it, the larger vehicle is now hanging over the roadway on the south side. When the collision occurred, Mr. Hamblin was just preparing to back into the street and had three children sitting with him. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Headaches and Biliousness

Are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

When you feel irritable, cranky and downhearted, you can easily blame the liver, for there is no organ in the human body which so quickly throws the system out of sorts as a torpid, sluggish liver. You do not need to be in the blues long, if you know about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for by their direct action on the liver they relieve promptly and prove lastingly beneficial.

Once the liver is right the bowels function regularly and the whole digestive system resumes its work. You feel fine and take a delight in telling others of the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This is why this favorite prescription of Dr. Chase is so popular and is found in every store where medicines are sold.

PARENTS ARE FALLING DOWN

Closer Watch Should be Kept on Habits and Associations Says Ontario Official

TORONTO, Dec. 3.—"It is a sad fact that parents today are falling down in their duty to their children," commented J. J. Kelso, Ontario Superintendent of Neglected Children, in speaking of Juvenile Delinquency. "Fathers and mothers throughout Canada should seriously consider their responsibilities and turn over a new leaf in dealing with children. They should exercise closer supervision of their child's habits and companions, combine kindness and firmness, require obedience and respect and spend more of their time in getting acquainted. Above all they should avoid dispute in the presence of the child and having a divided policy of management."

The other day a county constable arrived with a boy sentenced to three years in the Reform School, continued Mr. Kelso. "He was a smart, interesting lad and it was hard to understand why he should have to go to a reformatory. The commitment papers were in good order, and the evidence revealed the cause. To the magistrate the mother said: 'I could control him if his father would make him do as I say when at home. The father and I disagree in matters of control.' The principal of the school was present and added: 'The parents have no control over this lad and he comes and goes when he pleases.'"

DINNER TO BRIAND COST $200 A PLATE

PARIS, Dec. 3.—The recent dinner at the Soviet Embassy given by the new Ambassador Bakowsky to Premier Aristide Briand, is estimated to have cost more than $200 a plate. The rarest of old wines, caviar from the Danube and pheasant that had been brought by airplane from Scottish moors and was served flanked with baby squabs, were some of the details of the menu. It looked as if the czar's ambassador and not the representative of the Russian people were entertaining at the Embassy mansion on the rue de Grenelle.

Police lines were formed to keep the entrance clear so that the limousines of the guests could enter and leave without difficulty.

FLAT RACING OF SEASON ENDED

Saucy Sue Went Through Without Defeat: Picaroon Favorite for Next Year

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The English flat racing season of 1925, which was closed on November 28, with the Manchester meeting and the Manchester November Handicap, has been on the whole interesting, but without any very remarkable features.

The brown colt Picaroon, by Beppo-Ciceronetta, best of the two-year olds last season, was hailed as the champion classic colt this year. Mishaps in training forced his withdrawal in the spring after he had won the Craven Stakes at Newmarket. He was unable to start in the Two Thousand Guineas and the Derby, for which he had been the winter favorite, and in the season's latest classic the St. Leger, he ran fourth. He may prove to be one of the best of the older division next year.

Lord Astor's filly Saucy Sue, by Swynford-Good and Gay, went through the season without a defeat, and as she had won all her starts as a two-year-old, she was acclaimed the champion filly—which she was, undoubtedly. But though easily the winner of the two fillies' classics, the One Thousand Guineas and the Oaks, Saucy Sue came to grief when she ran with the high class colts at Doncaster, and ran placed twice. She had not previously contended with classic colts.

H. E. Morriss' Manna, (Phalaris-Waffles), winner of this year's Derby and also of the Two Thousand Guineas, suffered defeat at Ascot in the Derby Stakes. The victor, Sir John Rutherford's Solaric won the St. Leger, Manna finishing tenth. Manna had been defeated as a two-year-old by both Picaroon and Solaric. He cannot be styled the season's champion colt, though he won two of the three colts' classics.

The public was finally deprived of a match it had expected all season—the meeting of Manna and Saucy Sue, in the fifth classic, the St. Leger. Saucy Sue did not run, but in view of her performance in two other races at Doncaster, it is probable she would have been outclassed by Solaric and others, even if she finished better than Manna.

Saucy Sue, Manna, Picaroon and Solaric, along with the company of classic contenders that occupied the limelight this season, will reappear next year to furnish competition in the big handicaps and other important races given over to the three-year-olds and up, while their places will be taken by the present two-year-olds. Among the latter, to judge by their performances this season, the outstanding competitors will be Sir Abe Bailey's Lex, Lord Woolavington's Coronach, the Aga Khan's Moti Mahal, J. H. Hornum's Appie Sammy and Lord Barnby's Review Order.

SPORT CHAT

H. C. Milburn of Montreal, assistant general manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, has forwarded to the city a handsome cup to be competed for by the ladies' teams of Northern British Columbia. The cup is the outcome of keen interest that was taken by Mr. Milburn in a game last spring at Anxoy between the Maple Leafs of this city and the Blue Birds of the smelter town. Mr. Milburn happened to be on a tour of inspection of the coast at that time. The cup has been turned over to Eddie Mann of this city and a ladies' Northern B.C. Championship series will probably be held in the course of the winter to decide its ownership for the first year.

Before every pugilistic contest of any importance, the principals make plenty of statements about their confidence but in recent years there have been few instances of the fighters backing their alleged confidence with their own money, in large or small amounts, observes Damon Runyon, famous sport writer. There have been few instances like that of Stanley Ketchel, one time middleweight champion of the world, who drew all the money that was coming to him for a fight with Joe Thomas in 'Frisco in 1907 and bet it on himself, finally winning with a knockout after 32 rounds of gruelling battle. Harry Greb, one of the few boxers today who likes to bet on himself. He also likes to bet on fights in which he is not a participant.

PRESENTATION MADE TO ERNEST LOVE BY STAFF OF UTILITIES

A pleasant little ceremony took place yesterday afternoon at the City Hall when members of the utilities department staff presented the retiring superintendent, Ernest Love, with a pipe, pouch and fittings. A delegation consisting of city treasurer Matheson, wire chief Massie and succeeding superintendent Little waited upon Mr. Love on behalf of the staff. The presentation was made by J. J. Little, the new superintendent, who expressed the sentiment of the employees in a suitable manner on the occasion of Mr. Love's departure. Mr. Love replied, stating that he would always remain interested in the work in this city.

Mr. Love left on last night's steamer for Stewart where he will assume the management of the Stewart Light Co. in which he has become interested.

COMPULSORY VOTING COMMENDED BY PAPER

(Vancouver Sun)
Success of the Compulsory Voting Act in the recent Australian elections should commend a similar measure to the attention of the Canadian people. Prior to this election, and under the old non-obligatory system, the number of votes cast in Australia never exceeded 60 per cent of the possible. The new act brought out 97 per cent of the electorate to the polls.

This means that for the first time in Australia's history the government actually represents the will of the majority of the Australian people.

If democracy as a political system has any virtue at all, it should be given the fullest possible effect. But, until at least 90 per cent of the electorate is brought to the polls, it cannot possibly be given full effect.

BOYS' BAND IS WELL RECEIVED

Good Concert Given Last Night When Lads Made Debut at Empress Theatre

Considering the time the boys have been practicing, the concert they gave at the Empress Theatre last night was an excellent one. A few months ago hardly one of the lads knew anything at all about music or the playing of an instrument. Last night they showed that, while they had a good deal to learn, they are making wonderful progress and in a couple of months time should be able to make their debut at the Westholme. Great credit is due to their bandmaster, Thomas Wilson, who has succeeded in getting such excellent results. The Rotary Club, which pays the bandmaster and which, through their representative Colonel Nicholls initiated the movement, is to be congratulated on having started a movement that is likely to expand and should result in the formation of a good band here.

Opening March

The opening march was the one with which the band was most familiar and the one they seemed to like best. It was played with great precision. The sacred selections were more difficult. People always like to hear marches and they become particularly useful for outdoor purposes.

The concert last night should encourage the band and bandmaster to continue the work until they attain proficiency. The native bands will be here again in the fall and they will then have a chance to compare their playing with that of the visitors. Those taking part last night were: M. Bussanich, F. Derry

Two of the members of the band, the Bussanich Bros., gave a mandolin duet and were recalled again and again. Their playing was excellent. Thomas Wilson in his cornet solos was much enjoyed. Wismer and Jimmy Bryant played well and showed the result of excellent training in their instrumental duet. Miss Nada Johnstone always sing well and her efforts last night were no exception to the rule. F. Rice was particularly entertaining in his parody in which he described a poker game at Alice Arm. Miss Catherine Jones was in good voice in her solos. The program follows:

CHATS ABOUT LEGISLATURE

Interesting Little Sidelights on the Ministers and Their Work.

(W. A. deGraves in Vancouver Star)

What Hon. A. M. Manson believes is "a dangerous and unexpected alliance" has developed between Hon. John Oliver and H. Despard Twigg, the Victoria opposition member.

The alliance developed when the amendments to the Motor Vehicle Act were in committee. Mr. Twigg made a suggestion regarding the placing of stickers on windshields. Mr. Manson did not agree with him. In fact at quite some length he disagreed, and then was astounded when Premier Oliver loomed up alongside him and said that he believed there was much merit in Mr. Twigg's contention. The premier even went further. He believed that Mr. Twigg was right and Hon. Mr. Manson was wrong. "Well I did not know I was going to run up against this dangerous and unexpected alliance," he said. "I can see grief ahead if it continues," but the A.G. was smiling as he said it, and the House enjoyed the situation.

Isn't it the Limit

A little later it was Mr. Manson's turn to chuckle. The same bill was still in committee and the minimum age for chauffeurs was before the members for discussion. There was considerable back and forth comment, and then quite seriously R. H. Pooley, leader of the opposition, asked the attorney-general if he had ever considered putting an age limit on drivers who were getting on in years.

"Say when a man gets about 68. Can he handle a car then with safety?" he asked. "I think that should be considered."

The A. G. agreed. In fact the discussion got quite serious, with Premier Oliver looking puzzled. The premier was on his feet explaining that he did not think it necessary. In fact he believed that when a man got too old to drive he would know it himself, and there was no need to have such a clause. He offered himself as an example, and then a big light dawned on him.

It appeared that coming down to the parliament buildings that morning the premier himself had figured in an auto crash in which he damaged another machine, and all this little by-play was the result.

As he sank back in his chair he threw his head back to give a hearty "Haw, haw, haw," only to be brought to seriousness again by the query as to whether he was to be given a blue license card in view of the accident.

Mr. Manson stated that it would be entirely up to the magistrate. No doubt he could be trusted to deal severely with any infractions, if such were proved. Again the premier's "haw, haw, haw" boomed out, and having taken a five minute rise out of "Honest John" the House settled down again.

New Oriental Menace

Native Sons of British Columbia are injecting themselves into politics in a constructive manner. The new clause in the Motor Vehicle Act which gives the police superintendent power to refuse a driver's license to anyone unable to read the regulations or the road signs, is the result of representations made by the Native Sons of B.C. The British Columbians point out that at the present time there are a number of Orientals driving trucks and cars who cannot read English and who are a potential accident source whenever they are on the road.

Matter of Habit

There are plenty of good stories going the rounds since the visit of the Washington State legislators last week.

One specially deals with a group of five or six who were taken from the boat to the hotel on landing and were invited to the room of a British Columbia man to enjoy his hospitality.

They were all sitting down in the room and the bottle had passed around, when there came a knock on the door. It was only the bell-boy with cracked ice and water, but it was noticed that with the knock each visitor's hand with the glass went behind his back.

It took them a minute or two to realize they weren't "busting"

Canadian Spirit

The speaker urged that the Rotary Club, through its influential associations, in co-operation with other similar bodies, investigate the scope and character of the instruction in Canadian history in the Canadian schools, with a view to making this an indispensable feature of Canada's educational system, in the interest of development of a truly pervasive and progressive Canadian spirit.

George McGregor was applauded when he urged the need of a Canadian flag, declaring that the Red Ensign, with Canada's escutcheon on the fly, is not a true Canadian banner.

Seeing is Believing

Another sight seen was two of the visitors with a camera taking a photograph of a line-up of bottles, each one with a different label.

"They'll never believe it if we don't show them the pictures," they said. "They think this stuff is obsolete now."

He Wants to Know

Mr. Pattullo, speaking on the budget debate.

"It is no use crying about the Pacific Great Eastern. Here it is, and it is here to stay."

Harry Perry, member for Fort George, and a leader in the fight to have the road completed: "Yes, but where is it?"

URGE TEACHING ABOUT CANADA

Children Should be Literally "Sleeping in Canada" Says Victoria Speaker

VICTORIA, Dec. 3.—Addressing the Rotary Club here, B. C. Nicholas, editor of the Times, spoke on "Canada" and urged study of Canadian history, pointing out that commercial and material power was not the major basis of the Dominion's security, the mental and moral development of the younger generation being of vastly greater importance.

"We cannot unite Canada on the basis of commerce, in fact, economies have a tendency towards disunity, Canada can only become united by a strong, pervasive Canadianism.

"The more you Canadianize our people, the stronger is the Imperial unit you create," he said amid applause.

Lay Foundation

"The best way to lay the foundation of this Canadian consciousness is through the schools," Mr. Nicholas urged, "insist that young people should be literally sleeping in Canada—particularly in Canadian history. Recent years have witnessed a great improvement in this matter, although we have still a long way to go in this direction.

The speaker pointed out that the history of no country was better suited to the gradual process of the young Canadian mind than that of this Dominion. It is full of interest and inspiration from beginning to end.

The teaching of it should be regarded as a national necessity, as something of special importance and not as a mere casual feature of our curriculum. If the minds of young Canadians are planted deeply in the soil of four centuries of Canadian history, with all its fine inspiration and examples, there will be a bond established which will resist the allurements of pretentious materialism so greatly in evidence on a large part of this continent.

Canadian Spirit

The speaker urged that the Rotary Club, through its influential associations, in co-operation with other similar bodies, investigate the scope and character of the instruction in Canadian history in the Canadian schools, with a view to making this an indispensable feature of Canada's educational system, in the interest of development of a truly pervasive and progressive Canadian spirit.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

NUTS are things that fall and that girls marry.

IF winter would only come in the spring I might be able to buy a cheap overcoat in readiness for it.

ONE man thinks one thing is wrong with Prince Rupert and another thinks another thing is wrong and then there's the man that thinks the thinking of the other fellow is all wrong.

I KNOW its going to be a hard winter because cash is running low and my credit is not as good as it used to be.

MORE power to you, as Woodworth Lake remarked to the city of Prince Rupert.

AUSTEN Chamberlain is rather out of date. Just at the time the sheiks are giving up the use of garters, he accepts one from the King.

THIS is the time to prepare. Santa Claus 'll get you if you don't watch out.

OLD Santa Claus

With the grizzly head Bent low with his pack O'er the children's bed, And he looked and sighed And looked once more For girls were few And his heart was sore. But he whispered a thought That we all can remember To make a real Christmas This end of December.

Peggy—I don't look like myself at all in this new hat. Patrice—No, dear; I think you made a very wise selection.

In The Letter Box

COW BAY PROBLEMS

Editor, Daily News:

Allow me a little space in your valuable paper in regard to the filling in of Cow Bay and the offer made by the minister of lands, Mr. Pallullo. I would suggest that the city accept the offer.

In regard to the foreshore and the protection for the fishing fleet around Cow Bay. I have been a resident of Prince Rupert since 1906 and always had a boat. At one time a one-man power and at others a ten horse power, and sometimes no power but all the time I have had a boat and have been always looking out for the protection of that boat.

Only Fifteen Feet

In regard to Cow Bay I really don't think if it came to law that the city has anything to do with it except something like fifteen feet of riparian rights where the sewer comes in. I would leave the matter to be decided by Mr. Pillsbury, he having been superintendent engineer and surveyor laying out the townsite in co-operation with Mr. Bacon, harbor engineer for the Grand Trunk. We have always had Mr. Pillsbury with us, as since then he has been superintendent of the dry dock here. Any information in regard to harbor improvements he would give in order to assist in the matter if approached for advice regarding protection to the fishing fleet. Cow Bay will be filled, that is certain.

Ever since I came here there have been discussions in regard to the waterfront and floats. I can safely say that so far as protection to our fishing fleet the Dominion Government has not spent one dollar. The Provincial Government has tried to do a little toward that end, but it has only been patchwork, nothing permanent. Now, seeing that we have the largest fishing fleet on the Pacific Coast, certainly it must have protection. I don't think it is up to the city to spend any money on harbor improvements. It is up to the Dominion Government. Our fleet is getting larger every year and there must be something done for all the crafts, not losing sight of our trolling fleet as well as our halibut fleet.

Boat Club

I would suggest that the boat club be removed to the other side of the drydock, it being a very suitable place with good shelter from the southeast, the drydock acting as a breakwater for all the floats of the club. A fine road leads to it and seeing that most of the members have automobiles it is not far out of the way and those who have no car can walk. Industry must be put before pleasure.

I think it nearly time our city should appoint a harbor board or harbor commissioners to look into these matters.

I see by the press several steamers are coming here for repairs. Look at our halibut fleet, all jammed there for the winter. They could be ordered out any time to make room for larger steamships coming in.

Thanking you for space,
ROBERT HANNA,
Fisherman.

What would Christmas mean without Santa Claus & the kiddies?

Who is there that does not fondly recall the few short years when we really did believe there was a Santa Claus? Who is there that does not take keen delight in perpetuating that ancient legend with their children?

It is Santa Claus and the kiddies that represent the true spirit of Christmas cheer.

Come, bring the youngsters in, let them look at and handle our toys, it will give them a better idea to know what they want before writing Santa Claus.
