CREW OF MISSING SEAPLANE IS RESCUED

ATTENDANCE AT THE FAIR WAS BETTER THIS YEAR THAN EVER BEFORE

Crew of Missing Seaplane was Picked up Last Night near the Hawaiian Island by Submarine

All five were alive and refused to leave their boat until towed to port; Commander Rogers rewarded

HONOLULU, Sept. 11.—The crew of the missing naval seaplane was found last night fifteen miles east of Kauai by a United States submarine which was searching for it.

The plane was picked up approximately 450 miles west of the point where they were forced to alight. The five men who were aboard drifted 218 hours. Their food had been exhausted four days but they managed to secure sufficient water to assuage their thirst by draping canvas from the wings of the plane and using it to catch the rain drops.

On being discovered, the rescued crew refused to leave the plane and were towed into port, being determined to see the voyage through. They showed the strain they had been under during the nine days of their perilous voyage. The wings of the plane were badly smashed by the seas but the hull was intact.

Commander Promoted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Commander Rogers, who was rescued from the seaplane near Hawaii yesterday, was today appointed assistant chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics.

Heard Messages

HONOLULU, Sept. 11.—The rescued crew of the naval seaplane, which was picked up yesterday, reported on landing that they listened to radio messages from the searching ships saying the hope of rescue had been abandoned and that the seaplane had cracked. Owing to the fact that part of the radio equipment on the plane was under water, they were unable to send out messages.

At one time they sighted a ship five miles away but were unable to attract attention.

Last night Sergeant Bailey of the local police force had just completed the installation of a new radio set when he happened to tune in on a station announcing the rescue of Commander Rogers and his four men, who had been located alive near Honolulu.

EIGHTH PART PORTER IDAHO MINE IS SOLD

Stock Placed in Escrow in Bank for Next Eighteen Months to Prevent Sale

Walter C. Blanton and Oran F. Hill of Hyder, Alaska, are here today on their way home from Vancouver after completing a deal whereby the one-eighth interest in the Porter Idaho mining property at the Marmot River passes from Philip E. Rees to a group of Hyder and Stewart men for the sum of $30,702 cash. The purchasers are Walter C. Blanton, Oran F. Hill, William Bunting, William B. Footh, Felix Seppi and J. A. Hall. The stock, it is agreed, is to be placed in escrow along with the stock of Clay Porter, managing director, John McCullum and Lea Levin until February 1, 1927. This prevents any of the treasury stock going on the market during the development period.

The fact that this stock is purchased by local people who see the mine and its operation is an encouraging feature of the mining outlook.

FROST ON PRAIRIES BUT LITTLE DAMAGE

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11.—Various points on the prairies reported from five to six degrees of frost last night, but as only a small quantity of coarse grain is left uncut the damage to the crops will be slight.

DELEGATES HERE FOR CONVENTION

Liberals Gather Here to Nominate Candidate This Evening in Metropole Hall

This is the night of the Liberal convention, when a candidate will be chosen to represent the party in the contest which is about to take place. So far as can be ascertained, Fred Stork will get the nomination, but it is possible that interior delegates may propose a man, although this is hardly likely.

The convention takes place in Metropole Hall.

A number of delegates from interior points will be present and places not represented have in most cases sent their proxies.

Those who arrived last evening on the train, or will arrive this evening, include S. J. Mavner, J. Mason Adams and Olaf Hanson, of Smithers; S. Godwin of Burns Lake; C. Harr of Ootsa Lake, and Mrs. Bennett of the same place; Robert A. Allan of Hanall; Mr. Elliott of Kispiox; Mr. Myron of Skeena Crossing, and Mr. Little of Woodcock.

"Goodbank," ridden by Steve Donoghue, wins the Goodwood Cup. It was the premier English jockey's first race since his Grand Prix spill.

Paid Admissions to Fair More Numerous Than Ever This Year Despite Unfavorable Weather

Paid admissions to the Fair Building yesterday exclusive of season tickets and passes, totalled 1461 setting up a high record for one day's attendance at the Prince Rupert Exhibition. On the third day last year 905 persons paid admission to the building and the year before that, 728.

The weather cleared up sufficiently in the afternoon to permit of the baseball and football games being played and 204 persons paid admissions to the grounds.

The art gallery proved more popular than ever yesterday when 347 persons entered.

In spite of unfavorable weather on the first two days, the total paid admissions by the date to the Fair building this year, 2,691, exceed the record for three days last year, which was 2,415, and that of 1923, which was 2,349.

Exhibits are being removed this afternoon, and the Fair will close with a masque ball to-night.

Bilked Lighthouse Keeper but Is Now in Toils and Will Soon Be Tried in Vancouver Courts

SEATTLE, Sept. 11.—After serving eight lonely years as a lighthouse keeper on Unimak Island, Alaska, George Alexius saved $10,000.

Deciding to pay a visit to his old home in Copenhagen, he visited Vancouver several weeks ago where he met with confidence men who bilked him out of his fortune through a wire tapping game.

Yesterday Alexius recognized one of the men, J. L. Robinson, on the street here and held him until the arrival of the police.

Vancouver detectives identified Robinson and he will be sent back to the Canadian city for trial.

FAILED FIND GOLD PLACER
Party of Prospectors Trek 280 Miles from Interior of Cassiar Without Grub
ARRIVE AT GOLD PAN
Trusted to Live on Game But Rifle Broke and Were Starved and Exhausted

SEATTLE, Sept. 11.—A half-starved and exhausted party of prospectors arrived at Gold Pan Creek during the summer after making a 280-mile hike from the interior of Cassiar, where they had been on an unsuccessful search for a placer deposit discovered years ago by Alex Capewell, formerly of Seattle.

Capewell led the party. They travelled light, with nothing but their guns and ten pounds of flour. They had expected to live on game killed en route, but the only rifle they carried broke soon after starting on the return trip and they were then left almost without means of subsistence.

Word of the unsuccessful venture has been received here from Capewell.

KING CHARGES NO FAIR PLAY

Premier Declares That is What People of Canada Wish to See

CAYUGA, Ont., Sept. 11.—Premier Mackenzie King at a meeting held here yesterday charged Sir Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative opposition, with misrepresentation and falsehoods. He declared that Canada wanted fair play even in politics and he accepted the Conservative leader's challenge in regard to the proposed reform of the Senate. He declared that senators should not be appointed for life and denied a charge of hamstringing senators before their appointment and pledging them to support anything the Government might propose.

Staging Exhibition Is Important Work.

Staging an exhibition is important work. Originality, energy and organizing ability is necessary to do it successfully. Something new has to be done each year and old things have to be done in a new way. Old exhibits if shown differently have a new appearance.

While a great many visitors come to Prince Rupert for the fair the residents of the city are the ones on whom the management depend chiefly for support. They are the ones whose attendance counts. If they are attracted the fair is a success and if they are not it fails.

Naturally there has to be co-operation from outside. We have often spoken of that and done whatever was possible to foster it. At the same time it must always be remembered that the people at home put up most of the money and have to be considered in making arrangements.

Having that in view it is well to carry on the work of the fair accordingly.

Flaying The Enemy To Be Chief Sport.

Flaying the political enemy will be the chief sport during the next few weeks. We shall have reports come through on the wires telling of what one politician says about another and of the terrible things either has done or left undone. The country is going to the dogs of course under the King regime and from the other side we shall be told that if it goes to the dogs the opposition is responsible.

Happily we do not have to believe all the statements made on either side. We, out in this far west, may sit back and watch the game and enjoy the sport, if such it may be called. Sometimes we do not like the spectacle and other times it is very amusing.

The tragedy of the political game is that politicians are often unscrupulous and do not mind injuring the country in efforts to injure political opponents. For the past year or two the Athelton press has been sending out its "whisper of death" propaganda which has done much to injure Canada. Happily the people generally have sense enough to see through the calumnies that have been poured out.

Age Of Adventure Not Yet Passed.

The adventurers of the world have been those who have gone down in history as great and whose achievements have been applauded. The steady plodder has seldom been heard of. We like to read of the piratical exploits of our forefathers, who scoured the seven seas in search of adventure. We thrill over the daring of the polar explorers. The men who tried to conquer the world become more or less heroes.

So today we have our adventurers. Every day almost we read of the feat of some hardy group. The flight of Colonel Williams to the interior of the province, the attempted flight of the U.S. aviators across the Pacific, the search for placer gold by a group of men who trekked without provisions to the interior of Cassiar and arrived back half starved and thoroughly exhausted. These are deeds of adventure that took nerve and spirit. We admire the men who made the attempts as well as those who succeeded. They become more or less heroes in our eyes.

General Interest In Airplane Crew.

General interest was taken here in the crew of the airplane that was lost off Honolulu and which today we are glad to record are quite safe. The flight was not at first watched with very great interest here, except by aviators, until one machine dropped out and later no word could be obtained of the other. At once the flight went into the limelight and since that there have been daily inquiries as to the fate of the crew. Happily the adventure has ended without fatality.

URGE EDUCATE FOR LIFE WORK

John Kyle Addresses Rotary Club on Tendency of Modern Systems

A plea for education that will train young people to do that which is to be their life work, was the theme of an illuminating address delivered yesterday afternoon to the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon in the St. Regis cafe, President Thomas McClymont in the chair.

Mr. Kyle opened by stating that there was a school of academics today which taught that there was a general education course which would prepare pupils for anything in the world at which they might have to work. Thinking people today were saying there was no such thing as a general course. The school of the future would provide more specific training. Ruskin said that no teaching would truly promote the cause of education that did not take into consideration the condition of life to which they had to prepare the children. In other words they must educate them for life.

Business Enterprise

Technical education, Mr. Kyle defined as a business enterprise. It was trying to find out what the child was fitted for and train for that. This system would effect all education in the 20th century. Ruskin's idea was to train to do some one thing with the hand well and in that way to train the faculties.

The Nineteenth century had not been famous for technical education but the twentieth would be. H. G. Wells stated that education had to be invigorated and reinvigorated to counteract classicalism and the evasion of life. There would have to be a change in the present system. The school of the future would be different from that of today. He anticipated that the report of the educational commission would pay great attention to education for trades. The establishment of a junior high school would enable pupils to specialize at an earlier age and to find out what they were fitted for. In the junior high school there would be four divisions devoted respectively to academic education, technical, home economics and commercial education. Already it had been tried with success in Great Britain, Ontario and some parts of the United States. In this province people would be compelled to adopt it to keep up with the trend of the time. "It can be done and is being done," he said. "It is good business."

The speaker said they were often warned not to commercialize education. This was highfalutin nonsense. "Have we to despise work?" he asked. "In British Columbia we have to develop the natural resources around us and we should not consider doing this to be commercializing education. Going to Normal school is commercializing education. It is necessary for the young people to think of how they will earn their daily bread for doing so is important."

Mr. Kyle spoke of the movement in United States to develop skilled labor in their own country. He told of how skilled labor applied to a block of clay changing it from a three cent brick to a dollar piece of pottery work. He told of a lecture given to students at a graduating dinner, where it was urged to respect those who worked with their hands and who were artists at their trades.

More Moral

Concluding, Mr. Kyle said that people who worked with their hands were as a class more moral and had a higher tone than those who did not. He spoke of the general low moral tone of the artist and the literary man and pointed to the work of the carpenter of Nazareth. "Who are the moral men?" he asked. "Are they the opium eaters, the drinkers, those who live low lives?" It was seldom they ever heard of an immoral scientist because scientists were seekers after the truth.

The present system would have to change. Here in Prince Rupert it would be easy to graft anew on the old. Already there was a commercial class in the high school and it would be easy to build on the present plant for a technical school. Night schools would be a great aid. These night schools were the most democratic institutions in the world. By means of them a person could reach the university without going through the high school. He told of instances where this had been done and where worthy young men had found their opportunity.

Two of the Judges, Messrs. Black and Reid spoke briefly. Mr. Black said he had been astonished at the quality of the grains, grasses and field roots shown at the fair.

SECRETS IS STORY OF FOUR PERIODS

Norma Talmadge Seen in Varied Guises in Picture at Westholme Tonight

The story "Secrets" showing tonight at the Westholme, starts in England, goes back by way of the heroine's diary to the romantic days of the 1860's, moves to the frontier of Western America, and winds up where it began in the London of modern times.

Thus it is that four different Norma Talmadge's, in four different periods appear.

There is Norman, the London school girl in billowing crinolines, a capricious young peeress, who elopes with her father's clerk on a high wheel bicycle in 1865 and sails for America.

There is Norma, the young wife and mother pioneering in a far-off Wyoming cabin — a fighting Norma who takes pistol in hand and aligns herself with the men who battle to save her husband and babe from an outlaw band.

Next there is the Norma of middle age, back in London in the 1870's. This time the little mother, who lost her first born in the bleak foothills of the Rockies, is seen in the settings of luxury as the matron of a growing family. She is still the fighting mother, but fighting this time to save her inconstant husband from disgracing himself in an intrigue with a notorious beauty. Just as she fought for her infant in far-away Wyoming, so Norma battles again for her home and her children—and her husband's love.

And lastly, there is Norma, aged, wrinkled, white-haired, marked by the battles of life but withal still beautiful, who sits at the bedside of her husband, doing her best to help him fight off death—and succeeding.

The whole story is splendid glorification of the steadfast love and unshaken loyalty of a good wife, and of all the pictures in which she has appeared Norma says she likes "Secret's" best.

"It's a story of the days of our granddaddies and grandmother's with such an appealing theme," says the star. "At times, while working on the set, I imagined I was really the little mother of the story and had a good cry then and there. And with an orchestra playing old time melodies it isn't so difficult to cry as one would think."

DOMINION LOAN IS IN GREAT DEMAND

Orders from Large Institutions Pared Down to Allow Small Investor Chance

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—Judging by orders received, the Dominion loan, 1925, has almost set a record for successful government financing. Orders for financial institutions have been larger than in either of the previous refunding loans, each of which was recorded as so highly successful. Had all the orders received from institutions been accepted in full, only a small amount of bonds would have been available for other classes of investors. It is understood, however, that the large orders have been scaled down by the syndicate to the extent of more than fifty per cent, and as a result more than one-half of the loan will be available to the smaller private buyers.

In adopting this plan the syndicate has followed its policy of endeavoring to arrange as far as possible to fill all orders from private investors and to assure a coast-to-coast distribution of the new loan. Although public offering commenced only yesterday, and although bond-house prospectuses were not mailed until last evening, it is stated that a flood of small orders is already in sight.

The reception accorded the new loan is a tribute to the financial stability of Canada and Canadians. The fact that Canada has proven herself duly capable of financing her own requirements, plays an important part in so strengthening Canada's credit abroad that her securities are in demand in the principal money markets of the world.

ANYOX WINS AT BASEBALL

Local Team Went Down to Defeat in Match in Fall Fair Series
ENTITLED TO WIN
Pitching of Bruce for Visitors Was Responsible for Victory Yesterday

The pitching of Bruce, who kept the locals down to one hit in six innings, although he was touched for four in the seventh and last, was the responsible factor for the win of Anyox by a score of 8 to 6 in yesterday afternoon's baseball game. Bruce fanned out only seven of the local batters, but he had a puzzling delivery and the local batters were not able to connect effectively, although they found the ball on several occasions only to pop it out to the infield where they were readily put out. The Anyox team played superior baseball and were fully entitled to win. Chet Schlenker started in the box for Prince Rupert but was unable to hold the visitors. He was yanked in favor of Dan Lidstone in the fourth inning after he had allowed four hits in the third and got himself in a box in the fourth by filling the bases and walking the fourth batter for a forced run. After settling down, Lidstone pitched good ball for the remainder of the game and fanned eight batters in three and a half innings. Had the change of pitchers been made earlier in the game, it is altogether likely that the result might have been much different.

The visitors scored three runs in the third inning and four in the fourth, picking up another in the sixth. In the fourth, Vic Menzies made a two-bagger for Prince Rupert and scored Balfour, who had been walked, this being the first hit and run of the game for the locals. As a result of a couple of errors, Howard Frizzell made a run in the sixth. When the locals went to bat for the last time in the seventh inning, the score was 8 to 2 against them. Bruce, the Anyox hurler, commenced to weaken and it looked like the locals still had a chance. Excitement grew rather tense with a climactic finish in prospect, but the lead was too great to overcome. Prince Rupert got four safe hits—all singles—and as many runs, but this was as far as they could stretch it, and when the third man was put down the final score was 8 to 6.

The two teams are playing again this afternoon and, with Prince Rupert at full strength, as they were not yesterday, the most interesting baseball game of the Fair Week series should ensue.

Details of Game
Details of yesterday's game were as follows:

stone 5, off Bruce 5.
Score by innings:

OCEAN FALLS BEAT RUPERT

Visitors Captured First Football Game Last Night by 2 to 1

The Ocean Falls football team put up a fine exhibition of soccer yesterday afternoon and, outplaying the locals, defeated Prince Rupert by a score of 2 to 1. The men from the paper town were speedy with the ball and had a particularly fast forward line. The whole team was in good form and was fully entitled to its victory. The Prince Rupert team suffered from lack of combination. The work of both goal-keepers was particularly good. Howlett, for Prince Rupert, saved one penalty shot that was driven directly at him, and almost stopped another.

There was no scoring in the first half, although Smith missed a penalty for Ocean Falls. Scott opened the scoring for Prince Rupert at the beginning of the second half with a penalty shot. Mitchell missed on an equalizing score from close in. The winning goal was made for Ocean Falls by Paul from a penalty.

G. S. Russell was referee, A. Clapperton and F. Woram were linesmen, and the teams took the field as follows:
Ocean Falls—W. Marshall; O. K. Lord and R. Main; J. Gunn, L. G. Best and W. Chapman; J. Paul, T. Faichen, J. Munro, W. Smith and W. Mitchell.
Prince Rupert—A. H. Howlett; G. Howe and W. E. Willisroff; J. Harris, S. Currie and R. Woods; C. Wiper, R. McDougall, D. Scott, W. Mitchell and D. Jack.

There will be another game between Prince Rupert and Ocean Falls tomorrow afternoon. The Prince Rupert line-up will be selected tonight.

Smoker After Game
Following the game last night, a smoker was held by the Prince Rupert Football Association in compliment to the visitors. Geo. Hill presided, and among those speaking were J. McSwan, manager, and George Best, captain of the Ocean Falls team. Contributing to the program with various numbers were W. Keith, W. Mitchell, A. Allen, W. Smith, B. Lilley and W. Marshall of Ocean Falls, and Dave Scott, J. Black, A. Murray, A. Bales, W. Mitchell, D. Jack, W. Davies, A. Clapperton, J. Johnson and J. Harris of Prince Rupert. The Ocean Falls Glee Club also gave acceptable numbers. W. Vaughan Davies was accompanied for the evening.

Sport Chat

Local nimrods have now only a few days to wait before the official opening of the season in this district. In fact the deer hunters may start out at the end of the week for the season opens on Saturday, September 12. Parties that have been cruising around the deer haunts lately report that game seems to be as plentiful as ever and there will no doubt be many parties out this week en' to bag a buck before they are frustrated to the mountain-tops, there to stay until snow forces them down again later in the season. The shotgun experts may start out on September 15, when the season for ducks, geese, etc., opens. It is said that the birds are coming south earlier than usual this year. If that is the case, early season hunting may be better than it usually is. The season for blue grouse opens on September 12, and for willow grouse on October 15. The trapping season and bag-limit rules are similar to last year.

Babe Ruth, idol of millions of baseball fans, is suspended by his manager for "misconduct," which means, in this case, drunkenness, disobedience and a swelled head, says the Vancouver Sun. The signature of this man on a horseshoe ball, has been prized more highly than original signatures of Shakespeare. And now, like other idols with clay feet, he has been tumbled to earth, shown up as a bragging, licentious, fat man, with nothing but a quick eye and a strong arm. It is not the fault of Babe Ruth. It is the fault of an educational system that teaches young democracy to look to the wrong men for its idols. The great mass of the people have been taught to know good actors, good politicians and good ball players when they see them. But they have never been taught to know good MEN when they find them. The world has confused aptness with roodness, attractiveness with righteousness and amusement with real accomplishment. And so, putting its Babe Ruths, who are skilful, attractive and amusing, up on a pedestal for worship and imitation, it need not be surprised when they sometimes tumble down.

George and D. C. Meltae and Bert Morgan of this city. Speaking of the innovation of Buyers' Week here, Mr. Meltae gave a review of what had been done by the committee and stated that, while the results this year had not been up to expectations, he thought the idea would be ultimately successful and should be carried on with. He suggested some ways and means by which improvements might be effected. The other speakers held similar opinions, all agreeing that Buyers' Week was an institution that should be continued.

Zam-Buk is a Blessing in the Home

CHILD'S TERRIBLE BURNS.—Mr. A. Summers, Postmaster of Goldow, Sask., writes: "Zam-Buk performed wonderful healing in the case of my little two-year-old boy who fell from his chair against a red-hot heater. One side of his face and his ear were just frizzled. I dressed the burns liberally with this soothing Zam-Buk daily. In two weeks Zam-Buk grew beautiful new skin."

FROST-BITTEN EARS HEALED.—"While going to school one morning I got both my ears badly frozen," writes Miss Mary Herrington of Harwood, N.B. "They were swollen twice normal size and were intensely itchy. Fortunately I had some Zam-Buk on hand and applied it immediately I got indoors. The relief Zam-Buk gave was wonderful. It stopped the pain almost immediately, and quickly took out the inflammation and swelling."

ECZEMA ON THE HANDS caused me three years awful suffering," writes Mr. Angus Josey of Spuy Harbor, Halifax, N.S. "The intense itching kept me awake at nights. I had tried ointments and lotions without result before I got Zam-Buk. This wonderful healer quickly removed every trace of disease."

ZAM-BUK is magical for troubles like ringworm, cold sores, abscesses, poisoned wounds, ulcers, piles, etc. Also for healing cuts, scalds and other injuries. 50c. all dealers.

NIGHT SCHOOLS ARE UP AGAIN

Government Organizer Urges Board to Resume Classes in Prince Rupert

John Kyle, organizer of technical training for the Department of Education, appeared before the school board last night to urge the advisability of resuming night school classes in Prince Rupert. After Mr. Kyle had spoken and had answered several questions that were put to him by the board to leave the matter over for further consideration.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Kyle admitted that Prince Rupert had just had a rather unfortunate experience with night schools but he felt that there was a duty to be done along this line in a humbler way than had been attempted before. Anyox was conducting night schools successfully and had been doing so for some time past. It was difficult, Mr. Kyle said, to overestimate the value of night school work. It paid the community to educate its people and, moreover, to get full value from the schools they should be used night and day. Such cities as Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Chilliwack, Nelson, Pentlicon, Vernon, Kelowna, etc. had night schools and it seemed a pity that Prince Rupert should not have them as well.

Self-Supporting Mr. Kyle was of the opinion that the finances could be so adjusted as to make the night schools self-supporting. Nanaimo had saved enough money from its night schools to equip a technical school. Vancouver was doing the same. Mr. Kyle said he had gone into the matter locally and had come to the conclusion that classes could be conducted on a self supporting basis if there were fifteen pupils in each. The pupils could be charged $10 each for the fifty lessons during the season of six months and the teacher could be paid $1 per night. If there was an average of ten pupils, the government would pay three-fifths of the teacher's salary. Mr. Kyle suggested that the board appoint a man to organize a night school, thus giving the public something that was coming to it.

Trustee Rochester asked why the night schools here had been unsuccessful before and was told by Mr. Kyle it was because they had been conducted along too ambitious and expensive lines. Mr. Kyle was of the opinion that such classes as carpentry and joining, electricity, drafting and mechanical drawing, mathematics and gasoline engineering could be successfully conducted here.

WAS PRETTY WEDDING OF LOCAL COUPLE IN ALBERTA RECENTLY

Rupert people will be interested in the following account of the wedding of Miss Elsie Harding, formerly domestic science teacher here to Ed. Jenner of this city. They have now returned home and are living in the Besner apartments.

The marriage of Miss Elsie Mary Harding, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Harding of Olds, Alberta, to Edward P. Jenner, Prince Rupert, son of the late William Barber Jenner and Mrs. Jenner of Manor Park, Essex, England, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on August 25.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. W. Locke of the Union Church.

The bride entered the living room on the arm of her father to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, played by Miss Merle Strong.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of ivory georgette and silk lace and carried a beautiful bouquet of ophelia roses. Her veil of old Brussels lace, held in place by orange blossoms, was a family heirloom.

Master Kenneth F. Harding brother of the bride acted as page. The bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy M. Harding, only sister of the bride, wore a pretty gown of painted peach georgette. She carried a sheaf of mauve and pink sweet peas.

The groom was attended by Hugh B. Harding, brother of the bride.

During the signing of the register, Miss Clara Buckton, A.Y.C.M. sang "For you alone."

After the reception Miss Norma McKecheer, of Edmonton, delighted the assembled guests with a solo. The rooms were decorated throughout with pink, mauve and white sweet peas and silver horse shoes and butterflies. The marriage taking place under a large bell of sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride, white gold wrist watch, to the bridesmaid a handsome handbag; the best man a gold watch chain; the page, a gold watch.

Amid showers of confetti and the good wishes of many friends the happy couple left on the evening train for Victoria, where the honeymoon is being spent, after which Mr. and Mrs. Jenner will make their home in Prince Rupert, B.C.

Among the many beautiful gifts was a lovely silver flower basket from the United Church W.M.S. and friends.

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

I LIKE the golden autumn days; I like the westerling sun; I like most everything there is; And I sure like lots of fun.

I like to watch the evening sky And the glow of the mellowing moon, And then to lie and sleep throughout The whole of the afternoon.

And as I dream and sleep again, In spite of autumn chill, I'm wakened by wash of autumn rain, And a downpour that would kill.

PERHAPS the college fashions will eventually prevail everywhere and we shall all go around with our socks down around our shoes.

NORMA TALMADGE in "SECRETS"

The secrets of a wife! A photo-play with a theme so strong that only an artist such as Norma Talmadge could portray it. A play of springtime love that lived through life's cold winter; a play of emotions; a play of a wife's secrets, things that no one but the man and woman should know; a play of mysteries, for all of wedlock's secrets are Can a husband hide the life he leads away from home? Can a husband love others—but love his wife the most? Can happiness be where a mother's smiles hide a father's indiscretions? Only a play as searchingly truthful as this can answer so vital a problem. The secrets of a wife are laid bare in this all compelling photo-drama portrayed by the screen's perfect lovers—Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien. Distinguished cast. Norma Talmadge, Eugene O'Brien, Charles Ogle, Winter Hall, Frank Elliott, Gertrude Astor, Emily Fitzroy, Clairissa Selwynne and others.
