ALASKA TO FIGHT AGAINST PRINCE RUPERT

ONLY SURRENDER AND ADMISSION OF BROTHER CAN SAVE CHICAGO MAN

Reduction in Halibut Tariff to be Actively Opposed Says Ketchikan Editor in Seattle

SEATTLE, July 22.—Efforts of British Columbia interests to obtain a reduction of the United States tariff on halibut and logs will be fought by Alaska delegates at the hearing to be held in Seattle on August 10 according to an announcement made by Edward Morrissey, editor of the Ketchikan Chronicle, who is here.

A reduction of at least fifty per cent of the two-cent tariff on halibut is sought by British Columbia fishing interests, Mr. Morrissey says. Alaskans, he continues, object not only to the lowering of the tariff but they want further protection for the industry.

Mr. Morrissey further recalls efforts previously made to have Congress pass a law prohibiting the landing of fish caught in North Pacific waters, frozen or fresh, in any American port unless same was shipped from an American port. Attempts to pass such a law, which would force American control of the North Pacific halibut industry, will be renewed Mr. Morrissey predicts.

SEATTLE, July 22.—The shooting of Joseph Maurer, Chicago drug clerk, and that Russell was innocent of the slaying, has admitted that the story was a romance, concocted "for the sake of humanity."

At present the whereabouts of Robert is unknown but friends of the condemned man state that it was not Russell but Robert who fired the shot that killed J. Maurer, Chicago druggist. Radio appeals are being broadcasted by the condemned man's wife in an endeavor to locate the brother.

Since the receipt of last week's telegram, James M. Ball, a Detroit telegraph operator who declared that he witnessed the shooting of Joseph Maurer, Chicago drug clerk, and that Russell was innocent of the slaying, has admitted that the story was a romance, concocted "for the sake of humanity."

Ball said that he "told a lie to save one whom I believe innocent," but that when he found that his story was not accomplishing anything he decided to admit the fake.

This was the second blow that Scott has received since his dramatic reprieve six hours before he was to hang. The stay of execution was ordered by Governor Len Small when a Detroit telegram purporting to be from Robert Scott, the condemned man's brother, confessing the murder, was received. According to Russell's story, Robert, also under indictment, did the shooting.

The sender of the telegram promised to surrender next day, but nothing developed. Various other communications were received, however, one a letter purporting also to be from Robert, mailed in Chicago last Thursday night. In this it was stated that he was seriously ill, but would give himself up as soon as he was able.

SALMON FISHING IS STILL GOOD

Total Pack to Date on Skeena is About 40,000 Cases

The salmon fishing in the northern part of the province continues very favorable with more seine boats operating than in previous years.

At Smith's Inlet the catch of sockeye has been very good and the canneries have been taxed to care for all the fish caught. Rivers Inlet returns have also been very fair as compared with the catch four years ago.

On the Skeena, about 40,000 cases, it is understood, have already been put up, of which about 18,000 are sockeyes. The Naas River fishing is considerably better than four years ago when the fishing there was almost a complete failure.

The general improvement in weather conditions has increased the general average, caught by the various boats and many of the fishermen who were very much discouraged on account of the small catches have recently been more successful. It is expected that when the end of the season arrives the total catch will compare very favorably with former years.

INCENDIARISM ON INCREASE

Unless Robert Scott Confesses in Person, Russell Hangs Friday

CHICAGO, July 22.—Only the surrender and confession of Robert Scott can save his brother, Russell Scott, one time well known Canadian promoter, from hanging on Friday morning. This was announced today by Governor Small who last week gave a week's reprieve after a telegram had been received stating that Robert Scott was ready to give himself up.

At present the whereabouts of Robert is unknown but friends of the condemned man state that it was not Russell but Robert who fired the shot that killed J. Maurer, Chicago druggist. Radio appeals are being broadcasted by the condemned man's wife in an endeavor to locate the brother.

Since the receipt of last week's telegram, James M. Ball, a Detroit telegraph operator who declared that he witnessed the shooting of Joseph Maurer, Chicago drug clerk, and that Russell was innocent of the slaying, has admitted that the story was a romance, concocted "for the sake of humanity."

Ball said that he "told a lie to save one whom I believe innocent," but that when he found that his story was not accomplishing anything he decided to admit the fake.

The stay of execution was ordered by Governor Len Small when a Detroit telegram purporting to be from Robert Scott, the condemned man's brother, confessing the murder, was received. Various other communications were received, however, one a letter purporting also to be from Robert, mailed in Chicago last Thursday night. In this it was stated that he was seriously ill, but would give himself up as soon as he was able.

Scott's attorneys still are pinning hopes for a commutation on affidavits they said they had received from two unnamed women, reported to have been in the drug store at the time of the shooting.

Letter Also Sent
The sender of the telegram promised to surrender next day, but nothing developed. Various other communications were received, however, one a letter purporting also to be from Robert, mailed in Chicago last Thursday night. In this it was stated that he was seriously ill, but would give himself up as soon as he was able.

Important Game District Here.

Meetings of the provincial game board, such as that which was held in the city on Monday night, should prove mutually beneficial to the board in carrying out its work effectively and to the local fur trading interests and nimrods. In a city where so many people are interested in the fur trade and in hunting, it might have seemed odd that it was the first public session the Game Board had held. The Game Board can only learn of local conditions and requirements by coming on the ground and hear the local people express their views. That being the case, it is to be hoped that this late first meeting will be the forerunner of more to be held here at frequent intervals.

The north is the most prolific fur producing section of B.C. and the best big game hunting area and, as such, requires the attention of the Game Board perhaps more than any other part of the province. The north should also be well represented on the board and it might be well to have two members—one representing the north coast in addition to the member from the central interior.

Scopes Trial No Credit To U.S.

The scene of the evolution trial comedy is to be moved from Dayton to Knoxville, Tennessee. John Scopes was fined $100 for teaching that man came from a monkey and now he is going to see a higher court about it. While the world giggles about the Dayton case, there are some serious minded people who think that effort might be more properly directed towards reducing actual crime in United States than towards putting down the preaching of a harmless doctrine—one that can hardly harm even the youngest school child. The Scopes trial is no credit to the intelligence of the American people.

Election Guns Being Primed.

There are wars and rumors of war but so far the federal election date has not been set. In the meantime, political guns are being primed and, in some quarters, the preliminary booms may be heard. In spite of all the uncertainty about the election date, there seems to be little doubt that it will take place within a twelve-month. The indications are that, with the decay of the Progressive Party, the Liberals will be returned to power at Ottawa with a good majority over any opposition. Mackenzie King has given good government and none but the most enthusiastic of Conservatives can hope that he will be turned out at this time.

Crop Is Not Failure Yet.

The last week has brought about a very marked change in the character of the crop reports from this province says the Edmonton Journal. Only on Saturday last the federal bureau of statistics put the condition of Alberta wheat at 12 per cent better than the 1915-1924 average. This was based on reports received on June 30, but the subsequent extremely hot weather and lack of rain have had a serious effect, especially in the extreme south and in the extreme north. No extraordinary yield is now looked for, but a reasonably good one, taking the province as a whole, is still in prospect.

One thing that is very apt to be overlooked is the extraordinary recuperative power which the crop has frequently displayed in other years after this date. With good rains during the balance of the month, an improvement as startling as the deterioration of the past ten days might easily be effected. In our own part of the province they would prove of great benefit, but the need is nothing like as acute here as elsewhere. It is an anxious time, but much confidence is still warranted in the season's result.

So far as the west at large is concerned, the damage as yet does not appear to have materially changed the outlook.

Naas River Mining Division Had Big Production in 1924; Granby Company Large Factor

(By George Clothier, Resident Engineer)
The Naas River mining division extends from the mouth of Portland inlet north to the head of the Kitsault river, a distance of about 70 miles. The two chief mining centres are Anyox and Alice Arm. The government recording office is at Anyox. The Canadian National coast-plying boats run to Anyox once a week, and the Union Steamship Company's boat also calls at Alice Arm and Anyox once a week. There is a tri-weekly launch service from Alice Arm to Anyox.

The town of Alice Arm, at the head of the arm of the same name, is the chief distributing centre for the Kitsault valley and tributary creeks, the Illiance river, and down Alice Arm proper.

The Dolly Varden Railway extends from tide-water at Alice Arm, 18 miles up the west side of the Kitsault river, to the Dolly Varden mine. Though the mine has been closed down for the past two or three years, the Provincial Government maintains the railway for hand-cars and speeders, enabling prospectors and operators to get in supplies quickly and cheaply.

From the end of the railway there is a good pack-trail to the head of the valley, 26 miles from Alice Arm, with branch trails up the main tributary streams. There are six bridges and a cable-way across the Kitsault at points most convenient for prospectors.

There is also a first-class pack trail up the Illiance river for 45 miles, and fair trails up Lime and Roundy creeks, which empty into Alice Arm, a couple of miles down from the head.

Good Transportation

There is mail launch service once a week up the Naas river to Anyox from Mill Bay, a port of call for the Union Steamship Company's boats during the summer months. From Anyox roads extend through the Naas Valley; there is a trail up the Naas river to Meziadin lake; a trail across to the Illiance River, and thence to Alice Arm; and a trail south to Kitsungallum lake, from which there is a motor road to Terrace, on the Canadian National Railway. The Division is therefore very accessible for prospecting and mining development and the roads and trails are being improved and extended each year by grants from the Mines department.

The Division has the distinction of being the second largest producer in the Province, due to the operations of the Granby Company at Anyox. There are two small shippers in the Golskeish near Anyox and Esperanza at Alice Arm. There are a number of very promising showings in the Kitsault River, Illiance, and Alice Arm (proper) sections. The encouraging results from the development of the Toric group on the upper Kitsault river may be an incentive to further exploration-work on other properties. I think if the Dolly Varden were forgotten entirely there would be no difficulty in interesting capital in this Mining Division.

Granby Operations

The Granby Company has been operating continuously throughout the year, employing in all operations an average of about 1,000 men. The year's output consists of 6,196 oz. gold, 414,341 oz. silver, and 35,992,726 lb. copper, the greatest yearly production of copper ever attained by the company. These figures bring the total production of the company, since it started ten years ago, to 65,393 oz. gold, 3,452,350 oz. silver, and 292,423,500 lb. copper.

The coke plant this year produced about 57,000 tons coke; 426,000 imperial gallons tar; 1,300,000 lb. ammonium sulphate; 110,000 lb. ammonia liquid; 108,000 imperial gallons motor-fuel; 6,000 imperial gallons tar paint; and 12,000 lb. naphthalene.

The new features in connection with the company's operations this year were the shipping from the Outsider group on Maple Bay and the starting of the new 1,500-ton capacity concentrator at the Anyox plant.

The Rambler quartz-quarries at Anyox were closed down in September, having furnished 16,400 tons of quartz for fluxing purposes.

The Outsider group, starting in February and employing an average of fifty-six men, shipped to the smelter at Anyox, for fluxing uses, 27,940 tons of siliceous copper ore, averaging about 1.35 per cent. copper. Practically all this tonnage was mined between the 900 foot level, working tunnel, and the 1,070 foot level (above), accounting

Year's Development

The only development done during the year was 160 feet of drifting on the 900-foot level, 100 feet on the 1,295 foot level and about 180 feet of chate rises from the working level (900 feet), preparatory to shipping from the upper levels where the ore has been proven to be of better grade. New outside work consisted of a warehouse at the beach and a steel house and bunk house at the mine. The latter is a two storey frame building, 29 by 100 feet, plastered throughout and steam heated, the upper floor containing sixteen rooms, each 11 by 12 feet, containing two single beds; the lower floor comprises the reading room, barber shop, commissary and cook's quarters, laundry, furnace room, dry room, wash room, showers, etc. The mine has been put in charge of two men from Anyox, who are mining the ore under contract for the Granby Company.

The new concentrator was started in April, treating about 500 tons a day and producing a 9.6-per cent. copper concentrate. The feed was gradually increased until in August it reached between 1,200 and 1,300 tons daily, which has been maintained for the remainder of the year, when a concentrate of 16 per cent. copper was produced. It is expected that a 2,000 ton daily capacity will be reached in the near future and that still further improvements will be made in the hydrometallurgy.

The smelting of the concentrates locally was found to be expensive and unsatisfactory and they are now being shipped to Tacoma; in the meantime sintering experiments are being made. Another innovation is the screening-out of the fines from the ore sent to the smelter and treating them in the concentrator.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

July 22, 1915.

The next train that arrives here will have connected with the train over the government operated line from Toronto and eastern points at Winnipeg. This was the information brought to the city last night by H. A. Woods, the Chief Engineer of the G.T.P.

Last night a demonstration in force by the Irish Fusiliers from the barracks was made before the Socialist speaker, H. Lester, who has been addressing open-air meetings on the street for the last week. The result was a sudden collapse of the meeting. Mr. Lester was knocked from the chair which served as his platform and, in less time than it takes to tell it, the chair was demolished.

Len Bell, the well known locomotive engineer, on the G.T.P., whose present run is between Smithers and Prince George, arrived in the city last evening's train.

SHULMAN FAMILY AT LAST UNITED

Wife, Delayed by U.S. Immigration Laws, Now Joins Husband

WINNIPEG, July 22.—(Canadian Press).—Arrangements have been made for the admission of Mrs. Meyer Shulman to the United States to join her husband, from whom she has been separated nearly a year, owing to the immigration law of that country classifying her as a Russian, thus barring her entry under the Canadian quota. She will be admitted as a potential citizen of the United States through her husband having applied for American citizenship.

Mr. and Mrs. Shulman came to Canada from Russia in 1912, and became Canadian citizens. They made a trip to Washington in June 1924 and while there Mr. Shulman took an interest in a meat packing plant. In August, 1924, Mrs. Shulman with her small son came back to Winnipeg to move the rest of the family to Washington but on trying to re-enter the States found the immigration quota was full, necessitating their spending the past ten months away from the head of the family.

GEORGE BUSHBY WAS SPEAKER

Addressed Retail Merchants' Association at Meeting Last Night on "Transportation"

George G. Bushby was the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association which was held last night in the St. Regis Cafe. His subject was "Transportation."

In opening his address, Mr. Bushby said it was sensible for such organizations to get together, not merely to have dinner nor for increasing values, but in order to engender better relations one with the other and to develop the business of the city.

Opening into his subject of transportation Mr. Bushby declared that for successful operation, a railway must have branch line feeders. There were no laterals joining the Canadian National Railway between Jasper and Prince Rupert.

Too Many Frills The Canadian National Railway, Mr. Bushby suggested, was now spending too much money on frills such as radio broadcasting stations and elaborate equipment on trains.

Whereas Canada was now dependent on United States for practically all its iron supply and Ontario and Quebec obtained most of its coal from the United States, Mr. Bushby suggested that this iron and coal might well be produced in Canada.

Local Situation Dealing with the local transportation situation, Mr. Bushby stressed the necessity for connection between Prince Rupert and Alaska for better service between Prince Rupert and the Queen Charlotte Islands and the Skeena River.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Zarelli were passengers on the Cardena for the south last evening.

HOPKINSON REPORT OUT

Information Obtained by U.S. Commission Makes up Bulky Document

A copy of the preliminary statement of information issued by the United States tariff commission in connection with the pending investigation of the costs of halibut production, which it is hoped will result in a reduction of the tariff on Canadian halibut entering the United States, has reached the Daily News office. The information, which makes a very voluminous document, was obtained by the Hopkinson commission which visited Prince Rupert and other coast points last fall. It will be used at the public hearing to be held in Seattle on August 10, and to which representatives of the industry in British Columbia have been invited.

The report deals with all phases of the buying, handling, packing and shipping of halibut from all Pacific Coast ports and goes into minute detail. There are also a great many statistics as to costs of fishing, handling and transportation. Prices paid fishermen at Prince Rupert and wholesale prices in Boston are also given. Share agreements of independent and company vessels are explained and there are a number of maps and charts dealing with the industry. In short, the report gives information with regard to all the phases of the business. There are sixty-five closely typewritten pages.

Prince Rupert, of course, prominently figures in the report.

POLAR BEAR DEAD IN SOUTH

Barrow, Who Passed Through Prince Rupert Four Years Ago, Found Floating in Pool

Barrow, the polar bear which passed through here in 1921 on the Hudson Bay schooner Lady Kinderley and which has since made his home in Stanley Park, Vancouver, was found dead floating in a pool there last Sunday morning.

In accounting for the bear's death, two theories are advanced. One suggestion is that he was taken with a fit while swimming and the other is that he dived into the pool and struck his head with such force as to stun himself.

A little blood was flowing from the nostrils when the bear was discovered, but examination by a veterinary surgeon disclosed that all the organs were in healthy condition and there was no trace of poison. At 10 o'clock Saturday night, when the zoo keeper made his rounds, Barrow was in excellent spirits. At 7 a.m. Sunday he was dead.

Grief followed the news of his passing. A lonely citizen who visited the bear every evening and fed him dainties, broke down and cried. He was a great friend of Barrow and the bear watched for him and welcomed him.

The polar bear was captured on the ice off Point Barrow by the crew of the Lady Kinderley in 1921 and brought to Vancouver. As a cub, he was presented to the Park zoo. Barrow was a miserable-looking little fellow when he arrived. A drum of oil adrift on the deck of the schooner in a gale and coated the bear's fur. It was weeks before it was cleaned off and the cub refused to face the public. It turned its back on the spectators.

Later a fine new cage with a pool was constructed for the native of the Arctic and in these quarters Barrow thrived. He had a beautiful coat and was a great attraction at the park. His swimming and diving entertained thousands. A wooden ball was his favorite toy and his antics with this always resulted in a crowd gathering.

SEVENTEEN YEARS MARRIED LIFE

Romantic Pioneer Life of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson of Ontario

STIRLING, Ont., July 22.—If Joshua Anderson and his wife, who reside on Anderson Island, a small tract of land cut off from the mainland by the Trent River and one of its branches, live until October 29 next they will celebrate the 70th anniversary of their marriage. The husband is 99 and Mrs. Anderson 10 years his junior. Mr. Anderson was born in Northumberland county, not more than a mile from his present home, on January 21, 1826.

When Mr. Anderson was 11 years old his parents moved to Anderson Island, which was named for the family, taking possession of the farm on which the son and his wife still live. That was in 1837, the year of the breaking out of the Mackenzie rebellion.

One of the older boys in the family belonged to the militia and his company was called to Belleville, Joshua and another brother visited the soldier at the barracks in Belleville, walking the distance, 22 miles, through the woods, over a rough trail. They slept one night in the barracks with the soldiers, all of whom were anxious to get to the fighting line, but the trouble was settled without their aid, the Peterborough (Ont.) Examiner comments.

Mrs. Anderson, whose maiden name was Mary Parcels, was born near the home of her future husband on April 3, 1836, on Easter Sunday. The couple were married on October 29, 1855, by Rev. William Black, pastor in charge of what was then a mission station of the Methodist denomination at Stirling.

Pioneer Life
The young couple look up the hard life of the pioneers. They had to literally hew their home out of the wilderness, but they overcame all difficulties and obstacles and are now spending their declining years in peace and comfort. They raised a family of ten children, seven of whom are still living.

Into a life so long, no matter how secluded, tragedy was sure to come. The first real sorrow that cast its shadow over the home was the drowning of two of the children, Angelina and Richard, aged 10 and 11 years, who broke through the ice on the river on their way from school. The aged eyes of the mother fill with tears as she

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drug or department store and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove your freckles.

At all drug or department stores or by mail, Othine, P.O. Box 2616, Montreal, Canada.

When Walking was in Flower
Even in those early days there was a stage running from Stirling to Belleville, but Mr. Anderson never used this method of transportation when he had business in the lakeside town, but walked there and back. Once he was summoned for jury duty in Belleville and he made his way on foot, reaching his destination ahead of the stage. A case on which he was called was finished at 10 o'clock at night and he made his way home on foot, arriving as day was breaking, and taking up his daily duties as he would had he been resting all night.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are remarkably bright and vigorous for their years. Their sight is good and all their faculties as keen as ever, save for slight deafness on the part of the husband. They are free from the pains and aches which usually afflict the aged. The husband has always used tobacco in moderation, but never drank any liquor to speak of, and only once—about ten years ago—has he required medical attention.

An ambition for public office never beset him. In politics he was always a conservative. He was raised an Anglican but nearly all his life attended the Methodist Church.

In the case of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson longevity appears to be a matter of heredity. The former's mother died at the age of 95 and in the Stirling cemetery there is not a monument recording the age of any one older than Mrs. Anderson's grandfather, the late John Parcels, attained the age of 100 years and 11 months. She tells, with evident family pride, that her grandfather, a short time before his death walked from what is now the town of Trenton to Toronto, 400 miles, making the return trip in less than a week. Mr. Parcels fought in various engagements in the war of 1812.

Their Descendants

The living children of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are: Mrs. Chester Hoard, their youngest daughter, who resides on the next farm to her parents; Mrs. William Rheanne, of Wallaceburg, and Mrs. William Hannah of Stirling. The sons are Walter, of Board's station, George of Saskatchewan, Fred who resides at home and Frank of Quebec. They have so many grand, great and great-great-grandchildren that they have long since lost count of the number. When strange young children call on them now and introduce themselves as descendants, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson accept the situation as a matter of course.

CO-OPERATION OF SEXES NECESSARY

LONDON, July 22.—(Canadian Press.)—"No boy is so young as not to realize that he owes a great deal to women. All men do. Some pay the debt earlier, some later, and some not at all." Lord Birkenhead made the above remark at a variety entertainment to aid the funds for the extension of Queen's College, Harley Street, the first women's college established in England. "In the co-operation of the sexes lay the greatest hope for a sane and united England."
