EUROPE STILL BEING RAVAGED BY FLOODS

CENTRAL BRITISH COLUMBIA IS HAVING MILDEST WINTER IN ITS HISTORY

Thames River Swollen to Height Never Known Before; Bad in Holland

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Continued heavy rains in England have resulted in the worst floods known in the valley of the Thames River. The town of Northampton is surrounded by water. In Holland conditions are reported in many localities to be desperate. The situation is also critical in many sections of Belgium. At Liege eight thousand houses are under water and there is much suffering. The authorities are seizing all pumps throughout the country in an endeavor to clear the inundated region.

The double weekly service of the Canadian National Coast Steamships will be started in March, somewhat earlier than usual, it was stated yesterday morning by B. C. Keeley, Pacific Coast manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine.

Annual overhaul of the steamer Prince George at the local dry dock will commence this month and it is the intention to have that steamer relieve the Prince Rupert about February 15. The Prince Rupert will then be taken off for annual overhaul and, when this is completed, the double weekly service will start.

Absence of Snow and Cold Weather Causes Standstill in Industries of Interior

That the interior of Central British Columbia is experiencing the mildest winter in its history and that it has consequently been impossible to get out poles and ties from the bush and work is practically at a standstill along the Canadian National line is the word brought back by Rev. G. G. Hacker, who has spent the last week at Hazelton, Terrace, and Kispiox in connection with United Church work and who returned to the city on yesterday morning's train.

George Little, the Terrace lumberman, stated it was the mildest weather he ever remembered in that district and Robert Tomlinson, of Hazelton, said it was the first time in his long experience that the Skeena River had not been frozen over at the New Year.

Work on the erection of the new Nurses' Home, situated between Hazelton and New Hazelton is nearly completed. The new home is much along similar lines in construction as the local Nurses' Home, although not quite so large.

SHOT DEAD AT STEWART

Two Women Arrested in Connection With Murder
A wire to the effect that James Donald, blacksmith, had been shot dead yesterday in a road house near Stewart and that two women, inmates of the house, were being held as material witnesses in connection with the case was received this morning by the Provincial Police.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HAD 59 CALLS DURING PAST YEAR

According to figures compiled by the city fire department for the past year 59 calls were responded to. The largest fire of the year was the mill of the Prince Rupert Spruce Mills Company at Seal Cove, the total damage of which is unknown as the insurance has not yet been adjusted thereon.

Miss Agnes Donaldson, who has been spending the Christmas and New Year holidays at Port Essington, will return to the city at the end of the week to resume her school teaching duties here.

Weather in 1925 Was Warmer Than Usual and Rainfall Did Not Come Up to Usual Level

Rainfall in Prince Rupert during the year 1925 was under the average. In the twelve months a total of 87.6 inches of rain was recorded as compared with 103.16 inches in 1924. The snowfall for the year totalled 34.9 inches or, in figures of precipitation, 3.49 inches bringing the total precipitation for the year to 91.09 inches.

The month of December had the heaviest rainfall of the year, 13.4 inches. In this month, however, the rainfall was not as heavy as it was in two months of 1924—January and February.

During the year 1925, there were approximately 1,000 hours of bright sunshine in the city. The finest weather of the year was in the month of September when there were sixteen rainless days and a total of 174 hours of sunshine.

The warmest day of the year 1925 was on June 25 when the thermometer rose to 88 degrees.

The coldest day of the year was January 31 when 19 degrees above zero was recorded. The year, on the whole, was, therefore, warmer than 1924 when the highest temperature of 80 was recorded on July 25 and the lowest, 5 above zero, on December 15.

The windiest day of the year was March 23 when a velocity of 66 miles per hour was recorded.

The following are weather figures for the year, month by month:

	Temperature		Precipitation
	High	Low
Jan.	44	19	6.98
Feb.	49	22	6.59
Mar.	52	24	11.12

Prince Rupert's Shipping Rates.

Apparently Prince Rupert, as matters stand at present, is at some disadvantage in grain shipping rates as compared with Vancouver. If it were not for the port charges at the southern city, the net difference would be even greater. It would seem desirable that Vancouver and Prince Rupert should be put on a level footing both as regards terminal rail and water rates. No doubt the proper authorities are taking steps in this direction. Success was achieved in the effort to have marine insurance rates equalized. There should be similar success as regards shipping rates.

Plenty Of Money For Industries.

It is refreshing to hear a statement such as that issued this week by Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, that there is plenty of money available in Canada for the development of business and natural resources. It is the banks that are often accused of putting their money in iron-clad American investments and refusing to aid industry in Canada. Sir John Aird's statement would indicate that the impression may not be a correct one.

Maritime Port Issue.

The issue of the use or the shameful neglect of Canadian maritime ports becomes more pointed from the interview given in St. John, N.B., by Sir Henry Thornton. The President of the Canadian National assured his questioner of the desire of the Government lines to use Canadian ports, but said the matter was, after all, regulated by the shippers of the grain, as they chose the route. Sir Henry said the subject is engaging the attention of various interests and he was hopeful of the outcome.

From this statement the matter should be narrowed down to a solution or a "reason why." The Western exporters are not so numerous but that their course and their argument can be discovered and probably met. Are the rates to Canadian ports too high, and incapable of meeting the competition? Are the port equipments inadequate? Or what is the insuperable obstacle, if any, to the use by Canadians of their own road to their own ports? The issue should be aired and faced in Parliament, and met squarely and justly.—Toronto Globe.

Premier King Stands Pat.

Conservative papers are so anxious for Premier King to resign, and so wrathful because he has not resigned, that they betray a vanishing hope that he will be defeated in the House. Were there any probability that enough Progressives would join Mr. Meighen on a major issue to overthrow the Government, it would be poor strategy for the Opposition to want the Premier to avoid that fate by tendering his resignation beforehand. A Premier who quits voluntarily quite often thereby gains a better chance to "come back" than if he waited to be turned out. It seems to be agreed by Opposition papers that there is little chance of the Progressives turning King out to put Meighen in.—Edmonton Bulletin.

THE MAN IN THE MOON says:

A WOMAN has entertained well when her guests say they hate to leave.

NOW the festive-party season is over, won't someone please have a birthday?

A NEW disease has broken out in the city called "turkeyitis," and the only cure known to local science is "fastitis."

NOW we start saving up for the summer holidays at Seal Cove.

I HEARD a Scotsman once standing 6 foot 6 inches in his socks. He only took small drinks because they have such a long way to travel and he got the full benefit.

I HEARD a man say to another man the other morning that he was about as useless as an isolated bottle of pop.

ALL the modern young lady has to do nowadays to make last year's dress fashionable is to slice a piece off the bottom.

I HAVE yet to see the girl who can look as pretty at breakfast table as she does at the dance.

WELL, here we are plunging into 1926 in a sea of prosperity with last month's bills to meet. Is everybody happy?

"FISH in the gutters," and it used to be the streets would run with "milk and honey."

LADIES are now wearing suspenders over the shoulders like men. Evidently they got the idea from the Policewomen. "Police" was always on the suspenders I wore.

IT'S funny how a man will never buy himself shoe laces and collar studs and yet he'll spend a king's ransom on a bottle of hootch.

SUBMARINES ought to thrive well in this climate.

A MAN with a whiskey breath should never talk about business being bad.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

Miss Barbeau is about to leave town for Hazelton, where she will spend two months with her sister, Mrs. R. S. Sargent.

The men of the 102nd B.C. Regiment who have been stationed here will leave Tuesday on the Prince John for Comox. They will go south in charge of Capt. Brandt. It seems that the authorities are not satisfied with Prince Rupert as a drilling centre though it would appear to a layman that there is at least enough room to drill the twenty-odd recruits who are at present on the list.

Mrs. Naylor and little girl left for Edinburgh, Scotland, this morning. They will sail on the Allen liner Scandinavian.

SMITHERS

H. L. Robinson came down from the Duthie mine Wednesday to spend the New Year holidays in town.

Philip H. Hoskins, teller at the local branch of the Royal Bank, left for Vancouver Thursday, being transferred to one of the branches in that city.

Miss Helen Grant arrived in town on Thursday from Prince Rupert and is spending the balance of the holiday season as the guest of her sister, Mrs. N. Kilpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Kirby arrived in Smithers, Thursday morning and, at their home that evening, were the hosts for a while to a large and merry chivaree crowd who, under the leadership of George Wall, had paraded up Main Street to the Kirby home distributing noises of every variety and description.

Indications of frosty weather have again disappeared and on Thursday the snow and ice were treated to some bright sunshine and warm winds, making the prospects of a skating rink look as far away as at the beginning of December.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Miss Arlene, former residents of Smithers, are spending a few days in town the guests of Mrs. J. Roberts.

Coming down the hill to spend Christmas the men on the working force at the Babine Silver King properly report steady progress in driving the drift tunnel on the rich showing of ore opened up on that property a fortnight ago. They have extended the drift in the vein to thirty feet and report an improvement in ore values by the increase in native silver showings in the latest ore to be taken out.

The greatest trade in the history of Smithers business is reported by the proprietors of several store having stocks to meet the demand for Christmas gifts. Some of the merchants reported a clean sweep of their gift goods early in the evening preceding Christmas.

Mrs. Beesley of Prince Rupert is spending the holidays at the home of her son, J. J. Beesley, in town.

Olof Hanson spent Tuesday in Smithers, returning to his Prince Rupert home on Wednesday night. Mr. Hanson will make another trip to his Smithers office next week and shortly after this he will leave with Mrs. Hanson on a trip to South America.

L. S. McGill is on a trip to Victoria where he will appear in the Court of Appeals case involving a dispute between O. T. Lindland and Harry Gazanoff as an outcome of a partnership in the conduct of the Smithers Hotel.

Pupils of the Smithers high school staged a surprise party on Christmas night in honor of Craig Millar. The young folks gathered up in town and descended on the Miller home to the number of a score and a pleasant evening was spent at games and dancing.

TERRACE NOTES

Mrs. O. T. Sundal entertained at two tables of bridge on Monday evening last, Mrs. J. K. Frost having high score for the evening.

On Tuesday evening the members of the B.D. Bridge Club entertained their husbands and a number of friends at a delightful party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Morse Hatt, whose tenth wedding anniversary it was. The prizes of the evening went to Mrs. A. H. Barker and George Dover. After the serving of refreshments by the club ladies, an enjoyable hour was spent in music and dancing.

Mrs. Chas. Giggey was hostess at a delightful children's party on Wednesday afternoon when she entertained the girls of her Sunday school class at her home across the river. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent in games and music after which delicious refreshments were served. On starting for home each child was presented with a useful little gift and all came away expressing themselves as having had a lovely party.

W. Ellis, who has been doing development work on J. Gabriel's mineral claims on Copper River was brought into Terrace quite ill on Tuesday and on Wednesday night was taken to Hazelton Hospital by Dr. Large.

Mr. Sanson, who has been acting as clerk at the Terrace Hotel for the past two years, and Peter McDonald, ferryman at Remo, left on Friday morning on a holiday trip to Vancouver.

tertained at three tables of bridge on Wednesday evening in compliance to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Barker who are soon leaving on a holiday trip to Honolulu.

Henry Walberg left for Vancouver on Wednesday morning to spend the winter months.

ALICE ARM

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. Stephen of Alice Arm, at the Anxox Hospital on December 26, a daughter.

In addition to the lease let on the Esperanza a short time ago, another has been let on an ore showing on another part of the property. This lease has been let to Messrs. Norman, Fraser, Charlie Lee and Tony Calfer, and they will work a little above and 300 feet south of the main workings. This lease expires at the end of May.

The work of taking out ore from the surface on the Wolf property has been concluded and Jack Fiva has commenced the driving of a tunnel, which will encounter the ore underground. A new blacksmith shop and ore shed has been constructed near the mouth of the tunnel, and everything is in readiness for the winter's work.

The mild bright weather that has prevailed of late is a surprise to even the oldest residents of Alice Arm. Flowers can still be gathered in some of the Alice Arm gardens. On Christmas Day Mrs. J. Wheatley picked some Sweet Williams, while Mrs. J. Hanna gathered a number of pansy blossoms.

SPORT CHAT

Never were there so many warriors with unusual names playing football across the border as during the past season. D'Ambrósio was the name of an Illinois player, and then there came that famous Michigan pair, Pucylewatz and Osterbaan. And then came Urdil of Ohio State, Mittenwalner and Greathouse of Illinois, Gordon of Wisconsin, Nydahl of Minnesota, Rodawig, Raffensperger and Krasuski, of Iowa, Threlfall and Merckobrad of Purdue, Palmeroll of Michigan, Apitz of Chicago, Dykiusen, Salimi, Prucha and Zaiser, of Indiana, and Bovick and Klupper, of Northwestern.

English boxing experts think that they have found in one, Teddy Baldoek, a youthful prodigy who may prove a second Jimmy Wilde and retrieve some of England's lost pugilistic fame. Since leaving school, three years ago, Baldoek, who is a stripling of 17, has been in 124 fights and has never met with defeat. He is regarded as a hero in the East End where he has often fought twice daily. The lad comes of boxing stock, his grandfather, having fought in the bareknuckle days in the squared circle, and his father also being a fighter. His latest victory occurred in London when he defeated An-loine Merlo, a Frenchman, in a brilliant exhibition.

Doings of the Mosquito Fleet which is the chief source of Prince Rupert's prosperity Christmas 1925 and the ushering in of the New Year are now wonderful events of the past in the ranks of the nauticals. All agree that never did the waterfront fraternity enjoy a Yuletide when so much good fellowship was abroad and so many excellent gifts exchanged, more than during the 1925-1926 festive season.

The Scotsmen had their innings on New Year's Eve and welcomed in the great 1926 in royal fashion, and strange to say no casualties were reported.

However, holidays and enjoyment are now things of the past and the sterner business of life comes again into the picture. The wherewithal of life must be earned and to this end the waterfront boys are turning their ardent attentions. Everyone is on the jump now. With the re-opening of the close season less than six weeks away there is a lot to be done to have everything in good order for the great jump-off in the New Year. Boats engines and gear must be thoroughly overhauled and nothing can be left to chance in so dangerous a calling as the local fishermen willingly follow.

Ways Busy

All boat ways in the vicinity of Cow Bay are fully occupied and a long list of boats are waiting to go up for necessary repairs.

Novel Card

Tom Morrison, chief engineer on the lighthouse tender Newington, has won the medal on the waterfront for having received the most original Christmas card. The card bore inspiring words by Jiggs and Casey and the upshot of the wording is that Jiggs has quit a good job to join Casey's tool works. Doubtless if you ask him nicely, Tom will be pleased to show you the card which he prizes very much.

A Great Shot

For real duck shooting A. McEwen of the Cold Storage Co.'s staff takes the rotten egg with crossed spoons. One has only to see him raise the gun to realize what a wonderful vision he must have and the snappy way he presses the trigger of the blunderbuss makes the sights on the big gun tremble with exactitude. Mac was out last week with a few of his colleagues to take in a little duck shooting in the surrounding country. Every member of the party with the exception of Mac, took along a pair of field glasses as it was known the ducks were scarce. But our hero did not want any such aid to his optics, vowing he could see through a sheet of armor plate as far as any man. The great moment arrived—ducks in sight—and every nerve tingled with the glory of shooting a feathered beauty. Mac was Johnny on the spot with his gat and could see nothing but ducks in front of him. Raising his wicked piece of artillery he let go both barrels and when the smoke had cleared away sure enough there in the water fluttered a bird. "That's the way to get 'em," yelled the hunter who swelled blood as he rowed the skiff to the bird. But the bird wasn't a duck. It was a bob tailed fusie, a bird that only eats once a year and never shows any signs of having done so. "Well," said Mac after the discovery "all I can say is that I never saw the blamed thing." The fact remains that he actually missed the ducks.

Builds New Ways

Capt. Jud Thaurber owner of the schooners Mayflower and Muirneag, has been putting in some profitable hours during the enforced holiday season by building himself some nifty ways just north of the old Seal Cove marine ways. Jud has gone in for something fine this time, and not only has he erected a swell way but the whole business has been roughed in which will enable Jud to do good work on the little old boats whether it rains or not. Now he's wondering why he hadn't thought of it before.

An electric fish has recently been caught off the Washington coast and the current from it was so strong an hour after it had been captured that a fisherman was severely shocked. That's the first time we ever heard of a fisherman being shocked by a poor fish.

Jack Toner

The Whiff man was the recipient of a very interesting Christmas and New Year card from Jack Toner who is at the present time in New York. Jack says on the card "Just as Christmas is coming I am writing to all my old time friends, and you are one I will not forget. I have been telling the people here all about Prince Rupert. Since leaving the old town I have sailed nearly half way round the world and have not been arrested yet. I have been telling all my friends in the big cities about the wonderful Irish "barnoon" animal we have in Prince Rupert and the boys from the Atlantic are saving up to get to the Pacific coast to see this wonderful animal. All the old time captains and engineers of the deep sea boats calling here know me and I have renewed a lot of old acquaintances."

Tender Ties Up

G.G.S. Newington, Capt. Harry Ormiston, is to be tied up at the Digby marine station from January 4 to 18. During this period the officers will take shore leave. Capt. Ormiston sails for Vancouver today and will probably be accompanied by the wireless operator P. Davis.

Did you ever hear the story about Tom Morrison, chief gadget operator on the Newington, trying to shoot his skipper's decoy ducks while on a hunting trip? Here she goes. Harry and Tom had gone to Takush Harbor to take in a little hunting this fall. Tom was all for getting a wily deer while Harry said he would be contented to try and take the fly-out of the ducks. The idea was that Harry would blow his whistle at dusk to tell Tom where he was. Off went Tom with his machine gun up the hill while Harry planted out his decoy ducks on the mudflats and camouflaged himself as a piece of rock. Night fell quietly and Harry blew his whistle. Sure enough Tom came down the hill, minus the deer, and joining Harry got in the skiff to go back to the gasboat. Just as they were nearing the decoys Harry pointed to them quickly telling Tom to get ready to go into action. The engineer was all hel up with excitement and grabbing Harry's shot gun waded from from the skiff and commenced to stalk the "ducks." He had crept up to within a few yards of them when Harry yelled at him "If you shoot my decoys I'll shoot you." It was only the sudden threat saved the decoys.

Monster Conger Eel

It is well known that Jim Bacon is famous for something but for exactly what has been a mystery for a long time. However, the mystery has at last been cleaned up and Jim emerges from the veil as one of the greatest local fishermen of conger eels ever to pull on high boots over his carpet slippers. For a little relaxation last week Jim trekked to the edge of the provincial dock and there baited several hooks in the hope of replenishing his eastern market supply. After pulling up sundry denizens of the deep, and re-baiting in a last endeavor, the line suddenly stretched taut as a banjo string and wangled a couple of high soprano notes. Doc Clapperton heard the notes and thought Jim had brought his banjo down to the dock with which to enliven the Eve of Christmas. However Jim hauled on the line and backed himself across the railway track pulling up yards of fish as he went. Passersby were astounded at the sight and many shook like a jelly in a cyclone thinking the long lost sea serpent had at last been caught. The fish was a conger eel of more than ordinary proportions and will, after being skinned, be sold by the yard. The skin will be preserved by Jim and held over as an umbrella cover for some lucky person next Christmas.

The Man Who Talked at Random

HE sat in the window-corner of the Pullman's smoking compartment, and breathed fatly and uttered large opinions in a suety voice. It grew late, as so often it does; and he put the quietus on a discussion with the ponderous statement:

"I don't read advertisements. They have no effect on me at all. I'd never miss them if they stopped printing 'em."

Then he glanced at his advertised watch and sought his lower birth.

In the morning the ad-skeptic contorted himself out of his advertised pyjamas into his advertised underwear, drew on his advertised socks, adjusted them with his advertised garters, got into his advertised clothes, laced his advertised shoes and added himself to the congestion in the wash-room.

There he shaved with an advertised razor, using advertised shaving cream; brushed his teeth with an advertised toothbrush and advertised dental cream, washed with advertised soap, and brushed his hair with an advertised brush. Buttoning his advertised collar on an advertised button, he neatly knotted his advertised tie, gave his advertised suspenders a tug or two, and finished dressing.

Let us leave him there, this man who never reads advertisements!

Everything worth using is advertised. Everything that isn't, rarely is.

JAPANESE PUBLIC TO SEE PALACE

TOKYO, Jan. 2.—The ordinary Japanese public rarely, if ever, has been permitted to view the interior of the Imperial Palace. The motion picture is to change all that, in accordance with an agreement reached between the Educational and Household authorities.

In order that every Japanese may have an idea of what His Majesty's home looks like from the inside, films will be taken of every interesting room in the magnificent palace.

Among the "shots" will be those of the Main Entrance, the Imperial Porch, Homei Hall, Chigusa Hall and Phoenix Hall. Films also will be taken of the Imperial Ancestral Shrines, as well as the Fukiage Garden.

Heretofore only certain persons were allowed inside the palace. Recent social tendencies of the Japanese, which brought about a passage of a new suffrage law giving all citizens the vote, are said to have caused the authorities to decide that the Imperial Family should be brought in closer touch with the masses.

The films will be given to various public bodies and associations for display.

QUEEN MOTHERS' MANY TRAGEDIES

Many Are Refugees in Foreign Lands—Marie of Russia
Worst Sufferer

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 2.—Dowager queens of Europe have suffered many tragedies in the last half century.

The Dowager Empress Marie of Russia, who had another great sorrow in the loss of her sister, Queen Alexandra, has probably been through more horrors than any royal personage of history.

With the possible exception of the unfortunate Empress Charlotte of Mexico, the Dowager Czarine has gone through greater tragedy than any of her sister queens of recent times. The strain was too much for Charlotte's nerves, and a clouded mind saved her from full realization of the horrible slaughter of her husband, Emperor Maximilian.

Amelie of Portugal Queen Amelie of Portugal, who now divides her time between England and France, suffered the loss of her husband and other son at the hands of bomb throwers, and saw her younger son degraded a year after he had succeeded his father.

Former Empress Zita of Austro-Hungary, is a refugee in Spain, where she has her interesting family of children about her and is seeking to advance the claims of her oldest son, Archduke Otto, to a throne which no longer exists. Her fortune is gone. Her Empire is parcelled out among other powers with

DANCE ATTENDED
BY 400 PEOPLE

One of the most successful
New Year's Eve dances ever held in the city took place in the Auditorium on Thursday evening under the auspices of the St. An-spacious hall was crowded with between 300 and 400 dancers and Delightful fox trots and waltzes were rendered by Arthur's orchestra interspersed with Scotch dances, accompanied by Piper Mackindow. The hall was prettily decorated with the colors of the St. Andrew's Society. At midnight the entire assembly joined hands and sang in the New Year with "Auld Lang Syne."

During the evening a lady's sweater was raffled.

The drawing was made by Miss Jean Scott and the winner was Mrs. Norman Watt with ticket

"The Rag Man"

A story of the sidewalks of New York. Little Jackie as Tim Kelly, ragamuffin and waif, who matched his wit against Fate. The drama of a friendless boy in a great metropolis and how he made good. Kelly and Ginsberg, dealers in high-class junk, will give you high-class entertainment. A photo-play brimming with laughter, tears and adventures. Tim and his Jewish Daddy. Clothes may not make the man, but old clothes certainly were the making of Tim Kelly. The kid himself in his most human picture.
Strong cast.

liam Conklin, Lydia Yeamans Titus and others.
