KEEP DOWN LIVING COSTS WHILE RAISING WAGES OF WORKERS

That is Object of Frank Brown, Labor Member for Burnaby, Who is in Victoria

VICTORIA, Feb. 16.—Labor men of British Columbia are anxious to prevent the imposition of a general minimum wage from causing a sudden increase in the cost of living. Frank Browne, Labor member for the legislature for Burnaby, stated on his arrival here to confer with the Eight Hour Day Law Board of Adjustment, which administers the new minimum wage law.

"We are more anxious to get the principle of proper wages established than anything else," Mr. Browne said. "We don't want to see the advantages of the minimum wage law overcome by an increase in the cost of living as a result of wage increases. After all, what interests the laborer of the province is the real worth of their labor and what they actually get in return for it."

"For the present," the Bishop said, "we are aiming at erecting the nave of the new Cathedral with the western facing, including the twin towers as far as the great arch and, at the other end at least, the western arch of the central tower. This would make a unit more or less complete in itself; it would give this generation a little idea of what the proportions and beauty of the finished cathedral will be; and it would give the cathedral congregation a place of worship and, I trust, before the old building becomes too dilapidated.

Elevator Will Be Finished This Week.

This week the work on the Dominion Government elevator will be completed and toward the end of the month, after it has been finally inspected by the architect, it will be formally turned over to the government. That will complete the government's end of the work. The next step will be to get it in operation. What will be done in that regard has not yet been decided. Negotiations of various kinds with a view to its operation have been in progress but up to the time of writing this, no news as to a settlement has been received. Possibly by the time this is published there may be news.

More Estonians For Stewart Lake Settlement.

An Estonian settlement was started last year at Stewart Lake north of Vanderhoof when a few families headed by Sir John Pitka went in and prepared the way for more. The announcement yesterday that Sir John had arranged for the purchase of more lands in the neighborhood indicates that the preliminary work has been a success, and that Sir John and his party are satisfied with conditions at the lake.

If these Estonians can make a success of settlement in that country, it seems as if British people might be able to do the same. They have plenty of initiative and pluck and all that seems necessary to success is a leader of the Sir John Pitka type.

P.G.E. Country Described in London.

The Canadian Gazette has a good description with pictures of the P.G.E. railway and country and this is reprinted today for the benefit of Prince Rupert people, many of whom have but a vague idea of what is there. They do not realize that up to date trains have been running on the line as shown in the pictures and that the people of the district are getting a good service, which they could not have got any other way. With a vigorous settlement policy and under capable management the line will yet prove a success.

Definite Habits Of Systematic Work.

In his report to the school board at Victoria Principal Smith complains that the people of that city do not encourage their children in regular home studies. While there has been a revulsion against too much home work, the swing of the pendulum has gone to the other extreme and too little is done.

In a letter to the board the principal says too many fail to realize the advantage of getting students to form a definite habit of doing some systematic work each evening. Because there are isolated instances of students spending an unreasonable amount of time upon home study, they condemn the whole plan and would abolish it completely. He says he thinks boys and girls today suffer more from too few definite duties in the evening than from too many.

GRAND MASTER VISITS LODGES

Local Masons Were Out in Force Last Night on Occasion of Mr. Manson's Presence

One of the largest gatherings of Masons in the history of the city attended at the Temple on Sixth Avenue last night for the occasion of the official visit of Hon. A. M. Manson, Grand Master for British Columbia. After the lodge meeting which was under the joint auspices of Timpsean and Tyee Lodges, there was a banquet at which Ald. W. M. Brown, master of Timpsean Lodge, presided and at which a stirring address was delivered by Mr. Manson.

Tomorrow night Mr. Manson will proceed to Anxox to pay his official visit to Enoch Lodge. Some twenty or so local Masons will accompany him.

CHANGE OF PROGRAM WESTHOLME THEATRE

Two Wonderful Comedies Presented for Remainder of Week

There has been a change made in the program for the remainder of this week at the Westholme Theatre. On Wednesday and Thursday, will be presented a diverting mystery drama "Bobbed Hair," the screen version of the popular novel written by twenty noted authors, followed by a comedy "Stupid, but Brave," and Aesop's Film Fables. The story is an entrancing one of a flapper who did not know which of two men she loved, so she ran away with a third. There is lots of excitement and many big scenes, winding up with a gorgeous costume ball.

Then on Friday and Saturday there will be presented that outrageously funny comedy, "Oh, Doctor," a comedy of pills, thrills, a pretty nurse and a sick man who had nothing the matter with him. The picture is made from the funniest story Harry Leon Wilson ever wrote. You'll have a temperature when you finish seeing the sick man cured. Then there is the comedy "Monkey Business" and Pathe Review.

The ladies made excellent baskets, the men proving themselves very enthusiastic buyers.

Donations of chocolates for the auction were given by Gordon's 7th Ave. Grocery Store, the Prince Rupert Table Supply, Grime's Drug Store, and the Prince Rupert Pharmacy.

About twenty dollars above expenses were made. The ladies had plenty of extra refreshments on hand for everybody, and the games were entered into in great spirit. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Andy Murray, refreshments of Mrs. Beale, and program, Mrs. Squires.

Many enjoyable games were played, and contests held, the prize-winners being the Misses Lilian Cross, Virginia Riel, Edith Lewis, and Rosemary Winslow.

At ten o'clock refreshments were served in the supper room, which was prettily decorated with red streamers and hearts. The favors were heart place-cards with appropriate verses, and valentine baskets filled with candy. At twelve o'clock the party broke up, having spent a very enjoyable evening under the chaperonage of Mrs. F. D. Rice.

ANY public institution is normal when the committee in charge speaks up its inadequate equipment.

THE other day a correspondent sent what he called some blank verse. The editor turned it over to me with the emphatic remark that it was blankety blank verse it was.

ABOUT the best place I have ever thought of living was within my imagine, but I never got there.

I HAVE known places where the people considered bridge a wicked game even on Saturday nights. If they had dropped in on a quiet game in a Christian home in Prince Rupert on Sunday evening they would have had ten cat-fits.

EVERYBODY knows that men work harder than women because they have no time to attend auction sales.

BURNS Lake is to have a nine o'clock curfew bell. Apparently the Burns Lake people are as fond of a joke as are Prince Rupert citizens.

WATCH MOVEMENTS OF JAPANESE TEACHERS

Four Arrived Recently, One For Ocean Falls to Instruct Children in Language

VICTORIA, Feb. 16. — Movements of four Japanese school teachers who reached British Columbia this week from Japan with their husbands will be closely watched by the Department of Education here, Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education, announced.

Any private schools established by the Japanese teachers must conform to Canadian standards, the minister declared. He added that he had no information on the teachers' plans and knew nothing of their arrival except what he had seen in the newspapers. The dainty Japanese ladies say they are going to Ocean Falls and Mission to teach Japanese children there the language of Japan, which they are rapidly forgetting in their Canadian environment.

Observe Standards

"We cannot prevent the Japanese from establishing schools of their own," said Dr. MacLean. "If such schools are established, however, they have to live up to certain standards of education which will make good Canadian citizens out of their pupils. Such standards, of course, would be enforced in any schools established by the Japanese. Any teachers who wish to teach in the public schools must have certificates and we would not grant these certificates to Japanese women. We cannot stop them teaching in private schools, however.

"As far as the use of public school buildings by Japanese is concerned, that is a matter for the school boards in charge."

Officials here are puzzled at the admission of the Japanese teachers to this country. It is not known under what clause of Canada's immigration agreements with Japan they were allowed to come to the Dominion.

KEEP TAX RATE DOWN BELOW FORTY MILLS

VICTORIA, Feb. 16. — It is hoped to keep the tax rate of the city below forty mills this year. Last year it was 39.30 and the preliminary estimates brought down would, if adopted, bring it up to about 43 mills. A pruning policy will probably bring it down to last year's level.

"Well, don't you call that an accident?"

"No, sir! He did it on purpose."

Rev. C. H. Heustis Writes to Police Commission in Victoria Regarding Their City

VICTORIA, Feb. 15. — "Personally, I would be sorry to see a repetition of the fiasco that occurred some years ago in your city under a former Mayor," Rev. C. H. Heustis, British Columbia secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, writes in a letter to Mayor Carl Pendray, chairman of the Victoria Police Commission, in referring to the efforts to enforce the Lord's Day Act here several years ago.

"I assure you that we were not responsible for that demonstration at that time. I urged the Mayor of the city then as strongly as I could not to try to do anything drastic, but to move along the lines of least resistance," says Mr. Heustis.

Rev. Mr. Heustis informs Mayor Pendray that he regretted the Victoria Police Commission had decided to do nothing in the matter on enforcement of the Lord's Day Act, asserting that this has been the policy of the last few years. He says that he did not think that a case had been taken under the Lord's Day Act in Victoria for some time. Vancouver is quite active in the matter, he declares.

One Free Day Urged

The writer states that from a study of the matter he had made in Victoria some time ago, he had come to the conclusion that some forms of Sunday business would be glad to be relieved—particularly tobacco and newsstands. "These fellows live a somewhat drab life, or at any rate a monotonous one. I would like to see them with a Sunday holiday like the rest of us. They do not deal in perishable material and hence their business does not come within the category of 'necessary.'"

In concluding Rev. Mr. Heustis says that his idea of Sunday is a free day for everybody. He believes that the public in general should make some sacrifice in order that everyone might have the day off. "That is what he has been working for for many years, he declares, adding that "How people use the day is another question—a matter of conscience—which everyone will have to decide for himself."

Mayor's Comment

Mayor Pendray's only comment on the communication was: "While we have every respect for the Lord's Day Alliance organization the Police Commission of Victoria feels that it is quite capable of seeing that the law is reasonably and fairly carried out."

PRINCE ALBERT IN LIMELIGHT

FOREIGN SETTLEMENTS

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Was Elected in District During Territorial Days

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Feb. 16.—The federal constituency of Prince Albert, where Premier W. L. Mackenzie King was elected yesterday, boasts of a novel past of political and historical interest.

A curious coincidence which has developed with the bye-election is that two of the major issues, which were injected into the brief campaign, were issues included in the Bill of Rights drawn up by Louis Riel, the denial of which is said to have precipitated the rebellion.

In Riel's bill was the following complaint: "That the Northwest has been denied the control of its natural resources; that the population had been denied direct communication with Europe via the Hudson Bay."

It was at the town of Prince Albert, that the Riel rebellion reached its climax. In 1885 when the smouldering resentment of the half-breeds broke into flame, Prince Albert was a town with a population of 700. Volunteers from the town were the first to engage the rebels in the battle of Duck Lake.

Historic Riding
The riding of Prince Albert is the most historic in Saskatchewan, and some claim possibly in the Canadian West. On the map of the riding are to be found such names as Hatochee, Fish Creek, Frog Lake, and Duck Lake. It was at the latter point where Crozier issued his historic order "fire away boys" which resulted in a bloody encounter between the government forces and a company of rebels under the leadership of Gabriel Dumont, Riel's chief lieutenant.

The constituency of Prince Albert was considerably reduced in the last redistribution, being cut down in area by about two-thirds. The bulk of the population, however, is in the west end of the old riding, now the new riding of Prince Albert. It has a large foreign born population in the rural areas southwest of the city, and a strong French-Canadian settlement in the city itself. North of the North Saskatchewan River, there is an untenanted belt of sand about 20 miles wide, and beyond this a growing settlement was opened up by the soldier settlers in 1919-1920.

Derelict Power Plant
A huge power project about 1910 was planned to put Prince Albert more largely on the map, and the citizens spent about a million dollars to dam the North Saskatchewan River, east of the city. This power plant would have supplied light and power for half of Saskatchewan, but just as the project was well on its way to completion, the West was hit by a wave of depression and the work stopped. The bondholders still have half a huge power dam waiting for someone to come along with capital to complete the enterprise. The vast concrete works include a ship lock to accommodate the river steamers which might ply on the river and tentative plans for a pulp and paper plant to tap the northern forests were also drawn up.

In addition to the French Canadian population of Prince Albert, there are numerous French settlements southwest of the city, at St. Laurent, St. Louis, St. Isidore, Batoche, and St. Julien. Still farther southwest are the Galician settlements around Wakaw with other central European communities at Rosheron and Petroika. The Prince Albert community is largely made up of descendants of the British mounted police officers and the Scottish traders of the Hudson's Bay Company, and with the later immigration of the boom years after 1900, largely made up of settlers from the British Isles.

When the old Northwest territories were first given representation in the House of Commons in 1887, four electoral divisions were created. For the one in which the district of Prince Albert was included, the late Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, former premier of Canada was elected by a small majority in 1896. The new constituency of Prince Albert was established in 1906 and since that time has in turn been represented by a Liberal, Conservative, Progressive and Liberal.

SPORT CHAT

With the bug for the game hitting the United States both east and west and the southern 'republic' having the large gates of the big cities to draw the players across the line, there is danger that Canada may before long have to surrender first place in the hockey world that she has held for so many years. The game has caught the public fancy in New York, Pittsburgh, and Boston this winter and next year there will probably be additional teams in Chicago, Detroit and Brooklyn. In the west league hockey has been organized for some time in Seattle and Portland. There is quite an outcry against what the Canadian hockey managers describe as syndicate hockey. There is nothing very new in this idea, however, for British Columbia through the Patrick brothers has been having syndicate hockey for several years. What Tex Rickard and his associates have been doing in New York this winter is exactly what the Patrick brothers were doing in British Columbia fifteen years ago.

The Prince George hockey team will figure for the first time this winter in the British Columbia championship under the Amateur Athletic Association. Later in the season they will play off with other intermediate teams of the province. For the purpose of playing off the intermediate teams have been placed in two groups. In the opening contest Merrill is scheduled to meet the champions of the C.P.R. main line league. The winners in this will meet the champions of the Okanagan league. The winners in the second contest will meet the Prince George team at some point on the main line of the C.P.R. or in the Okanagan. The date for this match has not been set but it is figured it will be on Saturday, February 20, or a day or two later. The champions of the coast will try out the winners of the event with Prince George at some point in the Okanagan or on the main line of the railway. In the second group the winners of the Greenwood-Grand Forks pair will play the winners of the Nelson-Roseland pair for the right to represent West Kootenay. Teams from Kimberly, Fernie and Cranbrook will play off with each other for the right to represent East Kootenay. The champions of West and East

Bronchitis More Than a Cold
Often develops rapidly into pneumonia—relief is found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Any cold is serious enough when its dreadful possibilities are considered, but when there is soreness or tightness in the chest and a dry hard cough you can look for bronchitis, which is often confused with an ordinary cold.

It is usually known by aching limbs and body pains, chilly feelings, weariness and weakness, pain in the chest and a tight, tearing cough. Fever, dry skin, thirst, coated tongue and constipation are other symptoms.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine seems almost like a specific for bronchitis because it is so successful in loosening up the cough, aiding expectoration and preventing the inflammation from reaching the lungs.

Pacific Great Eastern Railway Passes Through Land of Promise Says Writer in English Journal

So much has been said in a political way of the P.G.E., the railway that British Columbia does not want, that many people have distorted views of that railway and the country which it serves. That is the reason why it is refreshing to read in "The Canadian Gazette" published in England, a descriptive article on that railway. Pictures are shown with it of scenes along the line. The article follows:

Few railways have created more discussion than the Pacific Great Eastern. The perennial question is as to the completion of the road to its present logical termination in the north at Prince George, there to connect with the east and west trunk road of the Canadian National Railways, and in the south to connect the city of Vancouver, via the Second Narrows Bridge and the line already existing to Whytecliffe, with Squamish, the present terminus of the road at the head of Howe Sound.

Colonization Road

The railway was built as a colonization road to open up Central British Columbia for settlement. The scheme is a sound one, for the country opened up is rich in minerals, other resources and agricultural promise, while the Pacific Great Eastern road passes through some of the finest sporting country in British Columbia, with scenery along the line unrivalled, even in a Province famous for the grandeur of its mountains, lakes and rivers. The P.G.E. is beginning to make a name for itself as a scenic route for tourists, and with greater publicity on its scenic attractions should in the next few years develop a yearly increasing summer tourist business. There are 360.9 miles of railway in operation, including the 12.8 miles from North Vancouver to Whytecliffe. From Squamish to Quesnel, in the Cariboo district, there are 348.1 miles in operation. There the line at present ends. So with its beginning and ending at nowhere in particular, for neither Squamish or Quesnel are worthy of being the termini of such a promising railroad, it has aptly been termed the "headless and tailless" railroad of British Columbia.

Mixed Farming

That it is a road of promise for the settler is shown by the fact that for years considerable mixed farming has been carried on from Squamish as far as Mile 117 (Birkenhead Summit), Pemberton Meadows, in the valley of the Lillooet River for instance offers "a rich alluvial soil famed for its fertility." Settlement began here in the early 'sixties, and already 25,000 acres of the 30,000 acres in the valley, "free from rocks and sub-irrigated," are privately owned, but "there are at the present time many opportunities for purchasing unimproved lands at a reasonable price." At the town of Lillooet the alluvial benches of the Fraser River have long been cultivated. Potatoes are a specialty here, the yield in some instances being as high as 26 tons to the acre, and all kinds of fruit are grown. The district round the old town of Clinton is well known for its range lands which, good for cattle, should be equally good for sheep farming, an increasing industry both in the Prairie Provinces and in British Columbia. Further north the Chilcotin district is also famous for its cattle ranching, in a country of wild hay meadows growing in summer wild hay, and pea-vine in the moister tracts.

Mining District

In the vicinity of Quesnel the railway enters into a mining district, though to the east, round the town of Barkerville, there are "one or two old-established farms." The P.G.E. "taps the old Cariboo placer field, which in the past has yielded round $80,000,000 worth of gold," and the placer-gold production of 1924 for the Cariboo district, mainly from Barkerville, Cedar Creek, Camp and Keithley Creek, was $250,000. Bucket dredging is in operation on Antler Creek by the Kafue Company, of London, and another company is erecting a dredge at Williams Creek in the same district. Hydraulic mining is in operation round Quesnel, and some copper showings have been discovered some 10 miles to the east of Alexandria. But more important for the P.G.E. are "The Hat Creek" coal deposits known to be of considerable extent but as yet not fully prospected, but which when developed should add materially to the available freight tonnage of the line. The sources of water-power are some of the most considerable in the Province, for the railroad either runs along or crosses such rivers as "the Squamish and its branches, the Stawamus, Mamquam and Creakamus, the Green, Lillooet, Birkenhead, Fraser and Quesnel." The P.G.E. touches a point about three miles from the Bridge River Valley, shortly to be the site of the greatest development of water power on this continent, except maybe Niagara, by the British Columbia Electric Railway Company. Nor is this all, for round Soda Creek, as the name implies, are chemical deposits of carbonates of soda, magnesia and lime, and sulphates of magnesia and lime. The P.G.E. is also not badly off for timber resources along its route, for it is said to traverse a region of "a potential timber asset of no mean value."

Delay in Development

It has been advanced as a plea for the abandonment of the railway that it does not pay its way. The reply of the general manager of the line may be quoted: "It should be remembered that a colonization railway cannot be expected to pay until some of the resources of the country it serves are developed. That these resources exist has been shown, and it is therefore evident that the delay in the development of traffic on the P.G.E. cannot be attributed to lack of natural resources in the country traversed by the railroad, but to the delay in the development of those resources."

The extension of the P.G.E. into the Peace River district is entirely a matter for future decision, but doubtless when the road is linked up both north and south and there is through connection between Prince George on the C.N.R. with the port of Vancouver, and as the intermediate country is fully developed, the extension will be accomplished. It is the logical route for the grain from the Peace River district to tide-water at Burrard Inlet.

Cost of Line

Figures given by the general manager for the end of the fiscal year 1924 show: "There had been expended for construction, including right-of-way, townsites and equipment, the sum of $28,125,040.39. The total loss in operating to the same date was $1,798,883.95. The losses in operating for the fiscal years 1922-23 and 1923-24 were $240,786.41 and $242,207.41 respectively. The operating expenses for these two years were practically the same (the difference was under $200), but the loss in freight earnings was $35,694.99.

This was almost entirely due to the stagnant condition of the log and lumber market during the year 1923-24, but the loss was reduced to $11,500 by the increased earnings received from passenger, express and sleeping-car revenue. In considering the annual deficit it is well to remember that Government revenues have been considerably increased from resources which have been developed by the railway."

The above description of the railway was written before the statement, published below, was made by Premier Oliver.

Government's Policy

The setting aside of huge blocks of land, not to exceed 20,000 acres per mile, and a subsidy for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, and application for assistance of the Dominion Government in cash and lands to complete the railway to the eastern boundary of the Province are features of the P.G.E. policy introduced in the British Columbia Legislation by Premier Oliver.

The Government in the Bill proposes at this time to set aside 16,075,000 acres in four blocks for the railway. It is also intended to request the return from the Dominion Government of the unalienated lands in the Peace River block.

Assistance also will be sought from the Province of Alberta in the way of land grants to assist in connecting up the railway with the lines in that Province.

The Premier stated that the placing of large blocks of land as assets for the railway would be divided into two sections for the purpose of the Act, the first being from Vancouver to Prince George, and the second from Prince George to the eastern boundary of the Province.

The public lands to be set aside are to be known as the Peace River block, the East Cariboo block, the West Cariboo block and the Lillooet block. It is intended that the public lands in the areas conveyed to the railway shall be free from taxation for 20 years, other than school taxes. Timber royalties shall still go to the Crown, except on timber used solely for the purpose of the railway.

Eczema Was So Bad Could Hardly Sleep

Mrs. G. Jones, Kitcoy, Alta., writes: "I had eczema on my left hand, and my first finger was so swollen, sore and itchy I could hardly sleep at night. I got a prescription from my doctor, but it did me no good, so I finally began to take

After I had taken three bottles I was completely relieved of my eczema, and would advise any one suffering from any disease of the blood to use B.B.B., as it's worth its price many times over. # An Infallible Guard

HEIMDAL, according to Celtic mythology, was the perfect sentinel. His hearing was so acute that he could hear the wool growing on a sheep's back. His eyesight was so keen he could see everything that happened even though it occurred while he slept.

Advertising, if you use it properly, is an infallible sentinel for you. It guards you against fraud and inferiority. It protects you against making unwise and unsatisfactory purchases.

Merchants and manufacturers who advertise must give full value because they have good names to protect. The makers of well-known products and the stores that sell these products often value the names at millions of dollars. They cannot afford to jeopardize the worth of these names by selling any but good goods of full measure and fair price.

So, you can bank on this. Advertised goods must be as advertised. That is why it pays to deal with advertisers and to buy advertised products.

RAILWAY RATES AND EARNINGS OF COMPANIES

(Edmonton Bulletin)
Despite the terrible loss the C.P.R. was supposed to suffer if the Crow's Nest rates were again enforced it is reported that the net earnings of that system for the last year have been three million dollars more than for the previous year. Something seems to suggest the claim that the railways would go broke hauling wheat at the Crow's Nest rates was a bad guess.

Annual General Meeting of Canadian Labor Party Packed With Radical Element

The red flag is raised at C.L.P. headquarters in Edmonton today says the Edmonton Bulletin.

Packing the annual general meeting of the Central Council of the Canadian Labor Party Tuesday night, the radical element of the labor movement succeeded in wresting the reins of government from the anti-communist labor leaders. When the smoke of a hot election contest had cleared away John Lakeman, a railway carman employed at the Calder shops, and provincial secretary of the communist party in Alberta, was in the saddle as president of the Central Council of the Canadian Labor Party for the Edmonton district.

With him President Lakeman carried a full Communist slate, and the slaughter was only stopped when Past President George Latham, who saw which way the landslide was moving, succeeded in jamming through a motion to adjourn and pass over the election of the executive and trustees until the next meeting two weeks hence.

Meantime the labor leaders who were taken by surprise on

PLANTED TEASELS FOR GOLDFINCHES IN PARK

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Last year the Office of Works planted groups of teasels in Hyde Park with the purpose of attracting goldfinches. Harold Russell, F.L.S., F.Z.S., in a letter in The Times, draws attention to the result. The severe weather, he says, brought some goldfinches into London, presumably in search of food. A small party has taken up its quarters in the sanctuary by the Long Water. As soon as daylight appears, they resort to the heads of the dead teasels, on the seeds of which they feed; but later in the day, when the park is crowded, they are not so visible.

MALE REVIVAL IS DISCUSSED

Man and Woman Debate Status of Women and Modern Degeneracy

LONDON, Feb. 16.—That there is need for a male revival was the subject of an amusing debate between F. A. Mitchell-Hedges, the explorer, and Miss Ellen Wilkinson, M.P. It had been arranged by the Association of Women Clerks and Secretaries, whose interest had been aroused by Mr. Mitchell-Hedges' theory that women were creating unemployment by holding jobs that men should do. The audience contained a large number of women who were probably doing those jobs. They enjoyed themselves immensely and were inclined to interrupt the speaker, specially after one of them had made a happy hit. Mr. Mitchell-Hedges had been talking of the natural law that the male should be the leader. "You see it in insects," he said, "in fish, birds, 'Bees,' said a voice from the audience. "In practically everything right through nature," said Mr. Mitchell-Hedges, "except probably bees and perhaps spiders."

Checked Questions

Presently Miss Lillian Dawson, the chairman, checked the questions, but she could not check the hilarity that greeted the speaker's points about the position of man as protector of women, the impossibility of women being pioneers in the jungle or pioneers of Empire, and their physical inferiority to man. He talked about many things, about the degeneracy of the modern gilded youth—he told a dreadful story about a dance he had attended at which the young men, presented with little puff-balls, threw them about gleefully while the girls looked on rather scornfully. He gave a shocking account of the degeneracy in countries where women ruled, instancing especially the sad case of the Chucunaque Indians, whose males have to be dragged to the wedding ceremony and thenceforth live miserably shut up and under the drastic orders of their wives. Then he told how Rome perished because men became effeminate and women were worshipped. Even so might England perish. One thing that caused him great distress was the sight of 22,000 men watching a game played by 22 men. Mr. Mitchell-Hedges was silent, however, about women usurping men's jobs.

Miss Wilkinson's Reply

Miss Ellen Wilkinson did not take this too seriously, though she answered point by point. She asked Mr. Mitchell-Hedges to turn his eyes from the scented darlings of Bond Street, whom he seemed to have been meeting exclusively, and look at the women workers of England, the heavy work done, for instance, by a miner's wife who had three shifts of menfolk to look after, to prepare their baths, wash their clothes, do heavy housework from morning to night, and combine with these duties the bearing of children. As for women not being pioneers of the Empire could not have been built up by men alone. They needed the help

She Could Hardly Do Her Housework Nerves Were So Bad

Mrs. I. M. Parks, Conseccon, Ont., writes:—"I had heart and nerve trouble, and became so short of breath I could hardly do my daily housework, and was so nervous I could not think of staying alone, as every little sound I heard felt like a shock to me.

of the pioneer women who went with them "The work of the mother who has borne children in pioneer conditions," she said, "will stand comparison with the work of the man who felled the trees." If 22,000 men watched 22 men playing, she continued, it was because in an industrial community they could not get fields to play in themselves, though they would infinitely rather be doing so.

Tear For Unhappy

Miss Wilkinson shed a tear for the unhappy males of the Chucunaque tribe and passed on to contend that it was not because her men became degenerate that Rome declined but because she was ruled by a small degenerate, parasitic class. They might put a lot on the shoulders of the women, but she failed to see how they could put that. The most virile civilisation was found where men and women compelled together in fairness and friendliness. "This idea of a gorgeous man six feet six in height with a nice, gentle thing gazing at him and thinking 'he was the only man in the world,'" said Miss Wilkinson, "may be found in such books as Ethel M. Bell's but we women know our men as just the ordinary sort of men."

BIOLOGY BOAT BEING BUILT AT VANCOUVER

Will be Operated in Connection With the Station at Nanaimo

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15.—British Columbia's coast waters are to be thoroughly prospected in order to find out all that may be known about marine growth, and its relation to the fishing industry when the new government craft, now under construction at the Hoffer Marine Construction and Breaching, Limited, shipyard is launched.

Awaits Engines

This vessel is nearly completed awaiting only the arrival of her Diesel engines from England to take the water. She will be 60 feet long, 13 feet beam, with a draught of 8 feet. The boat is being constructed for the biological branch of the department of marine and fisheries.

Students from the University of B.C. will cruise with the craft to study marine biology.

Study at University

The government vessel will collect samples of all marine growth and will bring them back to the laboratory of the University of B.C. It is thought that certain noxious growths might be responsible for a shortage of fish at certain times, and at certain points, and this will be ascertained by experiments with fish in the university.

The vessel now being built will be equipped with storage to bring back marine growths, and will be operated under the direction of the government marine biology department at Nanaimo.

STRESEMANN SCORED PREMIER MUSSOLINI

(Victoria Times)

If Premier Mussolini got any satisfaction out of Foreign Minister Stresemann's reply to Saturday's outburst, no doubt the German statesman would be the first to say he was welcome to it. "The German government must decline to reply to Premier Mussolini in a tone which is better suited to mass meetings than to diplomatic conversations with other nations" was the stroke of a man with a complete hold on himself in contrast with the frothings of a political jackass.
