Change in Rates Would

Application for increase in elevator charges is explained by C. D. Howe, designer of local plant

That it is in Prince Rupert's best interests to support rather than oppose the application that has been made by the Terminal Elevator Co. and other Vancouver grain interests to the Board of Grain Commissioners for a revision of elevator rates to bring the rates here and at Vancouver to the same basis as Fort William is the declaration of C. D. Howe, head of the C. D. Howe & Co., consulting engineers who designed the Prince Rupert elevator, who is a member of the city for the purpose of looking over the local elevator plant and ascertain if everything is functioning properly.

CONFERENCE IS BEING DELAYED

GENERAL HERTZOG OF SOUTH AFRICA HAS CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS TO THRASH OUT

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Another three weeks work lies ahead of the Imperial Conference and efforts are being made to speed up the work in an endeavor to adjourn by November 15. However, constitutional issues raised by President Hertzog of South Africa there are serious details still to be dealt with. It is doubtful if the conference will complete its work before November 15.

MYSTERY FOR SCOTLAND YARD

INVESTIGATING DOUBLE KILLING AT ROHAMPTON — MANUFACTURER AND WIFE DEAD

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Scotland Yard is investigating the circumstances of the death of Rosemary Brunner, former alkali manufacturer, and his wife who were found dead early today in a cottage in Hampton, the home of their daughter, Princess Ferdinand Leichtenstein. A maid said that when she found the bodies, which were pierced with bullet wounds, a revolver was clutched in the owner's hand.

IN COLLISION

EAR-END IMPACT EAST OF WINNIPEG ON CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAY

WINNIPEG, Nov. 4.—Four men were killed and two were injured in a rear-end collision of two Canadian National passenger trains near Farlane, Ontario, 140 miles east of Winnipeg, this morning. The trains were stock handlers riding special passenger cars. A caboose and stock car caught fire, the men being burned to death.

PRISON AND LASHES STATUTORY OFFENCE

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—Ten years and 100 lashes was the sentence imposed at the assize court yesterday when Pietro Sica, 28 years of age, was convicted of a statutory offence.

Work has recently started on the foundations of Union College of British Columbia, which will occupy a splendidly located three acre site on the University campus at Point Grey. Union College is a project of the United Church of Canada and marks the uniting of Ryerson College, Westminster Hall and the Congregational College of B.C. The principals are Dr. W. H. Smith and Dr. J. Geo. Brown. Class work is carried on in co-operation with the Anglican Theological College under Principal Vance, and arts options are taken at the University of British Columbia.

The main entrance is a memorial tower. The right wing will accommodate classes and provide living quarters for theological students and some boys from church homes in remote communities will live here while attending University. The left wing will be a chapel in which will be housed all of the historical documents and relics of early church work in the province. Rev. J. Williams Ogden, Baptist minister and noted artist, of Vancouver, has donated some ancient books of value. He is also presenting a magnificent oil painting as a nucleus of an art collection.

Much optimism is felt regarding the finances of Union College which will be opened free of debt, if plans do not miscarry. There is already on hand fifty thousand dollars which is the savings of the past years. Wealthier members promise to give twenty-five thousand dollars and individual congregations are promising an amount equal to one dollar per member.

The opening of Union College will not interfere with the work of Columbian College of New Westminster. It will be filled to capacity as it now has the combined young people of the three churches to care for instead of the former Methodist constituency.

Union College work is now being carried on in temporary quarters and beside class work for resident students several are taking post graduate courses by mail, Rev. Wm. Deans of Ocean Falls; Rev. Victor Sansum of Hazelton; Rev. Gerald Switzer of Giscome being among the number.

SEVERE LOSSES OF REPUBLICANS

NOW CONTROL BUT ONE HALF OF SENATE INCLUDING INSURGENTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Belated returns this afternoon emphasized the indication that President Coolidge, on account of reduced support both in the Senate and House of Representatives, from next March until the end of his term will have some problems for his attention. Just one half of the senators will be Republican and eight of that number may be insurgent. The Republicans have a reduced majority in the House and insurgents will be a considerable factor there as well. In addition there is the prospect of the new Senate refusing seats to two Republican senators—Vare of Pennsylvania, and Smith of Illinois—because of testimony previous to election day of their heavy expenses in obtaining nominations.

Complete returns show that the next Senate will comprise 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Farmer-Labor. In the present Senate there is a Republican majority of nine.

The referendum to revive horse racing in California was voted down.

Both "wet" and "dry" leaders claim Tuesday's vote as favorable to their respective causes.

The standing of parties in the election was this morning as follows:

SENATE COMPLETE
Republicans	21
Democrats	14
Election deferred	1
Total	36
HOUSE
Republicans	232

Railway Income Likely to Reach
$45,000,000 by End of the Year
Suggests Sir Henry Thornton

VANCOUVER, November 4.—A net operating income of $45,000,000 this year for the Canadian National Railway was predicted by Sir Henry Thornton in an address to the Board of Trade last night. This sum, he pointed out, would be sufficient to pay all interest charges on securities held by the public and leave something over for application to loans made by the government.

"One way to measure the value of an investment is its working capacity," Sir Henry said. "Applying that standard to the Canadian National Railway it is found that in 1922 the net earnings were three million dollars while this year was a super-optimist. Throughout the address he preached the gospel of faith in the future of Canada and cited examples of the development of the great natural resources being carried on in all sections of the country.

Sir Henry will leave here Monday for Prince Rupert.

Up to This Morning 925 Cars
Wheat Have Arrived at Elevator
Since Opening and 500 on Way

Up to yesterday 925 cars of wheat had arrived at the Prince Rupert elevator since the grain movement to this port started last month. This amounts to about 1,400,000 bushels which would more than fill the elevator or, taking the 500,000 or so bushels that has been loaded on two ships, would leave about 900,000 bushels now in the plant. The Japanese freighter Tofuku Maru will move down to the elevator this afternoon from the dry dock where lining has been completed and will take on some 250,000 bushels for delivery to United Kingdom or continent.

Two hundred carloads of grain have arrived here since the first of the week and yesterday there were 500 cars east of Jasper bound for here and 350 on the division.

DAN SUTHERLAND

Digby Island Lands to Lease by Government Announced at Victoria

The waterfront lots recently surveyed on Digby Island are to be leased for a 21 years term, according to advice received by Norman Watt, government agent here. Tracings of the survey have been forwarded here and the lands will be offered to those wishing to secure them on the government terms. The communication from the department of lands says in part:

Leases will be granted for a term of 21 years at an annual rental of $10.00 each for the first five years and thereafter subject to revision each succeeding five year period and subject to cancellation on six months notice with reasonable compensation for improvements in the event of the land being required for industrial or other purposes of public interest.

Should two or more applications be made for any one of the lots, the same should be offered to competition for the right to lease, and the application of the highest bidder over and above the $10 annual rental may be accepted.

For the present it is not intended that any lease shall be granted over the lots in the rear—only those fronting on the water will be dealt with.

Swamp Fell Through Into Workings and Trapped Men Who Were on Shift

ISHPEMING, Mich., Nov. 4.—Fifty-two miners are believed to have lost their lives when swamps fell into the shaft here yesterday. Early today seven bodies were recovered and little hope remains that any of the remaining 45 are alive.

Deepened by recent rains the swamp gave way and a section 300 feet long by 200 feet wide fell into the mine, tapping the entire crew at work in the first and third levels. Rescue crews immediately started to bore their way through the tangled mass of mud, rocks and timbers.

CANCELLED RECEPTION TO QUEEN MARIE WHEN FOUND SCHEDULE WAS DELAYED

SUITE AT VANCOUVER TAKES ROOMS USED ONLY BY PRINCE OF WALES AND LATE PRESIDENT HARDING

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—When Queen Marie reaches Vancouver tomorrow she will be accommodated in a manner befitting her rank, occupying the Royal Suite covering the greater part of the eighth floor of the Hotel Vancouver, which has been used on only two occasions, during the visits of President Harding and the Prince of Wales.

SEATTLE, Nov. 4.—The official reception to Queen Marie and the tour of Seattle was cancelled today by Mayor Bertha Landes, when advices were received that the Queen would not arrive in Seattle until six hours after the schedule.

The committee which was to have received the Queen was composed of thirty Washington and British Columbia mayors, Governor Hartley and others. "My only reason for cancelling the reception is to avoid inconvenience to a lot of tow visitors," Mrs. Landes declared.

LIQUOR CASES ARE DISMISSED

GREAT WAR VETERANS' ASSOCIATION, GRAND TERMINAL, AND TRAIL CLUB ARE FOUND NOT GUILTY

Accepting the argument of Milton Gonzales, defence counsel, that the case was not a legal entity, the branch of the association here having no existence in law, Magistrate McClymont in the police court yesterday afternoon dismissed the charge against the Great War Veterans' Association of selling liquor through its servant.

On the same point, Mr. Gonzales won dismissals in the cases of the Grand Terminal Club, also charged with selling liquor, and the Trail Club, charged with an infraction of the Government Liquor Act by not keeping a guest book.

Mr. Alfred McNeill, Chapel Rock, Alta., writes:

"During the winter of 1920-21, I was greatly distressed with pains in my back and felt tired and depressed most of the time. Particularly during the night I was troubled with frequent urination, some nights having to rise almost every hour. I tried several different treatments without success, until finally I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they relieved my condition before I had finished the first box. MESSAGES FROM MARS.

Despite the claims made by a London "telepathist" that he has been receiving messages from Mars there is no indisputable evidence, in fact no evidence of any kind that life exists on that planet. Imagination may spur supporters of telepathy to be dogmatic in their belief of inhabitants in Mars, but it will be time enough to credit their assertions when telepathy has been sufficiently demonstrated on earth to justify its application to the realms of ether or space outside the earth's atmosphere, says the Victoria Colonist. The London telepathist has destroyed whatever credulity might be attached to his argument by attempting to describe the physical characteristics of the "Martians," their personal habits and their scientific achievements.

Telescopes indicate that there are lines which resemble canals on Mars, but the supposition is that they are of natural and not artificial origin. There is no parallel in earth's geology to the network of straight lines which are ramified all over the planet. Scientists claim to have discovered that the mean temperature of Mars is about 47 deg. Fahrenheit, and such a temperature is not inconsistent with the existence of sentient beings, although on the basis of life on earth no high degree of civilization could be developed there. Then, again, it is claimed that the Martian atmosphere is as rare as that to be found on the top of earth's highest mountains, or, in other words, the relative density of the air on Mars is only about one-twelfth of that at the surface of the earth. If the "inhabitants" live by breathing air their lungs must be differently constructed to those of men. In other words, a man could not live on Mars and a Martian could not live on earth.

The question in these days of radio is not so much as to whether radiant energy may be capable of crossing the void of space but that if it once crossed is there any receptive faculty where it reaches? There is no proof that the "Martians" have ever attempted to send messages by Hertzian rays, or any other rays, nor is there anything to suggest that if sent they would be understood or their presence even known. It is quite true that we are only on the threshold of the wonder of radio-telegraphy, but even that science may never be able to add anything to knowledge as to whether there is life or not in Mars. All we know now is that it would be a life far different from life on earth, and for that reason any suggestion that there could be telepathic communication, which in itself belongs to the realms of speculative philosophy, must be imbued with a great deal of reserve.

LIFE ELSEWHERE MAY BE QUITE DIFFERENT.

While it is true possibly that a person from the Earth could not live at Mars, as the Colonist states, there may be beings on that planet differently constituted from ourselves and living their life in adaptation to the conditions obtaining there. Because the air we breathe is dense does not mean that some other people, differently constituted might not live and thrive in a rarer atmosphere. It is even thinkable that they might live without any atmosphere.

All our reasoning is relative but there may be life which is so different from life here that we should not know it or understand it. Men in Mars may not use lungs and may not have a heart to pump the blood through their bodies. How do we know what they may be like? They may be big as mountains or tiny as Lilliputians. It is interesting to speculate about these things but our knowledge is very limited and the scope of our understanding is hedged about by the knowledge obtained through our very limited senses.

PACIFIC CABLE CONTROVERSY

MATTER SETTLED AS RESULT OF FIRM ACTION OF CANADIAN GOVERNMENT

(Manitoba Free Press)

It is good news that, as the result of interviews and negotiations, the feud between the Canadian government and the Pacific Cable Board has been settled. Canadians never took seriously the threats made at Ottawa that Canada would pull out of this co-operative enterprise, claim her share of the accumulated reserve and refuse a landing place at Banfield for the new cable now under construction from Fiji. These were the methods resorted to by Charles Murphy, late Postmaster-General, to force respect for Canada's rights as a partner in the enterprise and they have been successful. The terms of the agreement, as cabled, appear to meet, in a reasonable manner, the contentions of Canada.

This controversy, which at times reached the boiling point, shows how easily in these joint enterprises friction may arise. The trouble arose from a refusal of the majority of the Board to pay any attention to Canadian views with respect to the building of the second Pacific cable; they didn't think they had to and proceeded on that assumption until they were brought up with a round turn.

JOINT OWNERSHIP

The Pacific cable is owned by Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Australia has the largest interest, one third; New Zealand, one ninth; and the remaining interest is held in equal shares—each five-eighths—by Great Britain and Canada. None of the partners put any capital into the enterprise. The cable, which cost ten million dollars, was built from the proceeds of securities issued by the British government, each partner assuming its share of any losses which might be incurred. The Board has exercised its powers under legislation passed only by the British Parliament, the governments of the Dominions simply securing from their Parliaments authority for their special commitments. No doubt this seemed the proper thing to do in 1901 when the cable was planned; but it is now evident that if there had been concurrent legislation the late disagreement could not have arisen.

CANADA PAID

British legislation in 1901 provided that if there were losses they would be borne proportionately by the partner nations equally "any profits arising from the cable shall be divided between His Majesty's government and the colonial governments" in the same proportion. For the first fourteen years the cable was operated at an approximate loss of $3,466,515.00, of which Canada's share was nearly one million dollars. In 1911 the Cable Board was empowered by British legislation to use its surplus, above one hundred thousand pounds, for the construction of "any works authorized by this act." The same amending act specified the works to which the reserve could be applied. These included "extensions, connections, or re-arrangements in or near the Pacific ocean, which, in the opinion of all the contributing governments, are necessary or expedient." Concurrent legislation confirming this extension of the powers of the Board was not passed by any Dominion Parliament.

PROFITS HELD BACK

In 1915 the cable began to make money; and in the ten intervening years an aggregate surplus of over eleven million dollars has been accumulated. There has, however, been no distribution of profits; everything has gone into the reserve. Last year the Board by a majority vote, decided to take this money and lay a second cable from Fiji to Canada. The formal consent of the various partner governments was not sought, though this had been the custom with respect to previous extensions and is indeed provided for by the British legislation; and the adverse vote of the two Canadian representatives on the Board was not regarded as an obstacle to going on with the enterprise. The majority view was that the Board had been authorized by the legislation of the British Parliament to accumulate this reserve and to spend it in extensions; and that this was all the authorization required. They, therefore, decided to go ahead with the enterprise despite Canada's objections; and a contract for the laying of the cable was entered into against a formal protest by the Canadian representatives. At this stage, Charles Murphy, Postmaster-General of Canada, shield his castor into the ring and armed with a stout shilleagh precipitated himself into the melee. Thereafter there was trouble aplenty.

SETTLEMENT

The settlement now reached in London provides that hereafter the Chairman is to be elected, in fact and not simply nominally, by the Board instead of being appointed by the British treasury; that the amount to be transferred hereafter to the reserve is to be limited, with a division of excess sums among the various partner governments; and that the consent of all the partners will be necessary to the carrying out of new policies. This settlement is, in fact, an acknowledgment that the Canadian position throughout the controversy has been essentially sound; and it must, therefore, be regarded as satisfactory.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

Honestly I like an Indian summer about as well as any other kind.

Now that we are to get the road to Terrace, what about buying a new high-powered automobile to take the family out for a game of golf or for a bath at the Lakelse hot springs.

Beating the stock market is something like beating the bookies at a horse race or beating the house at a black jack game.

Only ourselves know how perfect is the disguise when we are told "poverty is a blessing in disguise."

Next week is Thanksgiving time and holiday time and oh, boys, what a time we'll have!

I saw a great big turkey
Strutting so pompously.
And I said to him: "Oh Turkey,
You soon will die for me.
You'll soon provide a dinner
At a good old fashioned feast.
I like you much old Turkey,
You're a good old fashioned beast."

Now then, boys and girls, all aboard for Terrace and the outside world.

We'll soon be off to Terrace
In a cute little speeding car.
We'll go off to the country
Where the cows and apples are.
We'll set out Sunday morning
And step upon the gas.
And way out in the country
We'll play upon the grass.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

In the chapel of the Catholic priests home an interesting marriage took place at 11 o'clock this morning when Miss Lois Kinkade and George W. Nickerson were united in marriage. The bride was attended by Mrs. Charles Lowe while the groom was supported by J. B. Roerig. Amid showers of rice and confetti hailed by hosts of friends, the happy couple left on the morning train for Winnipeg where they will reside for the winter.

J. S. Emerson, who plans the establishment of a sawmill at Seal Cove, desires a lease for ten years but the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway wants to limit it to five.

Word was received here this morning that the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s coal barge Donald D., which left here early in the week, was adrift in Queen Charlotte Sound and that the crew of six men had been rescued by the steamer Prince John.

In The Letter Box

CITY POWER.

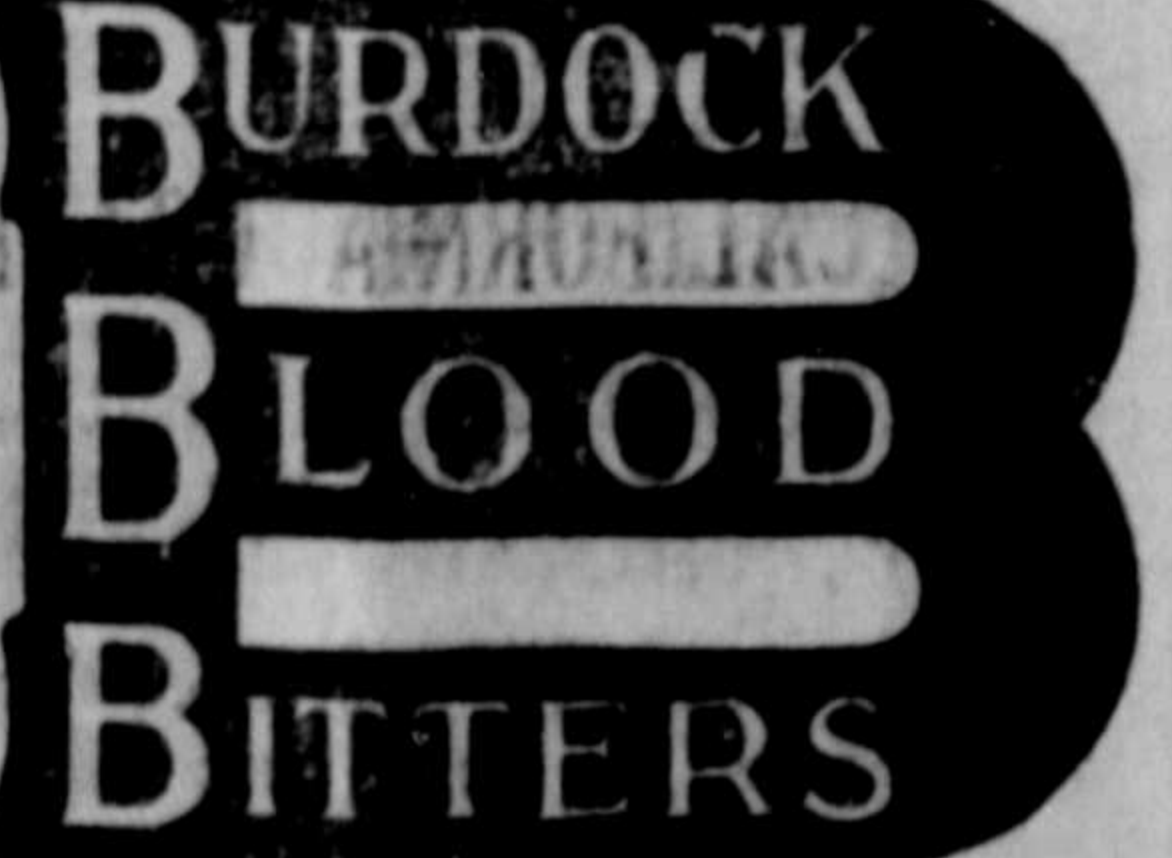

Editor, Daily News:
On reading your editorial article of November 3, I was shocked at the statements therein: Wild and frenzied financing of our city. No provisions made for redeeming our bonds, etc.

Here is the explanation:
When bonds are issued our laws compel the city to provide a fund to redeem these bonds at maturity. The city has faithfully carried this out according to our last financial report. The system adopted by our city was that of serial bonds, where a number are retired at given periods, thereby reducing the amount of interest on capital. Computations are made whereby annual payments are similar for the life of the bonds therefore not requiring a sinking fund, which would be drawing interest about 3% whereas the original interest on bonds was about 6%. The council of that period has saved the city thousands of dollars by that method of financing. Prince Rupert was the first city in Canada to adopt the serial bond system. Many other cities have followed them.

I make this statement that all bonds when due will be retired and that indebtedness will be paid for all time. The Daily News has never been a friend to the city's utilities, this latest attack is as unwarranted as is untrue. How can our city prosper if our press knocks in this untruthful manner.

WATER STATEMENT

Your statement that the same water which turns the power wheels at Shawatians is used for domestic purposes, is so absurd that I should not refer to it. However there may be some child of tender years which does not know different. I emphatically state it is impossible for one drop of water going through the power wheels at the power house to enter our gravity system of water supply. I ask your paper and all Prince Rupert to get together and build up our city as a unit and cease this harmful nagging as to what might have been if we had done otherwise and I told you so. Let's be as large as we wish our city to be. We are moving now and damn him which tries to impede. The writer has a high opinion of the editor of the News and would at any time enter into a friendly discussion on these matters, so long as the city does not suffer.
Yours truly,
EK-ALDERMAN.

Incredible Performance

--due to "matched impedance" or "smooth flow of sound" --a new thing in home music--Nothing else is like it

WHAT PEOPLE are saying about the new Orthophonic Victrola does sound incredible,—until—you have heard it play. That is only natural. For years you have been listening to old methods of playing music in the home. But today you have a surprise coming. That surprise is due to a new thing in music—"matched impedance" the exclusively controlled principle applied in the design of the new Orthophonic tone chamber. It is this which produces the beautiful music that will astound you. It is which has heightened immeasurably the degree of enjoyment you can get from home music.

To hear, is to believe—at any "His Master's Voice" establishment. Obtainable on easy terms. Prices from $115 to $385. And please remember for your own protection that "His Master's Voice" trademark identifies the new Orthophonic Victrola.

CONCERT WAS REAL TREAT

BOYS' BAND AND OTHER ARTISTS HEARD TO ADVANTAGE IN SALVATION ARMY CITADEL

The first of a series of concerts that will be given during the coming winter by the Boys' Band took place in the Salvation Army citadel last night and was a big success in every way. The boys excelled themselves and their orchestra composed of five violins, two mandolins and piano which assisted the Band made a pleasing variation.

The mandolin duets by the Bussanich brothers were well received. Mrs. J. J. Muldoon was in fine voice in her solo "Out of the Dusk," and gave an encore "Danny Boy." J. S. Wilson made a hit in his solo "Phil the Fluter's Ball" and responded to an encore with "Mik Wheelan's Automobile." The accompanists were Miss Blanche Curran and Mrs. C. E. Cullin.

The hall was filled to capacity and the audience showed enthusiastic appreciation of the entertainment which was a real musical treat. J. J. Dore and W. D. Vance were at the door and the program, which was in charge of Bandmaster Wilson, was as follows:

March—"The Zouaves" (A. Hayes) Band.
Waltz—"Flower Queen" (Heidt), Band.
Selection—"Sinfonia" (A. N. Other) Orchestra.
Mandolin Duet—Selected, Bussanich Bros.

March—"Cal" (Noel), Band.
Song—"Out of the Dusk," Mrs. J. J. Muldoon.

Waltz—"Pond Lillies" (Will Huff) Orchestra.

March—"American Soldier" (Hayes) Band.

Mandolin Duet—Selected, Bussanich Bros.

Selection—"Gibraltar" (Hayes), Band.

Song—"Phil the Fluter's Ball," J. S. Wilson.

Selection—"Alamo" (Huff), Orchestra.

MANSON CHECKS UP ON LOAN SOCIETIES

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS NEED OF SUPERVISION WHICH HE WILL ASK POWER TO GIVE

VICTORIA, Nov. 4. — Legislation designed to give his department greater supervision over the operations of investment and loan societies carrying on business in British Columbia is now being considered by Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General, and in all likelihood a bill will be brought down at the forthcoming session of the Provincial Legislature.

Within the last year a number of investment and loan societies have been incorporated under the Investment and Loan Societies Act or registered under the Companies Act, and now have salesmen scattered throughout the Province selling stock in such companies. Some of these new concerns, it has been brought to the attention of the Attorney-General, are using "high-powered" sales methods, tainted with misrepresentation and already numerous inquiries and some complaints have reached the Attorney-General's Department concerning the methods of these agents.

LEGISLATION LACKING

At present there is lacking any legislation by which the Attorney-General's Department can adequately supervise these concerns, it is explained.

Discussing the matter recently, Mr. Manson stated that while there was no doubt that some of these concerns are legitimate, the principals of which are responsible men and well-known in the business world of the Province, there is equally no doubt that others now operating are not substantial. Some concerns, through their sales agents, have announced that they have but up a substantial deposit with the Government as a guarantee of their bona fides when, as a matter of fact, no such deposit has been put up or is required by the law to be put up and the methods adopted in the sale of stock border on the dishonest.

MAY CAUSE LOSSES

Mr. Manson stated that he has for some time past been carefully checking up these concerns, and while he has no desire whatever to interfere with any legitimate business, at the same time he feels that a situation has been created which, unless steps are taken to deal with it now, many result in serious loss to the investing public in the Province.

"There is undoubtedly a serious situation growing up which requires to be checked at the earliest moment. Otherwise there may be a crash which may produce a similar state of public opinion to that when the Dominion Trust fiasco occurred some years ago," said Mr. Manson. "It is to meet this situation that I have been contemplating bringing down legislation at the next session of the Legislature."

ACT LITTLE USED

He explained in regard to the state of the legislation that the present Act had been comparatively rarely made use of since its enactment in the early days of the Province and that such organizations as were formed were designed on the old plan of the English building society. The modern institu-

CHURCH ORGAN HAS ARRIVED

NEW INSTRUMENT FOR ANGLICAN CHURCH IS IN CITY AND WILL BE ERECTED IMMEDIATELY

The new pipe organ for the Anglican Cathedral has arrived and the expert, A. Chapman, who is to erect it, has also arrived and the work of installation will commence immediately.

The organ was built by Casavant Freres of St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, and cost very close to five thousand dollars. With the crating cases it weighs seven tons and it is understood it will take several weeks to erect.

The new organ will be much appreciated by members of the congregation who have long looked forward to the day when they could secure such an instrument.

RUPERT EAST ENTERTAINS

AFFAIR AT GYM LAST NIGHT WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL AND ENJOYABLE

A concert given at the Rupert East Gymnasium last evening last night proved to be a great success, the program being much enjoyed by all who attended. The Cameron orchestral group and Mr. Silversides kept their instruments constantly on the go, enlivening the proceedings.

A silhouette in dental and surgical operation put on by Cobb, Ratchford, Beale and Gilker went over in great style.

Frank Moore drew great applause with his comic songs and in a two-act play the Merry Widow played by Jimmie Sanderson, gave her lover Ben Beale an awful time of it. He was a regular bear for hugging and she was a cat for slapping. Duncan and Beale finally put the widow in a box and sawed the box in two parts only to see the widow come out alive dressed as a man and calmly smoking his pipe.

The dark group with Cobb and Ratchford as end men and aided by Ponder, Beale, Duncan, Grimbail, Hoss, Skinner, Sanderson, Gilker, Krook and Langton gave an excellent darky program, the proceedings closing in the usual manner with the National Anthem.

DELEGATES IMPRESSED WITH PRINCE RUPERT RETURN TO EDMONTON

Says the Edmonton Journal of Monday: Favorably impressed with the facilities of that port for the handling of western grain, Ald. C. G. Robson, who represented the city of Edmonton on a delegation which visited Prince Rupert at the invitation of the board of trade and city council of the latter town, returned to Edmonton this morning.

While the elevator at Prince Rupert is not as large as the one built here, the port nevertheless seems well equipped to handle grain from the prairies,

WIFE AND HUSBAND BOTH ILL WITH GAS

Mr. Robson stated. The people of Prince Rupert, he added, gave the delegates from the province a fine reception.

Hon. R. G. Reid, representing the province of Alberta, and F. W. Doherty, representing the Edmonton board of trade on the Prince Rupert visit, also have returned to the city.

"For years I had gas on the stomach. The first dose of Adlerika helped. I now sleep well and all gas is gone. It also helped my husband," (signed) Mrs. B. Brinkley. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Brings out old, waste matter you never thought was in your system. Adlerika is wonderful for chronic constipation. — Ormes Limited, Druggists.

BALDWIN SEES DANGER AHEAD

GENERAL STRIKE AS NATIONAL DANGER AND CRITICIZES OPPOSITION IN PARLIAMENT

LONDON, Nov. 4.—At the Conservative conference at Scarborough, Premier Baldwin discussed a number of national questions including the General Strike. Mr. Baldwin had spoken for nearly three-quarters of an hour before he reached the subject of the general strike, which, he said, they could now review without passion. No such threat had been made to the British community since the war. The logical result was plain. Had it been successful it would have brought to an end our Parliamentary institutions, to which the people of the country were profoundly attached. His Majesty's Opposition had shown a lack of statesmanship and of courage. It was silent at a moment when courage might have saved the situation. Its leaders raised not a single word of protest in public. They could have shown that they stood for law and order, but they failed to do so. Those who called the strike had learned their theory abroad. It had left many results behind, including the postponement of any prospect of ameliorative legislation that required money that would be used to keep discontent alive. It had also brought to the forefront the necessity for an examination of trade union law—a declaration which provoked the greatest enthusiasm of the evening. Society, he added, still needed trade unions, and collective bargaining was still a necessity. There was further cheering for the promise that the government would give prompt and careful consideration to the resolution passed by the Conference that day.

PREPARE BILL. "Let me add this," the Prime Minister concluded. "We are conscious of the wishes of our loyal supporters in the country. We are fully alive to the importance of the question. As soon as we have completed our examination of the subject we shall prepare a Bill and proceed with it in Parliament. When we are in a position to present that Bill, we shall rely with confidence on you for the loyal support which you have so freely given us in the past." This declaration provoked from a delegate the interjection, "And we shall not betray you."

TRADE UNION LAW. Before Mr. Baldwin delivered his speech the Conference had discussed the following resolution: "That in view of the experience afforded by the general strike of May, 1926, this conference is of the opinion that the present state of the law relating to trade unions constitutes a menace to national security, while depriving the individual of political and industrial freedom, and that this conference therefore urges the government to introduce legislation to amend the law—

(1) To make illegal any strike called without a secret ballot of the members of the trade union affected; (2) To increase the security of the individual worker against victimization and intimidation on account of his political beliefs; (3) To make mass picketing and the picketing of a man's private residence illegal; (4) To require the national accounts of trade unions to be audited by certified accountants."

The resolution which was amended so as to require trade union accounts to be audited by "certified chartered accountants," was carried unanimously amid loud cheers.

FINAL RESOLUTION. The following resolution was also carried by a large majority: "This conference is of opinion that, as the liberty of pleasing themselves whether they joined a trade union or not, which the workers of this country once enjoyed, has been taken from them by the coercive measures adopted by employers and trade union officials, the government be requested to provide in the Bill dealing with trade unions which it is understood is shortly to be brought before Parliament, that while it shall be perfectly legitimate to call attention to the advantages of a trade union, it shall be unlawful for anyone to make membership of a trade union a condition of employment."

STEWART. At the second meeting last week for the purpose of discussing incorporation of Stewart under the Village Act, it Became So Weak Could Hardly Stand. Mrs. Wm. Palmer, Tomahawk, Alta., writes:—"Last spring I had a long spell of sickness and became so weak I could hardly stand. I could not sleep at night as the least little noise would wake me up. I tried blood tonics and other nerve pills, but they did me no good, and I was getting worse. I wrote my mother about my condition, and she sent me three boxes of MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS. After the first box I was feeling much better, so I kept on until I had used the three boxes, and now I feel as well as ever I did when I was a young girl."

An Open Letter to the Public from the Montreal Importers

The impression is being spread around the community that the goods being sold by the Montreal Importers are cheap goods—cheap in quality as well as in price. We believe that this is being done deliberately—we may be wrong—we would like to hope so, but we doubt it.

We wish to take this opportunity to assure the buying public that we stand behind every article we sell, both as regards quality and price. Our goods come to us from Montreal from manufacturers than whom in Canada there are none better. They back up their own products and we back up our own merchandise. We have dealt with these same manufacturers in another city for years and years. We know them and they know us.

People may wonder how it is that we can offer merchandise for sale here in Prince Rupert at Montreal prices. The chief reason is that we have buying connections in Montreal that we can depend upon. We don't wait until the manufacturer sends his representative to sell to us. We go to the manufacturer direct to buy from him. And this makes a big difference in price which the ordinary retail customer possibly doesn't realise.

We repeat that we buy first class goods from the best manufacturers in this Dominion and we absolutely guarantee every article we sell. And we sell at Montreal prices. That the people of Prince Rupert want these Montreal prices is proven by the heavy volume of mail order business done with this city. Anyone can see this by watching the post office or express office on train days and seeing the enormous number of parcels arriving from Regina, Winnipeg and other places.

Our facilities enable us to compete with these mail order houses both in price and quality and at the same time saving the Prince Rupert people the trouble of buying money orders, and enabling them, too, to inspect the goods before purchasing.

We would ask the buying public to disregard what they hear from anybody and to inspect the goods we offer. Our goods will speak for themselves and our prices will prove what we say.

But all we ask you is to see—and judge! For we can only continue in business if we can hold your goodwill. We want to, for we want to remain in business for a few years yet. And we can only continue to give you Montreal prices by assuring you of Montreal quality.

Therefore we again invite you to come into our store and see for yourself what we have to offer.

J. B. MILLER, Proprietor was unanimously decided to send a petition to the provincial government with a view to affecting the proposal.

Shipments from the B.C. Silver for the season to date total 710 tons. The last shipment of 230 tons was made on the freighter Mogul and will be delivered to a smelter in the United States.

Word has been received by local friends of the recent marriage in Vancouver of Miss Mamie Fraser, formerly of Stewart, and Edward McQuade of Victoria. The happy couple are spending a honeymoon in the south after which they will take up residence in Victoria.

Tom McLean, Tim Williams and Alex Melanis, who left Stewart on September 26 to reconnoitre the route of a trail from Telegraph Creek to this place, returned here last week. They report that there would be no very serious difficulties in the way of building such a trail which would make this the winter outlet for Telegraph Creek and Dease Lake districts instead of the present circuitous route via Atlin.

Joseph W. Christian, who was an employee of the Premier Mine for five years, was found dead in his bed last week. He was sixty years of age and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Middleton of Houston.

Miss E. Magar, assistant to Mining Recorder Scarlett, has left for her home in Port Simpson.

Mrs. L. Jessen arrived here last week from Vancouver to join her husband, who is manager of the Boyle Bros. diamond drilling concern.

ALBERTA COAL FOR VANCOUVER

EFFORT MADE TO SECURE LOWER RATES ON RAILWAY TO PACIFIC COAST PORT

EDMONTON, Nov. 4.—Lower freight rates on coal for the coast market will be taken up at once by C.N.R. officials while he intends to arrange for a meeting of operators in order to make strong representations for a reduction, stated Mayor K. A. Blatchford on his return from Vancouver.

The mayor stated that he had a conference at Jasper with W. A. Kingsland, general manager of C.N.R. western lines, and other railway officials. At this time he showed the need of a cut in rates and feels that there are good chances of the railway absorbing a switching charge of 20 cents a ton that dealers now have to face.

It is felt that the C.N.R. should agree to this as the charge is absorbed by the C.P.R. and Great Northern when coal is shipped to Vancouver over their lines from the Crownsnest Pass district.

Fully 50,000 tons could be shipped to the coast market this year under favorable conditions while there is a potential market of 500,000 tons a year in greater Vancouver, says the mayor. Shipments over the C.N.R. now cost $4.10 per ton, inclusive of switching by the B.C. Electric railway. If the gross rate was reduced to $3.50 per ton it is felt that a big coal market could be developed at the coast.

Big coal bunkers are to be provided at Vancouver by a private company which is to be a common carrier and which has made arrangements with the harbor board for a lease of centrally located property, says the mayor.
