MEIGHEN FLOUTS WILL OF PARLIAMENT

TWO FORMER MINISTERS OF TURKEY ARE EXECUTED FOR CONSPIRACY

Meighen Was Refused a Single Dollar by Parliament but Took $54,000,000 Governor's Warrant

ANAPOLIS ROYAL, Aug. 27.—In the oldest town in Canada Mackenzie King last night declared that no more important issues affecting the rights of the people had arisen since confederation than the constitutional question. The Government which was appealing to the country today was an administration which had been discredited and defeated in the House of Commons and refused a single dollar of money by Parliament, yet Mr. Meighen had taken $54,000,000 from the treasury by Governor General's warrant. The act of Mr. Meighen was wrong and illegal.

If the constitution of the country was based on the common laws of England, declared the Liberal leader, it had been violated and the Government had been taken from the hands of the people. No other issue really mattered. No other Conservative prime minister would have played fast and loose with the constitution as Mr. Meighen had done.

HONEST JOHN PUMPING SHOT INTO GENERAL

Turns A. D. McRae's Weapons Against Himself at Powell River Meeting.

POWELL RIVER, Aug. 27.—Speaking on behalf of McRae's candidate in Vancouver North, Premier Oliver used the former Provincial Party publication, the "Searchlight," as a weapon against General McRae.

The Premier said McRae had written to Hon. A. M. Manson to the effect that anyone presenting himself for public support should be able to show himself worthy of the public's confidence. "I have in my hands seven issues of a publication called the 'Searchlight,' containing hundreds of pages of the vilest kind of slander published by General McRae and his associates abusing both Liberals and Conservatives, yet today you have him here as a candidate of one of the parties he abused and vilified three years ago."

CHALLENGE BY PREMIER MADE TO LIBERALS

Dares Them to Try Whether His Government is Legal or Not In the Courts.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Premier Meighen last night renewed his challenge to Mackenzie King. "Let them even yet," Mr. Meighen exclaimed, in discussing whether his acting ministry constituted a legal government or not, "let them even yet challenge any act of ours as invalid because we are not legally a government. If they succeed, I am prepared to resign the leadership of the Conservative party."

"An order in council passed by the government could be challenged in the courts and if the government was not legally constituted would declare the order invalid," Meighen said. "I would like to put that challenge to them tonight!"

WORTHLESS CHECK IS CASHED IN VICTORIA

Omaha Man Taken by Police and Haled Before Magistrate and Charged Vagrancy

VICTORIA, Aug. 27.—Heled by the city police on a charge of vagrancy, because a local bank at which he cashed a worthless check last week did not wish to prosecute him, George Melcher, of Omaha, was charged and remanded before Magistrate Jay in the city police court. Melcher, it is alleged by police, cashed a check at a local branch bank after informing the manager that he had an account in Vancouver. It was learned subsequently that he had no such account and the bank authorities immediately notified the police.

In company with Detective William Calwell and John Rogers, a member of the banking staff proceeded to the Willows race track, where the horse races were in progress on Saturday afternoon. There, with money in his pocket, they found Melcher. But he did not have the total amount of the check he had cashed.

Since the bank would not bring action against the man, the police charged him with vagrancy.

LORD CLARENDON IS INVESTIGATING LAND

VICTORIA, Aug. 27.—Lord Clarendon, British under-secretary of state for the Dominions, who had a conference earlier in the week with Premier Oliver and Hon. T. D. Pattullo in regard to land settlement along the P.G.E. is visiting the districts along that railway and will go east from Prince George.

RETURNING OFFICER'S ACTION PROTESTED IN PRINCE ALBERT RIDING

PRINCE ALBERT, Aug. 27.—A protest has been made to Colonel Biggar, chief electoral officer at Ottawa, by F. W. Wright, official agent for Mackenzie King, for a re-survey of the sub-polling districts in this riding to be used at the general election as the present arrangement has virtually disfranchised a number of voters. The returning officer, Major Penefather, declined to make a statement.

PITTSBURG IS HEAD LEAGUE

Slaughtered New York Pitchers and St. Louis Fell Before Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—With a four point margin Pittsburg again heads the National League today. Yesterday the Pirates slaughtered New York pitchers, securing 22 direct hits, while St. Louis fell before the lowly Philadelphia crew.

Cincinnati kept on its merry pace by trimming Terry Vance of Brooklyn and are tied for second place with St. Louis.

Philadelphia took two extrainning games from St. Louis in the American League, the first going eleven and the second twelve innings.

LOSS OF SCHOONER OFF NOVA SCOTIA IS CONFIRMED

Wreckage Was Identified by Captain Parkes, Who Was Also Part Owner of Boat.

HALIFAX, Aug. 27.—Messages confirm the fears current during the past fortnight that the schooner Sadie A. Knickle was lost with the entire crew of 22 Nova Scotia fishermen.

The message came from the department of fisheries patrol cruiser Arleux, which was despatched from Sable Island in order to identify the wreckage believed to be from the missing schooner. This, Captain Parkes, part owner of the Knickle, was able to do. No bodies were recovered.

The disaster brings the total number of deaths from the recent storm which swept the coast to 47.

The Sylvia Mosher of Lunenburg was also lost with her crew of 25.

MANY DROWNED WHEN FERRY BOATS SANK IN A BENGAL RIVER

NOAKHALLI, Bengal, Aug. 27.—Ninety-four passengers on a river ferry boat are believed to have been drowned when the craft capsized in the Megna River and broke in two. Of the hundred people aboard only six are known to have been saved. Many victims were carried away by the swiftly rushing waters.

EXPLOSION IN C. N. R. SHOWS BIG INCREASES

Forty-Four Lives Crushed Out, While Few Escape.—Many Children Fatherless.

CLYMER, Penn., Aug. 27.—An explosion which occurred Thursday at Clymer Mine of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Co. crushed out forty-four lives. This morning 41 bodies were recovered while ten men escaped after the blast uninjured and four others are in the hospital suffering from severe injuries. The latest reports from mine officials state that 58 men were working in the pit.

The bodies recovered show the effects of the terrific blast being so badly mutilated as to make identification almost impossible. The mine officials are unable to explain the cause of the explosion, but it is estimated that 150 children are fatherless. One survivor said the blast came without warning, filling the workings with gas, smoke and dust.

The message came from the department of fisheries patrol cruiser Arleux, which was despatched from Sable Island in order to identify the wreckage believed to be from the missing schooner. This, Captain Parkes, part owner of the Knickle, was able to do. No bodies were recovered.

Former Turkish Ministers Are Hanged at Angora Following a Sentence on Conspiracy Charge

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 27.—Four prominent unionists were sentenced to death on a charge of conspiring to kill Mustapha Kemal Pasha, president of Turkey, and hanged in the prison yards at Angora at midnight. The victims included Djavid Bey, a former finance minister, and Dr. Nazim Bey, a former minister of education. This brings the total number of executions to seventeen, thirteen having been hanged at Smyrna recently in connection with the conspiracy.

Large Number Pay in Advance Total of Almost Half Million Dollars

VICTORIA, Aug. 27.—With the discount provision operating until September 15 this year, the city treasury is in receipt of over $425,000 in advance payments on tax bills before due date.

DUBLIN, Aug. 27.—Examination by the Irish Courts of claims for compensation by the Irregular forces is affording some evidence as to the style of living even in remote districts of the west-to-class.

She had three dozen pairs of gloves which she bought in Paris, paid forty pounds for an evening dress, twenty-two pounds for an afternoon gown and sixteen guineas for a hat. Her shoes cost eight pounds and her night dress six guineas.

FIERCE STORM IN LOUISIANA

House Unroofed and House Blown Down, While Steamer is Sunk.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 27.—Damage to crops and buildings considerably in excess of a million dollars was the toll of a tropical storm which swept the Louisiana Coast up the Mississippi on Wednesday night, it was learned, on resumption of a crippled wire service. Two deaths were attributed to the storm. Houses were unroofed and many homes blown down in parishes in the southern section of the state.

Six miles from Donaldsonville the packet steamer Terrebonne, loaded with a cargo of rice, sank, but the crew of about forty succeeded in reaching shore. Whole families who left the coast area when the storm forecast was made public, returned today.

THE PUBLICLY EXPRESSED OPINION OF A CONSERVATIVE
In my view the whole of this western movement should be directed to the port of Vancouver; and all public monies expended upon the Pacific coast should be expended there. There never was a more grossly flagrant instance of expenditure of public monies for purely political purposes than the building of the elevator at Prince Rupert by the Liberal government.

THE DAILY NEWS PRINCE RUPERT - BRITISH COLUMBIA

Published Every Afternoon, except Sunday, the Prince Rupert Daily News, Limited, Third Avenue. H. F. PULLEN, Managing Editor.

DAILY EDITION

Friday, Aug. 27, 1926.

People Who Would Edit the Paper.

Every editor, especially in a small town, knows how many people wish to run the paper for him. They think he never does anything right, but if they had the paper they would make it a wonderful success. Some of these people have made successes of their own business, but most of them may be counted among the failures or among those who have done "not so well."

The other day a person suggested that if the Daily News would include a colored supplement on Saturdays it would be a great thing and the result would be that people would buy it instead of the Vancouver or Edmonton papers. We know it. We should like to have a colored supplement, but the extra income from it would not pay the express on the ink used in printing it, at the present stage of development of the city.

Politics Seldom Suit Anyone.

No one is ever satisfied as to the political stand a paper takes. The Liberals think it should be more Liberal and the Conservatives more Conservative and the independents more independent and if there are any other parties it should favor them more. No paper ever ran a campaign satisfactorily and never will and if the editor is wise he will never try.

One thing, however, most of them seem agreed, and that is that every now and then the paper should "get after somebody," or "roast somebody." That is what people like, but it is not what they are particularly willing to pay for.

The people who are usually very anxious to control the policy of the paper are those who never or seldom advertise in it. They may be subscribers or at any rate they buy a copy now and then if they cannot borrow one, but they want to tell the editor how he shall conduct his business.

It is one of the traits of humanity to think it is easy to do the other man's business, but particularly so in the newspaper game. It is everybody's business.

Loyalty to Your Party Pays.

A letter signed "Independent" was received this morning and is not published for obvious reasons. In the first place it introduces the personality of the editor of this paper into the discussion, something which has nothing to do with the campaign. The editorial articles are given as the official view of the paper and not as the view of any one man. When the editor is away or indisposed or lazy, the articles are written by some other person and any day may or may not be his. He is not an issue in this campaign and refuses to be dragged into it.

However, the writer of the letter suggests that this paper benefits financially from supporting the Mackenzie King party when it is in power. That is a mistaken idea. When the Borden war government was formed, federal newspaper patronage was eliminated and although it was re-introduced to a small extent by the Meighen government which followed, it was again abandoned by the Mackenzie King government and all newspapers in the country were treated alike, wherever possible. That took place in Prince Rupert, as well as elsewhere. But even if there had been discrimination, which so far as we know there was not, the amount of income from federal government sources would hardly pay the wages of the office boy one week in the year.

These sort of stories are just in line with the policy of insinuation being carried on by the Conservative party just now. It is against such a policy the Liberal party has been protesting.

Another part of the letter, which makes it impossible of publication in this paper, is that it makes aspersions on the character of a dead man. We refuse to be party to such.

Laugh a Little Now and Then.

The elections are on and we are inclined to take things rather seriously. We get worked up over this matter of winning the election and do and say things which perhaps in our saner moments we would not do and say. Let us change off now and then and laugh a little. Let us forget the political campaign for half an hour and tell our opponents a story or get them to tell us one.

You Liberals who expect to win, don't be too serious about it. Everybody knows you are going to win, so why worry? Life has to be lived after the election is over and while it is on remember that your opponents are pretty good sports, but they want to reduce your majority as much as possible.

In The Letter Box

STABILITY BOGEY

Editor, Daily News:

The Tories tell us that what this country needs is stability of tariff. They assert that it is not that the Liberals have given us a tariff which is too low, nor yet one that is too high, but they affirm with a great waving of arms, and scratching of the ground, like a terrier at a rat-hole, that the thing moves up and down too frequently under the Liberals. Of course the claim is not true. Stability cannot be attained with a tariff which is extremely high. Every person knows that, who stops to think. The Tory appeal is to those who never think or to those other unfortunates who lack entirely the capacity for cerebral stimulation.

Bent Upwards

In the same breath they tell us that the great need of this country is flexibility and stability of tariff. Can you have flexibility and stability at the same time? Stability means firmness—capacity for standing in the same place—permanence. Flexibility means capable of being bent. The Tory, of course, in his immost heart of hearts, when defining flexibility as applied to tariffs, conceives of it only as meaning capable of being bent upwards. The conception that a thing which bends upwards will probably bend the other way, has never crossed the inflexibility of mind which is a characteristic of Tories.

In a recent article the Financial Post of Toronto, an incorrigible Tory journal, asserts that the main difference between the Liberals and Conservatives, lies not so much in absolute difference of tariff view as in the way they operate the thing. The Post says :

"The Liberals use orders in council to only a minor degree in making the tariff flexible. The Conservatives give the tariff elasticity, as witness the invocation of the anti-dumping clause against vegetables and fruits. . . . Canada's tariff has not, however, under either Liberal or Conservative rule, as high a degree of flexibility as in the United States tariff under which the president is virtually a dictator."

Right of Parliament

The statement of the Post is quite true, the Liberals use orders in council to only a limited extent; they believe in the right of parliament to determine the tariff of this country—they do not believe it should be left to executive action—they face logic and common sense in this matter. You cannot have autocracy and democracy on top of each other. If this is to be a democratic country it must be a democratic country. We cannot have a democracy "where the Premier is virtually a dictator in protection." It follows, as the night, the day, that when the flexibility of a tariff is left to the executive the bending will be done in only one direction—the way which favors the privileged few.

This is inevitable in the very nature of things. Those who stand to make hundreds of thousands of dollars out of the exploitation of the people can afford to send their minions with high pay, to help in the flexing process along the particular line which they desire. The burden, of course, is borne by the common people. They foot the bill. They stand the cost.

THOUGHTLESSNESS OF PEOPLE WHO ANNOY OTHERS

Jack Miner Tells of Nuisances Who Invade the Privacy of His Home.

Jack Miner, the nature lover, who keeps a bird sanctuary down at Kingsville, Ontario, has been having some trouble with people who take too many liberties when they come to visit his place. He says that he used to think it very selfish of a man to build a high fence around his garden or to put up a gate at the entrance that seemed to mean, "You stay out;" but after the experiences he has been having himself he has come to the conclusion that it is necessary to take such precautions as a protection against "the well-meaning thoughtless public."

Keeping an open house, home, and grounds, as Mr. Miner has done for fifteen years past, brings out the various and peculiar ways people have of using or abusing their privileges as guests. In an article he has sent out to the leading Canadian newspapers he tells of some of his experiences, as follows:

Hello Jack

"One day, as we were coming home from church, a Ford car went by. A voice shouted, 'Hello Jack!' and out of the open side of the car a man was waving a big bunch of Darwin tulips. I presume that was his way of letting me know that during my absence he had honored me by a visit. As soon as I arrived home and could break away from the people who were there to greet me, I strolled over to my choice tulip bed. It was an aggravating sight. For this innocent, ignorant man had plucked the whole side bare, and for those tulips I had paid a shilling apiece. I cannot think wrong of that man, because he evidently thought tulips came up like grass—a nice new lot of blooms the next day."

Waiting For Jack

"Well, that same day, in the afternoon, we came home again to find in the road in front of the house a lineup of cars. People were tramping all over our premises and had frightened every bird away. All muddled in around the house were eight or ten old hard-tire, balloon-top cars that didn't appear to have had a bath since the hail storm of 1912. When we got to the door of our home we were greeted with another 'Hello, Jack! Say, Jack, we came right in and made ourselves at home. Jack, I want you to meet my people from Smithville. We've been all over the place, but they wanted to meet you."

"We found from 20 to 30 people in our house, strangers we had never seen before nor since, and they used our home from bathroom to kitchen. Imagine, if you can, what the place was like. They had tramped all over the twenty-five acres of sticky clay and then all over the house, smoking and spitting, waiting for Jack to come home."

No Smoking

"I have signs 'NO SMOKING PLEASE' posted in many places throughout my buildings, and yet an aged man, right in my presence, deliberately walked up and struck a match on one of them and started his pipe agog."

"Not so long ago, when we were eating dinner, I heard a horn blowing at our door. As I approached, a gruff voice said, 'Who in _____ parked their car right in this drive?' 'Pardon me, Mister,' I said, 'that is my car.' 'Well, isn't this public property?' was his reply."

Hard Learned Lessons

"What I have mentioned are only flashes of what I have had to endure on my own property. When you see a fence in front of my place, please don't blame me for it. It is the hardest job I ever went at. It is the thoughtless public that have erected that fence, not Jack Miner, I think I have done remarkably well in holding out as long as I have, when, in our public parks, to say nothing about a private home, there has to be a man wearing a blue coat and brass buttons to keep the public from carrying off everything but the grizzly bear. I have tried not to speak a cross word to a living person, but now I am going to add firmness to my list."

"Experience has taught me three lessons. First, you cannot DO anything for the public, nor HAVE anything for the public, unless you CONTROL the public."

BRINGING UP FATHER

Second, kindness without firmness is a total failure. Third, and this is best of all, fully 90 per cent of the people that come here are just lovely.

Make It Pay

"Many persons have volunteered advice as to how I could make this a paying proposition, especially on Sunday. I don't know how many have told me to put up a gas station and a hot dog, post card, and general souvenir stand. Oh yes, I could go this suggestion one better. I could have a nice dancing floor, away back among the beautiful growth of evergreens, where all the young folks could come at night. I could charge them twenty-five cents to get in and all the rest they had to get out. I could have a little bootlegging going on in the distance, just far enough away so I could get the big profit and the other fellow get caught and pay the fine. In fact, I could create a little hell right here on my way to heaven."

Next Year A Fence

"If the people, after looking around the premises, would only leave! But a great percentage of them will stand around our back door. Last summer I saw the members of our household ironing on the back verandah with fifty-three persons looking on and asking questions. This particular bunch stood for over an hour, taking in the sights. The next week our ironing was done in the basement beside a coal oil lamp. What are the comforts of home when you are driven into the basement for privacy and have to lock the doors to keep the thoughtless public out?"

"I am going to build a fence this spring. I am going to move my choicest flowers and plant them beside the road so you won't have to ask permission or get out of your car to see them, and at certain times my front gate will be open to the public. Then you can come in and go up to my oboeatory and take a look at the birds. Yes, I am going to change my plan. I am going to try to be kind, yet I am going to be as firm as the British lion."

MUMMIFIED HORSE FOUND IN EGYPT

Cairo, Aug. 27.—The first mummified horse known to history has been unearthed here near Sakkara pyramid by the department of antiquities of the Egyptian government.

The horse is estimated by American archaeologists to be about 3,500 years old. It was found in large wooden coffin, indicating that animals in ancient Egyptian times were buried in a similar manner to human beings, the Egyptians believing them to be possessed of a "soul."

The horse is more than sixteen hands in measurement and is in remarkably good condition.

first aid, merited recognition by employees and employers throughout the Dominion, said the Mayor, "instead of a lot of the claptrap stuff they teach in the schools, first aid should be a part of the education of boys and especially of the girls. This applies particularly to rural parts where they are often several miles from the nearest doctors and nurses."

Experience has taught me three lessons. First, you cannot DO anything for the public, nor HAVE anything for the public, unless you CONTROL the public."

MEETS MOOSE FACE TO FACE

Lady Trapper Had Unique Experience in Peace River Country.

EDMONTON, Aug. 27.—Meeting a full-grown bull moose face to face in the mountains, when carrying a pack of 55 pounds strapped on her back, and with no protection other than an empty shotgun; hunting ducks on the Peace River during the middle of winter; camping out in the snow for three days in December without food, nor blankets; doing a man's work as a daily routine along her northern trap-line—these are among the many novel adventures which Miss Mary B. Hallett, the only woman trapper in the Peace River country and one of the few known to history, can describe from actual experience.

Miss Hallett claims Fort Vermilion as her home town and uses that northern outpost as a base of operations for her trapping, which lies north and east of that point about six days' journey. She makes a trip to the "outside" each year.

Accompanied Father

Miss Hallett related on one her visits to this district that she always accompanied her father when he went out trapping in the winter time.

"We have been at it for three years now and are still going strong. I know that it is rather unusual for a woman to spend her time this way, but I am very fond of the life and have done well at it," she said.

"Dad and I always go over the line together and take pot luck on whatever comes along. Sometimes we have rather a hard time of it when we get caught out in the bush at night away from camps. This has happened more than once, but we always manage to pull through."

Out All Season

"This last winter," she said, "I was only out a little more than two months, but the year before I was out all season and succeeded in making more than $800 as my share of the proceeds as well as catching a beautiful silver fox, which I gave away as a Christmas present.

"Sometimes we do have rather exciting times, Dad and I. One day last fall we were travelling through the mountainous country, packed to the limit, and with our dogs heavily packed, when we ran into a full-grown bull moose. The only gun we carried with us was an old double-barrelled shotgun which we had taken along to kill rabbits for our food. It was unloaded at the time.

"We had just crossed a deep ravine when we almost ran into the moose coming up the other side. We had no time to load the gun, but stopped short in our tracks. Things looked interesting for a while. Then the moose, evidently more surprised than we were, beat a hasty retreat and left us in peace."

"Last winter we saw a rather interesting thing one day when we were travelling along the ice not far from Vermilion. In several places there were air holes in the ice and in one of these we came upon a flock of ducks, several of which we managed to bag. They made a meal which was very welcome from the usual camp diet."

Miss Hallett declared that her catch last season had included a good variety of beaver, mink, marten, lynx and fox.
