LIQUOR CASES BEFORE COURT

NUMBER OF CHARGES LAID AND DEFENDANTS ASK FOR ADJOURNMENT

As a result of activities in the city recently of Liquor Board detectives of the B.C. police, seven persons were haled into police court before Magistrate McClymont this morning to answer to charges of selling liquor and one was charged with selling beer. The arrests having been made last night, charges were formally read this morning and adjournment taken, the first case to be proceeded with at 2:30 this afternoon. In several cases adjournment for eight days was asked by the accused so that counsel might be brought from the south but such requests were vigorously opposed by E. F. Jones, city solicitor, and no adjournments further than Friday of this week were granted. Bail in the sum of $500 was granted in each case.

The first case called this morning was that of Louis Ross of the Port Clements Club. He pleaded not guilty and was rather insistent about getting a remand for eight days so he might send away for counsel. Mr. Jones warned accused that it would be well for him to adopt a slightly different attitude in the courtroom and objected to the eight day remand. He drew attention to the fact that expensive witnesses would have to be held and expressed the opinion that there were lawyers perfectly competent in the city to defend Ross without having to send out of Prince Rupert for one. The magistrate stated that he did not want these cases to be dragged out for one period of eight days after another and ordered Ross to report in court again Friday morning and it would then be decided what was to be done.

On behalf of Phillip Laporte, Grand Terminal Club; Miss Jean Johnson, 819 Second Avenue, and Arthur Beale of the Canadian Legion Club, the last mentioned of whom is charged with selling beer, S. W. Taylor asked for adjournment until Friday which was granted.

Roy McKinley and Angelo Pognotto of the Loggers' Club asked for eight day adjournments to send out of town for counsel but were given only until Friday as was also Sam De Stefano, Port Clements Club.

Judgment Against Major General McRae of $40,000 for Libelling William Sloan, Minister of Mines

Defendant says he heard huge sums were contributed to funds of both political parties in 1917

NANAIMO, September 29.—A special jury in the Assize Court last night awarded Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines, plaintiff in a libel action against Major General A. D. McRae, $40,000 damages. The jury deliberated an hour before rendering its verdict.

Mr. Sloan sought $50,000 from the former leader of the Provincial Party in the grounds that he had been libelled in an article which appeared in "The Searchlight," an election pamphlet, published during the provincial election campaign in January, 1924, under the heading "A petition for a Royal Commission," in which it was stated the sum of $50,000 had been paid by the company for protection and favorable treatment from the Liberal party.

HEARS OF CONTRIBUTIONS
Testifying in his own defence at the hearing of the case yesterday morning, General McRae said General J. W. Stewart had told him in the fall of 1917 he "contributed $350,000 to the Conservative party funds and $300,000 to the Liberals. His firm was much worried about the treatment received. At that time there had been a Parliamentary inquiry. Stewart said the firm was obligated to finish the P.G.E. and would have done so but it would have been ruinous to all concerned.

CHARGE TO JURY
In his charge to the jury Mr. Justice Murphy spoke for forty minutes, first defining fair comment, justification and privilege. The question of justification had been abandoned by the defence but there remained the question of privilege. This said the judge he had taken upon himself to rule out. It therefore remained only for the jury to concern themselves with the third count, that of "fair comment." After explaining the difference between nominal and punitive damages, His Lordship instructed the jury that they could define these points and fix the damages if any. Accordingly the jury retired and brought in a verdict "defendant guilty of libel."

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29.—On the ground that the jury considered irrelevant matters and did not base their conclusions upon evidence and that the amount awarded was grossly excessive and perverse, L. G. McPhillips, counsel for General McRae, this morning stated that an appeal would be entered forthwith.

Hurricane Swept Vera Cruz and Flooded the City with Much Property Destruction

VERA CRUZ, September 29.—This city was swept by a hurricane, the most devastating since 1888. Several ships have been sunk in the bay and a steamer partially wrecked.

With the gale came heavy seas flooding the piers and driving out those living nearby. The streets are littered with fallen trees but no casualties are reported. The wind had a velocity of 125 miles.

GALVESTON, September 29.—Some loss of life and property damage estimated at two and a half million dollars was caused in Vera Cruz by a hurricane, according to advices received here. The city was inundated, the water varying in depth from one to five feet. At Jalapa, capital of the state of Vera Cruz, rain fell for 24 hours and the Santiago River overflowed and two persons were drowned. A considerable section of the city is flooded and much damage has been done to property.

MOTOR TRAFFIC TAKING PLACE RAILWAY LINES

IN TEN YEARS NOT MORE THAN TEN ELECTRIC RAILWAYS WILL PAY PROFIT SAYS OFFICIAL

EDMONTON, Sept. 29.—"Within ten years there will not be more than ten lines of electric railway in Canada which will be able to operate and show a profit," Mr. Squire, deputy minister of highways of Ontario told the Good Roads convention yesterday. The speaker declared that automobiles and motor trucks were fast supplanting railway and radial lines in meeting the transportation needs of the country. More than $700,000,000 was invested in automobiles in Canada today, he said, while practically the same amount was spent in the construction of motor highways.

EVIDENCE OF COTTAGE OWNER

FAILS TO DEFINITELY IDENTIFY AIMEE MCPHERSON AS WOMAN WHO LIVED AT CARMEL

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—H. C. Benedict, owner of the cottage at Carmel, California, in which the state contends Aimee McPherson lived for ten days with Kenneth Ormiston during the time she claimed she had been in the hands of kidnapers, testified yesterday that he saw a green bathing suit, similar to the one the evangelist wore when she disappeared on May 18, hanging on the cottage clothes line on May 20.

The Carmel house, the witness said, was occupied on May 19 by a man representing himself to be George McIntyre and a woman companion. Ormiston later admitted that he was the man but declared his companion was not the evangelist.

Benedict testified further that the woman was similar in appearance to Mrs. McPherson but he was not sure it was she because the goggles she wore and her hat hid part of her features.

BORED STIFF,
BUT WHY SO?

The other day a visitor to the city wandered around for an hour and then announced that he was "bored stiff." There was nothing to see and nothing to do here.

Asked had he seen the Cold Storage plant, the Salt Lakes, the Metlakatla Indian village, the museum collection, he said he had not and did not want to. He was not interested in any of these things. What he wanted was busy streets, bright shop windows, crowds of passers by and afternoon theatres.

As politely as possible he was asked why in the name of everything good and brave and beautiful did he come north. He was told that the effete south was the place for those things. People here had no time for afternoon theatres and did not care for crowds or window shopping. If he wanted the south way did he not stay there. The north, it was explained, was different.

NO NEED TO IMITATE CITIES TO THE SOUTH.

There is no need for Prince Rupert to imitate the cities to the south in everything. There is no need for rows of trees on the boulevards and for other commonplace ornamentalations. Prince Rupert should aim to be distinctive. Her townsite is not like any other and the trees grow naturally on the vacant lots. The local trees should, wherever possible, be used in decorations in preference to importations from the south. Make the city unique. Let us have something different and we shall at once become a tourist resort.

MAKE THE MOST OF WHAT WE HAVE.

The features of Prince Rupert and district today for the ordinary tourist would be the fishing fleet, the big cold storage plant, the Salt Lakes Park, and Metlakatla Indian village. Later it will include a drive to Bute Rapids or to the top of the Mountain and other interesting things will develop from time to time. We must keep in mind the idea that we cannot escape being a tourist resort and if we can keep the people here and interest them in the surroundings we shall make them revenue bearing to the city.

The totem poles have been a great attraction. Another should be procured and placed at the end of Fourth Avenue near Fulton Street in order to induce the tourists to climb the hill and see the residential part of the city.

RESIDENTS ARE SOMETIMES BORED.

While it is part of the duty of local residents to see that visitors are not bored, it sometimes occurs that people who live here, finding themselves cut off from former associations and being perhaps rather slow in making new friends, find the recreational hours pass very slowly and to turn, again, to slang, "are bored stiff." People who have families or who are with their families do not feel this. It is the unattached residents who find the winter evenings long and Sundays a bore. They often have nowhere to go except to their own cheerless rooms and the result is they are very glad to get away from the city.

There are people in certain occupations that do not suffer as much from that kind of neglect. Boys in the banks, for instance, are usually given the opportunity of joining in many social events and are more or less adopted into family groups, but others in the city are not so fortunate. Both young men and young women are often at a loss to meet that craving for social intercourse which comes natural to the race.

CITY DECIDES TO SELL LOTS

WILL ASK FOR BIDS THE UPSET
PRICE BEING CHARGES AGAINST

LONG DISCUSSION

OBJECTIONS TAKEN TO POLICY OF THE PAST BUT WITHOUT EFFECT

Property reverted to the city for taxes will again be placed on the market during October on the basis that bids equal or exceed charges against it. This was decided by the city council last night after a lengthy discussion in the course of which arguments similar to those often expressed before were submitted as to the policy which should be followed in disposing of such lots. As was the system before, offers will be received for such lots and, if they are approved by the finance committee, will be accepted.

The matter was brought up by Ald. Brown who inquired what had been decided upon by the finance committee on the question. Mayor Newton replied that the matter had been before the committee and that the city treasurer had been instructed to prepare a list of reverted property and advertise that offers for it would be received. It would then be up to the finance committee and council to deal with such offers on their merits.

Ald. Casey stated that the finance committee had been unable to come to any general agreement on the matter. A portion of the committee wished to hold on to the property by putting an arbitrary price on it while it was felt by others that the property should be disposed of for the charges against it. As the committee could not agree on a concrete proposal, he felt that the council should decide what was going to be done and make the decision public so that prospective bidders might have some basis upon which to work.

Mayor Newton felt that the same method as followed before might be adopted, namely that offers be received and dealt with on their merits by the finance committee and council. He would see no better plan. The city solicitor had advised against any method being adopted where prices were set less than the assessed values.

Ald. Larsen again brought up the proposal that terms be allowed to purchasers of reverted property. So that bona-fide and not speculative purchasers might be made, he suggested that the scale be fifty per cent cash with the balance in eighteen months. He would like the council to express itself on this suggestion.

City Solicitor Jones stated that a recent auction sale of reverted property in Victoria had been a failure. It had practically destroyed the assessed valuations.

UN SOUND BASIS

Ald. Stephens held that the basis adopted by the city in selling reverted property had not been a sound one. If the city could not sell property for its assessed value then the assessment must be wrong. He could not see the fairness of collecting taxes on the basis of a high assessment and then selling the lots for two or three years taxes on that assessment. As a representative of the people he would not consent to the selling of one more lot by the city unless a fair upset price was set before bids were called. That he felt was only a business proposition. As it was, the city had been disposing of only the choicest property and the poorer had been left to accumulate and be carried. While he believed the most of the property was worth a good deal more than the charges against it, he felt that these charges should not be taken into consideration when selling but that the property should be disposed of at a fair value. If sales were made at proper values, he would not object to terms being granted although he would point out that when a corporation such as the city gave terms they were seldom lived up to.

The mayor felt that all members of the council wished to follow the best method possible in disposing of reverted property. He could only see two plans open, however. The first would be to follow the former course in selling such property for the charges against it, or follow Ald. Stephens' suggestion of values which would close the door to sales and would lead to further accumulation of property with none being sold.

Ald. Stephens held that for the city to sell property at less than the assessed value would be an admission that the assessment was too high. To this the mayor replied that it was his opinion that the city would not be directly setting values by selling the property as it had been doing.

ASSET TO CITY

Ald. Stephens took the view that if the city held on to this reverted property by demanding the proper values, it would some day be an asset, as he believed the city would shortly be coming into its own. He felt that it would be better to drop the ambition to sell property when the market was not receptive and instead lay back and protect the values for the citizens. He thought it was "foolish and silly" to try to get rid of the property as such a time as this.

Ald. Jos. Greer saw no other alternative but to offer the lots for sale in October as it had been decided to do when they had been withdrawn from the market in the spring. He would suggest, however, that an independent valuation be obtained for the guidance of the city in making sales.

Mr. Jones pointed out that such a valuation might be demanded in a Court of Appeal if the assessment were attacked.

Ald. Casey was not in favor of putting the property into the hands of "real estate merchants." The people would not stand for being governed by them. Already the lots had been taken off the market for eleven months so that the "real estate merchants might live." He moved that bids for the lots be considered during the next thirty days on the same basis as before. Ald. Brown seconded.

In reply to Ald. Casey, Ald. Stephens said that, if the attack on real estate men was meant for him, he would say that he had merely given his experience as a real estate man, and he thought a fairly successful one, for the benefit of the city. He could not see that his motives were ulterior. Rather, if there were any ulterior motives, he felt that they might be found among those who would let reverted lots "go for nothing" and then give terms" on them.

WHAT WAS POLICY?

Ald. Jos. Greer asked what the previous policy had been in disposing of reverted property. If there had been a policy he could not see it.

"And no one else can," added Ald. Stephens.

Ald. Casey said "if Ald. Jos. Greer is so dense that he had sat and saw sales made and could not discern a policy" he would explain the policy.

When this explanation had been offered, Ald. Jos. Greer said that he could still see no policy. Values accepted by the city in selling lots even this year had not coincided.

Mayor Newton said that it had been usual to dispose of lots if the bids for them had covered the charges against them.

Ald. Perry felt that such a policy should not be diverted from. Ald. Casey pointed out, however, that there were cases where the charges were greater than the assessed values. Purchasers of such property could not be expected to meet the charges.

"The city gets stuck any way," remarked Ald. Stephens. "If the property is not worth the charges against it, it is sold for less. If the charges are less than the value then it is sold for the charges."

Ald. Casey expressed the opinion that Ald. Stephens was "trying to scare some one with his arguments."

RECrimINATIONS

After further discussion which included some recriminations between Ald. Casey and Ald. Stephens, the question was put and it was decided to offer the property for sale and sell it providing the charges were met. The resolution was carried with Ald. Casey, Ald. Perry, Ald. Brown, Ald. Larsen and Ald. W. J. Greer favoring it with Ald. Stephens and Ald. Jos. Greer against it.

OBJECTS TO JAZZ

Editor, Daily News. Your editorial re Jazz Music was indeed a masterpiece. First, you infer that the president of the Congress of National Organists is without any qualification to judge music. I suppose the editor of a little two by four newspaper is thoroughly qualified. Then you state the speaker admitted he often listened to it. (Jazz.) What he said was he often listened to it with the object of trying to find anything good in it but failed. The gem of the article is where you state that it is mostly those who are anxious to be classed as highbrows but who are not, who pretend they like some of the tuneless productions which pass for classical music. Recently, you have treated us to some awful idiotic rubbish in your editorials, and believe me, you are not doing your paper any good thereby. Huff said.

Quaker Oats and Milk!

—the breakfast that "stands by" you through the morning

"Hot Oats and Milk" is the breakfast recommended by health authorities today. An ill-chosen meal at the beginning of the day is a mistake. Breakfast is all important. To be right and to feel right you must start the morning with well-balanced, complete food.

Oats is the best balanced of all cereals. It is rich in protein, the great tissue builder, in carbohydrates, the energy producer, and in the essential mineral salts. Few foods have its remarkable balance. That is why Quaker Oats and milk are so widely urged to-day. It is a breakfast that "stands by" you through the morning.

You will know the genuine Quaker Oats by the Quaker figure on every package. No other oats have the delicious flavour, brought out by Quaker milling.

FIGHT ONLY UNDER NAME OF NATIVITY

CALIFORNIA BOXING COMMISSION WILL PLAY HAVOC WITH GAME IN THAT STATE

In California, by a decision of the state boxing commission, it is announced that boxers may only engage in bouts under their true names.

This means that some of the great boxers of the day will seem unknowns if they entertain the public in the state of sunshine and hot air.

It was in Frisco, wasn't it, that Tommy Burns erased Philadelphia Jack O'Brien from the list of claimants to the world heavyweight title? Philadelphia Jack, if memory serves, was born with another name, while Tommy Burns, the only Canadian to be world's champion heavyweight, and a former resident of Prince Rupert, was christened Noah Brusso.

In Los Angeles Kid McCoy, one of the cleverest boxers who ever shined his toe into a box of rosin, knocked the women cold, until his late trial for murder. The ring dandy was Norman Selby in his school days, but that was not Irish enough for him when he became a fighter. Jack Dempsey himself is the second of his name. He is more illustrious than the Irishman whose name he copied.

Hugo Kelly, some years ago one of the great light-heavies, originally had a long Italian handle.

Johnny Dundee is no more Scotch than Kelly was Irish, but like him was of Mediterranean ancestry.

Young Corbett, who was lightweight king for a while many years ago, was no relation to the great James J. Corbett, who beat John L. Sullivan for the world's title in the '90s, either by blood, or by the clean fighting ethics of the great Corbett. Note that there was a day when boxers were not afraid of middle initials, not to speak of their own names.

The Joe Gans of today has no right to the name the great negro lightweight bore—the class of them all.

On the other hand, Young Fitzsimmons is the son of old "Fitz," who appeared on the stage in Nelson some 14 years ago—and this lad has an honest name.

Three Canadian fighters in modern times have attained world titles.

Tommy Burns, the world heavyweight champion, as already said, was known in Ontario as a boy as little Noah Brusso.

Mike McTigue, the Montreal Irishman who defeated Carpentier for the light-heavyweight title, is believed to be really Irish—he accordingly didn't have to change his name, which could not be improved upon.

And today we have another son of Quebec, Jack Delaney, also light-heavy world champion. But Jack is a French-Canadian, and his real name sounds about as Irish as a Swiss Yodel-song sounds like the call for dinner.

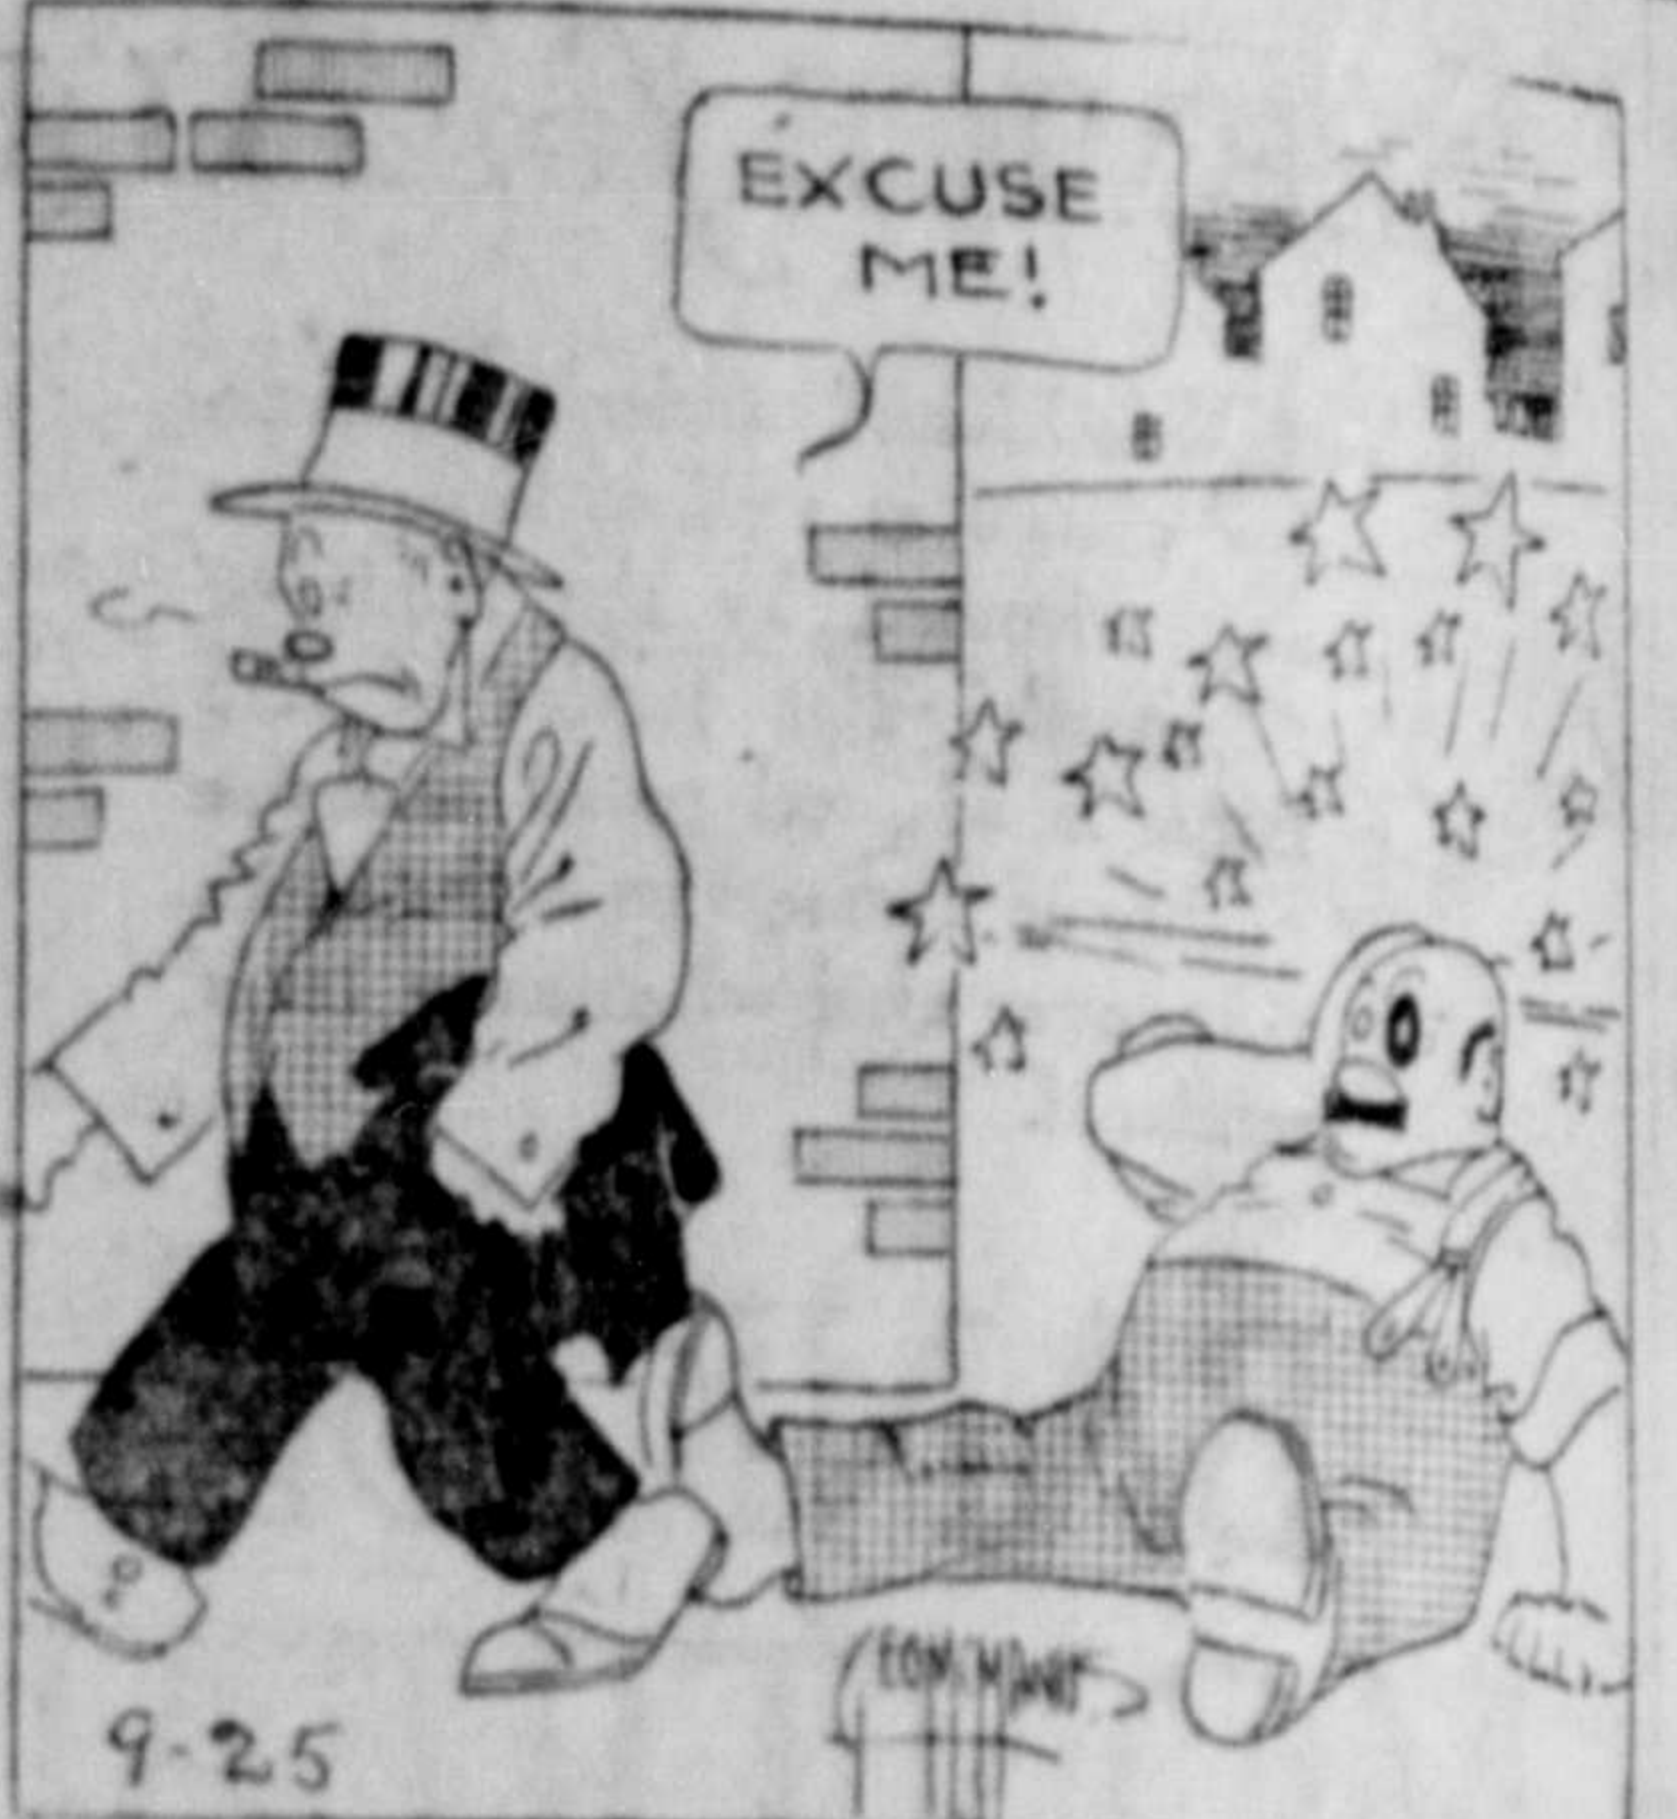

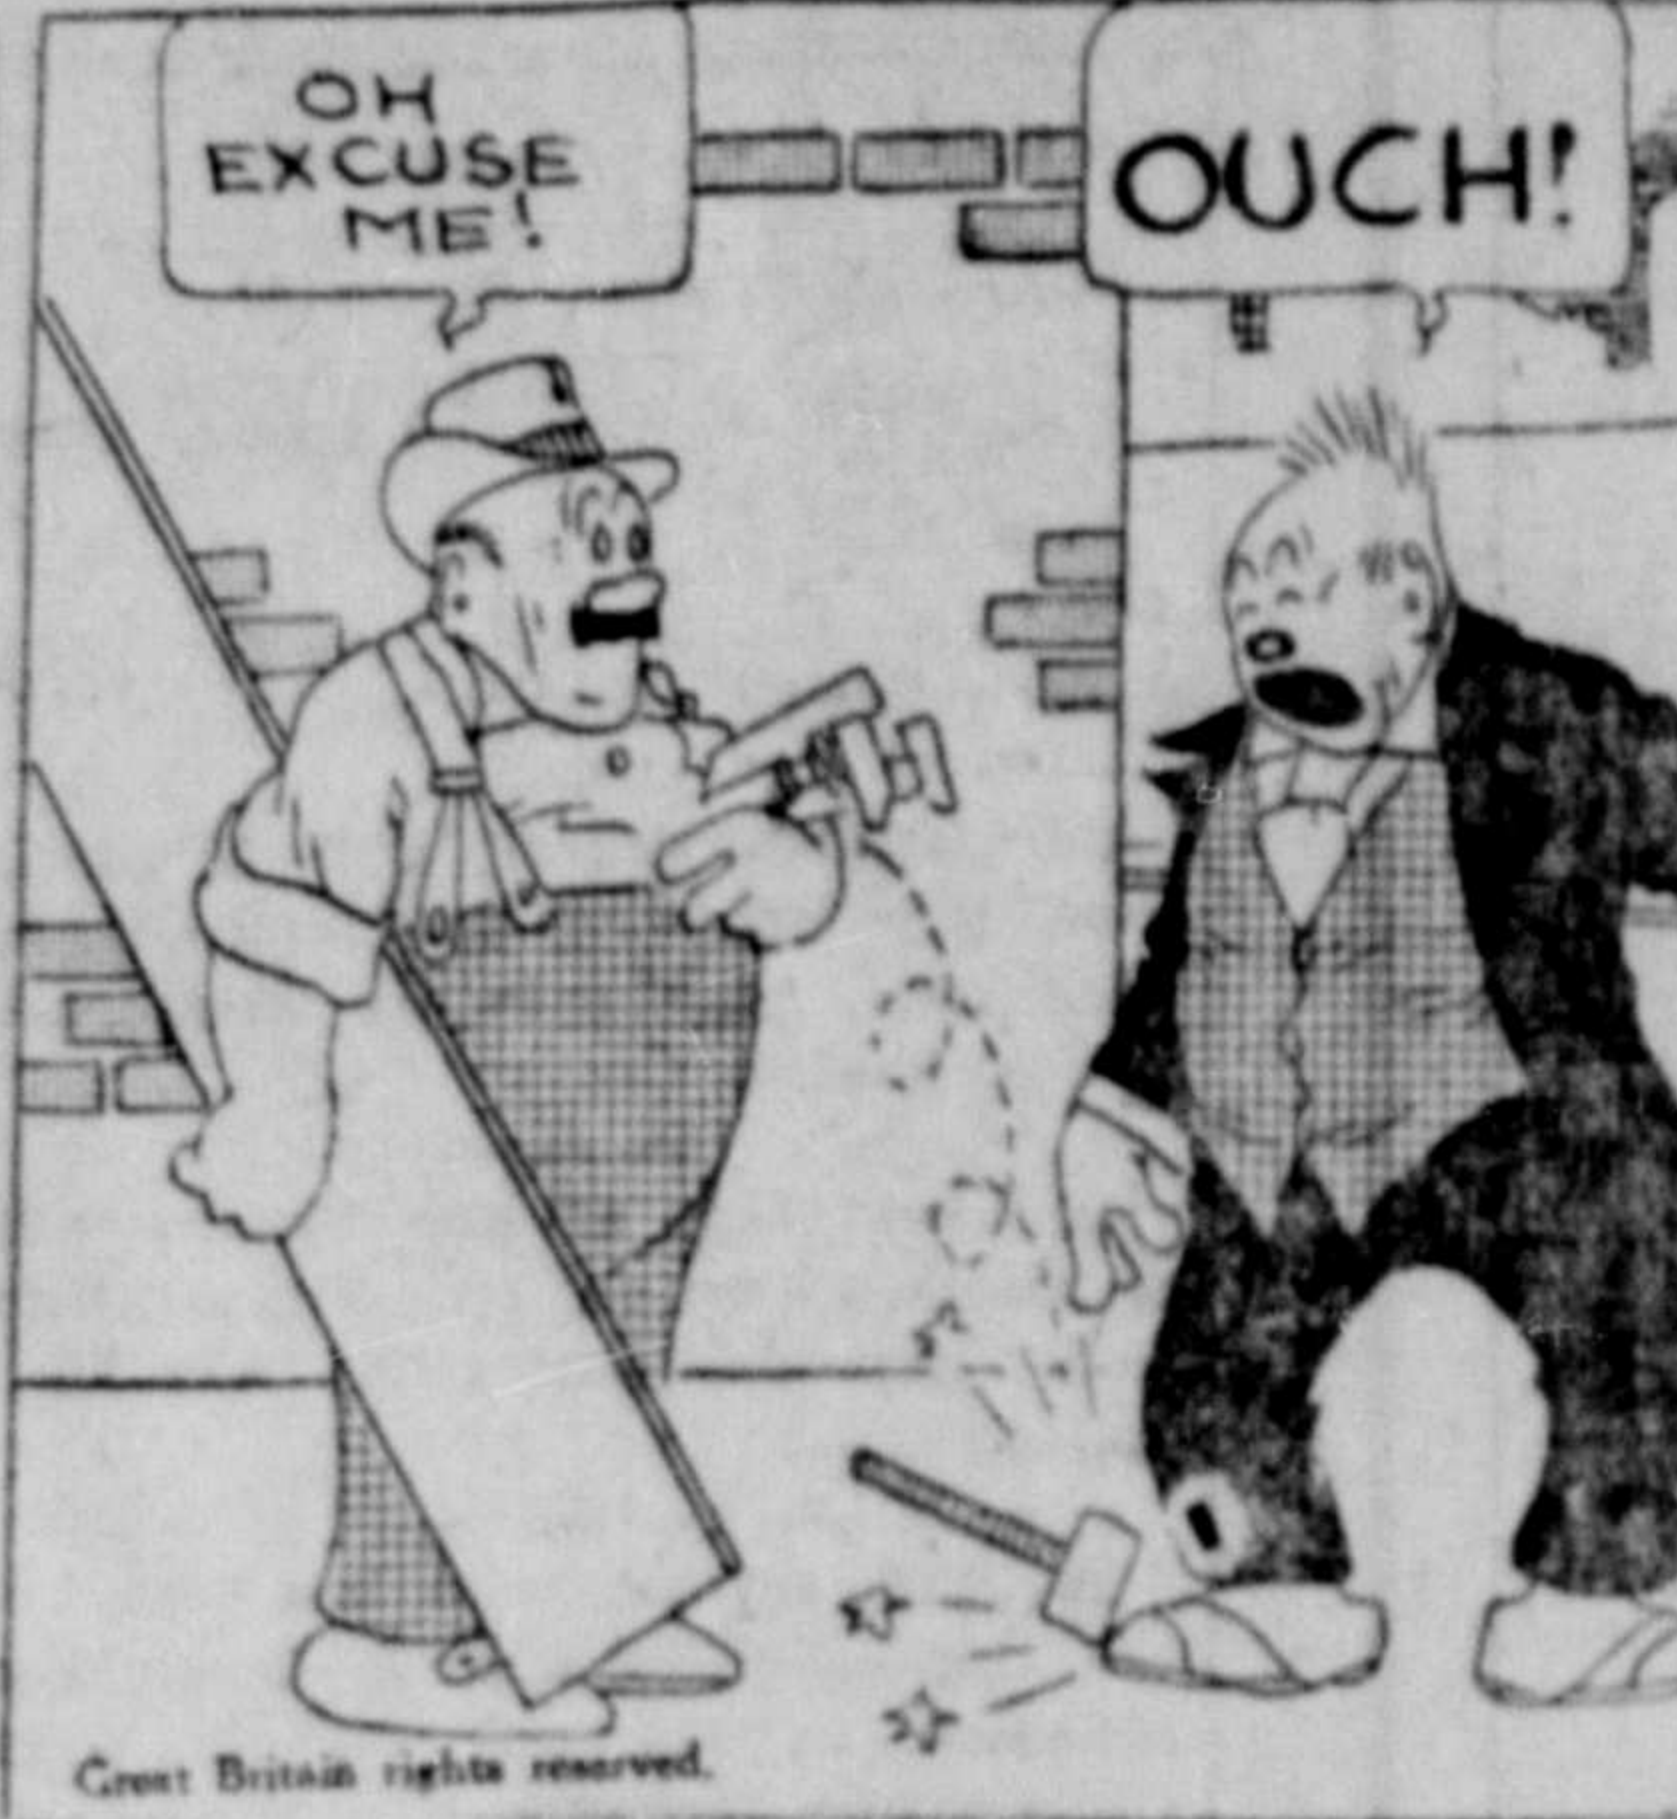

JUNIOR SOCCER GAME WAS DRAW

BOOTH AND HIGH MET IN EXCITING MATCH LAST NIGHT AND THE RESULT WAS A 1-1 DRAW

In the midweek game between High and Booth schools sustained interest and keen excitement was provided last night. High played up hill and Booth attacked through Kelsey. High forced a fruitless corner. Ered Cameron kicked away but, just after, put the ball through his own goal giving High the lead. Booth pressed and, under Rodolf Nelson's centre, Kelsey made the score one all. Dickens showed up but Cross stopped him. A hot drive of Kelseys was cleared and Irvine got away for High. Good combination was shown by both teams, Johnson and Irvine being noticeable for High while all the Booth forwards were working nicely together. Morrison and Stalker in succession stopped Kelsey who was inclined to try too much on his own at times. Walters now made up the Booth team and got into the game at once. Bryant cleared from Kelsey and then fisted away a dangerous miscalculation. Cameron, at the other end, stopped Hill and Comadina who were combining effectively. Walters then was away but off-side brought relief. From close in, Irvine missed a fine chance by shooting over. Hill showed up in opening out the game and the whistle came with a 1-1 score.

The teams turned right over and the Booth attacked. High cleared well. At the other end Kelsey forced a fruitless corner and McFie made things warm for the High defence. Nelson kicked well for Booth and High took up the attack. Irvine forced a corner and Stalker hit the upright—a narrow escape for Booth. The game was now fast and the players were putting all their efforts into the play. Dickens forged through and D. Morrison cleared. Cameron was playing a great game and was almost unbeatable. Irvine shot past. Kelsey headed away a corner kick. Johnson and Irvine took the ball along but Stalker shot weakly behind. Booth now were in the ascendancy and High goal had many narrow escapes but managed to scramble the ball away time after time. Bussanich missed several chances but Booth returned only to be driven back. Kelsey missed very narrowly and Dickens, after tricking the defence, slung a centre just behind. The game was nearly all

BRINGING UP FATHER

Booth's now but no goals were recorded. In the falling light play was hard to follow. Irvine made away down the wing but Kelsey stopped him. The whistle brought the game to an end with High rather lucky to emerge with a drawn game.

HUGE STADIUM FOR BIG GAME

HOME GROUNDS OF NEW YORK YANKEES SEATS 65,000 PEOPLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The Yankee Stadium, where the New York Americans make their home, and where the first game of the World Series will take place on Saturday, is the largest baseball plant in the country. It saw its first World Series games in 1923, the year it was built, when the Yanks and Giants hooked up in the October classic that returned the American League champions the winners.

Or described as "The House that Ruth Built," its vast triple-decked stands and spacious bleachers will hold about 65,000 persons. The largest paid attendance in the 1923 series was 62,817. No standees were allowed and as there is standing room for several thousand the actual capacity has never been officially made known. In a doubleheader this month with the Athletics the Yanks were said to have entertained a few hundred over 65,000 cash customers.

The stadium is built on a ten-acre plot just north of the Harlem River in the Bronx and is understood to have cost close to $3,000,000. The grand stand is a triple decked steel affair with concrete floors.

The playing field contains 160,000 square feet. The left field foul line is 280 feet 7 inches to the box fence which runs at a wide angle to the foul line giving the left field ample room. Comparatively few home runs are made into the left field stands. The right field foul line strikes the bleacher fence 294 feet 9 inches from the home plate. It is into the wide reaches of the right field bleachers and over this fence that Babe Ruth pops most of his home runs. From the home plate to deepest centre field the tape shows 490 feet.

A drainage system was built under the playing field so that a torrential rain soon filters through the soil, leaving the surface in good shape for playing.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, the club owner, always has declined to consider installing temporary stands on the playing field.

SPORT CHAT

The rookie infield of the New York Yankees will be the greenest inner defense that has ever confronted a World's Series contender. Smart pitching and an airtight defense are the factors that are conceded to have the better chance to win the big prize in baseball. This year finds the Yankees with only one veteran player on its infield—Joe Dugan at third base. All the others are playing their first full year in big league baseball. Whether this infield will stand up during the strain of battle for the season's honors is a question.

When Miller Huggins' team cracked wide open in the 1925 campaign it tumbled from second to seventh place. There were holes at shortstop and at second, while first base was slowing up. Everett Scott, the club shortstop on the championship team of 1924, began to slow down so that he was said to be playing the position on a dime. Waininger was given a try at the job but failed to hit and last season Mark Koenig came to the Yankees from the St. Paul club. He was promptly given a chance at the job. Meantime Huggins' club was having troubles at second base. Aaron Ward's fielding was good but his batting fell away until he was almost useless and he alternated with Ernie Johnson at the middle sack. At first base Wally Pipp showed the effect of long service and Huggins put Lou Gehrig's fielding at the initial sack during the middle of the season. Gehrig's fielding was uncertain but he had a penchant for long distance hitting so dear to Huggins' heart. There he remained.

During the winter the Yanks obtained Tony Lazzeri from Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League, where he battered the fences with his hitting and sent up a record of 80 home runs. Spring came and Huggins placed the Italian at second where he has made the grade while Koenig filled the gap at shortstop. Koenig has nerves at times, making bobbles on the easiest chances and making hard ones look easy. He is better on shots to his right where a fine throwing arm comes into play. Koenig is a "turn over" hitter, one of the few in the big leagues. Ordinarily he bats left-handed. Oddly enough both Lazzeri and Koenig at the last available figures were neck and neck in batting. Lazzeri specializes in long distance hitting. His power comes from his wrists. Gehrig improved rapidly in his fielding this year and maintained his heavy hitting.

Jumping Joe Dugan, the only veteran on the Yank's infield has played a steady game after an operation for a floating cartilage on his knee last winter. During the winter Huggins let Wally Schang, the club's first string catcher, go to the St. Louis Browns, and purchased Pat Collins from St. Paul. This season Hank Severid was obtained from Washington on waivers. Bernie Bengough, the first string receiver has been troubled with a bad arm all year and only recently has done any work behind the bat.

BADMINTON TO COMMENCE NOW

ARRANGEMENT MADE FOR OPENING OF COURTS IN DE LUXE HALL AGAIN

The executive committee of the Prince Rupert Badminton Club met yesterday afternoon in the Royal Bank with President Robertson in the chair and made final arrangements for the opening of the club on Friday. A report was submitted showing a large list of prospective members but it was decided that no person should be considered a member until the fee for the year was paid, even though he or she was a member last year. Former members are given the first opportunity for a place in the club.

Arrangements for supplying players with shuttles were made and better heating of the hall is to be secured. The hall over the De Luxe candy and fruit store has been taken, it being considered more central and convenient to members than other halls which were offered. The low ceiling and lack of space around the courts are the chief drawbacks to it.

A few rules were adopted, one being that players must vacate the courts after two games if other players are waiting to play. This rule became necessary owing to a very few players last year having failed to recognize the rights of others to the use of courts. It was decided to strictly enforce the collection of fees from visitors, the member introducing them being responsible and expected to pay without being asked for the money.

The club provides the shuttles and some players have been in the habit of hitting them on the floor and otherwise, failing to take proper care of them. A notice is to be posted asking members to refrain from striking them on the floor.

Those present at the meeting were President Robertson, Secretary H. O. Crewe, Treasurer H. F. Thompson, Miss. Rivet and H. F. Pullen.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a habit of reading the ads.

WOULD REVIVE IRISH TONGUE

COMMISSION URGES THAT DRASTIC STEPS BE TAKEN TO TEACH PEOPLE OWN LANGUAGE

DUBLIN, Sept. 25.—The report of the Commission presided over by General Mulcahy shows that the position of the Irish language in the Gaeltacht (the Gaelic pale) is precarious because there are not enough educated Irish speakers capable of educating the rising generation through the medium of Irish, because there are no prospects for those who are educated through the medium of Irish, because the professional classes and the Government officials decline to transact business through the medium of Irish, and because economic conditions in the Gaeltacht are such that the young men and women will emigrate if they can.

But General Mulcahy's commission is not easily daunted, and boldly prescribes the measures necessary to save the national language. The sixteen year old boys and girls of the Gaeltacht are to be trained and turned into primary school teachers as quickly as possible to replace the teachers who cannot use Irish as a medium of instruction. Twenty-five secondary schools teaching entirely through Irish are to be set up as early as possible, even though a special staff of capable writers may have to be employed by Government to produce suitable textbooks.

IRISH UNIVERSITY

A university education through Irish will then be provided. Irish-speaking colleges are to be set up at once to supply Irish-speaking agricultural instructors and Irish speaking instructors in poultry keeping, dairying, and domestic economy to replace the present English-speaking experts, whose influence is all the more pernicious the better they know their business.

All the available Irish-speaking civil servants and Civic Guards are to be drafted into the Gaeltacht and given a special allowance to compensate them for any inconvenience they may suffer. Five hundred out of the next 600 vacancies in the Civic Guard are to be reserved for native Irish speakers, and a

URGES SETTLERS FROM BRITAIN BE BROUGHT TO KEEP UP TRADITIONS

(Manitoba Free Press)

There will be a good deal of agreement with Archbishop Matheson who, in his address at Regina on Monday, emphasized the desirability of securing amongst our immigrants, the largest possible proportion of people from Great Britain. And there will be agreement with the reason which he gave, namely, that by seeing that the best of British traditions and sentiment are well upheld in Canada it will be easier to lead our newcomers of foreign origin to appreciate the character of their adopted country with its freedom, tolerance and justice to all, and to cause them to become devoted and enthusiastic citizens of Canada. The Archbishop does not believe in excluding settlers of other nationalities, some of whom have done well on what seemed to be poor land, but he holds that, since these others are coming in and since the last census showed that only 55 per cent. of the population were of British origin, we should do all we can to stimulate British immigration.

The 45 per cent. of non-British origin includes, of course, the French-Canadians, who form a recognized part of the Canadian family and are about 30 per cent. of our population; leaving approximately 15 per cent. coming from foreign countries.

CLOTHES LINES IN CITY BEING ROBBED

Two Cases Reported Within Last Few Days and Police Are Warning Housewives

Housewives are warned by the police that clothes should not be left on the lines when they are away as clothes line robberies are being reported. Within the past few days there have been two such thefts—one on Atlin Avenue in Section Two and another at the provincial government buildings. In each case, the best clothes were selected and taken.

Another note of warning issued by the police is to boys tampering with standing cars. Last week two cars were damaged in this manner. The boys are reported to be known and this is the last warning to them.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial site on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESTEAD LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 30 acres, may be leased as homesteads, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

ANTI-KISS LEAGUE INSPIRES A VERSE WARNING YOUNG MEN

In France they have an anti-kiss league which states that no less than 40,000 sickness germs may be transmitted by one kiss. A writer in the Manchester Guardian writes the following verse about it:

Take, oh take those lips away—
Miss, they make me feel quite chilly;
Sweet they look but what are they
But the lair of base bacilli?
Forty thousand germs exchange
Quarters when our kisses mingle—
These are tidings that derange
Any pulse and make it tingle.

What defence can art supply,
Or the paint that comes so pat do?
Lay your useless lipstick by—
Golly, girl, what good can that do?
Rouge a microbe till it squirms
And you'll make it much more vicious—
Forty thousand raddled germs
Won't be any less malicious.

Drink to me only with thine eyes
At long and cautious ranges,
And let's avoid, in any guise,
More intimate exchanges;
For, leave a kiss within the cup,
And you'll most surely spoil it—
I'll have to snatch the goblet up
And bear it off and boil it!
