On Return from Tour of District Fred Stork Declares he will Win as Result of his Clean Campaign

EDITORIAL BROUGHT BACK NOTHING

In the Tory committee room a cartoon which intimates that Fred Stork made five trips to Ottawa and brought back nothing. It is possible that some people may believe that, yet everyone knows the elevator, the thing that Prince Rupert people look to for their future prosperity above everything else, was secured by Fred Stork. An amount of camouflage or twisting of facts can get away with that fact. The elevator at Prince Rupert was secured through the excellent work done by Fred Stork at Ottawa. Who is it who is saying he did not get it? It is the Conservatives who opposed its coming here. All know how strenuously Sir Henry Drayton, acting premier, opposed the vote for the elevator. Everyone knows that Mr. Meighen himself opposed it, that H. H. Stevens, Dr. Danion, R. B. Bennett and other leading men in the Conservative cabinet not only voted but spoke against it, and then they have the assurance to come here and ask Prince Rupert to send a Conservative to represent us at Ottawa.

Happily Prince Rupert people are not fools. They can remember. They know that practically every Tory in the House of Commons voted against Prince Rupert's elevator and have opposed everything else for this city. They opposed the lease to the Wheat Pool and spoke of it as an "iniquitous measure."

If Stork has done nothing else, the elevator is a crowning work and the leasing to the Wheat Pool was the best kind of strategy so far as Prince Rupert is concerned and it was good business for the nation.

People Everywhere Object to Mud Slinging and Vilification by Tory Orators who Were Brought Here

Completing a tour of the constituency with a visit to Stewart and other northern points, Fred Stork is home in readiness for the big meeting tonight looking like a winner and declaring the vote tomorrow will show that clearly. He says the tour has convinced him that a clean campaign is what the people want and will support. At Stewart, for instance, where they had the greatest meeting ever held at the mining town, even Conservatives came to him after it was over and complimented him on the fact that he was discussing the issues and not devoting himself to a campaign of mud-slinging and vilification. They said it was particularly refreshing after the speakers they had heard in the Brady interests.

Mr. Stork says there is no shadow of a doubt as to the outcome of the campaign. He has had some experience in campaigning and he knows well that he will be re-elected.

Speaking of the conduct of the campaign which is now practically completed, Mr. Stork says that on a former occasion when the Liberals brought in two speakers from the south there was a protest from Conservatives. Now there was a wholesale importation of all and sundry from the political byways of Vancouver and other places. First there was Premier Meighen, followed by Bowser, Baxter, Hinchcliffe, Mrs. Paterson, Leon Ladner, Colonel Peck and C. H. Gibbons. They were a busy team trying to talk the people of Skeena out of the idea of Tory hostility to the Grand Trunk Pacific and Prince Rupert, and the elevator construction and lease.

A short time ago a boycott of Vancouver for its hostility to Prince Rupert was freely discussed. Mr. Stork thought it was impudent to say the least for Vancouver to come here to tell the people of Prince Rupert how to vote. If they got what was coming to them Prince Rupert people would show them the gate as he said they would do tomorrow.

Sensational Disclosure of Stevens Letter Causes Large Falling Away of Support Here

Prince Rupert Conservatives received a great shock when they heard that their idol, the first lieutenant Premier Meighen, had been caught red-handed in what is generally looked upon as, to say the least, a shady transaction in connection with the promotion of an American Oil Company. This would bring disgrace on the House of Commons by using the stationery of that body in forwarding the promotion of a company which proved to be simply a stock-selling affair by means of which it is estimated people of Eastern Canada and the United States lost $600,000.

The company was the Canadian U. S. Oil and Refining Corporation and the letter, allegedly written by Mr. Stevens which has just been made public, was written on a House of Commons letterhead and was a certificate of reliability for a concern which was by no means reliable, but which has since gone into liquidation and caused losses to Canadian people who were induced to put money into it. On the letter was the Dominion coat of arms and at the end of the letter was "Member of Parliament for the City of Vancouver."

Naturally the discovery has caused a falling away of support from the Conservative cause.

LIBERALS TO MAKE GAINS

Good Working Majority is Expected as Result of Election Tomorrow.

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—The Central committee, which has been in close touch with the political situation all over the country asserts that the Liberals will make a very considerable gain in the election tomorrow which will insure them a good working majority. It is estimated that in the next House there will be:

Liberals	133
Conservatives	84
Other Groups	28

The committee bases its figures on the most reliable reports it is possible to get. It shows the following gains by provinces:

Prince Edward Island	1
Nova Scotia	5
New Brunswick	3
Quebec	1
Ontario	8
Manitoba	2
Saskatchewan	5
Alberta	5
British Columbia	2

TWO TO ONE ON STORK IS TURNED DOWN

Lady Invades the Conservative Rooms Looking For Man Who Bluffed Her.

Even two to one bets on Stork are not being taken by Conservatives. At the week-end the paid whippers-up of the Tories managed to put enough life into them to get them to take a little Liberal money at two to one on Stork, but the enthusiasm soon faded out when it was found that there was unlimited money offered on those terms by both Liberals and Conservatives, who feel confident he will win. Today it is practically impossible to secure a wager. Victory for the Liberal candidate is conceded.

One lady at the week-end is reported to have invaded the Conservative committee rooms to call the bluff of a man who had offered to take her two to one offer.

Tremendous Ovation is Given Mackenzie King Eight Thousand Ottawa

Expresses Confidence in Outcome of Election Tomorrow and Looks for Strong Liberal Majority

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—A tremendous ovation was given Mackenzie King here Saturday night by eight thousand people who gathered to hear the Liberal leader in the final big meeting of his prolonged campaign lasting two months, during which he delivered several addresses each day. He expressed confidence in the outcome of the election tomorrow and declared he believed he would be given a strong majority to enable him to carry out Liberal policies unhampered.

Discussing the Liberal policy, the leader reviewed the record of the government and urged that under a Liberal regime the Dominion had been able to reduce the tariff, the income tax, the railway liabilities and in addition to that they had reduced the national debt.

Mr. King said he had just come from Oshawa where he believed he had been able to persuade the citizens that the Liberal Government, which was accused of having "ruined Oshawa for three days" perhaps knew better what was good for the auto industry than some people who had complained most.

Rev. E. G. Turner officiated and the witnesses were Mrs. Bury, mother and the bride, and Robert Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Milton will take up residence in Prince Rupert, the groom being a quarter-master of the lighthouse tender Newington.

MICHEL WINS FROM EDMONTON CALLIES

EDMONTON, Sept. 13.—The football championship of Alberta was won Saturday by a two all draw against the Edmonton Callies by Michel. The B. C. contenders won two weeks ago on their own grounds by a two to one count, thus winning the round 4 to 3.

Pattullo Arrives from Interior and Says he Sees Victory for Liberal Candidate at all Points

Draws Attention to Fact That Hinchcliffe and Other Tories in Legislature Opposed Court House Here.

That Stork will be elected tomorrow is the strong opinion of Hon. T. D. Pattullo, who is back from a short campaign visit to the interior and who will give the people here his final verdict on the situation at the mass meeting here tonight. Mr. Pattullo visited Terrace, Hazelton, Smithers and Burns Lake and found support for Stork just as strong, if not stronger, than last year. He says that he can see nothing ahead but Liberal victory both here and throughout the Dominion.

The departure of Canon Hinchcliffe for the south last night reminded Mr. Pattullo that he, as well as all the other Tories in the Legislature with one solitary exception, voted against Prince Rupert's court house and spoke against it. In fact they, like the Federal Conservatives, have always been against Prince Rupert. Mr. Bowser openly stated in the Legislature that his party initiated the P.G.E. solely for the purpose of diverting the traffic of the Grand Trunk Pacific to Vancouver. These are the men, Mr. Pattullo says, who are now asking Prince Rupert people to support them.

GILL WITHDRAWS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—James Gill, independent candidate in North Vancouver, announces he has withdrawn from the federal contest through lack of support, although his name will appear on the ballot papers.

REID TO SPEAK HERE TONIGHT

Pattullo is in Fighting Trim and Fred Stork Much Enthused

In addition to Fred Stork and Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Thomas Reid, reeve of Surrey, president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities and chairman of the Fraser Valley Reeves Association, will speak briefly at the final meeting of the campaign at the West-home Theatre tonight. Mr. Reid is here in charge of the Fraser Valley display at the fair.

Hon. T. D. Pattullo is in good fighting trim and Fred Stork is enthused over his successes in the places he has visited. They will be the chief speakers tonight.

The meeting commences at eight sharp and it is suggested that early attendance is the only way of making sure of a good seat. S. E. Parker will preside.

DISILLUSIONED IMMIGRANTS IN HALIFAX TODAY

Were Told Nova Scotia Capital Was in U. S. and Were Landed Near There.

HALIFAX, Sept. 13.—Between 150 and 200 Sicilians, disillusioned, sea weary and footsore were rounded up and cared for by mounted police and immigration officials along the main highway between this city and Mill Cove on St. Margaret's Bay, 40 miles southward, while the Italian steamer Doric, which they declared they had paid from two to ten thousand lire each to be landed in the United States was held at Mill Cove.

According to the statements of the immigrants, they were promised passage to the United States but the captain of the ship entered Mill Cove and told them it was only three miles to Halifax which was in the United States and work would be awaiting them there.

DAILY EDITION

Monday, Sept. 13, 1916.

Liberals Winning All Over Province.

The forecast is that the Liberals are gaining ground all over the province. Meighen has been slipping for the past week and now there is a move toward Liberalism that seems to indicate that Mackenzie King will have a good working majority in the new House. Tomorrow, if it prophesied, will tell a tale of such disaster to the Conservative party that will surprise those who have not been in close touch with the situation.

Prince Rupert is particularly interested in the success of the Liberal party because it means practically life or death to her. A return to Meighen rule would spell disaster and interfere with all the plans for future development. The news from Ottawa is, therefore, most satisfactory.

Are We to be Run by All These Outsiders?

Are we to be run by all these outsiders? Men and money from outside the constituency are being sent here without stint in order to try to pull the wool over the eyes of the voters here. But it is too late. The people are wise. They are refusing to be bought by the capitalists of the east or persuaded by the hired orators that are being brought here. Surely we have some civic pride and will not allow this army of parsons and colonels and politicians and journalists and cartoonists to swing us from the path we have hewn ourselves. Prince Rupert people resent the attempt to run the city from the outside and will vote for Stork again if only as a matter of protest.

Interference With Canadian National.

During his tour through the interior recently J. C. Brady told the people that he would see they got tie contracts. Of course we all want them to get tie contracts, but it must be remembered that the tie contracts are awarded by the railway and the railway is out of politics. Yet here is Brady, the moment he gets into politics, proposing to interfere with the work of Sir Henry Thornton in the carrying out of his duties and thus bringing the railway directly into politics. It is time those who have the good of the country at heart united to put down this sort of thing by voting against the man who proposed it. What man's job in the railway will be safe, if politicians are to interfere?

Fishermen's Float Held Up By Conservatives.

Today there would have been a fishermen's float either being built or completed if Mackenzie King had been allowed to carry on the Government. The estimates contained an amount for that work and this was squelched by Mr. Meighen and his cohorts. While here the Premier gave a half promise that the work would be done, but it has not commenced and will not commence. What is needed is to send the Liberals back to power so that they may carry out the work as intended. To do otherwise is suicidal for the city.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

September 13, 1916.

Tomorrow will be general provincial election day in British Columbia. The candidates in Prince Rupert are T. D. Pattullo, Liberal, and Hon. William Manson, Conservative. M. M. Stephens is returning officer.

Thirty-eight more men have arrived at Lorne Creek to work on the Knucis mining property. This makes a total crew of fifty men and it is expected fifty more will be put on shortly.

W. E. Fisher presided at a Conservative smoker last night when William Manson was the main speaker. Contributing to the program were Charles and Will Balagno, A. Clapperton, C. J. Jones, G. P. McColl, Mr. Cummings, Mr. Bowman, William Davis and George Minchin of Kitsumkalum.

In The Letter Box

MEIGHEN AND THE WORKERS

Editor, Daily News:

Can you persuade the Evening Empire or any of Mr. Meighen's supporters to tell the electorate why Mr. Meighen takes so many reverse positions on policy of procedure. On the tariff question he says he wants no dickering or bartering with different groups but will make one general tariff applicable to all groups, and that all sectional ambition shall be merged into one general scheme.

That was the ambition of the wage workers in Winnipeg during the strike of 1919. They struck to enforce the principle of collective bargaining. Hon. Arthur Meighen at that time was solicitor general of Canada and one of the two ministers that visited Winnipeg representing the Dominion government. It was Hon. Arthur Meighen that refused to discuss the question with the strikers. The only contact the strikers were able to acquire through Hon. Arthur was that of cold lead and the baton of the mounted police and from one to two years in the penitentiary. That is the way he met the workers on the question of collective bargaining.

War and Peace

Then again a few years ago when Lloyd George and Winston Churchill were desirous of starting a little war in Turkey and wired to Canada for assistance, Mackenzie King answered he would first have to consult Parliament. Mr. Meighen, then in Toronto, made a public declaration that the prime minister's answer should have been "Ready, yes, always ready!"

Then shortly afterwards speaking in Hamilton, Meighen said before he would commit the country to a war he would first take a referendum vote of all the people. How is that for consistency?

Constitutional procedure does not interest Mr. Meighen when he wants to get any place with his capitalistic allies behind him. Think of his war time election act when all alien citizens were disfranchised. Think of all the Canadian women who did not have a son or a brother in the war being disfranchised. And think of the group of Canadian millionaires produced during Mr. Meighen's term in office and his war policy.

Talk about customs scandals and crooked officials, I think it would take the best of them to teach Hon. Arthur anything.

Canada like other countries consists of two classes and the social conditions surrounding these classes should be understood by at least the Prime Minister and until a person shows by his acts and statements that there is not a community of interest between buyer and seller, he should not become Prime Minister.

Yours for a greater Canada which it cannot become if piloted by Hon. Arthur Meighen.

Too Late

IN the bright heyday of youth, who could tell him of the storms that lay ahead? Later, when he had the full strength of manhood, who could hint to him of weakness or ill-health?

The need for Life Insurance protection always seemed dim and remote—and because of this the day of decision was deferred.

And then came the day when he tried to get Life Insurance, but the attempt merely brought a more grim realization of his need. His health was not what it had been.

Too late!

Avert this tragedy from your life! Obtain the security of Life Insurance while you may. Now, while you are strong and well, the protection of Life Insurance is obtainable, and the yearly outlay will be less than in the future. Decide today, and see a Life Insurance representative before you, also, are too late.

THE MAN IN THE MOON says:

Women like good men and men like good women but how are they to know?

A fool and his election bet are soon parted, especially if he backs the Tories.

Villagers never forgive prosperity in one of their number.

What the country needs is fewer Bradys and more Storks.

It is not always nice to laugh at a joke. A lot of us don't like to be the subject of ridicule.

Since this political campaign started the word "rotten" seems to have been very much over-worked.

And tomorrow we'll again begin to realize that some of the men who are most estimable citizens belong to the opposing political party. Yes, tomorrow, but not tonight.

Flowers are still in bloom, especially the blooming idiot.

The introduction of tea parties into politics is a new idea. It takes Colonel Peck and Parson Hincheliff to be original.

Everybody seems to have a conscience except a politician.

If Brady were not in this campaign who would there be to be sorry for?

You can tell a Conservative by the thickness of the moss on his back.

Now that the Liberals have won again, let us get down and develop Prince Rupert and make things hum.

CALL FOR MONEY IS DEPRESSING DUNWELL

Shares Drop in View of Announcement That More Stock Will be Floated

VICTORIA, Sept. 13.—More money is needed to complete the development of the Dunwell mine at Stewart to a point where it will be a producer and this is having the effect of depressing the stock to a very low point compared with where it has been of late. The Times here in this connection says:

Meeting of shareholders of the Dunwell mines will be called as soon as possible for full discussion of the proposals for raising more money, it was announced at the head office of the company. This meeting will be held some time this month. Directors, who were in session yesterday, will hold a meeting at the first of next week to decide on the date for the shareholders' meeting.

Well Within Cost
At Dunwell headquarters today the following seem to be the facts. The mill and the tramway will be completed well within the estimated cost and likely within the time limit, but that a little more money is required for development purposes and equipment to make certain of the steady handling of 100 tons a day. It was also pointed out that the mill which is being installed is one of the most modern and the most efficient in the West.

The proposal to be considered by the shareholders includes raising $70,000 by the issue of new stock at $1 a share to present holders in the ratio of one new share to every ten held at present. Increasing the capitalization of the company in preparation for the operating period, may also be discussed.

Premier of North Island is Visitor to Prince Rupert and Welcomed by Local Ulstermen

One of Prince Rupert's most distinguished visitors this year was Lieut. Col. the Right Hon. Sir James Craig, premier of North Ireland, who, with Lady Craig and their son and daughter, spent several hours in the city yesterday afternoon en route from the East to Vancouver in the course of a tour of Canada. The party arrived in the city in its special car attached to the regular afternoon passenger train and sailed for the south on the steamer Prince Rupert.

There was a large crowd at the station as the train bearing Sir James and his party steamed in. Mayor Newton and six of the aldermen, as well as a delegation of the local Ulster community extended a welcome to the city before the mayor and aldermen took the party on a sightseeing tour including visits to the dry dock and cold storage plant.

Presentation Made

An informal "at home" was then held in the Commodore Cafe. R. H. Leighton spoke briefly and referred to the important part that Ulster men had played in the development of the district. Archdeacon Colquhoun was the first Indian missionary; George Cunningham established the first cannery on the Skeena River and Capt. Alex. Kane brought the first steamer into the port from the Orient without a pilot. All were Ulstermen. A presentation of Indian souvenirs was made to Sir James and Lady Craig by A. J. Phillipson and Sir James replied briefly. Some fifty persons were in attendance.

After this event, the party returned to its car in the railway yards and there was a delegation at the wharf to farewell Sir James as the steamer Prince Rupert pulled out.

The committee in charge of the welcome to Sir James on behalf of the local Ulster people consisted of R. H. Leighton, William Gilchrist, W. J. Ledlie, Joe Harvey, Rev. J. B. Gibson, Jack Campbell, W. H. Montgomery, J. H. Smith and Alex. Martin.

Welcome to Province

Sir James was officially welcomed to British Columbia on behalf of the provincial government by Hon. T. D. Pattullo who boarded the same train at Burrus Lake and accompanied the party into Prince Rupert. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ledlie went to Terrace to welcome the party on behalf of the local Ulsterites. At Inverness, R. G. Johnston, another Ulster man, boarded the train and presented to Sir James a case of locally canned salmon.

Accompanying the party on its tour of Canada as personal representative of the Canadian National Railways is William Phillips of Montreal, manager of the C.N.R. industrial department, who has his daughter, Miss Beulah Phillips, with him. "Conditions in Ireland are better today than they have been in the last 50 years. North Ireland and south Ireland are working together amicably and in a spirit of brotherhood, for the good of Ireland and for the empire."

Such was the message brought to Irishmen in Canada by Sir James.

"I've had six years of service as prime minister of Ulster, and nine previous years in other public jobs," said Sir James, "and this is my first holiday. I thought I couldn't spend it better than seeing Canada. Ulstermen know Canada from end to end, and even though we are not able in these days to send many agricultural settlers to Canada, it is a land in which we are keenly interested, and of which I feel that I cannot learn enough."

Sir James preferred to say nothing of his impressions of Canada until he had had an opportunity to look around him.

Among People

"I want to get right among the people," was Sir James' way of putting it. "I want to find out at first hand, something of the life of the people who are today engaged in building up this vast, new country of which we are hearing so much."

"It's too bad that we haven't more agricultural settlers to offer you," he added, "but you see, since the census of 1911, our population has not grown a great deal, and we need all the farm workers we have today to till the agricultural lands of our own country."

Canada could be of inestimable help in assisting Ireland to get back on its feet, declared Sir James. He suggested that Irishmen desirous of migrating to Canada should come out as harvesters. They would then have ample opportunity to look over the country and decide whether they wanted to settle. Those who wished to stay could do so, and the others could go back home. This plan, thought Sir James, would do away with the assisted immigration schemes and would eradicate the possibility of dissatisfaction after arrival.

Ireland's two leading industries—shipbuilding and linen making—were in dire distress, Sir James said. Shipbuilding was rapidly improving, but the linen industry was hard hit. Thousands of workers were idle, due to the high tariff and he suggested that Canada "might do worse" than give Irish linen a preference of from 10 to 20 per cent, thus helping to adjust the financial situation.

Sir James advocated the abolition of the word immigrant.

Harmony in Ireland

Sir James waxed enthusiastic about the conditions in Ireland. "North and south Ireland are happily settled these days," he said. "There is great harmony—better conditions than there have been in the last 50 years. Irishmen are working together for the good of Ireland and the empire, as they have never done before. Premier Cosgrave (of south Ireland) and I are the best of friends, and we can meet at all times for an amicable discussion of the welfare of all our people."

Sir James entered public life as a Unionist member for the east division of County Down in 1906, serving until 1918, when he contested and was returned for Mid-Down, which seat he held until he became prime minister of north Ireland in 1921. He saw service in the South African war, and held important positions with the British ministry of pensions, and with the British admiralty, from 1917 to 1921. He is also an associate of the Institute of Naval Architects.

MONEY READY FOR SMELTER

Commissioner of Natural Resources Visits Smithers and is Banqueted.

Under the auspices of the Omnia branch of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines, a dinner was held in Smithers on Wednesday in honor of C. Price-Green, commissioner of natural resources of the Canadian National Railways. The commissioner was on a visit to the district from his headquarters in Montreal for the purpose of getting first-hand information on recent mining developments.

The gathering was presided over by L. S. McGill, the president of the branch chamber of mines, who, before calling on Mr. Price-Green for the main address, asked R. C. W. Lett who was accompanying the commissioner through the district to speak. Mr. Lett, in a brief address, outlined the work being done by the Canadian National Railways to further the mining industry in the district. Douglas Lay, resident mining engineer for the North-Eastern district, spoke of recent mining developments in the district and of the work of his department. The visitors were welcomed to the district and thanked for the great interest shown in speeches by several prominent local men, including Chas. Reid, president of the Smithers district Board of Trade. The viewpoint of the prospector was put forward by Peter Schuler, Jas. Wright and Wm. Sweeney.

Appeal for Optimism

In the address of the evening Mr. Price-Green made an appeal for optimism on the part of all Canadians in regard to the possibilities and the future of the country. He gave facts and figures to show that our progress was by no means disappointing and that hope for further and greater progress in the near future was well founded. He assured all of the great interest taken and the close watch kept in regard to mining development in this district. He spoke of the hopes entertained by officials of the Canadian National Railways that the time was now almost ripe for consideration of the establishment of a new smelter to serve this part of the Province of British Columbia. The capital for such an undertaking was already in sight and would be readily forthcoming when the development of mining warranted.

Visited Topley

After the dinner was concluded Mr. Price-Green, accompanied by Mr. Lett and Mr. Lay, left for Topley to examine the discoveries made near there by Frank Taylor this summer. After making the examination and gathering data he took the train back to his headquarters in Montreal. He expects to make a further trip to the district in October of this year.

WE ARE OFFERING A MODEL MODERN OPTICAL PARLOR AGRADUATE EXPERIENCED REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

TO SERVE YOUR EYE NECESSITIES
It is the great difference in the results obtained from correct methods of examination for defects; the careful attention to fitting the prescription and the details so necessary in correct frame fitting that causes our patients to discriminate in favor of glasses fitted in our Optical Parlor. We use modern methods. We try to give courteous service. That's why you will feel so much at ease when you are deciding on a frame that will exactly suit your particular liking.

REMEMBER—No case presents perplexities to one qualified in the Science of Refraction.
Consult our Optometrist as you would a friend. The advice will be just as reliable.
