HENRI BOURASSA LAUDS MACKENZIE KING AS GREAT CANADIAN LEADER

Henri Bourassa Lauds King; Terms Him Great Canadian Worthy to Represent Canada

MONTREAL, July 19.—In the opening address of his campaign, Henri Bourassa, the French Canadian nationalist leader, speaking to a huge throng yesterday at Papineauville, during which various political issues were dealt with, lauded W. L. Mackenzie King, terming him "a great Canadian" and a man worthy of being sent to London to represent Canada at the imperial conference.

Speaking on the constitutional question, Bourassa said: "Before of tomorrow. If you allow the Governor General to accord or refuse dissolution as he well likes, you will wake up and find Downing Street will be the judge in Canada's political affairs."

Pool for Funds in England is Successful States Archbishop De Pencier.

VANCOUVER, July 19.—Announcement is made here by Archbishop De Pencier, who has returned from England, that a bishop will be chosen for the diocese within a few months' succession to the late Archbishop DuVernet.

He said that with the splendid success of Archbishop Rix in Eastern Canada and the hearty response of the people of the north he thought it would be possible to succeed within a few months.

TOWN BURST INTO ACTIVITY

SEATTLE, July 19.—In the Cascade Mountains, 60 miles east of here, slumbering Tye overnight burst into a roaring frontier town with "wide open" saloon, dance hall and gambling rooms, according to federal prohibition agents who invaded the settlement early yesterday.

The town burst into activity when three thousand men started construction work on an eight mile tunnel for the Great Northern Railroad.

CHEAP RATES TO HARVEST FIELDS

Will Be in Effect From August 5 to August 31.—57,000 Men Needed.

FEW IDLE MEN HERE

The local branch of the Employment Service of Canada has been advised by the general superintendent of the service for British Columbia that harvest rates to the prairies will apply this year from August 5 to August 31, inclusive, the conditions being the same as last year. There will be 57,000 men from outside the prairie provinces required to handle this year's crop and it is estimated that 6,000 men will be available in British Columbia. Those desiring to obtain cheap transportation to the harvest fields may obtain same by applying at the employment office.

The office reports that there is little unemployment in the city at the present time although there are, of course, a few straggling cases. Some men were sent to the Bulkley Valley hay fields recently and a few are now required for the Hanson pole camps up the line.

FIRE AT ORE MILL IN INTERIOR CAUSED LOSS ESTIMATED $150,000

NELSON, July 19.—A loss estimated at $150,000 resulted from a fire which destroyed the ore mill of the Standard Mining Company, of Silverton, according to word received here. The advices said the blaze originated in the plant itself, which was recently reopened after a long period of inactivity.

LECTURE YESTERDAY WESTHOLME THEATRE

Speaker Deals With Current Topics' Connection With Second Coming.

That a great change is taking place in the affairs of men at the present time and mankind, nationally and internationally, is utterly at sea, their high ideals being impossible of accomplishment as far as human ability and sagacity are concerned, was declared by A. J. Eshleman of New York, who spoke last night in the Westholme Theatre, under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association. Mr. Eshleman declared that the people's plea for governments that would give untrammelled justice and tenderness was in vain. The gods of war, gold and selfishness were taking their toll from the people with contemptuous interest and the Bible Students considered conditions as they existed as incontrovertible proof that the time had come for the King Immortal to take control of earth's affairs, bringing order out of chaos and relief to a sin-weary and distressed humanity.

Freud Cameron presided at the meeting and piano accompaniments were played by Mrs. A. Ness.

The killing followed threats against the life of the pastor for sermons preached in which Chipps claimed friends of his had been wronged.

Norris claimed that Chipps came to his church study and in self-defence he shot him several times.

Sunday night Norris preached a sermon from the text: "There is no condemnation to them who are in Christ Jesus," and gave his version of the killing to the congregation.

Respect Rights of Others at Salt Lakes.
 A number of complaints have been made of some of the swimmers not taking care of the lifebuoys at the Salt Lakes. If anyone were needing help it would at once be expected to find the buoys hanging in their places, but of late they have often been thrown around and the result might be disastrous. It is pointed out by officials of the swimming club that they should not be used except for life saving.

Another complaint is of boys using 22 rifles near the lake. This is not the place for firearms. Shooting in public parks is strictly forbidden under any circumstances and the district round the lakes has been officially set apart as a public park. It is hoped that Prince Rupert people will co-operate to make the place safe and also to make it as pleasant as possible for swimmers.

Get Enthused Over Our City.
 If we are ever to make Prince Rupert anything we must get enthused over it instead of sitting back cynically and making adverse remarks about those who try to do anything. Unless the residents are proud of the city, no one can expect others to be the same. We must get to feel that there is no other place just so good as this if we are to make the place succeed. Ketchikan has that spirit and there is no reason why it should not be caught here, except it be the lassitude of the residents. Prince Rupert should be known as the "city of opportunity," Canada's new port that serves the whole country. It is evolving into a modern little city and some day it will be a modern big city. One by one the disabilities are being removed and we are emerging from the pioneer stage.

The person who comes to Prince Rupert today does not have to endure hardships. There is very little to give up of the benefits of the south. The only difficulty in enticing the residents is the difference of those who come here temporarily and who so often deary the place. The alternative is to try to fill local positions with our own people who will have a good word to say for the city instead of continually knocking.

Prince Rupert people should make it clearly understood that it does not pay for an employee or a temporary business visitor or school teacher or any other person securing pecuniary benefits from the place to knock it. Prompt dismissal in a few cases would soon make a change. We want nothing here but loyal residents. Those who cannot be loyal had better live somewhere else.

Churches Uniting On Live Question.
 The churches in Great Britain are uniting their efforts to bring about a settlement of the coal strike. It is a worthy object and one of the evidences of true religion. It's a good thing to play for a settlement, but to get together and try to bring it about is likely to be more effective. It is satisfactory to know that the church people over there are realizing that they have a mission in life and that the prevention of industrial war is part of it.

Regret Illness of Hon. H. H. Stevens.
 Everyone regrets the indisposition of Hon. H. H. Stevens. The former member for Vancouver will go from the hospital to his home and the despatches say he will rest after the elections.

Political leaders are few and good speakers are few. The Conservative party can ill afford to lose Mr. Stevens. It is to be hoped he will soon be well enough to return to political life.

Vancouver Narrows Likely to be Bridged.
 Plans are being made for bridging the narrows joining Stanley Park with West Vancouver. A suspension bridge is contemplated high enough to allow any shipping to pass beneath and long enough not to impede navigation by narrowing the channel from its present minimum.

There is some opposition to the scheme from shipping men who think it may be necessary to again widen the navigable channel through the Narrows beyond the present 1200 feet. There is opposition from those who fear the desecration of the park. There is support, however, from those who wish to see Vancouver grow and especially from the seven thousand residents of West Vancouver and from the people who own property in that district. North Vancouver also is in favor of the project.

STAMPEDE AT CALGARY SHOWN

Prairie City is Scene of Motion Picture Plot and Hoot Gibson Hero

One of the big drawing cards of the 1925 Calgary Stampede was a Universal motion picture company of 44 persons which spent the entire week filming scenes for a great epic of the west as a starring vehicle for Hoot Gibson, noted cowboy star.

The picture was "The Calgary Stampede" and will be shown here tonight. Action takes place at the Stampede but it is a drama replete with thrills which is Gibson's most pretentious effort in his long motion picture career.

More than 200,000 visitors to the Canadian metropolis played the part of extras during the picture without knowing it. Dressed in their gayest cowboy and cowgirl outfits they gave an unequalled carnival atmosphere to the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Fort Calgary and the coming of the Canadian Northwest Mountain Police to that territory.

All the beauty and splendor of the romantic West has been captured in this thrilling tale of the outdoors. Herbert Blache, director of this, also made "Honey" Peters' "Headwinds" and "Secrets of the Night."

BLUEBEARD'S SEVEN WIVES IS SATIRE

Deals With Ways and Methods of Movie Folk and Especially with Press Agent

In "Bluebeard's Seven Wives," a First National feature comedy here at the mid-week, something new and original is said to have been brought to the screen. The film is described as a gentle satire on the prevalent type of screen press agent, screen sheik and screen vampire.

Despite its frothy character "Bluebeard's Seven Wives" has also a serious underlying theme which runs deeper even than the press agent's wild stunt to make his movie star popular by exploiting him as a modern Bluebeard. This is the awakening of confidence in the hero. He develops from a bashful, stuttering bank clerk to a film hero of importance. The transformation is accomplished with a good deal of realism it is said.

In the principal roles are Ben Lyon, Blanche Sweet, Dorothy Sebastian, Lois Wilson, Sam Hardy and Diana Kane. Alfred A. Santell is responsible for the direction and Blanche Merrill and Paul Schofield for the story.

SKINNER'S DRESS SUIT IS RIB-TICKLING TALE

Reginald Denny in Stellar Role is Said to be Memorable Beyond Compare

"Skinner's Dress Suit" here at the week end, is a rib-tickling tale of a young married couple, the Skinners, who live in the suburbs. They are just the sort of married children who live next door to you and me, very much in love with one another, with "Honey" under the positive belief that her husband is the greatest business man of all time.

In reality, he is just an underpaid clerk, submissive to his employer and when "Honey" compels him to ask for an increase in salary, his outward calm is more than offset by his mental disturbance. And when he finally summons enough courage to request the raise, he is incontinently refused.

He hasn't the heart to deceive his trustful wife, who believes that there is nothing he cannot accomplish, and he tells her that he received his increase amounting to ten dollars a week. She is overjoyed, and makes plans to spend the raise immediately from their savings. He is aguish at her decision, but he is helpless.

Fast and Funny
 That is where the plot begins to become involved. From then on, the tempo is fast and funny. The plot is most ingenious, being taken almost literally from Henry Irving Dodge's famous book of the same name. The picture was most skillfully directed by William A. Seiter.

Denny, as the star, is perfect. His facial expressions and intelligence with which he assumes this role, which is so unlike the real Denny, make it one of the season's outstanding performances.

Too much credit cannot be given to charming Laura LaPlante, than whom he can think of no one better able to portray "Honey," the cuddly and ambitious-for-her-husband wife.

Society Women
 Ben Hendricks, Jr., and E. J. Ratcliffe make real bosses while Hedda Hopper, as the wealthy society woman, gives a characterization as to the manner born. Space does not permit detailed comment but suffice to say that the rest of the players are perfectly cast.

CROP PROSPECTS ON PRAIRIES ARE GOOD

C. P. R. Report Says Straw Short In Some Districts But Heads Show Up Well.

WINNIPEG, July 17.—During the past week, showers have fallen over the west in many sections, the heaviest being in Manitoba, says the weekly crop report of the Canadian Pacific Railway, issued today. The cold weather of the past few days is just what is now required. Prospects continue favorable almost everywhere, and unless some unforeseen developments take place, there should be a good all-round crop in the west this year.

The stand is good, color healthy and, while in some sections the straw is short, heads are showing up well, and it should be an easy crop to handle. Pastures are looking well. Much breaking is being done and the land is turning over better than for several years past. Summer fallowing is well advanced and being well done. Labor at present seems to be plentiful.

George J. Johnston, engineer for the Homestake Mining Co. of South Dakota was in the city this week on his way to make an examination of the Selwyn gold property on the Peace River.

John A. Fraser, member in the last House of Commons, will probably again be the conservative nominee for Cariboo riding. The only other name mentioned is that of Dr. Connolly of Salmon Arm.

MAANY USES FOR FLYING CRAFT

Apert From Military Uses Planes Playing Increasing Part in Modern Developments.

USED FOR PATROLS

OTTAWA, July 19.—Civil aviation made definite strides in Canada last year. A report on activities along this line shows that the agencies of the air added to their usefulness in many ways in the Dominion since the beginning of 1925.

Forest tracts in New Brunswick, rust-ridden wheat fields on the prairies, treacherous ice floes at the proposed Hudson's Bay port.

In Timber Business

Out of Baddeck, N. S., flyers are completing a mosaic of the timber limits of the Canadian Maritime provinces. In Quebec, surveys are being taken of the great unexplored area which extends up past Hudson's Bay to the sub-Arctic.

Along the British Columbia-Washington boundary, the way of the rum-runner is being made difficult. The wild and sparsely populated boundary line is watched more easily from above.

Rust in Grain

Not the least interesting development of the aeroplane in Canada is its observation of the drift of rust spores in the grain fields. It seems that atmospheric conditions so radically affect the drift of these spores that a very important factor in their control can be worked out through the observation of their reaction to moisture, etc.

The views of Captain T. Cowley, director of civil aviation in Canada, on aerial passenger services, are worth noting. He sees no immediate demand for such enterprises in Canada.

NORSEMEN AND EARLY VISITS

Claim Made by Scientist that They Were Driven out by Indians in 1910.

RECORDS ON ROCKS

Runic Story Read by Archaeologist Tells of Battle in Which Visitors Lost

SPokane, July 19.—Discovery of another group of runes dated 1010, A.D., describing Norsemen swimming across the Columbia to escape from Indians has been revealed here by Prof. Oluf Opsjon in connection with his invitation to archaeologists to investigate such markings found in this region.

The story of how eight of 14 Vikings crossed the river to safety and then starved beneath the river cliffs where they sought refuge from Indians, was told by the author of numerous Norse history articles, who last Monday announced the discovery of runic inscriptions near here.

Members of Two Expeditions

Mr. Opsjon declared the Norsemen were members of two expeditions which explored several sections of the Pacific northwest in 1010. The carvings locate the episode as happening in what is now Grant County, Wash., and have the same characteristics as the paintings found here telling of a battle between Indians and Norsemen in 1010.

Other records of the expeditions have been found on the upper Little Lady Fraser River in British Columbia, on the Columbia River near Vantage Ferry, Wash., and in Tillamook County, Ore., Professor Opsjon said. The boulder found in British Columbia is now in a park at Vancouver, B.C., he continued.

Carved pictures of the Teutonic gods, Odin and Thor, and the Teutonic goddess, Freya with three horns, were found with the story of the swim across the Columbia.

"The inscriptions are exactly the same as those found on two large gold horns plowed up at Mogenlander, Godland, Denmark. The first horn was plowed up during the fifteenth century and the second horn was found nearly 101 years later. A facsimile of silver horns was made and they are now in the Northern Royal Museum of Denmark.

"These impressions on the Columbia River prove that the carvers knew of the old religious teachings of the Norse. A stack of hay and other characters indicate that the Norsemen trapped by Indians had only hay to eat and starved. I translated these inscriptions two years ago, but have made no previous announcement of them."

Answers Dr. Spinden

Answering a statement from Dr. Herbert J. Spinden, curator of Mexican archaeology and ethnology at the Peabody Museum, Harvard University, in which he doubted the authenticity of the inscription. Professor Opsjon said: "Dr. Spinden doesn't know, that's all. He said that the inscriptions would have been destroyed long ago by air, water and dust. That is not true of all localities. The Spokane runic rock is protected from weather elements. Ancient rock paintings are numerous throughout the northwest and all are well preserved."

"The evidence is absolute and conclusive on the Spokane runic rock and I urgently invite any gentlemen of science who consider themselves qualified to translate runic script and runic monograms to come to Spokane and make their own independent investigations."

"It is known from Indian legends that the paintings have been on these rocks for generations, at least. They are not Indian markings, for the oldest Indians have not the faintest idea of their meanings. On the other hand, they are true runic characters as I have known them from intensified study for many years, and they tell a vivid, connected story."

MOUNTAIN SCALED BY TWO ALPINISTS

JASPER, July 19. — Mount Fryatt, one of the highest and most formidable peaks in the Athabasca River section of the Canadian Rockies has been scaled by Howard Palmer of New London, Conn., and Dr. J. This mountain, with precipitous shale slopes on one side and great glacier fields on the other, had hitherto resisted all attempts to conquer it and in recent years it had been placed in the category of those peaks which it was thought would never be climbed.

INDIAN VERSUS WHITE ALASKA

That is Campaign Cry in Some Parts of Adjacent Territory For Elections.

That there is an election campaign on in the United States as well as in Canada is clearly shown in the character of the newspaper articles that are published. In Alaska there were three candidates, Dan Sutherland, republican, Frank Boyle, Democrat and Tom Marquam, independent. The natives most of whom have votes, are strongly back of Sutherland. They are led by an Indian attorney, William L. Paul. In order to unify the opposition to Sutherland, Boyle has just announced his resignation and the Ketchikan Chronicle, commenting editorially on his action, sets forth the race battle cry as follows:

Newspaper Comment

The withdrawal of the candidacy of Frank Boyle for Delegate to Congress announced on Saturday came as no surprise, yet to those who have the best interest of Alaska at heart and who are anxious to see it prosper it was gratifying. There is no better citizen in Alaska than Mr. Boyle and the withdrawal of his candidacy was one of the marks of his good citizenship. As stated by him in his public announcement, there was little likelihood of his success at the polls in a three cornered race and he believed apparently that it would be better for Alaska to eliminate himself, thereby electing Tom Marquam and wiping Dan Sutherland off the political slate for all time.

B. C. Indians

The battle is now between Tom Marquam and Dan Sutherland. In other words it becomes the battle of white or Indian domination of the territory. Sutherland even today is not satisfied with receiving all the Indian votes of the territory but he needs must introduce in congress a bill whereby he would enfranchise every native of British Columbia that night care to slip over the line into Alaska. That this native domination is realized today by Sutherland is certain for he dares not cross Wm. L. Paul, leader and counsel-in-chief for the Alaska Native Brotherhood, taking in practically all the Indians of Southeastern Alaska.

Today at Sitka we see complete Indian domination and if anyone wants to ascertain the humiliation and unsatisfactory conditions under which the whites are living there all he has to do is ask the white residents of Alaska's first capital. That condition of Sitka will spread to the whole territory, with the natives controlling and dictating to our congressmen and to our legislature to such a degree that every white man and woman will be paying the price of the folly of permitting such domination is evident.

Banded Together

There are plenty of white people in Alaska to permit intelligent white management of af-

Hacker at the funeral service for the late Mrs. Maria Raymond which was held on Saturday afternoon in the First United Church. In addition to the daughter, Mrs. H. H. McLeod, of New York, and son, W. J. Raymond, of this city, who were accompanied by Miss Isabel Haddock, church deaconess, there was a concourse of friends to pay their last respects to the late Mrs. Raymond, who was highly respected. The presiding clergyman was assisted by Rev. Evan Baker and Miss M. A. Way played organ accompaniments for the hymns, which were, "How Firm a Foundation," "Lead Kindly Light," and "Nearer My God to Thee."
Rev. Hacker referred to the kindly qualities and upright principles of deceased and stressed the fact that death had removed only the physical and not the spiritual presence. A mother had been removed from this earth who would await in the greater Kingdom beyond the coming of those who had been near and dear in earthly life. God in His wisdom had removed the late Mrs. Raymond just as, he believed, she would have wished. Her end had come in such a manner as she in

ATTACK MADE UPON RUSSIA

Chancellor of the Exchequer Puts no Restraint on His Words in Dealing With Soviet

LONDON, July 19.—Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, dealt with the Russian methods and Government without gloves in a recent address. He said: "We are the object of an unceasing campaign levelled upon us by the Russian Bolsheviks. Those miscreants who have ruined their own country are powerless in their efforts to ruin ours. In their plans of world revolution they find this island an obstacle. If they could only pull down Britain, ruin its prosperity, plunge it into anarchy, and obliterate the British Empire as a force in the world they are convinced that the road will be clear for a general butchery, followed by a universal tyranny of which they will be the head, and out of which they will get the profits. They will not succeed in their aim. They do not understand at all the resources of tempered strength on which this nation rests. The parliamentary and democratic institutions of Britain, which were venerable while this band of cosmopolitan conspirators were hiding in the underworlds of the cities of Europe and America—these parliamentary institutions, will continue, sedate, powerful, and glorious, when they have expiated their crimes and their crimes lay buried in a liberated Russia and an enlightened world. They have their dupes in this country, but H.M. Government is not among them. We understand exactly their aims and their methods. The question is asked, quite legitimately, why the Government let them stay in this country. It would give a great deal of satisfaction if they were thrown out. Personally, I hope I shall live to see the day when either there will be a civilized Government in Russia or when we shall have ended the present pretence of friendly relations with the men who are seeking our overthrow. Lloyd George folly. But we must not let our policy be swayed unduly by our feelings. We must act at each stage with cool and careful judgment. As for the money they have sent here, that is a mere trifle compared either with what the Russians have stolen from us. Does not this show what a folly Mr. Lloyd George committed when he brought these Russian intriguers into our midst? It was one of the fatal steps in his downward career. We have decided, after a careful survey of the whole situation, that the present time is not the time when we should take the step of rupturing negotiations and relations with Russia. The present situation is precarious and it is being vigilantly watched. Adds Warning. I have to add this warning. Persons who lend money to Russia, as they are entitled to do, must be alive to the risks they run, and must understand that in no circumstances will the British Treasury accept any responsibility if they are defrauded. Should the Government find it necessary at any moment to expel the Soviet agents no claims for losses will be entertained by the Treasury. My advice to traders is to make sure they get paid, or get full security before their goods leave this country. If they lend money and lose it they will have no one to thank but themselves, and the Government must remain absolutely free to take any action they think necessary in the public interest. Mrs. T. H. Johnson returned to the city on yesterday afternoon's train from Terrace where she spent the last week as the guest of Mrs. G. H. Munro.

SAILORS BEAT HIGH SCHOOL

In Good Game of Football on Saturday R.C.N.V.R. Defeated High School 4-3.

In the last game of the first half of the Intermediate League football series on Saturday between the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve and the High School, the sailors registered their second consecutive victory by defeating the High School 4 goals to 3.
The Naval Reserve team has shown a marked improvement on play in the last two games, and the second half of the Intermediate soccer series will doubtless see the Naval boys right on their toes and some interesting games will be the outcome.
Playing the first half with the grade against them the Reserve score at half time stood 2-1 in their favor. While the High School boys put up a game fight, the sailors played a determined game and notched two additional tallies, while the High School did well to mark up three goals.
Chief Petty Officer Instructor Dawes refereed the game.
