Let Us Patronize Home Products.

At the concert in the Westholme Theatre Tuesday night was seen an example of developing our own products. Prince Rupert boys are being educated musically so that they can produce music for the city instead of importing it as in the past. It is one of the first important steps in developing a real community consciousness.

In games and sports we are beginning to develop home talent and so it is in many other lines of endeavor. We are beginning to feel ourselves a civic entity which is contributing something to the rest of the world instead of receiving everything and giving nothing. And the curious thing is that the more we give the faster we develop. By all means let us encourage our own young people to do things outside the common track of affairs and when they do it, make allowances for defects.

Entertainers Developing Here.

Prince Rupert has made a pretty good start in developing her own entertainers. The boys' band is a wonderful little organization and it is to be hoped the lads will keep on and perfect themselves in their art.

But there are others than the boys of the band. Recently Miss Louie Fisher branched out as an entertainer and gave an exposition here. It was really a wonderful effort for one so young and with so little training and we hope for great things from her if she keeps on and works hard at her chosen profession.

We have before this mentioned some of the young local people who have developed locally, but the performance given Tuesday night by Miss Catherine Jones is worthy of special mention. That young lady sang at a public concert last year and her work, although showing promise, was decidedly amateurish. Tuesday night the improvement of her art as shown in the rendition of the Indian Love lyric, "By The Waters of Minnetonka" was so marked that it is well deserving of special mention. This young lady is young and at her age young ladies have to decide whether to take up a career or not. If she is able and willing to study hard and persistently under proper guidance she ought to develop a wonderful voice, which will be a credit to herself and to Prince Rupert. A number of people here sing well but this young lady has possibilities that few realize.

Developing Also Our Industries.

This year we are told there has been more boat building and boat repairing here than ever before in the history of the port. This is good business. It also is something to be encouraged. We should see to it that wherever possible our home boatyards should get the business, that Prince Rupert people should be employed and that every possible encouragement should be given to those who are struggling, often under adverse circumstances, to build up industries, especially those of a productive nature.

Buy Goods From Interior Growers.

Prince Rupert people may well go out of their way to buy goods from the growers of the district. In many cases they do so and with good results. In other cases they claim they are "stung." The growers do not treat local merchants fairly. Also it is claimed sometimes that local merchants do not treat the growers fairly. There should be an attempt to get together and learn to co-operate in buying and selling so that the district may develop.

Cannot Discuss Cases Before Court.

A letter signed "A Mother," received by the editor, deals with a case that is now before the courts. In connection with this we would say that we are not allowed to publish comment on a case that is before the courts. It would be considered an attempt to influence the judgment of the court and we should be liable for "contempt." Also it would be bad form to do so.

Another reason why the letter cannot be published is that the writer does not sign her name. The name does not have to be published but the name of the writer must be appended to the letter or it goes to the waste basket. There is no other place for an anonymous communication, much as we may sympathize with the views of the writer.

LOCAL AVIATORS AIDED SEALERS

"Jack" Caldwell, Here Last Year Was Instrumental in Big Newfoundland Seal Catches

C. S. Caldwell, widely known Canadian aviator, who in the summer of 1924 flew scores of passengers over unsurveyed Ontario and Quebec into the new goldfields of Rouyn, and who last summer, with Col. J. Scott Williams, piloted the plane for a Detroit prospecting syndicate from Prince Rupert over unexplored Northern British Columbia and the Yukon into the "Tropical Valley," is the man who has just flown a plane from Newfoundland over the North Atlantic to locate a vast herd of seal which was successfully hunted by the sealing fleet.

The use of the airplane in the annual sealing expedition, which has taken place after a manner practically unchanged by the process of time for generations, is to some extent at length revolutionizing it. While considerably facilitating and expediting the work of the vessels engaged, it is at the same time substantially reducing the hazards of the crews, without robbing the unique hunt of any of its element of romance but probably adding to it. The baby "Avro" plane which is used was designed and intended for Shackleton's Arctic expedition but was never used and was later purchased by the Newfoundland sealing operators. It is equipped with wheels, floats and skids, so that it may be flown off the ground, water or snow and ice. It leaves with the fleet, mounted on a specially constructed aft deck on one of the sealers, but this is for transport only and the plane is not flown from the vessel.

This was not Caldwell's first season at seal prospecting. Before he came here last spring, he was engaged in the work.

BURBANKS' SOUL AND FANATICS

(Vancouver Sun)

Luther Burbank, botanical genius, is slowly recovering from a serious illness in his California home. It is now known, for the first time, just what brought on that illness.

Mr. Burbank, it will be remembered, announced some months ago that he was an "infidel," and then proceeded to outline his creed, which was just about as fine an exposition of pure Christianity that anybody could hope to hear.

But it seems that the good people of North America love Mr. Burbank very much and were worried lest he should be forced to carry on his botanical experiments in hell. So for two weeks after his religious address, the mails and telegraph wires carried tens of thousands of communications to Mr. Burbank, all designed to snatch Mr. Burbank's soul from the jaws of that place where there is much gnashing of teeth but very little fancy gardening.

But all these fanatics did was to make Mr. Burbank see himself in a new light. For nearly half a century he had labored to make this continent a more beautiful and sweeter place, in which to live. And America's answer was to pityingly place Mr. Burbank among the exalted damned.

So Luther Burbank, sick at heart, simply took to his bed, not caring much whether he lived or died.

Of such sickening loathsomeness is the history of fanaticism filled.

BRINGING UP FATHER

BANQUET FOR VISITING LADY

Canadian Girls in Training Hosts at United Church Last Evening

The first United Church was the scene of a very enthusiastic gathering last night when the girls of the Senior and Junior C.G.I.T. groups gave a banquet in honor of Miss Fountain, the Girl's Work Secretary for British Columbia. Miss Fountain, who is the "Big Sister" to over four thousand Canadian Girls in Training in British Columbia, has just returned from Toronto, and she gave an interesting talk on the work of the C.G.I.T., both as an international organization, and also of group work being done in this province. She outlined several courses of interesting studies which might prove beneficial to the Pupert girls.

At the close of the talk a song was greatly enjoyed under the leadership of Miss Fountain, who taught the girls many new C.G.I.T. songs. At the close of the meeting Miss Jean Mackay, president of the senior group, thanked Miss Fountain for the splendid talk she had given the girls, and assured her that her visit was a red letter day in the calendar of the C.G.I.T. girls, and one which would long be remembered and they all hoped they would have the opportunity of entertaining her again in the near future.

CENTRALIZING POLICE FORCES

Provincial Department will Soon Cover Vancouver Island and Eventually Much of Province

VICTORIA, April 15.—A large part of Vancouver Island will soon be covered by the Provincial Police instead of municipal police, it is expected at the Parliament Buildings, following the action of several up-island cities in turning over their police work to the Government law enforcement organization.

Ladysmith is the latest city on the Island to indicate its desire for provincial police administration. Negotiations are proceeding between Ladysmith and the Government now with the object of arranging a definite agreement on the matter. It is expected that this arrangement will be complete soon, and the provincial force will take over the enforcement of law in the coal mining city.

Duncan completed arrangements for provincial police supervision a short time ago, and an order-in-council approving a similar agreement with Courtenay was ratified by the cabinet last week. It is understood that other cities on the Island are planning similar action. On the mainland the provincial police already are policing Prince George, Matsqui and Port Coquitlam, and will shortly take over the work in other places at the request of their municipal governments. The arrangement insures the cities adequate police protection at a lower cost than is possible with a municipal force, it is stated.

In The Letter Box

Editor Daily News: In answer to G. G. Haeker's letter appearing in your paper, which I consider was intended to convey to the public that the police commission will not allow the police force to carry out their duty and that the police are also under suspicion, let me inform Mr. Haeker that the commissioners and the personnel of the police force are family men and residents of long standing in this community. We cannot allow such a letter to go unchallenged. We owe this to our friends and families of this city. I ask Mr. Haeker if he has not descended lower than the blackmailer to make direct charges against any or all pertaining to the police department and cease this diabolical innuendo. Such a policy is detrimental to our city and all concerned. While it may be sensational, it is at least unmanly advertising for those that indulge in it. If Mr. Haeker gives information either privately or publicly I will guarantee immunity from legal action. In his own words "Hew to the line and let the chips fall where they may." M. H. MONTGOMERY

FLORIDA BOOM ABOUT BURST

Newspaper Discusses Other Booms and the After Effects on Speculators

(Ketchikan Chronicle)

There is no longer doubt that the Florida boom has burst. There have been individual reports to this effect, but now it is officially admitted. Business is dull in Florida, and the tourists have come back north much earlier than usual, just why, we have not learned. This makes business still duller. The stocks of railroads in Florida have suffered a decline, because it is expected they will not earn as much as when the boom was on. The reason for the Florida collapse was that central property cost more than it would rent for, and houses and lots more than the average home-maker was willing to pay.

We have read of real estate booms before. We recall the ones at Duluth and Kansas City. Many thousands of dollars went into both these places, and has never come out. Values were on too high a scale, and there are house lots in Kansas City which are not worth what was paid for them 40 years ago. Most of those who bought in the Kansas City and Duluth booms got frozen out by the assessments for sewer, curbing, paving, water, gas, etc. They let their lots be sold by the tax collector.

Values in Florida are always several jumps ahead of the increase in population, and you always had to pay more than present worth of property. Population will probably continue increasing fast in Florida because its attractiveness for an all-the-year-around residence is becoming increasingly recognized. But values got too far ahead in this last boom and the time at last came when there was a surplus of sellers and a deficit of buyers. There is where Florida is now at, and it may stay there for longer than we might at first suppose. It takes a lot holder who has been able to sell out at any moment at $50,000 profit a long time to come down to accepting not only a loss of the profit, but then some.

100 PASSENGER AIRPLANE MADE GERMAN FIRM

DESSAU, Germany, April 15.—The Junkers Company has completed a model of a 100 passenger airplane, which, it is estimated, can fly across the Atlantic ocean in twenty-four hours.

If successful, it will forever replace the Zeppelin as it would carry an equal weight; it would cost less to build and considerably less to operate, needing only benzine and no helium, and also would be safer.

"We have worked out the scheme completely and believe it entirely feasible," said one of the chief engineers. "Naturally the great difficulty is the engine, that is, to have a sufficient power without too great a weight—a problem that also existed with the Zeppelin—but that, also we believe ourselves competent to overcome if given a free hand."

It is explained that under the Versailles treaty Germany is not permitted to build a workable model or to make a trial flight.

The Junkers monster model has virtually no boat, the cabins, kitchen, and other compartments being built into the thick metal wings, as is also the engine room under the patent held by Junkers.

WAR ON JAZZ IN COUNTRY DISTRICTS

LEEDS, England, April 15.—War on jazz has been declared by the English Folk Dance Society which has launched a campaign to establish a centre for the folk dance as a memorial to Cecil Sharp, its founder.

It is planned to popularize the old-fashioned dances, particularly among the less sophisticated of modern folk in the smaller towns of the country, ignoring cities until they begin to jazz themselves out.

BONUS TO MEN WHEN THEY GET MARRIED

DUBLIN, April 15.—Bachelors have been placed on par with women as to salary by the Irish Free State civil service.

If single men enter the civil service and marry later they get a lump sum payment on marriage—equivalent to twelve months back pay of the difference between the two scales. In addition allowance subject to a maximum of 75 pounds is payable to them in respect of each child up to the age of sixteen.

SOUTH AFRICAN COLOR BAR BILL

Bishop of Pretoria Comes Out Strongly Against Measure as Wrong Step

PROTECT WHITE WORKER

Symbolizes Inherent Inferiority of Native and Resolve to Use Him

LONDON, April 15.—There are many thinking people in South Africa who are alarmed at the color segregation policy of the present government. These people have found an outspoken champion of their thoughts in the Bishop of Pretoria, Dr. Talbot, who has not only attacked the native and Asiatic policy of the government, but has now shown many of the dangers and the fallacies that lie hidden in the Color Bar Bill. It would seem that this bill, limiting the labor activities of the native, will shortly be on the Statute-book of the Union. A solemn warning of the probable consequences has been written by the Bishop of Pretoria in the March issue of "Kingdom," the official organ of his diocese.

All Souls Equal

Beginning with the argument that Christianity stands or falls by its assertion of the equal value of all souls before God, Dr. Talbot goes on:

At present the great mass of native life is at a lower level of human attainment than the European. Not that we can say that the native is inherently inferior to the European. Evidence from America of what has been attained by the negro suggests that he is not inherently inferior, but that he is in the main at a lower level of development compared with the European. It would be sheer sentimentality to deny this.

And yet this conclusion does not mitigate my deep-seated dismay at the trend of present South African legislation at the expense of the native. I cannot think that the need to protect the white worker from being swamped by native labor justifies the introduction of the principle of the color bar into the law of the land. I do not disregard unsympathetically the anxiety of white labor lest it be swamped, for, after all, it is working with a partner—namely, capital—that has evinced again and again a terrible predilection for cheap labor. I noticed that the President of the Chamber of Mines in a recent public speech had little more to contribute to the discussion of the problems of South African industry than the contention that the one thing to do was to import and to keep on importing as much cheap labor to the mines as possible. But I do believe that the protection of the white worker should be secured by regulation within industry, and not by legislation.

An Evil Omen

The passing of the bill by the Assembly is an evil omen for the future. Even though it is leniently and gently administered it cannot but engender a sense in the intelligent native's mind that the white man means to keep the black man down. It is not only a question of its actual provisions, nor its administration, but its symbolic character. It will symbolize the inherent inferiority of the native and the resolve to use him only as a means to white convenience. It will hang in front of native hope and aspiration that which suppresses, confines, and excludes. I think it is a blind and essentially tyrannical measure, and if it is finally ratified it will have inevitably disastrous results to the true peace and wealth of South Africa.

"A mild, Blended Cigarette"

It makes it worse that the bill includes Indians with natives in its scope, for the argument about actual inferiority is not nearly so strong in regard to the Indian as in regard to the Bantu. There are in India, and there may well be in South Africa, Indians who though of dark skin are on a level with the finest flower of European culture. That an able gifted son of India should be barred on the ground of color from rising to his fullest development and capacity is a great wrong, and it brings out into added relief the injustice done to the Bantu people.

In Wrong Direction

Surely this legislation is in the wrong direction—namely, that of discouraging native growth. The right direction is that of encouraging native progress. If the black man can rise to the level of capacity with the white men, then it should be the endeavor of the white men not to keep them out but to bring them in at the white level of conditions and reward. This would entail the surmounting of great difficulties. It would be no short cut to this end, it would be no solution of the native problem. There is no short cut, there is no solution. There is no short cut through this whole business. But it is the right direction. It would fill the native's soul with hope and aspiration. It would leave the road open before him.

No doubt some people will say to me, "Yes, but the Color Bar Bill is part of the Prime Minister's general scheme of native policy. It is part of the policy of differential treatment—viz., working towards the development of native life in native reserves in the country and the securing of the fullest industrial opportunity for Europeans." Well, I think we must do our best to believe that, and I intend to do so. But the Color Bar Bill is a wretched preliminary to the rest of the policy. It is no better than passing a harrow over a cricket pitch before the match is begun.

ACTIVE SALMON CANNING SEASON

Three New Canneries Building on Queen Charlottes—Others Being Improved

With three new canneries in course of construction and all the existing plants to undergo improvements this spring, a more active salmon packing season in 1926 than ever before is promised for the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Work is now in progress on the new cannery for the B.C. Packers at South Bay in Skidegate Inlet which will be named Butler's cannery with M. English in charge.

Construction of the new cannery at Shannon Bay, five miles from Port Clements, for the Goss-Miller Co. is also proceeding.

At Massett, the Langara Fishing & Packing Co. has started driving piles for the wharf on which its new cannery will be erected.

These three new plants are to be ready for operation this season.

W. C. Splan, owner of the Lockport cannery, arrived there on this trip of the Prince John with a crew of men to get that plant ready for operation.

At Aliford Bay, D. T. Sandison, manager and W. Rennie, his foreman, are getting the Maritime Fisheries cannery ready and the Wallace Fisheries cannery at Watun River, of which D. T. Lutes is the manager, is having piles driven for wharf renewal.

Preparations for fall packing at the Lagoon Bay cannery, belonging to the Canadian Fishing Co., will start later.

MOTOR VEHICLES LIMITED LOAD

Highway Regulations to go into Force First of Next Month

VICTORIA, April 15.—Weight of vehicles which may be operated on British Columbia roads under the new safety-first highway regulations, which will go into force May 1, were announced by the Public Works Department. The maximum weight of any vehicle which may travel on any road in the province, including its load, is set at 20,000 pounds, but this figure is varied and graduated downward according to the construction of the road travelled and the season of the year. Large passenger buses and the larger types of trucks will be the chief vehicles affected.

On Class 1 roads, those constructed entirely of concrete, or with a granite block, wood block, brick or bituminous top laid on a bituminous or cement base, the gross weight of a vehicle including its load must not exceed 20,000 pounds in the summer period, from April 15 to October 15, and 16,000 pounds during the winter period.

On Class 2 roads, those constructed of waterbound macadam, or bituminous bound stone or gravel not laid on a bituminous or cement base, the maximum weight in the summer is set at 16,000 pounds and in the winter 10,000 pounds.

On roads of Class 3, including all roads not mentioned in the other two classes, the maximum summer weight is 10,000 pounds and the winter weight 5,000 pounds. This rule will affect all the ordinary gravel roads of the province.

The Minister of Public Works, Hon. W. J. Sutherland, is given power in the new regulations to allow the operation of any vehicle in excess of these weights as he sees fit by special permit. In every case, however, the operator of a vehicle of excessive weight must pay for any damage he does to highways. In cases where it seems necessary, the minister may require such operators to post a bond with him to cover possible highway damage.
