VICTORIA LOSES AGAIN IN HOCKEY BATTLE

SCUFFLE AMONG TROLLERS AT WARK CHANNEL YESTERDAY ENDS FATALLY

Montreal Maroons Win Second Game of Series from Cougars 3 to 0

MONTREAL, April 3.—The Montreal Maroons, playing under Western rules, held the Victoria Cougars scoreless Thursday night, winning their second consecutive game in the Stanley Cup series by three to nothing, thereby tightening their grasp on the world's professional hockey championship which the Cougars are so far unsuccessfully defending. The Maroons scored in each period, their play being superior to that of the Westerners even under the Western rules.

The game was rough all the way through, twenty-five penalties being handed out. Victoria started in the first period with a burst of speed that had Montreal outwitted but the Maroon defence managed to break up several threatening attacks.

In the first period with Fredrickson off, Stewart scored for Montreal in ten minutes. Victoria was unlucky in at least three attempts to score.

In the second period, Phillips scored for the Maroons after nine minutes and the play roughened up with renewed attacks on the Victoria net but the Cougar defence held them out.

In the final period, the players suffered from over-exertion and there was a regular parade to the penalty bench. Broadbent scored the last goal in fifteen minutes whereupon Victoria staged a desperate attempt to avoid a white-wash, but lost several opportunities by being outlucked.

The third game will be played tonight under Eastern rules and if the Maroons again win, the series will be over with the Stanley Cup moving East for a season.

Jack Burchall Drowns and Wesley George is Arrested by Officers

Jack Burchall was drowned near Flewin & Brown's trolling camp in Warke Channel yesterday morning and Wesley George was brought to the city aboard the launch Pachena this afternoon to face trial on a charge of attempted suicide and probably murder in connection with Burchall's death. Both men are trolling fishermen and Burchall's death as well as George's arrest are the outcome of a quarrel and tussle the two had in a boat at Warke Channel about 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

It is alleged that Burchall either fell or was knocked overboard by George and thus his drowning ensued. The latter is said to have swum ashore, and after he had realized the serious result of the scuffle, to have attempted to cut his throat with a safety razor blade. He was taken to the Port Simpson General Hospital for treatment and there

From Stone Age to Gas Among Indian Chieftains; Progress of Haidas on Queen Charlottes

(By Oliver E. Mann)

SKIDEGATE, April 3.—This important community of the Queen Charlotte Islands, once the barracks of a most warlike nation, the Haida Indians, is now preparing for the salmon season, after a winter in which one of the most striking signs of civil revolution has been witnessed.

The few historians of the Haidas have emphasized the warlike tendencies of the race, and not without cause. Doughty warriors they certainly were and they had to be for their own preservation. It is not much more than fifty years since the seafaring man first had the tendency to commence trading with his proud, suspicious and clever race.

One marvels at the progress these people have made. The Haidas had always looked upon fish as their chief article of food, and so they are born fishermen and fisherwomen. They are also natural boat builders, and even today rely on their own art to provide them craft in which to go out on the Pacific to seek the salmon.

Mitchell & Currie, the pioneer contracting firm, has purchased the third and fourth lots just beyond the Pony Express arm and residence at the corner of Third Avenue and McBride Street on Market Square and will erect thereon immediately a modern two-story factory and woodworking shop. The company's headquarters and office will also be located there. The deal for the purchase of the lots was conducted through the office of H. G. Helgerson Co. Ltd., the vendor having been Mrs. Elizabeth M. Harris of Victoria.

Now We Look Forward To Prospects For Future.

Now we can look forward with assurance that the prospects for future development of Prince Rupert will be in the line of progress. The leasing of the elevator for two years with the option of purchase after that, is an indication that the wheat growers of Alberta look to Prince Rupert as a natural outlet for their product. It is an indication of faith, not only in the Pacific route but in this port as one that will serve them well in future years.

Best Advertisement Rupert Could Have.

The leasing of the elevator is the best advertisement Prince Rupert could have. It is a notice to the world of our prospects and possibilities and will attract more attention than all the other advertisements it would be possible to send out. Success is what counts in this world and now that we are succeeding, people will look this way and come this way and we shall have the world with us.

Not that our work is done. If we are to become a big port we must not be carried away with our one victory but must keep right on, step by step, fighting our way to the top.

Honor To Those Who Gave Public Service.

There are so many who have done service in connection with securing the elevator for Prince Rupert and getting it leased that it is impossible to mention them all. However, credit belongs to the member for the district who has been on the job all the time and also particularly to F. G. Dawson, who, as a private citizen has given unslimingly of his time and effort without pay and without seeking honor, just for the sake of serving his city.

Naturally with Mr. Dawson and others who do public work of that nature, what helps the city helps them. Members of opposing parties who have co-operated in bringing results are to be complimented on their attitude. Co-operation is necessary at all times. We all have the city at heart much more than we have any political party and the one thing for us all to do just now is to work for Prince Rupert.

Attitude Of Daily News To Politics.

It has often been said on the street that the Daily News is owned or controlled by Mr. Dawson or by some other politician and that is the reason certain things are said. We would ask any who have such ideas to forget them. No one owns a dollar's worth of stock in this newspaper except those directly concerned and actively engaged in publishing it. Mr. Dawson owns the building, for which rent is paid, but on more than one occasion the owners of the paper have investigated proposals to purchase new premises although such proposals have not so far been accepted. One of the proposals was to take over the recently disposed Elk's Club building which the Moose have taken. It is necessary to state this because it might seem as if what is said of Mr. Dawson in this paper might be construed as being self-praise on Mr. Dawson's behalf. The News is always glad to acknowledge any good work done for the city no matter what the political or religious or national stripe. Also it often holds many views directly at variance with those of Mr. Dawson, Mr. Stork or others of the same political party. This is not a matter of politics but of justice.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF C.G.M.M. HERE RAILWAY UNITS IN GREAT WAR

D. E. Galloway Visiting City in Course of Combined Business and Pleasure Trip to Coast

In the course of a combined business and pleasure trip to the Pacific coast, D. E. Galloway, vice-president of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, is a visitor in the city. He arrived from Montreal on yesterday morning's train and is proceeding to Vancouver by the steamer Catala this afternoon. He was met here by B. G. Keeley, Pacific coast manager of the C.G.M.M., who is accompanying him to Vancouver.

Mr. Galloway had no new developments to announce regarding this port but, in view of the general improvement in Western conditions which he noted, he was of the opinion that increasing use of the shipping advantages here would ensue.

It is by no means, Mr. Galloway's first visit to this city. He was first here away back in 1907 before the townsite had been laid out and when there was nothing here but the camp of J. H. Bacon, the harbor engineer, that was at the time of the first visit of the late Sir Charles M. Tays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, of whose staff Mr. Galloway was a member. When Mr. Galloway was last here two years ago it was as assistant to Sir Henry Thornton as president of the Canadian National Railway.

GIVE CREDIT WHERE COMING

D. P. Riel Was Instrumental In Opening Elevator Negotiations Which Have Been Completed

The following letter has been received by the Daily News in connection with the elevator negotiations:

Editor, Daily News:

As one of the city council and a member of the finance committee of last year and this year likewise, I feel somewhat responsible to the taxpayers of this city in the matter of an expenditure of $634.48 in connection with the activity of the late grain board, since it is well known to all that L. P. Riel was engaged by the board to proceed to the prairies and such other points as he deemed necessary to make an operating connection between the flow of western grain and the Prince Rupert elevator, wish to state right here that it was Mr. Riel who first suggested the connection by way of lease to the wheat pool of Alberta, to the Dominion government, through Hon. Dr. King, then in Vancouver, and, upon his return, to the local grain board. In Mr. Riel's report, he pointed out clearly that, without this connection, business at the elevator would be nil.

Since Mr. Riel conceived the idea of connecting the elevator and wheat pool by way of lease, since he it was who opened the question both with the pool and the government thereby getting both bodies thinking in that direction, I think he truly was the father of the thought and that his astuteness was the real factor in connection with the deal now assumed to have been made. Therefore his name should have been mentioned along with those of Messrs. Dawson, McCaffery and Stork.

GEORGE B. CASEY,

Alderman.

Colonel McDermie Gives Interesting Address to Rotary Club on Work of Service

PROBLEMS TO FACE

At the Rotary Club luncheon in the St. Regis cafe Thursday, Thomas Mclymont presiding, Colonel McDermie gave an interesting address on "Railroad Troops" in which he told of the activities in railway building on the western front during the war.

Before the war, railroad troops were practically unknown, the work having been done previously by the Royal Engineers. Artillery had increased to such an extent, however, that it became necessary to use railways more.

The first unit of this kind to go overseas was composed mostly of C.P.R. men but the numbers increased until almost 20,000 out of seventy or eighty thousand Canadian troops at the seat of war were railway troops.

Jack Stewart

Jack Stewart, who was well known in Prince Rupert, was given permission to raise a permanent battalion and he officered them mostly with men in his own employ. Some were also raised in the east and on the prairies. The work was at first rather jumbled owing to lack of military efficiency but this gradually changed and excellent work was accomplished later.

The Colonel told of the training given and of the personnel of the units. There were about 100 more men than in an infantry battalion and a special officer technically trained.

Colonel McDermie said his own railway battalion was the Thirteenth which arrived in France in March, 1918. At first they were changed to infantry, then to machine gun unit and then back to railway troops.

Method of Building

Describing the method of building, the Colonel said the lines radiated in every direction from the front and also paralleled it. Work had to be done quickly but they were well supplied with materials and men. His own battalion built railways for the Canadian troops. Bombing by planes was the chief danger in this work but they were like mosquitoes, troublesome, but did not do much harm. After that he went north to Belgium and on Armistice Day was before Mons. From that time on their work was repairing the lines that the Boche had destroyed. The work was intensely interesting and he could not ask for better support than he got from officers and men.

Smoke System

Describing the difficulties of the work, the Colonel said that his unit had the job of operating the railway from Mons into Germany for a time and they operated on the "smoke system." There were no telegraphs or telephones so they just watched for the smoke of the approaching train.

The Colonel also paid a tribute to the higher command. He knew the English and French officers, and he knew the English best, not the least snobbish. If they disagreed, they did so in such a manner that it almost seemed as if they were agreed. The men in the battalion also did wonderful work. Often it was necessary to make men stop working as they worked themselves sick. One advantage of the railway battalion was that they were given more supplies

A Pimply Face Is Unsightly

Miss C. C. M. Smart, South Battleford, Sask., writes: "A while ago I was troubled with facial blemishes, especially pimples, and was really ashamed to go out with such a bad looking face."

MINSTREL SHOW AT TERRACE BY VETS

Affair Thursday Night Was Well Attended and Proved Enjoyable

TERRACE, April 3.—The minstrel show staged by the Great War Veterans on Thursday evening drew a large crowd, their large auditorium being filled to capacity. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the lengthy program consisting of instrumental and vocal duets, quartettes, and choruses, step dancing, jokes, tricks and crossfire selections.

A. E. Fowler acted as interlocutor and the troupe consisted of J. De Kergommaux, with banjo, C. Toombs; L. H. McLaren, accordion; H. King, bones; F. Nightingale, guitar; W. Finter, violin; T. Hollowell, accordion; E. T. Kenney, tambourine; T. Turner, bones; R. Donald, ukelele; and H. Swain, bones.

The sealing up which has been done in the interior of the hall during the last week added much to the enjoyment of the program, the sound carrying much better now than formerly.

WATERFRONT WHIFFS

Many new recruits in trolling fleet--Canadian halibut landings on increase--government wharf work starts

While the opening of each season sees new faces along the waterfront, it is doubtful if there was ever before such an influx of new men and boats to engage in fishing out of this port, particularly salmon trolling, as is to be noticed this year. A number of small boats have journeyed up the coast during the past few weeks to try their luck in these waters now that the Fraser River fisheries are not so prolific as they used to be and, in addition to that, new fishermen have been drawn from the East and, as usual, a few from as far removed as the Old Country.

that a number of the American vessels recently landing fish here have been those very ones whose skippers recently signed, under rather strange circumstances, a petition to their government that would result in them being forbidden the use of a Canadian port for the handling of their catches. The consequent actions of these skippers confirm the statement made by some of them that they were induced to sign said petition without being fully aware of what its contents was.

The boats landing here during the past week—Saturday to Thursday were—as follows:

American—Eagle, 45,000; Eastern Point, 7,000; Spray, 10,000; Foremost, 30,000; Havana, 32,000; President, 23,000; Atta, 24,000; Star, 8,700; Onah, 6,000; Wabash, 5,000; Seattle, 44,000; Albatross, 22,000; Paragon, 35,000; Heleland, 48,000; Atlas, 34,000; Grant, 18,000; Bravo, 5,000; Western, 24,000; Litya, 15,000; Brothers, 10,000; Sitka, 30,000; Emblem, 3,500; Omaney, 20,000; Venus, 27,000.

Canadian—Ingrid H., 10,000; Point May, 5,000; Prosperity, A., 17,000; Livingstone, 16,000; Alken, 8,000; E. Lipsell, 9,500; Margarite, 7,000; W.T., 11,000; Helen, 5,000; Scrub, 8,000; Marguerite, 3,000; Swing, 3,500; Narbelong, 1,200; Pair of Jacks, 9,000; Nautilus, 6,000; Nuba, 6,000; Volunteer, 3,000; Bingo, 2,500; Yule, 6,500; Verna, 3,500; Selma, 9,000; Westerner, 3,000; Unome, 4,000; Toodie, 9,500; Mainin, 1,500; Marguerite No. 1, 25,000; Caygeon, 7,500; Dolphin No. 2, 13,000; Cape Spencer, 14,000; Inez H., 8,000; M.M. Christopher, 8,000; Mayflower, 6,000; D.S.T., 7,000; Joe Baker, 7,000; Brant, 7,000; Kainai, 11,000; Maib, 3,000; Petrel, 900.

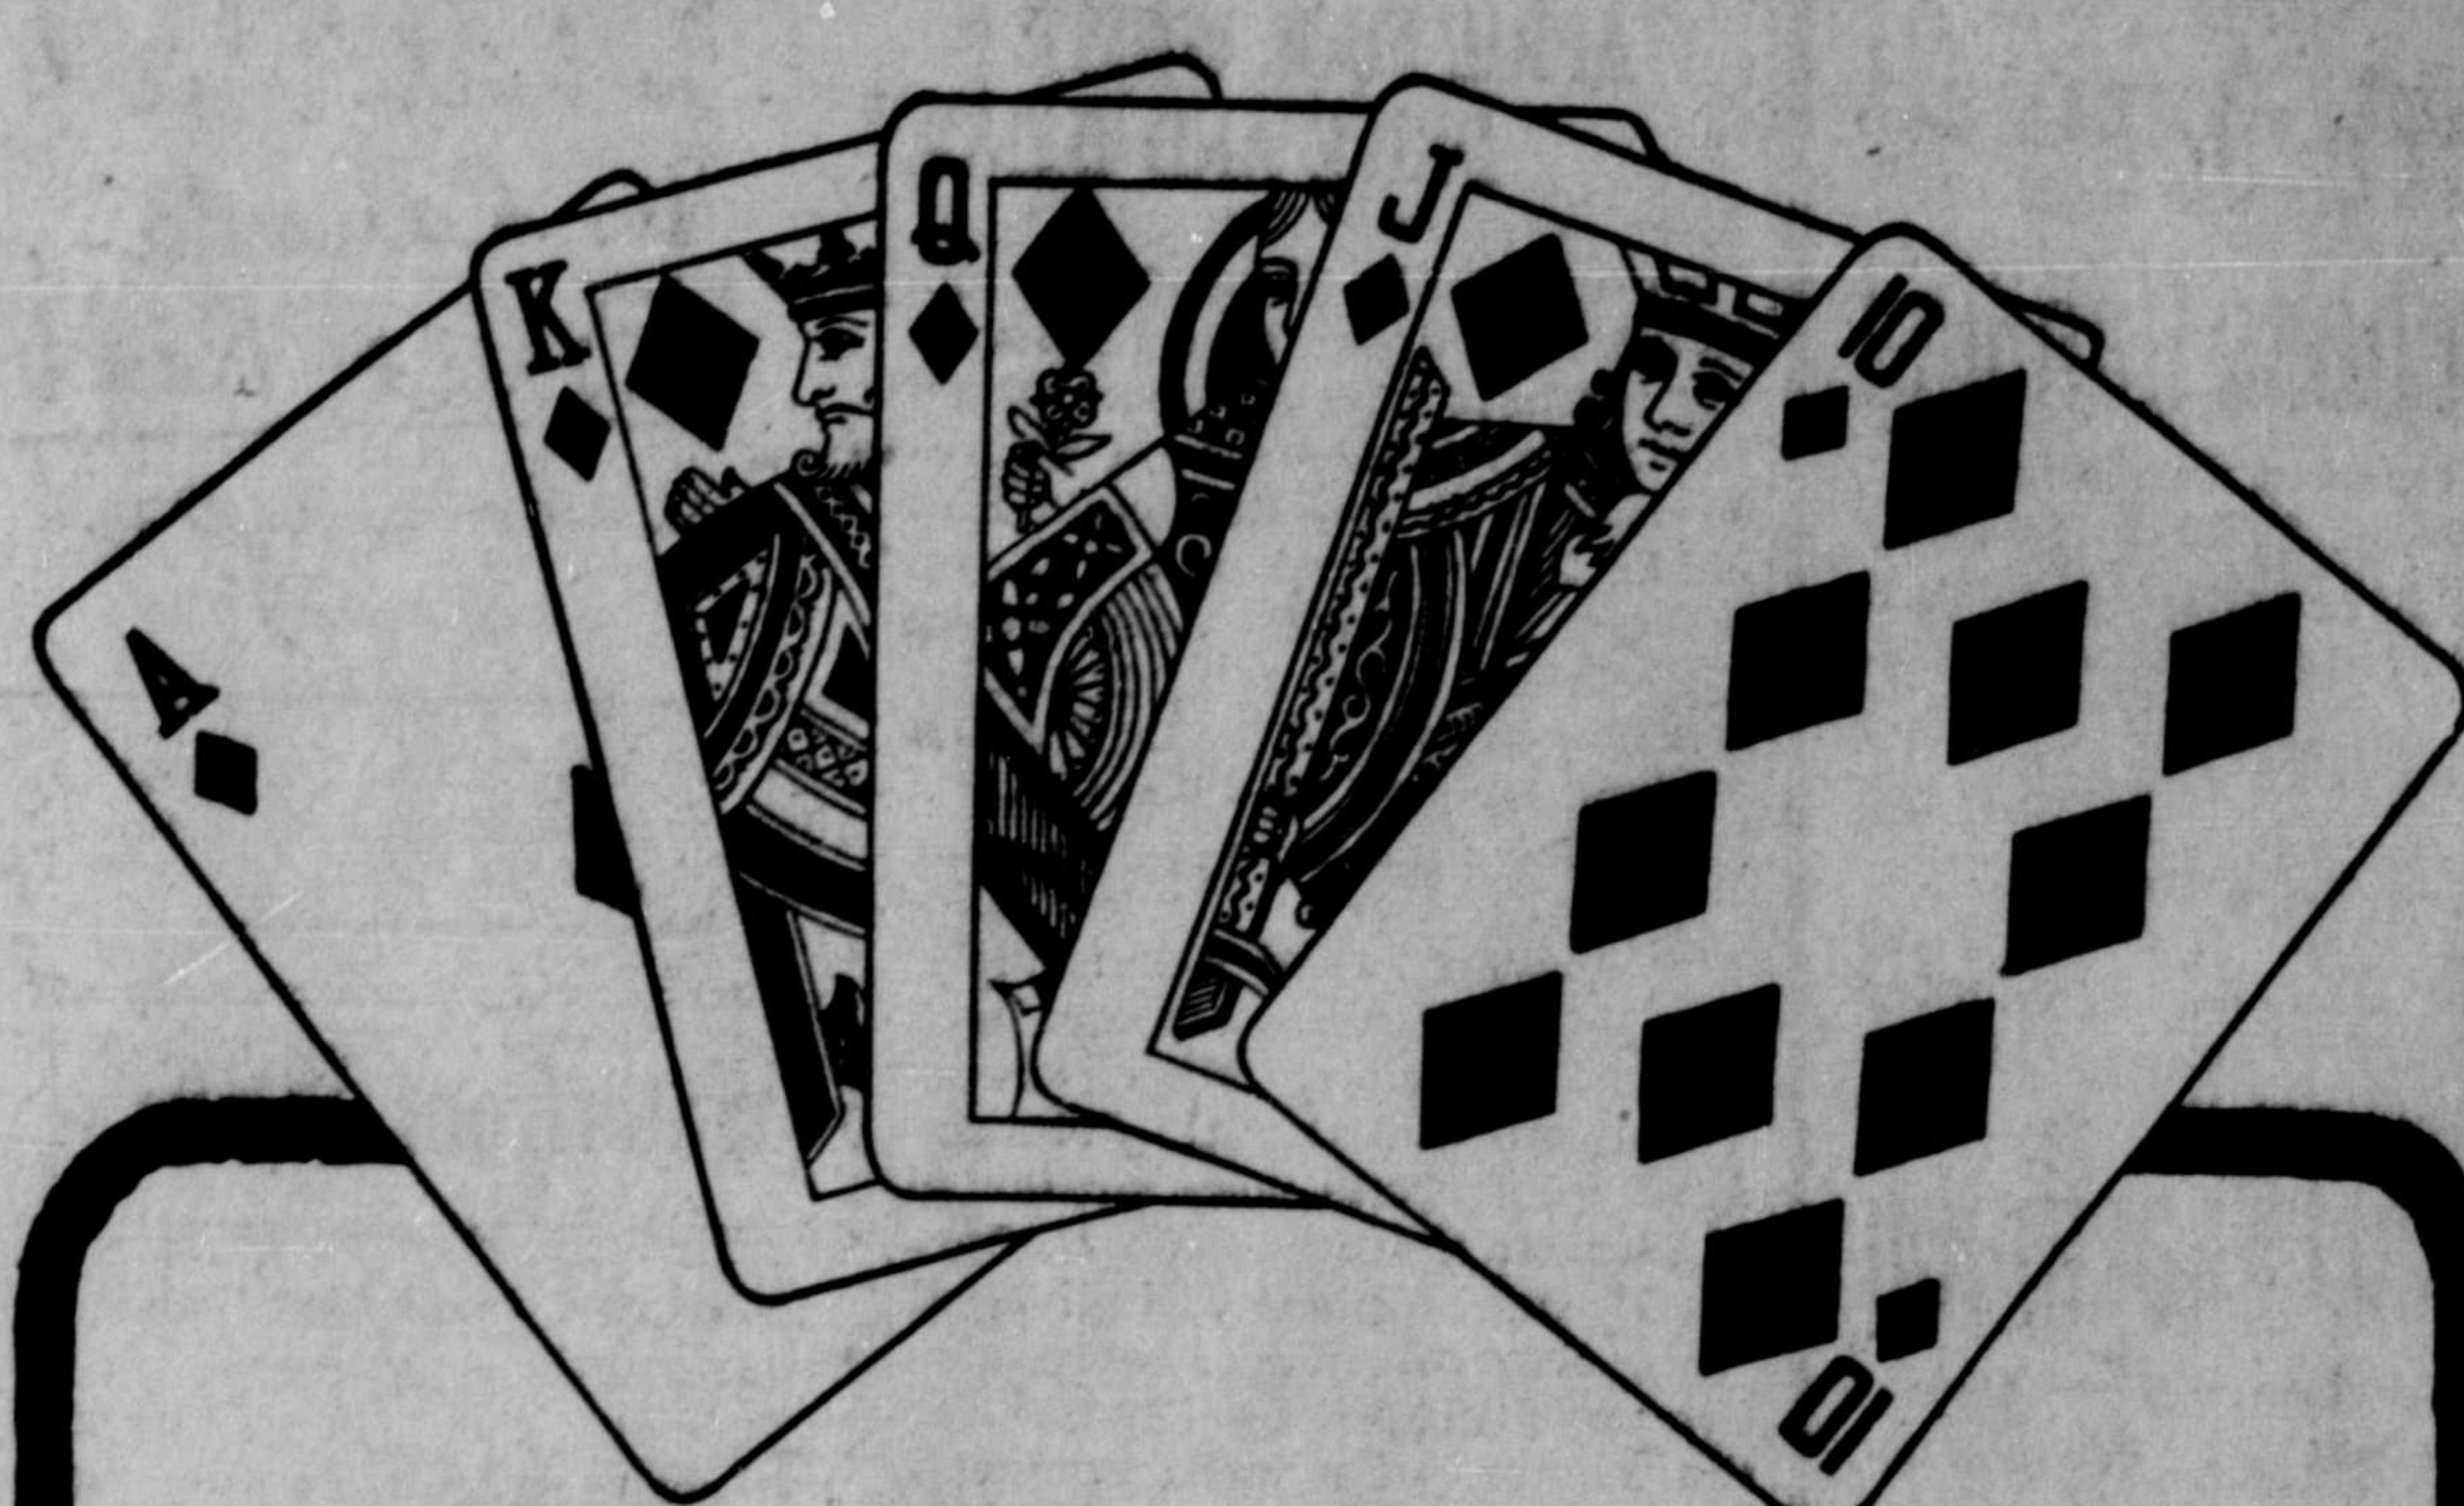

While the 3,783,300 pounds of halibut landed at this port from both American and Canadian schooners since the close season was lifted on February 15, is over a million pounds less than the total landings up to the same date in 1925, it is interesting to note that the total Canadian landings, 864,700 pounds, are some 200,000 in excess of last year's at a similar date and that Americans at 2,918,600 lbs. are down some 1,400,000 pounds as compared with last year.

Whether the American boats suffered more from the bad weather than did the Canadian is being diverted to such ports as Ketchikan and Seattle than was the case last year is a question that many people are interested in. It is reasonable to infer, however, that the American boats did suffer more from unfavorable weather than did Canadians fishing as they do in more exposed water than do most of the Canadian. A certain amount of American halibut, it is true, is being landed at Ketchikan and fished here in its fresh state for shipment East but the quantity is not very large—not more than 100,000 pounds per week at the most. Ketchikan interests are making a stronger bid than ever for the packing of fresh fish but it is as plain as daylight that, from the transportation standpoint at least, a vessel like the Bellingham is not going to make much money packing jars of 25,000 pounds or so of halibut from Ketchikan to Prince Rupert per trip.

After a week's fishing in Heceta Straits, Capt. Dave Ritchie brought his new schooner Unome into port on Tuesday with 4,000 pounds and is away to the high spots again. Apparently, although the first trip was nothing to brag about, Dave is satisfied with the exchange whereby old Koyusen became Alex Wylie and the Unome became his.

At least one American vessel, the Spray, came into port during the past week reporting the loss of all her gear in the stormy weather up north. The vessel had a comparatively small catch of about 10,000 pounds.

At least one American vessel,

NOVEL FEATURE IN APRIL FOOL WHIST DRIVE AND DANCE

An enjoyable whist drive and dance embodying several amusing features in observance of All Fools' Day took place on Thursday night in the Metropole Hall under the auspices of the Loyal Orange Benevolent Association. There were about 200 persons in attendance and card playing and dancing started at 8:30, the latter continuing until 3 in the morning.

Winners at whist were: Firsts, Mrs. J. W. Moorehouse and Jack Munro; seconds, Miss Pearl Thompson and O. A. Johnson. April Fool prizes were presented to Mrs. J. Howe and W. B. Gorinsh, the highest individual table scorers. There were also two novelty April Fool prizes for the winners of a waltz competition—Mrs. J. Vierick and H. Eastman.

The committee in charge consisted of Miss Mabel Vierick (convenor), Miss Charlotte Boulter, Miss Alice Watson, Mrs. S. V. Cox, Mrs. Jack Munro, and Mrs. Brewerton. The master of ceremonies for the dance was Thomas Tourney and for the Nearly two months out, the most of the delay having been caused through the broken crank shaft which held her up for several weeks at Anchorage, the local halibut schooner Sea Maid, Capt. Henry Dorreen, is momentarily expected back from her first trip of the season to the halibut banks.

The most of the cannery tenders from this district, which went south to spend the winter at Vancouver, are now getting back to their respective plants. In a number of cases, engine changes have been made in line with the popular style of converting from gas to diesel and there has been so much rebuilding of cabin and deck work on some of the vessels that they are hardly recognizable as their old selves.

Capt. Ed. Lawler, skipper of the American halibut schooner Anna J., which was wrecked when struck recently by heavy seas in the Gulf of Alaska, came into town from Ketchikan this week. The Anna J. is still at Cordova, which she managed to reach after the accident, and it is feared that it may take several thousand dollars to put her in
