LIQUOR APPEAL IS HEARD HERE

Evidence in Case of Japanese, Who Was Fined $300, Being Heard Today

Reviewing of the evidence in the appeal of T. Kemei, Japanese, against a conviction by J. L. Garze, J.P., at Queen Charlotte City on February 23 on a charge of keeping liquor for sale and the fine of $300 or six months' imprisonment is proceeding in the county court this afternoon before Judge Young. The basis of the appeal is that the evidence in the case did not warrant conviction. The witnesses for the crown are provincial police officers who caused Kemei's arrest at the time they were called on a hot call to his neighborhood.

E. F. Jones is appearing for the crown while L. W. Patmore has the case for Kemei.

MAROOINED ON BONILLA ID.

Local Fur Dealer Figures in Wreck of Gasboat Lange on Monday Night

The power boat Paehena, Capt. Paul Armour, with Provincial Constable Thomas Gamm aboard, went out last night to the west coast of Bonilla Island, to rescue A. T. Eckoff, local fur dealer, and another person who are marooned there as a result of a gasboat wreck on Monday night last.

The gasboat Lange, belonging to Jimmie Ryan of Kitkatla and skipped by him, while in shelter near Bonilla Island on Monday night, broke loose from her anchorage and went on the rocks where she was badly smashed up. The three men on board were successful in making shore and Ryan managed to reach Kitkatla in a dinghy. There he took a gasboat and came into town for assistance.

COLONEL HAM DEAD AGAIN

Inimitable George Passes to His Reward After Long Service With C.P.R.

MONTREAL, April 16.—Colonel George Ham, journalist for 35 years, and veteran publicity man for the C.P.R. died at his home here this morning aged 79 years.

This is not the first time Mr. Ham has been reported dead. Once before he was so reported, many years ago, but it proved to be a mistake.

In early life Mr. Ham, who was born in Ontario, joined the militia and was prepared to fight the U.S. over the Trent affairs. He took part in the Fenian raids and acted as correspondent for the Toronto Mail during the Reil rebellion. He was appointed an honorary colonel in 1914. In 1865 Ham joined the Whitty Chronicle as cub reporter. Then he went to the Winnipeg Free Press and out of the work for a few years, returned the first opportunity and served as school trustee and alderman in the city of Winnipeg. Then the C.P.R. got him and kept him for their publicity work.

George Ham's personality has been the subject of many magazine articles. Collier's Weekly once referred to him as "The greatest wit, printed and unprinted, in North America." Col. Ham was much in demand as an after-dinner speaker in Canada and the United States.

Probably Col. Ham's pet joke was his reference to the fact that he was a member of the Canadian Women's Press Club which was started while he was escorting a number of women reporters home from the St. Louis Exposition in 1904. The colonel was made an honorary president. "It has kept me in umbrellas, and valises," he used to say. Once a practical joke was played on him as he was conducting a party of women writers from the United States to the Canadian West. Somebody sent a telegram to the Dominion immigration officials at the border saying: "Noted Mormon trying to enter Canada with wives. Please detain." A mock arrest was staged for him—to his great enjoyment.

Canada's Position in Empire Made Clear in Speech of Dandurand

Canadian Senator who last year was President of the League of Nations tells people of Britain of Canadian ideals

Canada's view on many international and Empire questions were laid before the people of Great Britain recently in London by Senator Dandurand of the League of Nations in an address before the London Canadian Club at the Hotel Victoria. In it the well known senator, who last year was president of the League, defended Canada's actions in regard to imperial affairs and spoke of the harm done in international affairs by press correspondents who made suggestions of suspicions and rivalries and poisoned public opinion. He said:

I desire to give you an insight of Canada's mentality on questions which we do not all see from the same angle. I do not presume to speak from the universality of the Canadian people, but I believe that I know fairly well the feelings of a very large part of our community, throughout the whole Dominion.

Family gatherings, such as this one, should allow of an intimate exchange of views, so that we may have a better understanding of one another.

Historical Facts
A few historical facts may easily explain our present mental attitude. You all know that in 1913 and 1914, preparations were going on for the celebration in the United States and Canada of one hundred years of peace. My country had enjoyed phenomenal prosperity during the preceding fifteen years. It was developing magnificently. Immigrants were flowing to our shores by hundreds of thousands and we were then building a third transcontinental railway. We had a very moderate taxation, indirect, therefore unseen by the many and mostly untold. We had no income tax and, when we look backwards, we now realize that we enjoyed a real earthly paradise. Our Federal income or levy was around 130 millions of dollars and our expenditure for defence 12 millions. Then the war came.

Influence of War
Our immigration stopped. The transcontinental railway systems went bankrupt, and the Dominion fell heir to them, with 100 millions deficit a year. Our tax levy went up from 130 millions to 350 millions, and our expenditure for defence, as debt service and pensions jumped up from 12 millions to 144 millions annually.

These figures stare us constantly in the face. They may seem comparatively small were we to consider them in relation to the accumulated wealth of centuries enjoyed by Great Britain, but for a young country like Canada the burden is a heavy one. We now know what income tax is and so many other new taxes which impede our trade, raise our cost of living and hamper our development.

Drain From South
Our situation has become all the more difficult that our neighbor to the south has methodically reduced its own taxation. The United States, rich in men and in wealth, forces ahead, and its power of attraction is all the time growing. We, in Canada, constantly feel the increasing influence of this magnet. Our neighbors have established the immigration quota against the world, but not against Canada. After eight years of peace, we (continued on page two)

WESLEY GEORGE IS COMMITTED

Accused of Murdering Jack Burchall, is Sent up by Magistrate

At the conclusion of his preliminary trial yesterday afternoon, Wesley George was committed for trial on a charge of murder in connection with the death of his partner, Patrick John Burchall, whom he is alleged to have thrown overboard from a rowboat at Warko Channel on Friday. The only witness heard at the trial in addition to those at the inquest was Philip Brentzen who aided in picking up George after the incident and in the search for Burchall. In cross-examination, Milton Gonzales, counsel for the defence, made enquiries of various witnesses as to their opinion of George's mental condition. All replied that he seemed to be normal.

George was taken south this morning by the provincial police to Okalla Prison where he will await trial at the session of the Supreme Court assizes to be held in June.

Tax Reductions Will Prove Welcome.

The tax reductions announced yesterday will prove very welcome to many Prince Rupert people. The reduction of the sales tax, the receipt tax, the reduction in the postage rates and the income tax changes all will lighten the load that has proved heavy since the war and was directly the result of war-time expenditures. It is to be hoped the government is not going too fast in its tax reductions and that the future will justify its actions. At any rate we shall enjoy the change.

Optimistic Outlook Of Finance Minister.

Apparently Hon. J. A. Robb is an optimist. And he is the one man in Canada who should be in a position to know whether his optimism is justified. He is in touch, or his department is, with all the activities of the nation from coast to coast. He says he expects to pay off twenty-one million dollars' worth of the Canadian debt even after reducing the taxes as stated in the despatches. If he does that, it is the best possible proof that the howl of bad times put up at the last election was just a political howl. The results seem to have proved it.

Irishman Likes British Constitution.

The Irish minister to Washington is an admirer of the British constitution. He likes its flexibility and urges that it be allowed to continue in the old way instead of being made into an inflexible machine as is the case in the American Republic. It is a treat to hear the representative of the south of Ireland speaking in that strain. It is an indication that at last the Irish question is settled. The pity is that many years ago in the time of Gladstone the British people had not been wise enough to have followed the policy laid down by him which would have prevented much bloodshed, hate, worry, hardship and annoyance.

Financial Market Suffering Badly.

Whatever may be the cause, it is certain that the financial world is in a turmoil and that securities are being very much depressed in the market. Possibly it may be the result of stock gamblers' manipulations or there may be a more deep-seated reason for it. At any rate it will be interesting to watch the changes. The most outstanding of these are recorded in despatches to this paper.

Island Activity Seems Certain.

It seems certain from information received from the Queen Charlotte Islands that there will be greater activity there than has been the case for many years past. The development of the fisheries at that point is being carried to a point exceeding all previous efforts in that line and there seem to be indications that lumbering will again be active there soon. Once the settlements on the island become large enough to insure good transportation, there will be greater interest taken in them. At present it is difficult to advise people to settle where steamship service is so infrequent. With development and the establishment of permanent homes at the various centres will come greater efforts to cater to the people there and more of the amenities of life will be provided. Very soon the Islands will be getting beyond the pioneer stage and people who have their homes across Hecla Straits will welcome the transition.

have not yet succeeded, because of our railway deficits, in establishing equilibrium in our budget. We are struggling manfully to that end. Our first duty to our country, aye, to the Empire, is to restore financial order in our own home.

Happy People

We, who had left Europe in the course of the last three centuries to better our condition, were the happiest people in the world up to the very day when we returned to Europe. Perhaps, after all, are we still among the happiest people on earth, by comparison and because we have courage and unbounded faith in our future.

But this formidable upheaval which has so profoundly shaken our economic structure, makes us quite chary in assuming any new obligation which would have its effect, sooner or later, the possibility of being compelled again to return to Europe.

When we look at our pre-war expenditure for defence or war, 12 millions, which has grown to 144 millions, we become somewhat impatient at comparisons which are made between our present per capita expenditure and that of other sister nations.

Consent to Tax

The old adage that "interest is the measure of men's actions" is still the rule which governs mankind. Rightly or wrongly, most Canadians have not the feeling that they are threatened. They consent to be taxed heavily for what they conceive to be pressing needs, but they think in terms of peace.

When their government asked His Majesty the King to delegate a Canadian to sign a treaty affecting Canada alone, at Washington, a London newspaper made this amusing remark: "Canada wants to sign alone her treaties, but she has no army or navy to defend them."

The writer was thinking as would a European in terms of force. It never occurred to Canadians that a treaty needed an army behind it. They have never felt that they needed protection. They rather believe that they have been a protecting nation. Their history has created that conviction in their mind. The conflicts of 1775, of 1812, of 1899 and again of 1914, were not of Canadian origin.

Producer of Security

It has been well said that Canada is a producer of security, not a consumer. Never has it raised a finger calling for help. Canadians dislike the coaxing, the manoeuvring, which is constantly going on, to draw it into larger defence expenditure when she has, financially speaking, through her last European adventure, water to her lips.

Not Sponging

You will quite realize her state of mind when she is told in the press, in some form or other, that she is sponging on others for defence. In 1921, when the Washington Conference was coming to an end, Lord Lee of Fareham came to Montreal, and publicly urged Canada to assume a share of Imperial naval defence. The conference had already decided to make an all-round reduction in armaments. If the occasion had offered I would have made bold to discuss with the noble Lord the wisdom of his returning to Washington to press for another 50 per cent all-round reduction in order to further lighten his burden. Other missionaries on the same errand have been heard.

When we are asked, in cold blood, to assume definite obligations, our reason directs our judgment. We are apt to be more responsive when, in times of stress, an appeal is made to our sentiments.

Way to Recuperate

Canadians are among those who believe that the only way for the world to recuperate its losses and save itself from bankruptcy is in the reduction of its military and naval establishments. We have pinned our faith on the influence and action of the League of Nations, which is soon to grapple with the problem of the reduction of armaments on land and on sea. Let us pray that it may succeed. We have faith in the League of Nations, which brings together regularly, at fixed dates, most of the nations of the earth. It is quite noticeable that in those gatherings there is a most sincere desire for co-operation. I am profoundly interested in the words of the Council, which meets at least four times a year, and which has, in its midst, the Great Powers. It is the Great Powers which are most to be feared, because of their might. When they clash, the whole world is affected by the cataclysm. As the Great Powers meet in the Council with the primary object of maintaining peace throughout the world, their function will be to preach compromise and arbitration to the small nations.

Prisoners of Own Doctrine

My hope is that, as they repeatedly lay down the rules and principles for the peaceful settlement of differences between the secondary or small nations, they will become prisoners of their own doctrine and will be thus brought to apply it to themselves. Pending this evolution, we feel, in Canada, that the peace of Europe is assured if the two great neighboring countries, who stood side by side during the recent hurricane, Great Britain and France, work harmoniously together, and we are grateful to the Baldwin government for consistently pursuing that policy. Those two great leading countries owe that example to the world.

Perfect Equality

The British Empire, as at present constituted, will endure if a sentiment of perfect equality between its members is felt throughout its component parts.

Mr. Amery lately remarked, quite aptly, that a country like Canada, with a population larger than most of the secondary powers of the world, can well claim to play a role in the Comity of Nations.

Sir John A. MacDonald wanted, in 1867, for our new Confederation the name and title of the Kingdom of Canada, so as to clearly establish that we were no more a dependency. He failed to get that outward sign, but he was granted the substance. Under our Magna Charta, we have developed normally into nationhood.

Bureaucracy

The Canadian people would deem it intolerable to be considered, in any particular, the subjects of the King's subjects. They know full well that the British statesmen have completely recognized this principle of equality, but perhaps the bureaucracy, which is reputed to be, intellectually, an aristocracy, still feels that there are things which it can accomplish more efficiently than ourselves. In our history, we have occasion to meet such a situation and bureaucracy had to resign itself, with good grace, to the inevitable.

Passed to Manhood

I was reading lately that Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, under whose reign it was my privilege to grow up, was reminded by her son, the Prince of Wales, in a most respectful tone, in answer to her advice concerning attendance at horse races, that he had grown to manhood and was 28 years of age. Canadians, whose leaders have all passed the meridian of life, are inclined to smile when they think that they can discern some hidden thought of patronising tutelage.

There is no looking backwards. Under the same Crown, side by side, abreast, not in tow, we shall perpetuate this Mighty Empire in a spirit of moderation and of goodwill towards all.

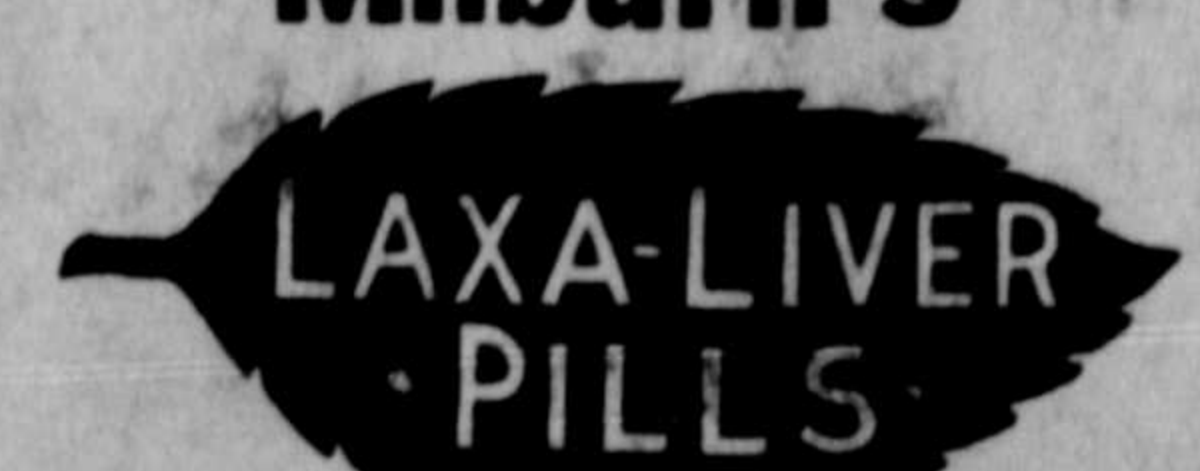

War Correspondents

I crave your indulgence to add one word concerning a most vexing subject, which represents a very perturbing element and is a threat to the peace of the world. When the armistice was declared, and later on when peace treaties were signed, the signatories to those conventions

Do Your Bowels Ever Become Constipated?

A free motion of the bowels, every day, should be the aim of every one who aspires to perfect health, for once the bowels become clogged-up all the other organs of the body get deranged, and all kinds of diseases and disorders are liable to attack the system.

If you take our advice and use Milburn's you will find that they will regulate and keep your bowels and liver in proper shape, and when this is done there is not much chance of you ever being sick. This valuable remedy has been on the market for the past 32 years; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

forgot to demobilize the war correspondents.

The result is that, under another name, as "foreign correspondents," they have remained on the war path, and although the League of Nations has agreed upon a protocol which eliminates the use of poison gases, the foreign correspondents continue to poison public opinion every morning by raising suspicions, rivalries and hatred between the peoples.

They daily pretend to have discovered some plotting between some groups of nations against another group. It seems that they cannot love except by fishing in troubled waters and they keep stirring the pond. They feel that they soon would lose their raison d'être if they simply called to their newspapers that "all's well in Europe."

One of the foremost papers in Canada, "The Montreal Gazette," on the 18th of February last, expressed the general view when it wrote that the foreign correspondents were resuming their favorite pastime of blowing on the embers of European hatred.

Nefarious Work

This nefarious work cannot be too strongly condemned. It must have a most damaging effect on the general public of the United States, if they only believe one tenth of the fantastic stories which they read of European discords and plotting.

I have now been at three Assemblies of the League. I have met intimately most of the leaders of the various countries and in spite of the war correspondents, I have enough confidence in the men of goodwill, in each country, to report that notwithstanding a certain degree of nervousness which is quite natural following such a formidable clash, all's well in Europe.

How Science turns Pure Fresh Milk into KLIM

NATURE makes her own pure, fresh milk—but she cannot keep it fresh. Science has taught us how to turn fresh natural milk into The New KLIM—and how to make KLIM that STAYS fresh, no matter what the weather conditions may be.

Selected dairy herds provide us with their finished article—pure fresh milk. Within a few hours of its milking, this fresh milk is delivered by dairymen to our plants in the country. It is then pasteurized in glass-lined tanks. From the pasteurizers, the milk is pumped through glass-lined pipes into the drying room. Here it is forced through a tiny pin-hole opening into a current of warm, dry air, where the moisture is evaporated in one-fifth of a second. The milk spray dries instantaneously at a low temperature, and the solids of the milk fall to the bottom of the drying room in a drift of fine white powdered milk—KLIM.

Lastly, the pure whole milk in powder form is packed by our special, exclusive process into the brown-and-yellow KLIM tin—and there you have the New KLIM you have been hearing about,—whole full-cream milk, as sweet and rich and wholesome as it was when it left the farms near our plants.

First of Series of Monthly Meetings Held in Cathedral Hall

The first of a series of monthly gatherings under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Players' Club took place last evening in the Cathedral Hall, which had been kindly placed at their disposal for the occasion.

Welcomed by Clergyman Rev. Walter Allan welcomed the club on behalf of the church and said the time had passed when there was antagonism between the Church and the stage.

Entertainers Community singing led by Mr. Wilson with Miss Marsh at the piano then followed. Also there were solos by Mrs. William Millar and Mr. Wilson, a Monologue by Mr. Connon, piano solo by Miss Irwin and a saxophone solo by W. H. P. Pleging.

OLOF HANSON ON BIG TOUR

Tells Rotary Club of Recent Trip Through Panama Canal to West Indies

There were many things interested Olof Hanson, president of the Board of Trade, on a recent visit to the West Indies going by way of California and the Panama Canal and returning from New York, Montreal and Ottawa. He told the Rotary Club about the trip at the luncheon yesterday and ended by making an appeal to them to help secure the passing of the bylaw giving the elevator free taxation

in Calm Waters

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson went south from Victoria on one of the Admiral liners and the water was calm all the way, and also for the rest of the trip to Havana, Cuba. He spent a couple of weeks driving out from San Francisco before sailing from San Francisco and again a day or two at San Diego on the way south. He told of visiting Petaluma with its nine million chickens, most of them white, of seeing the giant redwoods, of escaping vaccination, of calls at Costa Rica, Salvador, Balboa and Panama. He was interested in the old buildings in Panama City commenced in the fifteenth century and finished a couple of hundred years later. The people there speak Spanish and seem to be mostly half breeds but they treat the tourists well and give them a good time.

Going through the canal was interesting with its four locks upward and three down. Each can take a ship 1,000 feet long and 110 feet wide. Only once was its capacity taxed and that was when a British war ship went through allowing only eighteen inches on either side.

Havana, Cuba

Havana, Cuba, was one of the sights. It is a city of 600,000, yet the main streets are built two storeys high, the shops on the ground floor and the owners living on the floor above. The verandas jut out over the sidewalk and on these at night the families assemble. On the streets many of the children are quite naked. Most of the stores sell whiskey and beer. Even this did not keep Mr. Hanson in town for he says he and Mrs. Hanson drove 280 miles over good roads built with cheap labor instigated by American energy. It was very hot and nowhere in the south does Mr. Hanson think would be suitable for northerners to live.

Business took Mr. Hanson's time at New York, Montreal and Ottawa. At the Canadian capital he says he found Fred Stock on the job and with him he took up with the Government the question of waterfront facilities here and he is of opinion that Prince Rupert's views will be met. He also was interested in the elevator and was there while some of the negotiations were going on.

Snowstorm

Back in the States at Chicago he ran into a big snowstorm and found it almost impossible to get about in Chicago. Even by taking a taxi it took 35 minutes to travel two blocks owing to the snow blockade.

Returning to Prince Rupert, Mr. Hanson found the elevator question again to the front and is very keen that no stumbling block shall be placed in the way of the elevator deal. He says he hopes to see the tax exemption bylaw passed by the biggest majority ever given a bylaw.

TEA AND SALE OF WORK FOR LUTHERAN CHURCH

Nice Sum Netted For New Building Fund as Result of Yesterday's Event

A successful tea and sale of home cooking and fancy work took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hart, 616 Sixth Avenue West, at which the sum of slightly over $88 was netted for the new church building fund. Those in charge of the various phases of the event were:

- Kitchen—Mrs. Skattebol and Mrs. Akerberg.
- Tea—Mrs. Thor Johnson.
- Home cooking—Mrs. C. G. R. Anderson.
- Door—Mrs. Baister.

In the afternoon there was a short but select program when piano selections were given by Mrs. Rinde, Mrs. Gawthorn and Miss Bovin; vocal selections by Mrs. Field and a reading by Miss Earle.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and there was a good attendance.

In The Letter Box

CITY POLICING.

Editor Daily News.
With reference to Rev. Mr. Haacker's letter re "Cleaning up the City."

There seems to be a misapprehension as to the necessity of the Council submitting a bylaw for the purpose of turning over the policing of the city to the province. The city council is given this power under an amendment to the Police and Prisons Regulation Act passed last year, which requires no such bylaw.

With respect to the non-enforcement of the law, I would point out that at the various meetings of the Police Commission held last year, and at two of the meetings which have been held since January, 1926, the Police Commission, unanimously, have pressed for law enforcement.

Financial Limitations

The police force in this city is not as large as perhaps the citizens would desire, financial conditions rendering this limitation necessary, and in view of this, and in view of the fact that Rev. Mr. Haacker and others appear to be possessed of special information, of which I have not been informed, I would welcome any assistance from him, or any committee which he or others might suggest, in aiding in the better enforcement of the law.

General criticisms may be advantageous, but specific and definite information is the only thing that counts when the suspected are to be charged in open court.

Must be Proven

It is one thing to suspect, but another thing to prove. Why? Because the patron, most usually, will not peach. The police can suspect, but oftentimes cannot prove.

Hence the difficulty of keeping the city as perfect as it might be.

If an improvement can be brought about by means of well-meaning citizens co-operating with the authorities, then let's try it.

S. M. NEWTON,
Chairman Police Commission.

LETTER TO BILL.

Dear Bill:
The Editor kindly delivered your letter. Your literary efforts are wonderful! Congratulations! Webster would be proud of you.

Evidently Bill, your feathers are ruffled. The citizens understood my statements, without any added explanations. People who accept public positions should give the citizens the best service possible whether it be in the delivery of sound, clean morals or substantial and clean streets. This is what the citizens expect of the council and evidently the council are taking the matter somewhat seriously.

A great responsibility rests on your shoulders and those of your fellow commissioners. You have undertaken to do certain works for the citizens and council. Evidently both are dissatisfied. Now Bill, get out your broom and clean up the down town section. By the way Bill, don't forget your axes. "How to the line and let the chips fly where they will." This will make your friends even more proud of you.

Sincerely,
GEO. G. HACKER

RUPERT MILK SUPPLY.
Editor Daily News.

In yesterday's issue I read with particular interest a small paragraph referring to the testing of all local cows for tuberculosis. For the sake of our children this should be of very vital interest to all families in Prince Rupert, but surely we are not going to be content to have one small angle dealt with. At present the said local cows number about twelve, all in one barn, and surely we do not imagine the health of our children is altogether in the hands of that one owner. It seems to me, that milk, the children's best food, is getting very slight consideration in this city. We want a few cows tested which supply a nice handful of our population, which is Telkwa, Woodcock, and Bulkley Valley generally is not even mentioned. What about the health of the cows there and in what conditions are the farms and farm buildings up there? How is the milk handled in our dairies here and is the delivery service all that it should be? It may all be perfect but if not I do not think the testing of a few cows will help us to get what I feel sure most of us want—pure, clean, wholesome milk for our children.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

says:

YOU can judge a man by the silence he keeps.

ONE does not mind a man talking when he has nothing to say if he talks brilliantly.

ONE consoling thing for the poor is that the rich are likely to find their way to hell.

LET'S all go to the tennis club ball tonight and watch them do the Charleston.

YOU can tell a married man. He never takes rice pudding when he is away from home.

WHEN a man blames his wife, you may be pretty sure he is a trouble maker.

ABSENCE makes the heart grow fonder but not too much absence. It palls in time.

PRESENTATION MADE TO MRS. O. A. ROGERS BY LADIES OF CHURCH

Mrs. O. A. Rogers was the recipient yesterday of a nice present from the ladies of the United Church when some of them called on her and presented her with a fine outwork tablecloth on the occasion of her leaving the city. The presentation was made by Mrs. Kirkpatrick who spoke of the regret they felt at losing Mrs. Rogers and how they appreciated the work she had done in connection with the church. She also wished her every success in her new home at Melville, Saskatchewan.

MISS FOUNTAIN AGAIN HEARD

Presbyterian G.G.I.T. Gave Banquet Last Night Followed by Public Meeting

Miss Anne Fountain, secretary of Girls' Work for British Columbia, was the guest of honor at a banquet which was given last night by the Canadian Girls in Training of the First Presbyterian Church and later addressed a public meeting to which had been especially invited the G.G.I.T. of the United Church and the mothers of the girls.

At the banquet, Mrs. Frank Rice, leader of the Presbyterian G.G.I.T., presided and Miss Fountain spoke briefly.

The most important feature of the evening was the public meeting at which Miss Fountain gave an address particularly to the mothers. Rev. Dr. C. J. Cameron presided during the early part of the meeting and was later relieved by Rev. G. G. Hacker. Besides Miss Fountain's address,

Blue Ribbon Tea. The rich buy it because no other is quite so good and the poor have long since found that owing to its greater strength Blue Ribbon is the most economical

The program of the evening included a solo by Mrs. Waugh of Montreal, accompanied by Mrs. H. C. Fraser, address by Dr. Cameron, solo by Mrs. J. P. McMillan, recitation by Mrs. J. E. Milne, and brief remarks by Mr. Hacker, Mrs. Rice and Miss Haddock. There was also community singing of G.G.I.T. songs led by Miss Fountain. The proceedings opened with the singing of "O Canada" and closed with the National Anthem.

Committees of the girls looked after the serving of dainty refreshments and other arrangements and they acquitted themselves creditably.

Miss Fountain sailed on the Prince George this morning for Vancouver.
