CONSERVATIVE MEMBER DEAD

ARTHUR O. COCHRANE OF NORTH OKANAGAN EXPIRED IN BED DURING NIGHT AT VERNON

VERNON, Dec. 4.—Arthur O. Cochrane, M.L.A. for North Okanagan, was found dead in bed here this morning.

He had been unwell for the past few days with heart trouble. He came here in 1889 and was a prominent barrister.

He became a member of the legislature after the general election of 1924 when, as a Conservative, he defeated Hon. K. C. McDonald, who was seeking reelection after having been appointed provincial secretary.

The late Mr. Cochrane, who appeared to be in good health at that time, attended the recent Conservative convention at Kamloops and, with J. C. Brady, M.P. for Skeena, was a member of the resolutions committee.

She has had nine years' teaching experience and was for two years principal of the Superior School at Stewart. She is at present on the High School staff at Ladysmith, Vancouver Island.

MONTREAL HAS ROBBERY TODAY

BANDITS WENT TO LOT OF TROUBLE BUT GOT LITTLE FOR IT

MONTREAL, Dec. 4.—Three robbers early this morning entered the warehouse of the Swift-Canadian Co., bound and gagged the watchman, blew open the office safe and escaped with but $100 in stamps for their trouble. The yeggs put a charge into another big safe containing $25,000 but only damaged the door.

MUCH TECHNICAL EVIDENCE IS IN

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S FREIGHT RATES CASE LOOKS LIKE IT WILL TAKE SOME TIME TO COMPLETE

OTTAWA, Dec. 4.—G. G. McGeer, K.C., continued to examine D. O. Lewis, the British Columbia expert, at the freight rates hearing yesterday.

The time was largely taken up with evidence respecting British Columbia's application. McGeer and his witness, Lewis, for five hours entered statistical evidence into the records to show that the freight rates in the mountain division were far out of proportion to the volume of business provided by the division.

It now looks as if the case is settled down to several weeks of evidence and argument.

NATIONALITY IS DISCUSSED

BOARD OF TRADE LEAVES MATTER OF CANADIAN REGISTRATION IN HANDS OF J. C. BRADY, M.P.

The desirability of having children born in Canada registered as Canadians and not as some other nationalities was again discussed by the Board of Trade last night.

Mr. Brady inquired as to details of the Board of Trade's views. Was it the desire of the board that such children as Japanese born in Canada should be given the privilege of being registered as Canadians?

President Olof Hanson believed that the point of racial origin was covered in the American system of citizenship, the like of which he thought might be followed by Canada in dealing with the question in point.

SHIPPING ON GREAT LAKES AT STANDSTILL

Grain Movement is Being Paralyzed With Arrival of Winter—Three Boats Ashore

SAULT STE. MARIE, Dec. 4.—Three lake vessels were ashore in precarious conditions near here this morning and nearly one hundred others, mostly grain laden, were frozen in around Neeshish Island, shipping over the entire district is at a standstill.

A new fruit, the cucumber-apple, has appeared. It is particularly adapted for salads. It is an apple with a distinct cucumber flavor, grown in Australia.

Central Interior Captures World's Honors for Timothy Seed at Big Chicago Show

The entry of C. D. Haven and H. Braaten, Southbank, B.C., in the timothy seed classes, took first prize in the hay and grain show at Chicago yesterday.

These wins, particularly that of Southbank, will be the source of great distinction for Central British Columbia. In competition with entries from all over America, the possibilities of hay grading in that district are amply demonstrated.

Southbank is a farming settlement in the Uncha Valley, Skeena district, on the south side of Francois Lake, seventeen miles from Burns Lake.

ACCUSED OF HALL-MILLS MURDER FREE

WIFE OF DEAD CLERGYMAN AND HER TWO BROTHERS ACQUITTED LAST NIGHT

SOMERVILLE, New Jersey, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her two brothers, William and Henry Stevens, were acquitted last night on the charge of murdering Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills and Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall in September, 1922.

The trial lasted a month and was one of the most sensational ever conducted in the United States.

Mr. Brady inquired as to details of the Board of Trade's views. Was it the desire of the board that such children as Japanese born in Canada should be given the privilege of being registered as Canadians?

Customs Collector in Vancouver States Only Liquor Smuggled There

George Allen, on stand before the commission, alleges that class of employees sent him has been unsatisfactory

OTTAWA, December 4.—Clearance papers to Mexico will not be granted the liquor vessel, Chris Moeller, now being held at Victoria, until an investigation has been made and full consideration has been given the recommendation made by the customs commission Wednesday that the papers be withheld.

VANCOUVER, December 4.—George Allen, customs collector at Vancouver, who occupied the witness stand during most of the morning session of the Royal Commission, said that the value for duty purposes of the cargo of the liquor vessel, Chris Moeller, now being held up at Victoria, was in excess of $540,000.

Speaking generally, Allen said that the class of employees sent by the civil service commission during the past few years was unsatisfactory as they were not qualified for clerical work.

When the commission met this morning, E. P. Davis, K.C., counsel for the Consolidated Exporters Corporation of British Columbia, made an application that four directors of the concern now under indictment in the United States courts for rum running be not asked to answer questions here as their answers might possibly have the effect of convicting them under the laws of the United States.

Chief Commissioner Brown said: "If we grant your application it might make the sittings here abortive. We don't want our work hampered and I don't feel we can give the exemption requested."

N. W. Rowell, K.C., counsel for the commission, also opposed the granting of the application. He claimed that the commission was not concerned with indictments in the United States courts. The commission, he said, was not only supposed to deal with infractions of the anti-smuggling treaty but also with violations of the Canadian laws and it might be that the evidence from these directions might reveal offences under both heads.

STEWART HAS SENT RESOLUTION TO VICTORIA APPROVING PRINCE RUPERT-TERRACE HIGHWAY

That Prince Rupert and Stewart are the only ports of importance on the Pacific Coast of British Columbia that have not highway connection with the interior and that this condition should be remedied giving such ports motor roads as well as railroads was asserted in a letter received by the local board last night from the Stewart Board of Trade approving the construction of the road from Prince Rupert to Terrace and wishing Prince Rupert success in its efforts along this line.

The Stewart communication, which has been acknowledged by the secretary of the local board, was referred to the public works committee which is co-operating with the general civic committee in pressing upon the provincial authorities the necessity of such a road.

DAILY EDITION. Saturday, Dec. 4, 1926

CANADIANS ADD TO LITERATURE.

Two notable books have been added to the collection of Canadian literature this year in the form of "Huldowget," the first book of Bruce A. McKelvie, a former editor of the Prince Rupert Daily News and now on the staff of the Vancouver Province, and "Grain" by Robert J. C. Stead.

"Grain," a Romance of the Wheat Country, which has just been published by McClelland & Stewart Limited, Toronto, is a significant contribution to the serious literature of Canada. It far surpasses any previous story by this well known author, and will probably establish him in a category far ahead of that in which he has been found in the past. "Grain" is a fascinating presentation of a familiar type of boy of the Canadian farms, of the current generation; it traces his development, absorbingly, from little boyhood through adolescence, into young manhood in the rural isolation of the prairie grain fields, and reveals sympathetically the reaction of this type of character to the peculiarities and limitations of his environment, on a farm settled by a familiar Ontario pioneer family and developed with a clutter of modern machinery and engines.

The novel, as an artistic achievement, is a remarkable advance not only beyond Mr. Stead's previous work, but beyond any other novels of western Canadian life yet published. The boy is surrounded by a rural community of interesting characters distinctly drawn and charmingly familiar to any one who knows rural life in western or central Canada. They are set out with insight and fine balance and without exaggeration for dramatic effect; and the author has succeeded in making an absorbing and significant story out of the small events of their superficially monotonous daily affairs. It is Mr. Stead's first novel of character study. He displays indisputable genius in his clever invention of revealing incident, in the skill with which he sets character against background, and in the manner in which he develops the significance of apparently trivial matters. There is a true feeling of the Canadian farm in the book; readers with experience of farm life find many passages vivid and poignant.

In craftsmanship "Grain" is notably better than any previous story by Mr. Stead. He has written gracefully, with a perceptible improvement in diction, and with a calculated restraint which is effective. The narrative is constantly relieved by the gentle, flickering humor which has always characterized his writing, but which is here employed with real artistry to keep the sun shining through the bleakest passages, and to provide the reader with constant surface amusement.

STORY OF THE SUPERSTITIONS OF THE INDIANS.

The swaying trees of the North Pacific Coast whisper mysterious stories; the moaning winds that sweep in from the Western Ocean bear weird messages from the world of mist where strange creatures dwell, and the wind-driven spume that carries high up on the bluff headlands tells tales of the black caverns of the deep, where monsters lurk, watching and waiting for those whom the sea demons ensnare.

Such have been the native beliefs for countless centuries. It is in such an atmosphere of mysticism that the story of Huldowget—the evil spirit—has been unfolded. And in its unfolding is portrayed the mighty fight that is continuously being waged; a battle between the forces of the distant past and those of the newer civilisation of the white man—recent arrivals on the rock-ribbed rim of the North American continent.

In such a setting Mr. McKelvie has presented something new and startling in the way of a novel. It is a story of a conflict between the superstitions of the Indians and the convictions of the white men, represented at the isolated mission of Fort Oliver by Dr. Mainwaring, his devoted wife, and Mary Cunningham, a nurse.

A half-breed, educated for the ministry, has recanted to the faith of his mother's people, and possessed of the white man's learning, combined with a knowledge of the lore of the forests and his own native cunning, he seeks dominion over the minds of the aboriginal people. Slowly, but surely, he carries his doctrines into the very citadel of the white man's supremacy, the Mission House, until finally he gains power over the girl.

There follows the hunting of the Huldowget, and the trial by the mouse, barbaric customs—customs having their origin shrouded in the very mists of time.

So graphically has Mr. McKelvie pictured these strange scenes, that the droning of the old squaws, and the measured beating of the cedar-box drums, the measured intonation of the announcer ring in the reader's ears, while he sees rising from the printed page the wild, fanatical form of the necromancer, the frightened, strained faces of the watchers of the mouse, and the bruised and battered visage of John Collishaw who offered himself as a sacrifice that others might live.

Capt. Holmes Freeman proposes Queen Charlotte Islands for raising of buffalo---boat building in Vancouver for service out of Rupert

That the Queen Charlotte Islands would afford a suitable habitat for buffalo is the opinion of Capt. Holmes Freeman, a pioneer navigator of this coast, whose knowledge of its conditions have made him a recognized authority.

"P. Burns, pioneer cattleman," writes Capt. Freeman, who was formerly master of the government cruiser Malaspina, and who is now retired in Vancouver, "has been awarded the contract for the slaughtering of 2,000 buffalo in order to thin out Canada's rapidly increasing herds. Several shipments of these animals have also been made to the Mackenzie river and other points north.

"It has often occurred to me that it would be good business for our local government to apply for and request the Ottawa government to send a consignment of 100 or 200 to this coast to be placed on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

"Admitting that these islands do not afford the range of the prairie provinces; still, they would support a small herd very comfortably. The climate conditions are perfect and the thickly timbered districts affording good shelter during the winter months. Food there is in abundance along many of the streams, lakes and shore line of these islands, as has already been proved by the band of wild cattle which recently roamed the northern shores of Graham Island.

"These cattle were imported by the Hudson's Bay Company, many of them becoming very wild. When this company abandoned their station at Massett the cattle were left behind, and I understand their ownership was given to the late Mr. Alexander. When his estate was settled up many of these cattle were killed and the beef shipped to the mainland and Alaska. What few were left were shot by Indians, ranchers, fishermen and others until they are now nearly or entirely extinct. These cattle were always found to be in prime condition, even in the early spring.

The Anglican mission boat, Northern Cross, of which Canon W. F. Rushbrook is the well known and highly popular skipper, has been taken up for the winter at Osland, Smith Island. Canon Rushbrook expects to resume his ministerial cruises with the vessel during February or March.

Capt. Dave Ritchie has his halibut schooner Unome at the dry dock where the vessel will undergo an extensive job of overhauling and remodelling.

P.R.B.H. powerboat Pachena, Capt. Paul Armour, left Wednesday night on a secret mission down the coast having on board our old friend Bill Goldbloom who is already on the trail of those ten thousand or so fur skins that he must get this winter to prevent the Eastern market coming out here in a body to see what is the matter. Bill will probably get the skins for he has never been known to fall down or pass a raise even in strip poker.

D. B. Finn director of the local fisheries experimental station, will leave toward the middle of the month for Ottawa to attend a meeting of the Biological Board of Canada. He will take the opportunity, while away, of spending the Yuletide season at his home in Winnipeg.

Lighthouse tender Newington, Capt. Harry Ormiston, sailed on Wednesday for Egg Island. The vessel will attend to the needs of the various aids to navigation in the 200 or so miles intervening on the way north and will be gone about two weeks, returning in time for Harry to experiment during the Christmas season with the new radio set that he will tell his selected and male friends about.

The machinery and stock from the old Akerberg-Thomson machine shop on the waterfront has now been moved to the dry dock which purchased it.

R.M.P. power tug M.T.3, Capt. Reg. Green, left on Tuesday for Louis Locker's logging camp on Porcher Island from which it delivered a boom of logs to the Georgetown mill.

BOAT FOR ISLANDS
It was learned along the waterfront this week that T. A. Kelley, the well known Queen Charlotte Island logging operator, is building a large motorboat at Vancouver which will be used in the passenger and freight business between here and the Islands and also towing. The vessel, which is already under construction, will be 75 feet long and powered with a 120 h.p. Fairbanks-Morse full diesel engine. It will meet a need that Prince Rupert people have talked about a long while but which got little further than the talk stage.

R.M.P. power boat Hanaco, Capt. "Handsome" Jim Morrison, made a trip on Thursday to Georgetown mills with supplies, returning the same evening with a lumber-laden scow for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.

C.N.R. motorship freighter Lillehorn, Capt. Dan McKinnon, will arrive in port early next week with a cargo which will include 500 tons of coal for Albert & McCaffery. This will be the first visit here of the Lillehorn for some time and her second since she was brought out from the Old Country for freight service on this coast. The charter of the B. L. Johnson-Walton Co. on the vessel was taken over in the spring by the Canadian National Coast Steamships.

Stan Taylor says its no use the Liberals putting up a candidate for Prince Rupert in the next provincial election. He will run himself and won't be in the opposition either after he gets elected. Perhaps the old firm is going to produce a second "A. G."

The Waterfront Whiff man knew he had seen that acting caretaker at the Yacht Club floats before and, by a process of head scratching and concentration last week end, recalled the fact that the gentleman was Fred Godwin of G.W.V.A. fame. It was also learned that, contrary to his assertion of last week, he was a rather keen reader of this "penny sheet" and about half an hour after the paper was out last Saturday wanted to start another war with the Whiff man in the role of the enemy.

Hubert Ward, who has been to Vancouver on a business trip, will return to the city on the Cardena tomorrow afternoon.

Work of preparing the site at Seal Cove, where the Bag Bay Lumber Co. will erect its new sawmill next year continues. Jock Harris was busy this week dismantling the old steam boiler which will go to the dry dock for overhauling. The carriage used by the Prince Rupert Spruce Mills Ltd. is also being taken out and will go to Georgetown for repairs. Both pieces of machinery will be used in the new mill.

The Returned Soldiers' Association last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Jack Bradbury, president; H. O. Crew, vice-president; A. Allett, treasurer; Clifford Brethour, secretary.

City Solicitor Fred Peters has been asked by the city council to make a report as to whether it has the right to investigate the cost of living.

Toronto, Ont.
Dear Sirs:—
We are more satisfied than ever, after eleven months, that we have a set which gives us the acme of radio reception, and we have heard and built a great many sets.
The Mercury Super-Ten seems to predominate in day-light reception. It is quite common to get moonlight programs from San Francisco, 1800 miles and on good days K. D. B. A. Pittsburgh, Pa. 2100 miles distant comes in with full loud speaker volume.
Our battery consumption is hardly credited by other radio fans. The 80 ampere hour battery is recharged between six and eight weeks and we have never used it after the recharging point is reached. The two 45 volt batteries are the original ones we had eleven months ago and they are still up.
Wishing you every success in the future, I remain
Yours truly,
(Name on request) M. H. C. B.

HOW "FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE HER NEW LIFE

MRS. J. F. RUTKOWSKA.

"For several years I suffered with severe constipation and was a nervous wreck. I had great pain in my limbs, and such terrible headaches I thought I would go crazy. I had no appetite, could scarcely eat anything without stomach distress. After reading about 'Fruit-a-tives' I decided to try them. Before I had taken three boxes, I was entirely well. I sincerely think 'Fruit-a-tives' saved my life."

—Mrs. J. F. Rutkowska, Tolstoi, Manitoba.
Indigestion, biliousness, headaches, nervousness, pains in the back and limbs are largely caused by allowing poisons to accumulate in the body. "Fruit-a-tives" is nature's remedy, made from intensified fresh fruit juices combined with tonics. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates the bowels, liver and kidneys to normal action and brings about a condition of delightful health. Buy a box of "Fruit-a-tives", today. Nerves Broken by Overwork

Was weak, nervous, sleepless. Restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The restorative power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is truly remarkable as is proven by the experience of the writer of this letter. And yet this is only the usual experience of people who put Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to the test.

Miss Jennie Kent, 139 Northumberland St., Brantford, Ont. writes:—"The strain of nursing my mother through a long illness left me in a weak, run down condition which affected my nerves. I had severe pains in the nerve centres of my arms and limbs which often kept me awake for hours at night. I also had a heavy dragging pain across my back and felt all the time as if I would not be able to keep on much longer. A treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has removed these symptoms, however, and built me up wonderfully."

Can Christmas be really "Merrie" if MOTHER faces this?

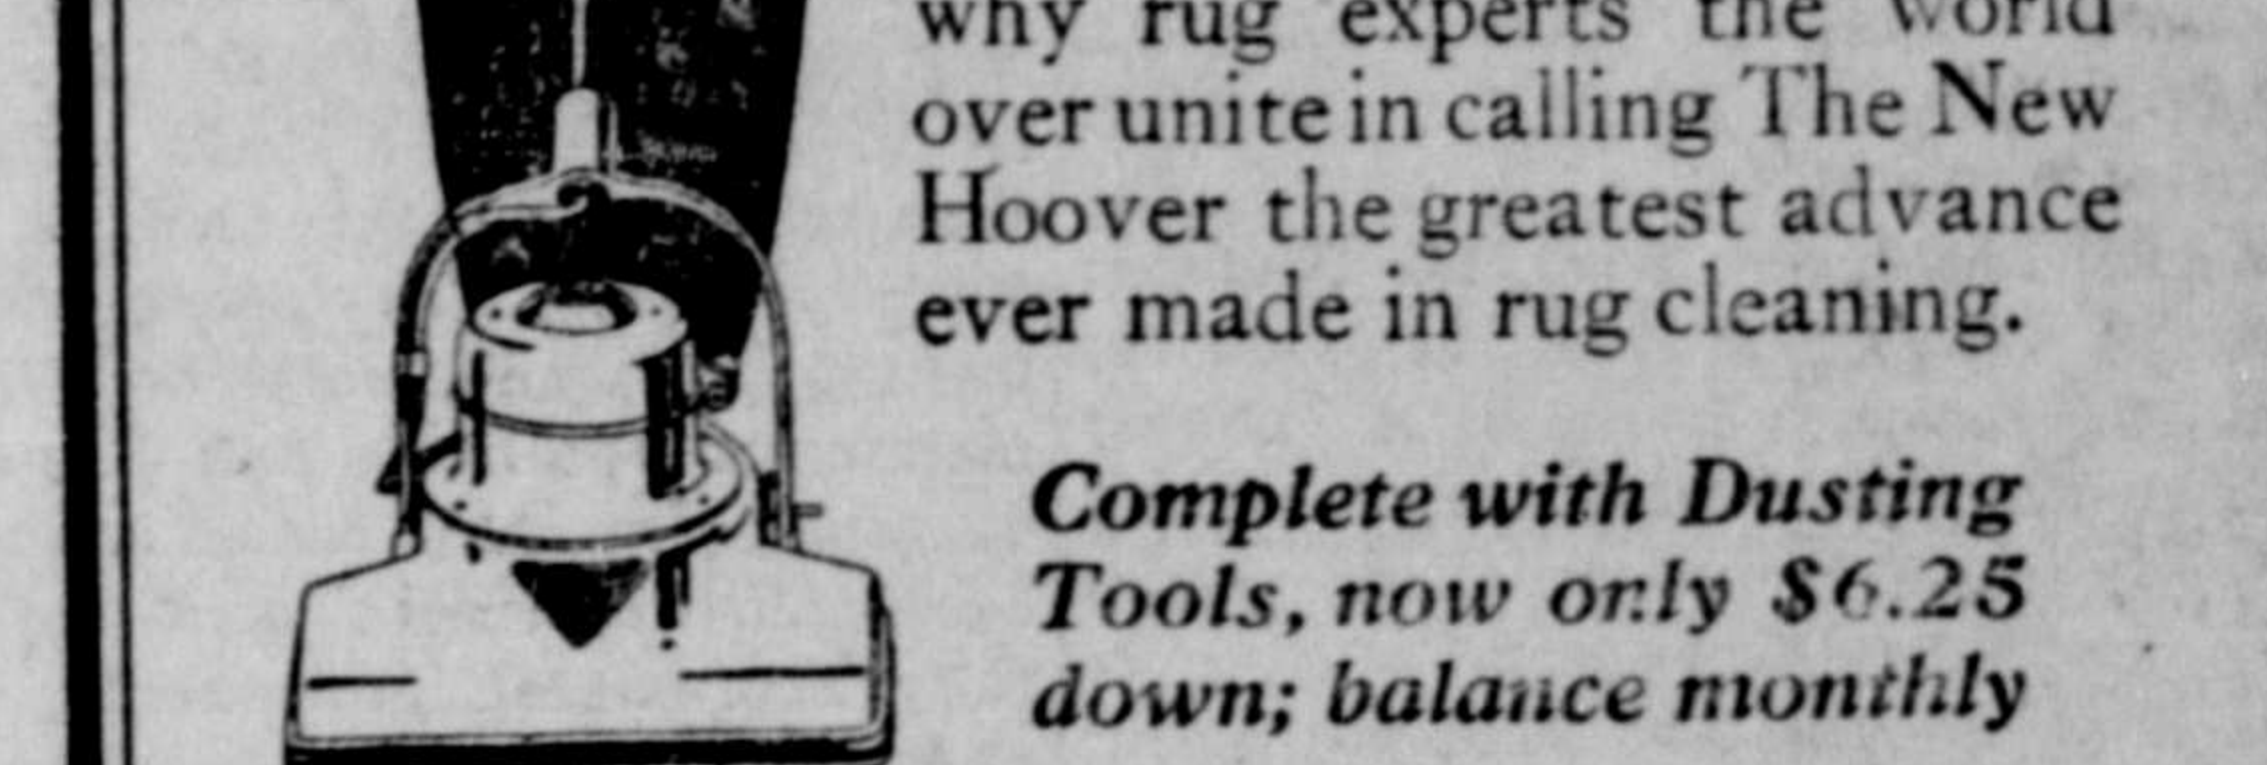

Why let her Christmas be marred with the dread of another year of cleaning? Why let her give so heavy a toll of her strength and rest?

A New Hoover will brighten her Christmas as no other gift you could name.

And why The Hoover, instead of an ordinary "vacuum cleaner?" Simply because Positive Agitation makes The New Hoover more than twice as efficient! Because of it, The New Hoover gets more than twice as much dirt from a rug, in the ordinary cleaning time, as even former Hoovers!

May we prove it to you? A few moments at our Demonstration Booth will show you why rug experts the world over unite in calling The New Hoover the greatest advance ever made in rug cleaning.

SPORT CHAT

Gradual, though interrupted, decline of the power of the batter in the American League is given striking evidence in the 1926 record. The slump the past season was marked from that of the previous season of 1925, when the batters showed signs of reasserting themselves, after being halted in 1924, and its real impressiveness appeals when averages of 1926 are compared with those of 1921, when batting had reached its high peak and sluggers were supreme. A few figures will serve to show the slump of the batters. In 1921 the Detroit team led the American League in batting with a team average of .316. Cleveland was second with .308, St. Louis was third with .304, New York had an even .300 percentage. The lowest batting team that season (Philadelphia) batted .274. In 1926 Washington was the batting leader of the league with .292, Detroit second with .291, Boston brought up the rear with a mark of .256. A year ago, in 1925, Boston was last with an average an even ten points above that of 1926. Individual batting honors in the American League for the 1926 season were not decided until the final drive, when Henry Manush of the Detroit Tigers gradually forged to the front. In mid-season the Detroit outfielder stood well down the last among batters. As late as the first week in July he stood fifteenth in the list of regular batters in percentage. In the early part of September he still had a trio of rivals to contend with. Manush, who succeeds his team mate Harry Heilmann as the batting champion of the league, fell victim in a way to the general batting slump among lea-

Official Report Tells About Mining Activity This Season in Portland Canal District

(By Geo. A. Clothier, Resident Mining Engineer)

The features of mining activities for the year in the Portland Canal Mining Division have been Extensive development by the larger companies; substantial shipments by the B.C. Silver; a new shipper on the horizon in the Dunwell; and the plant expansion and greater production by the Premier.

The Marmot River is the busiest section in the Portland Canal area, between fifty and sixty pack-horses being used to bring down the ore from the Porter-Idaho and new strike above it and furnish supplies to the different camps in the valley.

The Porter-Idaho Mining Co., Ltd. did over 1,000 feet of development work last winter, which indicates a very substantial tonnage of milling grade ore. A new vein was found on the surface which has opened up some very fine ore, from which shipments are now being made of about 3 tons a day. The last shipment netted the company $265 a ton. An extensive program of winter development is being planned, with the object of gaining sufficient depth on the main vein to get below the intense surface oxidation.

The Jancowski, Davis, and Watland claims are situated above and adjoining the Porter-Idaho. The owners have traced the high-grade vein, now being mined on the Porter-Idaho, into their ground above and have exposed a 5-foot vein of solid galena, assaying 500 oz. silver to the ton, from which they are now shipping.

Marmot Metals Co., Ltd.—This year the company is developing some zinc surface showings on the Horse Shoe. The mineralizations are replacements in lime and look very promising.

Washington—Work has been progressing all summer, driving a crosscut tunnel to get under favorable-looking outcroppings. A good horse-trail was built from the South Fork glacier to the property. A winter camp has been built and work will be continued through the winter.

Picklin-Harner Group—This property is situated above the Washington at the head of Magee Pass. Two veins have been discovered and exposed by open cuts. The upper vein is about 5 feet wide, very oxidized on the surface, but showing a rib about a foot wide of fair-looking ore on the hanging-wall. Both are promising-looking veins.

BEAR RIVER

Silverado Mining Co., Ltd.—Extensive development has been carried on for the past two years, with apparently no results to amount to anything.

Dunwell Mines, Ltd.—The capitalization of the company was further increased recently to $1,000,000 for the purpose of providing an additional $70,000 to carry on development work and complete the installation of the tramway and concentrator.

Underground work to date has exposed about a year's supply of mill-feed and put the mine in shape for stoping. The 3,000-foot tramway is about completed. Concentrator-construction is nearly finished and the machinery is now being installed. The mill will probably be in operation early in 1926. The 700-foot crosscut tunnel to explore the Sunbeam vein at depth failed to disclose any ore of consequence. Drifting will be done on the vein. The wagon road from the main Bear River

This notice was posted on the ground on the 4th day of November, 1926. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act" will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Prince Rupert, B.C. Objections to the application may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., within thirty days after the first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper. The date of the first publication of this notice is November 10, 1926.

as yet been obtained on them.

The work on the Golden Crown is not as yet conclusive and is being extended. On the E Pluribus Unum the "boarding house tunnel" cut the cross-vein exposed on the surface and this vein is now being drifted on. The Mann tunnel is being continued through for exploratory work under the "Dago" cuts.

Silver Tip Mining Co., Ltd.—Work has been carried on all summer and has materially improved the merits of the property. A strong north-south vein was exposed on the Bella Coola claim, showing in places fair values. Three east-west veins were also discovered, work being concentrated on the lower one, where fine values were obtained on the surface. Exploration here has been satisfactory and the tunnel will probably be continued to intersect the north-south vein. The tunnel on the May P. J. claim is being driven by contract and should intersect the vein about the middle of November.

Silver Crest Mines, Ltd.—A crosscut is now being driven west from a point about 100 feet in the tunnel to explore a dyke showing on the surface in which are a few stringers of ore. Last winter considerable underground work was done by contract in driving the main tunnel, and later in drifting on alleged high grade veins encountered in the main drive. A great deal of publicity for stock selling purposes was given these discoveries, even giving assays of samples taken (supposedly) from them. Some surface prospecting should be done on this property.

Northland Mining Co., Ltd.—Some diamond drilling was done this spring on the company's holdings, the Troy group, under the direction of E. A. Hagen, but apparently no ore of importance was found and operations ceased.

Outland-Silver Bar Group—A very interesting showing, having considerable possibilities, was opened up on this property this summer. It consists of apparently a big body of almost solid fine grained pyrite and galena, intimately mixed. A compressor will be installed in the spring and sufficient work done to open up the showing.

STIKINE AND LIARD

Mining in the Stikine Division is yet in the prospecting stage. However, there have been some activities on the Clearwater River this year, resulting in the acquisition of placer ground by a syndicate of Wrangell people, who have built a trail this fall, and in the spring will put on a tractor to take in a dragline scraper outfit. I understand that the lower ground will be drilled in the spring by another syndicate.

In the Liard country there has been a very appreciable amount of prospecting done in the Muddy River country. Transportation figures show that there are approximately 500 white men in the inside country, beyond Telegraph Creek, this winter. Work on the Telegraph Creek-Dease Lake road made good progress, this summer for the small crew employed. Trucks can now make the trip in 72 miles in seven hours, which is a considerable improvement over the old pack train time of six days going in and four days coming out. Transportation costs will have to be brought down if mining is expected to progress.

On Dease Creek the Dickinson Mining Company, Limited, installed a drag-line scraper outfit at the mouth of the creek, but found it impracticable for working under water.

Coles' ground, about 2 miles up from the mouth of the creek, has been secured by Wrangell interests with available funds to commence the installation of an hydraulic outfit in the spring.

Lease 103.—Tom Bryan, the owner, is installing a small hydraulic plant and hopes to be operating next spring.

Dease Creek Mines Corporation.—Under the management of Mr. Blick a 12-mile wagon-road was built last winter from the lake up to the leases; over this road two tractors worked this season. A sawmill was installed on the property, a camp built, a 2-mile ditch line and flume constructed, 3,000 feet of 36-inch to 16-inch steel pipe taken in, as well as two 7-inch monitors and other equipment. Mr. Blick hoped to do some pipping this fall, but I understand that he will start in the spring of 1927.

On Thibert Creek Geo. Ball and the Finn Bros. were drilling their ground this summer. On Mosquito Creek, 12 miles up Thibert, H. S. Gibson and associates had installed a sawmill and were getting out logs for lumber for a 2 mile flume.

MCDAME CREEK

On McDame Creek the Pendleton Gold Mining Company, Limited, built a 12 mile road and installed a drag line scraper on its leases. A pit was dug, but it was found impossible to recover the gold with the scraper working under water. A ditch was therefore started several hundred feet down the creek in order to drain the pit. Financial difficulties prevented its completion and the plant was idle this season.

The Standard Mines Corporation took in a Keystone drill this spring and is drilling its bench ground situated on the south side of the creek. No information is at present available regarding results obtained.

D. L. Wing and associates have equipped Lease 153 with a small hydraulic plant and were sluicing this season.

At the old camp of Centreville Crawford & Wheaton whip-sawed the lumber and put in a flume up the First North fork, bringing water to a high gravel bench at the mouth of the creek. Sluice-boxes and a long flume to carry off tailings were built below the bench and small scale sluicing was being carried on. Just below the mouth of the First North fork Hewitt & Ensor were preparing to explore Godfrey's ground by tunnelling into the bank to locate the supposed old river channel.

Five outfits were working on Gold Pan Creek at the time I was in—July 15—of which only two were on bed-rock and taking out pay. Nesbitt, and partners on discovery and Brunn, and partners on one below. I found a 7-oz. silver nugget in Brunn's sluice box.

"BLIND GODDESS"
PACKS POWERFUL DRAMATIC PUNCH
Capital Acting and Shrewd Direction
Make New Film Vivid Human Document
A picture of tense drama, gripping power and emotional depth was disclosed last night when "The Blind Goddess" made its local bow at the Westholme Theatre. This is Paramount's celluloid version of Arthur Train's famous novel. It may be said that the film is a graphic, vital portrayal of Mr. Train's widely read and much discussed story.
The plot as it unfolds on the screen concerns the romance of a young prosecuting attorney and the daughter of a powerful political New York boss. When the politician is found murdered, and the police arrest the woman last seen with him, the lawyer-lover finds himself torn twixt love and duty. His fiancée naturally demands that he prosecute the murderer of her father; his high ideals of duty urge him to resign his position and defend the accused woman, of whose innocence he becomes convinced. He decides on the latter course.
The exciting developments that follow leading up to the sensational trial, the courtroom scenes showing the grim routine of the criminal law and its effort to convict on purely circumstantial evidence, the unexpected discovery of the actual murderer, the startling denouement as to the real identity of the woman and the final joyous reconciliation make up a photoplay that is completely satisfying and decidedly above the average in screen entertainment.
