COMPULSORY ARBITRATION LAW IN ITALY

STEAMER BOXER ARRIVES HERE AT NOON LITTLE WORSE FOR BEING ASHORE

Compulsory Arbitration Bill Passed by Italian Government Most Audacious and Courageous

Premier Mussolini says Fascism is convinced capitalism, with all its virtues and defects, has many years of life before it yet

ROME, March 12.—"Fascism is convinced that capitalism with all its virtues and defects still has centuries of life before it," declared Premier Mussolini of Italy in a speech supporting compulsory arbitration bill which was passed by the Italian Senate last night.

Mussolini in his speech described the bill as the "most audacious, most courageous and most revolutionary reform yet made by the Fascist government." It provides for the compulsory arbitration of all labor disputes and is designed to do away with strikes entirely.

RED LAKE IS GREAT CAMP

Already 1500 Prospectors Scattered Over District and Hardship Likely to Follow

PORT ARTHUR, Mar. 12.—Predictions that the Red Lake district would become the world's greatest mining camp, possibly exceeding the Klondike, was made by Walter Hyde, civil engineer, who just returned from the camp. He fears that unless special precautions are taken here will be much hardship along the 140-mile trail from Hudson, Ontario, as it will be impossible to get in food supplies. There are 1500 prospectors now scattered over a radius of 50 square miles.

FREIGHT RATES ON RAILWAYS

Sir Henry Thornton Tells Manufacturers That Happy Medium is Necessary

ASKS NATIONAL UNITY

Canada Has Lowest Tariff on Railways of any Country in Civilized World

HAMILTON, March 12.—A powerful plea for a spirit of national unity, undivided by sectional interest and having as its basis the development of Canada along broad Dominion lines was made by Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, in an address before the Hamilton branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association last night.

Sir Henry chose as the text of his remarks "Freight Rates," pointing out that he was speaking to the leaders of progress in a manufacturing centre of Canada, the "Pittsburg of the Dominion" as it were and while he emphasized the fact that no one was more opposed to an oppressive freight rate than he was, it was nevertheless necessary to strike a happy, medium whereby the railways were entitled to receive a reasonable return for services given. Unless that was assured, Sir Henry was convinced that "hard times" would inevitably come to Canada.

"As a railway president speaking to an audience of the Manufacturers' Association I might remark without prejudice that the reduction of freight rates is always a popular subject, but it must be remembered that today Canada has the lowest freight rates known to the civilized world."

Gold Strike Sixty Miles from Nome is Reported with Three Dollars a Pan to a Paystreak

NOME, March 12.—Reports of a gold strike near Bluff, 60 miles east of Nome, caused many persons to stampede from here yesterday, dog teams being in great demand with which to make the trip.

Steamer Boxer Little Injured as Result of Being Ashore 5 Days

Arrived here today at noon and expects to continue voyage to Seward with her cargo of ties

With no damage other than a slightly splintered keel and stem to show as a result of her stranding early last Saturday morning on a reef off Whitecliff Island and the five days she subsequently spent ashore there, the American government auxiliary schooner Boxer, Capt. S. T. L. Whittam, arrived in the harbor at 12 o'clock noon today and is now tied up at the ocean dock awaiting instructions from headquarters. The vessel is not leaking and, according to her master, not a timber was sprung nor a pipe in the engine room broken or displaced.

After she was floated shortly before noon yesterday, the main and auxiliary motors were turned over and both functioned as naturally as ever. The vessel came here under her own power. Capt. Whittam, while awaiting instructions, says that dry docking is unnecessary and he is ready to proceed on his voyage to Seward.

First reports received here yesterday stated that the Boxer would be towed into Prince Rupert harbor but, when it was found that the engines were in order and the ship apparently sound, the vessel went to Channer Anchorage, across the channel from the scene of the stranding, and spent the night there while further examinations were made and the generator, which had come in contact with water, was tested and found also to be in order.

Visibility Poor

Speaking of the stranding, Capt. Whittam stated that it occurred when visibility was poor in a snowstorm early Saturday morning. The reef was sighted before the impact occurred but the heavy current at that point made it impossible to avoid the accident. Capt. Whittam was at the helm when the vessel struck, having been called a few minutes previous. Had the vessel passed 75 feet west, the accident would not have occurred.

During the five days she was ashore, no part of the Boxer was ever submerged, Capt. Whittam stated. She was listed over at a fifty degree angle at low water.

FISH POOL IS BROKEN TODAY

Arrival of Big Catch of Fresh Salmon From Vancouver Island Upset Plans

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 12.—In the Vancouver Province it was reported that, "the arrival here of the fish carrier Victory Bay from the west coast of Vancouver Island with 30,000 pounds of fresh salmon indicated the breaking of an alleged boycott against Canadian buyers by the organized white and Japanese fishermen.

"It is reported that the fishermen created a pool, and obtained two large fish packers to deliver their catches in Seattle under contract. The results were unsatisfactory as a large percentage of the fish were graded low, especially the lower layers which were crushed en route to Seattle. Dissatisfaction with the Seattle price led some of the fishermen to withdraw from the pool, thereby giving Vancouver a share of the west coast catch."

University Education Advantage Or Otherwise.

A writer in one of the southern newspapers writes a somewhat lengthy and serious article on the advantages and disadvantages of a university education. He says in favor of the training:

The effects of good college training are unchallenged insofar as the attainment of knowledge in general or abstract principles of any body of facts is concerned, and psychologically the college-trained man as a rule is keener in intellect than the non-college man, due to his complete and systematized advanced curriculum, and due also to his having been guided and advised by men who are masters of their professions."

The writer goes on to intimate that while the university man is attaining a general education, other young men are specializing in the profession or calling they are about to take up and the advantage is with the man who goes to his work earlier in life.

Trained Away From Business Of Life.

The writer of the article in question says that the university man is trained away from the business of life and when, on attaining his majority, he turns to a business or profession he finds his previous training a handicap. He has not learned to consider the necessity of earning a living, and becomes discontented with his lot, especially when he is forced to commence at a salary lower than the other young men of his age are earning. Summing up the writer says:

"In my opinion, the non-college man generally has a greater advantage over the college graduate because the former is able to absorb the influences of the work at an earlier age and thus become assimilated in the fundamentals which are so essential whereas the latter, on account of his more mature estate and book knowledge, is not satisfied to climb the ladder from the lowest rung, but rather expects to be given a position at a high salary to offset his college prestige."

"From my own experience in dealing with this problem, I have found that a graduate of the high school, who is industrious, capable and alert to the future possibilities of his career, is more adaptable to work, and besides usually has greater willingness and readiness to learn and do all that is essential to his future progress."

Oliver Disappointed Many Local People.

Premier Oliver has been Premier of British Columbia for eight years. At the time of his appointment many people hoped and expected that he would fail. They saw in his downfall the defeat of the party to which he is allied. He has disappointed them. He has made good, has overcome many difficulties and is still going strong. We congratulate the Premier on his success and sympathize with those who are disappointed.

It is one of the weaknesses of our democratic system that part of the community will be always more or less opposed to the leaders in the community. They belong to the other party and see little good in the men to whom they are opposed.

Just how we are to get away from that system does not seem clear. It will be many generations before people will be able to judge every question on its merits and not be influenced by party considerations. Gradually we may broaden out individually and collectively until we get to such a condition, but for the present we must accept things as they are and deal with human nature as we find it.

Some of us feel that John Oliver has made good. Others are bold enough to say they think he is a failure. Yet we venture to think that when the day comes when Mr. Oliver either dies or voluntarily retires from public life, there will be a spontaneous expression of appreciation of his work, both from his supporters and from those who hitherto have opposed him.

Mr. Oliver is every day getting older and soon his mantle must fall upon others. British Columbia will be lucky if, when the day of his retirement comes, she finds another just as capable and just as honest and progressive as old Farmer John Oliver.

SCOTCH HUMOR AT ABERDEEN

James Lee Tells of Club Which Manufactures the Real Thing Regularly

SPEAKS TO ROTARY CLUB

James L. Lee, manager for the Atlin Fisheries, who recently returned from a visit to England, Scotland and Eastern parts of this continent, told the Rotary Club yesterday about his trip and especially of his visit to Scotland, which is his native country.

According to Jim the people of Aberdeen like to tell jokes against themselves and so interested in it have they become that the Rotary Club holds competitions for the best new stories.

A club for the sole purpose of manufacturing Scottish stories has been formed and the stories are published in book form and find ready sale everywhere. At one time a new edition was brought out each month but so great was the demand that twice a month editions were demanded.

Golf Centre

While Aberdeen manufactures stories, St. Andrew's manufactures golf clubs and golf balls. This is the golf centre of the world where rules of play are drawn up and changes made. It has golf courses which are free for the use of residents, the people making the visitors pay for the fun which the rest of the population get. The place is also noted for its castle, its bottle dungeon and its university where the students wear picturesque red hats and gowns. It is the old capital of Scotland, the place where Wishart and others were burned at the stake.

Mr. Lee did not like Edinburgh very well, but it was snowy and slushy while he was there. He attended the Rotary Club at Glasgow and listened to singers from the musical comedy Rose Marie, the whole time of the luncheon being given over to them. He says it is the finest musical comedy he has seen, being entirely Canadian production. Particularly fine was the totem pole dance. He did not see it in Scotland but had an opportunity in London later.

Glasgow, like all coal or iron centres, is hard-pressed and has many unemployed. While he was there the students undertook to make a collection for charities. They collected in one day £10,500, six tons of which was in coppers. It was not a tag day. Jim said the girls would come and hang on to his arm and he had a fine time.

On This Side

Mr. Lee stopped at a number of places, met a number of relatives and old friends. Then he came back to this side and visited Boston where the streets are narrow and crooked and piled with snow. The wonderful Gish piper at that place was what occupied most of his attention.

A number of centres were visited including Montreal, Chicago, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver. He was always looking around for new ideas and he saw one in Chicago. An electrical advertisement he noticed there said: "Don't kill your wife. Let our washing machine do the dirty work." He did not say whether or not he bought one.

SALLY O'NEILL HERE TONIGHT IN "MIKE"

Was Chosen by Mary Pickford but Changed off to this Play as Perfect Girl for Part

Another utter newcomer to the screen jumps into instant prominence! This time the fortunate girl comes from obscurity to play the role originally written for the foremost actress of the films—Mary Pickford.

She is Sally O'Neill—yesterday just out of school; today high up on the ladder towards stardom. Miss O'Neill was selected by Marshall Neilan to play the feminine lead in his latest production "Mike," which commences today at the Westholme Theatre.

Story for Mary Pickford

The story is the one the noted director wrote for Mary Pickford and in which he was to direct her, when she decided to produce another picture. Neilan had been loaned to the Pickford organization for that one production, brought the story over to his home studio and Irving G. Thalberg, production executive decided to start Neilan to work on his original story immediately.

But the production did not start until some weeks later. Just the right girl to play the Pickford role could not be found. The starting date was held up while test after test was made of numerous young misses.

Discovered in Restaurant

One evening Neilan and his wife, Blanche Sweet, were at a popular restaurant and a beautiful girl danced past them. There was something about her that separated her from the other beautiful women. If that personality, coupled with her rare beauty, could be transferred to the screen, Neilan knew he had discovered the perfect girl for the leading role in his picture.

Mr. and Mrs. Neilan arranged an introduction and an appointment was made to make a test of Miss O'Neill at the Metro-Goldwyn Mayer studio.

Test Clinches Part

When the test was flashed on the screen it was discovered that Miss O'Neill had a remarkable acting technique and her magnetic personality and rare charm were transferred to the film. She was engaged thereupon, and started work in her first picture a few days later. Those who see "Mike" tonight will agree that Neilan has made his greatest discovery among the many he has started on successful screen careers.

NATIVE SONS
AT SMITHERS*TRADES COUNCIL
HOLDS MEETING

Already Sixty Members and Number More Waiting to be Initiated

SMITHERS, March 12.—The second monthly meeting of the newly formed Smithers Assembly of the Native Sons of Canada was held in the lodge rooms on Tuesday night when fifteen new members were initiated into the assembly, increasing the membership to nearly sixty, with a number waiting to be admitted at the next meeting.

At the regular meeting of the Trades & Labor Council last night, President S. D. Macdonald in the chair, a resolution was passed requesting the secretary to communicate with the sheet metal workers, plumbers and plasterers asking for their support in the movement against unfair competition in the carpenter trade. It is alleged Oriental labor and unskilled "hammer and saw" men are being employed in the city in the building of cheap and flimsy houses that are neither a credit to the community nor to the trade. While such men are getting work, it was stated that skilled carpenters were going unemployed.

Delegate Morrison of the Hallibut Fishermen's Union and Delegate Bimpson of the plumbers were added to the executive of the council.

A letter of condolence was ordered sent to Mrs. Coombs on the loss of her husband, formerly a delegate to the council.

A letter was received from the Mayor in regard to the eight hour day and another from Hon. T. D. Pattullo in regard to the proposed picnic grounds at Salt Lakes suggesting that they get in touch with the Parks Board whose chairman is Dr. W. T. Kergin.

Delegates Gillis, Aldermen Larsen and the president gave talks on the labor movement in Britain and the United States and explained the difference in policies in the two countries.

Mr. Rinde, who comes here from Laramie, Wyoming, is a native of San Diego, California. He studied at Midland College, Fremont, Nebraska, where he secured his bachelor of arts degree and later graduated with his B.D. from the theological seminary in the same city. POLICE BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Chief Urged to Activity Against Alleged Immorality in Downtown Section of City

The regular monthly meeting of the police commission was held yesterday afternoon. Those present were Mayor Newton, Commissioner Frizzell, Chief of Police Vickers and City Solicitor E. F. Jones.

The report of the chief for the month of February showed that there had been 38 cases in the police court, resulting in 22 convictions, five dismissals and eleven withdrawals. Offences included five violations of the Government Liquor Act and six cases of vagrancy. Fines had totalled $3,734 of which $3,500 had been contributed by the Consolidated Exporters. Weights of coal and bread had been tested and found correct.

The payroll for the month totalling $1,098.32 and sundry accounts were passed for payment.

Silent Policemen

Commissioner Frizzell suggested that the silent policemen in the city should be painted as they were now becoming dingy and hardly recognizable from the surface of the street. The matter will be brought to the attention of the city engineering department.

The good work of Ernest Large as special traffic officer without remuneration was referred to by Commissioner Frizzell and the chief concurred in the acknowledgment. Commissioner Frizzell also drew attention to the city parking bylaw which he stated was being violated, particularly with reference to the clause prohibiting cars from standing within 25 feet of street corners or entrances of places of public assembly. The chief was urged to take action and, if necessary, prosecute offenders.

No More Cutouts

City Solicitor Jones reported that the regulation of the Motor Vehicle Act prohibiting the opening of automobile cut-outs was being violated. City trucks, he stated, were among the worst offenders. The chief was also requested to take action against offenders along this line.

Stating that the police administration of the city was a matter of the younger set, it is now the stunt to eat one's oysters at the apartment of a friend, say, way out in the Passe region; to come into the Arch of triumph quarter for the lobster at another friend's home; to pick up the chicken at a studio in Montparnasse, and so on down the line.

The guests-hosts draw lots to see which courses they shall serve in their homes. The last to be drawn is the costliest, for that means the champagne and the digestives jazz in an all-night restaurant of Montmartre.

The police court convictions, the police should at least keep track of such persons with a view to eliminating the evil and preventing them from defying the authorities. There was considerable discussion on this topic before the meeting adjourned.

PARIS, March 12.—The "Progressive dinner" fad has struck Paris, much to the disgust of those who like to enjoy the national cuisine in peace.

CANADA SENDS DELEGATE TO HONOR WESLEY

Dr. Chown Left For England to Take Part in Oxford Event

TORONTO, March 12.—Rev. S. D. Chown, D.D., LL.D., left yesterday for England to represent the United Church of Canada at the Wesley Bicentenary at Oxford. The former general superintendent of the Methodist Church is a graduate of Victoria University, and holds degrees from Ohio Wesleyan and Mount Allison Universities, three institutions which trace their origin to the Wesleyan impulse.

Plans for celebration by Lincoln College, Oxford, March 26-29 of the 200th anniversary of John Wesley's election as a fellow of that college recall the necessary connection between religion and education. As a writer

EDMONTON BEER FOR MEN ONLY

Women are not Allowed In Licensed Premises in Alberta Capital

EDMONTON, Mar. 12.—Women are not allowed to drink beer in beer halls of this city. The privilege of the use of the beer parlors are being abused and the result is that women must go thirsty, while members of the privileged sex can drink their glass or two of the beverage in peace.

It is probable that similar action will be taken by the hotelmen in Calgary within a short time. Commissioner R. J. Dinning, of the Alberta Liquor Control Board, says no serious complaints have been registered against women frequenting the beer halls in the province outside of Calgary and Edmonton.

The Edmonton regulations will be put into effect in nineteen licensed premises. Nothing in the Alberta Liquor Control Act prohibits women from entering these places.

Commissioner Dinning announced that the license at the Richelieu hotel had been suspended for three weeks owing to beer being sold to a minor.

however. It was only the sturdy construction of the vessel that prevented damage being done with the treatment she was given, Capt. Whittam declares. She has oak frames in her hull with copper fasteners and was designed specially for hard usage in northern waters.

Cargo of Ties

The Boxer was bringing north a cargo of three hundred tons, ninety per cent of which was railway ties stowed in the holds and on deck. Some seventy tons of ties were lightered off by the M.T. 3 and scow after the stranding and were brought here and are now at the dry dock where they will have to be reloaded. The ties were loaded at Everett from which port the vessel sailed. Capt. Whittam expects that it will be tomorrow before he resumes his voyage north.

After it was seen that everything was well with the Boxer, the American coastguard cutters Unalga and Cyan, which had been standing by, sailed from Chalker Anchorage at 9 o'clock this morning, the former for Juneau and the latter for Ketchikan.

The Boxer is a two-masted bowsprit schooner 150 feet long and with thirty foot beam. She is powered with a 300 h.p. Atlas Imperial full diesel engine with an auxiliary 35 h.p. motor of the same make. A small sail is used in rough water to steady the vessel. She has a crew of fifteen.

Carrying Freight

The Boxer is operated by the Department of the Interior between Puget Sound and Alaska for the Bureau of Education and the Alaskan railroad. She is now on a regular freight schedule, making the round trip in about three weeks' time. In the summer she is used by the Bureau of Education in distributing teachers at Behring Sea points.

One of the outstanding events of the Boxer's career, since she was built in 1905 in New Hampshire from oak timbers logged during the Civil War, was the rescue in 1924 of the crew of the Hudson Bay Co.'s trading schooner Lady Kindersley. After having stood by for two weeks, the Boxer was able to pick up the crew of the Canadian vessel from an ice floe about three miles from the point where the Kindersley was locked in. Capt. Whittam was in command of the Boxer at that time also.

Local Assistance

Capt. Whittam acknowledges the splendid service given during the Boxer's plight by the M.T. 3.

Capt. Reg. Green, of the Rupert Marine Products tug boat fleet.

The M.T. 3 lightered and pumped the distressed vessel and assisted the Unalga in finally pulling her off the reef yesterday morning.

Passengers sailing for the south on the Prince Rupert this morning included E. A. Bennett, S. Hyman, G. M. Hunt, W. Rowan, J. L. Lee, Mrs. D. E. Murphy, A. R. Macdonald, Miss R. Kelly, W. R. Buckland and G. A. Durie for Vancouver; Mrs. L. O. Larsen, Miss M. Douglas and Mrs. Rachel Douglas for Seattle; Mrs. J. Field Strang, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Conneron and Mrs. F. M. Crosby for Victoria, and T. J. Shenton for Ocean Falls.
