Mr. Johnston has come to Prince Rupert more particularly to ascertain if consolidation may not be possible of various of the department's operations at this port. There are half a dozen institutions now working separately here that might be combined to bring about better economy and, at the same time, not impair efficiency.

The Women's Canadian Club held very successful luncheon on Saturday last in the Commodore Cafe. There were about fifty-five members and guests present. Justice D. A. After a short address Mr. McDonald gave some very fine renderings of selections of Dr. Drummond's poems. Also "The Weaver" (Anon), and "Even This Shall Pass Away," by John Tilton. This is the only poem of his ever published.

They were very much enjoyed by all present, and the only regret was that time did not allow to hear more.

CHURCH PARADE TO CATHEDRAL

REGIMENT, NAVAL VOLUNTEERS AND CANADIAN LEGION COMBINE FOR EVENT.

Members of the First Battalion, North B.C. Regiment, the local detachment of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, and the Canadian Legion, to the number of about 110, combined in holding their annual church parade to St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral yesterday morning. The parade proved to be something in the nature of a spectacle and, with soldiers and sailors in uniform, had a very pleasing appearance. The Regiment and Band formed up at the Armory and proceeded down Third Avenue to the Legion headquarters where the returned men and sailorjoined the procession, the line of march being: the Regimental Band under Bandmaster Wright Davies; members of the Legion led by the president, Samuel Marshall; the Naval Volunteer Reserve, under Lieut. R. P. Ponder, officer commanding, and the Regiment under Col. J. W. Nicholls. Archdeacon G. A. Rix preached an appropriate ser-

HOW SHE GOT

PLAYS WITH TOM MIX IN "THE TANKEE SENOR" BUT HELPED BY ANOTHER ACTRESS

Olive Borden, fiery little Manuelita in "The Yankee Senor," starring Tom Mix here tonight, almost "didn't" get into the movies everyone said she was too homely, to begin with, and that she was much too young, besides.

But Olive isn't Irish "for nothing, and when it became necessary for to go to work she decided to get into pictures in spite of looks and youth. So she applied for a job.

It happened Miss Borden had no experience in the art of make-up. When she appeared before the casting director with her hair down, just a touch of powder on her face, and standing about five feet in her low-heeled Oxfordshe gave her just one look and ruled he off as a youngster.

An experienced young actress who happened to be in the office at the time followed the heart-broken Olive out of the office. After a long talk, in which Olive explained how badly she wanted to become an actress and how necessary it was for her to get something to do, the girl offered to instruct her in the art of make-up.

So they went home to Olive's house -ransacked Mrs. Borden's wardrobe for high-heeled slippers, a hat, an old frock Aesop's Film Fables. and a bright sash—and Olive's new friend started creating an older personality.

The result was that Olive hardly knew |. herself when next she looked into the . Comedy. mirror and, with fear and trepidation. Pathe Review. went down to apply for a job. The casting director didn't recognize herand she got the part.

Since then Miss Borden has graduated from the comedy class to real dramatic parts. In "The Yankee Senor," she is quick-tempered but lovable little Spanish girl whom Paul Wharton (Tom Mix) inherits, along with an old hacienda, and with whom he falls in love.

HARRY LANGDON IN

Story of a Walking Tour Brings Laughs at Owl-Eyed Comedian

As a title, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" conceded to be one of the most appropriate that could have been found for Harry Langdon's new feature-length comedy for First National. Not only this because the picture shows the ovileyed comedian in a walking race, but also because those who attempted visit the comic on the set in Hollywood while he was screening the picture found it a matter of tramping for blocks before the company could be discerned at all.

For some reason or other, Langdon's "location scouts" picked out some of the most distant places for his scenes to be found in the vicinity of Hollywood. One day found the comic and his staff in the hills. Another day found him out on a sheep ranch,

The situation was not altered when he acted within the studio walls. His "set" was benerally on the far end of the thirty-six acre plot of ground that houses the First National filming activities on the coast.

Harry Edwards directed the comedian. He has been directing Langdon for the past year and is entirely familiar with his many little tricks. A staff of five "ace" gag-men aided Edwards.

Langdon's first feature-length comedy for the First National under the terms of his recent contract with that organiation is said to "tramp, tramp, tramp" ahead of anything in the feature comedy field.
