CHARGED WITH COUNTERFEIT

PLANT IN CALGARY

Bogus Money Totalling Two Million Dollars in Value is Discovered.

VICTORIA, July 3.—Fred Barritt and Reginald Garrett, believed by the police to have come from Calgary, were arrested here last night and will be charged with putting spurious bank notes into circulation. In the quarters of the accused in a downtown hotel, the police discovered 815,000 worth of allegedly bogus Bank of Montreal twenty dollar bills.

Garrett was arrested while trying to pass a ten dollar bill in a store. The police were waiting for him and took him in charge, going to the room of the hotel where they awaited the arrival of Barritt when the second arrest was made.

Calgary Headquarters

CALGARY, July 3.—Bogus money estimated by the police to total more than two million dollars was discovered this morning in the basement premises here occupied by Reginald Garrett, aged 32, following report of his arrest in Victoria on Friday along with Fred Barritt. Bills in ten and twenty dollar denominations are said to be forgeries on the Bank of Montreal. They carried pictures of the president and vice-president as in the genuine issue. The money was found in a trunk together with the dies for manufacturing the bills. Detectives started counting the money and stopped after reaching 820,000.

Garrett conducted a watch repairing business, later going into job printing. Police state that he and Barritt, who was the manager of a billiard hall here, motored to the coast two weeks ago.

Inconsistency of Progressives.

From the recent debate at Ottawa whereby, within three days, two governments were thrown out of power stands out the utter inconsistency of the Progressive Party. Stating that it was not their desire to have an election at this time, members of that party by their votes in the House of Commons threw an election on the country. It seemed almost as if they were playing with the politics of the country at a time when serious business judgment above all things was necessary. The party seems, however, to be in dissolution and better will it be for the country if it does disappear. Such shilly-shallying as the Progressives have been exhibiting at Ottawa during the past few days precludes the possibility of good government when such a faction is in control of the situation.

New Issue in Campaign.

The events of the past few days at Ottawa leading up to dissolution throw a new issue into the forthcoming campaign which may overshadow even such material issues as the tariff or taxation. It will be the issue, as Ex-Premier King stated last night, of whether Canada is entitled to the procedure of autonomous government or whether the arbitrary will of a Governor General is to be imposed upon Parliament. On the face of things, it seems that the Governor General would have been no more at fault to refuse dissolution to the Conservatives, who were actually defeated on the floor of Parliament, than he was when he refused dissolution to the Liberals who never were defeated in a parliamentary vote, however close they may or may not have come to it.

Customs Situation Impossible Issue.

The Conservatives, it may be anticipated, will attempt to throw the customs situation into the election campaign but, whatever may be said or done, the same voter will remember that responsibility for that situation rests equally with both parties and perhaps with neither. The customs probe proved that certain individuals were at fault and those individuals of both parties. The probe failed, however, to attach the blame to either of the major parties, although a vote of censure, purely on political lines, was passed through Parliament by the Conservatives and that, it must be remembered, not until after, through political manoeuvring, they had deposed the Liberal government from power.

Stork Provides For Cow Bay Floats.

The vote of $15,000 for the Cow Bay floats placed in the supplementary estimates, with no Parliament existing to pass them, it may be expected will be passed by the Governor General's warrant along with other necessary items in the supplementary estimates. That appropriation, together with others, was placed in the estimates as a result of the representations of the local member, Fred Sork, and it can be considered no fault of his if anything should now happen to hold up the work pending the election and governmental reorganization.

ORANGE LODGE HOLDS BANQUET

Grand Lodge Officers Honored at Affair in Metropole Mall

Eloquent speeches interspersed with musical numbers after a sumptuous banquet spread, at which some two hundred local members of the Loyal Orange Lodge and their friends sat down, marked a successful reception held in the Metropole Hall last night by Prince Rupert L.O.L. No. 2310 in honor of A. E. Harron, Grand Master of L.O.L. in British Columbia; G. Carpenter, Grand Secretary and Mrs. Smith, of Nanaimo, Grand Mistress of L.O.L. in B.C., who are visiting local brethren after attending the Grand Assembly in Ottawa. J. A. Teng acted as toastmaster. The proceedings opened and closed with the singing of the National Anthem and, at the close of the banquet, Mrs. S. V. Cox, worshipful mistress, presented Mrs. Smith with a bouquet of local roses from the ladies of the L.O.B.A. Archdeacon Rix pronounced the blessing.

The speaker of the evening was A. E. Harron, grand master in B.C., who made a touching reference to the work being carried on by the order in the building of a new orphanage home at New Westminster for the L.O.L. The speaker stated that the first unit of the home was now under construction and would cost in the neighborhood of $60,000 but that, before the home was finally completed and large enough to take care of the needs, the cost would be around $125,000. Mr. Harron bespoke the support of every single member of the order in this connection. "There is no call nearer or dearer than the call of the fatherless and motherless little ones," said Mr. Harron. Appeals had been made to Protestant churches to assist in the movement and the order had received a ready response from certain quarters. The speaker thought a greater number of L.O.L. members should be members of the many Protestant churches throughout the province. The churches replying to the request for support contained Orangemen members.

True Orangemen

Being a member of the Orange Lodge and being a true Orangeman were two very different things, Mr. Harron said. A true Orangeman was not only a brother in the lodge room or on July 12, but was a brother morning, noon and night. He felt sure that if his audience could see how splendidly the present little inmates were cared for at the home that they would all be boosters.

In closing the speaker thanked the local lodge for the excellent entertainment afforded the visiting officers.

Rev. Dr. C. J. Cameron, in proposing a toast to the Grand Lodge of British America, stated that man could no more live on the glory of yesterday than he could live on the bread of yesterday. He thought a good many church members and a lot of Orangemen were ready to do that. Orangeism consisted not only in turning out in regalia on July 12 and glorying in the battle of the Boyne.

Ready to Give Life

A lot had been said against the ideals of the order in the past, but why not let sleeping dogs lie? Certain factions were eternally militating against His Majesty the King and against the constitution represented by Magna Charta, for which the Briton was ready to give his life that the heritage of freedom might be handed down to his children's children throughout the ages. Orangemen stood for equal rights for all and privileges to none.

If the children of the nation were to be educated and their fathers were educated and follow in the footsteps of such men as had built up the Grand Lodge of British America, the Bible must be taught in the schools. To eliminate it from the schools meant to militate the history of the world. The speaker thought perhaps the Scotsmen were such hard headed business men and such hard men to deceive because they were great students of the Bible. Orangeism stood for one king, one flag, one empire, and that was why he was an Orangeman. He had nothing against those who worshipped in their own belief in their own way, but he would not tolerate being dictated to as to what he should do and believe.

Much Work To Do

G. Carpenter, grand secretary, in responding to the toast to the Grand Lodge of British America, gave some details of the work the Orange Lodge was carrying out throughout Canada and cited instances of how Orangeism had protected the rights of the Protestants. They had been told time and time again that in the days gone by Orangeism had been some good but that today the order had ceased to serve its purpose. The speaker said he had just returned from one of the greatest sessions the Grand Lodge had ever held and had seen some of the inside workings and what good Orangeism was accomplishing. There was still a great work for the Orange Lodge to do.

Mrs. Smith, of Nanaimo, worshipful mistress, in a short address, laid stress upon the good work being done in the cause of Orangeism by the primary lodges in the province. From 20 primary lodges the number had grown to 30 and, in the near future, two additional lodges would be formed. The speaker said that, at the termination of her office as Grand Mistress for the province, a responsibility she fully realized, she hoped that it would be her pleasure to give a good account of herself.

Speeches and Music

Other speakers included A. M. Davies, Mrs. Geo. Leek, W. W. Wright, Mrs. S. V. Cox, Capt. Rea, Mayor Newton, Rev. E. G. Turner and Sidney Webb. Those contributing to the musical program included Mrs. R. P. Ponder, Miss Catherine Jones, Mrs. Lindsay Waugh and Frank Moore.

ACTION OF HARBOR MASTER DEPLORED

Committees of Board of Trade Delegated to Look Into Complaint of M. P. McCaffery.

A letter from M. P. McCaffery, making rather strenuous complaint at recent prosecutions by the harbor master was read at last night's meeting of the Board of Trade. Mr. McCaffery referred particularly to a recent case in which the master of one of the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co.'s boats was brought into police court and fined $100. Such things as this, Mr. McCaffery felt, harmed the port and he was in favor of the Board of Trade reimbursing the company, which was a good customer of Prince Rupert, the amount of the fine.

President Hanson said that he himself had heard quite a few complaints regarding the harbor master and he thought the matter should be investigated. Accordingly, he appointed the port and railway and navigation committees to go into the matter.

CLAIM OF PRINCE RUPERT TO BETTER RATES IS STRESSED

That Prince Rupert should energetically stress its claim to more advantageous freight rates before the railway commission on its forthcoming visit to the Pacific Coast was urged in a letter read at the meeting of the Board of Trade last night from G. G. McGeer, K.C., of Vancouver, British Columbia's counsel in the freight rates case. Mr. McGeer stated that he hoped to visit Prince Rupert in the near future, but he urged that the Board prepare its case in the meantime, ready for submission. Prince Rupert being the gateway to a great empire, Mr. McGeer expressed the view that, as a new port, it was entitled even to preferential rates so that traffic would be compelled to move this way.

Some doubt was expressed at the meeting as to whether or not

NICKERSON TO BE DELEGATE

Will Represent Prince Rupert at Associated Boards of Trade Convention in South.

G. W. Nickerson, at the meeting of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade last night, was appointed to represent the local board at the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia which will be held in North Vancouver on August 12 and 13.

The matter came up in connection with the reading of a letter from W. E. Payne, secretary of the Associated Boards. The letter urged that Prince Rupert forward any resolutions it might have to the convention and be represented by delegates if possible.

Mr. Nickerson urged that Prince Rupert be represented personally at the meeting by a delegate resident here. Prince Rupert often complained that Vancouver did not understand this part, but Prince Rupert had never sent a delegate to the convention. At the forthcoming convention there would undoubtedly be a resolution regarding the Peace River urging that its railway outlet be built to Vancouver. If Prince Rupert was not represented at the meeting, its advantages in this regard would not be heard of.

When a town like Prince George could regularly send not one but two or three delegates to the convention of Associated Boards of Trade, he felt that Prince Rupert could well afford to send at least one. Prince Rupert could never expect to get any business if it would not spend a nickel to place the port in the public eye at such a convention as this. Mr. Nickerson moved that Prince Rupert send a delegate to the convention or withdraw from the Associated Boards of Trade.

S. K. Campbell seconded Mr. Nickerson's resolution, which was carried.

The question of who would be the delegate from Prince Rupert was then discussed. Milton Gonzales felt that no better a delegate could be found than Mr. Nickerson himself. He was a live wire and Prince Rupert's case would be well looked after in his hands. Mr. Gonzales' motion that Mr. Nickerson be delegate was seconded by F. E. Robertson and carried, though Mr. Nickerson suggested that the matter of the appointment of a delegate might better be left with the executive of the board to give mature consideration.

The day's sports started with a Calithumpian parade which lined up at 11:30 on Kalum St. and proceeded to the C.N.R. depot to meet the train. Floats representative of the Native Sons, the B.D. Bridge Club, the Rebecas, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Canadian Legion, as well as many artistically decorated cars joined in the procession. The prize for the best decorated float was awarded the Canadian Legion car, decorated to represent an artillery wagon and the prize for the most comic went to the I.O.O.F. which advertised the necessity of a doctor here, the patients being members badly battered up as a result of "riding the lodge goat."

The afternoon program consisted of sports on the ball grounds. Races were well contested and the baseball game between the Native Sons and the Terrace Baseball Association resulted in the former going down to defeat very badly. The slow automobile race was won by Ed. Arkell.

Salmon fishing is improving---halibut landings average---general doings along waterfront

Encouraging news comes from the salmon grounds this week and a good season is confidently looked forward to. The run of sockeye salmon on the Skeena River for the past week is about the same as last year and has continued to improve during the week. The highest boat to date lifted 54. The run on the Nass River for the past week is slightly less than last year, but is improving daily, while on the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands it continues to improve.

With the intervention of Dominion Day, a public holiday, the halibut sales on the Fish Exchange suffered by a day in view of the fact that the Exchange did not operate. However, this has not materially affected the volume of landings for the week, which are well up to the average and prices for both American and Canadian fish have kept well around the 15c and 9c and 15c and 8c marks, respectively.

Halibut arrivals for the past week (Saturday to Friday, inclusive) totalled 543,200 pounds, of which American boats landed 340,500 pounds and Canadians, 202,700 pounds. This brings the total for this port for the season to date to 12,571,400 pounds—9,040,700 pounds from American vessels and 3,530,700 pounds from Canadian.

Boats landing catches here during the week were as follows: American—Columbia, 25,000 pounds; Grayling, 22,000; Eureka, 47,000; Brothers, 13,000; Valorous, 13,000; Brisk, 34,000; Arrow, 20,000; Blanco, 10,000; Alki, 6,500; Trinity, 45,000; Hazel H., 18,000; Lincoln, 18,500; Wave, 5,500; Star, 13,000; Sitka, 38,000; Middleton, 30,000; Joan, 12,000. Canadian—Kaien, 18,000; Agnes B., 7,500; Ingrid H., 10,000; Prosperity A., 17,000; Tramp, 13,000; Cape Spear, 10,000; Nautilus, 8,000; Alken, 10,000; Unome, 12,000; Imperieuse, 5,000; Inez H., 10,000; Johanna, 13,000; Sea Maid, 21,000; Minnie V., 7,200; Bingo, 5,000; White Lily, 1,500; Pule, 1,000; Mayflower, 7,000; Fanny E., 6,500; Cape Swan, 9,000; H. and R., 1,000; D. S. T., 4,000; Verna, 5,000.

Dominion Day Canada's birthday, or Dominion Day, was fittingly celebrated on Thursday, and those of the halibut chasers who were fortunate enough to be in port, saw to it that the kiddies got their full share of enjoyment out of the excellent celebration arranged by the Native Sons of Canada. From early morning until late in the afternoon the children of the city were the monarchs of all they surveyed at the Acropolis Hill grounds where the goodies of this life, so dear to the youngsters, were lavishly bestowed upon them. In addition to this the adults came in for their fair share of thought and thoroughly enjoyed the many attractions furnished for their benefit. Yes, Dominion Day, 1926, will be long remembered by both young and old and the Native Sons have just reason to be proud of their achievements.

The football team of the local Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve unit are showing a marked improvement in play as the season advances. Lack of practice by members of the team, due to the fact that their working hours have not permitted them to engage in try-outs, has, in a measure been responsible for previous defeats. Now that Chief Petty Officer Instructor Kinch, who is an old naval footballer himself, is back, though only for a short time, every effort will be made to coach the boys. From the commencement of the league games the team has been handicapped due to the fact that four of its members had never played the game of soccer before. The naval boys may be defeated but they are never beaten.

Fish Boat Races After the grand showing the amateur skippers made at the Yacht Club regatta last week, the deep sea fishermen on the waterfront are talking about putting on some "real" races, feeling that they should make an effort to keep their place in the sun in case they be pushed out altogether. The idea the fishermen have is to put on a race which would take a few days to decide so that the onlookers could camp on the shores during the period of the races—in fact make it a sort of annual holiday affair.

Who'll Win? Tomorrow afternoon one of the greatest sporting events of modern times will be staged by the Moose at their annual big day of eats in the form of a tug-of-war between the fishermen and Moose members for a swell challenge cup put up by the latter order. The team of the antlered herd will be captained by P. LaPorte, while Jack Morrison will lead the halibut and salmon chasers either to victory or defeat. That it will be an event of events goes without saying. Both teams are in excellent shape and both are confident of winning. The result is in the lap of the gods and the betting is about even.

In addition to the above event the Moose have secured, at colossal cost, a portion of the freak side shows from Mutt & Jeff's circus, and it's dollars to collar studs that they will be the talk of the north. It is understood that Jim Bacon has charge of the freak end and that speaks for itself.

Distinguished Striner Frank Davies, distinguished member of the grand order of Shriners, one of the members selected to represent local nobles to meet the special party bound west on Wednesday, will have to do a lot of explaining down at the Atlin Fisheries office. Frank went as far east as Sunnyside to assist in pointing out the points of interest along the route to the city on the understanding he would make the job snappy and be on hand early in the afternoon to assist his worthy chief to count the nickels. But it seems that Frank's new fez was the cause of considerable delay having developed the habit of blowing off his head at the most unexpected moments. After a two-mile walk up the track to recover it, the nifty dome coverer again sailed gracefully over the cannery buildings into the salt chuck, which meant another delay. However, all's well that ends well, and after repeated efforts with a pike pole Frank secured the wandering fez and, it is said, fixed an elastic band thereon to adorn his chin. Doubtless, Jimmy Lee will forget and forgive when he reads the real cause of Frank's delay.

The run would be a free-for-all for fishing schooners to the west coast and back, in the form of a regular fishing trip, the boat to arrive back with the largest catch of halibut, based on the size of the boat, to be declared the winner. Another phase of the program would be the first boat to unload her catch with an additional prize for the first to replenish supplies, including bait, etc., and to get out again. The idea, it is understood, has been favorably received and prizes have already been offered in the way of mugs and medals. These races, if run, would do away with the old-fashioned idea of leaving town for a holiday. All one would do would be to take a tent and some grub and camp right on the edge of the races. Bets would be placed overnight and lost before breakfast. It's all very simple.

The Provincial police boat Adanac, Constable Camm's special charge, has been taken up on the pontoons at the dry dock this week to be given a thorough overhaul and new engine installation. The original high speed 20 h.p. Gardner engine is to be replaced with a 20-24 h.p. heavy duty Buffalo gas engine which will give the craft more pep. Also the hull is being put through its paces and a new pilot house will be erected, thus doing away with the verandah style of bridge which looked pretty, but was not particularly useful. When she comes off the drydock, Miss Adanac will look as spry and span as a school girl at her first picnic.

For a color scheme it would be hard to compete with the ideas of Alex. Saint, the paint brush expert at the Prince Rupert Boat-house. After going through unimpaired color catalogs, and suffering some from color blindness as a result, Alex, hit upon a beautiful combination of rusty cream color surmounted by a bloodshot red. Of course, getting the right color to harmonize with the general landscape is one thing, but to be able to plaster it on the woodwork in silk-like effect is quite another. This can only be done by wearing samples of the coloring on the nose and face in a general way. Wiping the hand gently across the face and then smearing the result down the trousers the blend of color can easily be distinguished and the rights or wrongs of it easily diagnosed. If any ship runs into the P. R. Boat-house after Alex, has finished his painting job then all that can be said is that such ship should have an ocean all to itself.

People are Finding Out Our Sale is Real

Competitors even, kick at our low prices. It is true some of the very low priced articles have been in stock for some time, but they are just as good to the person who has use for them. Other things we are selling cheap to clear, because we have too many. Many people are buying now because things are cheap. BUT YOU WILL HAVE TO HURRY We can't do this all the time. There are still some more of the white handled Sheffield Knives with stainless blades at $3.40 for the half dozen and a few more Gillette Razors at 30c. Also some ladies' real leather bags, values from $4.50 to $7.50 for $2.95. However, it does not matter what you want, we will save you money—some things half off, others one third off.

Waterfront Whiffs

The Union steamer Chilliwack was also in port this week, with a cargo of lumber to be used in connection with the construction of the new biological station, for the same concern.

Lighthouse tender Newington, Capt. H. Ormiston, coaled up at the Albert-McCaffery dock prior to proceeding on a departmental business cruise in surrounding waters.

The salman seining boats have all left port after completing overhaul and engine trials. There has been considerable activity on the waterfront in both the building of new seiners, reports of which have appeared in these columns, and on repair work to this particular class of boat. The local seining fleet, which has been considerably augmented this season, is a capable one and big things are looked for when the boys "cash in" in the fall.

Capt. Geo. McIvor, skipper and owner of the general utility power boat Ki Ki, has recently installed a 16 h.p. heavy duty Clay engine and everything is all set for the big time.

The latest tragedy to hit the north is the wild goat scare on Digby Island. These goats seem to have it in for the peaceful picnickers and are especially susceptible to chasing ladies. In fact, several well known local lady picnickers have been "treed" by these horned monsters and while many of the fair ones have been rescued from high branches it is feared there may yet still be a few up aloft. In fact so ugly has the menace become that the boys of the Moose brigade are said to be organizing a goat hunt for tomorrow. It's rather disconcerting to be gaily munching a sandy sandwich under a shady tree when suddenly a joy wrecker, in the shape of a three horned goat, appears with lowered head and makes one explore the topmost branches regardless of clothing and safety of neck. Then again there is the prospect of a sweet damsel suddenly jumping into one's lap from the trees and upsetting the picnic milk. A warning to goat keepers on the island—if the picnickers get your goat, blame yourselves because the goats have already got the goats of the picnickers.

The Jazz King

Bill Clapperton, the youthful son of "Doc" Clapperton, has gone to Prince George arrayed like a jazz king, and threatens to put the interior shiks right out of business in one swoop. Bill has gone to visit his brother Jack but, before leaving, he purchased a pair of the whitest and niftiest looking barrel-bottomed pants one would ever see on a clothes line. In addition, he arrayed himself in a necktie which would make a mad bull commit suicide if he ran into it. And the college sweater was a perfect beauty. To try and describe the color would fire a box of matches in a bucket full of water. If Bill doesn't make a hit then someone is sure going to hit him.

In The Letter Box

PEDDLER'S LICENCE.

Editor Daily News, I understand that the honorable councilmen of this city are passing a measure whereby a street vendor is required to pay $50 in order to lawfully pursue his trade. I happen to live in the outskirts of the city and a man generally comes around here once a week with fresh vegetables and berries in season. I buy those necessities at less cost from this man and it saves me a trip to the store. Now, I ask, why should this man be ruled out of business by our council? He cannot pay a $50

license. Why should he? Is it to protect the merchant? If so, what about the consumer? How about giving him a little protection? If the wife of a working man can select fresh vegetables at her front door and save the time and expense of a trip to town stores, why shouldn't she be allowed to do so?
