CHINA'S CIVIL WAR HORRORS CONTINUE

EXPERTS DECLARE AIMEE McPHERSON KIDNAPPING STORY NOT BELIEVABLE

Cantonese Having Best of Fighting in China but Casualties Large

People in city of Wu Chang dying miserably and others live on cats, dogs and rats

HANKOW, October 8.—Pinned in for more than a month by the Red Cantonese army besieging the city, half a million Chinese people face death by starvation, cold and gunfire in Wu Chang. Large numbers lie dead in the streets. Those remaining are eating dogs and cats and rats and are dropping in public places or dying miserably in shelters into which they have crawled.

The northern troops under Marshal Wu Pei Fu garrisoning the city have refused terms of surrender and are holding on desperately hoping for the armies of their ally, Kuan Fang, to break through the Cantonese cordon.

Meanwhile the relentless and well fed Cantonese outside the walls rest patiently on their arms, having blocked all the exits from the city and await the time when they shall enter. What will happen then is not known.

MINERS' MOVE SERIOUS ONE

WITHDRAWAL OF SAFETY WORKERS TO BE PASSED ON TO DISTRICTS BY CONVENTION

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The miners' delegate conference today decided to refer the South Wales resolution, calling the safety workers from the mines to the various districts for ratification with the recommendation that it be adopted.

According to Secretary Cook the resolution made it clear that the Miners' Federation was now demanding a status quo condition and that the slogan "not a penny off the pay, not a minute on the day" had been resurrected.

The threat to withdraw the safety men has created much alarm throughout the country as it would lead to the flooding of many pits and other serious damage. Most of the responsible leaders of the miners, including President Herbert Smith, are opposed to the move.

HAPPY WEDDING LAST EVENING

MISS MARGUERITE YOUNG BECOMES BRIDE OF ALEX. CARMICHAEL WITH STRIKING CEREMONY

The marriage last evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, His Honor Judge F. McB. Young and Mrs. Young, of Miss Marguerite Gaholm Young, one of the city's most popular young ladies who has resided here since early girlhood, and Alexander Harper Carmichael, son of the late John and Mrs. Carmichael of Shawlands, Glasgow, Scotland, and equally popular, was undoubtedly one of the most striking wedding ceremonies ever performed in Prince Rupert. The setting of the event was before a bank of flowers and palms in the spacious drawing room which, like the rest of the home, was profusely decorated with baskets of flowers tied with tulle. The service was read by Rev. Dr. Charles J. Cameron, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church before a large gathering of intimate friends of bride and groom.

HENRY FORD, who was once a mechanic in Canada, with his new flivver airplane. On his 63rd birthday he took a press party over the works and showed them the new plane. His new road motto is: "Use a plane and avoid the crush."

The marriage costume of the charming bride, entering the room on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, was a wedding gown of Duchesse satin and Limerick lace in Mid-Victorian style embroidered in silver lace with dainty touches of white heather. Her veil was also of Limerick lace with coronet of orange blossoms and her shower bouquet was of baby roses and lily-of-the-valley.

The bridesmaid was Miss Rose Breeze, cousin of the bride, who was sweet indeed in her dress of peach and shot taffeta in Mid-Victorian style embroidered in silver with love knots of blue. She wore a band of silver over her hair and carried a shower bouquet of pale pink carnations.

The groomsmen were Bruce Calkins of Vancouver, an intimate friend of the groom.

Miss Marjorie Lancaster presided at the piano and played the Wedding March as the bride entered the room. There was also appropriate music as the service progressed.

The four tier wedding cake, wrapped with pink and white tulle on the bride's table, which was decorated with silver candlesticks and white satin foliage entwined ribbons strung from the chandelier above, was cut by the bride after the ceremony. The guests then remained and enjoyed refreshments which were served and viewed the many wonderful wedding presents.

Later in the evening the bride couple, accompanied by the many friends who had witnessed the wedding, proceeded to the steamer Prince Rupert and were given a most enthusiastic send-off as they embarked for a three weeks' honeymoon to be spent in Puget Sound cities and on Vancouver Island. As the steamer warped away from her mooring place, blasts from the sirens of other vessels moored at their docks burst out and assisted in making one of the most memorable farewells that was ever given a bridal couple leaving Prince Rupert.

The bride's going away costume was a navy blue broadcloth tailored suit with navy blue and gray toque hat and black fox fur.

On their return to Prince Rupert, Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael will take up residence in the Westenhaver Block on Second Avenue.

LIQUOR FROM DOLLAR LINER

SEIZURE MADE ON SHIP ON WHICH HEAD OF STEAMSHIP LINE RETURNED HOME

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Customs officers have seized 179 bottles alleged to contain assorted liquors from the Dollar liner, President Hayes, which docked at Brooklyn from a world cruise.

It was on the President Hayes that Robert Dollar of San Francisco, the millionaire head of the Dollar line, returned yesterday from his fourth trip around the world.

Customs officials said the bottles were hidden in sealed paint cans.

For the first time the Black Sea and Mediterranean ports of Asiatic Turkey are to be linked up by telephone. The whole of Anatolia is to have a network of phones.

New Invention to Prevent Train Accidents Sold for Large Sum and Factory Going in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, October 8.—Joseph Saunders, 40 years of age, Vancouver inventor, announced that he has received $300,000 as first payment for the Canadian rights on a device through which it is believed it will be possible to eliminate 90 per cent of all railway accidents.

From the syndicate it is announced that it is proposed to erect a plant here at a cost of a million and a half dollars to manufacture the invention.

Saunders explained that the device consisted of a low voltage wire along the railway tracks which when affected by open switches, broken rails, washouts, slides, or burned bridges, will automatically bring the approaching trains to a halt.

Two railway accidents such as Saunders hopes to eliminate, played an important part in the inventor's life. Both his parents were killed in a train wreck in Ontario 38 years ago and when he was 28 years of age working as a locomotive fireman between Port Arthur and Duluth, he lost the sight of one eye and broke several ribs in an accident and being obliged to leave the service he became a mechanic.

Tracker Declares That Story of Kidnapping of Evangelist Not Likely

LOS ANGELES, October 8.—The towering figure of a man with velvet voice stepped from the sand wastes of the southwest into the municipal court here and from a score of years' experience on desert trails branded Aimee McPherson's now famous story of her flight to Douglas, Arizona, as unbelievable. Cow puncher, tracker, police officer of Douglas, Alonso Murchison, who had combed the country south of Douglas searching for a shack in which Mrs. McPherson said she had been imprisoned, further declared he had been unable to find any such building.

The proceedings in connection with the criminal conspiracy charges called along yesterday, characterized by the usual prosecution and defence bickering until Murchison passed his expert opinion that the woman pastor's story of her desert "begira" would not hold water. That galvanized the accused evangelist to activity and for an hour she virtually took the examination out of the hands of her counsel, but Murchison was unshaken.

ODDS FAVOR OF N. Y. YANKEES

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Odds of three to one are offered on all sides today that the Yankees will win the series. One freak bet of two and a half to one that Alexander, if he starts for the Cardinals tomorrow, will not finish the nine innings was recorded.

ST. LOUIS SUPPORTERS LOOK TO ALEXANDER TO PULL THEM OUT TO THE

Tomorrow will find St. Louis fighting to force the series into the seventh game and Hornsby's men believe Alexander capable of doing this. Opposing Alexander will be either Shawkey or Shocker for the Yankees.

COPPER BELT OF ALICE ARM

FURTHER PARTICULARS IN REGARD TO RECENT BONDING OF PROPERTIES THERE

EXPERT EXAMINATIONS

PEOPLE OF CAMP LOOK FOR GREAT ACTIVITY AS RESULT OF DEAL MADE THIS WEEK

In connection with the story published in this paper Wednesday about the bonding of Alice Arm mining properties by a Vancouver syndicate which already controls the Dolly Varden mine, the Alice Arm correspondent of the Daily News writes as follows:

In listening to any conversation carried on between the inhabitants of this camp today, one hears the word "belt" used frequently. And further listening will reveal the fact that it is not the wheat belt, or timber belt or the peach belt or anything along that line. Verily, any and all of these belts hold no interest for discussion to the inhabitants of the mining camp of Alice Arm. Even the far famed "barana belt", which you often hear mentioned in northern mining camps alone, about the time that the wintry blasts sweep down from the hills and announce that winter is here, finds no supporters and is not even mentioned. But there is a "belt" that is very much discussed here this week among the prospectors and mining men, wherever two or three are gathered together. The belt in question is known as the "copper belt", and is so designated by the geologists in their differentiation of the rock formations of the Kitsault Valley mineral zone. This belt begins at mile eighteen on the Kitsault river on the west side of the valley and extends northward for a distance of six miles to the Kitsault glacier.

PROMISING PROPERTIES
The reason that this particular belt is so much to the fore in camp discussion just now is that doings in connection with it which have taken place this week presage much for the future of the camp and point to a period of new life and activity and the ending of the quiescent state of the Alice Arm mining district. Agreements of purchase have been entered into and the options signed this week on four groups of mining properties and comprising twelve claims located in this belt. These four groups of claims make up the most promising properties of the belt. The four claims that have been bonded are the Red Point, Copper Cliff, Vanguard and Homestake.

RED POINT
The Red Point group of the series which is the first group beginning on the south is made up of three claims. It takes its name from a large point or hill which overlooks Evindson creek from the north and is the beginning of the "Copper Belt" formation. The Red Point group were among the first claims located in the Alice Arm district. They were staked in 1910 by Ole Evindson and his present associates. In 1913 an option was taken on the claims by the Dolly Varden interests, and a limited amount of exploration work was carried out. The option on the property was held by the Dolly interests until the litigation which overwhelmed the Dolly people, and which grew out of the failure of the Taylor Construction Co., and forced them to relinquish their holdings.

The Copper Cliff group of four claims lie at about the same elevation and a mile to the northward. These claims which are owned by A. Davidson and Joe Wells are in the same formation as the Red Point and show the same character of mineralization.

VANGUARD GROUP
The Vanguard group of four claims lies still further north and to the north of the West Fork of the Kitsault river. This group is owned by the Strombecka brothers and M. Peterson. A fine showing of chalcopryite showing on the surface has been cut at a depth of 99 feet by a tunnel driven by the owners. The Home Stake group comprises four claims and includes the north end of the Copper Belt formation, and joins up with the Kitsault glacier. These claims have a large and well defined surface showing which continues for an extended distance across the property. This property was at one time under option to the Homestake Mining and Development Co. A short tunnel was driven on the property and the ore was encountered showing that it continued at depth.

Financial difficulties intervened. The option was allowed to lapse, and was not renewed by the owners. This group was located by A. Davidson and Gust Pearson. Later Pearson sold a quarter interest to A. F. Smith.

TERMS OF DEAL
It is understood that no cash payments were made on these properties. But the agreements call for a stated amount of prospecting and development work. This work to start as soon as supplies and machinery can be put on the ground.

The negotiations leading up to the consummation of the present deal were put through by John F. Tener of Vancouver. Mr. Tener represents Vancouver capital. His principal backers being the Spencer-Dolly Varden interests, with whom is now associated General A. D. McTear.

In connection with the above it should be noted that the Spencer interests have now complete control on the properties held by the old Dolly Varden Mines Company, namely, the Dolly and Wolf group of claims. This was brought about by Col. Victor Spencer who was already a holder of the Debeutere bonds issued against the Dolly Varden Mines Co., to the extent

THIS DOG SHOW WAS QUEER ONE

PRIZES GIVEN FOR WORST SPECIES IN LITTLE SOMERSET TOWNSHIP

LONDON, Oct. 7.—One of the queerest dog-shows surely ever to be held took place at the charming little township of Potlock in Somersetshire. The prizes were solely for the worst specimens of the doggy race which the exhibitors could produce. The exhibitors certainly did their best to get into the front row. So prizes were awarded for the:

- Ueliest dog.
- Dog with the longest tail.
- Dog with the most spots.
- Dog with the shortest nose.
- Dog with the bandiest legs.
- Dog with the largest mouth, and
- Dog with the most sympathetic eyes.

No superior nose-in-the-air thorough-breds were allowed to take part in the show. The worse the mongrel the better his or her chances of winning a prize. Badness became a recognized virtue, and features at which an ordinary show judge would have held up his hands in horror induced the judges to beam with satisfaction, to pat the exhibit on the head, and to award it a prize.

The competition was promoted by Cecil Aldin, the well-known horse and dog artist.

CALGARY NURSES MAY HAVE BOBBED HAIR

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 8.—Nurses in training at St. Paul's hospital, hitherto barred from the bobbed hair fashion, may now shorten their locks—and they have done so.

The edict was removed recently and out of 108 of the ladies in training, only about a dozen remain with tresses.

To permission to pin the ranks or fashion's followers was greeted with jubilation among the nurses, but they have been very respectful of the wishes of the authorities over them in conforming with certain provisions which accompanied the new regulation. The bob must conform with the facial features of the wearer, the superintendent of nurses explained, and must also be becoming to the nurses' cap. So far, the superintendent said, the effect has been very pleasing and satisfaction is felt on all sides.

GAMBLING IN MILK TICKETS BY WOMEN IN FACE OF RISE

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—An interesting feature in the discussion as to fixing of winter milk prices is the "canniness" of local housewives. The situation so far as the distributors are concerned is that if the price of milk to them goes up they cannot in a considerable measure recoup themselves by passing the increase on to the consumer. The reason for it speaks well for the economy measures which the general housewife takes. She reads about a coming increase and immediately becomes a speculator in milk tickets, enough to do them for two or three months. They pay summer or autumn prices getting seventeen or sixteen tickets for a dollar.

Distributors can beat this procedure by issuing different colored tickets only, which will be accepted under the higher price, but they dislike doing it. It causes work in the redemption of old tickets and doesn't improve the friendliness of the housewife.

SCENE OF NOVEL MARTHA OSTENSO NORTH OF WINNIPEG

EDMONTON, Oct. 8.—While Martha Ostensio was supposed to have received the inspiration for "Wild Geese" in Canada, the name of this country was not mentioned. She has now issued a statement that the actual scene of the story was a pioneer farming community some two hundred miles north of Winnipeg. For the failure to locate it in the text, her American publisher, it is presumed, was responsible. The book has been criticized on the ground that it was apparently written with one eye to the movies. But Miss Ostensio says that when engaged on it she had no idea of its ever being used for picture production.

DIWAN OF BAHADUR LIKES CANADIAN WOMEN, HE DECLARES

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 8.—"You would like me to talk to you about women?" said the Diwan Bahadur Sir T. Vijayaraghavacharya of Cochin. "I like best to talk of women. They are my favorites. I have worked with them and for them for a great many years. I like the women of Canada. They are to me the exemplification of what shall I call it?—daintiness. I think. They are so graceful and light and wonderful."

HURLED FROM WAGON WOMAN IS SAVED

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Hurled from her wagon when it was struck by an automobile, Mrs. Joseph Constant, aged 34, of St. Lambert, clung for several minutes to the railing of Victoria Bridge before she was saved from dropping into the swirling river waters far below. Men hauled her to safety as her fingers were losing their grip on the wet rail. In order to escape death she was forced to drop her purse into the river. It contained $35, the proceeds of a day's sales of farm produce at the market.

QUESTION OF TIME IN RADIO SENDING

MESSAGE SENT FROM VANCOUVER REACHED NEW ZEALAND NEXT DAY

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7.—Scientists credit radio transmission with amazing speed, saying that signals travel at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, but despite the rapidity with which these impulses move—more than seven times the circumference of the world—in this second, a broadcast from Canada will not reach New Zealand until the next day. Impossible! Well, here's the answer. CNRV, which is the Canadian National Railways' radio station at Vancouver, B.C., received a communication from an enthusiast in Nelson, New Zealand, informing the manager that from 6 p.m. to 6.15 p.m. one evening he picked up and held CNRV until the latter closed down.

That was interesting but it became a problem when an individual with an inquiring turn of mind wanted to know how could a man in New Zealand pick up CNRV at a time when that Canadian station was not on the air. But his triumph was short lived when the time experts disclosed that 6 p.m. in New Zealand was 10.30 p.m. in Vancouver the day before, the piddling sun having lost almost a day in travelling the intervening 6,450 nautical miles.
