Ormiston Telegram is Received Los Angeles Aimee McPherson Case

Witnesses identify evangelist as woman who was seen at Carmel and that Ormiston rented cottage

LOS ANGELES, September 28.—The Times today says a telegram was received yesterday from Windsor, Ontario, signed Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple for whom a nationwide search is being made in connection with the Aimee McPherson case. The message stated: "Stories published about me attempting to negotiate immunity are without authority. I have nothing to fear except a divorce action. The whole thing is a huge plot which District Attorney Keyes has either fallen for or is a party to." The Windsor telegraph office declared the message was left under the door with sufficient money for its transmission.

CHIEF PAYS NOVEL WAGER

HEAD OF ST. BONIFACE FIRE DEPARTMENT WHEELS TWO HUNDRED POUND BROTHER THROUGH STREETS

ST. BONIFACE, Sept. 28.—Chief William Thompson of the St. Boniface fire department, accompanied by a great crowd of children and grown-ups and with the din of the fire siren constantly in his ears, yesterday wheeled his brother-in-law, George Manson, two miles up the principal streets in a wheelbarrow. Manson weighed two hundred pounds comfortably seated in the wheelbarrow and it was thus that Chief Thompson paid one of two wagers which he lost when Gene Tunney took the heavyweight boxing championship from Jack Dempsey. By the second wager, the chief must allow his moustache to grow untouched for the next two months.

WILL INQUIRE INTO OPERATION OF TREATY FOR SUPPRESSION OF SMUGGLING

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Premier Mackenzie King announced today the enlargement of the work of the Royal Commission of investigation into the administration of the department of justice to include an inquiry into the operation of the treaty for the suppression of smuggling along the international border. This was passed in June 1924.

The sittings of the commission probably will be resumed shortly after the appointment of two new commissioners and it is not unlikely the commission will proceed west first.

HALIBUT LIFE WILL BE KNOWN

GREAT MYSTERY WILL SOON BE SOLVED STATES DR. W. F. THOMPSON BEFORE FISHERIES COMMISSION

SEATTLE, Sept. 28.—"But one step remains to be taken before the life history of the halibut, so long a mystery to scientists, will be revealed," stated Dr. W. F. Thompson, Seattle expert, before the International Fisheries Commission yesterday. He explained that, when the vast amount of data gathered during the last two years was correlated, the migratory habits of the halibut would be made known.

JAIL FOR MURDER

RUPERT, Idaho, September 28.—Mrs. Mary Crumroy, convicted of murdering her husband, Carl Crumroy, by administering poison, will spend the remainder of her life in the state penitentiary according to the sentence which was passed yesterday.

During yesterday's preliminary hearing of the charge against Mrs. McPherson for criminal conspiracy, five witnesses were confronted with the evangelist and all identified her as the woman seen at Carmel, while a sixth testified that the seaside cottage was rented by Ormiston under the name of George McIntyre on May 14, four days before the evangelist disappeared at the park.

BOXING AND WRESTLING

INTERESTING BOUTS AT ANYOX LAST NIGHT: DICK STUBBS THROWS DOHERTY

ANYOX, Sept. 28.—Before a crowd of four hundred included in which was a large Alice Arm delegation, a boxing and wrestling tournament was held here last night under the auspices of the Elks. Dick Stubbs, 140 pounds defeated Charles Doherty, 136 pounds by a half Nelson and a roll fall. The victor carried the fight to Doherty who was on the defensive and who broke many holds and fought the contest through with two broken ribs from the floor round on a slow hard mat. Stubbs was conceded to be in the best condition.

BILLY REYNOLDS, 124 pounds, boxed Harry Anderson, 145, to a draw in five two-minute rounds. The Alice Arm man was the favorite having the greater weight and reach.

A preliminary junior event was a match between Deeth and Russell McMillan which was declared a draw. Jimmy Ferguson handled the fights.

Sloan-McRae Case is Started at Nanaimo; Adjourned for Day

NANAIMO, September 28.—The trial opened yesterday in the Assize Court here of the civil action brought by Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, claiming $50,000 from Major General A. D. McRae for alleged libel contained in an article allegedly appearing in "The Searchlight," an election pamphlet in the provincial campaign of 1924 under the heading "A Petition for a Royal Commission."

In effect the article complained of alleged that in 1915 and 1916 when the affairs of the P.G.E. Railway Company had become seriously involved, the sum of $50,000 had been paid by the company to the plaintiff for protection and favorable treatment.

Soon after General McRae took the stand, argument arose as to the possibility of certain evidence by the defendant and adjournment was ordered until this morning when the court's ruling will be announced.

Before the fish was landed 35 fathoms of salmon net owned by S. Tanaka was destroyed. The oil plant is reported to have purchased the shark paying several dollars a ton.

MURDER CHARGE NEAR QUESNEL

MAN KILLED AND NEIGHBOR, AARON KOSTI, IS ARRESTED FOR CRIME

QUESNEL, Sept. 28.—Aaron Kosti, a Roumanian homesteader, was arrested following discovery by Provincial Constable Brown of bloodstained clothing beneath his bed and similar stains on his boots.

The arrest followed a story told the police of the murder of neighbor, Morice Orioli, 65 years of age, and the disappearance of the latter's body ten miles north of here.

Kosti claims Orioli was approaching his cabin Sunday morning when he was shot and fearing a similar fate Kosti remained in the cabin until night with Orioli's body in full view. At dusk, without going near the body, he made his way to town and notified the police. When search was made, the body of the dead man was found.

Thousands Bid Farewell to Retiring Governor Before He Leaves; Wire from Willingdon

OTTAWA, September 28.—Thousands assembled in the streets and tendered an ovation yesterday afternoon to Baron Byng, the retiring Governor General, and Lady Byng who took train for Quebec where they will embark. Lord Byng's last official act was to lay the altar corner stone in the memorial chamber of Victory Tower on Parliament Hill shortly after noon. Premier King received the following from Lord Willingdon, the new Governor: "My wife and I are most grateful for the charming telegram just received from yourself endorsed by your government. Looking forward to meeting you all Saturday to work with you in the best interests of the country."

Hayward Mill at Usk is to Be Rebuilt Following Fire Which Destroyed it Tuesday

"It is our intention to rebuild but no definite plans have yet been made," states G. E. Hayward of Edmonton, director of the Canada Products Co. Ltd., whose mill near Usk was destroyed by fire early last Tuesday morning. Mr. Hayward arrived in the city last night from Usk accompanied by James Taylor, Edmonton insurance adjuster. The mill was partly protected with insurance which has not yet been adjusted. The mill was totally destroyed and most of the machinery, it is expected, will also be a loss. Fortunately, 800,000 feet of cut lumber and about the same quantity of logs was not burned. It was about 2 o'clock last Tuesday morning that the fire broke out in the mill which is situated about a mile the other side of Usk station. Night-watchman Calder on noticing the flames near the burner attempted to put them out with a fire extinguisher but this failed. With the steam down in the mill it was impossible to pump water into the hoses and soon, with a strong wind blowing, the plant was enveloped in the flames that wiped it out. Mr. Calder valiantly attempted to quell the blaze and had a narrow escape with his life when he fell from a landing. As it was he sustained injuries which laid him up for two days and which necessitated him going East for medical attention. As a result of the destruction of the mill, forty-five men employed in connection with it were thrown out of employment.

WHY ALWAYS KICKING ABOUT JAZZ MUSIC?

Someone is always objecting to jazz music and some state without any qualifications that it is not music. The latest person to take a slam at jazz is the president of the Congress of National Organists in England. He calls it a "noise for dancing" and says it is "sensual, noisy, and incredibly stupid." The redeeming feature of the criticism is that the speaker said he often listened to it.

There it is in a nutshell. Classical music is invented to talk about but jazz music is what people listen to.

Of course no one suggests that jazz should take the place of the sacred strains of the organ in church. There is a time and place for everything and there certainly is a place for jazz in this world and it seems to be a very large place.

Anything that appeals strongly to nine-tenths of the people can hardly be dismissed with a wave of the hand of the president of the organists' association.

WHY SLAM EVERYTHING TO WHICH YOU OBJECT?

If the organists object to jazz that does not mean anything. They are no judges. They are prejudiced in favor of their own kind of music from which they make a living. If jazz becomes too popular, they must cease to eat unless they change their occupation. It is bad form, to say the least, for them to express a public opinion on such a matter.

While it must be admitted that there are tunes to which many would take exception, yet the best grade of jazz music is very cheering and tends to "make life happier and the world better" as the Elks would say. Anything that cheers without injuring is most valuable.

MACKENZIE KING AND IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

Mackenzie King will represent Canada at the Imperial Conference in London next month. He will take with him a representative of the French Canadians who will carry with him the views of Quebec in regard to Canada's position in the Empire. That will be a good thing. It is always a good thing to get together and talk over the big problems even if no decision is reached in regard thereto.

The Canadian statesmen show up well in Great Britain. They are equal in intelligence and training to the best on the other side of the ocean and need not take a back seat for anyone. It is among the people there that this is recognized. More than that, Mackenzie King represents a young and virile nation with a great present and a greater future.

SMELTER AT PRINCE RUPERT SUGGESTED.

For ten years or more people have been talking of erecting a smelter at Prince Rupert. It is pointed out that a smelter here would serve the mines of the interior such as Hudson Bay Mountain mines, the Hazelton and the Babine properties and would be a great stimulus to development there. It would also be used with advantage by the mines at Stewart and other Poortland Canal points and by the Porcher Island mines.

R. W. Hagen, who was in Prince Rupert at the week end, revived the idea and he again pointed out how beneficial such an institution would be in the development of the mining industry. He said he thought Prince Rupert should not let up on the agitation for a metallurgical plant suitable for treating the ores of the mines of this district.

Provincial Government Work for Returned Men Discussed by Col. Robertson in Address

Dealing with three distinct subjects—first, the work of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission of British Columbia; second, the manner in which the Canteen Fund is being handled in the province; and third, the future welfare of the Canadian Legion, Lieut. Col. F. A. Robertson, D.S.O., Victoria, chairman of the B.C. Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission and secretary of the British Columbia Board of Trustees under the Canteen Funds Act, delivered an interesting address before a large gathering of ex-service men, presided over by C. L. Youngman, in the local Canadian Legion Hall last night.

The British Columbia Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, a provincial government institution, of which Hon. D. J. D. McLean was honorary chairman, Col. Robertson said, had started work actively in 1919 to give assistance, financial and otherwise, to ex-service men and dependents of those who had been killed in the war who were in need and, in various ways, to promote the best interests of such people. The policy of the Commission was not to assume the entire responsibility along this line, that being a Dominion matter, but to assist returned men in various ways and grant relief when deserving only in such cases as were not provided for in any other way or, in other words, to fill up the crevices left by existing organizations.

DETAIL OF WORK

Advances for relief grants and loans had been made by the commission during the past seven years to over 10,000 families, the total amount advanced being $303,956.82, of which $35,319.68 had been repaid. It was estimated of the loans still outstanding not more than approximately $8,000 or $10,000 would be repaid.

Loans on war service gratuities had been made to over 1,500 men, the total of such loans amounting to $326,150.63, of which $318,948.06, or over 97 per cent, had been repaid.

Expenditures for purchase of blankets and clothing amounted to $10,182.59. These articles were either sold again at cost price or given away to needy families. The amount realized on sales was $5,604.42.

In addition to about $1,500 advanced to individuals to help them continue their various educational studies, $7,400 had been advanced to the British Columbia University to help pay fees of ex-service men who gave promise of success and who were not able, themselves, to continue their studies on account of the expense.

Further expenditures amounting approximately to $37,000 had been made as grants to ex-service and other organizations which exist for the benefit of ex-service men.

Referring more particularly to the work of the Commission for the past year, Col. Robertson said that, although there were still quite a considerable number of cases where the families of ex-service men found themselves in distressing circumstances through no fault of their own, the number of applicants for relief as compared with former years had greatly diminished. During the past year very little money had been expended for unemployment alone, the major portion of the expenditures having been on account of illness in the family, although it frequently happened that unemployment combined with illness made conditions which demanded that some financial assistance be given.

ONLY TEMPORARY

It should be remembered, however, said Col. Robertson, that the Commission was organized as a temporary department and its activities must come to an end sooner or later. The various Commissions of all the other provinces had long ago ceased to grant financial assistance for the relief of distress, and it was only natural that the Government of British Columbia also should be anxious to curtail these expenditures. The time would never come when there would be no distress at all, but it seemed reasonable to expect that after seven years direct expenditures for relief should be greatly curtailed if not discontinued altogether, and the future activities of the Commission would be confined to granting indirect aid in helping the disabled to secure adequate pensions and giving general assistance in a variety of ways as "official friend" to all Veterans and their dependents.

CANTEEN FUND

Dealing with the administration of the Canteen Fund, the board of trustees of which in British Columbia consists of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, chairman, Lieut. Col. W. W. Foster and Lieut. Col. F. A. Robertson, secretary, Col. Robertson said the only use that was being made of it at the present time was to relieve distress among ex-service men and their dependents when due to illness or death and not for unemployment. This Canteen Fund consisted of the profits made from the operation of overseas canteens during the war. Though the amount allotted to British Columbia had been just over $250,000, not more than $2,000 had so far been used. The main portion of the fund was being kept intact and was invested in bonds while a small amount was kept on hand to meet contingencies that might arise.

The Trustees had been unanimous in their opinion, Col. Robertson said, that before any important decision was made concerning the purposes for which the fund should be used in British Columbia there should be an opportunity for full discussion on the subject by the ex-service men of the province. This was implied in the Act and was also in accordance with the recommendations of the Ralston Royal Commission. One reason why it had been difficult in the past to ascertain the considered opinions of ex-service men on this subject was because the ex-service men were divided into so many separate organizations. In view, however, of the likelihood that in the near future these organizations would all be united under Provincial Commands as well as under one Dominion Command, the Trustees had decided to keep the main portion of the fund intact until they could have an opportunity of discussing the matter with the Provincial Executive of the proposed new united body.

AMOUNT LIMITED

As however, it would probably be several months before such organization was completed, and in the interval there would undoubtedly be a number of cases of acute distress among the families of ex-veterans and their dependents, the Trustees felt that they would be acting according to the wishes of a great majority of the ex-service men in using a limited amount of the fund for such purpose. The Trustees had therefore agreed that until such time as they could ascertain the wishes of the ex-service men of the province, there might be spent on the relief of distress among ex-soldiers and their dependents a sum not exceeding the amount of interest that would be accruing from the fund, and that any such use of the fund should be limited to and kept within the recommendations of the Ralston Royal Commission.

FUTURE OF LEGION

Speaking of the future welfare of the Canadian Legion, Col. Robertson declared there was need for still further legislation in the interest of ex-service men and their dependents. There was also need of a strong organization to see that these matters were attended to properly and for the purpose of maintaining that spirit of friendliness and comradeship that had been developed so strongly during the war. Such an organization, said Col. Robertson, was the Canadian Legion which now had seventy branches in British Columbia and which had recently received a Dominion charter so that in the near future it would be in a position to issue charters to all its branches. Col. Robertson referred to the fact that a few weeks ago the Grand Army of United Veterans had decided to join forces with the Legion and urged that all other bodies of ex-service men should join up likewise.

PENSION ACT

There was need of further legislation, Col. Robertson declared, particularly in the way of amendments to the Pension Act. The chief need was in the way of extending the system of appeals which was now both inadequate and unsatisfactory through the fact that the Appeal Board now only had jurisdiction to hear appeals in a limited number of cases. That jurisdiction should be widened and what the Legion was now striving for was to have the recommendations of the Ralston Commission put into effect.

There was no complaint, Col. Robertson stated, of the pension scale. On the whole the veterans were pretty well satisfied with the Pension Act. Their chief grievance was against its administration. "If the Act were administered in the same spirit that it was legislated there would be little complaint," he declared. The Appeal Board, he said, should be so constituted that it would be able to rule on the amount of a pension as well as on the point as to whether or not there should be a pension. "But," concluded Col. Robertson, "if the Pension Act was administered in the spirit intended by those legislators who brought it into being, there would not be even a need for an appeal board."

Certain questions were asked Col. Robertson and were answered satisfactorily.

BOARD OF TRADE BACK GOVERNMENT FREIGHT RATE WAR

VICTORIA, Sept. 28.—While the Provincial Government's fight for lower western freight rates is being hammered by Conservative politicians, non-partisan businessmen, as represented by the Associated Board of Trade of British Columbia, are solidly behind the administration in its efforts.

This is indicated by a resolution passed by the Associated Board's convention recently forwarded to Premier Oliver. The resolution, which was carried unanimously, reads as follows: "Be it resolved that the Associated Board of Trade goes on record reaffirming its previous resolutions in regard to the freight rates question, and strongly supports the application

POWER OFFER MADE TO CITY

COULD OBTAIN OPERATION OF DRY DOCK PLANT PROVIDED DOCK GOT CERTAIN TERMS

A proposition that the city take over the dry dock power house and operate it for the next five years with no remuneration to the dry dock other than allowing it the same power rate as the elevator enjoys was submitted to the city council at a special meeting last night by Thomas Loudon, manager of the plant. The council was in session for two hours to consider the proposition and there was considerable discussion which resulted in no decision being reached other than to request Mr. Loudon to put the matter formally before the city in writing.

Certain members of the council and J. J. Little, superintendent of utilities, were inclined to favor acceptance of the proposal as a means to ensure power supply for immediate needs without going to the expense of building a new plant or enlarging the present one which, without the elevator, would be working to capacity during the coming winter. It was pointed out, however, that the dry dock plant would have to be changed from coal to oil burning.

Other aldermen were critical of the proposition and felt that the operation of the dry dock plant by the city would be a losing business. It would cost more to produce the power at the dry dock than the city would get for it. Those present at the meeting were Mr. Loudon; G. A. McMillan, dry dock superintendent and A. E. Bazett-Jones, powerhouse engineer in charge; J. J. Little, superintendent of utilities, and all members of the council except Ald. Casey, Larsen and Ald. McKechnie.

MISS AITCHISON IS BRIDE OF VALENTINE TOMLINSON HERE TODAY

Popular Young Couple Left on Train After Being Quietly Married at Presbyterian Manse

Rev. Charles J. Cameron, D.D., was given the pleasing duty at 10.30 this morning of uniting in the bonds of marriage two popular young residents of Prince Rupert, William Valentine Tomlinson, son of William J. Tomlinson of Carleton Place, Ontario, and Miss Florence Eva Aitchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Aitchison of Whitley Bay, Northumberland, England.

The wedding was a very quiet one and was somewhat in the nature of a surprise as it was understood it was to take place tomorrow. None of the close friends of the bride and groom were present, the witnesses being Mrs. Wilson Murray and Mrs. Watson. However a group of young people got word of the event and showered them with rice and confetti as they boarded the train an hour later.

The bride looked very pretty in a blue travelling suit and hat to match. She has been for the past two years a stenographer in the office of Williams & Manson and Mr. Tomlinson is an assistant druggist in Ormes Ltd. Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson have gone to Jasper and they will then visit in Vancouver, Victoria and other cities of the south before returning to take up their residence in the Bessner Apartments.

OBJECTION TAKEN TO INCREASED TARIFF ON WHEAT AT VANCOUVER

Protest Made by Edmonton Board of Trade to Chairman of Grain Commissioners

EDMONTON, Sept. 28.—Strong support of the Alberta provincial government's action in protesting the Vancouver Harbor Board's application to the Board of Grain Commissioners for an increase in tariff charges in handling new grain, has been forwarded by wire to Leslie Boyd of Fort William, chairman of the board. The grounds of protest are that no evidence as been yet presented justifying the proposed increase. The Board of Trade further requested that such an increase be withheld until full evidence is submitted showing the necessity for such increase and an opportunity is afforded by hearing of the grain board in Edmonton so that the Board of Trade and producers of the province may make the desired representations following the submission of such evidence.

Claim is made that the present volume of grain on the Western route will be called upon to pay for new elevators and facilities at the port of Vancouver designed to handle a much greater volume.

The Alberta government is heartily in favor of the Western route, but does not think costs at Port William have anything to do with Vancouver as the two grain ports have little in common for comparison, and objects to tariff at the coast being based on Port William costs.

Terminal facilities should be developed ahead of the trade and in advance of the actual demand," insists the government, "but it is not difficult to maintain this condition when it is possible to provide a new unit in from six months to a year."

R. R. Day and C. R. Brick, New York mining men, are guests at the Prince Rupert Hotel. They arrived in the city last night from Alaska.

BABE RUTH TO PLAY SEVENTH WORLD SERIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Babe Ruth will break the world series record by going out to the Park and taking his place in the opening game between New York Giants and St. Louis, Saturday. He will then enter his seventh world's series. No other player has played more than six.

Tied with Ruth up to this year at six participations in the baseball classic were J. Franklin Baker, Everett Scott, Eddie Collins and Wally Schang. Baker is farming and not interested in playing world's series baseball. Scott, Collins and Schang can not better their records at the moment for the White Sox and Browns are not winning pennants this year.

The leading exponent of baseball hit played three world's series under the colors of the Boston Red Sox and wielded his mace in as many series for the Yankees. Other records may be expected to fall if Babe is on his game. He will have to score more than eight runs to better one mark—for he is tied with Tommy Leach for the most runs scored in one series at eight.

Ruth is tied with Goose Goslin and Joe Harris of Washington for the most home runs in one series, three, and with Hooper of the Red Sox and Kauff of the Giants for two home runs in one game. Ruth smashed out his circuit blows in successive innings, October 11, 1923. The Babe is tied with a number of fellow athletes, past and present, for the number of extra base hits in a series, with five, but holds undisputed first place for the most extra bases on long hits, 18, compiled in 1918, 1921, 1922 and 1923 by four home runs, two tripples and two doubles. He also has established a tie with Hooper and Kauff for the most extra bases on long hits in one game, six. He was in a receptive mood for a record in 1923 when he was given eight bases on balls during the series. MADE PITCHING RECORD The versatile Ruth also has his name engraved in the department devoted to pitching records. He pitched 29 scoreless innings for the Red Sox in 1916 and 1918, going 13 innings the first year and 16 the second. Ruth has a total of four world's series home runs against six for Goslin in the Washington Senators who hit three in 1924 and three more in 1925. Ruth will have to get three in the series to establish a new record.

SPORT CHAT

The winning and losing fights of the picturesque Washington Senators in the world's championships of the past two years have taken place among the most spectacular of baseball's classic title battles. In the brilliant background they have added to diamond history the tall figure of Walter Johnson, the Big Train, stands out, alternately tragic and heroic. Johnson pulled the Senators to their first championship in 1924 against the New York Giants by holding the fort dramatically in the final game after being pounded into defeat in two previous starts. Against Pittsburgh's rampart Pirates last Fall, the Big Train was invincible in his first two games, permitting only one run in eighteen innings, but in the gloom and mud of Forbes Field he was shelved into defeat as the Pirates came from behind to take the seventh and final game.

As spectacles of tense dramatic interest, of shifting tides of fortune, of sensational uphill struggles and heart-breaking setbacks for rival contestants, these two championship conflicts of the last two years stand at the top of the list. In Washington, there was a background of unprecedented fervor in 1924 for the first championship the capital city had ever gained while Pittsburgh burst into fanatical flame over its first triumph since 1909. These two series, incidentally, were among only four which have gone the full limit of prescribed games, variously fixed at seven and nine contests. The others were in 1909 and 1912.

Observers recall the 1912 series, between the Boston Red Sox and New York Giants as one of the most fiercely fought of all. Eight games, including an eleven inning tie, were fought out before the Red Sox finally emerged triumphant, beating Christy Matheson in ten innings in the final contest, aided by a costly error by Fred Snodgrass, Giant outfielder. So nerve wracking was the series that after it was all over the rival managers, John McGraw and Jake Stahl, declared their men could not have withstood the strain of another game. The quickest series on record was that of 1914 when the Boston Braves, after their sensational pennant drive under the "Miracle Man," George Stallings, overthrew Connie Mack's Athletics in four straight games. The Chicago Cubs, conquering Detroit in 1907, and the Giants, downing the Yankees in 1922, also hung up records of four victories and no defeats but in each case one tie game prevented a clean sweep.

RAILWAY PREPARED TO HANDLE GRAIN WITHOUT CONGESTION

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—Although poor weather conditions have hampered harvesting and will result in threshing being carried on at peak simultaneously in the three western provinces, the Canadian National Railways are in a position to handle the crop more expeditiously than ever before according to W. A. Kingsland, general manager of the western region, who returned to Winnipeg today from the east where he was in conference with the operating vice-president and other executives last week.

According to Mr. Kingsland, the company has from three to four thousand more cars mobilized in Western Canada than in any previous Autumn and arrangements have been completed so that a considerable amount of extra equipment can be made available the moment the need arises.

Although the movement of the grain will be heavier from now on and the activity will be general, Mr. Kingsland holds to the opinion that the movement to Lake Head can be carried out without any semblance of congestion.

Mr. Kingsland believes that while the crop will be smaller than last year, it will grade higher than is imagined in some quarters and he believes that the farmers will reap a good return upon their investment. He also states that British Columbia will enjoy a very heavy fruit crop, particularly in the Okanagan Valley district.

PREPARING DATA FOR A NEW ROAD LOAN

VICTORIA, Sept. 28.—Money needed to complete the new Cariboo Road project and to pay the cost of other roads in various parts of the province will be provided by a loan to cover which legislation will be introduced at the next session of the Provincial Legislature.

A large part of the loan will be spent to cover the extension of the existing Cariboo Road from Lytton to Spences Bridge—a section of the highway which was not built this season. The precise cost of completing the entire project in this way is not known, but it will be large.

With the Spences Bridge-Lytton link installed the present detour from Lytton through the Marble Canyon will be eliminated and the coast will be joined with the interior by a direct route.

Officials of the Public Works Department are busy now sifting up the road needs of the province for next year, and on the basis of these calculations the size of the new road loan will be fixed.

A move is on foot to have the granting of Royal honors abolished in Canada. It is claimed that titles go mainly to bankers and railway men where they are well deserved by people of other occupations.

The death occurred of Peter McLachlan, well known pioneer, when on a prospecting trip to Gardner Canal aboard the launch Wigwag. Deceased, who was in the real estate business here, was 67 years of age and is survived by a brother in Victoria and son in Ottawa.

Liner and Planes in 3000-mile Dash to Effect "Scoop"

1. The Champion getting greased up before entering the English Channel. 2. Lowering the photographs to the waiting sea-planes. 3. Canadian sea plane which flew to Rimouski. 4. The Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Scotland".

Gertrude Ederle's recent victory of the English Channel, wrote an epic into the already brilliant aquatic records of America. And while this youthful swimmer, who broke all existing records in her Channel swim, was being lionized in Europe for her victory, a sequel to this event was taking place in America which will go down on the romantic pages of journalism as one of the biggest "scoops" in newspaper enterprise.

Using a four-plane relay in co-operation with the Canadian Pacific steamer the Empress of Scotland, representatives of the New York News, landed the actual photographs of the great Channel swim in their offices in New York fully twenty-four hours before other prints could possibly arrive.

As the gangplank of the Empress of Scotland was being raised at Southampton, a messenger dashed up to the ship and placed a bundle of prints in the care of a passenger. Even the Commander of the ship was ignorant of their value until a radio message flashed in giving the instructions for the disposal of the prints. A seaplane would pick them up near Anticosti Island. True to the arrangements the seaplane was sighted a few miles from the island near English Bay, and Commander Latta gave instructions to an officer to wrap the photographs in a waterproof float and lower them over the side of the ship. The seaplane circled the ship and alighted. In a few minutes the package was picked up but the sea had become so choppy that it took the plane several hours to taxi to the lee of the island before it could rise. Finally taking to flight it flew straight to Rimouski where the prints were divided and placed on board two waiting land planes. These two planes hopped off for New York and were hopeful of reaching New York for the Saturday edition of the News, but heavy fogs descended and killed all hopes. One of the planes was forced down at St. Eloi and success was up to the other plane. After flying in the fog almost to Montreal, it turned south and landed at Plattsburg and met another plane at the parade grounds there. Here the other plane took the pictures and began the last leg of the perilous flight to New York. Flying at 112 miles an hour through three electric storms and on top of the heaviest fog ever encountered by the flyers the plane landed at the West Side Park, Jersey City. A little over three hours after the final dash was begun the pictures were delivered at the offices of the News in New York 24 hours ahead of picture en route via New York

WARTIME ENEMY IS CONQUERED

RICE FED JAPANESE AND MEAT FED RUSSIANS DIED HORRIBLY DURING PORT ARTHUR SEIGE

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Wars of the future may bring about the development of an entirely new medical science, in the opinion of a veteran army surgeon of seven campaigns.

Former Major Louis Livingston Seaman, who has served in every American campaign since the Spanish American war and in the armies of Japan and Belgium, sees in the development of chemical warfare a new enemy for the medical world to tackle. Soldiers' wounds in future wars, said the 76-year-old veteran, probably will be of a nature little known today.

Major Seaman who recently returned to his home in New York after a tour of Europe as president of the American Surgeons' Travel Club, traced the development of army medical science as he observed it.

ANTISEPTIC DEVELOPMENT

The greater knowledge of antiseptics today was cited as medical science's greatest stride in saving the lives of those brought down in battle.

"Where raw carbolic acid, available on rare occasions, formerly was the best that medical science could use on mortally wounded and sword wounds," he said, "today a whole gamut of antiseptics can be brought to the aid of nature in keeping a wound clean.

"Though wounds are worse now than formerly, they are in many ways more merciful. Unless a man is torn to pieces by the cruel new inventions of war and killed instantly, the newer knowledge of medical treatment may hope to save him."

Better feeding of modern soldiers has been a principal factor in reducing mortality among armies, he said.

RATIONING

"Good rationing has cut down the deaths from preventable wartime diseases almost to nothing," he said.

In the war with Spain, he said, twenty American soldiers died of preventable diseases to one of wounds. It was a bloodless war, an opera bouffe, except for the hideous tragedy of these disease losses," he said.

NEW PATRON SAINT CHOSEN FOR AIRMEN

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 28.—"Our Lady of the Air" has been installed and consecrated as the patron saint of the aviators of Portugal. It is a beautiful image of the Virgin Mary, with arms uplifted toward Heaven, and it stands in a tiny chapel erected for it in the Clntra aviation camp. The ceremonies of installation and consecration were performed in the presence of Cardinal Melo head of the Catholic Church in Portugal, representatives of the Government and several members of the diplomatic corps.

The image is not the ancient one venerated by Portuguese poets, which for many hundreds of years has stood on the worn-entail in a small chapel among the Serras of North Portugal. The aviators desired to bring this ancient statue to their camp, but the people in the villages in the mountains—men, women and children—armed with sickaxes, scythes and sticks, surrounded the chapel and had the alarm sounded from the belfries of all the churches for miles around. The airmen hereafter were forced to abandon their plans and secure another image, far more beautiful but less historic, for their shrine on the flying field.

SUPERSTITIONS OF SAILORS ARE ABSURD

(London Times)

Those who know them report that, when at sea, the Scottish herring-fishers hold it unlucky to speak of a pig, a rabbit, a salmon, or a minister of religion. Most of our readers will be familiar with the ban on one of the subjects: the minister of religion. His presence has even been unlucky, a harbinger of death, whether by land or sea. In the days of chivalry, should you meet with a priest on your way to battle or to journey, you were wise to turn back. On board ship he was a Jonah. And it needed no excessive caution to attribute to his name and title the ill-luck inherent in his person. The ban upon the other unmentionable things may perhaps be known to professed students of this lore; but they are far enough from being common knowledge to excite a little speculation.

The rabbit, and that naturally cleanly beast, the pig, are, Biblically and traditionally, unclean; and though swine's grease used to bring luck to Scottish brides, the Highlanders, we believe, do not, or ostensibly do not, eat of their flesh. But the rabbit is not so unlike the hare as to make it impossible that he has come to be credited with the harmful influence. In Scotland the hare is so far technically "game" that, like other game, his appearance brings disaster to soldier, raider, or traveller, unless he is promptly killed; in England he was as dangerous as a parson, with juster cause, because "the ground of the conceit was probably no more than this, that a fearful animal, passing by us, pretended unto us something to be feared." The name of the pig, again, might suggest the old saying: "An't please the pigs," which meant, of course, the pyx, and said nothing else than "God willing." About the salmon, speculation must be wider, yet, for it could not be seriously submitted that the herring-fishers refuse to name the fish because these swaggering river fish diminish their trade.

This easy guesswork leaves untouched a deeper subject for speculation; why men who have so many real dangers to face as sailors have should be of all men the readiest to beware of imaginary dangers. But a very short time ago no ship ever set sail on a Friday; whistling on board ship still brings a gale; and we suspect that the caul of a new-born child is still, in spite of Tom Hood's jolly mariner, a sure preventive of drowning. Mingle the deep-sea sailor with the Highlander, and there is sure to be a rich store of the rules through which the simple and naturally religious mind pays respect to powers and laws which it does not presume to understand. It is knowledge, not ignorance of danger, or loneliness, of the might of nature—by modern Highlanders inherited, perhaps, rather than experienced, but daily truth to them that go down to the sea in ships—which makes these men bear themselves cautiously and humbly before the unknown.
