But Not Friendship Iran Breaks Relations With Britain

TEHRAN (CP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran today broadcast to his country announcing that his government is "unfortunately obliged to break diplomatic relations with Britain."
 The message said reason for the step was that the "British government so far has prevented our reaching an agreement" on the oil dispute.
 Mossadegh told the people that breaking diplomatic relations would not mean breaking "bonds of friendship between the two countries," because the Iranian nation always looked with respect to the British nation.

City Auditor Delegated to PUC Hearings

Scott McLaren, city auditor, will represent city council at hearing of an application for increased bus fares here before the Public Utilities Commission in Vancouver on October 24.

This was decided by council at its regular meeting last night. Mr. McLaren recently completed an audit of the books of Arrow Bus Lines which shows an increase of from 10 to 15 cents for adult fares and from five to 10 cents for children—except between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. on school days when the fare remains at five cents.

Alderman Mike Krueger suggested Mr. McLaren represent council "because he is the man who has made quite a study of the company's books and will be a good representative in our effort to win the application."

Alderman George Casey seconded the move to have Mr. McLaren make the trip.

City clerk Bill Long advised aldermen that he and Mayor Harold Whalen called on the motor vehicle branch of the PUC at Vancouver before they went to Union of B.C. Municipalities Convention at Vernon Oct. 9-11, but "they could not tell us anything because they had set the date for a public hearing."

City council originally requested the public hearing be held here but the PUC did not acquiesce.

It is not known whether Arrow Bus Lines will be represented at the hearing.
 Mel Forbes, manager of the system, and his auditor, Stu Furk, recently went to Vancouver to present their case before the PUC.

Old Liquor Store Mooted To Include New City Jail

City Demands PUC Report On Hearing

City Council has endorsed a resolution demanding a report on findings and decision of the Public Utilities Commission regarding an application for increased power rates in Prince Rupert.

The resolution was moved by Alderman George Casey and seconded by Ald. Darrow Gomez at a council meeting last night.

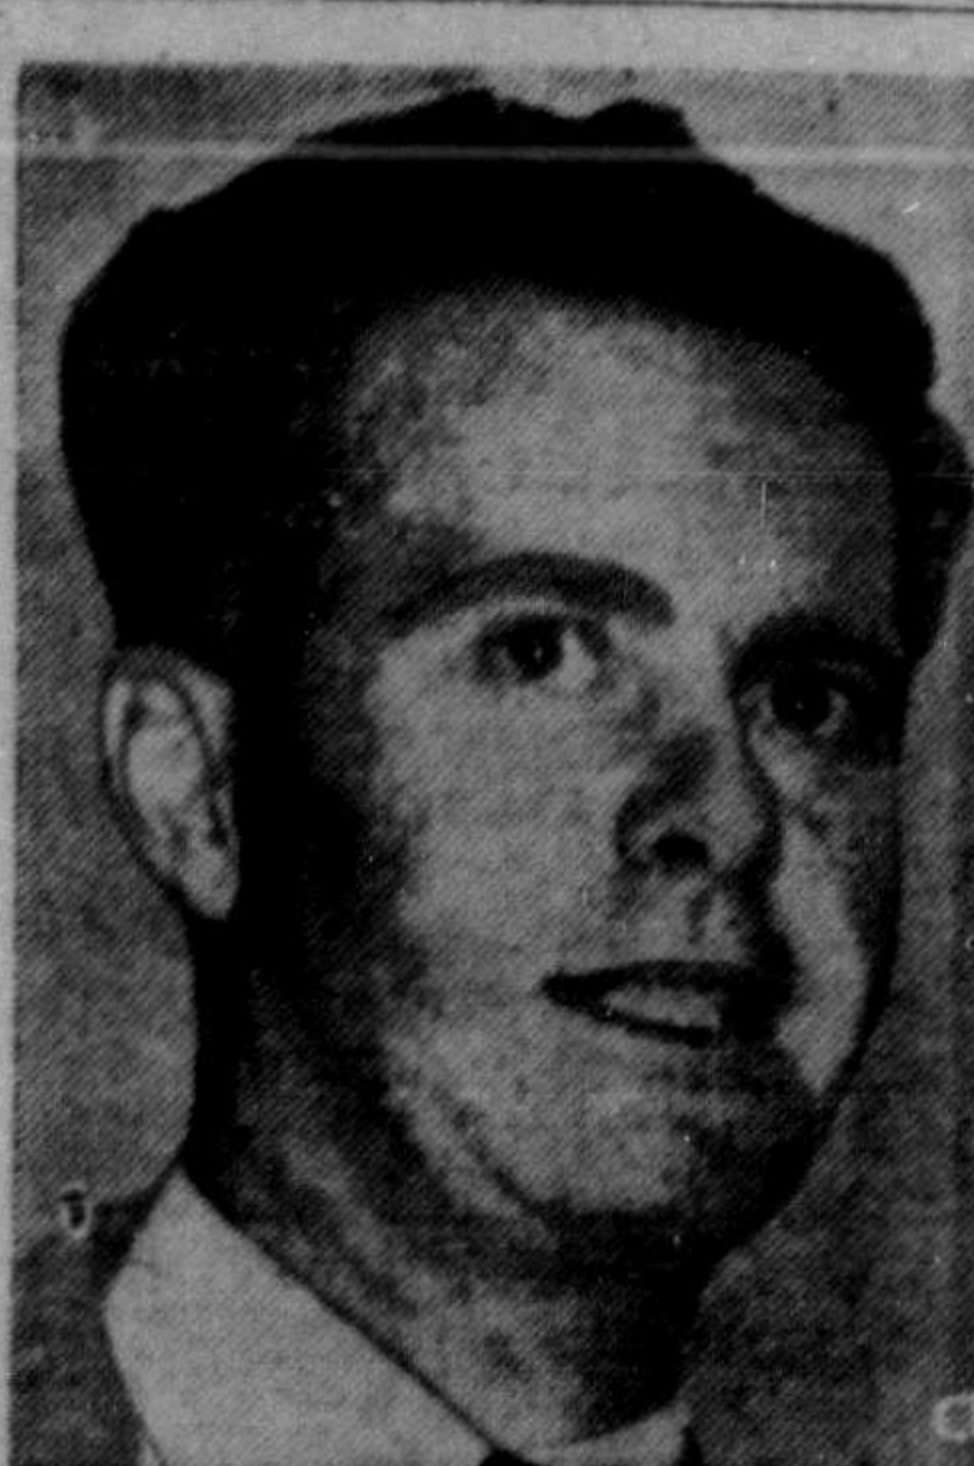

Council was advised by its legal representatives at Victoria last July 18 that the PUC had rejected an application by Northern B.C. Power Company Ltd. to increase rates in this city. No reason has been given for the rejection either to the power company or the city.

Ald. Casey pointed out that city council asked the Northern B.C. Power Company and the B.C. Power Commission last January to negotiate with the city on the matter of future power but both informed council that until the PUC submitted its decision it would be impossible to undertake such negotiation.

He said he was unable to understand why a "full and complete report has not been submitted by the PUC to both the power company and the city, covering power rates, appraisal on plant and assets used in connection with the Prince Rupert power supply."

In view of the urgent need of this information," said the resolution, the city "beseech the PUC to forward at once a full and complete report on its findings and decision to the city of Prince Rupert, the Northern B.C. Power Company and the B.C. Power Commission."

The NBCPC applied for permission to increase its rates on August 28, 1951 and the city submitted that the company had no right to ask for a rate hike because it "was in default under its original agreement with the city."

PUBLISHER-SPORTSMAN—G. Max Bell, 40-year-old publisher of the Calgary Albertan and with controlling interest in two dailies in Victoria, B.C., is son of the late George M. Bell, well-known western newspaper publisher. Max is prominent in many western oil developments and on the side is building a racing stable, mainly of English-breds, some of which will be raced in the United States. They included Indian Hemp, Royal Serenade and five yearlings. He is associated with an old friend, top-flight jockey Johnny Longden. Bell was born Oct. 13, 1912, in Regina. (AP Photo)

Ald. Gomez Proposes Plan to Use Basement

A city jail should be constructed in the basement of the old government liquor store—future home of the new automatic telephone system—according to Ald. Darrow Gomez.

He told council of a tour he made through the structure on Thanksgiving Day and said the cellar has a 10-foot ceiling and "would make a wonderful jail."
 "I figure we could put 26 cells in the basement and although light and ventilation are not there now, that could be remedied."

ALMOST COMPLETE
 Backing his contention was Alderman George Casey who said:

"I believe that if the city takes over the liquor store, we've got a jail 90 per cent complete now. The basement lends itself ideally to a good jail.

"I'm sure Alderman Gomez could take up the matter with the police force and show them what he has in mind and that they would concur."

The suggestion was made following reading of a letter from Inspector W. M. Taylor of the RCMP recommending certain repairs to the present jail in the City Hall.

Inspector Taylor said the women's jail "is in a rather deplorable condition" and he feared the police department and city both were open to severe censure by the health authorities. He said repairs were needed to bunks in the men's jail.

No other mention of the old government liquor store was made by aldermen.

Under the $695,000 telephone by-law endorsed a month ago, the old liquor store is to be purchased for the new automatic telephone system at a cost of $32,500. An additional $10,000 is to be spent renovating the building.

Recently Alderman Ray McLean drew up a petition, now circulated throughout the city, urging the section in the bylaw providing for purchase of the liquor store be wiped out and that money allocated for that purpose be used to purchase other suitable property.

Change Seen In Government Forest Policy

VICTORIA (CP)—The Vancouver Province said Wednesday in a dispatch from Victoria that important changes in forest management policy are being considered by the provincial government.

The dispatch says that if the government finally approves the 1,000,000-acre management licence for Celgar Development Co. in the Arrow Lakes region this week, it will probably foreshadow one important change.

"The company may be required to let contracts to small loggers for a certain percentage of the timber to be cut from its licensed area," the newspaper says. "It may run to 30 per cent."

U. S. Gunners Mow Down Reds

SEOUL (CP)—American machine-gunners, crouching behind barbed wired barricades, today mowed down waves of Chinese Reds storming the crest of Triangle Hill on the Central Korean front.

Savage fighting also swirled across the crest of Dominant Peak on nearby Sniper Ridge. Twice the Reds stormed to the top and wrested control in bloody close-quarter fighting. Each time the South Koreans surged back and recaptured the height.

One Contract Delayed Pending Settlement

Contract between Auto-Electric (Canada) Limited and the city of Prince Rupert for a new telephone system is being held up pending settlement of another contract on the outside plant.
 The company forwarded a contract for the inside plant to city council for signature, but on suggestion of Ald. Mike Krueger the signing will be held up until council receives assurance that the outside plant will not exceed $187,000 and that local firms will receive the opportunity to bid on the work.

At the request of Acting Mayor Bert Glassey, City Clerk Bill Long read the contract for the inside plant and said "this is the final copy, which our solicitor checked and found satisfactory."

The reading followed adoption of the report of the Utilities Committee which referred the contract to council for action.

Under the contract the company agreed to install relief manual equipment to assist in taking the heavy load from operators until the new system is completed.

Ald. Ray McLean suggested that "this contract for the central office equipment should not be signed until we have a written contract from Automatic Electric for the outside plant."

City Clerk Long told council the company had informed him by telephone that work on the outside plant would not be more than the $187,000 estimated in the bylaw but aldermen moved that council receive assurance that council receive assurance in writing before the contract for central office equipment is signed by the mayor and city clerk.

Air Transport Missing in Korea

TOKYO (CP)—A U.S. Air Force transport with 25 persons aboard is missing over South Korea, the Far East Air Forces announced today.

When the announcement was made, the two-engine plane, carrying 21 passengers and four crew members, had been unreported for more than 15 hours.

Supreme Court Releases Poje

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada today ordered the release from jail of Tony Poje, labor union agent, pending his appeal from decisions of B.C. courts.

Poje, an agent of the IWA, was fined $3,000 and sentenced to three months in jail for ignoring a court injunction at Nanaimo during the woodworkers' strike.

14 Dead in Plane Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO (CP)—Fourteen persons died when a DC-3 airliner belonging to Aerovias Brazil crashed at Sao Francisco Paula in southern Brazil, in the province of Rio de Grande de Sul Tuesday. Four were injured.

The plane, with 14 passengers and four crew members, disappeared on its regular flight from Rio de Janeiro to Buenos Aires. It was sighted on a farm Wednesday after an extensive search by 15 planes.

U.N. to Fight For Armistice

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States said today the United Nations will not permit faint-heartedness or recklessness to defeat its cause in Korea, but will fight on as long as necessary to reach a just armistice.

Quick Removal Encouraged

Park Timber Listed as Salvage

In a move to encourage removal of as much Crown timber as possible from the area to be flooded by the Aluminum Company of Canada, the B.C. Forest Service today announced that effective immediately timber there is to be treated as salvage.

In a statement here, officials said that under authority of Section 56 of the Forestry Act, stumpage rates for all future timber sales will be 30 cents for 100 cubic feet of spruce and 20 cents per 100 cubic feet for other species.

The rates have been $1.75 per thousand board feet of spruce and $1.25 per 1,000 for other species.

Any existing contracts will remain present rates.
 The change was made after investigation of the area—mainly on the south side of Ootsa Lake—into the cost of logging and primarily because water is beginning to rise following completion of the Kenney Dam.

Boyd Draws Life Term For Robbery

TORONTO (CP)—Bank robber Edwin Alonzo Boyd today was sentenced to life imprisonment for robbing eight Toronto area banks of a total of more than $115,000 and for one attempted bank robbery.

Boyd also received five years for breaking out of Don Jail in November, 1951, two years consecutively on each of charges of escaping from jail last November and last Sept. 8, four years for auto theft and 10 years for robbery with assault.

William Russell Jackson was given 20 years concurrent on two charges of bank robbery. Sentence is to be consecutive to an eight-year term he is serving for assault and robbery and two years for escaping jail.

He also was sentenced today to two years for one jailbreak and on two charges of escaping jail.
 Edwin Boyd's younger brother, Norman, was sentenced to three years for bank robbery and an additional nine months for harboring Edwin after the first jailbreak.

For being accessories after the fact in Boyd's 1951 escape from Don Jail, Joseph Lesso was sentenced to nine months; his wife, Elizabeth Lesso, got six months, and Mrs. Mary Mitchell, six months, both indeterminate.

Worker Convicted of Murder Try

VICTORIA (CP)—Millworker Martin, 42, was convicted today night of attempting to murder his estranged wife when she attacked April 29 at her home.

He was convicted by an all-male jury of 10 men and a judge which deliberated 40 minutes before sentencing him to 10 years in jail.

Justice A. M. Manning said his wife, since recovered, had serious head wounds, a neck and face and a shoulder. The couple had been married 14 years.

In Eye For Reading

WE ARE TOLD that our municipality is one of the most backward in the province in supporting and developing a public library and if this is true it certainly does not stand well in our stead. It may be that in our fervor to rush out of a depressed state of municipal finances, we have not given enough thought and consideration to development of some of the finer things which are as essential to any community as public services.

This not only applies to the library but other cultural and recreational facilities. Our museum is about to go under; only latent attention has been paid to parks; our public relations program has fallen apart; there are no city archives, nor has any civic attempt been made to record the history of our city.

In the face of this are groups of men and women who have turned in many hours of voluntary but thankless labor to fight for the retention and development of the city's cultural facilities.

The museum board, for example, is stymied in its ceaseless efforts to retain a rare collection—because of finances; our parks board has had to fight every inch of the way to get a part of the money it felt essential for absolutely necessary work; library board efforts to increase its stock of books and services also have been continually damped—because of finances.

While strict cutting of financial corners and a tight string on the purse may be sound business on one hand, it is also possible that considerable harm may be done the community in not adequately providing for the aesthetic, especially in a community so isolated as ours.

When city council begins its review of next year's estimates, we urge that the odd dollar be cut off the necessary commitments for public works and added to the very necessary library estimates.

Let's give ourselves a break, even if for the sake of posterity. A reading community is well-informed. Well-informed people look to the future.

Scripture Passage for Today

"The Joy in Harvest"—Isa. 9:3.

A CHEERFUL WORD

If I could say a cheery word to a downcast soul today
And help them to lift their heavy load
As they journeyed along their way;
If I could cast a smile to the lame,
It would help as he stumbled by—
Or give him a lift as he trembling passed,
As he feebly gave a sigh;
With my strong arm could I steady his step
So he erred not in his aim—
I had done a duty I owed to him
And helped him on with the game.

If I meet the innocent on my way
And they put their trust in me,
I will not betray their simple trust
And turn them aside from the way.
If someone's near me who's hungry and cold
And their sad face spells despair,
How easy to offer a loaf or a coat
And let them know that I care.
Kind words might cheer them just when cast down
And bring them free from the fall;
So I'll have a feeling for those in need,
And my heart will answer their call.

A day may come when I'm hungry and cold
And feel that I'm all alone—
So good would it seem just to catch a smile
Just as others have caught my own.
I could but return it, when sent in love,
Though no word was spoken at all—
For I know the value of such a smile,
And I answer to such a call.

Not money alone can make us rich,
"Though it answers its purpose to men;
But riches sometimes cause us to stray
And land a poor soul in the pen.

But deeds of true kindness have value deep
And will bountiful interest pay,
For they lift our burdened ones on their feet
And start them anew on their way.

How welcome kind greetings when skies are grey
And the world seems to only frown,
And you've found a new friend who is trusty and true—
It keeps you from falling down.
So it pays to regard all whom we may meet
With a cheerful and hearty "hello"—
They'll remember us if we should meet again,
And will cheer other friends as they go.

—C. W. REEVES.

Wants Beer in Cans

ONE good thing done by the Social Credit government of B.C. was to appoint a three-man liquor probe commission in which there is general confidence.

It would have been difficult, perhaps impossible, to find three men in whom the public could feel deeper collective confidence than in Hon. Harry Stevens, Dean Swanson and George Home.

But while there is every reason to trust the integrity and commonsense of the Royal Commissioners the exact job assigned by the government contradicts itself. They were told to choose between the systems in other provinces or states—to see which was nearest to what we want in B.C. They were told not to go to Ontario, for instance, to see for themselves how the Ontario system works.

It is like the old nursery rhyme farce: Mother may I go out to swim, Yes my darling daughter, hang your clothes on the hickory limb but don't go near the water.

The Royal Commissioners were surprised in Vancouver because only a few people and organizations came forward with briefs. But why should many organizations now do so? It is entirely superfluous, for instance, to hear what the WCTU feels about the sale of hard liquor, for everybody knows anyway. Everything that could be said about the general issue was said before the election.

In the vote the people of B.C. decided by a margin of three to two that they wanted the sale of hard liquor by the glass. Those of us who believed that this decision was mistaken and backward lost out. The other side won. What are we waiting for?

The government itself should take the responsibility for applying the clear mandate of the people. One of the things I liked about Premier Mitch Hepburn in the years I worked with him in Ontario, and one of the things I also liked about my boyhood and army friend George Drew, was that both these men had the gumption, or plain guts, to take responsibility for their governments. Mitch was always opposed to Royal Commissions except for doing jobs which require a vast amount of time and detached study which the government is by nature unable to give. He believed that otherwise the government head should say "this is my policy—if you like it elect me—if you don't like it, throw me out."

IT SEEMS to me that all we can do in B.C. is to set up a system much like Ontario's, but with certain changes on points which are debatable. Here are some points I think should be in our new law:

No constituency which voted against hard liquor should be compelled to sell same. There should be a local option law whereby constituencies or cities which start out "wet" may vote themselves "dry" and vice versa. But most of B.C. has voted wet already. There is no excuse to wait long.

All applicants for licenses should be treated equally, and new licenses granted only after public hearings, well advertised in advance. The stupid rules which prevent beer parlors from selling food, and which wall them in like dark caves, should be removed. Beer should be sold in cans or any kind of containers. What's sacred about bottles?

Eastern Train First to Use Inter Radio

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP)—The Algoma Central Railway this month became the first Canadian line to use inter-train radio communication along its entire length.

The radios make it possible for a crew member at the front of a train to get in touch with a fellow worker at the rear of the train and for messages to be exchanged between train crew and flagmen, between trains about to meet and between trains travelling in the same direction but some distance apart. They eliminate a great deal of hand signaling.

Permanent radio sets and loud speakers are installed in the cabs of the 21 diesel-electric locomotives. There are portable radio-telephones in the cabooses.

U.N. AIDS INDUSTRY—As part of its program for the expansion of small industries, the Indonesian Government requested the U.N. to supply experts to assist in the establishment of small industries training institutes in various parts of Indonesia. Red Offensive in Korea Given Credit For Stock Market Rise

By HARRY KINGDON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Communist offensive in Korea was given partial credit for pulling the Toronto Stock Market out of its five-week slump.

The market bounced sharply upward Thursday and Friday after being on the decline since about Sept. 5. Explanations for the rebound were varied.

Some observers suggested that the new Communist attacks in Korea and indefinite postponement of the truce talks pointed to a fairly long war in Korea. War activity usually increases the demand for many basic metals and manufactured goods. The base metals and industrial indices rose on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

"Corrective measures" was the phrase used to describe the action of western oil stocks. The theory is simply: "What goes down must come up."

Most observers feel that western oils hold good promise of production and dividends but that many stocks before the slump were overpriced. When prices went down far enough, buyers were attracted and an upward trend set in.

One of the explanations for the rise in gold stocks appears contradictory of the theories above. The golds explanation is based on the possibility of a business recession which some observers predict for mid-1952.

If prices generally headed downward, gold production costs might decrease and make gold mining more profitable.

NOT A "BOOM"

The general market upswing this week does not appear to be a "boom." Traders have been looking before buying and a number of stocks have lost strength in spite of the general trend. Whether the market will reach levels prevailing before the slump is still an open question.

The Toronto exchange started last week with a general decline with western oils in the lead. In Montreal, industrials and papers moved downward. This trend continued until Wednesday when prices turned mixed in Montreal and industrials gained at Toronto. On Thursday and Friday, both centres reported climbing prices.

New York trading followed a different pattern. Prices were low Monday but improved Tuesday and started to rise with rails leading on Wednesday. Thursday showed a slight setback with mixed prices and this continued Friday.

THAT CRISIS

It would seem Canada has been waiting ever since 1944 to hear about the time the troops became within an ace of yelling "war" and quitting the fight. A crisis had developed, and each day was becoming worse. King, Ralston, St. Laurent, Powers and McNaughton were in on the big secret, but it never got out. In Maclean's, Bruce Hutchison writes what he calls an exclusive yarn. It's quite a story.

Wedding of wide interest was solemnized last night in First United Church when Reverend G. Sieber officiated at the candlelight ceremony which joined Janet Rackow, daughter of Mrs. A. Bendixsen, 1049 7th St., and Robert Russell Whiteley, youngest son of G. Whiteley and the late Mr. Whiteley of Vancouver, B.C.

The bride wore a popular and attractive gown of Both Memorial entered the beautified church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Robert Whiteley, who gave her in marriage.

The bride's gown was radiant in a lovely lace and French lace gown, designed and made by Mrs. Alex Mitchell.

The bride was exquisite with a long train of satin and six tiers of lace cascading down her shoulders. Her long sleeves, buttoned to the waist. The finger-length French illusion veil, crown of satin and sheathed her gown. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses and lily-of-the-valley.

The groom wore a suit of white and pink and a maid of honor in a full-length gown of deep pink. It was the bride's mother who had a peplum at the waist from which the net were fashioned of tulle and under-neath a small skull cap and carried a collar of white and pink.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Alex Mitchell, was carried with the same joy that joined his father 40 years ago. The bride and groom were Ron Stewart, Carl Simons, the bride, and Bob Dyke, friend of the groom. The procession came to the strains of "The Wedding March" played by Mr. A. A. Dyke. McMillan sang while the register was being opened.

The ceremony was beautifully officiated by Mrs. Alex Mitchell. The bride wore a white tulle gown with green and white caryanthe background for the ceremony. The bride's mother was charming in a two-piece dress.

The ceremony was held at the Sons of the Mothers of the groom. The bride's mother was charming in a two-piece dress.

Black-Stevens Exchange Vows At United Church

Dorothy Stevens, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Mattson, and J. Harry Black, manager of the Capitol and Totem theatres here, exchanged vows at a pretty double-ring ceremony in First United Church last Friday.

Reverend L. G. Sieber performed the ceremony. heart roses lent a final delicate touch to her costume.

The bride looked radiant in a classic tailored suit of warm cinnamon brown trimmed with deep brown military braid. Her hat, shoes and gloves were of matching shade, also trimmed with touches of deeper brown. In her box-shaped purse of matching hue, she carried a dainty compact, gift of the groom.

Her corsage of pink sweetriage service. Included in the group was Mrs. E. Crum of Vancouver.

DINNER, RECEPTION
Following the service a dinner was held at the Canadian Legion and a reception took place later at 132 Fourth Avenue East, where the couple will reside.

For the reception the bride wore a dainty, street length gown featuring a black velvet bodice with a low cut round neckline and a skirt of frothy black net over gold lace.

Miss Wanda Black welcomed guests at the door. During the evening the bride and groom cut a beautiful double-tiered wedding cake in traditional fashion.

Roussel-Gerard Nuptials Held At Church of Annunciation

Theresa Jacqueline Gerard yesterday became the bride of Denis Roussel at Annunciation Church with the Rev. O. P. Mohan officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julien Gerard of Worck, Belgium, arrived in Canada a few months ago and came here a week ago from Ocean Falls.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roussel of Pad-dockwood, Saskatchewan. The bride wore a grey suit with black accessories and carried a white bouquet of carnations. Her bridesmaid, Armida Foffoli, wore a grey wool dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Best man was John Laporte.

A reception was held in the evening at 715 Eighth Avenue East, future home of the couple.

A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a wedding bell and lily-of-the-valley was cut in traditional style. Father Mohan proposed the toast to the bride and it was responded to by the groom.

Billy Rose To Reveal Total Income

NEW YORK (AP)—A state Supreme Court justice has instructed showman and columnist Billy Rose to concede his ability to pay unlimited alimony to his estranged wife, Eleanor Holm, or else reveal certain data about his finances since 1939.

The ruling by Justice James B. M. McNally was a vital point in the former Olympic swimming star's efforts to get a peek at the financial background of her husband.

McNally said Rose must disclose his income, earnings and assets.

Rose, who has kept his wealth secret, reputedly has amassed millions in the 13 years since he married Miss Holm.

They were recently separated, but alimony has yet to be set.

Examination of Rose's records was scheduled for Wednesday.

An alimony hearing set for the same day was postponed.

Miss Holm now gets $700 a week temporary alimony.

Paper Observes Centennial With Largest Edition

BRANTFORD (CP)—The Brantford Expositor marked its 100th anniversary here with a 280-page paper, the largest single edition ever published in Canada.

Founded Oct. 12, 1852, by Henry Racey, as a Conservative Party organ, it turned Grit or Reform in 1855 and entered the daily field on April 3, 1873.

The Expositor was purchased in 1890 by the late T. H. Preston and has been in the Preston family since that time. The third generation are now in charge of its publication.

The 280-page special edition was composed of 11 sections dealing with the historical background of The Expositor, Brantford and Brant county, including the invention of the telephone, as well as the social and industrial and cultural growth of the community over the century.

Pearl Brown Tops Ladies With 295

Pearl Brown carried Savoys to victory in the third game of their match with Gordon & Anderson in the Ladies' Five-Pin Bowling League this week with a neat 295 score—highest single game among the 144 bowlers.

Bertha Dunbar of Lucky

Strikes had high three in "A" Division when she put together games of 241, 262 and 189 for a 692 count.

Lucky Strikes also had high game of 337 and chalked up high three of 2,542. They lost one game to Lyons.

In "B" Division, Margaret Mc-

Greish of Toilers rolled high single of 264 and also had high three of 688. Toilers took all the laurels with their high game of 608 and also high three of 2,318. Here are results of last week's play:

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The veteran umpire was helping hold up the front of his hotel on Times Square the night the World Series ended, and we asked him how he had enjoyed working the great classic between the Dodgers and Yanks.

"Enjoyed it?" he barked. "Did you ever try standing out there in the sun for three hours at a time without even a drink of water and with a lot of young smart-alecs trying to use you as an alibi because they don't know how to play ball?"

We conceded readily that the experience was one we had missed over the years.

"Well," the arbiter friend said grimly, "you're just lucky and don't know it. These three-hour games are killing me and I'm getting out. There's easier ways of making a living, and I've found myself one. I've loved the game a long time, but not this much."

It was suggested that all umpires had been urged to speed up the games, if necessary to crack down hard on the more dilatory managers and pitchers. Were they perhaps partly at fault?

"No," the umpire said. "All of us have really tried to speed them up this season, but we've found we are butting our heads against a brick wall."

TRICKS TO SLOW DOWN
"You can't realize unless you're out there with them every day how many little ornery tricks some managers have of slowing down a game when their pitcher isn't going too good."

"Another way they slow it up is by examining the ball. One game I worked this year they called for the ball 30 times by actual count . . ."

"Another thing you might not have noticed is that it's become absolutely standard practice for a batter to step out of the box when the count reaches 3 and 2 on him. It's supposed to throw the pitcher off stride, or something . . ."

"The less a pitcher has, the more he hams it up. If I could have had a couple of years of umpiring before I played ball and seen what some of these so-called pitchers get by with, I could have hit 400, easy."

Less People Now Visit Home of Bernard Shaw

By ROBERT JONES
AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, England (AP)—George Bernard Shaw was an egotist who believed most firmly in the lasting reputation of his own genius.

It shines brightly enough in London's theatreland, where playgoers have been flocking to see Katherine Hepburn in "The Millionaire," one of Shaw's later and, according to critics, least effective plays.

But at Ayot St. Lawrence, tiny picture postcard village 30 miles from London, where Shaw lived, worked and died, the cold hand of public indifference is already felt.

For nearly 40 years Shaw lived in the 14-room Victorian mansion he called "Shaw's Corner."

NOTICE
ROLLER SKATING At The Civic Centre POSTPONED Until Suitable Wheels Have Arrived for the Skates

Six years before he died, he left it to the country, doubtless in the belief he was building a shrine comparable to the Shakespeare shrine at Stratford.

After his death in November, 1950, the National Trust, semi-official organization that looks after Britain's historic buildings, turned Shaw's Corner into a museum.

The National Trust spruced the place up and arranged as many of Shaw's personal belongings and knickknacks as it could in three downstairs rooms. It spent $1,120 on building a car park, engaged an erudite custodian to show visitors around—then sat back and waited for visitors to roll up at 28 cents a head.

For a time the public obligation. But today the stream of cars has dwindled to a trickle. The National Trust reluctantly is coming to the conclusion Shaw's Corner looks like a financial flop.

"Of course, it's too early to say anything definite yet," a Trust official commented. "We will review the situation at the end of the year."

Under the terms of Shaw's bequest, the National Trust would not be able to unload the house on the open market. But it might possibly be let either to a literary person or to an organization.

Work to Start in Spring—Costs $4,000,000

Terrace-Kitimat Rail Link Begins at Both Ends

Special to The Daily News
TERRACE—Construction of the Terrace-Kitimat rail line will begin at both ends, W. H. (Pat) McIlroy, Canadian National Railways location engineer, announced here.

He said that while Campbell & Bennett Limited, of Vancouver, have been granted the contract to clear and grade the 41-mile right-of-way, the CNR will do its own track laying.

He estimated this work would take about 2½ months after the grade is finished.

CNR vice-president J. R. McMillan announced awarding of the contract at Winnipeg last Tuesday and a spokesman for the Vancouver company said work will start in the spring "after the breakup."

He said his company had to outbid five firms, including some eastern Canadian competitors, to get the job. Their bid was "approximately $4,000,000."

Total cost of the line is expected to be close to $10,000,000. The contract does not include construction of a major bridge to cross the Skeena near Terrace.

Mr. McIlroy said there will be five bridges altogether on the line, crossing the Skeena River, Lakelse River, Cold Water Creek and Big Wadacen and Little Wadacen River.

"Most of the steel for these structures is already on hand," he said.

Mr. McIlroy, who has lived here off and on for the past 24 years, although he was moved to the Winnipeg office two years ago, said he was pleased that Little Canyon has been chosen as the point at which the railway will cross the Skeena for "besides being the last natural crossing of the river it is also appropriate that it should be at a point named after the founder of Terrace."

Preliminary work on the line was started in August, 1951 and a temporary survey was completed by December of the same year.

Greatest obstacle encountered was the crossing of the Skeena River but Little Canyon was found to be the only point where the river is contained within its banks and there is a solid rock foundation.

Actual location survey began last January with the establishment of five camps between here and Kitimat. It was completed in August.

Toughest section of the whole terrain, said Mr. McIlroy, was between Squirrel Point and the end of the lake, where steep rock slopes, precipices and ravines abound.

Timber, he said, is extremely heavy from Mile 8 to Mile 30 (Kitimat is Mile 41). In this heavily wooded section are spruce, hemlock and balsam. All good timber will be cut and cold-decked and smaller slash will be burned.

When the track goes through, the stacked timber will be picked up and disposed of. The timber is privately owned.

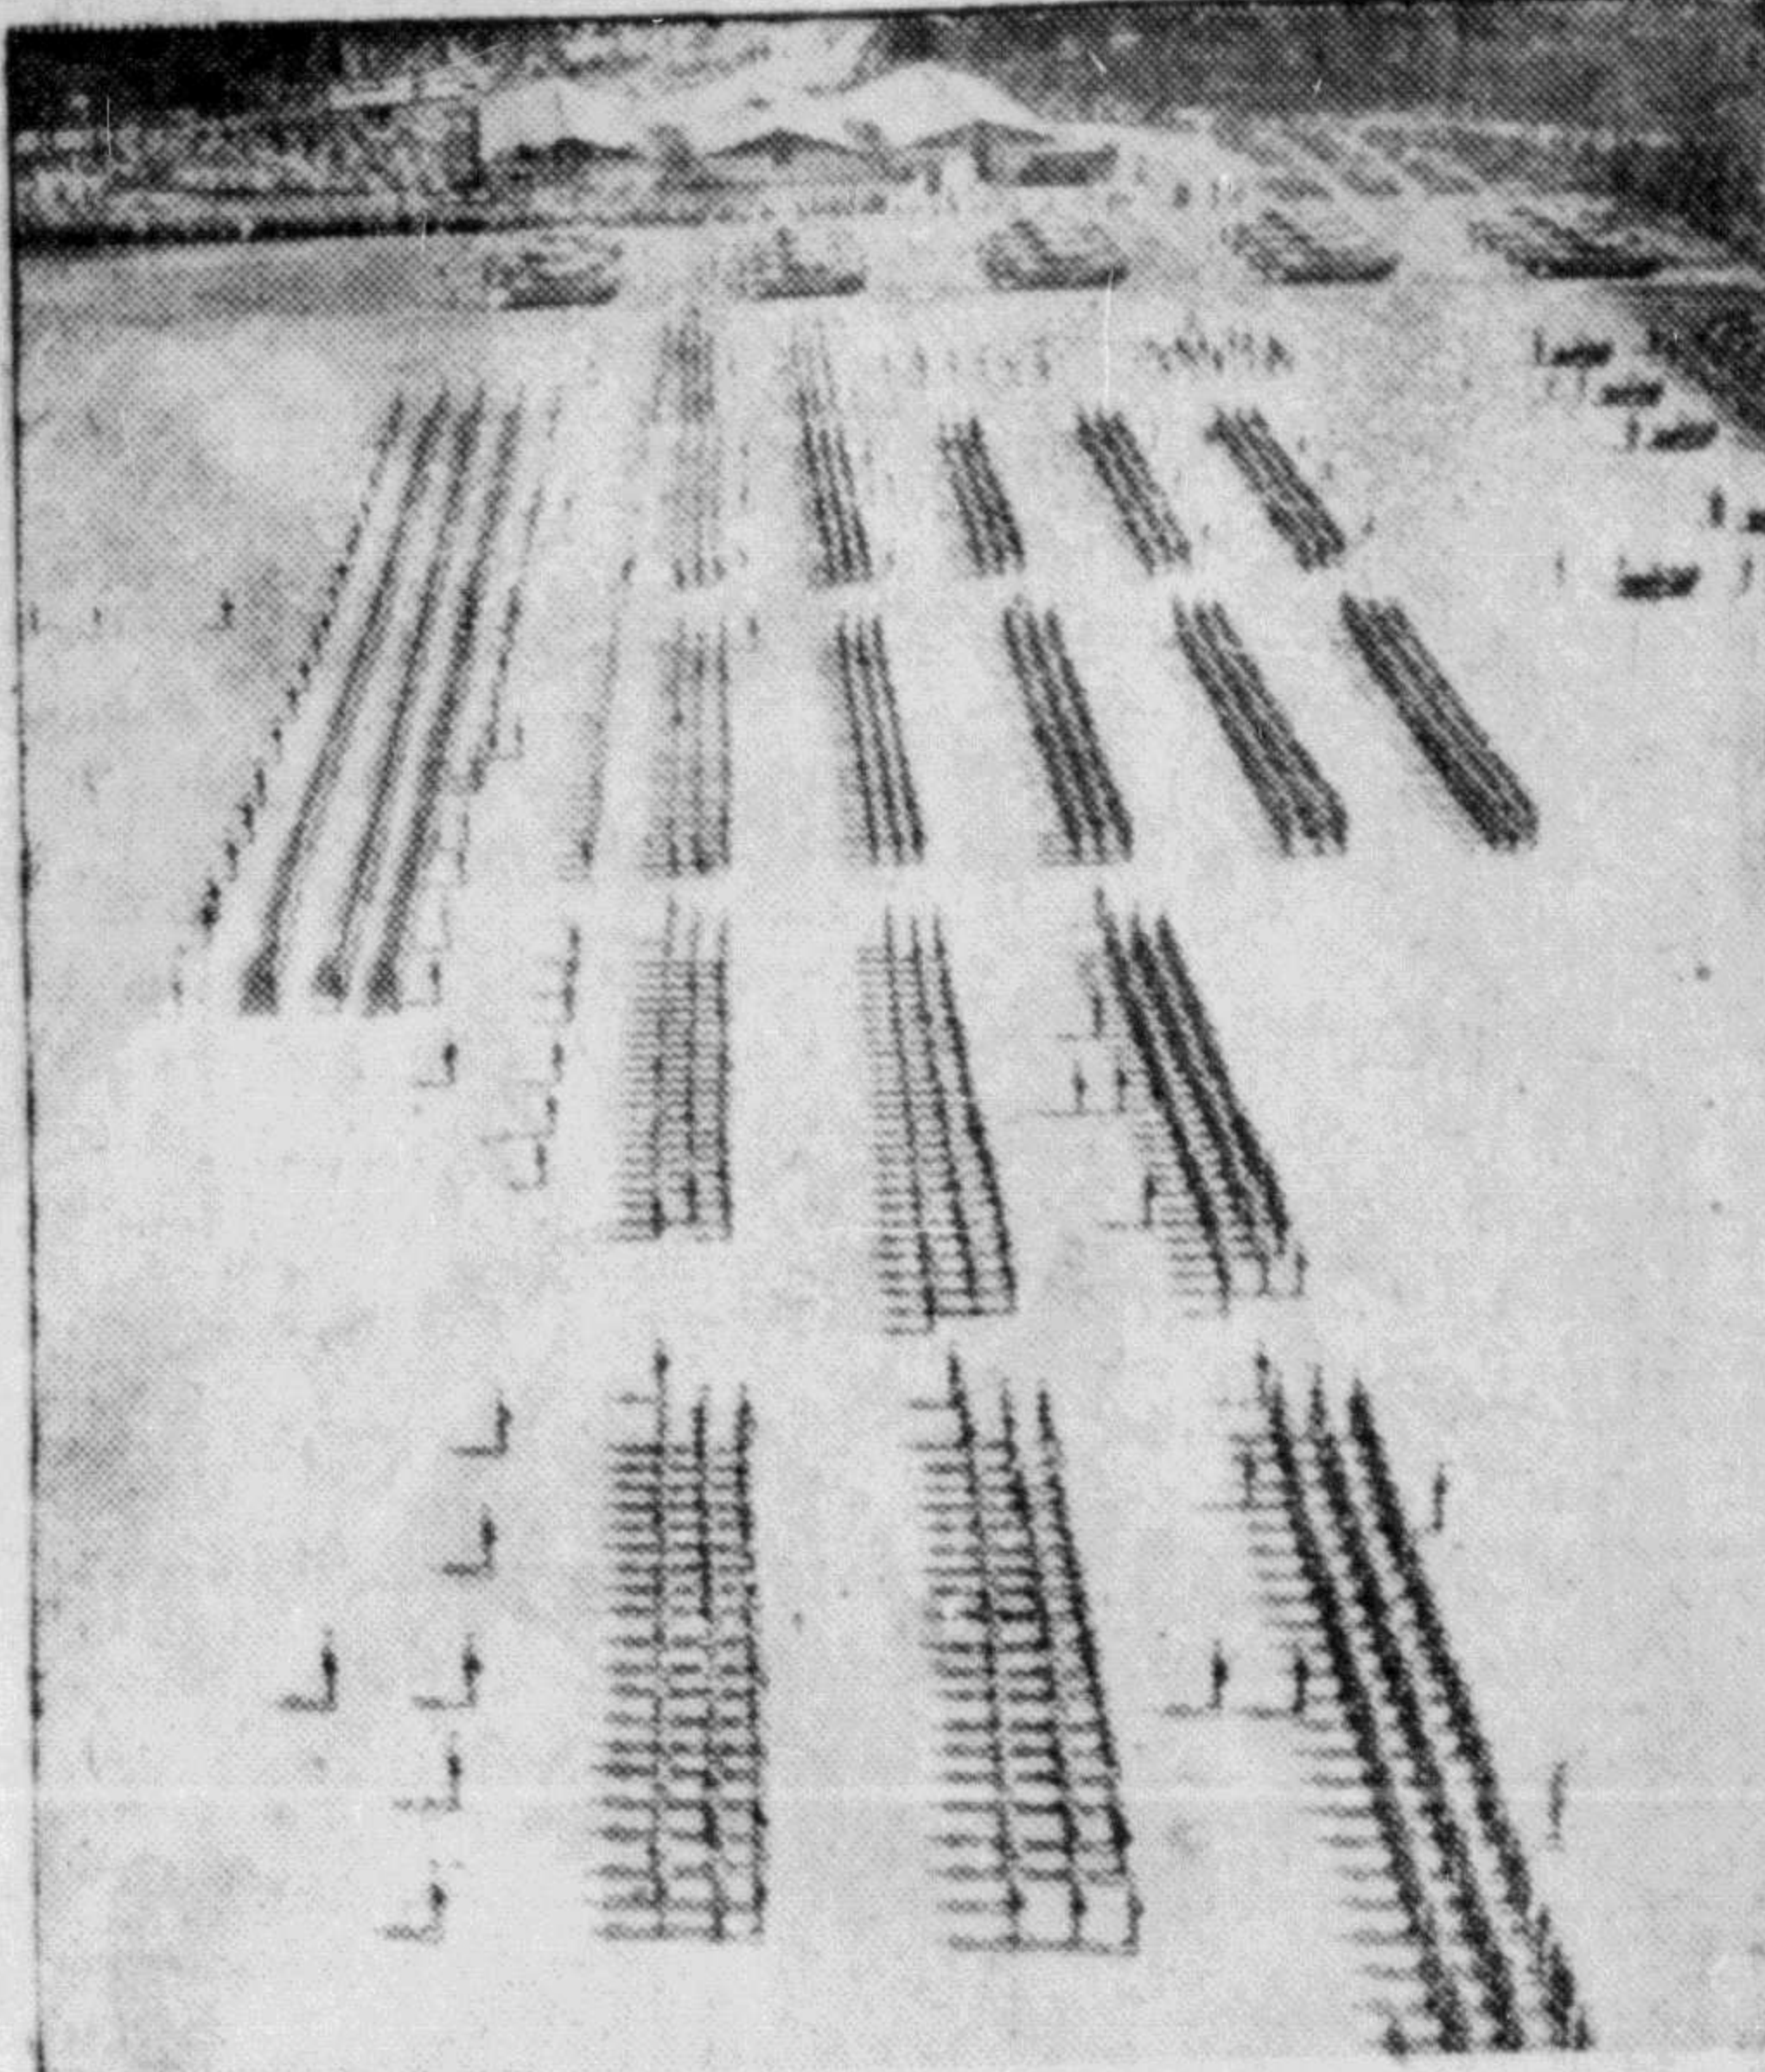

Asked about the Skeena bridge contract, Mr. McIlroy said it probably would be let in two sections, sub-structure and super-structure.

He said time limit for completion of the railway is July 1, 1954, which means work will have to start very soon. This date has been set to coincide with the date set by the Aluminum Company of Canada for completion of the first portion of its smelter and power development.

"Targets for all three operations are strenuous," said Mr. McIlroy, "and depend a lot on weather conditions."

Timely RECIPES

Have you ever thought of serving sweet wine and cookies for dessert? They make a delightful combination and so easily handled, too. Cookies enjoy being cached in the family cookie jar at all times, to be on hand for any "emergency." We like these "Almond Lemon Cookies" with sweet, ruby-colored Port. Lovely.

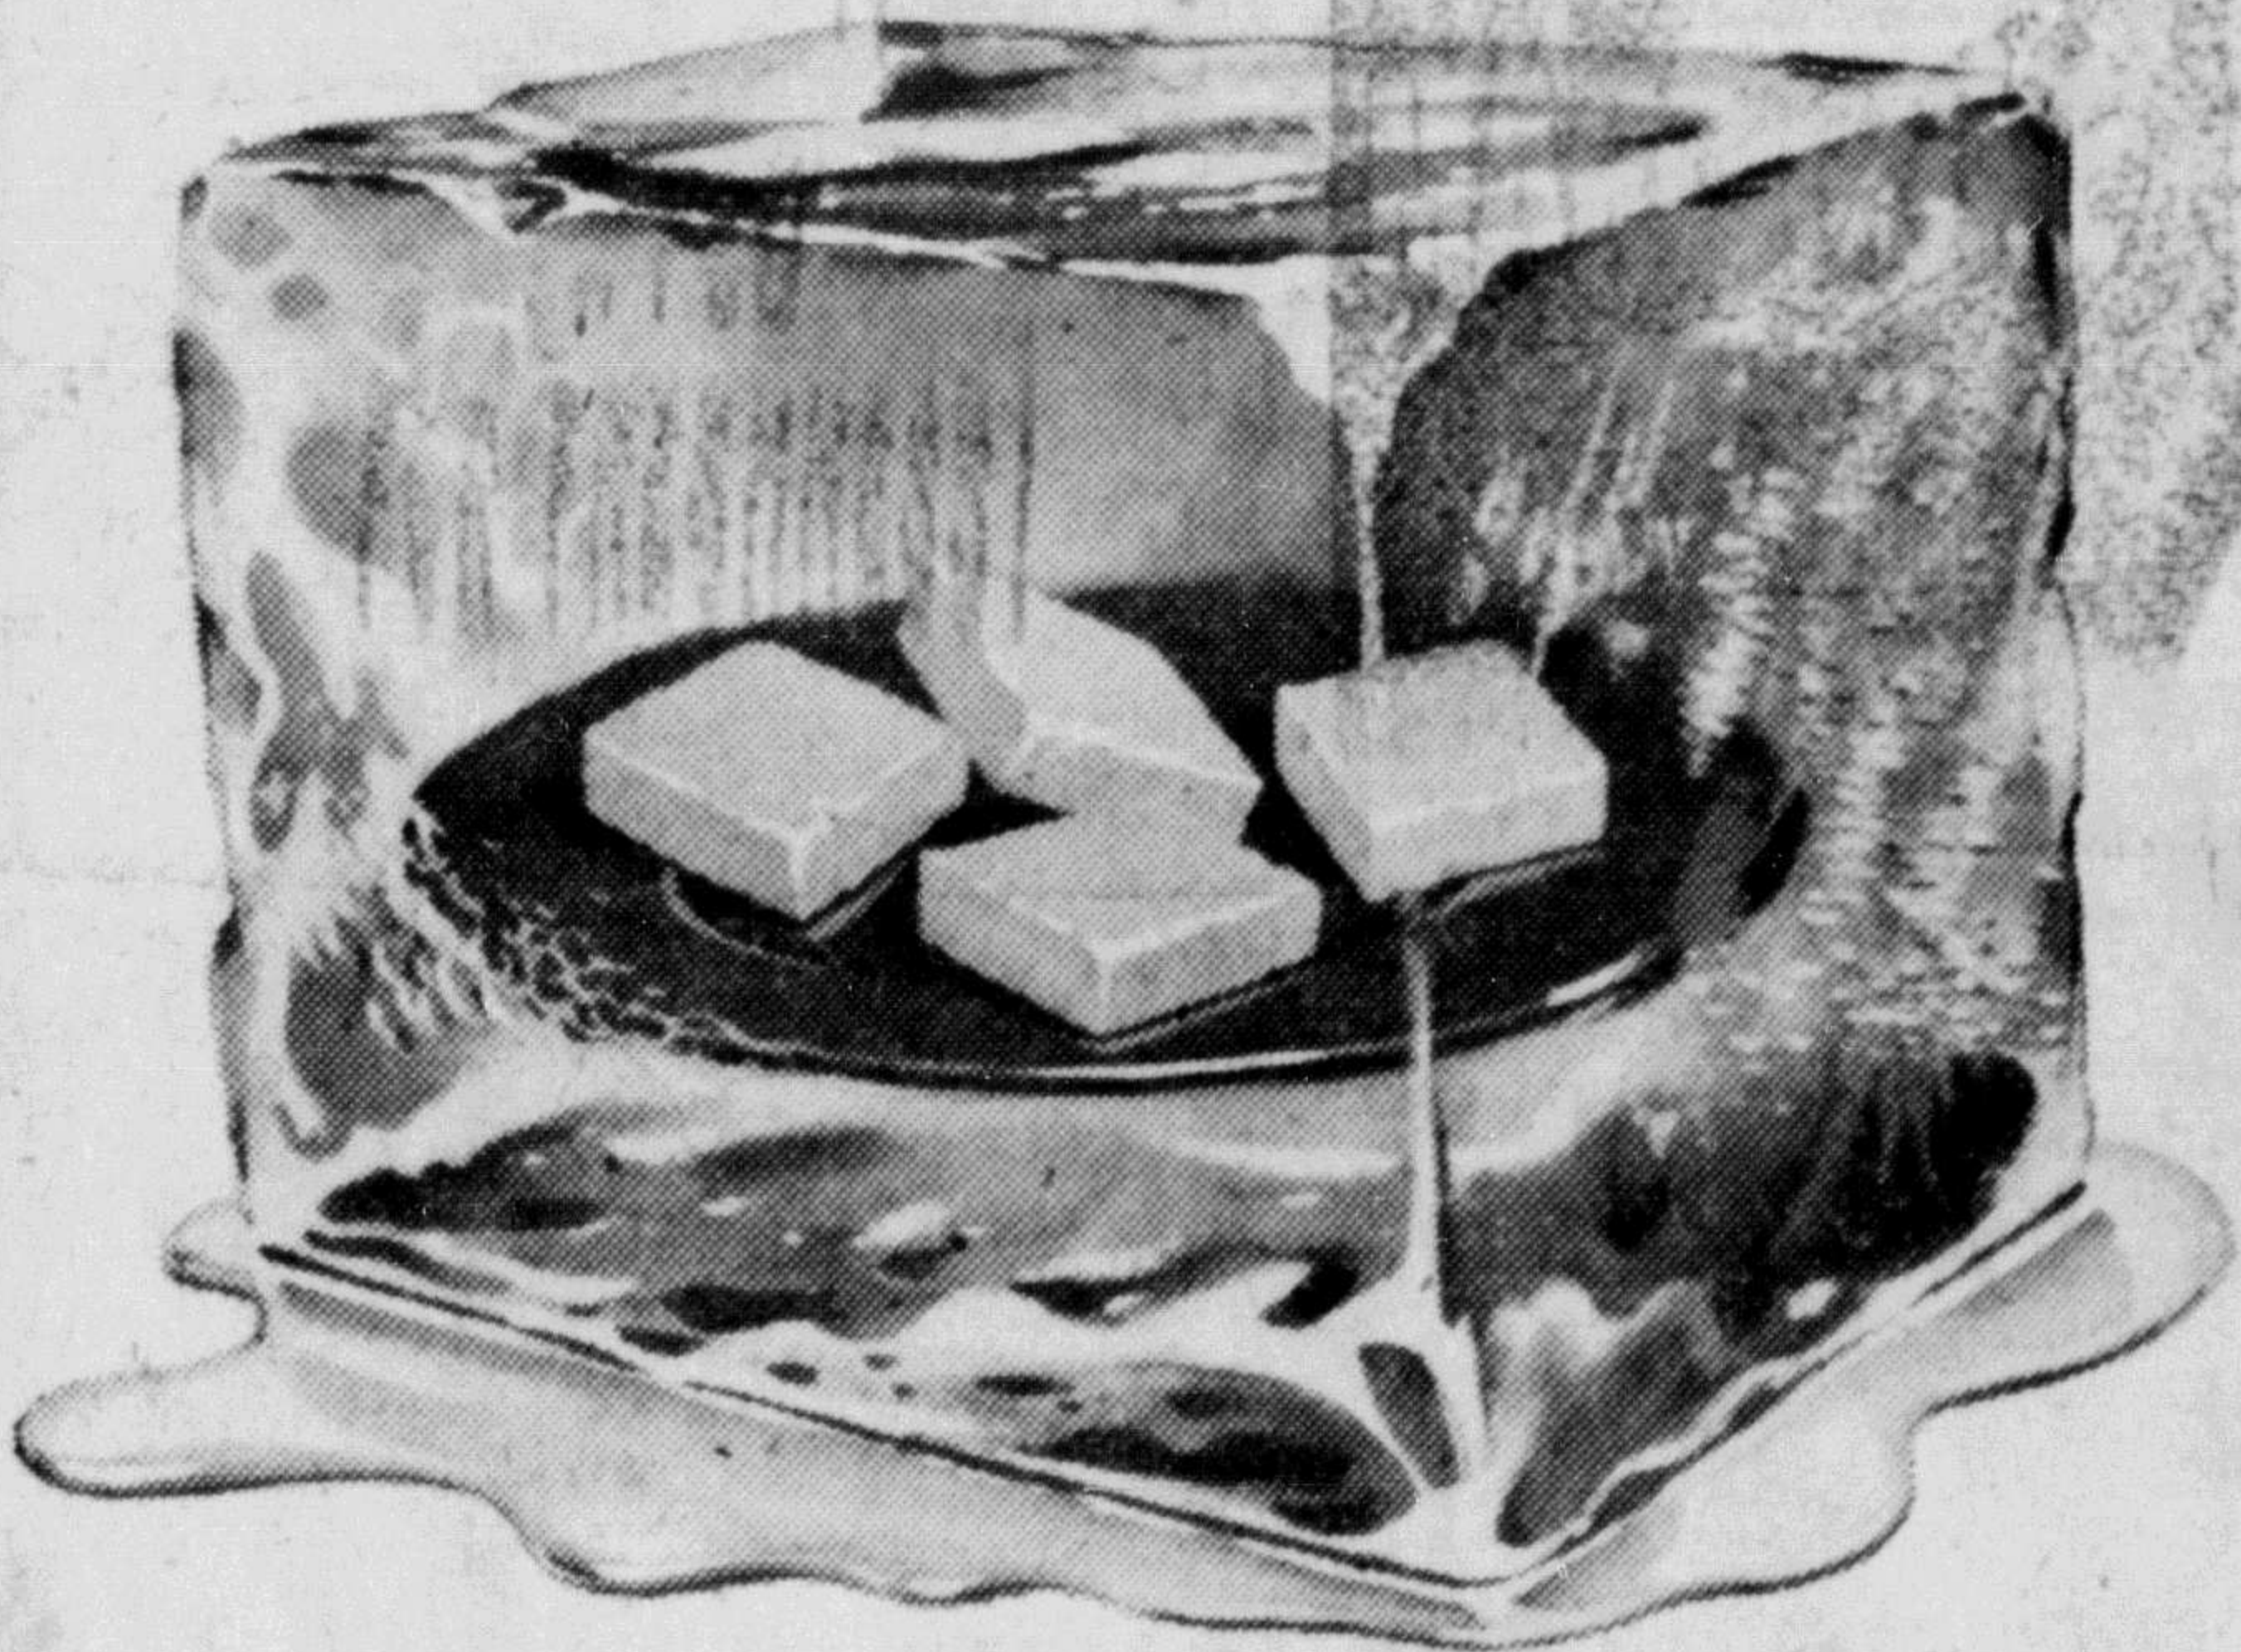

Almond Lemon Cookies
2 egg whites
1½ cups fine graham cracker crumbs
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar (packed)
¾ teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ cup chopped roasted almonds

Halved blanched almonds
Beat egg whites until stiff, but not too dry. Mix together the graham cracker crumbs, salt, brown sugar, lemon rind and almonds. Fold lightly and thoroughly into beaten egg whites. Drop onto greased cookie sheet and flatten with fork. Garnish each cookie with ½ almond. Bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Allow to stand 2 or 3 minutes before removing from pan.
Makes 14 cookies 2½ inches in diameter.

Canadians Observe Credit Union Day

HAMILTON (CP)—Some 1,000,000 Canadians will observe International Credit Union Day today.

Stvenson, Ike Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Governor Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, pledged today that if elected he would smash any corruption in government—a government his Republican opponent, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, said has become one of "spend and rule."

Eisenhower, in a speech at Salt Lake City last night, again called for middle-of-the-road leadership to "keep in balance the twin ideals of security and of liberty."

movement. About one in every 15 Canadians is a member of a credit union.

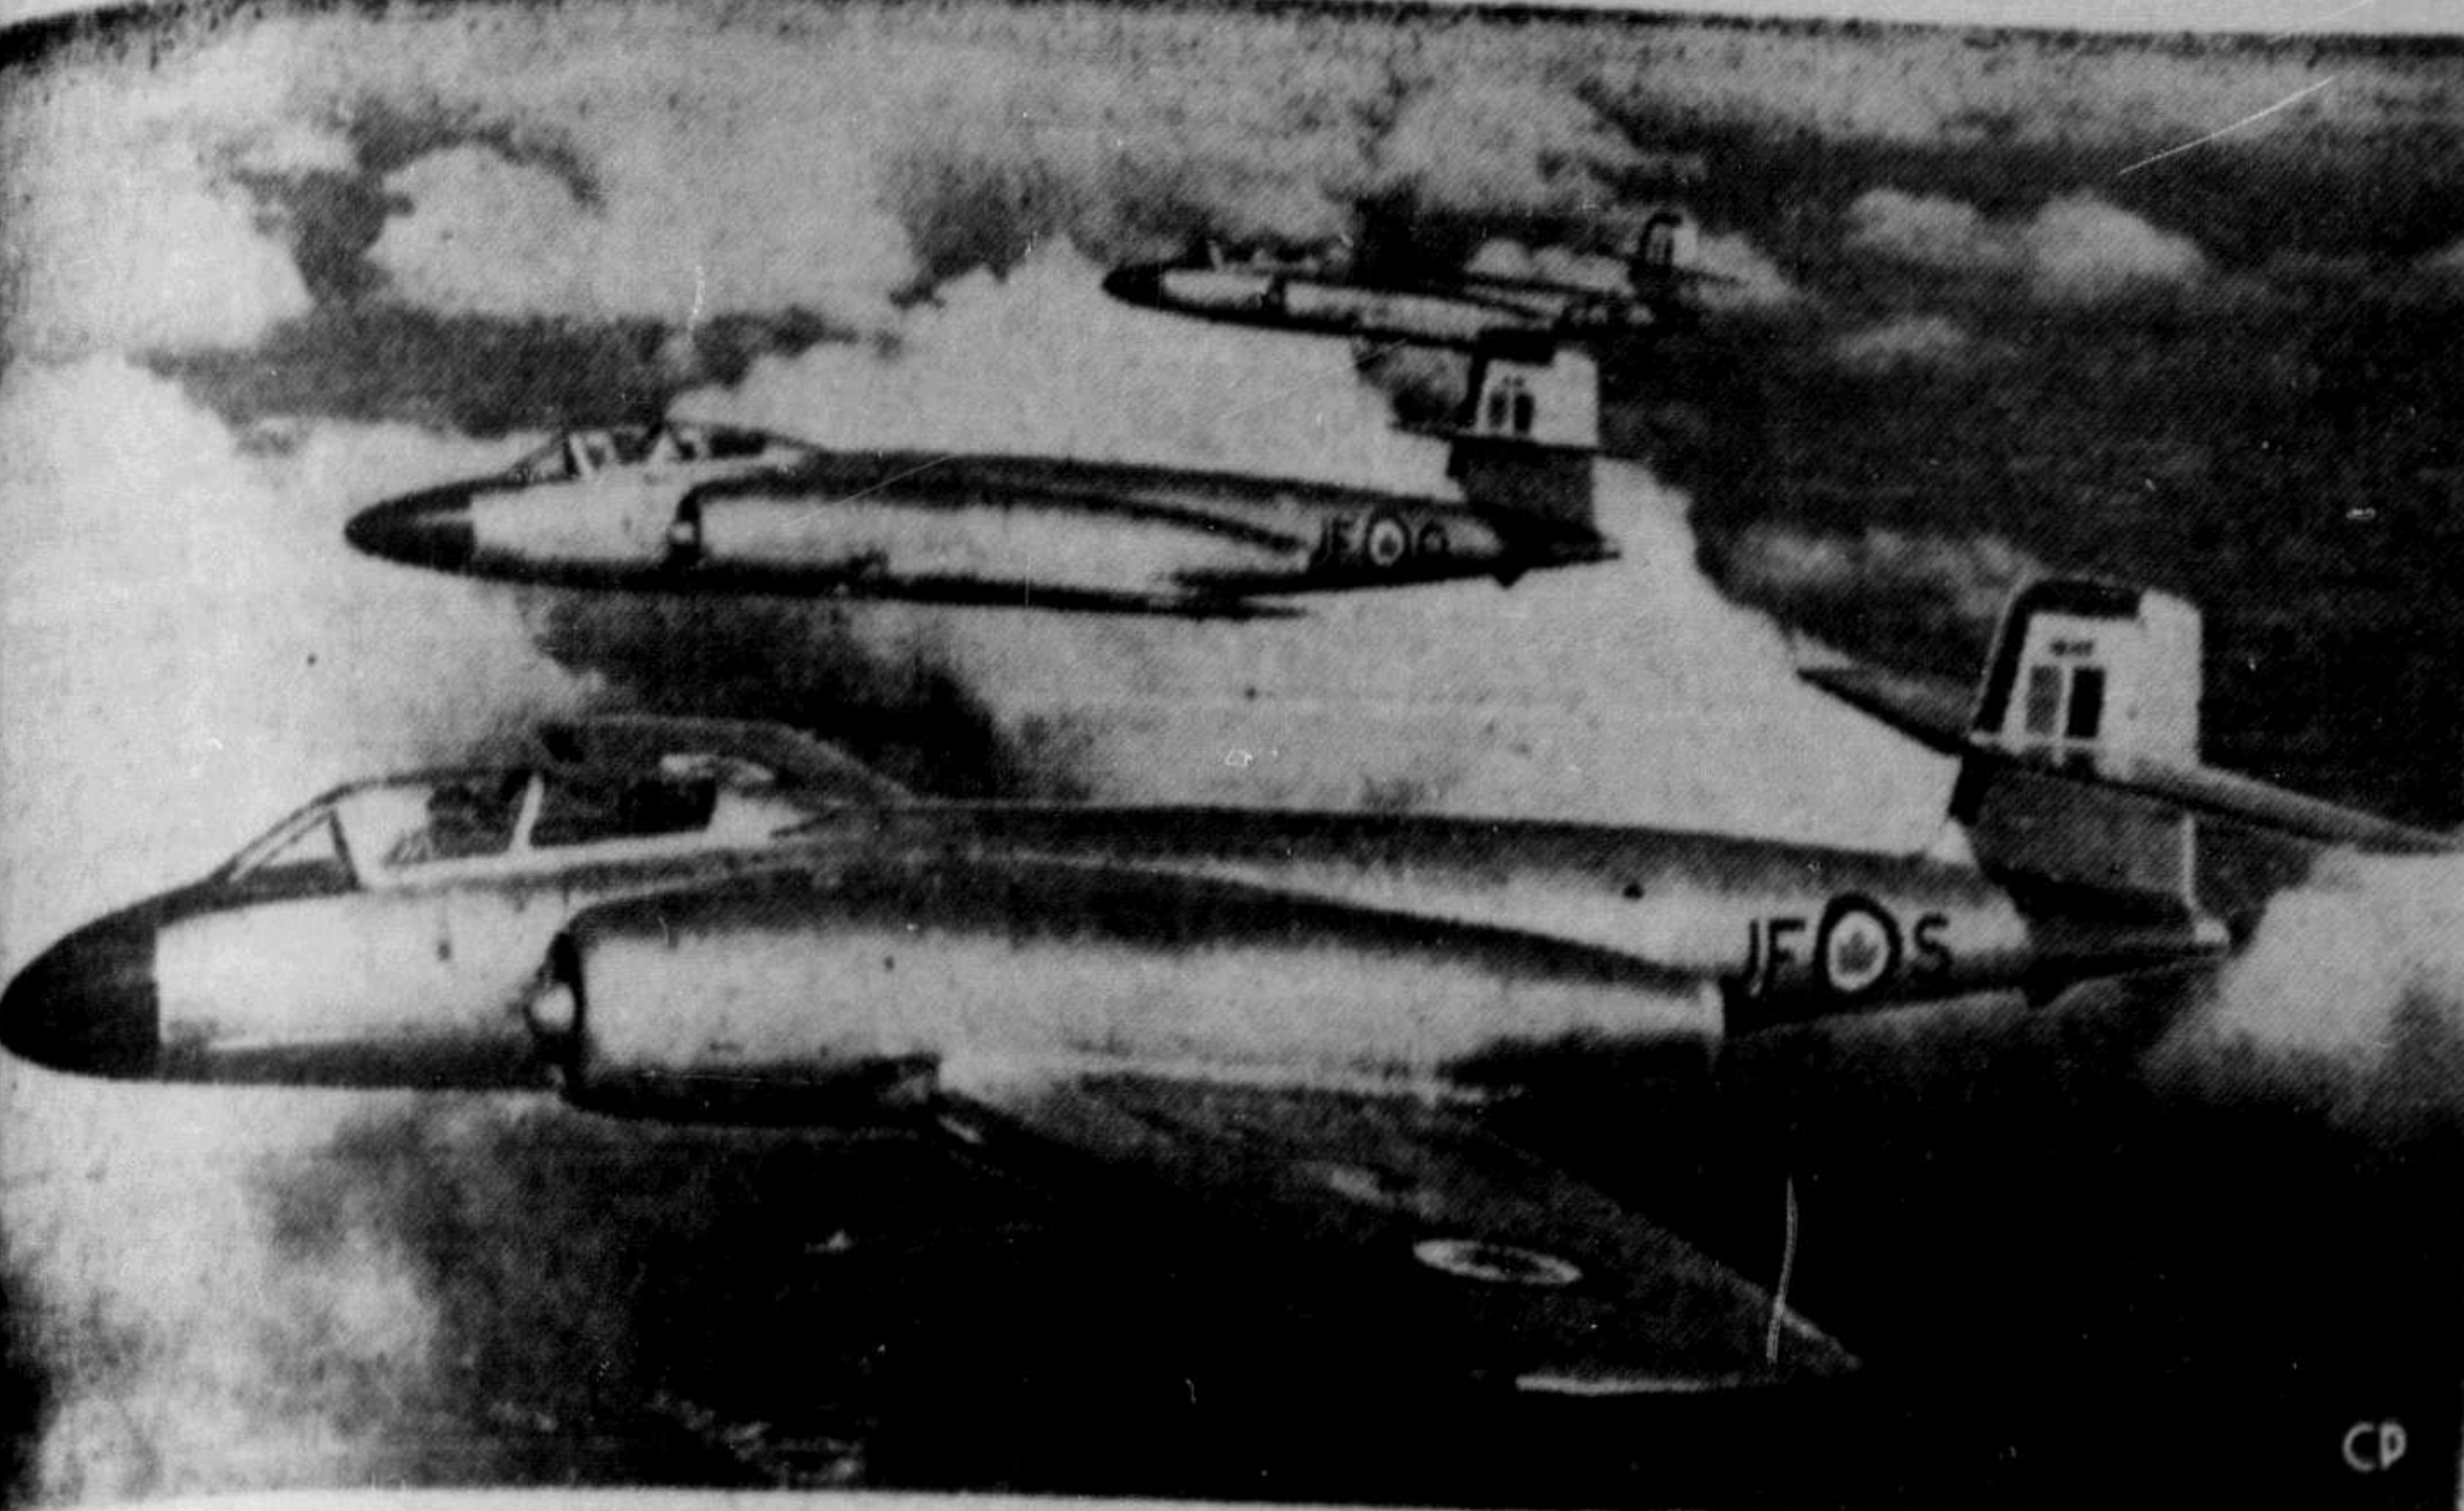

Founded by a Quebec newspaperman, Alphonse desJardine, in 1900, the movement now comprises 3,000 separate unions operating under provincial charter.

The unions are organized within groups of people who pool their savings to lend money to one another at low rates of interest. They are non-profit making and have the same legal status as a business corporation. Their books are subject to provincial audit. They are operated by their own membership who elect directors to serve voluntarily. The treasurer, however, may be paid.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, in a message of congratulation, said the members were strengthening the spirit of thrift and self-help as well as improving their own standard of living by "pooling their savings... to help meet the legitimate needs of their members for credit."

Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario said "the principle of mutual assistance is the very essence of democracy; the promotion of thrift and economic improvement is a most worthy endeavor."

Prairie Border Town Expects Oil Bonanza As Drillers Close in on Main 'Hot Spot'

ESTEVAN, Sask. (CP)—When the ship comes in the town's 4,000 residents expect that it will be laden with a cargo of light Oil "hot spot" of the prairie is a phrase that reverberates up and down the Souris River Valley and echoes back from the Williston Basin. Mayor Harry Nicholson says "oil prospects in the Estevan area look good." Along Main Street casual conversation will not get far before somebody talks up a derrick, sinks a deepest well and from there on the discussion wades through a sea of oil—Estevan's sea.

IN WILLISTON BASIN
How come all this optimism? Well, it's part geography, part geology, the favorable circumstance of an old ocean bed and the fact that promising discoveries of oil have been made in territory adjacent to and geologically associated with the Estevan terrain.

Estevan is in the Williston Basin. Some 300,000 square miles of this basin runs through Montana, North and South Dakota, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. American oil experts have said that this ancient sea channel may prove the biggest of all United States oil fields.

The picture is shaping up that way. At Tioga, N.D., some 35 miles south of Estevan, there now are about 50 commercial wells producing light oil. Other discoveries have been made in North Dakota within 30 miles of Estevan.

Interesting things are also happening on the Canadian side of the border. At Ratcliffe, some 40 miles west of Estevan, test drilling is going ahead in expectation of finding the light oil zone that proved to be so productive in the Tioga-Williston area of North Dakota.

A small amount of light oil has been found at shallow depth near Tilston, Man., 90 miles northeast of Estevan and in the basin area.

Oil leases in the Estevan area, which once went for 10 cents an acre, now have reached as high as $25 an acre. The town holds mineral rights on 105 acres for which it turned down $25 an acre for oil lease rights. This property is one of the few parcels of freehold land in the area still unleased.

Oil leases at Ratcliffe now are going for as high as $65 an acre. Recently, a farmer of the Torquay district 25 miles west of Estevan was offered $30 an acre plus a bonus of $150,000 if oil was found on his property. He turned down the offer.

Farmers are being made tempting offers for oil leases and mineral rights but, with good grain crops this year, they are not rushing to grab the offers. Those who let their acreage go for as little as 10 cents a few years ago now are regretting their hastiness.

One farmer in the Crosby, N.D., area 28 miles southwest of Estevan reported he had received $50 an acre for his section of land. Others in North Dakota are reported getting as high as $350 an acre.

Canuck Sqdn. Ldr. To Serve in Korea

NORTH LUFFENHAM, England (CP)—Sqn. Ldr. Andy MacKenzie of Montreal will leave Canada's United Kingdom fighter base shortly to serve in Korea, it is learned.

MacKenzie is officer commanding No. 441 Silver Fox jet fighter squadron, destined to serve with NATO forces in Europe.

His fellow fighter-pilots describe him as "one of our solid citizens." MacKenzie won the DFC in the Second World War as a fighter pilot.

Wing Cmdr. Bob Davidson of Vancouver, also a DFC winner, now is in Korea on the "freshener" plan arranged between the RCAF and the United States Army air force. All pilots participate in combat missions. MacKenzie will spend six months in Korea or do 50 missions—"which ever happens first."

HEINZ puts in the CREAM

You add ONLY water

RESULT: real Cream of Tomato Soup

SAVE 1/2 PINT OF MILK with every tin of HEINZ CREAM OF TOMATO SOUP

When you buy straight Tomato Soup and add an equal amount of milk to produce a soup that tastes something like Cream of Tomato Soup, you lose out on getting a rich creamy flavour and you also lose out on the cost—especially the way prices are today.

Why not buy Cream of Tomato Soup to start with, as made by Heinz. Then you can save on milk and get a better result by simply adding water. Instead of a milky tomato soup you will get the true creamy taste most people enjoy—for Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup is made with thick country cream.

Remember, too, that this soup is much more flavourful because only pedigreed tomatoes are good enough for Heinz.

Try a comparison between straight tomato soup diluted with milk and Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup with only water added. When you have tasted the wonderful difference you will want to stock up with Heinz and eat happily ever after.

Europeans May See Coronation On Television if Plan Works

LONDON (Reuters) — About 2,000,000 viewers in six European countries will watch the Coronation next summer on their television sets if a revolutionary British Broadcasting Corporation plan works out. The state-controlled BBC is planning to transmit its TV coverage of the coronation to France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and possibly to West Germany and Denmark over Europe's first continent-wide television hook-up.

It also hopes to show the televised Coronation in theatres in four major British cities, enabling thousands more than Britain's 1,457,000 TV set owners to see the most magnificent spectacle of the post-war era.

"Right now we are awaiting permission from the Duke of Norfolk, who, as Earl Marshal, is responsible for organizing the Coronation," said a BBC spokesman.

NBC PLAN OFF
The National Broadcasting Company earlier this year considered bringing the televised Coronation ceremonies to North America by means of a "moving staircase" of 10 aircraft, carrying relay equipment, spaced out over the Atlantic.

But today, Romney Wheeler, NBC representative in London, reported that the project "is definitely off."

The BBC spokesman said his firm could only transmit its Coronation coverage "as far as the French north coast."

"Then it would be up to the French to relay it to the rest of the continent," he added.

TV experts here say that a conversion station will be required if the continental hook-up is to work. That's because the BBC transmits a different type of picture (405-line) than that used in other European countries (625-line system). Engineers solved the same problem earlier this year when a Paris-London video network was established.

Thousands May Lose U.S. Citizenship

MONTREAL — Thousands of United States citizens living in Canada, even though they hold valid passports and other documents, may possibly lose their citizenship overnight Dec. 24 when denationalization clauses of the McCarran Act come into effect, the United States consulate here said today.

The object of the new law, a consular official explained, is to tighten the security of the United States by stricter control over admission of aliens and by withdrawal of citizenship privileges from persons failing to meet its obligations.

The official said that although detailed instructions regarding application of the new law have not yet been received, the consulate is asking U.S. citizens to check with their consulates to determine how they stand.

There was no cut-and-dried rule applying and circumstances could alter any individual case.

Among those expected to be affected are Americans of military age living in Canada who have failed to register at U.S.

consulate. There was no immediate estimate available of the number in Canada.

In Ottawa, a spokesman for the U.S. embassy recalled that early last summer the U.S. government ordered its nationals of draft age in other countries to register at their consulates for selective service in July or as they reached the draft age in following months.

Under the McCarran Act passed by Congress at its last session, failure to comply would raise the presumption of an attempt to evade military training or service. That would make the U.S. citizen liable to lose citizenship.

Without buffing, gives brightest, hardest polish you've ever walked on!

S. C. JOHNSON & SON LTD. Brantford, Ontario.

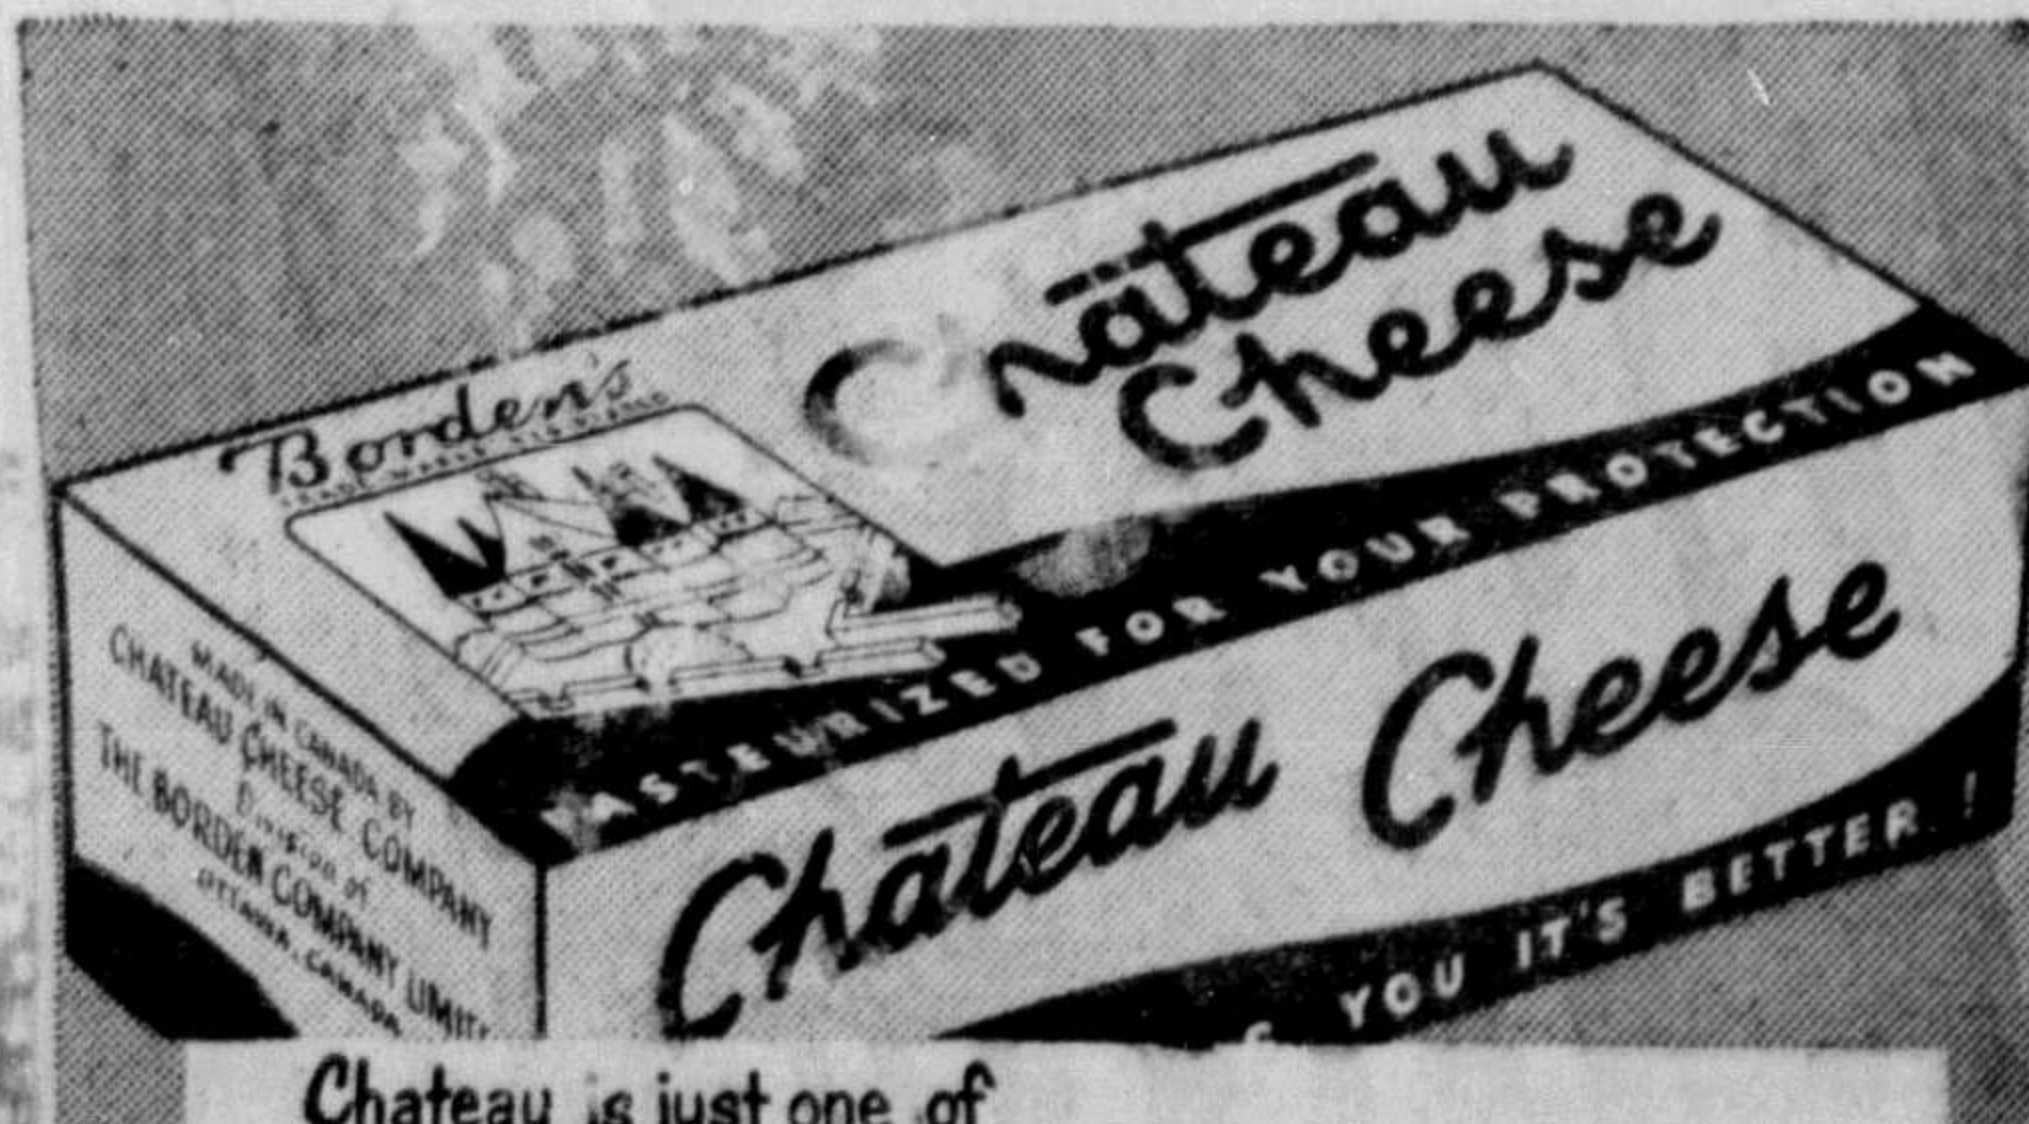

Since the first Canada Savings Bond was sold — interest payments totalling about ninety three and a half million dollars have been paid out to about one million owners. This represents an average return of approximately $100. Some owners have earned more interest than this — some less — but all would agree that they have had a handsome return for an investment that is cashable at full face value at an instant's notice. It is the easiest, most carefree way to earn money that one can imagine. And now the new Seventh Series of Canada Savings Bonds offer a better return than ever! They pay an average of 3.44% per year if held for their full term of 10 years and 9 months. The Seventh Series bonds — like earlier issues — are cashable at full face value plus interest at any time at any bank in Canada.

What makes the difference?

One cheese sandwich can look just like another... but the flavor can be deliciously better, thanks to hearty Chateau! The secret of Chateau's taste-tempting mellowness is a master blending of fine Canadian Cheddar with thick, fresh cream. It's a real cheese flavor... that makes the tempting difference in cheese dishes, sandwiches, salads, snacks.

Chateau is just one of BORDEN'S FINE CHEESES

Try these Borden Cheese favorites too!
Smooth Boursier Cream Cheese, zesty Canabec, tangy Grated Cheese, and Borden's 6 Cheese Spreads (in glasses).

Canada Savings Bonds—Seventh Series—mature in 10 years and 9 months. They pay an average of 3.44% per year if held for this full term. The bonds are cashable at full face value plus interest at any time at any bank in Canada. Each bond bears ten 3/4% coupons—the first of these being payable on August 1st, 1954 (1 year and 9 months from date of issue). Subsequent coupons become payable August 1st yearly thereafter until maturity. If the bond is cashed before the first coupon becomes payable simple interest is paid at 2.14% per year calculated monthly. The average return per year gradually improves the longer the bond is held until it reaches 3.44% at maturity. The Seventh Series is available in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1000 and $5000 and the limit for holdings in any one name is $5000. The bonds are registered in the owner's name. They are non-assignable and non-transferable. They may be purchased from investment dealers, banks and other savings institutions or through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Former Woman Doctor, Now Man, Married

ABERDEEN, Scotland (Reuters)—Dr. Ewan Forbes-Semphill, who recently changed his name from Elizabeth, was married quietly here to his housekeeper, Isobel Mitchell. News of the wedding, toasted in champagne, did not leak out until today.

Only 20 friends and relations, including the groom's brother, Lord Semphill, attended the ceremony in the doctor's home, officiated by Rev. Peter J. MacEwen.

Groom and bride, both aged 40, have now left on their honeymoon.

Hospitals Praise Art Therapy

VANCOUVER (CP)—Curative magic is being found in a paint brush in several Vancouver hospitals.

Dr. Eric Loewe, artist graduate in psychology who received his Ph.D. at Munich University, is in charge—a full time art therapist.

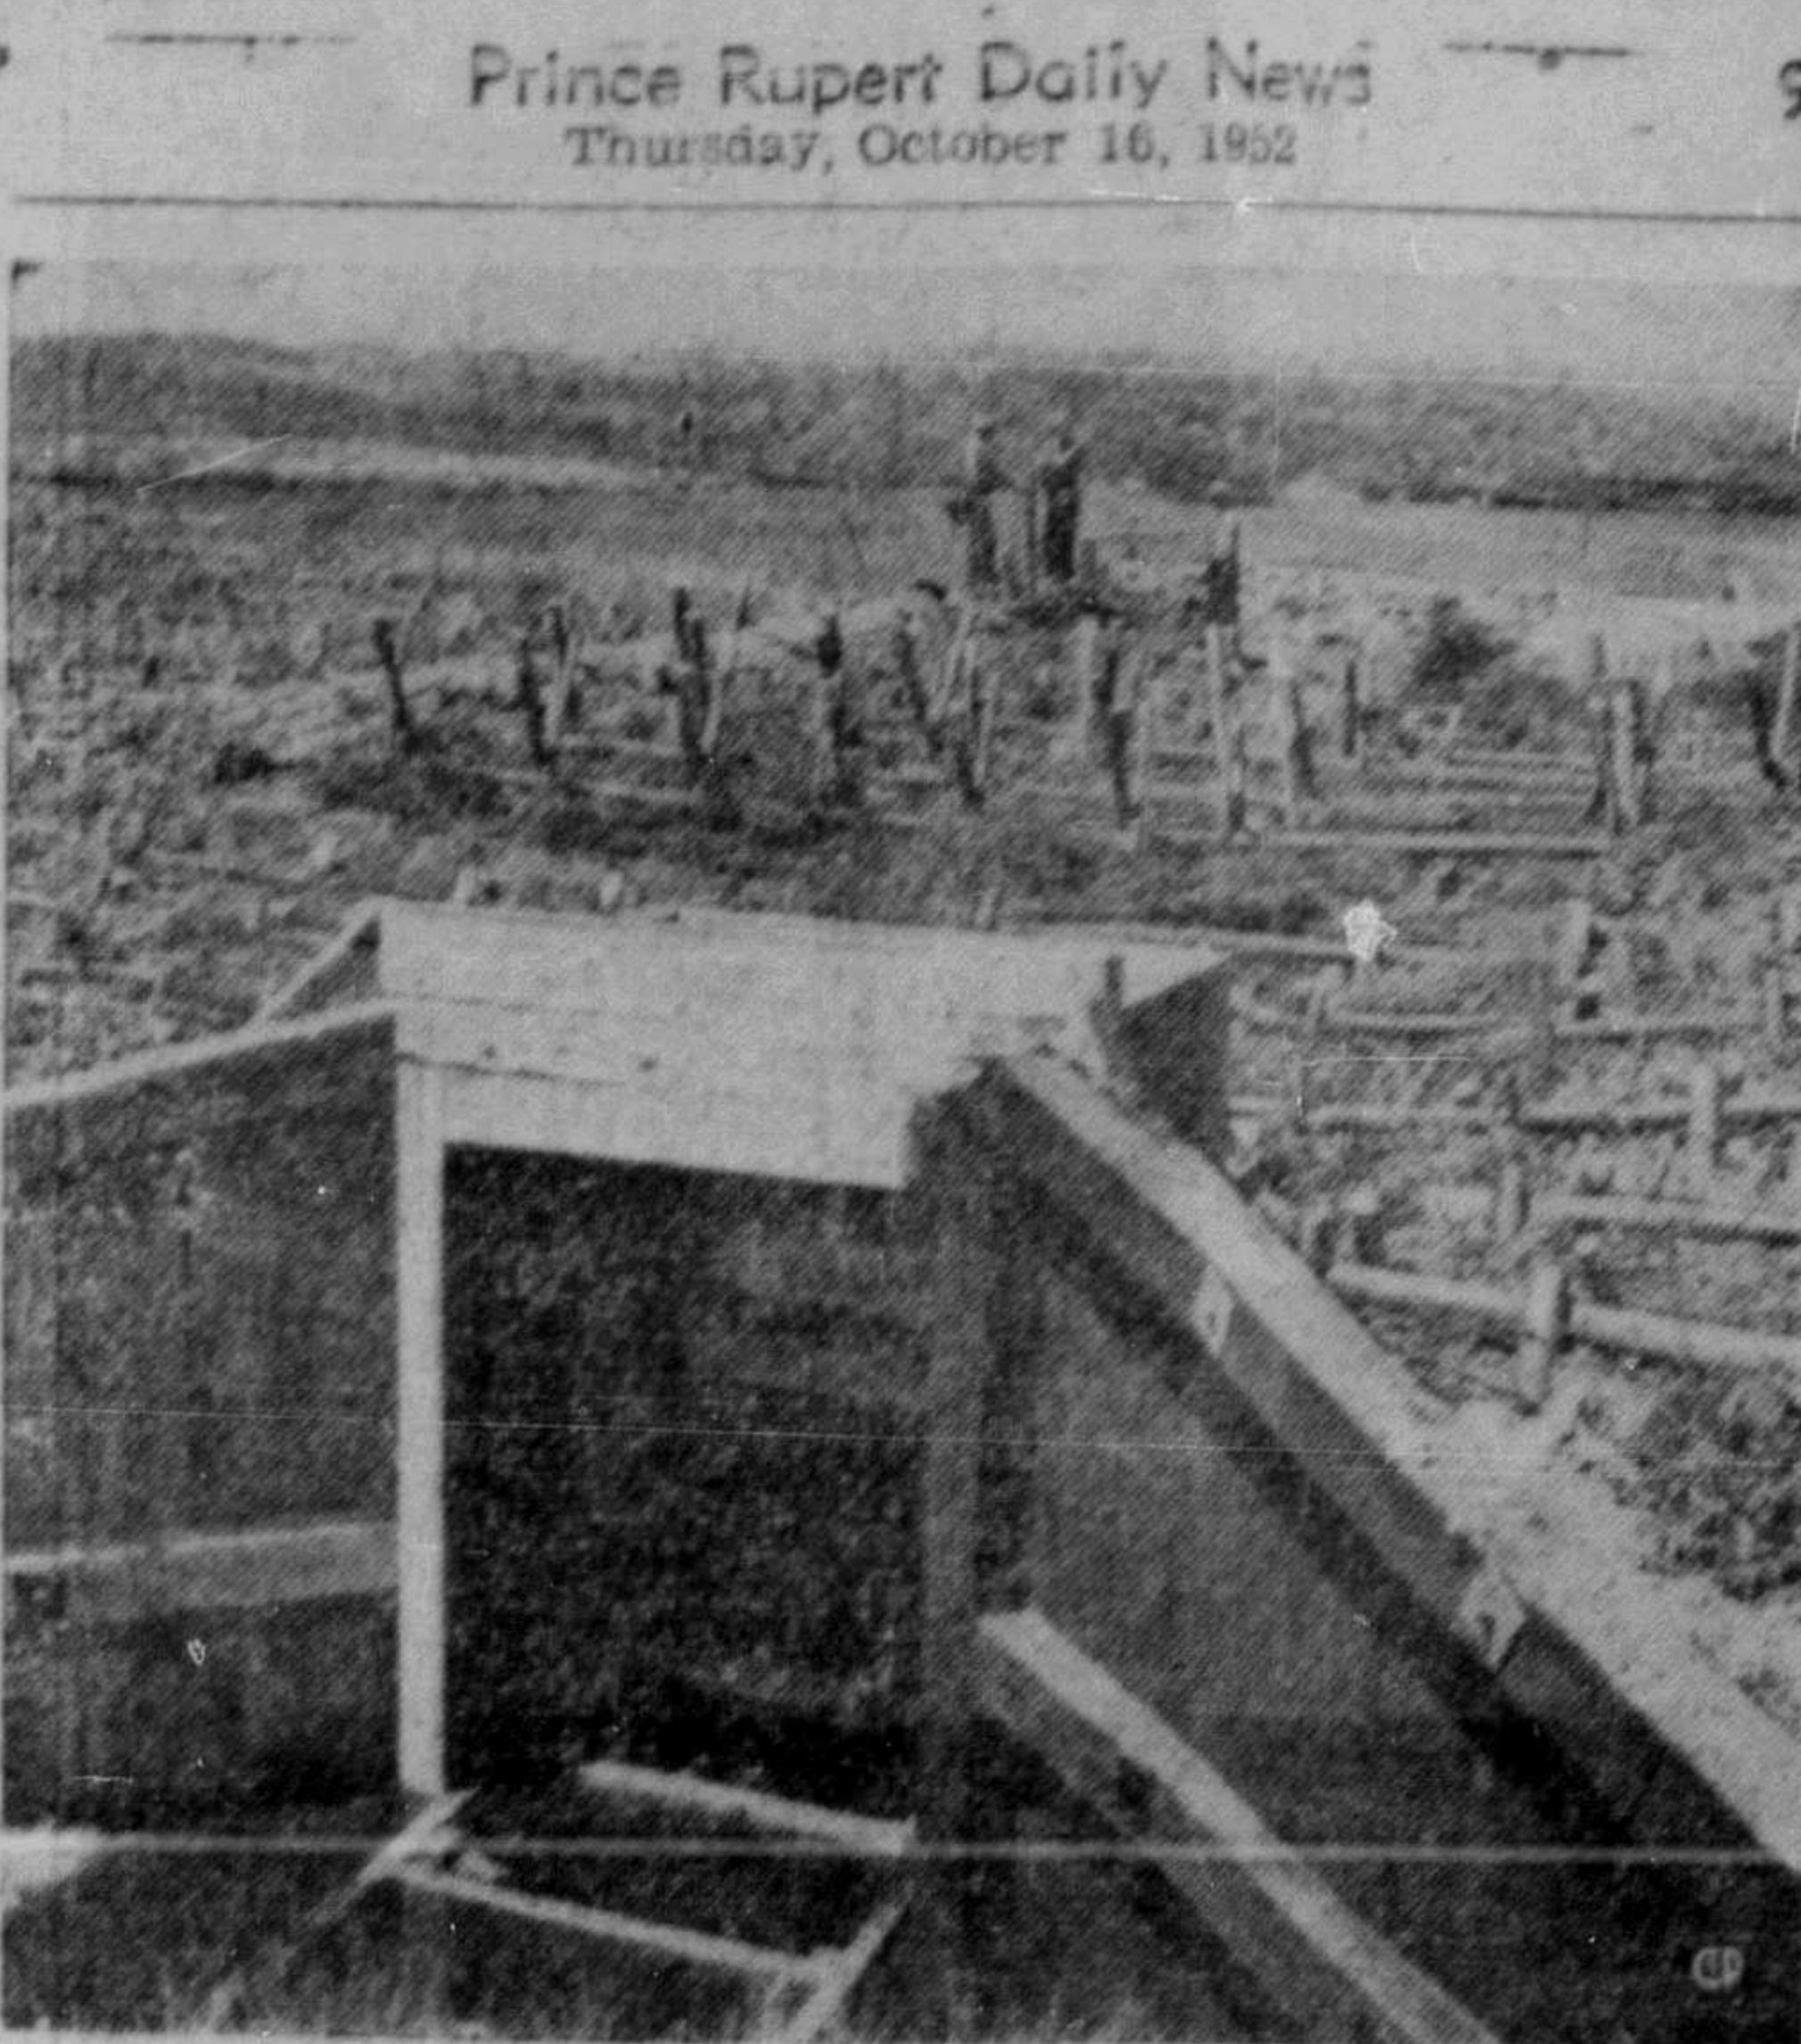

"It has been a recognized branch of healing in Europe for many years," he said, "and I thought there was no reason why it should not be effective here."

It took five years to sell the idea, but now there are "art schools" in four Vancouver hospitals. There he shows patients how to overcome boredom and in some instances to paint themselves back to health.

Painting soothes psychiatric patients, helps unravel their problems by its calm, creative concentration.

Herb Webb, 33, has been lying flat in bed for 10 months. "You can't imagine how boring it is reading books week on end," he said. "You get into a deplorable mental state. Dr. Loewe put me onto painting for the first time in my life and now the day isn't long enough."

Another patient, formerly in a strait-jacket and considered dangerous, now mixes freely with others.

PROTECT LANDS—Old works are being reconstructed and new ones built in the Maritimes to protect 80,000 acres of Canada's most productive lands. Aboiteaux, as shown, will once more hold back tidal waters at many points in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. A timber structure with timber wings contains a sluice through which water passes. Earth is piled on top forming a dike and a criss-cross of stakes and branches driven at an angle holds it in place, preventing erosion.

Nudist Colony Life Fine For Soul But Hard on Feet

By PRESTON GROVER

ISLE OF LEVANT, France (AP)—Life in this Mediterranean nudist colony is fine for the soul and hard on the feet.

The island lies 10 miles off France opposite the summer vacation spot of Le Lavandou. I took a boat ride over.

As the boat comes in to the small dock, the nudists come running out from among the trees and rocks and help the passengers ashore.

The men are more nude than the women. The children are nudest of all—right spanking nude. The men wear a covering about the size of a folded pocket handkerchief, say five or six inches square.

Some women wear halters but most don't. Elsewhere they wear about the smallest bathing suit you ever saw.

The law requires that the minimum one piece of cloth be worn. We were told that a good many are not very particular about that when they got back into the "interior." I walked to the top of the island without excessive peering into bushes and didn't see any law violations.

The island is six miles long and two wide, containing nearly four square miles of trees, barren rocks, and brush.

Mainly the island seems to be rocks, gravel, and dry paths under the trees.

Many live in tents although there are four small hotels. People come from England, Germany, Holland, France, Spain, Italy and both North and South America. At a grocery store the nude little housewives buy long loaves of bread and sacks of food, cuddling them in their arms as they mince in bare or sandled feet along the gravelly paths of their tents.

LAND, SEA, AIR—Canada's defence forces on land, sea and air are gradually being brought to the peak desired by Canadian leaders. More than $5,000,000,000 is being spent on rearmament between 1951-1954. Key factors are: the CF-100 Canuck jet fighter (upper left) the British Centurion tank coming into general army use (upper right); and the 18,000-ton kingpin of the navy's anti-submarine preparations, the aircraft carrier Magnificent. The Maggie will remain in service until a new carrier is ready in 1955. (CP from National Defence)

Port of Churchill Beds Down for Winter
After Record Summer Shipment of Grain

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—High on the rim of the Arctic Circle in the Land of the Little Sticks, this busy Hudson Bay grain port prepares to bed down for winter.

In a few short weeks, a curtain of ice will close in, cutting off overseas grain shipments which reached record heights this year.

Twenty-seven ships entered the port compared with 21 last year. All but one left with grain from Saskatchewan.

Grain clearances this season soared to 8,500,000 bushels compared with 7,250,000 in 1951. Incoming cargoes totalled about 8,000 tons, considerably greater than in any previous year.

Records were broken despite a 14-day lag in the middle of the season when not a single ship was at dock. Vessels from Britain, Italy, Germany and Chile took wheat to their home ports.

The shipping season at any time is short, limited to three months of the year. High insurance rates before July 26 and after Oct. 10 make the port an unattractive call.

The rest of the year, Churchill is a lonely, windswept port with air and rail its only outside contacts.

The town, built in 1931, was carved from a peninsula of rock and muskeg. White whales play in its beautiful harbor.

The climate is one of the most bitter in the world. Polar bears have wandered into town and outdoor water pipes have been known to freeze solid in July.

"Little grows, mostly moss, and nothing over seven inches in the Barren Lands just south of the 57th parallel.

In spite of ice and rugged terrain, there are some who want the shipping season extended. Sir Clement Jones, chairman of the Commonwealth Shipping Committee, visited Churchill last year and as a result insurance rates were dropped and the opening date moved back.

The Hudson Bay Route Association has said 20,000,000 bushels can be cleared from the port without trouble. There is a possibility clearance might be geared to 12,000,000 bushels if a grain handlers' strike at the Lakehead had gone through.

Much amusement was caused at the port by a wire from Montreal advising the last ship of the season—the Gluckauf of German registry which sailed yesterday—would leave in ballast if there was any danger of her freezing in.

Reports indicate ships can be handled for another two weeks because of present good weather and possibly four.

There is little hope for expansion of present facilities. The federal government, which administers the port, has said there are no plans for building. The port came into existence because of savings in distance and freight rates. Some 1,076 miles are lopped off the route from Calgary and Liverpool compared with the trip through the Great Lakes to the Atlantic.

The single elevator has a capacity of 2,500,000 bushels. Average loading time is about 12 hours but cars have been backed up for hundreds of miles waiting for ships to come in.

Ice, the great barrier, makes ship captains nervous. Helicopters were used for the first time this year in tracking down paths through floes and past dangerous icebergs. Radar is almost a necessity.

By BOB THOMAS
(Second of two articles on Hollywood's part in the presidential race. Today: The Campaign for Stevenson)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The 1952 presidential campaign is drawing the most Democratic activity here in eight years.

The number of celebrities working for Adlai Stevenson still doesn't match the large groups who followed the magic drawing power of Franklin Delano Roosevelt in previous campaigns. But the current race is a far cry from 1948, when only Lucille Ball, Ronald Reagan, Robert Ryan, Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall spoke for Truman.

Of that group, Ryan now is working for Stevenson, but Miss Ball is on the Eisenhower bandwagon. Reagan, retiring president of the Screen Actors Guild, came out for Ike before the conventions, but now is leaning toward Adlai. The Bogarts, who attended the Madison Square Garden rally for Ike last spring, are back in the Democratic column.

SERVICES FREE
One of the leaders of the Hollywood effort for Stevenson is Allen Rivkin, a screen writer. "We are organizing a mass-media campaign that would cost any commercial advertiser $1,000,000," he said. "But all of the services involved are donated, and the other costs are absorbed by our Hollywood contributors."

Unlike the Republican group, which is concentrating on star appearances at rallies, the Democrats are mainly concerned with radio transmissions and TV films. On his trip here last month, Stevenson spent an hour and a half before the movie cameras. The Hollywood volunteers are producing four 15-minute films and transmissions and 25 one-minute shots.

The Hollywood group has also provided skits and songs. The Hollywood for Stevenson-Sparkman Club books some stars to rallies. But the emphasis is on radio and TV. The group is providing Bette Davis, George Jessel and others to induce such Democrats as Harry Truman on a radio series sponsored by the AFL.

Others players who have publicly supported Stevenson: Dana Andrews, Ethel Barrymore, Eddie Cantor, Ava Gardner, Tony Curtis, Marlene Dietrich, Jane Green, Janet Leigh, Ann Miller, Harpo Marx, Dinah Shore, Don Taylor, Frank Sinatra and Shelley Winters.
