The city's budget of expenditure this year, according to the estimates, exclusive of the tarvia and street surfacing work but providing $700 for interest on its capitalization, amounts to $337,249.34 made up as follows:

MINING NOW SOUND BASIS

Lieut.-Governor Bruce Tells Canadian Club Why Industry Prosperous

VANCOUVER, March 31.—Mining in the province has never been on such a sound and substantial basis as it is today, said Lieut.-Governor Bruce in addressing the Canadian Club yesterday. There are three reasons for this. First we now have trained engineers, mineralogists and operators. The day of the old prospector is gone for ever. In the second place we have proper machinery facilitating the handling of the ore. The third reason is that the value of metals is doubled.

Halibut Landings Less Than Last Year but Prices Better; Canadian Boats Ahead So Far

Halibut landings at this port since February 15, when the close season was lifted, have totalled 3,721,400 pounds as compared with a total of 4,927,000 pounds for a corresponding period in 1925. Unfavorable weather has been the main cause for the smaller amount of fish being landed this year, many vessels having come in with broken catches, but, as far as the fishermen have been concerned, the shortage of the catches has been made up for in a large degree with a much more favorable market. Prices did not drop at any time to the levels that were prevailing at that time last year although they were rather low around March 1. Toward the end of this month, bids were exceptionally high.

Of the total of 3,721,400 pounds landed here so far this year, 2,871,600 pounds was from American bottoms and 849,800 pounds from Canadian. Last year, 4,287,200 pounds had been landed by American boats and 640,200 pounds by Canadian.

During the month of March a total of 3,159,700 pounds was landed, 2,395,900 pounds from 113 American vessels and 763,800 pounds from 108 Canadian. Prices for first class fish went as high as 12c on March 23, and as low as 10c on March 1. The total of 3,159,700 pounds landed here this March compares with 3,810,800 pounds landed in March, 1925.

Taking An Interest In City Government.

It is a fine thing to see people interested in the government of their city. In that way only can we expect good government. And everyone will agree that we need good government here.

There are few places in the world where the building of a city presents as many problems as in Prince Rupert. The townsite has baffled many a person who thought to invest money here but could not realize how a city could be built on such a one as this saw here. Yet it is not a bad townsite except that it is difficult and expensive to bring into line as a modern city.

Great improvements have been made here during the past few years and naturally we have had to pay for those improvements. It does not seem as if there would be any relief for some time as new work is being asked constantly and the old work has to be kept up. However, good progress has been made and the work seems to be permanent.

Native Sons And The City Council.

The Native Sons have made proposals to the city council in regard to possible means of keeping down expenses. Those who have had experience in civic government ought to be the best judges as to the feasibility of some of their recommendations, but it is hoped they will be given careful consideration. If we can improve on the present methods, we all hope those improvements will be made. The Ratepayers' Association also has interested itself in the affairs of the city. This is a time when the best advice is needed and the most careful thought should be given to every scheme advanced. While the city is not in bad financial condition, the way to keep like that is to watch our steps closely.

Liberal Victory In Ontario.

It was quite natural that Liberals should be elated over their victory in West Middlesex, Ontario, when Hon. J. C. Elliott, minister of labor, was elected by a large majority, almost two votes to one over his Conservative opponent. It is to be hoped that the Mackenzie King government will justify the trust imposed in them by the people of the country. They will have a difficult row to hoe but the premier has a great deal of native ability and much cultivated political astuteness. He should be able to keep his followers together for a couple of years, unless something unforeseen happens to upset the present calculation. The chief difficulty is to reconcile the protectionists of Quebec and the free traders of the prairies. Mutual concessions have to be made in all democratic government.

Taxation Problems Always Before Us.

Taxation problems are always before us. We are constantly faced with demands for money for carrying on of public or community work and we always have to pay. The result is that new systems are adopted and protests are made and yet the money has to be found just the same.

At one time there was a rage for the exemption of improvements from taxation, but since that time many cities have found it necessary to change back to the old system or to go half way by taxing fifty per cent of the improvements. Prince Rupert has so far been able to hold out against such a reversion and it is to be hoped the present system will be continued. It may be necessary, however, to enlarge the basis of taxation by including improvements, unless the greatest care in financing is taken.

POLICING CITY IS CONSIDERED

Council Agrees to Negotiate with View to Having Province Assume Duties

SITUATION DISCUSSED.

Opinions for and Against Proposal are Stated at Council Meeting Last Night

Ald. Brown's resolution with a view to having the provincial authorities take over the policing of the city of Prince Rupert was seconded by Ald. Perry and carried by the city council last night after it had been allowed to read that the city enter into negotiations with this end in view instead of making an agreement forthwith.

Speaking to his resolution, Ald. Brown said that he believed he spoke for a great many citizens when he said that the moral condition of the city was not what it might be and the policing in the past had not been all that it might have been. Illegal sale of liquor and immorality was said to be rife in the downtown sections. The change of administration, he felt, might bring about an improvement in this respect and he also believed that the city stood to gain financially.

Ald. Larsen failed to see where any benefit was to be derived in making the change. In principle, he was opposed to the proposal and, in any case, it would have to be proven to him that the city was to benefit. There was a democratic principle involved and, by making the change, he believed that the city would be giving away a right to which it was entitled. Speaking from his own personal experience, Ald. Larsen said that he had spent a great deal of time in such smaller communities in the north as Smithers, Anyox, Alice Arm and Stewart which were policed by the provincial authorities and he was prepared to declare on oath that there was just as much vice and blind-pigging per capita in those communities as there was in Prince Rupert at the present time and that, while this city might not be all that it might be, it was comparatively as law abiding a community as any north of Vancouver. He was of the opinion that, if the council with the co-operation of the citizens as a whole, urged the city police to clean up the situation, results would be obtained. He further remarked that, if the policing of the city was placed in the hands of men who were receiving less than livable salaries, the way was laid open for corruption and graft.

Ald. Casey said he was agreeable to all possible information being obtained and to considering the idea on its merits but, with his present information, he was by no means committed to a change in policy at this time. He had always been a believer in self-government and, if the city could not direct its own police affairs, he felt it was a bad state of affairs. He could not see where anything was to be gained by turning over the city's policing to an organization that was not familiar with local problems. He could not see where efficiency was to be gained by the city giving away a privilege that it should control and, on principle, he was opposed to the proposal.

Ald. Jos. Greer suggested that the resolution be changed to read "that negotiations be opened" instead of that "an agreement be entered into." This would give the council the opportunity to investigate the proposal and ascertain its advantages and disadvantages before reaching any decision.

The amended wording was accepted by Ald. Brown and the resolution in such a form was then carried.

HISTORY TELLS OF GOVERNMENT

Oliver Said to be Honest, Successful Farmer and Skilled Parliamentarian

Here is news that will make Conservative party leaders envious! says the Victoria Daily Times. Premier Oliver is a "successful farmer, a skilled parliamentarian and an upright statesman." This on no less an authority than G. J. Reeve, M.A., Principal of St. John's Technical High School, Winnipeg, and distinguished historian. Moreover, Mr. Reeve records his opinion of the British Columbia Premier in black and white in his new history of Canada, a volume which will be widely used in Canadian schools. Incidentally, he takes a vigorous rap at Conservative rule in this province, asserting that the former Conservative government spent money with "the utmost recklessness."

Copies of the Reeve history of Canada were read by officials of the Department of Education, who have long sought for an ideal Canadian history for use in high schools. There is no chance of the Reeve history being used, however, it was asserted at the department: Its complimentary references to the Premier and its attack on the Conservative government, however disinterested and impartial they may be, would have every Conservative in the province up in arms, it is expected, if the volume were used for the guidance of the young.

Conservative Recklessness For the education of Canadian children, Mr. Reeve outlines the history of politics in British Columbia in the following blunt paragraphs:

"Party government began with the ministry of Mr. (afterwards Sir Richard) McBride in 1903. A demand for better terms on the ground that British Columbia was making an excessive contribution to the upkeep of the Dominion was met by a grant of a million dollars from the federal government.

"The McBride government, seated firmly in power, began spending public money with the utmost recklessness. Road building and railway guarantees absorbed huge sums of money, and charges of gross extravagance led to the retirement of Sir Richard McBride in 1915. His lieutenant and successor, Mr. Bowser, introduced woman suffrage but his government was decisively defeated in the elections of 1916 mainly because of its financial record.

"The brief premiership of Mr. Brewster, who inaugurated liquor control and tried to kill the patronage system, was followed by the Oliver ministry, whose leader, 'Honest John,' is a successful farmer, skilled parliamentarian and upright statesman."

The Anglo-Belgian Mines Ltd., with a strong directorate consisting of Russell Whitelaw, Charles Reid, and John J. Murphy of Vancouver and James W.

Doherty, Herbert Blumenthal, George H. Pecht and Robert H. O. Bohr of San Francisco, has been formed to operate the Devlin Zinc property on the northeast fork of the Kitsault River. Development work will be resumed this spring on the property on which a tunnel was commenced last year by the late John Devlin.

A. Maguire left last week with a train of pack horses for the Eagle property on Haystack Mountain near the La Rose mine which will be developed this year by W. G. McMorris of Vancouver who recently bonded it.

Spring is now opening here after a phenomenal winter during which there was practically no snow or cold weather.

STEWART

R. J. O'Reilly, placer expert for the Standard Mines Corporation, after spending the winter at the Big Missouri mine here, has left for the south preparatory to proceeding north to the McDames Creek district in the Cassiar district where he will resume charge of placer work which he started last season.

A deal is pending whereby southern investors will take over and develop the Mayflower group of claims, adjoining the Dunwell mine on the north, which is owned by H. P. Gibson. The deal will also include the Tye, belonging to James McKay and Charles Bibeau, and the Shamrock group, owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Gibson and J. V. Clegg.

Four hundred feet of tunnel has been driven as a result of the North Country Mining Co.'s winter operations on the Gloria group of claims on Bulldog Creek.

The Stewart Assembly, Native Sons of Canada, has elected officers as follows: President, Harry Scovil; first-president, Godfrey Smith; second vice-president, H. W. M. Rolston; treasurer, D. MacLean and R. W. Kennedy; secretary, Lee M. Gordon; chaplain, Sid Fraser; sergeant at arms, Sid Wickwire; inside guard, J. Gomer; outside guard, Kenneth McKay.

VICTORIA CLERGYMAN TALKS TO PROSPECTORS

VICTORIA, March 31.—"Man is a mere speck in the long series of life which has existed on the earth for millions of years," said Rev. Robert Connell in speaking before the Vancouver Island Prospectors' Association. "Every species of life has developed to a certain point," he said, "and then disappeared forever." Mostly fossils remains are of fish and shells and but rarely of mammals, but in California there is a remarkable natural museum of fossil animals which is unique in the world. It is a bituminous lake, out upon which the great mammals of the past wandered from time to time, broke through and became engulfed and preserved.

Animal remains disappear with great rapidity. For example, in certain parts hares multiply very quickly and, after a number of years, are invariably attacked by a disease of the throat which destroys them almost entirely. But so rapidly do the bodies decay that dead hares are rarely seen. It is, therefore, mostly in the sea or in sediments laid down in the sea, that fossils may be found. The practical importance of fossils is very great. For example, in looking for oil it is important to know that certain shells exist in certain oil-bearing strata and are an indication of the existence of these strata.

STUDENT VOTE WORRYING POLITICIANS OF JAPAN

TOKYO, March 31.—How Japanese students will vote, now that a law is effective giving them the suffrage, is worrying the politicians. There are many thousand students past twenty-five, the voting age under the new statute.

The majority of the students are said to be democratically, if not radically inclined and, if a Students' Party should be organized, the "old-line" leaders are unable to predict what the outcome might be.

NATION DRY MOVE LAUNCHED BY JAPANESE

TOKYO, March 31.—A nationwide movement to prohibit the drinking of alcoholic liquors by men under twenty-five years of age has been launched by eleven different bodies in Japan, including the Japan Temperance Union and the Women's Reform Society. Leaders of the movement hope the Diet will enact a bill raising the drinking age, which now is twenty years.

SPORT CHAT

A $25 investment in a litter of pups because "I get lonesome of 'ere" brought fame and fortune to Shorty Russick, the now prominent sleigh dog racer and winner of the hog dog derbies. From that $25 litter descended his present team of giant tawny Russian wolfhound huskies. At first the dogs were merely company for the litter trader. Then the sports at The Pas attracted him and he ran his first race there in 1923, finishing second in the 200-mile non-stop contest. From The Pas it was but a step to the exhibition and non-stop races at Banff and Winnipeg and then the big International at Quebec. The New Hampshire race was the ninth

The Portland hockey team did not get a chance to figure in the play-offs of the Western League but they may gather up more coin than the league leaders before the season closes. Being the only United States team in the Western league, Tex Rickard, the New York promoter had the Portland boys play a series of games in the Madison Square Garden, best two out of three, for a purse of $20,000, and it would not be strange if some of the stars on the Portland team are wearing Rickard's colors next season.

THORNTON ON CO-OPERATION

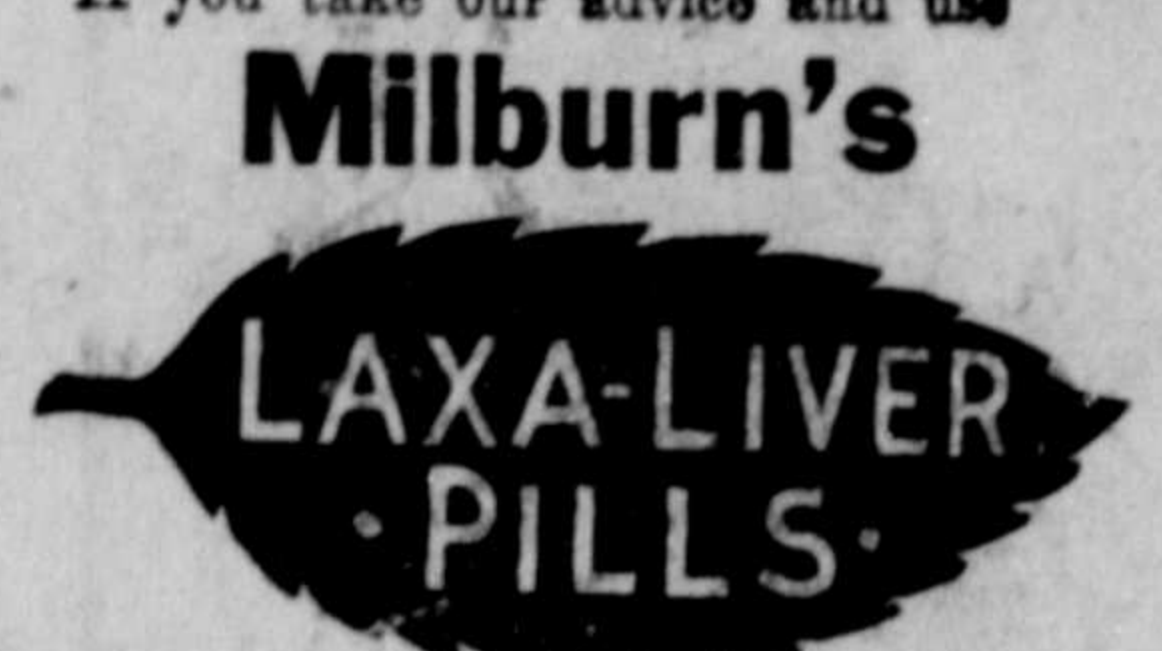

Sir Henry Says Remarkable Progress has Been Made on Railway

MONTREAL, Mar. 31.—Sir Henry Thornton addressing delegates representing nearly 2,000 employed in Canadian National Railway shops yesterday at the Mount Royal Hotel, expressed satisfaction with the results of the co-operative plan put into force in the main shops of the C.N.R. and said he looked forward to the time when it could be extended to all services on the line.

Sir Henry outlined in a general way the progress made on the Canadian National Railroads in the direction of improving services and decreasing deficits. Remarkable strides had been made by the C.N.R. in the direction of paying its own way, and he emphasized what an achievement and benefit to Canada the completion of this would be. The results achieved had been due in part to improved services brought about by co-operation and in this connection Sir Henry

Do Your Bowels Ever Become Constipated?

A free motion of the bowels, every day, should be the aim of every one who aspires to perfect health, for once the bowels become clogged-up all the other organs of the body get deranged, and all kinds of diseases and disorders are liable to attack the system.

You will find that they will regulate and keep your bowels and liver in proper shape, and when this is done there is not much chance of your ever being sick.

This valuable remedy has been on the market for the past 32 years; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

cified the voluntary offer of co-operation made by the rail shopmen to the railroad. He pointed out that he was gratified by the result to date of co-operation put into effect a year ago and looked forward to the time when the plan could be extended to all services on the C.N.R. He assured the men he would welcome the opportunity of extension.

IRON TRANSPARENT FOR THIRTY CENTIMETERS

LENINGRAD, Mar. 31.—Cast iron can be made transparent to a depth of thirty centimeters by the application of radium gamma, says Prof. Mysovski of the Leningrad Radium Institute. Hitherto by the Roentgen rays it was possible to make iron transparent to a depth of only ten inches. In the future by applying the gamma rays, he declares, all inherent flaws in metals will be accessible for examination.

Local physicists declare that Prof. Mysovski's discovery will revolutionize the metallurgical industry.

POPULATION OF STATES IS NOW 115,940,000

NEW YORK, Mar. 31.—An estimated gain of 1,629,000 in population in the United States last year was announced today by the National Bureau of Economic Research. The indicated gain for 1925 was almost identical with that for 1924.

The estimated population of continental United States was placed at 115,940,000 on January 1, 1926, or a gain of more than ten millions since the last Federal census in 1920.

TAX RATE 44 MILLS THIS YEAR AND ESTIMATES FOR 1926 FINALLY ADOPTED

than last year's expenditure which was $2,760.20.

The exhibition board, which asked for $3,000 this year, will receive $1,500, $150 less than it got last year.

The estimate of $100 allowed for maintenance of city buildings compares with an expenditure last year of $1,167.62.

Ald. Casey
Reopening the debate on the year's budget, Ald. Casey, chairman of the finance committee, stated that the estimates had been gone through once again from end to end and it was found that everything could be covered, including provision for water extensions and new fire hose, with a mill rate of 44 providing street larvia work and resurfacing was capitalized over a period of five years and a direct charge was made for scavenging. Ald. Casey again defended the proposal for the capitalizing of the street surfacing work. It was an expenditure that would practically eliminate maintenance for a period of five years or more and he thought that it was but a business proposition to spread the payment over that period. Further, it was good economy to do the work for, if it was not done, the streets might be destroyed.

Ald. Casey maintained that the advance in the mill rate this year was justified and that the citizens would get value therefor. The increase was not accounted for in any increase of general administration. Rather there had been a decrease. Reasons for the advance were increases in special rates, school expenditure, depreciation of land and water extensions. The last mentioned item included the giving of the city an emergency water supply from the mountain to the back of town in case there should be a breakdown in the Shawatlans main.

Ald. Casey then proceeded to give a detailed explanation of the budget.

Ald. Stephens
Ald. Stephens stated that the 44 mill rate was based on the assumption that all year's outstanding taxes and penalties would be paid. In order to play fair with future councils, he felt that the mill rate should be set so that blunders of the past and unpaid taxes would be taken care of. That was what was not being done this year. As for the capitalizing of maintenance, Ald. Stephens maintained that, if such a policy were followed, it would ultimately place the city in an impossible position. By capitalizing the expenditure of $18,000 for larvia work and $10,000 for surfacing down-town streets "to cover up the neglect of past years," the city would get off scot-free from maintenance this year. He was entirely opposed to such a proposal. Last year, maintenance had cost the city over $18,000.

Ald. Perry rose to refute the statement that maintenance had last year cost $18,000. This was a mistake and not more than half of that had been paid for maintenance. Repairs of sidewalks and other items had been included in the $18,000.

Ald. Stephens felt that if there had been juggling in the distribution the council should receive an explanation before the estimates for the year were adopted. It was serious matter if there was a mistake in the accounting for $9,000. Any private concern and certainly the city should be entitled to an explanation.

Shifting Responsibility
Continuing, Ald. Stephens declared that one of two members of this year's council were trying to shift off responsibility on to future years. He felt that the taxpayers were ready to meet the situation now and that there should be no camouflage. The city, he declared, could not finance this year on 44 mills. There were only two things to do—make a levy that would meet the expenditure or pare the estimates to meet the levy.

Ald. W. J. Greer approved of capitalizing the road work so that future years should pay their fair share in the way of fixed charges.

Ald. Jos. Greer was of the opinion that the item of $10,000 for down-town streets was distinctly maintenance and should not be capitalized.

Mayor Newton felt that, if it had been fair to capitalize street work three years ago when the work was instituted, it was fair

BIG REINDEER DRIVE SOUTH

Plan to Bring Thousands Out of Arctic Circle to Nearer Civilization

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Mar. 30.—A great reindeer drive which will take two years and for spectacularly rival the big trail movements of Texan herds in frontier days will be undertaken in an effort to revivify an industry now menaced by lack of marketing facilities.

Under the direction of George Ashenfelter many thousand head of both government and privately owned deer will be driven overland from the Arctic to Broad Pass on the Alaskan railroad. The drive may be as large as 50,000.

Ald. Larsen approved of capitalization in this case.

Utilities Surplus
Ald. Brown made an enquiry as to the item of $10,000 taken into revenue column as utilities surplus. He was told by Ald. Casey that this would be to repay general fund for money owing it by utilities. Ald. Jos. Greer stated that the utilities owed general fund $62,000.

Ald. Larsen enquired if it was fair to the outlying sections to make a direct charge for scavenging. Had Section 1 paid for its sewers or had the city as a whole paid for them? Ald. Casey said it was his understanding that Section 1 had taken care of its own sewers.

After some further discussion, the necessary bylaw setting the 44 mill rate was given its first readings.

The Ratepayers' Association had no delegation at the meeting as was expected but did submit a letter stating that a mill rate of 57 would be colossal which with heavy local improvement taxes would be courting disaster. The keeping of expenditures to the lowest possible level was urged.

A delegation from the board of trade consisting of W. O. Fulton and D. C. Patterson appeared to urge that the usual grant be made to the board which was doing a unselfish work, particularly needed at this time, in the attempt to make the city grow, thus reducing taxes. These representations had no effect, the estimates providing no grant whatever for the board being accepted.

Eskimo Changed
The Eskimo has been weaned from his primitive mode of livelihood, educated by the government and started in the reindeer business but finds himself unable to provide for himself and family the necessities of life, while herding his deer. To leave them unherded means their eventual passing to other hands.

Under present conditions, with the ship service provided, deer must be either butchered at a season when the meat is not of the best or killed in the fall and stored. If the deer are moved to territory served by the Alaskan Railroad it will be possible to kill and ship any season. This is the reason why the big drive will be undertaken.

ACCIDENT AVOIDED BY ONLY A FEW INCHES

Small Boy Had Close Escape From Being Killed by Passing Car at Totem Pole

Stanley Smith of the Hyde Transfer reported to the provincial police this morning that he had come very close to what might have been a serious accident. Some children were playing around the totem pole at the corner of Second Avenue and Second Street and one small boy, who could not be seen for the pole, gave a running jump just as he was passing and fell on his stomach in front of the car. Smith was able to avoid hitting the child but the wheel of the car missed the lad's head by only a few inches. Mr. Smith had his nerves badly shaken as he realized how close he came to killing the child without any fault of his own.

The police wish to warn children of playing around the pole and at other dangerous corners as in such a case it is difficult for drivers to avoid accident.

Edmonton Paper Suggests Big Corporation May Buy Line Into This City

That the C.P.R. may purchase the section of the Canadian National Railway connecting with Prince Rupert is suggested in an article in the Edmonton Bulletin of Saturday last which follows:

Persons in close touch with the situation in government and railway circles here claim that developments are rapidly leading to this end.

The C.P.R. Cutknife-Whitford branch is now being graded, this being the first link in the new low grade system which may connect with the Peace River line and later with the coast through the lowest passes known to exist in the Rockies.

Survey North of City From Whitford the line has been surveyed during the winter to connect with the E.D. & B.C. railway north of Edmonton.

C.P.R. surveyors are now in the north completing this line.

Then comes the E. D. & B. C. connection, provided that this asset is handed over to the C.P.R. From the end of steel on this system the C.P.R. surveyors last year ran a series of lines connecting the northern railway with the main line of the Canadian National at Prince George, B.C.

Big Scheme Outlined

"Why did they do so?" is the query being asked locally. The reply from those supposedly "in the know" is that at a later date the C.P.R. will acquire the C.N.R. main line from Prince George to Prince Rupert, and after it has been connected to the E. D. & B. C. by the survey made last year, the C.P.R. will then have a low grade outlet to the coast.

Mrs. W. McKay, wife of the master of the steamer Canadian Observer, which is in dry dock here, and Mrs. H. J. Robinson, wife of the chief engineer, arrived from Vancouver on the Prince George this afternoon.

In the course of a holiday trip to the Pacific Coast, D. E. Gallo-way, vice-president of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, will reach the city from Montreal Friday morning and sail for Vancouver on that morning's steamer.

B.C. Keeley, Pacific coast manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, and other company officials, who have been visiting the city this week, will make the round trip to Stewart and Anyox and proceed south on the steamer Prince George Friday morning.

The operation of the local dry dock has been placed under the personal direction of Thomas Loudon of Vancouver, C.G.M.M. superintendent engineer, who is at present in the city with B. C. Keeley, Pacific Coast manager, and P. W. Baldwin, local auditor, paying a visit of inspection to the plant.
