MACKENZIE KING IS ACCLAIMED IN EAST

PREMIER MEIGHEN PLEDGES HIMSELF TO COMPLETE HUDSON BAY RAILWAY

Crowds Held up Mackenzie King Refused to Let Him Pass Until He Discussed Election Issues

Former Premier Laid a Wreath on Grave of Late Minister of Customs and Visited the Family but Blocked by Crowd

SHERBROOKE, Aug. 24.—A sharp contrast between the reception being given to Premier Meighen in many parts of the country was that extended to former Premier Mackenzie King. Through five counties Mr. King motored yesterday and addressed ten meetings in the course of a trip throughout the eastern Townships along the way from Montreal. His car was held up by crowds which blocked the roadway and refused to let him pass until he had delivered an address. The result was that he was over three hours late in reaching Sherbrooke.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

Urban Criticizes Department, But Acknowledges Benefit of Regulations.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—The provincial convention of the Good Roads League of British Columbia is in session here with the largest attendance since its organization. The chairman, K. J. Johnson, said when the report of the convention was presented at Sherbrooke they were told their requests within reasonable bounds would receive government co-operation. He said some improvements suggested then had not been carried far and he mentioned a number of roads he thought should be improved, but when addressed regarding these, the department replied that it knew what was required for roads in the province. He recognized the satisfaction, however, the relations the Government had shown on heavy traffic and urged a contribution from the federal government to keep up the provincial highways.

Prince Rupert, as usual, is headquarters for the election. Mr. Flewin stated that nominations will be taken at the Court House between the hours of 12 to 2 on Tuesday, August 31, or may be filed with the returning officer between now and then. Appointments of deputy returning officers and other election officials have not yet been completed, but will be announced shortly, Mr. Flewin says. Mr. Flewin is going to Port Simpson today and will visit Stewart at the end of the week.

This will enable those who are not on the list and who wish to vote at the forthcoming election to apply in person and get their names enrolled. Norman Watt is the revising officer.

CURB POWERS UPPER HOUSE

That is Liberal Policy, Declares W. R. Motherwell, King's Minister.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 24.—"I don't wish to abolish the Upper House, but as at present constituted, with wide arbitrary powers, it is a real menace to responsible government," declared Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture in the Mackenzie King government, speaking here last night. "Our policy is to curb the powers of the Senate, similar to that adopted by the British House of Commons."

No One Was to Blame for the Death of Martin Folland but Safety Recommendations Made

Holding no person to blame for the accident, but urging the utmost care under such circumstances, the coroner's jury which investigated the death of the late Capt. Martin Folland of the American halibut schooner Lincoln yesterday afternoon brought in the following verdict: "That said Martin Folland came to his death by accident on board the boat Lincoln at the Imperial Oil Company's dock at Prince Rupert on August 17, there not being any blame or negligence attachable to any person or persons."

Meighen Will Complete Hudson Bay Railway If Returned Sept. 14

SASKATOON, Aug. 24.—After a busy day, during which he addressed audiences at a number of rural points in Saskatchewan, Premier Meighen spoke before a Conservative rally here last night, reiterating that it was the intention of the Conservatives if returned to power to complete the Hudson Bay Railway.

The Premier said that he opposed the statutory fixing of freight rates for any part of Canada and that the Conservatives would maintain the Canadian National Railways. He made a vigorous defense of his minister of railways, Hon. W. A. Black. When asked if his appointment was permanent, the appointment, he said, had been made with the same assurance of permanency "given any minister ever appointed to the cabinet." Mr. Black, he said, had a record as a Canadian citizen "unexcelled in this country."

CARIBOO LIKELY TO GO LIBERAL IS McLEAN'S BELIEF

VICTORIA, Aug. 24.—Hon. J. D. MacLean, minister of finance, after campaigning in the federal riding of Cariboo, says: "My belief is that the Cariboo riding will swing back to the Liberal party by an emphatic majority. I do not think there is any doubt that the electors of Cariboo already have made up their minds to vote against the Meighen government. This will be a gain for the Liberal party, as Cariboo went Conservative in the last election."

STEVENS AND THE CUSTOMS

Says He Did Not Get Information From Government But From Other Organization.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24.—In the opening of his campaign last night, Hon. H. H. Stevens gave a denial to statements which he charged Mackenzie King had circulated to the effect that Stevens had obtained the information on which he based his investigations into the customs department from government sources. "I obtained it," he declared, "from Mr. Sparks, president of the Merchants Protective Association and to him the people of Canada owe a debt of gratitude."

THE PUBLICLY EXPRESSED OPINION OF A CONSERVATIVE

"In my view the whole of this western movement should be directed to the port of Vancouver; and all public monies expended upon the Pacific coast should be expended there. There never was a more grossly flagrant instance of expenditure of public monies for purely political purposes than the building of the elevator at Prince Rupert by the Liberal government."

GORDOVA, Aug. 24.—Bogoslof Island, a thousand miles southwest of here in the Aleutian group, appeared covered with a new deposit of volcanic ash, the cutter Haida reported to the naval radio station here. The volcano on the island erupted violently Wednesday and the neck of land extending from the west side of the island is said to have nearly joined with the nearby islets. From a distance it appeared to form a lake. The general shape of the island is unchanged. Steam is issuing from several points on the volcano.

Does Mackenzie King Ever Make a Speech?

The few readers of the Conservative organ in this city are beginning to wonder if ex-premier Mackenzie King ever makes a speech, because these are never reported in that paper. Apparently the usual Conservative tactics of giving one side only to the electors is being adopted. Common people should not be allowed to know too much. If they read Mackenzie King's speeches they might not vote the right way.

The Daily News believes in giving both sides to the people and letting them judge. Any policy of trying to keep people in the dark is sure to lose out in this enlightened age. The people simply will not stand for it.

Half Truth Policy in This Campaign.

When Premier Meighen addressed the electors at the Westholm Theatre recently, he seems to have so impressed with the half truth idea his loyal henchman, the new political Moses who would lead the Prince Rupert electors into a strange land, that he undertook to play a little game of his own in the more remote portions of the constituency. Happily he was effectively checked up and he lost many votes in that district through what seemed like an attempt to deceive the electors over the fish trap business. The matter was fully explained yesterday by the publication in this paper of the telegrams. The fishermen already knew all about it, but they had not been given it in the half-truth manner of the new campaigner, but in toto by Mr. Stork himself.

Reception of Premier Meighen at Edmonton.

The Edmonton Bulletin, speaking editorially, says: "Frigidly was the outstanding characteristic of the Meighen meeting in the Arena on Thursday evening."

An Edmonton audience is never effusive. But it can clap when a telling argument invites open approval, and it seldom allows a meeting to close without cheers for the speakers and the chairman.

It can also withhold applause when a speaker substitutes evasiveness for straight-ahead discussion. And there are times when it simply puts on its hat and walks out in silent protest against a display of side-stepping and attempts to get by with undue economy of the facts.

An Edmonton audience expects, when a Premier of Canada comes to address them on matters of national concern, that he will face each issue squarely, admit the relevant facts, avoid small talk, and make out his case on the basis of a supposition that his hearers have a pretty clear understanding of the subject.

That Mr. Meighen did not do in a number of instances. His hearers had been reading the newspapers. They recognized the evasiveness. They saw that he was trying to take them in. And they acted accordingly. The meeting generated about as much enthusiasm as a cold pancake.

The climax came when the Premier declared that the Mackenzie King Government wanted the control of the election machinery because it was hoped that a Baldy Robb could be turned loose in every constituency in Canada.

His hearers simply sat and looked at the man when he uttered that amazing piece of nonsense. To the credit of their hearts and heads, his party friends gave Mr. Meighen no applause for trying to tie them up to so monstrous a charge.

TAX ON AUTOS WAS REDUCED

Man Who Was on the Spot Tells of Delegation to Ottawa

(By R. J. Deachman)

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—Through-out his Eastern campaign and again in the West—Mr. Meighen told his audience that the Liberals did not reduce the duty on automobiles but that they added to the taxes on clothing. This is a complex.

If they didn't reduce the tariff why did 1,000 Oshawa people travel down to Ottawa to protest against the reduction? I sat in Keith's Theatre in Ottawa and listened to that delegation. Never in my life have I seen a more tense crowd—one more violently in earnest. They were convinced that the bottom had dropped out of Heaven. Yet these people came down according to Mr. Meighen, because the Liberals failed to reduce the tariff on automobiles. How magnificently absurd.

Then take the next story: They tell us that there has been an increase in the import of automobiles, due to the reduction of the duty—the reduction which in the next breath they tell us has never taken place. It is to laugh.

Issue Was Confused

Now, let us try to get this matter straight. The tariff on automobiles was 35 per cent. The Liberals reduced it to 20 per cent (applicable to all cars under $1,200 in value). Later on they removed the sales tax on Canadian made automobiles and left it on the imported. Personally I think that in removing the sales tax they made a mistake. True, it was purely a question of lowering taxation and the reduction of taxation is a fundamental of Liberal faith—it is an eternal duty of Liberal policy to reduce taxes increased by Tory extravagance and stupidity, but the objection I hold against this action had a far different basis. The Tory front-benchers are notoriously unscrupulous in the presentation of political argument. Lowering the sales tax gave them just precisely the opportunity they sought. It enabled them to confuse the issue in the public mind. I object to it, not because it was bad economics, but because it was bad political strategy. Meighen, Bennett et al are following precisely that policy. They now tell us that the tariff was not reduced.

MORAVIAN SHIP IS MAKING LAST VISIT HUDSON BAY POSTS

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—In 1770, when the indefatigable Moravian missionaries firmly established their posts on the inhospitable shores of Labrador, a boat named the Harmony began to sail annually from London to take them supplies and bring back furs and oil to sell for the support of the work. The fourth Harmony is now making the last of these annual voyages on behalf of the mission, for she is going over to the Hudson's Bay Company, to whom the Moravian Church has given a lease of its trading posts. This will not in any way interfere with the continuance of their ordinary evangelistic and educational work. As usual the Harmony is taking out missionaries, including one Labrador-born girl, Miss A. Perrett, and Dr. Vojtech Suk, professor of anthropology at Brun-University, Czechoslovakia, and his wife, who will do surgical and research work for a year.

As the number of agencies operating in the interests of the Labrador Eskimo is small, the new departure in connection with the Moravian work is expected to arouse much interest. Among the arctic, or white settlers, the United Church of Canada conducts missions with Newfoundland as base, and Dr. Grenfell's work is well known.

Our detractors their vengeance do wreak;
Such attacks go to waste
They are all in bad taste
And go "against the grain," so to speak.

September the 14th 'tis due,
Let brains prompt that cross or you'll rue,
Whether Liberal or Tory
Forget your own glory,
And vote for the man who can do

All the Tories and Liberals battle
On each other their speakers do rattle;
Just to hear their own speeches
You would think they were peaches,
But they make just a terrible rattle.

Representing our last and best west,
Choose the man who is cleanest and best.
Vote for needs not for talk,
Be he Brady or Stork,
May his party stand firm at the test.

September fourteenth is the date
When we shall all know our fate
Peace and prosperity
We want eventually,
So vote for the best candidate.

Vancouver the town of many apes
Ten thousand of them did congregate
To meet Stevens, oh my!
Who said, "I beat King by and by";
But he didn't Meighen it.

Mr. Stork surely won't be there
At the opening of our parliament fair;
Someone asks, "So I see,
"Where will he be?"
Echo answers, "Where?"

A winner is Stork, I am told,
The man who fought for us so bold;
See the grain elevator
And other things later,
So don't leave him out in the cold.

Jake says he like Brady. To see such innocent confidence in the electors who are about to hang him to the political tree, is a beautiful sight, he declares.

Jakes takes a great interest in politics. He says he likes to read the little humorous articles written by His Royal Enns up the street. He wonders why "Life" does not copy them, or possibly "Punch."

THE OPIUM PROBLEM

Editor Daily News: The position of Prince Rupert as the nearest port of North America to the lands of the Orient, causes the opium problem to have a more direct importance to your citizens than it would, otherwise possess. That the Pacific Ocean will be the sphere of most intense commercial activities in the near future, is generally conceded to be an assured development of coming years. Prince Rupert must secure her full share of, this certain ocean traffic.

Study of the latest trade returns inform us that the opium producing countries fail to supply needed desirable commodities to exchange for the exports which Canada can supply, and which year by year are called for in larger quantities by the people of the Orient. Japan sternly prohibits the production or use of opium by her people, thus safeguarding their efficiency and their wealth. By their capacity along many lines of production, they are enabled to supply desirable exports for exchange with Canada's wheat and dairy products and other lines of our export trade, of which year by year they consume rapidly increasing quantities.

Railway extension to Peace River, which must soon become a practical development of our National Railway system, will place Prince Rupert in the most direct and economical line of shipment of our export trade to the Orient, whose hundreds of millions of people will never be able to obtain all they want of our products. Opium, more than all other causes, will limit the demands they make and their power to pay by exchange of commodities for our products.

Indian Revenues

The officials of the Government of India and also her private profiteers have drawn large revenues from the opium exported to China and Indo-China, but the people of India have been held in servitude by the vice of opium consumption. They have in this way been made less efficient industrially and their energies as a people greatly limited while their poverty has been more severe, due to the refusal of British government officials to adopt a sound method of revenue production. "Give me a sober people and I will find the revenue we require," was the assertion of William Ewart Gladstone. Eight hundred million people of the Orient have through long years been heavily handicapped in their social and national development by the perverse purpose of India's governing officials.

The wealth of North America tempts profiteers with thought of easy money from the sale of opium, to the dupes who can be led into the use of this drug either to relieve pain or as a temporary enjoyment of its influence. Canada has 12,000 drug addicts, many of whom were innocently lured under its power. The United States is said to have one million, and it may be twice that number. Our school children and young people are especially in danger of being enticed into the use of this dope by the attractive way in which it is presented to them.

Only One Method

There is but one method by which the drug evil can be dealt with, the profits of smuggling are too large to effectively deal with it by prohibition. Only by international co-operation to reduce production to the requirements of medicine and science can civilization be safeguarded. The challenge has come to Canada to stand with the United States, to press upon the people and government of Great Britain their responsibility on behalf of humanity, to place before the people and government of India their duty of self-denial for the settlement of this world problem. Co-operation has already been initiated by the social service organizations of our country to place before our people the urgency of this problem. Resolutions in support of the United States proposals which were made at the Opium Conference of 1925, have been adopted by the United Farmers of Ontario at Toronto, by the Labor Congress at Ottawa, also by the Anglican Congress at Ottawa, and the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Renfrew, and later by the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec at Hamilton.

GLASSES SMASHED OVER A WOMAN IN EDMONTON SALOON

EDMONTON, Aug. 24.—In the days of old when knights were bold they used to smash a lance or two for the sake of a lady, but in these days of sex equality the ladies take to smashing glasses for the favor of a man, as witness the sad case of Tillie and Annie. Tillie's surname is Litwin, and she appeared before Magistrate Murphy in the women's police court, charged with inflicting actual bodily harm on Mrs. Annie Boychuk.

Annie admitted, under the cross-examination of R. F. Jackson, defence counsel, that she had been into several hotels looking for her man and had finally found him in a beer parlor, quaffing a flagon of ale with Tillie. She admitted that she had slapped her erring spouse's face, but denied that she deliberately knocked over the glasses, spattering the beer over Tillie.

Then, she said, Tillie had seized one of the glasses and hurled it full at her face at short range. Warding off the glass, it struck her uplifted hand and gashed it. Dr. J. S. Smith testified that he had found Mrs. Boychuk in his office, and the floor was wamped with gore when he arrived. One of the arteries had been cut, and the woman would have died if it had not been promptly tied up. Magistrate Murphy remanded the accused for trial and fixed bail at $600.

CAPTAIN GARDINER BACK IN EDMONTON WAY TO VANCOUVER

EDMONTON, Aug. 24.—Bearing the distinction of being the first man who ever took a steamer thru the dangerous White Horse rapids in the Klondyke rush of '99, Captain J. Gardiner, captain of the Hudson's Bay Company's steamer Distributor, arrived in the city from McMurray.

The steamer has been laid up at Fort Smith, the southern terminus of the run between that point and Aklavik, for the balance of the season, says the captain, who is going home for a holiday in Vancouver. It is very unlikely that she will make any more trips this season, he adds.

The past season has been one of the busiest he has experienced, commented the old sailor, who has spent 16 years in the service of the company, and has nosed a craft into most of the waters of the north and the Alaskan coast. Many tourists took advantage of the steamer to make a flying trip to the Arctic this year, and this journey seems to be becoming increasingly popular with Americans.

SIDNEY BRICK WORKS IS TO BE REBUILT

Fire Last Week Destroyed Plant at Sidney Island Adjoining Saanich

VICTORIA, Aug. 24.—In a statement to The Times made here Henry C. Hall, K.C., on behalf of the Peerless Brick and Tile Company Limited, Sidney Island, stated the firm had decided to rebuild the Sidney Island plant destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated roughly in the neighborhood of $20,000, pending final reports from the plant.

The fire started from an unknown source late on Wednesday evening, springing into violence during the night hours. By Thursday morning the conflagration sent a column of flame high into the air, and presented a spectacle that attracted attention from a distance of fifteen miles around. At Sidney the sight of the flames made residents inclined to believe that those on the island might be in danger. Boats put out.

After the flames were brought under a measure of control it was found the central portion of the brick plant had been badly gutted. For the moment twenty-five employees, engaged in the operation of the plant, are idle, but the burnt section will be rebuilt, stated Mr. Hall. It is planned to make an immediate start on the erection of the new structure to take the place of the plant and equipment destroyed by fire. Insurance was carried.

BRINGING UP FATHER

RUGBY TEAM IS GREATEST YET

Manager of New Zealand All-Blacks is Proud of His 29 Athletes.

What is probably the greatest team of rugby players ever to come out of the Antipodes—consisting of twenty-nine picked men of New Zealand—arrived in Victoria aboard the R.M.S. Aorangi, of the Canadian-Australasian Line, says the Victoria Times of Friday. Twenty-nine prize athletes in the finest possible physical condition were in the party.

This team not only represents the very best which New Zealand can produce, but further than that, its members are exponents of the great thirteen-man game, a game which has been born in New Zealand.

"This new style of rugby, the rules of which both the Rugby League and the Rugby Union of New Zealand have recognized, although only the league plays with a thirteen man team, gives more protection to the player than has ever been the case before," said E. H. Mair, manager and coach of the travelling team of All-Blacks.

"I have heard that Victoria has some remarkably good material for rugby teams," continued Mr. Mair. "I should think you people would take readily to our game. It is, without a doubt, the last thing in improved rugby. We were told, when the Rugby Union team of All-Blacks came home last year, that Victoria put up a stiff fight even against overwhelming odds. Well, although we have a superior team to that which toured Canada last year, we would be glad to meet your boys."

Mr. Mair then briefly sketched the changed rules of the New Zealand game. Chiefly, as he pointed out, the changes make it more of a mechanical sport, the team being a machine, directed in its plays more in the American style than the old English. It still, however, retains the fundamentals of the original game of rugby football.

First of all, explained Mr. Mair, the old line-out system has been done away with. In the first place the ball may not be kicked to "touch" from any position on the field. If it is there is a scrum back at the point where it was kicked. Only when a player is inside his own twenty-five yard line may he kick to "touch" and then the ball must bounce out of play.

In addition to the change in the number of players, the new system is to play an advantage rule. This is a more involved thing and requires careful explanation, which Mr. Mair did not have time to give. Another great change, which gives every player greater protection, is that when a man is tackled he must be freed immediately and given a chance to play the ball. This eradicates the practice of "piling" on a man and prevents injuries. There are half a dozen other rules which the new system embraces, all of which the travelling New Zealanders intend to show during their tour.

Great Organization The team, which is scheduled to play in England on September 9, is the finest team, according to critics, ever to come out of the Antipodes. C. C. Duffy, first full back of the squad is heralded as the greatest man in his position playing rugby today. He has a mightier kick than Nepia, who caused a sensation here last season, and is a better man all round. The team is comprised of such men as this, with sprinters in its back division who are all ten second men on the field with a ball under their arms.

SPORT CHAT

Although the Gyros have already cinched their position in the finals, it is not yet certain that the Sons of Canada will be the second team as they have yet to win one more game to assure themselves of getting in the playoffs. There are two postponed games between the Sons and Terminals to be played this week—one tonight and the other on Friday. Should the Terminals win these games, they would be tied with the Sons for second place, thus necessitating a play-off to decide which team would go to the finals with the leading Gyros. Should the Sons secure second place this week, the post-season play-off of the best three out of five games between them and the Gyros will start next week.

There had been a possibility that Hector McDonald might battle Vic Foley during Fair Week here, but the possibility went glimmering at Vancouver last Friday night so somebody else will be Foley's opponent here. MacDonald's meteoric climb up the pugilistic ladder was checked by Foley in no uncertain manner, the veteran winning decisively after ten rounds of flashy milling. Foley was complete master of the situation and won as he liked. Foley weighed 124 1/2 pounds and MacDonald 123 1/2. At no time was there anything bordering on a knockout, and it didn't appear, especially in the last two rounds, that Foley was extending himself. He subjected the Scot to a terrific body massage, but apparently was affable enough to hang no kayo labels on his punches. Foley obviously was in his best form. He was faster than the flashy Scot, timed his punches better and his ring generalship was of championship calibre. Foley won every round except the seventh, with MacDonald perhaps getting an even break in the second.

FEMINE BODY IS DECIDEDLY ARTISTIC

PARIS, Aug. 24.—"Nothing in the world is more artistic than a naked feminine body," said Lee Shubert, the New York theatrical manager, to a reporter of the Paris edition of the New York Herald-Tribune when asked regarding Flo Ziegfeld's campaign for modesty on the stage. "The world has no objection to nudity in sculpture or painting," said Shubert, "so why object to it behind the footlights? Nudity is on the stage to stay, I believe."

CROW SLAUGHTER IN ALBERTA RESULTS IN INCREASE IN DUCKS

EDMONTON, Aug. 24.—Crow-shooting is proceeding merrily under the provincial government's anti-pest campaign, it is reported by the game branch. A considerably larger number of schools throughout the province are taking part in the contest this year than last, according to reports received at the game guardians office, and it is anticipated that when time is up, September 1, there will be many thousands of dead birds to count.

A marked increase in the wild duck population of the province has resulted, it is said, from the crow-fighting campaigns of the last two years. Other good effects are expected to show themselves as time goes on.

MRS. MALLORY TENNIS CHAMP Regained Title After Defeating Elizabeth Ryan After Losing First Set.

FOREST HILLS, Aug. 24.—Molla Mallory, seven times women's national tennis champion, regained the title in a sensational comeback which carried her up the hill to victory over Elizabeth Ryan, the scores being 1-6, 6-4, 9-7.

The triumph was gained with a smashing attack after she had been faced with seemingly certain defeat following the loss of the first set. Miss Ryan came back by winning the doubles title with Elinor Ross Hartner, when they defeated Mary Browne and Mrs. C. H. Chapman 3-6, 6-4, 12-10.

SPURIOUS MONEY IS BEING CIRCULATED AROUND SPOKANE

KETCHIKAN, Aug. 23.—Advices have been received in Ketchikan to the effect that the City of Spokane has been recently flooded with fake $20 federal reserve notes bearing the stamp of the San Francisco mint and the picture of Grover Cleveland.

The fake bills were printed on genuine $1 bills, to provide the silk threads in the paper and thus throw off detection.

The $1 bills were first treated with a bleaching chemical which made them perfectly white. An engraving of a $20 federal reserve note from the San Francisco mint was then made from the photograph, and the bleached out $1 bills were reprinted from the engraving.

The ink is a little lighter in shade than that used by the mint giving the bill the impression of age. The serial numbers are not as clear cut as on a genuine $20 bill.

RAINS RETARD HARVESTING

Rain has retarded harvesting in the prairie provinces but otherwise the weather has been favorable and the late crops will benefit, says the Bank of Montreal crop report. In Quebec all districts report crop conditions satisfactory and average yields are expected. In Ontario frequent rains have delayed harvest operations, but have been beneficial to root crops, corn and pastures. In the maritime provinces, excellent growing conditions prevail and all crops are doing well. In British Columbia rains have fallen after a prolonged dry spell, but are too late to benefit with the exception of roots.

Prairie Provinces
Western Area—Further rains have delayed harvesting, but late crops continue to improve and an average yield is expected. Small hail losses have occurred in scattered localities.
Northern Area—Harvesting has been delayed by scattered showers and cold weather. Late crops are progressing favorably and average yields are expected in most localities.
Southeastern Area—Prospects on the whole are poor. While best lands are giving fair return many crops do not warrant cutting.

Saskatchewan
Northern Area—Harvesting is now fairly general and the yield will probably come close to the 10 year average.
Southern Area—Wheat cutting is well under way, with good yields being obtained in the south, central and southeastern districts. General recent showery and cold weather throughout the province has helped the filling of immature crops. Some damage from sawfly is reported at a number of points.

Manitoba
Prospects continue favorable for a good average crop. Operations have been delayed by rain, but 50 per cent is cut in the southern portion of the province.

British Columbia
The cutting of grain is generally completed and threshing is well under way with good average yield. Potatoes have suffered from lack of moisture and the crop will be well below average. Plums and pears are above average. Wealthy apples are moving in heavy quantities and are of very fine quality. Heavy rains this week will be of great benefit to the late apple crop. Pasturage is poor but will benefit by recent rains.

Much interest was taken in the camp this summer by the community in general, and very generous donations of both foodstuffs and money as well as equipment, made possible a week's outing for many children, with splendid care and supervision, an abundance of well cooked food and the advantage

ALASKAN SALMON EGGS FOR STATES

Humpies Being Transported to Washington Rivers From Northwestern Part of Territory

KETCHIKAN, Aug. 24—Humpback salmon eggs for transplanting to the state of Washington are being sought by an official party which arrived here today from the westward, headed by L. E. Mayhall, general superintendent of hatcheries for the state, says the Cordova Times. He is accompanied by Ed. Jorgenson, as assistant, and Walter and Frank Warren of Elma, Wash. Mrs. Mayhall and young James Mayhall are also in the party.

Four years ago 15,000,000 humpback eggs were taken to Washington and two years ago 38,000,000 were taken. These came from Fidalgo Bay. The fish did well, but there was a cry for a larger variety, so Mr. Mayhall went to Kariyk hoping to secure them there. The enterprise was not successful and he is hoping for better luck in the Cordova district, where the run is more favorable. He had hoped to secure as many eggs as two years ago. They are to be packed in moss lined boxes for shipment.

LOST A MILLION DOLLARS IN CANADA

Spillers Milling Concern Follow Fate of Many Other British Concerns

(Financial Post)

A writer in the London Stock Exchange Gazette says of the venture of the Spillers Milling interests in Western Canada that it was "an ill-starred day when the directors decided to go into Canada; they have now sold their interests in line and terminal elevators there, and they charged £200,000 against profit and loss account last year to create a reserve to meet the Canadian loss, about half that sum being needed to meet the loss on exchange."

Whether the loss on exchange referred to had anything to do with conditions in Canada—or merely reflected careless banking—the fact remains that this loss of $1,000,000 is being charged up against Canada and the experience is evidently being advertised in a manner that will discourage capital from coming to this country.

The experience of the Spillers Company is not a new one as representing the outcome of British industrial ventures in Canada. A number of other concerns have suffered like losses. And it may be frankly pointed out that others in the future will also fare similarly if the promoters expect to establish in the

of the discipline necessary to make for harmony in a community life.

J. M. Hoar and S. A. Davis, Kalum Lake mining men, spent the week end in town.

E. Chesley was up from Shames on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Collart and son of Prince Rupert arrived on Saturday to spend a holiday at Hill Farm.

All Nerves!

All nerves! What a common expression! In this busy era with the problems of home management, club activities, and even political affairs crowding her day, how often the housewife complains of nervousness, headache, backache and general fatigue.

These symptoms of ill-feeling are often due to strained eye muscles and nerves which can be relieved by properly fitted glasses.

100 PROTESTS
THIS MORNING

Only a Few Appeared in Person and Had Names Added to List.

Over one hundred protests filed with the registrars have been presented to Norman A. Watt, revising officer for the voters' list which will be used at the forthcoming federal election. The protests entered so far have been by the Conservative Association and the objections are mainly based on change of residence or death.

So far there have been no objections entered by the Liberals, although it is expected there will be some. Mr. Watt stated this afternoon that no names had yet been struck off but that probably some would be dropped.

It is necessary for those making protests against any others to notify those so protested against and, during this week, while court of revision is on, it is necessary to give only two days' notice.

Some six or eight persons had their names added to the list by appearing before Mr. Watt today.

TELEGRAPHED FOR HER NEWSPAPER TO COME

This morning the Daily News received a telegram from an out-of-town lady subscriber stating that her paper and not been arriving recently and to be sure it was forwarded. This indicates the eagerness with which subscribers are looking for their papers.

Anyone not getting their copies regularly and promptly is asked to notify the office at once so that steps may be made to correct the irregularity.

EDMONTON SAID TO BE BIGGER THAN CALGARY

Claiming that Edmonton now has a larger population than Calgary, the Edmonton Journal says: Eliciting wails of anguish and amazement from the southern city which has for so long held the lead in population, an unofficial report of the last western census shows that at last Edmonton has definitely forged ahead of her southern rival, Calgary.

Edmonton's total has not yet been announced, but the official count gives Calgary 64,905, and Edmonton's population is thought to total in the neighborhood of 66,500.

Claims made by indignant Calgarians that their figures would be increased to 67,000 if their suburbs were considered, is countered by the Greater Edmonton directory, which gives this city and its suburbs a grand total of 74,082.

DELAY HARVESTING

EDMONTON, Aug. 21. (By Mail)
—The week end saw heavy rains here and throughout northern Alberta, accompanied in some cases by hail and everywhere by thunder and lightning. Here half an inch of rain fell and lightning struck the street car power wires, blowing out many fuses in the cars. The streets were much delayed with outlying points.

Harvesting was for the time being held up but will be continued this week.

human sacrifice associated in the religion of these tribes that the expedition led by J. T. J. Barnard of the Burmese Frontier Service was scarcely expected to achieve a full measure of success.

Early in 1925 Sir Harcourt Bulter, Governor General of Burma, visited the remote and uncivilized Hukamng Valley and expressed to the Naga chiefs his disapproval of these practices, but there was no readiness to meet the administration's wishes. The device of compensating the owners was adopted by the special expedition, which has expended $78,000 in the freeing of 3,445 slaves. Just what victims the Nagas will in future find for the slaughter when evil spirits are to be propitiated remains to be seen.
