COAL STRIKE IS PRACTICALLY ENDED

CUSTOMS COMMISSION IS NOW SITTING IN VANCOUVER

Emergency Regulations in Old Country Will Be Cancelled Very Shortly

Conclusion of long industrial struggle will see many miners permanently unemployed-- may get agricultural training

LONDON, December 3.—The coal strike is practically ended by agreements that have been concluded in the majority of the coal fields and the government will shortly cancel emergency regulations although the prohibition on the export of coal will likely be maintained for some time yet. The official estimate of the number of miners permanently losing employment is two hundred thousand which will add a tremendous burden to the national unemployment funds. More than a million and a half persons are already drawing doles. The government has stated that it is prepared to give favorable consideration to a scheme for training miners permanently unemployed as agriculturists with a view to finding them settlement overseas.

MINIMUM WAGE AGAIN UPHELD

COURT OF APPEAL DECIDES THAT RECENT CONVICTION WAS JUST—CASE WILL BE TAKEN FURTHER

VICTORIA, Dec. 3.—British Columbia's Minimum Wage Act was upheld in a judgment handed down yesterday at a special session of the Court of Appeal in the test case arising out of the conviction of Robertson & Hackett Sawmills Ltd. for an infraction of the new regulations.

J. W. de B. Parris, K.C., who argued the case for the lumbermen at the Supreme Court in Vancouver where Chief Justice Hunter also upheld the legislation, presented the case to the Court of Appeal and said it was the intention of his clients to carry the case to the Supreme Court of Canada.

CONFERENCE OF RAILWAY GROUPS

NOTHING NEW ANNOUNCED FOLLOWING CONFERENCE OF OFFICIALS AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THREATENING STRIKERS

MONTREAL, Dec. 3.—Railway officials and representatives of the fifteen thousand conductors and trainmen employed on Canadian lines resumed negotiations here yesterday in an endeavor to satisfactorily settle the demands of the men for a six per cent increase thereby averting a possible strike in Canada. Those present at the conference were uncommunicative last night, the only information forthcoming from them being that further meetings would be held at a date which was not mentioned.

HAROLD BELL QUILTS SCHOOL

RESIGNATION OF HIGH SCHOOL STAFF RECEIVED WITH REGRET BY BOARD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

At a special meeting of the School Board yesterday afternoon, the resignation of Harold G. Bell of the King Edward High School staff was received with regret. The resignation is to become effective at the end of the present term and applications for a successor will be received and an appointment made probably before the beginning of the New Year.

HANGED HIMSELF

NORTH VANCOUVER, Dec. 3.—After burning all identification documents and papers in his possession, Eugene Tangary, aged 40, hanged himself three days ago in a cottage where he lived alone. The body was discovered yesterday.

A UNIQUE open-air pool of wheat containing thousands of bushels of the 1925 crop in the Luella district (Sackatchewan) about six miles north of the international boundary line. Without an elevator, the farmers in this area are hauling their grain to the new townsite which is being laid out in anticipation of the arrival of the Fife Lake extension of the C.P.R. The pool is 50 by 100 feet.

GRAIN BOATS ON WAY HERE

Next week promises to be a very active one along the waterfront as far as the grain trade is concerned. The freighter Yoserie is expected in port in two or three days to load grain and the Meigen Maru, which is now being lined at the Dry Dock, will move to the elevator wharf for loading on Sunday. The Ypres Maru was reported this morning at 1 o'clock as being 1067 miles from Prince Rupert and will arrive here on Tuesday or Wednesday. This will bring the three grain vessels indicated in port at the same time.

FREIGHT RATES CASE GOES ON

EXPERT'S EVIDENCE SHOWS THERE IS NO JUSTIFICATION FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA BEING PENALIZED

OTTAWA, Dec. 3.—Gradients on railway lines in British Columbia are no worse on the whole than on the prairies according to an opinion submitted to the Board of Railway Commissioners yesterday by D. O. Lewis, rates expert for the Pacific Coast province. In the morning the discussion was wholly technical. G. G. McGeer, K.C., freight rates counsel for British Columbia, examined Lewis and tried to show that it was as easy to haul grain to the Pacific Coast ports as it was to Fort William. Lewis expressed the view that British Columbia could hold its own with any other province in providing freight tonnage for the railways. McGeer pursued this point and sought to show that there was no justification for a higher scale of rates in British Columbia.

Evidence to support British Columbia's claim for equalization of the rates was placed on record throughout yesterday's session. The third day of the final hearing in the case for and against a downward revision of the general rate structure was ended but only a fringe of it had been touched upon.

RATES TOO HIGH

Mr. McGeer, who had the floor all day, placed on record the submissions of his province by examination and analysis of charts and statistics prepared by Lewis who was the sole witness of the day. Rates on such B.C. products as lumber, sugar and canned goods were dismissed and McGeer sought to show that the rates from the Pacific Coast on such articles were too high.

PENDRAY RE-ELECTED

VICTORIA, Dec. 3.—Carl Pendray was yesterday re-elected by acclamation as mayor of Victoria. This will be his third consecutive term as chief magistrate of this city.

Americans having "an habitual residence in France" must pay French income tax on all their revenue, whether derived from the United States or France.

Attorney General Explains Coastwise Liquor Shipment Permits and Their Purpose

VANCOUVER, December 3.—The Victoria sittings of the customs commission concluded last night and the session opened here this morning. Yesterday Attorney General Manson gave an explanation before the commission of the issuance of permits for the coastwise shipment of liquor by the Liquor Control Board of the province. The section of the Government Liquor Act, which provided for these permits and which had been suggested by the Chief Inspector of Customs at Ottawa, was designed more for the purpose of obtaining information in regard to liquor shipments than for the purpose of permitting them. Again Mr. Manson stated that the control of liquor export was a matter for federal, not provincial authorities.

George Bucklen, United States Consul at Victoria, formerly stationed in Mexico, told the commission that the town of San Bias to which twenty thousand cases of liquor comprising the cargo of the Chris Moeller was consigned had a population of five or six hundred people. It was fifty miles from the railway and located in a sparsely settled territory. Vessels of over six feet draft could not enter the bay upon which the town was located. Ensenada, another mecca for liquor shippers, was a town of four thousand in a very dry and barren section. He said it had no railway but had automobile communication with the California city of San Diego across the line.

STARVATION PREVENTED

ALASKA SALMON CONTRARY TO CUSTOM APPEAR IN ICY RIVERS

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 3.—Salmon have violated the customs of their species by appearing this winter in icy inland waters thus saving hundreds of Indians of the lower Yukon from starvation. At Mulato it is reported that the natives are there catching salmon in the ice-covered river with a bated hook.

Before the salmon were discovered in the river the food supply of the Indians had been curtailed by the unusual absence of small game.

CITY OF FOO CHOW TAKEN

ARRIVAL OF SOUTHERN ARMY COMES AS RELIEF TO FOREIGNERS

AMERY, Dec. 3.—The city of Foo Chow was handed over to the southern forces last night and is today bedecked with flags welcoming the incoming Cantonese. The peaceful entrance of the southern forces relieved the tension that existed among the foreign population. Fear is now held concerning the radical student element.

HEAD SEVERED

PENDER HARBOR, Dec. 3.—W. Murray, aged 40, a high rigger, was instantly killed at a Jervis Inlet logging camp north of here on Wednesday when he was struck by a cable which completely severed his head.

GOOD SHOWING CENTRAL B.C.

INTERIOR FARMERS CAPTURE COVETED PRIZES AT SHOW IN VICTORIA

SMITHERS, Dec. 3.—The farmers of the Bulkley Valley are highly elated at reports received dealing with their entries in the British Columbia Potato and Seed show recently held in Victoria, more especially with regard to their timothy seed. The showing made in the timothy seed competition is indeed phenomenal when it is remembered that this phase of Bulkley Valley farming is practically in its first year. In this division, the first five prizes came to Central B.C. Charles Barrett of Barrett Lake getting first; John H. Keefe of Francois Lake, second; Chas. A. Chapman of Smithers, third; J. L. Davidson of Houston, fourth, and John W. Turner of Smithers, fifth. The seed cleaning plant promised by the provincial department of agriculture a short time ago, has arrived in town and has been set up in Chapman & Chapman's hay warehouse and the work is under way of cleaning and preparing for market the 1926 crop of timothy seed. D. D. Munro, representing the department, has already sold the entire output and the farmer have promise of a handsome return.

In addition to the timothy seed prizes a number of entries in the potato sections were successful in winning prizes and also in wheat and barley.

TOPLEY MINE DEAL PENDING

FRANK TAYLOR HAS LEFT FOR SPOKANE TO COMPLETE TRANSACTION

SMITHERS, Dec. 3.—The now famous Richfield Mine at Topley seems at last to be in a fair way to become the property of an important mining company. On Wednesday evening Frank H. Taylor, the owner and discoverer, left for Spokane to make final arrangements for placing the property under option to the Standard Silver-Lead Company of that city.

The transaction started with an inspection of the showing by B. N. Sharp, the company's field engineer, a little over a couple of weeks ago. This was followed by a visit from W. H. North, the general manager, who requested of Mr. Taylor ten days' time to place the matter before the directors of his company. Almost immediately after Mr. North's return to Spokane, Taylor received the wire requesting him to come down and complete the transaction.

The terms of the option as set out by Mr. Taylor call for $10,000 cash and $300 per month. The total price being $200,000.

Since this Topley discovery has attracted the interest of the mining fraternity, numerous offers have been made for its purchase, but Taylor, who is a miner of wide experience, considered that he had made a most important find and has held out for an initial payment that would compensate him for the development work already done on the property.

During the past week, the following vessels have loaded wheat here: Pacific Commerce for Manchester, 18,666 bushels.

Blythemoor for Hull, 350,941 bushels.

Chile for Denmark, 74,698 bushels; for Hull the same.

Africa Maru, for Yokohama, 31,668 bushels; for Kobe, the same.

CHIEF JUSTICE IS BUSY AGAIN

TECHNICALLY EXPERT UPSETS ANOTHER CONVICTION UNDER GOVERNMENT LIQUOR ACT

VANCOUVER, Dec. 3.—The conviction of R. C. Purdy Ltd., and fine of $1,000 imposed recently in the city police court on a charge of selling liquor in chocolates was quashed by Chief Justice Gordon Hunter in a stated case yesterday. In effect, His Lordship ruled that chocolates could not be construed as liquids which the legislature had in mind when framing the Act and not solids.

THE ELECTION IN ONTARIO.

That good old Ontario, presumably tee-total and pure, particularly the rural districts, should have gone wet so decisively may seem strange to some but to others the reason is more apparent. We do not know whether Ontario had the same experience with prohibition as British Columbia had, whether her dry laws were so badly abused that the people felt they might as well make liquor selling legal as the way it was before. However, one thing we do know pretty well is that the people of Ontario had been laboring under a burden of taxation and perhaps, hearing the stories of millions that had been made by the government of Quebec and British Columbia from the sale of liquor, the people of staid old Ontario also saw through this means a way to relieving taxation.

Anyway, Ontario voted decisively wet and it is to be expected there will be no loss of time in putting the so-expressed wishes of the people into operation. Even with government control, Ontario, like British Columbia, may never be able to get rid of bootleggers and bad whiskey but it is to be hoped that from the outset the government takes a firm hand and does not permit itself or its members to become involved with the "liquor ring."

As for the political result of the election, the most obvious feature to be noticed is that Ontario, provincially, may not have felt this year, as it did federally. The province was not satisfied with the Conservatives federally but, provincially, it certainly seems to have been, even if the government was saddled with what so many people thought was the iniquitous government sale of liquor.

RUMBLING OF BATTLE IS HEARD FROM AFAR.

In British Columbia there is no mistaking the omens of an approaching battle. Guns of the opposition may be heard from afar and the growling rises in the Tory camp. With such a leader as Dr. Toimie to carry their banner, the Conservatives are going to make a real battle of it this time and, after the smoke of battle rises, there may be some surprises. No matter what the opposition may say, however, there will be no refuting the progress that has been made and the good government that has been given under the Liberal regime during the last decade. There will be, as usual, much beating of the air on both sides but the electorate is sane and it will separate the dross from the wheat and so make its decision.

TAX REDUCTION IN UNITED STATES.

President Coolidge's recent announcement that he favors a rebate on income taxes, individual and corporate, has stirred up all manner of discussion and controversy. The indications now are that the tax question, which it was assumed would be more or less in the background in the coming short session, will be debated in one way or another throughout most of the coming three-month session. The result is likely to be to sidetrack nearly all the legislation on other subjects which will be urged for passage this winter.

President Coolidge, according to his critics, proposed the plan of a rebate of income taxes payable this year originally as a piece of politics, designed to screen over the setback given the administration in the November elections, especially the election in Massachusetts. While it may be true that it was proposed for political reasons, it is nevertheless uncertain what will be the eventual political effect of it. The Democrats charge the administration with having sought to annex their issue, inasmuch as they had been urging prompt tax reduction, but having advocated a method which they deem objectionable. They insist all classes of taxpayers should be benefited by any cut in taxes and so they purpose to offer amendments to the administration measure. These amendments will be intended to bring about general revision.

Western members of Congress who are anxious for farm relief legislation take the view that the controversy over taxation will endanger farm relief action. Hence they are showing signs of fighting the administration plan.

With these complications and others in the tax situation, it is easy to see that Congress is likely to be kept busy this winter on taxation and that other measures are likely to get short shrift. Some of the Republican leaders would like to see the tax issue sidetracked until the next Congress—the Seventieth Congress—but it is doubtful whether it can be sidetracked with the administration disposed to press it.

Progress Has Been Made This Year in All Mining Branches District Engineer Declares

(By Geo. A. Clothier, Resident Mining Engineer)

A summary of the mining industry in District No. 1 for 1926 up to the end of October will show that very material progress has been made this year in all the three branches of mining—prospecting, development, and production.

Prospecting has been keen throughout the district and several "finds" have been made that prove that no ground is ever conclusively prospected. The Stikine River and Dease Lake sections are attracting more prospects each year, and the latter will, with the completion of the Telegraph Creek-Dease Lake road next year, offer one of the most promising areas on the continent for dredging and hydraulic operations. The older areas, Portland Canal, Alice Arm, and Kitsungallum Lake, have also been prospected to advantage with surprising results.

The outstanding discovery this year is probably that on the north fork of Marmot River, where 5 feet in width of solid galena, assaying 500 oz. silver to the ton, has been uncovered, from which the owners are shipping this fall.

Development work has exceeded all other years. Though a number of the smaller properties, especially in the Portland Canal country, have been inoperative on account of lack of capital, the heavier expenditures of several large operations make this an outstanding year in the amount of capital invested in development work and equipment. In the Atlin district the Atlin Silver-Lead Mines and Engineer Mines have been under extensive exploration, while the Gleason, Kirkland, and others are being opened up on a smaller scale. Development in the Dease Lake section may be judged from the fact that on Dease Creek there are three hydraulic and one drag-line scraper outfits; on Thibert and tributary creeks, one drilling and one hydraulic; and on McDame Creek, two hydraulic, one Keystone-drilling, and one drag-line scraper outfits.

PORTLAND CANAL

In the Portland Canal area the more important properties under development are: The Dunwell and Independence, in the Bear River valley; the Premier, B.C. Silver, Sebakwe and District Mines, and Big Missouri, in the Salmon valley; and the Porter-Idaho, on the Marmot River. Companies developing on a smaller scale include: The George, Terminus, Victoria, L & L, Albany, Dalhousie, and Silverado, on Bear River; Outland-Silver Bar, Eldorado, Silver Crest, Silver Tip, B.C. Bonanza, White Heather, Chief Metals, and Premier Extension, on the Salmon River; Marmot Metals and Washington, on Marmot River.

In the Alice Arm area the LaRose, Kitsault Eagle Silver Mines, Kitsault River Mining and Development Company, Toric, Keystone Mining Company, are companies that are doing considerable development work each year.

In the Kitsungallum Lake section the only company operating is a syndicate consisting of Governor Davis and associates. The Northern Mining and Development Company is developing the Beaver and Golden Nib properties on Thornhill Mountain near Terrace.

Besides the above companies, there are many individuals throughout the district doing a great deal in excess of the necessary assessment work on their properties. The majority of the above-mentioned properties have undoubted prospective merit and it seems only reasonable to expect that some of them will develop into important producers.

Production will be helped out this year by the substantial shipments from the B.C. Silver Company's property, which will offset to some extent the closing-down of the Belmont-Surf Inlet Mines. The Premier will have a much greater tonnage output this year, yielding an increase in gold and very probably an increase in silver. The Granby Consolidated will apparently equal, if not exceed, last year's record. The smaller shippers will not influence the total production to any great extent. Altogether the value of the lode-mineral output of the district should equal last year's notwithstanding the drop in the "price of silver." The placer output will, I judge, be about the same as last year.

The depletion of the ore bodies and the closing of the Belmont-Surf Inlet Mines on Princess Royal Island is about the only mining event in the Skeena mining division.

Paisley Point Mines, Ltd.—This property has, I understand, undergone further development this year and will be examined this fall.

Patterson—The owner has mined and shipped 80 tons of ore to the Anxox smelter this season. The ore was only roughly hand-sorted and averaged about $60 to the ton in gold values.

Golden Nib—This claim, on Thornhill Mountain near Terrace, was equipped this year with a jig-back tramway by the Northern Mining and Development Company, Limited. About 20 tons of ore was mined from the surface and shipped to the Anxox smelter. The property is now closed.

Glen No. 1 and Silver Coin Group—These properties, situated on Little Beaver Creek, on the telegraph line trail above Cedar Crossing, Kitsungallum Lake section, had some exploratory work done on them by the Davis Syndicate, but results obtained were not encouraging.

Scenic—Work is being done by J. Garland, the owner. Some placer mining was done on Douglas Creek, flowing into the head of Kitsungallum Lake.

There are little or no mining activities to report on Queen Charlotte Islands. Some sinking was done on the South Easter at Skidegate, with good results reported. There are no further developments on the beach black sands. Experiments prove that the gold is recoverable, but operating tests and sampling have been inadequate to prove whether or not it can be made a commercial undertaking.

NAAS RIVER

There has been a marked improvement in the mining outlook this year due to the influence of the development on the Toric. Thorough examinations have been made of the Alice Arm area by several engineers, resulting in the recent bonding of four large, adjoining groups, on which substantial development contracts have been let for this winter. An exhaustive examination of the Daily Varden properties was made by Dr. Slocum, but nothing further has developed.

Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting, and Power Co., Ltd.—This company has had a very satisfactory year in all departments. Additions and improvements to the concentrator and the installation of a new sintering plant will increase the output. The production so far this year has been over 3,200,000 lb. copper a month, and it is very probable that last year's record of 39,000,000 lb. copper will be exceeded.

The company is operating the Outer-slipper group at Maple Bay, from which a siliceous fluxing ore carrying low copper values is obtained; also the Golskeish on Sylvester Bay, from which a siliceous gold-bearing ore is mined.

Saddle—This claim, situated on the west side of Hastings Arm, is under option to W. Harris, of Hazelton, who is carrying out some development work this summer.

Keystone Mining Co., Ltd.—This company is developing the Sunset group on Roundy Creek, under the supervision of Rowland King, of Spokane.

Kitsault Eagle Silver Mines, Ltd.—This company has three properties under exploration—namely, Eagle group on Paul Kladic Creek and the LaRoy and Silver Cord groups on the north-east fork of the Kitsault River.

Esperanza Mines—This property, situated about a mile from Alice Arm, is being worked by lessees. The owners are endeavoring to raise sufficient capital to install a small concentrator and compressor plant.

Wolf—This claim, situated at the town of Alice Arm, has had a 155-foot cross-cut tunnel driven to the vein and a drift from it of 70 feet to the north, showing the vein to be about the same as on the surface.

Alice—This group contains the westerly extension of the Esperanza vein. The Esperanza road was extended this summer as a horse-trail to enable the owners to take out ore this winter.

Alice Arm-LaRose Mining Co., Ltd.—This year the vein was drifted on from the main cross-cut tunnel to a point under the shallow shaft on the surface and a raise put through to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of about 125 feet. The drift on the tunnel-level follows a broken-up horizon along the vein, through which there is a very heavy flow of water. At a point about 20 feet above the drift the raise encountered the ore-shoot, which continues through in varying widths to the surface. The vein will average probably 3 feet wide, of which there is up to 12 inches of high-grade silver ore, the remainder being of milling grade. Stopping is now being done both ways from the shaft and about 50 tons of ore is sorted and sacked for shipment.

Speculator No. 2—This claim adjoins the LaRose on the south. The continuation of the LaRose vein has been found and sunk on for 30 feet, showing up to 2 feet of ore carrying good values in native and ruby silver.

ALICE ARM BONDINGS

Red Point, Copper Cliff, Vanguard, and Homestake Groups—These four groups, extending along the west side of the Kitsault River from Evinson Creek north to the glacier, and lying in the "copper-belt formation," have recently been bonded for Victor Spencer and associates, of Vancouver. Immediate work will consist of a 500-foot tunnel on the Red Point group, for which the contract has been let locally. It is stated that development work will be proceeded with on a very comprehensive scale in the spring.

Tiger—This property adjoins the Toric on the north. Some well-planned work has been done this season by the owner, Ed. Pickett, resulting in encouraging ore-exposures underground.

Climax—A tunnel was driven last winter by contract 50 feet on the hanging wall side of the vein and a cut-

INSURING STUDENTS AGAINST ACCIDENT SPORTS AND GAMES

OXFORD, England, Dec. 3.—An enterprise which would do credit to the most up-to-date Canadian business school has entered the staid and quiet confines of Oxford University. It takes the form of an offer to insure students against any calamity in their college careers from being injured in soccer to breaking clubs upon the golf course.

Circulars have been sent to all students telling of the new "Special policies for Members of the University," and describing the various forms of policies. The list includes:

- "Payment of doctors' bills arising from any accident at sport."
- "Insurance of personal effects against fire, burglary or theft while in college rooms or lodgings."
- "Insurance against fire, burglary or theft of pedal cycles."
- "Repair for broken golf clubs: fire, burglary or theft of golf clubs, and indemnity for third party claims."

PATTULLO SEES NO WEAKENING

SAYS OPPONENTS TRYING TO SHOW THAT GOVERNMENT LIKELY TO BE DEFEATED

TELLS WHY CONFIDENT

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, left today for the south. The minister stated that he was very pleased with his visit this time and especially commented on the buoyant spirit he found existing on all sides. The minister said that he found evidences of political activity upon the part of his opponents. In this connection he said:

"The recent Conservative convention in Kamloops and the selection of Dr. Tolmie as leader, has stimulated a new interest in the Conservative party, and is, of course, of interest to the people of British Columbia, generally, and it is to be hoped that the Conservative party will show new virility. A government without strong opposition. The main purpose of the Conservative party at the present time seems to be a desire to create an impression that the Liberal party will go out of power at the next election.

ALWAYS TO FORE

In the recent Dominion election the Conservative party succeeded in convincing the people of British Columbia that the Tory government would remain in office in Ottawa. In this, the people of British Columbia were badly fooled. The Tory party is now striving to convince the people of British Columbia that the Provincial Government will fall. I think it will be found they are just as mistaken as they were in the Dominion election. In every line of economic endeavor and in every matter of the social and domestic welfare of our people, our administration has been in the foreground. The Province of B.C. has done more in the way of social and domestic legislation for the welfare of the masses of the people than all other provinces of the Dominion of Canada, and having visited all parts of the province this year, I believe that the people generally, appreciate the effort that has been put forth during the past ten years.

The Government is usually blamed for all the ills that happen, and if the Government is blamed in this respect, surely we can claim some reasonable credit for the benefits accruing to our people. In this connection the irrevocable fact stands forth, that the Province is more prosperous than ever before in its history. Its industries in all lines have gone forward by leaps and bounds. In addition to the development of our natural resources we have become the third manufacturing province of the Dominion, only exceeded by Ontario and Quebec.

With the masses of the people supporting us, because of our legislation on their behalf, and with the encouragement which we have given industrial operation, there seems every reason to believe that the people will retain the present administration in office.

MANY FORMER LOCAL PEOPLE ARE SEEN IN VANCOUVER NOW

Among the former Prince Rupert people now located in Vancouver who were seen by local Conservative delegates in that city was E. V. Ling who is now living in New Westminster and is occupied selling life insurance for a Canadian company. R. H. Shockley also was met on the street. He is employed with his brother E. H. Shockley who has several building contracts in hand. J. G. Scott and "Pa" Beak share an apartment together and both welcome the opportunity of meeting northern friends whenever they chance to visit in Vancouver. S. K. Campbell, formerly manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, seems quite satisfied with his new location in the south and made numerous inquiries concerning old friends in Prince Rupert.

Altogether one only has to appear on the street occasionally to meet numerous former residents of Prince Rupert, some of whom freely express the regret that they left and inquired anxiously as to the amount of grain being shipped from the local elevator.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

DECEMBER 3, 1926.

Peter Clark, a Montana cattle rancher, has reached the city en route to the Queen Charlotte Islands where he will look over the possibilities for that industry on the Islands.

Flowers continue to bloom at the cemetery although the season is very far advanced.

Private advices from the front indicate that Capt. Neil McNeil is back again with the forces after an extended leave which was necessary because of shell shock.

Shipments from the pulp mill at Swanson Bay are expected in the city shortly. The plant has just resumed operations.

Mrs. T. R. Tomlinson, wife of Envoy Tomlinson of Cedarvale, has been spending a week or two visiting at the home of Robert Tomlinson, Hospital farm.

Mrs. Clyde Hunt's indisposition and poor health has required the doctor's care. Al Harris and family have moved into the district from where they have been living in the south. Mr. Harris intends working one of the mines under Harris control during the coming winter.

The presence of snow, which has beautified the landscape during the past few days, has gladdened the hearts of those engaged in the timber and pole business. Many revelled last winter on account of there being an open season, but such a winter is hard on the industries of the country. Possibly this year will make up for "last winter's deficiency."

The Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church is holding its annual sale tomorrow evening in the Assembly Hall. Articles of sale are said to be plentiful and varied, and quite suitable for Christmas presents.

The various schools of the district are preparing for Christmas concerts, and the teachers are likewise looking forward to being home for Christmas.

ROAD QUESTION AT ROTARY CLUB

MINISTER OF LANDS STATES HIS VIEWS ON MATTER OF HIGHWAY

The road question was again discussed yesterday at the luncheon of the Rotary Club by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, who was the speaker of the day. He said he was glad to see the spirit of optimism which prevailed in this city. It was not always so. Formerly the idea of the people here was to make money and get out, whereas today the idea was to make homes here. The spirit of optimism was reflected in a delegation which waited on him the day previous and in the program of road building they outlined. In the early days of road building, people had to be educated to the value of roads, whereas today the only difficulty in the way was that of raising the money to build them.

The road building movement had entirely changed during the past ten years with the development of motor traffic. The whole system of the province had to be practically rebuilt.

A short time ago a trunk road system for the province had been laid out which included a road to connect Prince Rupert with the outside world. It had been comparatively easy to connect up as far as Hazelton and now a person could drive from Vancouver to that point. The next section to be tackled was that between Hazelton and Terrace. The government expected to have it completed within two years.

RUPERT IN PLANS

Prince Rupert had always been included in the plans of the government, Mr. Pattullo stated. The section from Hazelton to Terrace he was advised would cost $350,000 in the two years. The next section the difficult one was that between Terrace and Prince Rupert. A cursory reconnaissance had been made with the result that they were told the cost would not be less than $3,000,000. He admired the optimism of the people here who were willing to tackle even that obstacle. In the south people were objecting to taxation but he found no such cry here. They were willing to spend a huge sum on roads. He was in entire sympathy with this movement. He had told the delegation that it was planned to build to Galloway Rapids next year but the delegation wanted him to go farther than that. He told them it could not be done. The appropriations for this district next year would probably be $300,000 which would include the Kaien Island road and the road from Port Clements to Queen Charlotte City. This would be of great benefit to the Islands and should result in improved boat service for them.

People here had to remember that there were 47 constituencies in British Columbia and that 47 times $300,000 was about fourteen million dollars. That much was not available for road building. The appropriations had been cut down two millions last year by the minister of finance. This year they were preparing an elaborate program covering three or four years, and he assured them it was the policy, so far as money permitted, to continue the work on the highway from Prince Rupert to Terrace.

IN FAVOR OF IT

The delegation had asked him the previous day if he was in favor of the expenditure of $300,000 each year on the trunk road covering a period of ten years and he had stated he personally was in favor of it but he could not pledge the administration as to what they would do. The finance minister kept his hand on the financial pulse and on one could forecast what the condition would be ten years hence.

in advance. Every district considered itself to be the most important.

Referring to the national highway view, it still had to be remembered that this vote had to be approved by 47 other constituencies each asking for money and considering themselves the most important. He would do his utmost to bring about road construction and when the time came for him to leave his present position he would get behind someone else for the same purpose.

Mr. Pattullo then spoke of the progress being made in the north. There was fear that Prince Rupert might be getting some of the wheat business which they had expected. He did not think that. He thought there was plenty of business for all. He then spoke of the possible developments in this north country which would make road building easier in future. Among these was the Prince George paper mill which he thought would go through. The Government had made important concessions to induce the industry to proceed and judging from the character of the men interested he thought it likely the industry would go on.

There was another paper mill project nearer than Prince George of which he was not at liberty to speak at present. It would be of more advantage to this place. Strong interests were involved and they had the timber. It was only a question of when would be the propitious time to commence the work.

At Prince Rupert he had hoped there would be a pulp mill and had the late J. S. Emerson lived he had no doubt it would have come about. He emphasized the need of power and said when such a project became a possibility, the city would have gone over the hump and somebody would clean up a bunch of money on real estate. He was gratified at the buoyant optimistic spirit he saw here both among road advocates and others and said it showed promise of better things.

The minister was thanked for his address by President C. H. Orme.

SEASON OF TURKEYS NOW COMING CLOSE

Birds Were Supposed to Have Been Introduced into Europe by King of Macedonia

Turkeys were known to the Greeks, who termed them meleagrids, because a king of Macedonia, Meleager, introduced them into Europe. It is related that the Greek tragic writer, Sophocles, had introduced into one of his now lost tragedies a chorus of turkeys which deplored the death of Meleager. The Romans bred Meleagrian birds at the time of Pliny, who describes them accurately. The animals then became so rare that they were no longer reared in open yards and fields.

TOM MAITLAND NOW RANCHING
WAS SEEN ON HIS PLACE BETWEEN SEATTLE AND VANCOUVER BY CONSERVATIVE DELEGATES
A few of the delegates from Prince Rupert Conservative Convention took the opportunity last Sunday of enjoying a motor ride on the splendid highway which connects Vancouver and Seattle. Some distance out from New Westminster they stopped at the ranch of Tom Maitland—former alderman of Prince Rupert—to renew old acquaintances. Tom is quite satisfied with his little ranch where he is interested in raising chickens in a small way but freely admits there is sometimes a longing to renew old acquaintances in the north. The visitors were treated very hospitably, and it was with difficulty that they eventually continued their journey after answering many questions which Tom asked concerning old friends in Rupert.
Both Tom and Mrs. Maitland seem to be enjoying the best of health although Tom complains of a recurrence of rheumatism contracted in the days of the war.

SMITHERS LIVERY CONCERN CHANGES HANDS THIS WEEK
SMITHERS, Dec. 3.—One of the most important business transactions made in Smithers for some time was concluded Wednesday evening when agreements were signed whereby the ownership of the City Transfer changed hands from W. F. Boyer to Angus McLean, the deal being completed through the firm of Henry & Hetherington.
Mr. Boyer had the business for about seven years and, from an outfit of a couple of teams and drays, made it into one of the most extensive concerns of this nature in the district, and today the equipment has several teams of horses, a fleet of trucks and cars, large barns and warehouses, etc.
Mr. Boyer has been in poor health for some time, and has decided to seek a change of surroundings.
Angus McLean, the new owner, is a pioneer of the district and well known through the valley, having been road superintendent with the Provincial Public Works Department a few years ago.

SPORT CHAT
The Grand Terminal and Native Sons of Canada, who have been battling for cellar position in the Senior Basketball League, will do their stuff again in tonight's fixtures. In the Intermediate League, the leading Grot will meet the Grand Terminal who may already be said to be threatening the position. The Adanacs and Maple Leafs will again try conclusions in the Ladies' League while Stars and Taxis Boys, down in the Junior League, will try again to pick up a little advantage on the leading Colts.

The Chicago White Sox led the American League in fielding percentage in the season of 1926, this supplanting the New York Yankees, which team had for three years in succession been the fielding leader. However, the percentage of the White Sox (.973) was a point less than that recorded by the Yankees the previous year. While the lead was taken with a point less in percentage, the general average was higher than that of 1925 for the entire league. The St. Louis Browns were at the bottom in fielding with a percentage of .963, which was six points better than that of the Boston team when it finished last in 1925. Boston, advanced to fourth place in fielding, led the league in number of assists. An odd thing in the fielding records was that the leading White Sox made so few double plays, while the bottom Browns made the most. Also the Browns were second in number of assists made. The New York team was credited with but 117 double plays in 155 games played. Six triple plays were made, Cleveland and Boston having two each and Philadelphia and Washington one each.

Several outstanding features are noted in individual fielding records of the 1926 season in the American League. Catcher John Bassler of the Detroit team in 63 games behind the bat had 284 chances without error, though he was charged with one passed ball. His 61 assists meant almost one per game. Phil Todt, first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, had 1755 putouts and 126 assists in 154 games, a total of 1881 chances accepted. He had part in 114 double plays and two triple plays. Willie Kamm of the Chicago White Sox recorded a fielding average of .978, very high for third basemen. Bibb Falk, left fielder of the White Sox, made but three errors in 155 games, according to the official scorers' reports. There was a notable list of pitchers who handled all their fielding chances without error or with but one error made all season. Max Bishop of the Athletics led second basemen in percentage. Fred Spurgeon of the Cleveland team came nearest to being in the game at this position every day. Emory Rigney of Boston led the short-stops in fielding, and second to him in percentage was Joe Sewell of Cleveland, who continued his record for continuous play, not missing a game—and scarcely an inning—all season. With the high average of .978 in 142 games, Willie Kamm of the White Sox led the third basemen. Bibb Falk of the White Sox topped all outfielders of the league with his high average of .992, made in 357 chances offered.
