PARLIAMENT OPENED TODAY IN OTTAWA

INFORMAL SESSION HELD TO ELECT SPEAKER: DIVISION EXPECTED NEXT WEEK

Parliament Opened at Ottawa Today but Only Informal Session Held

Much speculation as to what will happen but Government claims good majority

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—The opening of Parliament this afternoon in the absence of the Governor General was of a very informal nature. Speaker Lemieux was re-elected and the oath was administered to a number of the members.

The formal opening takes place tomorrow afternoon when the Governor will be present and when all the most prominent people of the capital, including the wives and daughters of the senators and members of the House of Commons, will have seats on the floor of the House or in the galleries. Among those who have received invitations have been Mrs. Fred Stork and two daughters, all of whom are now here.

KETCHIKAN IS AGAINST PLAN FOR FISHERMEN

Would Not Remove Inequalities at Present Existing Regard to Fishing and Marketing

KETCHIKAN, Jan. 7.—The commercial club of Ketchikan has gone on record as being opposed to the elimination of inequalities in conditions existing between Canada and Alaska in regard to facilities for fishermen. A letter in regard to the matter was read at the last meeting of the club in the Blue Fox Cafe when a committee was appointed to present the views of the businessmen of the city to Senator Jones.

The club opposes the proposals made by Canada as being not in the best interests of Alaska and the committee was instructed to so state in their communication to the senator.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Testifying at the opening of the inquiry into British rubber prices by the House commerce committee yesterday, Secretary Hoover declared foreign control of rubber prices "threatens not only the same progress of the world but contains in it great dangers to international good will."

Secretary Hoover further said the issue involved the whole policy the United States would pursue toward a comparatively new and growing menace in international trade.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—David Hancock, mining operator, formerly of Alice Arm region and now reported en route to Florida, was yesterday assessed $500 by Mr. Justice Morrison in a supreme court judgment, for failure to keep a promise made by him to marry Alice Davis, a nurse.

The court also ordered Hancock to account to Miss Davis for money borrowed from her, which counsel estimated at about $3,000.

BOB ROGERS IN EAST IS BUSY

Rumors of Conservative Change of Leadership Refuse to Down at Toronto

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—The rumor that Hon. Arthur Meighen may be superseded as leader of the Conservative party will not down. It is just now being revived by the visit of Hon. Robert Rogers, member for Winnipeg South, who has had several long conferences with Premier Ferguson, ostensibly in connection with the federal situation.

Mr. Rogers is now at the capital where Parliament opened today but he has left behind him a trail of speculation as to what his visit meant.

Hon. Robert Rogers is the star organizer of the Conservative party but he is headstrong and of late years has not carried so great influence as formerly. Yet no Conservative Government can well be formed without him.

Prince Rupert Gets Same Rate for Grain to United Kingdom as Vancouver, it is Announced

Efforts are being made to create the impression that the rates from Prince Rupert to the United Kingdom on grain are higher than from Vancouver, according to competent authorities, says H. F. Pullen, who has returned from Vancouver after a brief holiday in the south. An interview with B. C. Keeley, superintendent of the Dominion Government Merchant Marine, made it quite clear that the government ships would all give the same rate to Prince Rupert as to other Pacific ports and it is understood that three other options have been offered grain shippers at similar rates. This indicates that there will be no differential against this port either by rail or water and that the port will have an equal chance with Vancouver to secure the business.

Great interest is shown everywhere in Vancouver business circles in regard to Prince Rupert prospects and the general impressions seem to be that this port is about to come into its own. Mr. Pullen says he interviewed a number of brokers and others in regard to the possibility of making shipments this way. All evinced the greatest interest and several said they were working with a view to getting business by the northern route for their firms. One man, who is a reliable grain broker, was surprised when told that the freight rates to Prince Rupert were the same as to Vancouver. He made notes of information given him and said he expected Prince Rupert would hear something to its advantage before very long.

Man is Needed

It seems to be a general opinion among those who wish Prince Rupert well, that an effort should be made to arrange with some experienced grain man to go out and solicit business for the port. A few dollars spent in that way would be a good investment from a civic point of view. Whether the money should be raised by public subscription or be provided from the city taxes is wholly a matter for Prince Rupert people to decide.

Vancouver is not doing anything like the amount of business that could be handled at the present elevators. Apparently an insidious propaganda has been carried on against the western route and an effort has been made to show that shippers do not get as good treatment in the west as in the east. The result has been that with a bumper crop and with increased facilities, little more business has been done so far than was done by the one elevator in the 1923-24 season. Against this effort to retain the business in the east, western ports will have to unite. There is apparently plenty of business for all, once it flows through its natural channels, but the monied interests in the east are uniting in their efforts to retain the trade and to keep the Pacific coast from getting what is rightfully hers. There should be no real competition between Prince Rupert and Vancouver for the grain business but between Pacific ports and the old established lake ports.

Canadian for Canadians

Another sentiment that seems to be freely expressed in the south is that, so far as possible, Canadian grain should be exported through Canadian ports. At present the bulk of it is going through the United States and is building up the ports of that country. Now that Canadian ports are able to handle the business they should get it. Just what measures should be taken to bring about the building up of Canadian ports and the diversion of the traffic from American

Two Stewart Women Sent Up for Trial for Killing of Jas. Donald

Word was received by the provincial police headquarters here that Gladys Gale and Ruby Dolan were committed for trial yesterday by Stipendiary Magistrate J. P. Scarlett at Stewart on charges of killing James Donald in a road house at the mining town early on the morning of January 1. The women will arrive here tomorrow morning in custody of Acting Inspector Spiller and Chief McNeil and will be taken on by Chief and Mrs. McNeil to Okalla prison where they will await trial for their lives at the spring session of the Supreme Court Assizes in this city.

This is the third case set down so far for the assizes here and will be the second murder trial. The other murder trial will be that of three Prince George half-breeds who are charged with the killing of an Indian at Hazelton over a year ago.

Grain Trade Means Everything To Rupert.

It means everything to Prince Rupert to get started right in regard to the grain business. The aim should be to get cargoes going through the elevator this year.

There is no doubt as to the business developing eventually. Then why not now? That is the problem which faces us. Why not now? The difficulty is to get others to see it the same way. If we allow things to take their course and not interest ourselves in the matter, there may be business done because there are all sorts of people who are interested and who will do what they can to have the elevator operate.

Prince Rupert people are the most interested of any and they might do much. All authorities in the south are agreed that the best thing to do is to arrange with a good grain man to go out for the business. Such a man would have to be paid and Prince Rupert people would be the ones who would have to pay him. Doubtless, now that the holiday season is over, some action will be taken soon with that object in view. We must do our part with others to try to get the business started, especially in view of the fact that it is of more importance to us than to anyone else.

Never Mind What Anyone Else Makes.

It does not matter to us what someone else makes out of the grain business. We want them to make money else they will not continue. The impetus of profit is the greatest impetus in the world. There are greater temporary incentives to action but they do not last.

Most of the people who want to see the local elevator operated are actuated by selfish motives. They want to make money out of it. Some would make money directly and others indirectly. Some simply want to see the city grow so that their real estate holdings may become enhanced in value. In any case the incentive is one of profits. To get that profit we must expect to invest and it seems as if the best present investment would be to put up some cash to send a capable man to represent us at the grain centres.

Vancouver On Job All The Time.

Vancouver is on the job all the time. The commercial people of that city deserve to succeed because they have plenty of vision. Yet in Vancouver it was several years after the first elevator was built before it was operated. They did the spade work and we stand to reap the benefit.

Vancouver is watching Prince Rupert and, speaking generally, is recognizing the right of this port to a place in the commercial sun. The business people see great prospects ahead of us and everyone there whose opinion is worth anything, is of opinion that the next few years has great things in store for this port. This is to be the new city of the north rising on the flood tide of commercialism and serving as an outlet for the people of the interior to the markets of the world.

Bunkers Needed For Supplying Goal.

One of the questions asked by all shippers of grain is as to the coal bunker facilities at this port. This is one of the present difficulties and one that must be overcome. There will have to be facilities provided but by whom is not at all certain. The railway company would prefer private interests to handle the bunkering and it is understood would be willing to co-operate with this in view.

Here is an opportunity for Alberta. That province has coal to sell and this port will very soon provide the demand.

EDMONTON SEES GREAT FUTURE

Praises Spirit of Vancouver City and Urges Pacific Outlet for Grain

LEADERSHIP NEEDED

Article Says All Alberta's Export Grain Should Come this Way

A front page leading article in the Edmonton Bulletin should prove of great interest to Prince Rupert people. It says:

Greater Vancouver may boast justly of its 230,000 people, surpassing Winnipeg's 210,000. The Manitoba city has been forced to yield third position among Canadian cities to the fast growing Pacific coast metropolis.

Vancouver forty years ago was a village, but fortunate in having a few men imbued with a spirit and faith that overcame all difficulties.

What made possible this marvellous growth? The world's finest harbor? Good location? Good water? Railway terminals? Yet—but other cities in Canada also had many of these advantages.

Public Men

The Vancouver of today owes its growth and development largely to its public men, the vigorous leadership of its four daily newspapers, the belief in its future greatness, good wages to its workmen and the fair treatment accorded its public utility corporations—admittedly giving the best service in all Canada.

Greater Edmonton has no harbor, but it has something of equal value in being the centre of the greatest area in the world suitable for the growing of grain and the development of mixed farming. It is surrounded by the world's greatest coal deposits, oil and gas in unlimited quantities, connected with the last large block of Canada's free lands, is the gateway to that great and practically unknown empire stretching to the Arctic Ocean, is supply depot to the northern fur trade, owns its public utilities, is the railway centre for all Alberta, and possesses many other natural advantages.

Edmonton owes a debt to the sturdy pioneers who won its fight for the location of the provincial parliament and university buildings, and already it is Alberta's greatest city.

Edmonton is on the eve of developments that will far surpass anything that has yet taken place.

Artificial Barriers

But we must remove the artificial barriers retarding our growth and development, such as discriminating freight rates. The equalization of freight rates means more to Alberta than to any other province in Canada. The loss to the farmers of Alberta and people of Edmonton is many millions of dollars yearly. Every bushel of export grain and produce should go to the low cost route to the Pacific outlet. With equalization of freight rates, Alberta's imports will come from the Pacific, and when that day arrives Edmonton instead of Winnipeg will be the manufacturing and distributing centre for Western Canada.

Leadership that envisions the future is Edmonton's greatest need. Whether that leadership is supplied by the provincial government, the municipal authorities, the board of trade, the service clubs, or by the newspapers, matters little, just so long as we are given the spirit and faith of our pioneers, plus the modern community spirit and intelligent publicity making known to the world the opportunities we have to offer the settler and the investor.

MASS CELEBRATED AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH IN ENGLAND

Curiously little attention has been paid by the newspapers to the interesting controversy that has been going on for some time in the Nonconformist press over the position of Dr. Orchard, the minister of the King's Weigh House, says a London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian. The extraordinary form of service which Dr. Orchard—he is sometimes called Father Orchard—uses in this Congregational church is well known. A form of the Mass is used, and I believe Dr. Orchard himself has told the story of a worshipper who, after attending service at the King's Weigh House, said that it was very beautiful, but that she really preferred the simple Roman Catholic High Mass. Dr. Orchard is, of course, a fine preacher, and has a large and devoted following.

Recently the Congregational Union of London invited him to address a private meeting of ministers on “Disciplined devotion.” One of the ex-chairmen of the Union, J. Morgan Gibbon, wrote a letter of protest to the “Christian World” which started a long and lively correspondence

Winter Time is Carnival Time in Banff

Banff in winter time is fairyland. Shafts of the sun strike the white snow-covered mountains and valleys of the Canadian Rockies, changing them into a landscape of flashing iridescence. Colors—blue, red, green and purple—dance over the scene, as gaily costumed devotees of the snow shoe, the skate and the ski move in the pastel of the great outdoors.

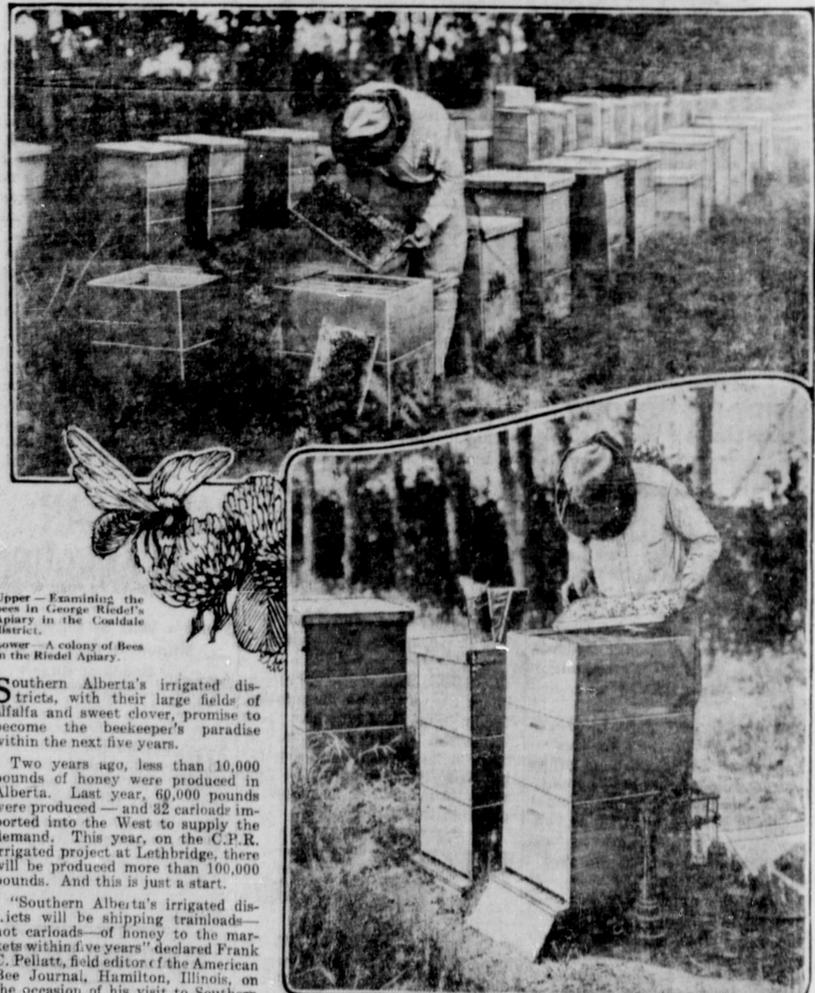

Fancy skaters swing gracefully into intricate figures on the rinks. Ski jumpers thrill the spectators with their marvellous leaps through the air from the ski jump on the top of a nearby mountain. Ski-jorers dash down the Bow River behind fleet mountain ponies. Plank-coated snow-shoe trappers take the trail to the snowy woodlands. In the evening, the brilliant scene is softened by the silver gleam of the moon.

Winter time is carnival time in Banff. February 3rd to 17th has been set for the 1926 Winter Carnival, and Mrs. Basil Gardom has been chosen as the fair Queen. A splendid palace of glittering ice, sparkling with myriads of bright colored electric lights is being built for the chosen beauty. With true regal pomp and splendor she will be crowned and seated on her throne as the culminating triumph of the carnival.

Trains pull into the station at Banff. Passengers on their way west stop off to depart themselves in the snowy, gay little town. Passengers on their way east delay long enough to see the famous ski jumpers breaking world records. Passengers from both east and west with Banff as their objective, and snow shoes, skates and skis in their luggage, hurry to attend the festivities in honor of the carnival queen.

Southern Alberta is Beekeeper's Paradise

Upper—Examining the bees in George Riedel's Apiary in the Coaldale district.

Lower—A colony of Bees in the Riedel Apiary.

Southern Alberta's irrigated districts, with their large fields of alfalfa and sweet clover, promise to become the beekeeper's paradise within the next five years.

Two years ago, less than 10,000 pounds of honey were produced in Alberta. Last year, 60,000 pounds were produced—and 32 carloads imported into the West to supply the demand. This year, on the C.P.R. irrigated project at Lethbridge, there will be produced more than 100,000 pounds. And this is just a start.

“Southern Alberta's irrigated districts will be shipping trainloads—not carloads—of honey to the markets within five years” declared Frank C. Pellatt, field editor of the American Bee Journal, Hamilton, Illinois, on the occasion of his visit to Southern Alberta late in July this year. “This is the greatest potential honey producing district in North America.”

Today, one apiarist in the Coaldale district has 600 colonies of bees. This man, C. George Riedel, came to Southern Alberta from California in the spring of 1924 and started with 200 colonies. In 1926 he will have 1800 colonies and will make more than 150 tons of honey. This year his bees will make him about 50 tons, and one wholesale firm having branches throughout the West is handling the whole output.

Each colony of bees makes about 200 pounds in a season, though one colony at the Lethbridge Experimental Farm broke all records for Canada by making 472 pounds in the season of 1923. A record of 21 pounds in one day by one colony was made in 1923 when the bees at the Experimental Farm averaged 189 pounds for the season, the high record for the year at the experimental farms across Canada.

REVOLUTIONARIES OXFORD UNIVERSITY

Indian Undergraduates and Others Engaged in Secret Propaganda, Says London Times

Certain underground activities have been traced at Oxford which were designed to promote the formation of a revolutionary group among Indian undergraduates, says the London Times. In particular, two non-Indians have been engaged in secret propaganda among them, and they seem to have made some impression on certain members of the Majlis (Indian society). Getting in touch with selected men, they enjoined strict secrecy, and it was arranged that Indian members of the organization should be shown under assumed non-Indian names.

The work of these agents also included a study of the antecedents of each Indian undergraduate likely to become a convert and his views as to Indian politics, together with plans for their education in Communist doctrine by means of literature imported from abroad and very quietly distributed.

TELEGRAPHERS SECEDE FROM INTERNATIONAL

Form Canadian Union at Meeting Held in Edmonton

EDMONTON, Jan. 7. — At a meeting held in the MacDonald Hotel Tuesday night of the Pacific District Canadian National Division, No. 43, Commercial Telegraphers of America a unanimous vote was passed to secede from that organization. A provisional committee, the personnel of which is chairman, Wm. Mark, W. J. Davies, P. E. Miles and C. W. Mitchell were appointed to carry on the routine affairs of the members until such time as the regularly appointed officers would take office.

The committee were instructed by the meeting to co-operate with similar committees appointed by Central and Western districts of Division 43, in organizing and promoting the interest of the new Canadian organization to be known as the Electrical Communication workers of Canada.

It is stated that this secessionist movement has been brought about, not by the activities of people with communistic tendencies, as President Tom Moore of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada's statement suggests, but through the Canadian workers waking up to the fact that they are sending tens of thousands of dollars in per capita money to the United States every year and receiving nothing in return.

DROP IN EGGS WAS FASTER THAN EVER

The drop in the price of eggs on the local and other markets which has taken place in the last four weeks is unprecedented in the commercial history of the coast, says the Victoria Colonist. The Victoria market has experienced an average drop of thirty cents per dozen for all grades, while in Vancouver and other large centres similar declines have taken place, ranging over the last thirty days.

Children's Colds Are quickly, pleasantly relieved by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine

If children's colds are got rid of promptly there will be less tendency to pneumonia and consumption in later life. It is the neglected, hanging-on cold that weakens the lungs and develops into serious trouble. No treatment for coughs and colds was ever so popular with the children as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It is so pleasant to the taste, so delightfully soothing and healing and affords relief so quickly that children soon turn to it instinctively when choked up with a cold or annoyed by coughing. It is mother's favorite treatment for croup and bronchitis, for she knows it will bring relief when the midnight coughing spasms set in. It is wise to always have a bottle at hand for prompt use in emergency.

CANADA FIRST IS URGED BY JOURNAL

Says More Interest Taken in Old Country Politics Than in Government of Canada

(Financial Post) Why is it that some Canadians are unwilling to be Canadians? There are in Canada many British-born Canadians who become more enthusiastically British when they arrive in Canada than they ever were in the Old Country, even more British than the British people themselves.

We have in Canada French-speaking Canadians who are more French than the French themselves.

There are Canadians who support with vigor and force every policy initiated by a government in Great Britain, although the British people themselves may be divided on the point. There are Canadians who stomp the country, upholding the actions of whatever government may be in power in France at the moment, regardless of the divisions of opinion in France itself regarding those policies.

Let us not forget our mother countries, but let us be Canadians first.

FLEWIN TELLS OF EARLY DAYS

Port Simpson Man in Victoria is in Reminiscent Mood Regarding Past

Many adventurous experiences have befallen J. Flewin, of Port Simpson, who is in the city visiting relatives says the Victoria Colonist.

A native of Victoria, where his father was Hudson's Bay Company employee in the days of the Fort, Mr. Flewin learned printing in the composing room of The Colonist, eventually exchanging the case—for it was the days of hand setting exclusively—for varied occupations with the excitement of outdoor life. He entered the Provincial police, with whom he spent a considerable time in the eighties.

Trouble with Indians

At that time there was considerable trouble with the Indians, who resented the appearance of white settlers in localities which they claimed as their own. One of Mr. Flewin's most exciting experiences was the capture of the ringleader in the Miller and Dring murders at Osborne Bay, Crofton. The Indians implicated in that brutal double murder evaded detection for many months, and it fell to Mr. Flewin to arrest a man for a minor offence at Comox. While under arrest he made a confession which implicated the ringleader, who quite unconsciously that the story was out, paddled his canoe to a point where he fell right into the hands of the posse in pursuit.

Mr. Flewin was engaged on a case which long baffled detection owing to the murder of the crew of the Seabird. It long appeared almost impossible to trace the culprits to the right tribe, but eventually Mr. Flewin had a share in bringing this about.

of the Government at Port Simpson. This came after he had been engaged in the suppression of the Indian outbreak on the Skeena, near Hazelton, which at one time was regarded as so serious as to require a battery and special police being sent from Victoria on H.M.S. Caroline, July 16, 1888.

Mr. Flewin went into the northern country at a difficult time, just when the Metlakalla controversy had not improved the conditions between the Indians and the white people.

He organized the agency, and held the post until 1907, when his health compelled him to go to California, and there he resided for a year. Since 1908, when he returned to the north, he has been engaged in mining.

At the Dominion Hotel he met an old friend in the person of John Conway, now agent at Cumberland, a friend of many years' standing.

MCPHEE TELLS OF WHITE BEAR

Victoria Paper Publishes Account of Visit of Ursus Kermodei to Butedale

PLAYED WITH DOG.

Joe McPhee, well known here and at present customs officer at Butedale, who has been holidaying in the south, has been telling Victoria people about a white bear which he believes to be the mother of the one at Beacon Hill zoo. The story as it appears in the morning paper of that city follows:

A bear, believed to be the mother of Victoria's own Ursus Kermodei, has made several appearances in the settlement at Butedale, on Princess Royal Island, according to J. N. McPhee, customs officer at Butedale, who is registered at the Dominion Hotel.

Mrs. Ursus Kermodei is hungry. The berries have been scanty on the hillsides this fall, and there have been savory odors floating fragrantly from the kitchens of the settlement towards the hills.

The mother bear of the creamy white color, who is regarded in the district as a parent of the cub brought here many months ago, and which has grown into a splendid animal in her enclosure at Beacon Hill Park, has shown herself frequently in Butedale.

Mr. McPhee personally met her distinguished ursine ladyship on the wharf. So desirous was she of sampling the contents of an appetizing dish—that she permitted the gambols of a terrier around her with the same contempt that a Newfoundland would have for a toy dog.

Confident of Identification

The settlers are quite confident, from the range of territory covered by this full-grown bear, and its approximate age, that it lost the cub which has subsequently made history under the circumstances already familiar in a hundred newspaper stories.

As a matter of fact, Mr. McPhee received the Beacon Hill bear as a cub when it was first brought out of the bush, prior to its disposal to the Ocean Fallman from whom it was acquired by the Game Board. He confidently believes this adult female bear of the unique Kermodei variety could be trapped, and for that reason intends to take an official opinion on the matter as to the expediency of such a course before he goes back.

Another Bear Story

Mr. McPhee brought a picture of the Anderson grizzly hunt, which occurred at Khatze Inlet, six miles from Butedale, and which won fame for the hunter last summer.

Mr. Anderson is shown with the four grizzlies he slew with five shots, and in the background is the rock where the bears stormed in vain as he defended himself from their attacks, one after another. Such an heroic incident is believed to be without parallel in the long history of bear hunting in British Columbia.

Island Famed for Bears

In addition to the grizzlies and the rare white bear, of which Victoria has the only one in captivity, Princess Royal Island, Mr. McPhee says, has brown bears, so that it is a paradise for the hunter. He declares there are specimens of white bears on Princess Royal and Gribble Islands, and upon the mainland facing these islands.

ADJUSTMENT WILL TAKE SOME TIME

Report is that $395,000 Insurance was Carried on Prince Rupert Spruce Mills Buildings

Owing to the circumstances of the second fire, it is expected that some considerable time will elapse before it will be possible for the insurance companies and the Prince Rupert Spruce Mills, Ltd. to agree on adjustments. It is said that $395,000 insurance was carried on the mill buildings besides that on the lumber.

J. A. Ward Bell of the Prince Rupert Spruce Mills, Ltd. and P. G. Shalcross, representing the underwriters, are expected to reach here on Saturday from the city of Vancouver.

The Man Who Talked at Random

HE sat in the window-corner of the Pullman's smoking compartment, and breathed fatly and uttered large opinions in a suety voice. It grew late, as so often it does; and he put the quietus on a discussion with the ponderous statement:

"I don't read advertisements. They have no effect on me at all. I'd never miss them if they stopped printing 'em."

Then he glanced at his advertised watch and sought his lower birth.

In the morning the ad-skeptic contorted himself out of his advertised pyjamas into his advertised underwear, drew on his advertised socks, adjusted them with his advertised garters, got into his advertised clothes, laced his advertised shoes and added himself to the congestion in the wash-room.

There he shaved with an advertised razor, using advertised shaving cream; brushed his teeth with an advertised toothbrush and advertised dental cream, washed with advertised soap, and brushed his hair with an advertised brush. Buttoning his advertised collar on an advertised button, he neatly knotted his advertised tie, gave his advertised suspenders a tug or two, and finished dressing.

Let us leave him there, this man who never reads advertisements!

Everything worth using is advertised. Everything that isn't, rarely is.

NEWSPRINT TURN OUT LOWER IN NOVEMBER

Production in Canada, However, Again Surpassed that of United States

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—According to figures issued by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, newsprint production in November was lower than in the previous month, both in Canada and U. S. A. mills, due in each case to a shorter working period, the actual daily output in each country being greater than in October.

Canadian production again surpassed that of the United States for the third month in succession and for the sixth time this year. It would look as if Canada has now taken a permanent lead in this branch of manufacture.

Production figures for November were as follows: November, 1925—Canada 132,147; U.S.A. 130,102; total tons,

PAN-AMERICA AND CANADA

Ottawa Citizen Comments Editorially on Forthcoming Congress

The selection of Canada as the scene of the 1927 Pan-American Congress indicates the importance which other New World nations attach to the effort now being made to induce this country to become a full member of the Pan-American Union says the Ottawa Citizen editorially. Already indications point to a successful culmination of that effort, and by the time the congress meets here it is probable that Canada will be a member.

A Pan-America without Canada is an imperfect Pan-America if not a contradiction in terms. Canadian Trade Commissioner Hudd, however, as delegate to the Pan-America Commercial Congress in New York last week, let it be known that this Dominion hopes to participate actively in future congresses. This, it may be presumed, means participation in not only the commercial, financial and scientific conferences of the movement, but the general international conferences.

Canada has nothing to lose by joining in the Pan-American gatherings, whether political, economic or financial. In almost all respects she is the second nation on the two continents of America. The United States is the only English-speaking member. Canada's joining would mean additional opportunities for the two countries to co-operate for mutual advantage, in harmony with the interests of South American countries. What is more, it would lead to closer political relations and better trade connections with South America, a region very much neglected in the minds of most Canadians.

Up to the present, Imperial considerations have made Canada hesitate in the matter of the Pan-American movement, but now it is realized that this country's inclusion need not mean any weakening of bonds with Britain. Another thing to be

BIRTH CONTROL WAS SUBJECT OF SERMON

Dr. Clem Davies Preached at City Temple on New View of Marriage

VICTORIA, Jan. 7. — At the evening service in the city Temple last Sunday evening, Dr. Clem Davies discussed the subject of birth control. According to the preacher this matter is no longer a fad for intellectual maiden ladies to lecture about, but a real question for every mother in the land, and the gospel of birth control will shortly "sweep the world like a new religion" and a new view of marriage "based on science and flooded with a newer and higher romance, the romance of race-building through happy, well-born children," is about to emerge.

Formerly ministers of religion took on the policy of "hush! hush!" in regard to the subject, said the preacher, but they are discovering as they study the subject of sin in all its social, industrial and international implications and aspects that only by beginning with birth control can we have any hope of driving sickness, sorrow and social maladjustment from the world. The more modern clergyman has been saying for years that the place to begin the education of the child was before his birth. And now people are no longer talking so freely about raising children and "bringing up father." They are beginning to understand what it means to select ancestors and bring them up rightly.

University Girls at Toronto Find Ways of Cutting Down Expenses

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 7.—(By Canadian Press).—In the University of Toronto with its five thousand odd students, one of the big questions always has been, and always is, "What is this year going to cost me—will I be able to keep within my allowance?" An impecunious state is a part of the student tradition. "Anywhere from two hundred and fifty to fifteen hundred dollars—take your pick," laughingly replied a Toronto co-ed when questioned. "But she should be able to get along on from six to seven hundred dollars." This, of course, refers to the out-of-town girl who is boarding in the city. The resident student escapes a greater part of this cost.

But the girl who is clever with her hands has a great advantage when it comes to clothes. "A good party dress can be made for fifteen dollars. To buy it from the shop costs from forty to eighty. University women also wear sweaters and blouses much more than do the girls in business. They do not go in as much for georgette and so on and there they also save a great deal of money. Hats, are not nearly as big an item as they used to be. Many of the small felt hats are being worn and they are not nearly as expensive as the others were. There is more reblocking being done this year than ever before. Many of last season's are cleaned up and some to light again and that's not all—many of us have our father's old felt hat reblocked and dyed to wear ourselves. Most of these little hats too, can be worn anywhere."

ECONOMIZING IN COLLEGE

University Girls at Toronto Find Ways of Cutting Down Expenses

Soviet legislation received an unexpected setback at the recent session of the Central Executive Committee, or "Red Parliament," as it is sometimes called, when the new law which was to regulate family life in Soviet Russia was presented for ratification, but had to be withdrawn, says a Riga correspondent of the London Times.

This law, the Law of Family Rights, had been drawn up in all detail and had been passed by the Central Committee of the Communist Party, the Commissariat for Justice, the Soviet of People's Commissars, and other departments of the Government, when, according to firmly established precedent in Soviet Russia, it should have received the "unanimous approval" of the "Red Parliament." But a group of peasant women, members of this "Parliament," upset the usual routine.

When the Bolshevik "Public Prosecutor" Krylenko summarized the new law one of the women delegates raised her voice in protest, followed by a number of others, who vented their particular grievance and condemned the Bolshevik marriage legislation. They pointed out in simple, blunt language, in the sincerity of which there could be no doubt, that the loose marriage regulations, together with the facilities and inducements offered for divorce had affected and deteriorated the position of women to an incredible degree. They had broken up family ties, filled the country with vagrant, outcast children, and produced a multitude of deserted (or divorced) wives seeking their late husbands and fathers of their children, from whom, according to Soviet law, they were still entitled to some measure of support.

The revised code of marriage laws embodied in the new measure before "Parliament" placed all forms of cohabitation on an equal legal basis, whether registered or unregistered, whereas the regulations hitherto in force recognized only "registered marriages and divorces."

In the fact of this unexpected storm, it was impossible to pass the new "marriage code." Consequently President Kalinin himself announced that the measure would be withdrawn and not brought forward again until it had been discussed by the lower village Soviets, district Soviets, Women's Department, and in the Press.
