MACKENZIE KING APPEALS FOR A BRITISH CANADA

ELEPHANTS ARE CAPTURED BY INDIAN WOMAN WHO FEEDS THEM APPLES

Mackenzie King Says He Stands for the British Constitution, a Free Self-Governing Nation

VICTORIA, Aug. 13.—"I stand for the British constitution through and through. I am not in favor of, never have been in favor of and never will be in favor of annexation," declared Premier Mackenzie King here last night, when addressing the electors. "I make this statement," he added, "because there has been a deliberate attempt to mislead the people of the country. I believe the country can have no greater destiny than as a nation of the free self-governing nations of the British Empire. That is the highest destiny we can have. The greatest service to mankind could be rendered by having two nations upon the continent of North America."

ROBB BUDGET IS UNDER FIRE

PREMIER MEIGHEN SPEAKS AT WAYSIDE STATION ON WAY WEST AND TALKS FINANCE

LANDIS, Sask., Aug. 13.—"Those who deride me for crying it now pretend I am going to destroy it," declared Premier Meighen at a brief wayside meeting at Biggar, Sask. The premier vigorously denied rumors that he proposed to amalgamate the Canadian National with the Canadian Pacific.

Speaking of Robb's budget, Meighen said he realized that the budget had brought a reduction in the income tax to the level of moderate income. "I am glad to see it. It should have come before," he said, adding, however, that those who benefited most were Mr. Large Income. As to the effect of the budget on automobile prices, the premier declared there never was more transparent sham than the attempt to make the people believe the budget reduced the price of automobiles at the expense of the manufacturer. The price of cars was reduced because the luxury tax had been taken off and the treasury lost money.

MINERS APPEAL TO GOVERNMENT

Would Have Meeting to Discuss National Agreement and National Minimum Wage.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—An appeal for Government action in the coal strike was made by General Secretary Cook, of the Miners' Federation today. He said he desired the Government to invite the leaders of the miners to meet them and representatives of the owners with a view to arranging a national agreement and a national minimum wage, and also discuss reorganization of the mining industry.

Leon J. Ladner, Conservative member for Vancouver South, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning en route to Terrace at which point he will address a meeting this evening.

NOTICE TO LIBERALS OF SKEENA RIDING

The Liberal committee rooms, 303 Third Ave., next to the Electric Bakery, will be open every afternoon and evening until election day.

set of his remarks on the constitution addressed to those who called themselves Conservatives: "Because a condition has arisen which would not appeal to or be approved of by those who called themselves Conservatives. I appeal not to Tories, who believe only in their own right to rule. These persons differ from Conservatives who had reverence for the constitution and laws of the country and parliamentary procedure which has come down through generations from the Old Land."

Challenges Legality

Mr. King challenged the legality of the present government's actions. "When the whole matter is understood it will be found that the whole business of this government is as illegal and fraudulent as it is possible to be. The Government in carrying on after it had been refused supply by the House of Commons is as serious a contravention of constitutional rights as can be found in British history. Yet Mr. Meighen had declared that it was all 'foam and froth.'"

Mackenzie King said at the outset of his remarks on the constitution addressed to those who called themselves Conservatives: "Because a condition has arisen which would not appeal to or be approved of by those who called themselves Conservatives. I appeal not to Tories, who believe only in their own right to rule. These persons differ from Conservatives who had reverence for the constitution and laws of the country and parliamentary procedure which has come down through generations from the Old Land."

Liberal Party British

"What the Liberal party is standing for today is British constitutional practice," declared the Liberal leader. "That's all, because we want to see this country remain British. One thing we have in common throughout the British Empire is the constitution under which we live."

Big Mining Deal Near Smithers Includes Sixty Claims in Babine Mountains and Price $400,000

SMITHERS, Aug. 13.—An amalgamation of mining claims representing one of the largest deals in the history of the district was completed in Smithers this week by Henry L. Messner, representing New York capital.

Mr. Messner is interested in a number of mineral claims in the Babine Mountains with the local firm of Messner Bros. and Harter, and to make a big merger these men have bonded four of the most promising groups of the adjoining Babine claims, and the amalgamated properties, over sixty claims in all, it is expected, will be taken over by a New York syndicate at a consideration of about $400,000.

EXPLOSION AT PAPER MILL

Seven Men Injured Yesterday Afternoon and One Seriously Hurt

That a big explosion occurred at the Ocean Falls paper plant yesterday afternoon when a modern paper making machine, which had just been installed, exploded, injuring seven men, Alex. Morris, one of the injured, being in a serious condition and may die as the result of injuries received, was the word brought to the city by Bill Murray, who returned with the local football team on the Prince Rupert this morning.

The explosion occurred just prior to a change in the shift of workmen. The accident happened a few minutes later twenty men would have been around the machinery. It is thought the explosion was the result of the steam pressure in the boiler being too high.

Heavy pieces of machinery were hurled through the roof and considerable damage was done to surrounding property.

STOCKS PROVE CHANGEABLE

General Motors Drops in Spite of Big Dividend Announcement.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Sharp reaction in stock prices greeted an unexpected increase in the Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate today. Initial losses, mostly on of active issues, ranged from one to five points, but before long a score of stocks sold from three to ten points lower. The reaction embraced practically the entire list, including General Motors, whose directors last evening declared a fifty per cent stock dividend. That stock dropped as much as seven points, but before the market closed a good demand for investment issues helped the prices all around.

Freighter Lillernorn, Capt. Dan McKinnon, Arrived in Port Yesterday Morning from the Queen Charlotte Islands and Unloaded 31,000 Cases of Salmon at the C.N.R. Dock.

The Native Sons of Canada are asking the local candidates the following questions:

1. If elected, do you pledge yourself to use your utmost endeavor to abolish the necessity of legal appeals to the Privy Council of Great Britain?
2. The greater part of our population being native born, we deem it time, that no Act or Departmental ruling should be permitted to interfere with those of Canadian birth being registered as Canadians and so classified in all census returns.
3. If elected, will you endeavor to have established for Canada, a distinctive official Canadian flag?
4. The Native Sons of Canada having pledged themselves to the encouragement of the development of Canadian art, literature and music, and the further development of scientific research, and intend to make representations to the Dominion Government along this line, suggesting that adequate sums be provided for scientific research and that permanent forms of recognition be provided for original works of Canadian authors, artists and musicians. If elected, will you promise to support this?
5. Whereas: the Government of Canada does not acknowledge us as Canadians in act or covenant, be it resolved: That we the members of Prince Rupert Assembly No. 44, Native Sons of Canada ask all candidates in the forthcoming federal election, that they will pledge themselves, if elected, to introduce the necessary legislation at the next session of parliament and use every effort to secure its passage, to remove the word British from all legal documents, contracts, communications and legislation and substitute in place thereof the words Canada or Canadian.

If elected, will you do this?

HANGED TODAY FOR MURDER

Whittemore Declares That Death is Harder on His Wife Than Himself.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13.—Richard Reese Whittemore, leader of the "Million Dollar Crime Trust," was hanged this morning for murder at Maryland penitentiary of the guard when doing 18 months for jail breaking.

Whittemore mounted the gallows with a smile on his lips, declaring: "Death isn't such a hard proposition, after all. It's harder on my wife than me."

Union Steamer Catala, Capt. A. Johnston, Docked at 8.45 o'clock this morning from Vancouver en route to the Skeena and the Naas Rivers and Port Simpson, for which points she sailed at 10 a.m. Passengers debarking here included Mrs. Darlington, Mrs. Green, Mr. Pratt, Mrs. Robinson and two children, and Mrs. Rosseau.

Some Indians then rode to Cranbrook and returned with the circus men who brought the fettered elephant to town, and the other two followed of their own accord.

While being loaded into freight cars, one of the big creatures suddenly bolted to the open, when the crowd set up a roar of cheers. One car of the special circus train is detained here, according to company officials, as a guarantee to the authorities that the escaped elephants will not be abandoned by their owners.

Three Elephants Taken But One Again Escapes; Watching Crowds Cheer

Lured from liberty by a woman with an apple in the wilds of the Kootenay forests and taken into custody

Cranbrook, Aug. 13.—Only one of the five circus elephants that escaped here five days ago is now at large. He was captured, but later escaped. Details of the capture of the animals has been received from the district where they had been taken into custody.

Like Sampson, the huge pachyderms succumbed to the lure of a woman and their fall from liberty was due, as in Adam's case, to a love for apples. It seems that the Kootenay Indians had taken a prominent part in the hunt on horseback and it was due to the sagacity of an old woman and several companions that the trio was captured, one of which subsequently escaped. Coming unexpectedly upon the animals, the squaw detached herself from her companions and approached the elephants with an offering of apples, which was readily accepted. More apples were brought and finally the old Kootenayman managed to tie together the front feet of the beasts.

MEET PREMIER AT SMITHERS

Mr. Meighen Will Be Shown Around City By Local Conservatives and Sights Pointed Out.

Local Conservatives are making preparations to give a good reception to Hon. Arthur Meighen, who is scheduled to arrive here at 3.30 tomorrow afternoon. C. H. Orme, president of the district Conservative Association, left this morning for Smithers where he will meet the Premier early tomorrow morning and will make final arrangements.

It is planned to take an hour of the Premier's time in showing him around the city, taking him to the cold storage plant, the drydock, the courthouse. Also the railway hotel and post office sites will be pointed out to him.

HUGE RUN OF PINK SALMON

Masset Inlet Not Only Supplying Canneries There But Many Others

That more pink salmon are being taken in Massett Inlet this year than ever before is the word brought today from the Queen Charlotte Islands. Not only are the canneries there working day and night in order to handle the huge supply, but load after load of the fish are being taken to Wales Island cannery, to the two canneries here and to a number of others that are buying there.

Among the latest boats to be pressed into the service as salmon packers is the Inez II, owned by the Ness Brothers.

YOUTHFUL PITCHER HOLDS BAMBINO DOWN FOR WASHINGTON TEAM

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Manager Huggins, of the Yankees, watched the youthful George Murray, whom he released to Washington, turn his heavy batters back yesterday with only three hits, the mighty Ruth failing to secure one run and fanning once, Washington took its third straight game.

THE PUBLICLY EXPRESSED OPINION OF A CONSERVATIVE

"In my view the whole of this western movement should be directed to the port of Vancouver; and all public monies expended upon the Pacific coast should be expended there. There never was a more grossly flagrant instance of expenditure of public monies for purely political purposes than the building of the elevator at Prince Rupert by the Liberal government."

War Service of Political Leaders.

(Montreal Herald)

The Herald takes the liberty of discussing a subject of a personal nature regarding the Right Honorable Mackenzie King without that gentleman's permission. We have only one justification in this action, and we believe we have this in four-fold measure in the contemptible conduct of those who sink to any subject of discussion, so long as party may be served. There are always those of small minds, who grasp at any information regardless of truth and good sense, that some stupid selfish interest may be served.

We refer to the war record of the ex-Prime Minister. Mr. King did not go overseas, neither did Mr. Meighen nor Mr. Patenaude. That is not argument—it does provide premises, however, for asking how each of these gentlemen, all of whom were of service age, occupied himself when Canada's sons were at death grips with the enemy.

Mr. Meighen was at that time a cabinet minister of active service age. He doubtless believed he was giving the utmost he had to offer in administering a department of the government. We do not deny that he had every right to occupy himself as he did rather than enlist and go to the front.

Meighen Remained in This Country.

Mr. Patenaude retained a portfolio in the Borden Administration until the conscription measure was introduced when he resigned because of it. We do not deny that he had a perfect right to follow his personal inclinations and to retire from service of any kind in behalf of his country's effort.

Now—what did Mr. King do?

The Rockefeller foundation, as an institution, was tremendously sympathetic to the allied cause. This Foundation believed that so long as the United States remained a neutral nation, that the help of the country could best reach the allies through furnishing supplies to the British, French, Italian and Belgian armies. There were several difficulties in the way of maintaining the output from the American factories. We will mention only two:

1. The extensive and devilish German propaganda, directed toward creating unrest in the mills and mines.
2. The very natural tendency in Labor ranks to demand excessive wages and the reaction of the owners against these demands.

What did the Rockefeller Foundation do?

Ex-President Elliott, of Harvard University, was asked to suggest the name of a man who had the educational training, the experience and the ability to act as a permanent conciliator—who would go wherever trouble arose and bring the capitalistic and labor groups to a reasonable frame of mind. Mr. Elliott said he knew of only one man who was thoroughly competent and he was a Canadian—a young man of great ability, who came under his observation during his student days at Harvard. This man was Mackenzie King, of Ottawa.

King Was Invited and Answered the Call.

Mr. King was invited to undertake the task and to thus render yeoman service of inestimable value to the allied cause.

He answered the call, and at once set to work. As a result of his efforts labor difficulties that had hitherto proved insufferable were straightened out, and an immense impetus was thereby given to the production of munitions and war supplies generally. So successful was his work in connection with the Rockefeller interests that other great corporations engaged in war production applied for his help, and he was "loaned" to these corporations by his original employers, and did equally good work for them and consequently for the Allied cause.

The question now arises—what should Mr. King have done? Should he have gone overseas merely for the heroics of the thing—in a capacity for which he had no special qualifications, or should he have given himself to the work he knew he could do; that Elliott said he could do better than anyone else; that the Rockefeller Foundation evidently thought he could do better than any other person they could get?

The greatest waste in the war resulted in the stupidity of headquarters in Canada and England in putting square pegs into round holes, in giving a man, military fashion, a job to do that he knew nothing about, and in making an accountant into a stretcher-bearer and a dry goods clerk into a paymaster.

Canada has enough dirty political history to blush over without paid Conservative orators adding this war service nonsense to the record.

WHEAT POOL AND FUTURE

Financial Post of Toronto Speaks of Success of Enterprise and Possibilities

He would be a rash man who would say that the Canadian wheat pool has not been a success—so far. It has marketed about half of Canada's recent crops on world markets at prices that have at least satisfied the farmers, says the Financial Post of Toronto. They have been higher than the prices obtained by independent American farmers, and while private grain marketing organizations feel that the wheat pool managers have sacrificed wheat throughout, in order to sell it, thus reducing the final average return to the members, this is not a charge that can be proven or disproven on the available evidence. Certainly the plan of throwing all wheat in a general pool has brought all the members to the same level; has reduced the speculative element in their business and has put some of the long-headed farmers behind some of the poorer business men among them.

Business men in the West generally are favorable towards the wheat pool idea. It spreads the farmers' income over a longer period and maintains trade on a more level keel throughout the winter and spring.

Testing Time

The real testing time for the wheat pool is not yet. It has consistently sold its wheat on a rising world market. How successful it would be with market conditions against it is much of a question. The very best business acumen will then be needed to make co-operative selling a success and hold the wheat pool together.

In the meantime, business Canada is wondering how far the wheat pool will go in entreaching itself. Will the farmers be assessed a few cents on each bushel to provide investment funds that will enable the wheat pool to build more elevator chains, perhaps even to own vessels, etc.? This would make the wheat pool an even more powerful organization, but would increase its expenses.

Broaden Efforts

Aaron Sapero, the Chicago lawyer, whose silver voice has been responsible for many co-operative movements among farmers here and in the States, urged the farmers of Western Canada to broaden their co-operative efforts, when he spoke to a group of them in Saskatoon the other day.

"That is the co-operative idea you have got to have in Saskatchewan. I would never be satisfied with my fellow citizens until every farmer is in the wheat pool, until you have got the control of every stick of timber in which your wheat is housed, control of production credit so it can be brought down to a five per cent basis, control of marketing crediting so that you and the best wheat in the world can get credit of four per cent. I will not be satisfied until you are organized on the commodity basis for your dairy products, your live stock, all the things that will make a rich and complete agricultural life in Saskatchewan."

FLIN FLON MINE TO BE OPERATED

Special Process to Retrieve Gold, Silver, Copper and Zinc From the Ores.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12.—Guarantees in connection with financing the Flin Flon Railway will be given to the provincial government immediately it is stated, and actual construction work may be started late this month. The Flin Flon mine owners, H. P. Whitney and associates, of New York, and the Mining Corporation of Canada are calling for tenders for 2,000 cords of wood, cutting to start within thirty days and the wood to be placed on the property as soon as winter sets in.

This indicates mining on a large scale, with a requirement of dry wood for active operations in the early winter. Latest reports from Denver are that the final mill-run tests of 80 tons of Flin Flon ore have proved satisfactory and that the patented Denver process is perfected to retrieve gold, silver, copper and zinc from the complex ores of the property.

It is expected that the machin-

JAPANESE BOAT WAS SALVAGED

Taken Off Hammer Rocks by Captain Swanson and Party

TOWED INTO PORT

Partly submerged with her decks awash and only her machinery intact, the Japanese seine boat Shuchona III, a 65 foot boat owned by Tanaka Brothers of Inverness, which went ashore on the Hammer Rocks, Hecate Straits, in a dense fog early on Tuesday morning, was towed into port at 11 o'clock last night by the Lella R., Capt. A. Swanson, assisted by the Chief Zibassa, which had been dispatched to the scene to render aid by the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company.

The Shuchona III, now lies at the Prince Rupert Boathouse wharf. The boat was raised yesterday afternoon on the high tide by placing thirty empty drums inside her hull, the keel of which has been completely torn off. The machinery is held in the boat by hawsers and chains.

When the boat went on the rocks on Tuesday morning several passing fishing schooners were hailed for assistance but did not respond to the call. But for the timely arrival of the American fishing boat Valorous, Capt. Ed. Winters, who at personal risk took the men off the wrecked boat, it is probable the crew would have been drowned. It took Capt. Winters three hours to get the last two men off the boat owing to the high seas running.

The Lella R., when going to the scene of the wreck on Wednesday, met the Valorous in the Metlakatla Passage and took the crew of the Shuchona aboard to assist in the raising of the vessel.

The boat carries half insurance.

FIRST FOREST FIRE IN BULKLEY VALLEY

SMITHERS, Aug. 13.—The first serious forest fire for the Bulkley Valley this season started on Monday near the Bulkley River about three miles west from Smithers.

The exceedingly hot dry weather of the past week has made the fire risk acute and the forestry officials have organized a gang of nearly thirty fire fighters to try and keep the outbreak under control.

LOCAL YUKONERS BACKING CONGDON

A number of old Yukoners were much interested in the announcement made yesterday that Fred Congdon was to oppose George Black in the territory at this election. They say that owing to changes that have taken place, they feel assured Mr. Congdon will win. At the last election at which he was a candidate he had only two weeks in the territory yet he ran very close to winning.

NUMBER LOST LIVES EUROPEAN ACCIDENTS

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Three disasters on the continent today snuffed out 39 lives and many others were injured. Twenty are dead as the result of an explosion in an ammunition factory near Budapest. A train wreck in Bavaria took a toll of eleven and seven were killed in an explosion of a fireworks factory at Bari, in southern Italy.

"I suppose you are going to raise potatoes in your garden?"
 "I was, but when I read the directions for planting I found it would be impossible. They should be planted in hills, and my garden is perfectly level."

FLAG IS TO FLY AT BOOTH SCHOOL SOON

The school board at its meeting last night decided that the flag should fly at Booth School, and a flagpole will be erected there very soon. Prices are to be obtained and then the trustees will decide how high the pole is to be. Some thought 35 feet would be high enough and others seemed of the opinion that 50 feet would be better, in order to accord with the building.

MATRICULATION CLASS IS OFF

School Board Decides to Abandon Senior Grade Owing to Lack of Pupils.

At the meeting of the school board last night, it was decided that the senior matriculation class for this year would be abolished as only one pupil for sure would attend while a second may possibly be available. An application had been received for the position of teacher and one chosen tentatively, but the appointment was cancelled and the class will not be carried on during the coming year.

The question of some of the pupils in the senior matriculation class last year not having yet taken their supplementals for the first year, was discussed at the meeting and a letter from the superintendent of education in regard to the matter was read. It seems that focal students failed in their supplementals and therefore could not be given their senior standing until these had been made up. Some of them, Trustee Johnstone said, were going to take both senior and junior supplementals this fall. The letter from Mr. Willis follows:

H. B. ROEBECKER, Chairman, School Board.

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 31st ultimo.

If you will kindly refer to the program of studies for high schools you will find that to obtain full senior matriculation standing a candidate must have completed both the junior and senior matriculation examinations. Some of the Prince Rupert candidates who sat for the examinations in June passed in all the senior matriculation papers but had not completed all the junior matriculation papers and, consequently, cannot be given full standing.

In the June examinations one Prince Rupert candidate gained full senior matriculation standing, two passed in all subjects of senior matriculation but have a supplemental of junior matriculation still outstanding, a fourth candidate passed all but one paper of senior matriculation and will be entitled to full standing when he removes supplementals in both junior and senior matriculation, a fifth obtained senior matriculation standing with one supplemental, a sixth obtained standing in four subjects only, a seventh in three subjects only, an eighth has still outstanding two supplementals of junior matriculation and passed in June in three papers of senior matriculation.

S. J. WILLIS, Supl. of Education.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

What I am wondering is how the people on the streets and in shop doorways all day earn a living.

The best exercise one gets on a camping trip is scratching.

A large carp recently dragged a man into the stream. Now watch the local anglers agitating for the government to place carp eggs in the surrounding fishing waters.
