SATISFIED WITH SALMON FISHING

Commissioner of Fisheries for Province is Visitor in District This Week-End.

John P. Babcock, of Victoria, assistant commissioner of fisheries for British Columbia and chairman of the international fisheries commission, is a visitor in the district this week-end in the course of his annual inspection of the salmon fisheries. Mr. Babcock came into town on the Gatala last evening and returned south this morning, having been called to Victoria on business in connection with the halibut commission, of which he is the presiding and executive officer.

Speaking of the salmon situation this season in District No. 2, Mr. Babcock stated last night that the sockeye run in Smith's and Rivers Inlet was better than there had been reason to expect, though it was a little early yet to determine what the pack would really be. The situation on the Skeena River appeared to be exceptionally favorable so far with two or three weeks yet left in which there might reasonably be expected a good run of sockeye. The pack to date, Mr. Babcock stated, was ahead of that in 1922, the cycle year.

Principal Brady Enters Politics.

To see Principal Brady abandon his scholastic endeavors to enter the equally irksome and more uncertain field of politics seems something like losing an old friend. While it may not be possible for all of us to agree with Mr. Brady's politics and support his candidature, regret will be general that his accepting a nomination makes it necessary to withdraw from the principalship of the Prince Rupert High School, of which he was the first teacher and in which he has given the public of Prince Rupert fourteen years of faithful service.

Rhetorical Bunkum And Mis-statements.

The coming general election campaign is likely to be similar to all former general election campaigns in one respect at least: there will be no end to the rhetorical bunkum and mis-statement of fact that will come from the public platform. These are the stand-bys of the standardized politicians and the men who have used them in the past, believing that they have been of such effective service, will be loath to depart from the old ways and tricks. The whole business is not very creditable to Canadian political life and it is possible that the public can do something about it if it will set itself to the task.

How have election campaigns in Canada been carried on? Statements dealing mainly with public records and policies are made in the press and from the platform; canvassers call on the voters and attempt to convert them to voting for some particular candidate; in the back alleys and sidelines a "whispering" campaign is carried on, devoted to blackening the personal records of public men by spreading statements which, if made in the open, would bring the spokesman into quick collision with the courts. Ardent partisans have been eager to accept as the truth any statements made by their protagonists; in a partisan-charged gathering the most absurd remarks often get the most cheers. The performance is creditable neither to the public nor to those who seek to offer leadership. Canada is worthy of something better.

Party Lines Are Not So Tight.

It is apparent that in Canada—and Western Canada particularly—party lines are not drawn with the tightness of former years. A large proportion of the citizens no longer accept something as true merely because the statement has been made in public by a person of some political consequence; they are out to get the facts. This is an outlook on public affairs that should be encouraged, and if encouraged and extended will be of assistance in raising the standard of political campaigning in Canada.

With a hot campaign just around the corner this is a good time for the citizen to resolve to keep his shirt on. He will be told this and he will be told that, in the press, on the public platform, and on the sidelines. If he is told one thing by one party and something the direct opposite by another party obviously someone is trying to string him. This is the time he should put his own judgment to work. Leaving prejudice and inclination aside he should attempt to get the truth for himself. When a statement is made for his consumption he can do something for Canadian politics by asking: "Is this the truth? Is that a statement of fact, or is it only a half-truth, or is it something that isn't the truth at all?" Such an attitude would go a long way toward compelling political speakers to get rid of much of the drivel that marks the platform oratory during an election campaign and force them to debate the issues like reasonable men talking to a reasoning and informed audience.

TRAIL RIDERS HAVE POW WOW

Interesting Event Took Place at Maligne Lake, Jasper Park, This Week

MALIGNE LAKE, Jasper National Park, Alberta, July 24.—Here in the heart of Jasper National Park and thirty miles from the nearest settlement, the Jasper squadron of trail riders of the Canadian Rockies held their first annual pow wow this week around the big camp fire built so close to the shore of the lake that its flames mingled with the snow tipped reflections of the great mountain peaks which surround the lake. Nearly all of Canada was represented in the gathering and the eastern states had a number of delegates. Trail riders hailing from far away India and the British Isles were among those present. The pow wow was called to order by Major Fred Brewster, commander of the squadron and V. P. F. main body. By a unanimous vote the complete slate of officers was re-elected for 1926-1927. These are: Squadron Commander, Major Fred Brewster; sec. treas., H. S. Davis; mileage committee, R. W. Langford, Digby Harris, T. W. McDonough and Donald "Curly" Phillips.

It was agreed that the next pow wow of the squadron in 1927 would be held in the Tonquin Valley, beside Amethyst Lake, at the foot of the rampart range where the Alpine Club is holding its annual meeting commencing next Monday. This section is one of the most spectacular in the Canadian Rockies. The route to be followed, and there are several choices, will be decided upon by the committee.

Some Climbing

To reach Maligne Lake the squadron left Jasper on Monday afternoon and camped that night at the head of Medicine Lake. Tuesday they followed the trail beside the rushing Maligne River to Maligne Lake where camp was pitched late in the afternoon. Wednesday was spent in camp, a number of members canoeing to the narrows of Maligne Lake nine miles distant. Here they disembarked and several climbed more than half way up Mount Samson, from where a magnificent view of the surrounding country was obtained. One of the trail riders, Miss Rosalie E. Caubert of Brooklyn, La. company with Jean Weber, Swiss guide climbed to the top of Mount Lear and, therefore, as far as known achieved the distinction of being the first woman to reach the peak of that mountain. Thursday morning camp was broken at Maligne Lake and the cavalcade proceeded over the Little and Big Shovel Passes into the Inter-Montane Valley of an elevation of 7,000 feet. Camp was pitched there close to timber line during the afternoon and, by climbing to the outlook, a few hundred feet higher up, the members had a vista of more than 100 miles of mountain scenery, the view extending as far south as Wilcox Pass and the Columbia ice fields.

The Jasper squadron numbers more than 400 members, representing almost every country in the world. Among them are Earl and Countess Haisuyoku Maki, greatest of all Japanese Alpinists; Hasha Moto, son of the premier of Japan; Sir Henry Thornton, Irving Cummings and J. Farrell Macdonald of movie fame. Another noted movie actor who was to have attended the pow wow but was forced by business to send a telegram of regret at the last minute, was Tom Mix. At the same time he announced his intention of visiting the park this summer to seek a location for one of his projected pictures.

Those Present

Those in attendance at the pow wow were Miss M. E. Nickell, Toronto; Miss C. R. Nickell, Calgary; Mrs. C. L. Weldon, Calgary; Miss Rosalie E. Caubert, Brooklyn; Mr. W. H. Jones, New York City; Mr. Henry C. Fowler, Toronto; Miss H. I. and John Woolston, Philadelphia; Major and Mrs. Fred Brewster; H. S. Davis, Digby Harris, Bob Jones, Charles Bowen, Dean Swift, Harry Mellor, John Toxey and Grant Hare, all of Jasper.

MANSON ASKED TO BE ARBITER

Eligibility of Edmonds Councillor is Referred to Attorney General.

EDMONDS, July 24.—Question of the eligibility of Charles C. Bell to service as councillor on Burnaby Municipal Council, following loss of his property qualifications of a technicality, will be referred to Attorney General A. M. Manson for his decision, according to a motion by Councillor Hans Engberg, and passed by the Burnaby Municipal Council.

The motion was made following reading of a letter from Robert Baird, inspector of B. C. municipalities, advising Councillor Bell to resign in view of serious penalties provided for infraction of this section of the Municipal Act. Councillor Engberg said that he did not think Inspector Baird was acting within his rights and said he believed the inspector did not understand the trivial nature of the disqualification technically. Councillor Engberg then advocated that permission be asked from the attorney general to allow Councillor Bell to sit until the end of the year, thereby saving ratepayers several hundred dollars expense.

Only at one time in the meeting did fireworks show signs of developing. Councillor Moore inquired if Reeve McLean's private investigator had discovered that the encumbrance against Councillor Bell's property had been cleared off?

"No investigator,"

"I know of no such private investigator," Reeve McLean replied.

"Oh yes you do," shot back Councillor Moore, the one that wrote the anonymous letter advising that Councillor Bell was ineligible to hold office.

"There was no anonymous letter," said Reeve McLean.

The motion to have the matter referred to the attorney general was finally passed.

Mrs. J. W. Collier and daughter Pearl, accompanied by Mrs. P. Linstead and Master Arthur Linstead, leave on the Prince George tonight to visit with Mrs. George Arter, Vancouver. Before returning, they will visit friends in Seattle and other southern cities.

FAIR WAGE LAWS AND OTHER MEASURES ARE SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

Frank V. Foster Was Speaker Before Labor Council Last Night

Frank V. Foster, member of the Eight Hour Day Board operating under the Hours of Work Act, was the speaker at a special meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night, S. D. Macdonald, president of the council, in the chair. Mr. Foster went into the matter of the Minimum Wage Act in much detail. The speaker told of the work he had been doing in the city for correct, as far as possible, the overlapping of hours of work. He explained that the minimum wage for male employees had been set at 40 cents per hour and, while the workers would naturally like to earn more and perhaps some would think the rate was not equitable, it had been a step upward and incidentally would aid something like 8,000 men employed in the various mills of the province and would tend to eliminate Oriental labor. In this city, the speaker said, there were infringements by employers in the minimum wage payments to girls. This matter was being looked into and, if necessary, the government would solicit the aid of the provincial police to see that the act was enforced. The regulations under the act provided that a placard should be posted in places of employment, including stores, giving the essence of the act and setting out just what the employees could expect to obtain under the working of the act.

At the conclusion of the address a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Foster for his detailed explanations.

Mr. Foster will return to Vancouver today.

GARBAGE MEETING

The finance committee of the city council last night met a delegation representing those opposed to the charge of night-soil collection and the matter was thoroughly gone into. As a result it is expected that the committee will recommend to council Tuesday night that the charge be sustained for the present year but that the bylaw be revised in 1927.

LAWN SOCIAL AT TERRACE THIS WEEK SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

TERRACE, July 24.—Wednesday evening proved an ideal night for the lawn social held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Sundal, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Terrace Hospital. A good musical program had been arranged, those taking part being Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Allen, Miss Kerr, Mrs. Geo. Keith, Mrs. Bobb. Haney, Miss Kathleen Burnett, Miss Mona Greig and Mrs. Etanda Marsh. Mrs. Allwood's orchestra was present and added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The home-made candy and flower booths were well patronized during the evening.

Miss Helen McLeod, of Prince Rupert held the lucky ticket for the large box of candy which was raffled. Supper was served on the grounds by the committee in charge. Total receipts for the evening amounted to somewhat over $50.

TERRACE NOTES

H. C. Creelman of Lucerne is in town on a short business trip. Mrs. Robt. Donald and three sons left on Thursday for Vancouver. Shirley and Arthur Sager, children of Dr. and Mrs. Sager of Port Simpson, who have spent some weeks at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Allen, Terrace, left for their home on Thursday.

Wm. Atwood of Lakelse Valley went to Prince Rupert on Wednesday.

Owing to the unsettled weather the community picnic which was to have taken place this Friday has been postponed until next Friday.

NEW HAZELTON

Mrs. W. Williscroft left on Tuesday for her home in Vancouver, after being a guest of Mrs. R. S. Sargent for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. E. R. Cox recently received word from Thos. Hankin that he had made a rich strike in the placer gold field at Dease Lake and that he hoped to make a good cleanup. Tommy went into the Dease Lake country as soon as the first reports of gold were made, and he has remained there since.

Capt. and Mrs. Wheeler of Telkwa spent several days in this district last week. Capt. Wheeler was on soldier settlement business.

Mrs. Bates of Smithers made her annual trip to New Hazelton and Hazelton last Sunday by car. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. Boyer, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Champion and daughter.

Three people arrived on Wednesday from Prince George by car and camped a couple of days at Sealy Lake for the fishing.

H. Bengt left this week for the Babines to work in the mines.

Mrs. Fakeley is spending some weeks at Mrs. Newick's and is renewing old acquaintances here. She arrived from California last Monday night after an absence of over a year.

Hugh Harris returned on Tuesday morning after a trip to Smithers, Topley and Burns Lake.

T. A. McMartin and Frank Taylor motored from Smithers on Wednesday on business.

It is years since the gardens in this district welcomed a rain as they did over last week end. While it was not heavy, the gardens were greatly benefitted, as the three weeks of hot, dry weather accompanied by more or less wind, had pretty well dried out the first few inches of surface soil.

Beer Analyzed By Experts

ALL the Beers purchased by the Liquor Control Board of B. C. from the Vancouver Breweries Limited, Rainier Brewing Co. of Canada Limited, Westminster Brewing Co. Limited, and the Silver Spring Brewery Limited, who are all members of the Amalgamated Breweries of B. C., for sale at Government Liquor Stores and the Licensed Beer Parlors, have been and will be analyzed from time to time by different expert firms of the continent for the protection of the public.

THE substance of these various analyses instigated by order of the Liquor Control Board shows that the Beers are perfect, the taste agreeable and mellow. The foam is creamy and stands up well. The alcohol by weight is about 4.25 per cent, and the extract 5.49 per cent, with an original gravity of about 13.20. These analyses indicate further that the Beers are of good quality, wholesome and free from any foreign substance.

TO make a good Beer with such health-giving qualities it requires a skilled brewmaster and an up-to-date hygienic plant, such as maintained by the above mentioned breweries. These plants are open for inspection and visits of the public are gladly solicited. Only the best materials obtainable are used in the manufacture of the Beer.

THE Brewing capacity of the above Breweries, members of the Amalgamated Breweries of B. C., is about eight times as large as the present output, which gives best assurance to the public of obtaining only fully matured and properly aged Beers for many years to come.

WATERFRONT WHIFFS

Halibut arrivals are heavier this week—N. M. McLean moving shipbuilding plant—Portuguese men-of-war

The landings of halibut during the past week have experienced a decided impetus and the boys around the fish-houses have not found the time hanging heavily upon their hands. On Monday 304,000 pounds of fish was sold on the Fish Exchange, followed by 92,000 pounds on Tuesday, 188,000 pounds on Wednesday and 140,000 pounds on Thursday. In spite of the heavier landings prices have kept up well and everyone seems satisfied. American fish has received on an average of around 16¢ and 19¢, while Canadian catches have received around 15¢ and 8¢.

Owing to increased business and a consequent shortage in accommodation, N. M. McLean, who has operated the shipyard at Cow Bay for several years past, is removing his entire plant to Seal Cove near the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage plant. It is Mr. McLean's intention to put in a marine ways at the new location and also a small float for the berthing of from 20 to 30 small boats. The plant will be brought entirely up to date and ways will be constructed for taking special care of small boats. The move will be made shortly and the new shipbuilding and repair plant will be ready for operation by the middle of September.

This week the Canadian schooners Eastern Point and Bingo have been in the McLean yards for repairing and general overhaul.

Boathouse Busy

With the arrival of H.M.S. Curlew on Monday the stock of the Prince Rupert Boathouse took a jump of several points when every available boat was pressed into the passenger service to accommodate the public bent on visiting the arm of Britain's might. The launch 23, skippered by Lorrie Lambley, has been on the jump continuously and transported large crowds of sightseers while the warship was in port.

Another phase of operations has been the hauling of gravel from Porcher Island to the city for the Albert-McCaffery interests. The gravel operations have been under the personal supervision of Capt. Alex. Saint, the man who put the paint in the paint brush.

The Whiff Man was strolling casually along the waterfront on Thursday afternoon when his ear chanced to catch the sounds of a new kind of machinery. It sounded at first like a human being in distress but, upon closer attention, it seemed more perhaps like a second hand barrel-organ. Upon further investigation sparks were seen to be issuing from a wheel and the sound of sharpening steel wafted upon the breeze. Yes, sir, a new industry had sprung to life on the government wharf and a certain party—had risen to the occasion. The machinery in motion was a grindstone turned by a sweet feminine hand while a honest to goodness sheik was gladly trying to sharpen his axe. This piece of work having been satisfactorily accomplished, it did not take many moments for the progressive female to see a thriving business and, after a little selling talk, the boys came along with their pocket knives and nail scissors and stood around while the sparks flew. The forge of the village blacksmith was a non-starter to the fair one's grindstone and doubtless the sparks would have done some damage had not the knives and scissors suddenly run out. If you've got an old knife around the house, or an old pair of shears which need to be toned up a bit for a small sum, just ship them along to the government wharf and that certain party will do the necessary.

All the flags along the seashore on Thursday afternoon were fluttering in the breeze, and upon enquiry as to the reason, it was learned that John E. Davey was attending the Presbyterian picnic, held on that day at Digby Island.

Oh! You Doc.

The latest item of interest on the waterfront is a beautiful snapshot of Doc Clapperion taken in company with a fair member of the opposite sex. The surrounding scenery is resplendent with old lumber and second hand gates and the blue waters of the harbor are plainly discernible. Yes, it's a splendid picture of the lumber. But to get back to the snapshot—the pose of Doc with his arm around the sweet young thing is a good one and the only regret is that this wonderful reproduction of beauty, in its mildest form, cannot be reproduced in burnt leather and hung in the national salon.

Carlo, the wonderful canine hound of the provincial dock, has gone and got himself lost again. This time it is surmised he has gone to Skagway on the Princess Louise and he is expected to return on the same boat today. Life is but an empty dream for the rats and cats around the wharf while Carlo is astray because that same dog loves to sprawl out in front of the line and let the rats and cats crawl over his hairy frame. That is, the rats and cats crawl over Carlo in turn but not at the same moment. To make friends with this trusty hound one has only to make a noise like a bone and the trick is accomplished.

Style For Men

Say, boys, did you ever see a peacock blue suit on a man? After all, it takes our brothers from the south of the boundary line to show we northerners where we horn it at when it comes to colors and styles in men's suits. This particular tourist, from the Princess Charlotte on Wednesday, arrived on the wharf in a bright blue suit. Some said it was peacock blue but it looked more like a bag of washing blue shot with electricity. To really view the suit effectively one needed a pair of smoked glasses for after all the color was more like an eclipse of the solar system than a suit on a tailor's dummy. Of course the gentleman in question may have had a warehouse full of this cloth and was trying to get the males all eager for that particular hue and thus dispose of his stock. One never knows the wiles of the human brain.

Customs Officer W. R. Overend, formerly stationed on the Provincial government dock and now stationed on the Stikine River, is the proud father of a daughter. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Overend in the Wrangell hospital just recently. Congratulations, old top!

A new derrick has recently been installed on the Trotter wharf to facilitate the loading of supplies on the fishing schooners.

Funny Jelly Fish

Reports are constantly being received on the waterfront of a strange species of jelly fish existing along the coast and especially around Dundas Island. This particular species is nautically named Portuguese men-of-war and this summer they have appeared in millions all along the coast. Capt. Harry Ormiston, master of the lighthouse tender Newington, is taking a special interest in the species, and it said he is burning the midnight oil in an endeavor to find a commercial use for them.

Some branny nautical suggested they would probably make good watch fobs or book-markers. He claims they would stick to one's clothes and prevent the watch from falling out of the pocket and if used in the latter manner they would always "stay put" in the books. It is not known just what Harry thinks of these suggestions.

A crew load of fish boxes arrived from the Georgetown mill today in tow of the Bushby tugboat M.T.3, Capt. R. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, who have been visiting at Georgetown from New Westminster, also arrived from Georgetown and will sail for the south this evening.

Good progress is being made by Currie & Son with the pile driving and deck laying on the new biological station site on the waterfront. The pile driving is now completed and the deck laying is being handled expeditiously.

Not Particular

When a man sees the rough corners of life gradually fade away before his eyes and the financial outlook is dressed in a rosé hue it doesn't really much matter where one sleeps at night even if the house does contain three bedrooms filled up with the most comfortable beds and spotless bed linen. Of course the visit of the warship, and the crew of good fellows, may have had something to do with the unusual occurrence. Suffice to say that a well known visitor of the waterfront, and a gentleman equally well known in cigarette and cigar vending circles, strolled home in the early hours and deposited his tired frame in the dog kennel down in the base-

BARREN LANDS ENDLESS WATER ASSERTS FLYER

Colin Caldwell, Who Was Here Last Year, Tells of His Air Operations North of Edmonton

EDMONTON, July 24.—Colin Caldwell, manager of flying operations for the Northern Syndicate, Ltd., operating out of Fort Fitzgerald, was on a brief visit to the city this week to obtain repairs for his machine.

Speaking of the operations of his plane Mr. Caldwell said it was a Vickers-Viking amphibious with a Napier 450 h.p. motor. He had flown from Lac la Biche, where the machine was assembled, to Fort Fitzgerald, a distance of 500 miles, in four hours and 45 minutes on June 26. Since that time he has flown 4,000 miles. His work is flying over unmapped territory in the vicinity of Great Slave Lake, but he said his business was purely flying and he did not know what the objective of his company was.

Water Everywhere
Mr. Caldwell declared he had never seen so much water as there is in the area being explored and that he could shut his eyes and land safely on water at any time. He was of the opinion that it would be impossible to map the country by any means other than aeroplane. Asked if he had been in the famous "tropical valley" in northern B.C., Mr. Caldwell said he had and that it lies between the Liard and endlay rivers. There are a number of hot springs which remain open all the year round. The vegetation resembles that of the Pacific coast and moose, bear and bullfrogs but no prehistoric animals abound. The soil is sandy and he was there in the spring and had some potatoes planted the previous year by a man named Smith, who was later drowned in the Liard River rapids.

REGINALD DENNY AS SKINNER IS SUPERB

Comedy This Week End at Westholme Shows How People Run Into Debt

Reginald Denny, as Skinner, in "Skinner's Dress Suit" is superb. The famous star, submerges his real character into that of the harassed, forlorn Skinner, besieged at every turn by inexorable creditors and trying frantically to live up to the world's opinion of him as broadcast by his wife.

The story is about a poor, little lie and the complications brought about by his perpetration. Skinner, upon the constant instigation of his wife, "Honey," summons enough courage to ask his employer for an increase in salary. It is refused.

Rather than disappoint "Honey," Skinner tells her that he was granted the raise which supposedly amounted to ten dollars a week. Overjoyed, "Honey," proceeds to spend the raise in advance from their small savings. She tells all her neighbors of her husband's good fortune and social invitations begin to overwhelm them.

"Honey" compels Skinner to buy a new dress suit. That requires accessories. Then they must know how to comport themselves in their social status and they have to have new furniture and home fittings. They take dancing lessons. Other expenses arise.

Soon they are hopelessly in debt, which Skinner desperately tries to conceal from his happily unsuspecting wife. The situations are as funny as any that have ever been filmed. There is good clean comedy all through the picture and an interesting story unfolds itself upon the screen.

Too much praise cannot be given the star, likewise lovely Laura LaPlante, whose golden smile is bewitching in the character of "Honey," the ambitious and sprightly young matron.

The film was shown at the Westholme Theatre last night and will be repeated this evening.

LANGUAGE OF MOTHERS NOT GOOD EXAMPLE

LONDON, July 24.—Bad language of the modern mother is responsible for a great deal of loose speech among school girls. Miss Mary Morrison, principal of the Francis Holland school for girls told the annual conference of the Head Mistresses' Association here.

"For years we have made allowance for father's strong language," Miss Morrison asserted, "but now mother is nearly as bad and it is having a serious effect on the girls' speech among themselves. This is all a part of the so-called greater freedom."

Rev. W. H. Redman, formerly of Prince Rupert, has closed his services as pastor of the Douglas Street Baptist Church, Victoria.

BIG DEMAND FOR CANS IN SOUTH

Canneries in This District Keeping Factory in Vancouver Very Busy.

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Exceptionally big demand for cans from canneries of the north, keeping the American Can Company's plant in Vancouver operating 20 hours a day, is prophetic of a great northern salmon pack this year, it is learned locally.

"The run of fish may not be much greater this season, and in fact it is lighter than last year so far as the present season has gone, but the canneries are out to catch the fish this season and have considerably more gear afloat," a close observer of the salmon fishing industry reported. "In the Queen Charlottes the pack will probably be heavier than last year. The pinks did not run in the Charlotte streams last season and they are due to run this year."

Prices to fishermen have been well maintained and are encouraging a large number to go into the industry.

The season will not be fully under way for a few weeks yet.

Reginald Denny

"Skinner's Dress Suit"

Delightful, whimsical, stimulating, breezy farce put up in the best Denny fashion. You'll roar when you see him build a fortune out of a dress suit he didn't want and hadn't paid for. He broke into society with it and a "line" that would have knocked the original circus barber and patent medicine man unconscious with admiration. "Clothes Make the Man" is a world famous proverb which grew out of a remark made by Mr. Skinner when he hired a dress suit. See the "Savannah Shuffle." A paralytic rheumatic step that has taken the country by storm. It has the Charleston backed off the map. Strong cast.
