ARTHUR MEIGHEN TO RESIGN TOMORROW

STRONG ODDS ON JACK DEMPSEY IN THE BIG FIGHT TOMORROW EVENING

Thursday Set for Resignation of Hon. Arthur Meighen and Taking Over of Government by Liberals

New Cabinet is being made up by Mackenzie King and much speculation as to who are to have portfolios

(Special to Daily News)
OTTAWA, September 22.—Soething with political activity the capital to presents an animated scene. Liberalism is on top again and Mr. Meighen's party are on the bottom. These facts are loudly in evidence. The Tory cabinet met yesterday morning but did not resign. The time now expected is today. Mr. Meighen's resignation is not urgent until Mr. King is ready to take over the reins of office and it will require two or three days yet for the king to complete his cabinet slate.

Another reason for Mr. Meighen's slowness in getting out is that it is expected there are three or four acts of his ministry during the campaign which require to be regularized before they let the King ministers in. They banked heavily on being returned to power and therefore did some things that will, it is stated, call for considerable explanation.

ST. LOUIS WILL PROBABLY WIN

STILL HAS TWO GAME LEAD OVER CINCINNATI AFTER LOSING YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—St. Louis lost the major opportunity to clinch the pennant yesterday by losing to Brooklyn a closely contested game but still maintains a two game lead over Cincinnati that suffered the fifth straight defeat at the hands of the Boston Braves. ORE STRIKES IN ALASKA

ABANDONED PROPERTY REVIVED AND NEW FIND IN TIEKEL DISTRICT

Two to One Wagered That Jack Dempsey Will Put Tunney Out Within the First Four Rounds

PHILADELPHIA, September 22.—With Dempsey and Tunney resting up from now until entering the ring tomorrow night at 5:30 Prince Rupert time interest in the championship bout centred today in the arrangements for handling the vast crowd. Probably 132,000 fans will pay to see the fight.

No champion since the days of Sullivan has been as overwhelmingly the favorite as Dempsey is today, few being willing to concede the challenger more than an outside chance. The universal conviction among newspaper critics is that Dempsey will win by a knockout inside of four rounds, several wagers being made at two to one on this basis.

FOOT OF SNOW ON PRAIRIES

FEARED THAT GRADE VALUES WILL BE LOWERED AND PRICES ARE STIFFENING

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22.—Wintry weather in Alberta and Saskatchewan continued today and some points in Alberta reported more than a foot of snow. Further complications in harvesting it is feared will result in lowering the grade values and delaying movement of the grain already threshed. These factors are already reflected in a steady trend toward higher prices.

Mitchell Albert arrived from Vancouver on the Prince George this morning and will spend a few days in the city on business.

The championship event will undoubtedly come west that year, states Mr. Anderson, and of all the courses which I have inspected on my trip through western Canada, Jasper Park is in the best condition and the only one capable of extending better players in a contest.

DAILY EDITION WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 22, 1926.

GOOD DEAL OF SAVAGE IN MOST PEOPLE.

There is a good deal of the savage in most people. They like a fight in spite of the veneer of modern civilization. The interest taken in the big boxing match which takes place in Philadelphia tomorrow between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship of the world is an instance of the delight of the average red-blooded man in the giving and receiving of hard blows, whether they are physical or otherwise. It is a big contest but the hitting is hard and one of the men is likely to be knocked senseless before the fight ends. It is no pretense at fighting but a real battle, the gloves being just enough to prevent the big match proving fatal to either man.

There are a good many people who do not care to see a boxing match and who are not interested in the outcome of this event, but they are a small minority. The average person is interested in any big sporting event and this is one of the biggest.

ELECTION IS ALSO SPORTING EVENT.

To a great many people an election is simply a big sport event. It is a battle of ballots and they are interested in the outcome just as they are interested in the bout tomorrow. They like to hear of a political knockout just as much as a physical.

While a proportion of the people are interested in the return of a person whom they think will give good government, a large number have always backed one side and they still cheer for the same crowd just as a person will hope for victory for the light or dark blue in the case of the Oxford and Cambridge boat race.

TENDENCY TO CHEER FOR THE WEAKER.

At a boxing series in the Exhibition Hall the other day it was evident that the sympathies of the crowd often went out to the smaller contestant. He was cheered every time he landed a blow or made a good attempt. So sometimes in election and other contests, the sympathy goes out to the one considered the weaker and this is especially noticeable in connection with the women's vote. Women find it more difficult to grasp the idea of a wide and comprehensive policy which they may support but look rather at the individual and those dependent on him. It is the mothering instinct cropping out.

MERCHANT MARINE AND ELECTIONS.

While the Canadian Government Merchant Marine were not mentioned during the last contest, at any rate in this or neighboring constituencies, it is known that many Conservatives were opposed to it and would like to wipe it off the map as a Government institution. They are quite sincere in their views and have a right to their opinions. It is satisfactory, however, that they cannot succeed in carrying it out because to us on the Pacific Coast the Merchant Marine means a great deal. When bottoms are difficult to obtain for carrying lumber or grain, the Government ships become available. Those who have lived on the coast long will remember how difficult it was to make shipments prior to the advent of the services and the benefits have been so great that they should be continued.

It is not suggested here that the Conservative policy was opposed to the service but that influential members of the party held those views and there might have been danger to the fleet if they had gone into power.

WHAT WE NEED NOW IS LINE TO ORIENT.

What is needed now is a line of steamships plying from Prince Rupert to the Orient. It has been talked of for a long time but, so far, nothing has materialized. If the C.G.M.M. cannot undertake the service, why not negotiate with one of the big companies operating on the Pacific. The Liberal policy of subsidizing ships on the Atlantic would not have helped us on this coast. Over there they have steamship lines aplenty. Let them alone and turn attention to this service just as attention was turned to development of business with the West Indies. It is our turn.

IS DRY ROT IN LIBERAL PARTY

VANCOUVER MORNING STAR INQUIRES WHAT IS WRONG THIS SIDE ROCKIES

(Vancouver Star)
What is wrong with the Liberal party in British Columbia? Why, when practically all the rest of Canada is turning towards Liberalism, should British Columbia register so emphatic a protest against it? The swing which has carried Mr. King back to power began in New Brunswick and swept across the country to stop only at the Rocky Mountains. If it gained its impetus from the general prosperity, its movement should have been accelerated rather than retarded when it reached British Columbia. One could understand a reaction in the Maritime Provinces, although even there it was of the slightest, for the Maritime Provinces are laboring under a sense of neglect and have shared least of all in the widespread industrial and commercial recovery of the last year or two. British Columbia, however, has done as well as any other part of Canada and far better than most. It has, indeed, been a subject of remark on the part of visitors from the east that Vancouver was busier and more flourishing than any other city in the Dominion.

Liberals were not defeated and Conservative majorities were not increased in this province because of dissatisfaction with the state of business. And if not on that account, certainly not on account of any failure on the part of the Mackenzie King government to meet the reasonable demands of British Columbia centres for public improvements. Vancouver, in fact, has been so handsomely treated in this respect that the cities and parts of other provinces have complained that it was unduly favored. Again, if any province stood to gain by the return of the Liberals, it was this province, for the Liberals had pledged themselves to a western policy calculated to bring it enormous material benefits, a forestage of which had already been given by the Australian treaty, a measure which has done far more for British Columbia than any other province.

The constitutional issue, so far as it influenced the results at all, acted to the Liberal aggregate of votes elsewhere. If it were operative here to any extent worth mentioning, which may be doubted, why should it go into reverse? As to the Customs scandal, this newspaper sees no reason to change its view that there was a revolt against scandal talk all over Canada. In the east this helped the Liberal cause, but in this province, since here Conservative insistence on the Customs issue was obscured by the personal attack on Mr. Stevens, it worked the other way and unquestionably added, not only to Mr. Stevens' majority, but to those of his colleagues in other British Columbia constituencies.

There is a tendency to make fun of brides. Imputations are made, especially by men, that they cannot cook, know nothing of general housekeeping and the care of children is something they have not worried about. One of these cynics has put into verse something bearing on this subject.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

Can-opener, 'tis of thee,
Friend in emergency,
Of thee we sing,
When burnt brown is the steak,
And sinks the ten-pound cake,
You save a stomach-ache,
Oh, kitchen king!

The winter winds will blow on the wicket and the good alike and each will require to have plenty of coal and wood. Blessed is he that hath his cellar full of them.

Try not to lose, but if you must lose be a good loser.

This is the opening of the fur season. Men would not be interested only they often have to pay the bills.

"Sad but true," as Hon. Arthur Meighen remarked only yesterday.

It is said that the fire chief intends to put in a supply of coal which he will use in extinguishing small fires instead of spending money on chemicals. It is not stated what particular brand of coal is to be used, but I think I know several that would do the trick.

The latest scheme of salvation is to get into heaven on the instalment plan. A little down and a little weekly if you happen to think of it.

The Ford went rattling up the road As bold as any car. It overturned three foolish youths And gave them quite a jar.

But still the fate that overtook That Lizzie in the end It tried to do athletic stunts And could not then unbend.

Considering how some of the people here voted at the last election Jacz says there ought to be lots of material available for a pulp mill.

I fear I told you what was wrong Says Meighen to the Gov. King kicked me far as he could reach, Now give another shove.

VISITORS HAVE A GOOD TIME

KETCHIKAN NEWSPAPER TELLS OF VISIT TO THIS CITY FROM ALASKAN CENTRE

Telling of the visit of Ketchikan people to Prince Rupert the Ketchikan Chronicle says: The Ketchikan delegation which left here Thursday morning for Prince Rupert to attend the Fair and other events, returned yesterday morning on the steamer Prince Charles, tired and weary but happy in the realization of a good time at the neighboring Canadian city.

The Ketchikan baseball team fared badly at the hands of the Prince Rupert aggregation, losing all three of the games played, 10 to 4, 10 to 5, and 7 to 4.

The midnight frolic, staged in the Westholme Theatre, was reported to have provided real amusement, the program consisting of four good acts, in which Ketchikan artists participated. The masquerade ball was also declared to have been a grand success.

BOXING BOITS
In the boxing bout Joe Manila made a good showing against Bellingier, a top-notch, the Ketchikan boxer staying the limit, although the Vancouver boy was given the decision on points.

The other bouts staged in which Filipino boys from Ketchikan appeared the local boxers were outclassed by the heavier opponents against whom they were pitted.

The weather was good while the First City junketers were in the Canadian city, and the citizens of Prince Rupert extended a royal welcome and did everything in their power to make the stay for the visitors enjoyable.

WON PRIZES
According to the friends of Mrs. D. N. Campbell, past junior regent of the Ketchikan Mooseheart Legion, and Elizabeth Emerton, Ketchikan did get something at the Prince Rupert exposition. These two women secured prizes for the best sustained characters at the masquerade ball, Mrs. Campbell making up as "Mother Goose" and Miss Emerton as a "coygirl."

Mrs. Campbell said the Moose women of Prince Rupert were exceptionally hospitable and sent them wonderful bouquets of the most lovely flowers and did everything possible to make the Ketchikan women feel at home. Mrs. Campbell said the agricultural display at Prince Rupert from the farms of Frazer River and other districts was a wonderful exhibit showing prize peaches, watermelons, apples and all kinds of fruits and grains and vegetables.

JACK DEMPSEY IS FAVORITE

ODDS GIVEN BY BACKERS OF CHAMPION FOR BIG FIGHT TOMORROW HIS UNIQUE CAREER

IS MIXTURE OF IRISH, SCOTCH AND INDIAN AND LIVED ON FARM

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22. — Jack Dempsey, who fights Gene Tunney tomorrow, has the odds in his favor. It is claimed that he has the strongest punch and that is what is likely to settle the big match in defence of his title to heavyweight champion of the world.

Tunney also has his backers and the fact that Dempsey has not fought for two years is quoted against him.

Dempsey, who drifted into pugilism by way of the life of a hobo, rose to fistic heights more rapidly than any other ring champion, actually punching his way to the title in less than four years from the time he first pulled on a pair of boxing gloves.

Dempsey's career is unique not only in so far as his record of knockouts is concerned before he became champion, but also by the fact that he was in the limelight such a short period of time. It took him only one year to compile a record of such formidable character that he earned the opportunity to battle for the highest honors of the ring.

16 OUT OF 19

Through the year of 1918 Dempsey fought 19 battles and won 16 of them by knockouts. He lost only one decision, dropping that to Willie Meehan in a war benefit contest of four rounds.

Born of rugged parents 31 years ago, Dempsey claims that he has Irish, Scotch and Indian blood in his veins and insists that the fighting qualities for which all three of these races are famous have been bred in the bone and blood and have come to him in generous proportions from his ancestors. Dempsey's name is "William Harrison Dempsey, but when he started fighting he assumed the name of "Jack" after Brooklyn's famous Nonpareil.

Most of Dempsey's early life was spent on a farm, but later he worked in the mines except in harvest time, when he found it more remunerative in devoting his strength to reaping wheat and other crops. In this way Dempsey kept himself in good physical condition.

FOLIGHT AT 19

Dempsey, according to his own story, engaged in his first fistic encounter in an improvised ring at Montrose, Colo., which was near his home, Manassa, when he was about 19 years old. That was in the early part of 1915. His first opponent was a young blacksmith named Woods whom he knocked out in the third round. Dempsey's initial ring appearance netted him the princely sum of 25. His next fight also resulted in a three-round knockout. Andy Malloy who had previously walloped one of Dempsey's brothers, was the victim.

FULTON VICTORY

When he was about 20 years old Dempsey began roaming around, taking up the life of a hobo, a youth with wanderlust who rode the rods for the fun of it and fought occasionally for the excitement as much as for the small sums of money it brought him. Dempsey took on a bout whenever the opportunity offered. Between times he returned to odd farming jobs or worked as a miner.

By long odds, his most impressive achievement was the victory that opened the avenue to his fight with Willard. That was against Fred Fulton, the Minnesota contender, whom was stretched on the canvas, dead to the world, in the remarkably short space of 23 seconds. This fight, a contest that stirred the boxing world, was staged at Harrison, N.J., in 1918. Praise immediately was heaped on Dempsey and he was heralded as the next champion of his class.

Dempsey's victory in four rounds over the giant Jess Willard when he won the championship and his triumph over Luis Angel Firpo in two rounds also stand out as stirring battles of his career.

SHORT FIGHTS

Previous to his championship encounter with Willard, Dempsey knocked out numerous heavyweights, the majority of them in a couple of punches. Among his victims were Carl Morris, the original "white hope," Battling Levinsky, Bill Brennan, Bob Devere, Jim Flynn, Dan Pork Flynn, Terry Keller, Bob McAllister, Al Norton, Gunboat Smith, Arthur Peiky, and a host of others.

Dempsey's first manager was A. J. Auerbach, a business man of Salt Lake City, who had taken an interest in him and helped him financially to start on his fistic career. When Dempsey was knocked out in the first round by Jim Flynn in their contest in Salt Lake City in 1917, a result that Auerbach regarded as queer, he told Dempsey to hunt up a new manager. He drifted to New York, tying up with "John the Barber" Reiser. A few months later he returned West. While in San Francisco he became acquainted with Jack Kearns in a gymnasium and remained with him until their smashup about a year ago.

LORD WOOLAVINGTON BIG MONEY WINNER WITH COLT CORONACH

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Through the great performances of his chestnut colt, Coronach, winner of the Epsom Derby and recognized three-year-old champion of the year on the British turf, Lord Woolavington has jumped to the front as the biggest money-winning owner, as well as the most successful breeder so far this season.

Coronach has won five races. In addition three other horses carrying Lord Woolavington's colors have won three races which boost the stable's winnings.

Lord Woolavington's only rival as a money winner is Lord Derby who has bred 13 horses that won 19 races valued at 27,545 pounds.

Among the trainers, F. Darling tops the list, having trained 18 horses that won 41,820 pounds in 29 races.

The jockeys are led by T. Weston, with fifty firsts, while the famous Steve Donoghue is fifth with 37 winners.

SPORT CHAT

A meeting of local nimrods is being called for tonight to air a protest at the season for geese hunting being set in this district at from November 1 to February 15. It will be urged that the season be started a good deal earlier, possibly from Labor Day on so that local hunters may be allowed to gun for the birds when they are more plentiful.

Fred Gilhuly, who moved away from here about a year ago but whose efforts on behalf of local amateur sport will always be kept in memory by the trophies presented by him which are still in competition, is taking an active part in sporting circles in Kelso, Washington, where he is now located.

Famous Battles for the Heavyweight Title

WILLARD vs. JOHNSON

Placid Jess Willard wrestled the heavyweight crown from Jack Johnson at Havana, Cuba, July 4, 1915, in the 26th round, the bout being the longest decisive heavyweight championship affair.

The end of the long battle precipitated a scene of wild excitement. Only one person was calm in the midst of the confusion. The exception was Willard.

The challenger was in a receptive mood throughout. He refused to lead and then Borden forced a corner. This

RUFFIANS IN EAST END GIVEN WARNING

Depredations at Rupert East Gymnasium Must Cease or Police Will be Asked to Assist

Depredations of young ruffians at the Rupert East United Church gymnasium threaten to cause the closing down of that institution again as it was found necessary last spring and it may become essential to call upon the police to take a hand.

Rev. Evan Baker started his winter season of gymnasium classes last evening. It is impossible to take all the boys who offer in the one night and the others who were not admitted last night peited the building with roots, stones, etc.

Mr. Baker wishes to sound a word of warning in the hope that the misconduct will cease before it becomes necessary to take more drastic action.

and let Johnson do the work. Once when Johnson fell across the ropes, Willard left him there, and in the clinches the giant consistently leaned on the ebony champion.

Not long before the hour for the bout to start it was doubtful if there would be a ring in which to scramble. Carpenters building the temporary arena went on strike in the morning and although the differences were patched up and the work resumed, it was a question for a time if the carpenters would vacate in time for the boxers to take possession of the fighting ground.

Had the fight been held a day later, Johnson would have made a record as the oldest champion. He was five days over 37 years of age when he was knocked out. So was Bob Fitzsimmons.

There was some suspicion among observers that Johnson, realizing he was past his prime, took defeat in comparative comfort. Pictures showed him in a reclining position, his arm shielding his eyes from the sun, as he was being counted out.

CRITICISM IS AGAIN OFFERED

BOARD OF WORKS IS ASKED HOW FRASER STREET GRADING IS TO BE PAID FOR.

SECTION 8 WATER

The Board of Works was again made the butt of criticisms at last night's council meeting. The inquiry of Ald. Jos. Greer as to how the surfacing of Fraser and Fifth Streets was being paid for and the reply of Ald. Perry that it was being charged to maintenance brought forth considerable discussion. Ald. Casey and Ald. Stephens took exception to new streets being built at the expense of the city as a whole. They felt that people getting such improvements should pay for the work and that it was unfair to have such work paid for out of general fund when similar work on Second and Third Avenues had been done as local improvement. Alderman Stephens went so far as to charge the Board of Works with exceeding its powers in undertaking such work and expenditure without first consulting the city council.

WAS PROVIDED FOR

Ald. Perry and Ald. W. J. Greer, in defence of the Board of Works, stated that it was their understanding that this work had been provided for in the year's estimates.

Ald. Casey also charged the Board of Works with neglecting to bring in a report regarding the improvement of water pressure on Eleventh Avenue as a fire protection measure. Section Two, he said, had been promptly attended to but nothing had been done in the case of Section 8 though both matters had been brought to the attention of the Board of Works at the same time. "This thing of referring matters to the committee and the committee paying no heed is not good business," Ald. Casey asserted.

WHO IS WORST?

Mayor Newton suggested that the Board of Works might have fallen down but the finance committee might be accused of the same fault sometimes. Ald. Casey's quick rejoinder was that, as far as he was concerned, he had missed but two meetings of the finance committee this year, a delinquency record which he thought was probably exceeded by several other members of the council. He did not see why a committee could not meet without its chairman.

Ald. Perry stated that the question of water service was new to him. This was the first he had heard about it.

The matter was finally left in the hands of the Board of Works for report.

MADAME SEGOND WEBBER, famous tragedienne, in the role of La France and singing the Marseillaise, in the recent "Save the Franc Pageant in Paris."

He criticized the policy of granting experimental permits. As for the septic tanks themselves, Ald. Brown said there was no trouble with them as long as the weather was wet and there was drainage but in dry weather, when the surface water disappeared, trouble often arose.

Ald. Perry stated that there would be no trouble with septic tanks if the ground was of gravel or sand. In the muskeg, however, the tanks did not work satisfactorily.

Possibly Overloaded

Ald. Stephens said he had heard of tanks being overloaded. Perhaps that was the cause of the trouble in some cases.

After some further discussion, in the course of which it was suggested coke might be brought from the Anyox smelter to be used in making filter beds, it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the Board of Works to be dealt with at a meeting when the city engineer, medical health officer and as many members of the council as possible would be present.

CRITICISM OF SEPTIC TANKS

INCREASED EXPENDITURES MAY HAVE TO BE MADE TO INSURE SANITARY CONDITIONS

If a report from the city engineer and medical health officer submitted for the first time to the city council last night is adopted a number of residents will be compelled to undertake extensive alterations to defective septic tanks. The question of septic tanks has been before the Board of Works for some time and more recently serious charges have been made as to some of them and the fear has been expressed that disease might arise. Accordingly an investigation was made by the city engineer and medical health officer and their recommendations, which in some cases would mean considerable expenditure, were submitted to the council last night.

The report stated that numerous complaints had been investigated and that it had been found that they were entirely justified. To remedy the situation it was recommended that two chamber septic tanks have an additional chamber and a filter bed added. The expense in some cases would go as high as $400.

ACCORDING TO REGULATIONS

Ald. Stephens inquired if the septic tanks had been put in according to city regulations. He was told that they had been but that in the permits there was a reserve clause which placed the responsibility for the tanks becoming a nuisance on the owners and provided that use of tanks was to be discontinued in one week if so ordered.

Ald. Brown said there might have been such a reserve clause but the people had never been told of it.

PIGGERY WATER LINE IS OUT OF BUSINESS

Ald. Casey Brings Matter to Attention of Council—Board of Works Will Investigate

Ald. Casey informed the city council at last night's meeting that water service to the piggery at the end of Eleventh Avenue had been interfered with through a defect in the line and that though the Chinaman had approached the city engineer for assistance, the latter had been unable to meet the situation. Ald. Casey said he did not believe in a man being turned down because he was a Chinaman. He paid his taxes like any other citizen and he believed he should be given service to which he was entitled. He moved that the Board of Works be authorized to look into the matter and report to the council ways and means of remedying it.

Mayor Newton reported that the Board of Works already had the matter under consideration, a complaint having been made by King Tai, owner of the piggery. It had been found that the only way to remedy the matter would be through constructing another line which would involve a large expense which it seemed was hardly warranted.

It was decided to refer the matter to the Board of Works for further consideration.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful and interesting.

Every manager of a household--every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare--should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely

TERMS FOR TAX LOTS PROPOSED

SALE OF PROPERTY REVERTED TO CITY IS PROPOSED TO BE HELD IN OCTOBER

The suggestion was made at last night's council meeting by Ald. Casey that when the city puts its reverted lands on sale next month, terms be allowed to the purchasers instead of following the usual cash in full policy. Ald. Casey referred to the fact that all such property had been withdrawn from the market last April with the idea of holding a sale in October. It was time he felt that the city officials were preparing the list of property and giving notice to the public that it would be sold.

Developing his proposal of part cash payment for such property, Ald. Casey said that he was heartily in favor of the idea. By such means, people would be permitted to take some of the higher class property off the hands of the city.

Ald. Larsen said he had been thinking along the same line. He felt that, if some percentage basis for initial payment were devised to cover all lots and interest charged on the time payments, it would meet with general approval.

Mayor Newton stated that the matter of selling these reverted lots had

OPPOSED BY STEPHENS

Ald. Stephens expressed opposition against lots being sold on terms for the charges against them. It would be most unfair to allow lots to be sold in such a manner when those who had let the property go had been compelled to pay one hundred per cent cash. He reiterated his formerly expressed view that the council, in selling lots for charges against them, was on the wrong track. If such property were to be offered for sale one or two disinterested persons should be employed as valuers and the valuations thus set should be used as the upset price regardless of the tax sale price. Then and not till then should the suggestion of time payments be considered.

FOX FUR DRAPED

Fox fur is no longer worn around the neck. It is arranged apron fashion in front of the dress, with the tails worked into decorative effects, and the neck is left bare.

With the dinner jacket, which ranks as very smart, especially when the waistcoat is gold or silver lame, the thing to wear is a double-decked evening cap with a soft velvet top and a bread gold peak.

VEILS IN AGAIN

The veil is being resurrected as a wrinkle of fashion. It is of coarse mesh, fits snugly and is gathered and tied at the back of the small bonnet. Men are wondering if it will hamper milady in the manipulation of her cigarette.

FASHION FLAIRS for women who are up to the minute

LONDON, Sept. 22—Walking sticks are fashionable for morning and afternoon walks. Some are simple and almost masculine, but a number shown in Paris are covered with snake or shark skin. For afternoon, there are canes with handles covered with small beads. The latest novelty is the black varnished cane with small painted roses.

COLOR JET

Jet is coming into fashion again and is seen as trimming on dresses. But it is usually dyed green, blue or red, to give an emerald, sapphire or ruby effect and it is used for evening dresses.

TWO COLOR FELT HATS

Felts are as popular as ever, but the latest novelty is to have them in two colors, gray and black, or red and black. They have no trimming except a simple gros-grain ribbon.

LEATHER TRIMMINGS

Leather trimming is having a great Paris vogue and leather accessories of all kinds, particularly for the holiday and travelling season. Hats, short coats, long coats, collars, cuffs, pocket flaps, buttons, bags, belts, all appear in suede and leather of every hue. The colors either match the tweed or woolen clothes with which they are worn or form a bright contrast.

SHORTER BATHING CLOAKS

Bathing coats and cloaks have followed ordinary street wear at the French resorts, and whereas they formerly reached the ankles, they now only just cover the knees. The newest bathing suits, both
