MARMOT METALS WILL OPERATE EARLIER THAN USUAL THIS SPRING

Expected That This Property Will Develop Into Real Mine in Near Future

As the most open winter in the history of Portland Canal district draws to a close, plans are being laid for starting operations in the hills much earlier in the season than was ever before attempted, and prospects are good for an exceptionally long season for outdoor work of all kinds unless, as is possible though hardly probable, there should be a heavy snowfall before spring, says the Portland Canal News.

One of the properties which local residents are most anxious to see again in operation is Marmot Metals, on Marmot River. Last fall, too late in the season for serious developments to be undertaken upon them, a number of extremely favorable mineral showings were found and well prospected along the surface. Some of these are, in fact, the best showings on the property from the standpoint of both size and values. Plans have been made for the thorough exploration of these showings underground, and until these operations can be undertaken, there is a tantalizing wait for those who are interested in the property.

There is no doubt in the minds of those acquainted with the situation, that Marmot Metals will blossom out next season into a real mine, and climatic conditions indicate that this consummation may be realized earlier than was anticipated.

JAP BOOTLEGGER IS BROUGHT HERE

Gold Prospectors Will Cut Own Road Through Forest to Manson Creek from near Fort St. James

Outfit of Party Cost Nearly $40,000 Mostly Purchased in Canada; Train of Seven Sleighs and Motor Being Taken

VANDERHOOF, Feb. 26.—The party of miners going into the Manson Creek district for the Allotte Mining Company from here, which is leaving this week, will have to cut their own road from near Fort St. James to Manson Creek. This will be necessary as the machinery they are taking is heavy. The twin motor weighs 13,000 pounds and a scraper purchased in St. Paul, Minn., weighs 3,000 pounds.

The initial outlay for the expedition amounted to very close to $40,000 of which $10,000 was expended in the States and the remainder in Canada.

The tractor will pull a train of seven sleighs which will convey the outfit and supplies including enough food for the party.

The gold in the sand of Manson Creek and tributaries is all coarse and is easy to save if it is only encountered in sufficiently large quantities. Members of the party are confident that they will find enough to make the expedition profitable. At any rate they intend to give it a good tryout. The party consists of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Drury, F. W. Vallean, Frank Freidle, Geo. W. Otterson, Edwin Wright, Joe Klimmer, G. W. Allan, Joe Milligan and David Purvis.

MEMORIAL PLANNED FOR MARK TWAIN TO BE NATIONAL SCOPE

Nevada Editors Back Scheme For Building on Site of Huckleberry Finn Birth

RENO, Nev., Feb. 24.—Newspaper editors at Nevada, working through the state editorial association, have undertaken a movement to erect a memorial to Mark Twain that will be national in scope.

Beside the cabin in which the famous American humorist scribbled his first draft of Huckleberry Finn, beloved bad boy of the Mississippi River banks, it is proposed to erect a building or perhaps move to this site the old Territorial Enterprise building at Virginia City in which Twain served his cub reportership.

The cabin was occupied by Samuel Clemens when he was hardly more than a boy and before his pen name had much significance in the literary world. It was then situated on the desert near Aurora, but later was transported to Idlewild Park here and became the property of the Huckleberry Finn Club.

CONVICTS BLAME PUBLIC FOR INCREASE IN CRIME

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 26.—The public is held by some inmates of the Kentucky State Reformatory to be in a measure responsible for the prevalence of crime.

A story of the Mutual Welfare League Courier, a magazine published by the institution, says that the unfriendly attitude of the public toward convicts released on expiration of their term is a great factor in inducing the convict "to follow the path of crime, or the line of least resistance."

"If people would stop and consider the other fellow," the story declares, "giving him a helping hand, a friendly smile, the population of corrective institutions would not be so great. There would be less crime and more respect for law and order."

MAYOR INTERFERES WITH POLICE FORCE BRANDON CHIEF QUILTS

BRANDON, Feb. 25.—Chief of Police J. R. Hardy caused a surprise in civic circles by handing in his resignation to the city manager. The reason given by Mr. Hardy was that Mayor Gater was continually interfering with the working and discipline of the force.

Brandon's chief of police has for many years been an exceedingly popular civic official, and his decision to resign has caused regret in many quarters.

Both Ald. Jason Burchill, head of the police committee, and City Manager Fawkes have expressed surprise and regret at the decision of Mr. Hardy, whom they complimented highly for the efficiency with which he has carried on his duties with a very small force.

The letter of resignation was worded as follows:

"I beg to resign my position as chief constable of the city of Brandon, to take effect from May 18 and terminating May, 1926. My reason for so doing is that Mayor Gater is continually interfering with the working and discipline of the force. Trusting it will meet with your approval, your obedient servant. Signed: J. R. Hardy."
