Three and Half Million Dollar Hotel Contract in Vancouver Let Without Tenders During Election Campaign

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 26.—"The Meighen Government is providing itself with spending money at the rate of a million dollars a day by Governor General's warrants," declared ex-premier Mackenzie King here last night at the second meeting of his campaign in the maritime provinces.

"A further violation of office and power was the approval of a $3,500,000 contract for the Canadian National Railway hotel in Vancouver, awarded without calling for tenders and that during an election," declared Mr. King.

CHANGES ARE RECOMMENDED MUNICIPAL LAW

Convention Closes at Vernon and Nanaimo Chosen For Next Year's Gathering.

VERNON, Aug. 26.—At the final session of the convention of the union of municipalities it was agreed to recommend that widowers' pensions should be more liberal and with less restrictions than at present. The union also recommends the opening of municipal polls at 9 instead of 8, but the closing hour to remain at 8 p.m.

The convention agreed that all building work, installing of plumbing and electric light fittings and other improvements ought to be done only under a permit of the municipality and that no exemption should be allowed because the cost of the work is under $100.

Reeve Tom Reid of Surrey was elected president and Nanaimo was selected as the 1927 meeting place.

TRIP FROM NORWAY TO PRINCE RUPERT IN FIFTEEN DAYS

Gunnar Selvig, Local Fisherman, Returns Here Accompanied by Brother and Family

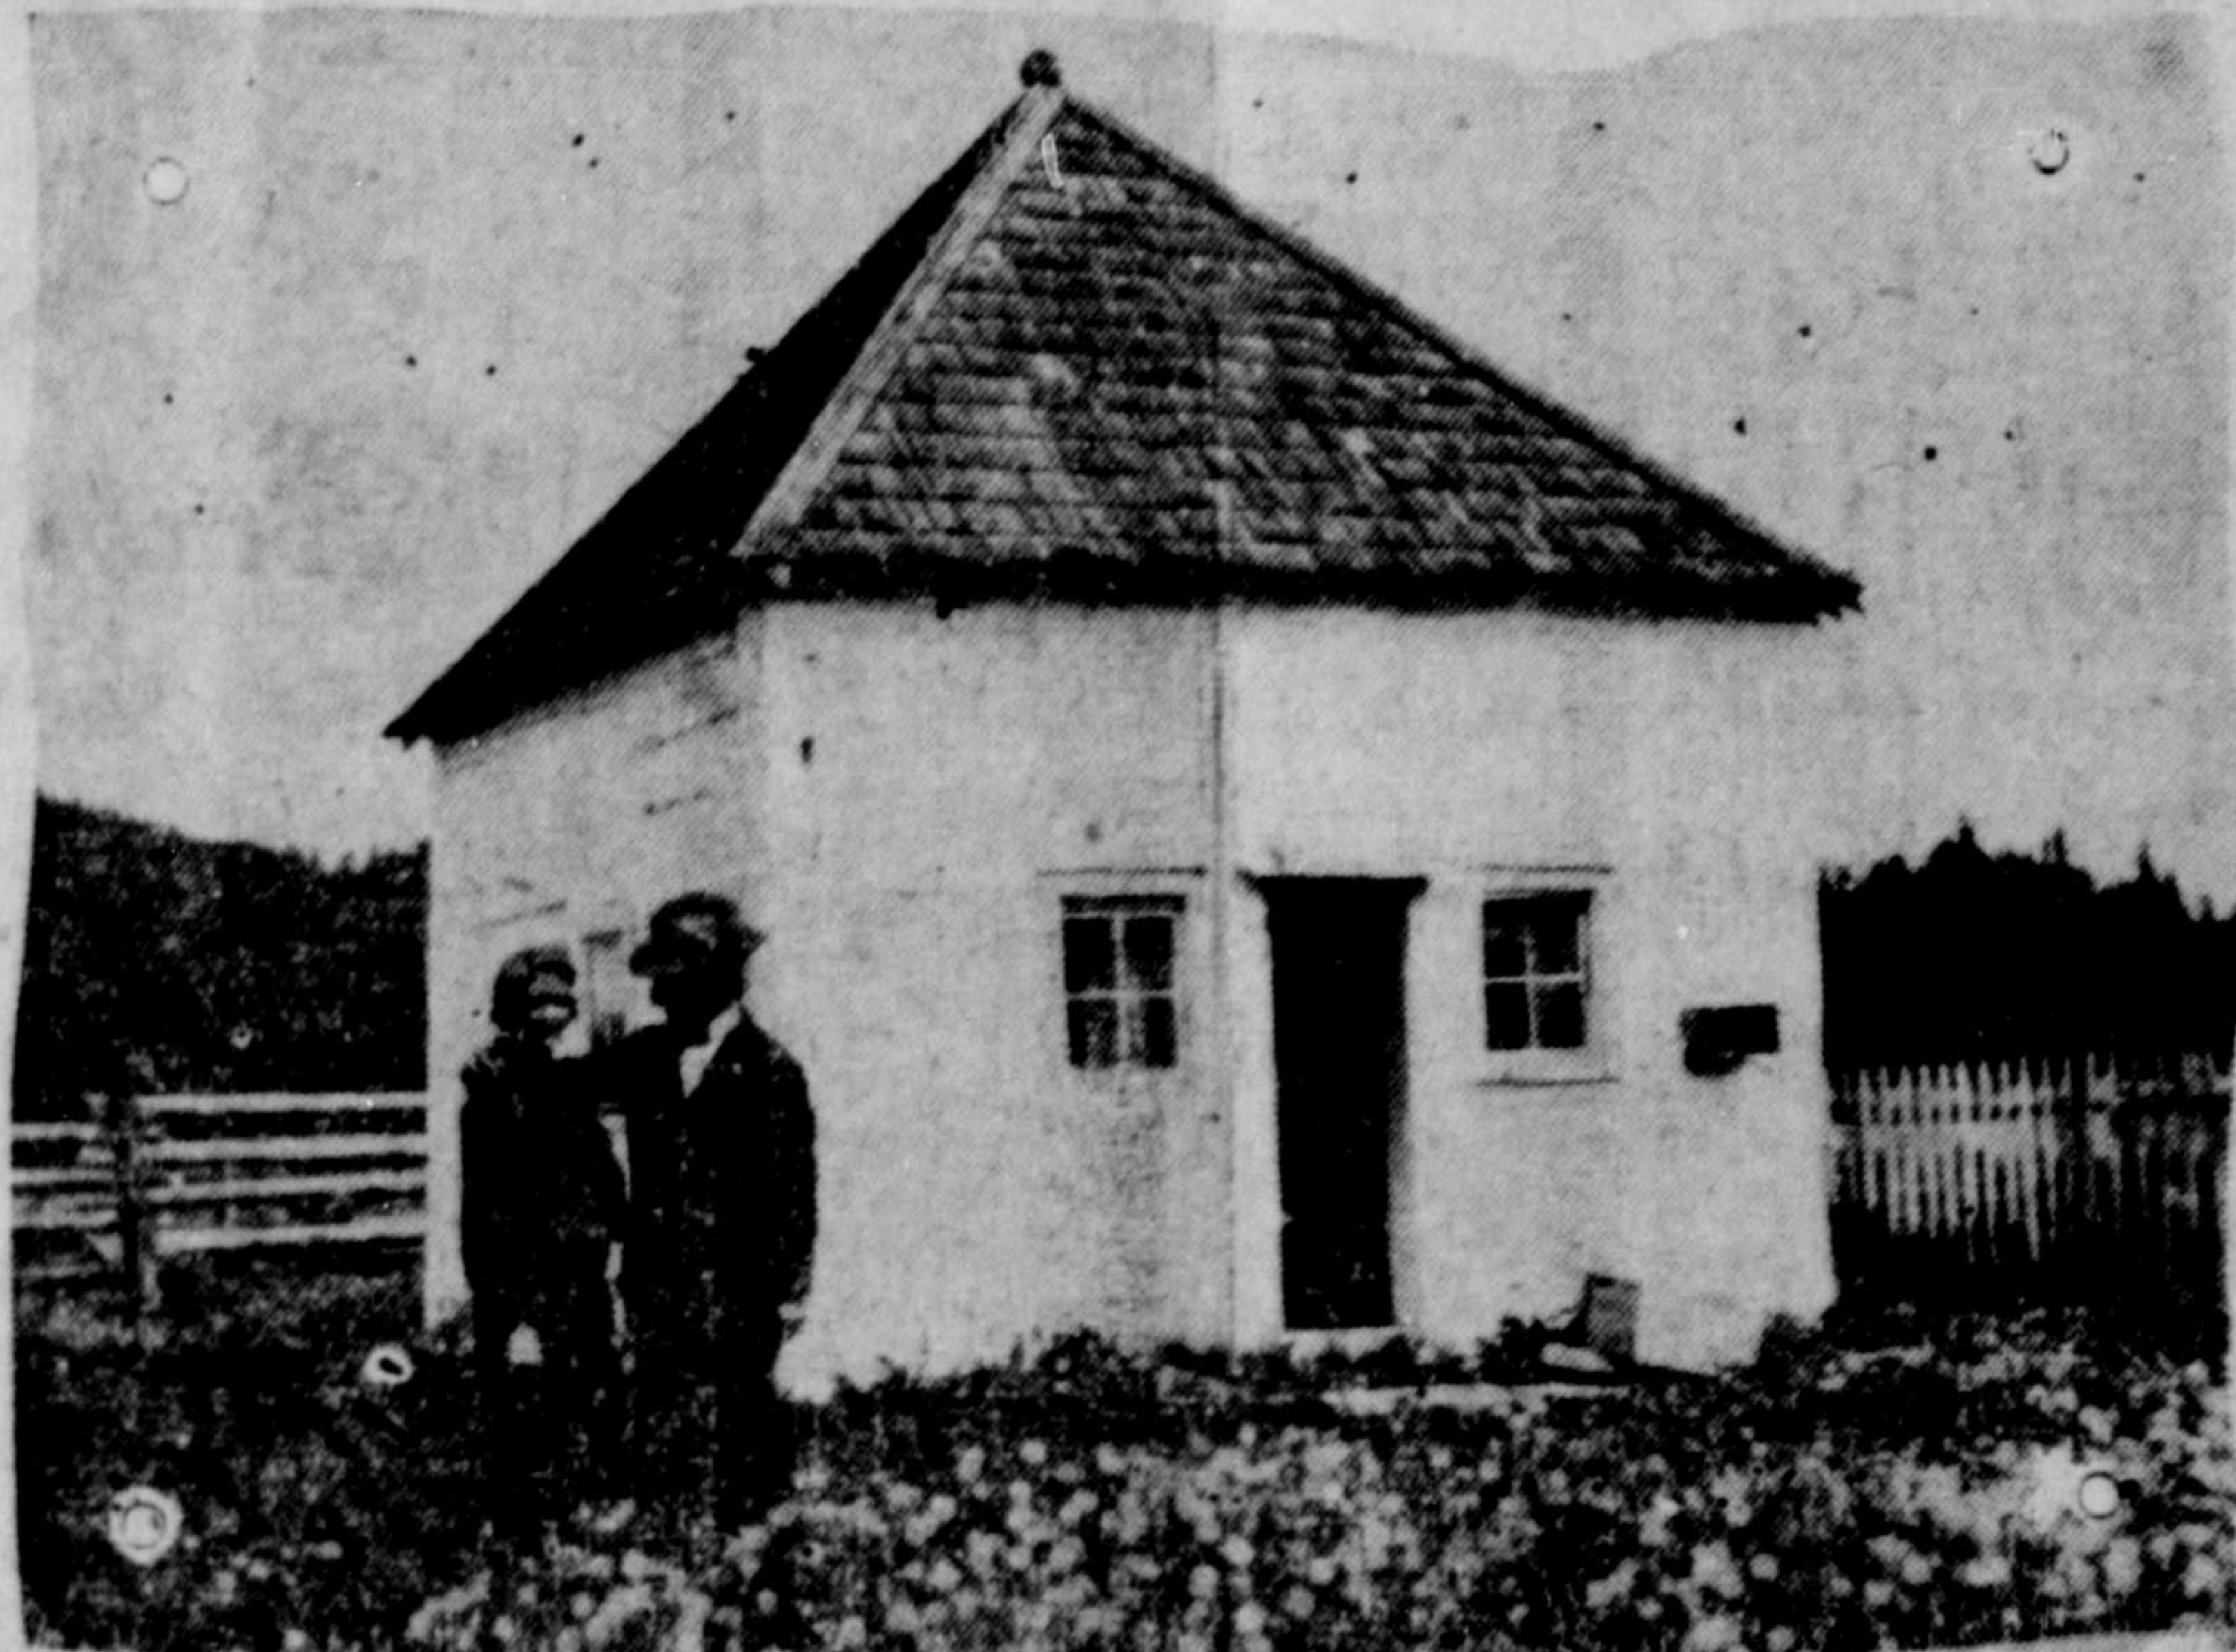

From Oslo, Norway, to Prince Rupert in fifteen days is believed to have been about the fastest time in which the trip was ever made. That was the record of Gunnar Selvig, local fisherman, who returned to the city on yesterday afternoon's train after having spent since last November visiting his old home in Norway. The trip was made by the Scandinavian-American line of steamers across the Atlantic and across Canada, by Canadian National Railways, and would have been made in 14 days had it not been for a day lost at Jasper on account of there being no Tuesday train in to Prince Rupert. Mr. Selvig was accompanied here by his brother and family who will settle in Prince Rupert.

FLAG DAY IS IN PROGRESS

Beautiful Weather Favors Event Local Children Have Been Looking Forward to.

Bright and beautiful weather bloomed forth this afternoon for the annual Flag Day of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and rewarded the enthusiastic lodge men and the children of town for their patience in waiting for the event which has been several times during the past few weeks put off on account of rain.

Hundreds of kiddies thronged the Aeropolis Hill grounds for the afternoon's proceedings, which opened with the unfurling of the flag and an address on its meaning by Archbishop G. A. Rix. Oranges and ice cream were then distributed in abundance and the races for kiddies, old and young, commenced. The concluding feature of the afternoon's program is a soft ball game between the Elks and Gyro Club.

In charge of the afternoon's proceedings is Exalted Ruler Dr. Frank P. Kenny with many other Brother Bills assisting.

Women Throng to Bier of Late Shiek Actor and 150 Police are Required Manage Surging Crowd

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Rudolph Valentino's body was removed from public view today to avoid further disorders among the thousands who flocked to his bier and possible clashes between rival groups of lady admirers.

Yesterday, attendants stated, "the solemn occasion was transformed into a three-ringed circus."

One woman who stood in line yesterday for five hours made three rounds of the dead actor's bier and fainted three times. She was ordered by the police not to return again.

Another weeping girl was found to have an onion in her handkerchief, while others plied powder puffs and lipsticks as they neared the casket. Women fainted and became hysterical.

Twenty mounted police and 112 patrolmen, twelve sergeants and four lieutenants of police were required to handle the surging mass of people that thronged the place.

The funeral Monday will be attended by invited guests only.

Secretary Cooks Asks the Ministry of Labor to Meet Leaders to Discuss Miners' Situation

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Arrangements are complete for Parliament to meet in a short session Monday to confirm the Government emergency regulations, which automatically expire at the end of the month.

The official Gazette published two proclamations yesterday declaring a continuance of the "state of emergency" and "summoning Parliament" which will renew the state of emergency regulations unless there is definite proof that the miners and owners will settle their differences within the next few days.

It is expected that a lively debate will develop over picketing and the alleged interference by police in the mine fields.

A possible move toward peace is indicated by Secretary Cook of the miners' federation, who asked the ministry of labor to meet the leaders to discuss the situation.

Discreditable Campaign Abuse and Slander

Under the heading, "A Discreditable Campaign," the Ottawa Citizen says:

The great Conservative party of Canada, headed by Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, one of the most rejected and dejected political leaders in the whole Dominion, has, from the beginning of the present contest, placed all its hopes of victory in a campaign of abuse of the late Liberal government. It has sagacity enough to know that there are in this country, as in most others, a large number of electors who usually vote against something and rarely for anything, and that these electors are sufficiently strong to be able to swing the election by their negativism.

Thus the Tory strategists decided that the only hope they had of securing sufficient members in parliament of their own color to gain office lay in arousing these negative electors to vote, not for the Conservatives, but against the Liberal party. And so a campaign of bitter accusation against the Liberal government was begun. The first shot was fired by Mr. Meighen in Ottawa, when the greater part of his speech was taken up in telling the people of Canada what a corrupt and depraved lot of masqueraders the Liberals were.

Platform Excesses of Conservatives.

No one claims that the Customs Department was not corrupt, and the revelations in the parliamentary inquiry are legitimate subjects of platform discussion. Had the Conservative speakers confined themselves to the evidence brought out in the investigation, none could have genuine cause for complaint. But they immediately began indulging in those platform excesses that are calculated to prejudice rather than convince, and before long the country was flooded with tales of vile character, with stories of joy-sails and unmentionable goings-on, and with insinuations reflecting upon the honor and integrity of Liberal members.

What is it the Conservative orators hope to gain by this campaign slander? Already the most notorious of these utterances have been nailed and they have rebounded to the discredit of the utterers. There were the Doucet aspersions. Mr. Doucet says the Quebec inquiry proved his "Margaret" charges were true. Can Mr. Doucet deny, or can his apologists deny, that the character of those charges was calculated to and did lead thousands of Canadian men and women to believe that Mr. Lapointe and others took part in carousels of the most wicked and reprehensible character? Can Mr. Doucet or his apologists deny that, however free from specific charges his craftily worded statements were, they were intended to besmear the moral character of Liberal leaders? But the inquiry, ordered by the Conservative government, revealed that there was no incident on board the "Margaret" which could be a reproach against the persons named by the Tory Doucet.

Another Illustration.

Equally interesting is an illustration of Conservative campaign tactics was the statement made by Mr. Nicholson at North Bay. This former member of the House of Commons, speaking on the same platform as Mr. Meighen, was reported as stating that one of the chief public buildings in Ottawa was "partially turned into a bawdy house" and that "the keeper of the bawdy house was on the payroll of the country at $3,500 a year." When this astounding and vile utterance was reported in the press of Canada and caused justifiable resentment, Mr. Nicholson indignantly denied that he had said it, and he personally telegraphed to The Citizen to give his denial the same publicity as was given the original allegation. The Citizen gave it greater publicity.

But to this denial, the Canadian Press correspondent who reported the speech, and who is one of the most reliable men in that most reliable news service, replied that he actually submitted to Mr. Nicholson a note asking if the denied statement was correct, with "Ottawa" specially underlined, and that Mr. Nicholson wrote "yes" on the note. "I still have the note," says the Canadian Press reporter.

Are Disgusted at Scandal Mongers.

What is the public to think? Many must be thoroughly disgusted at such tactics. But the public has the final word in the matter. It can record its approval or disapproval on September 14. The signs plainly point to a revulsion of feeling against the Tory scandal-mongers. In Quebec, especially, in which province Mr. Meighen hopes to gain the desired additional support, will these campaign slanders work to the disadvantage of the party of high tariffs and low platform ethics. But in Ontario, too, except in the case of the congenial ultra-Tories, there is likely to be a reaction against the Conservative muck-rakers. Elsewhere, any wavering from Liberal or Progressive ranks will long since have been driven back again by the odious methods of Mr. Meighen's lieutenants. Badly conceived, execrably carried out, the Tory election campaign seems likely to end in the defeat and humiliation of those who were responsible for its character.

THE MAN IN THE MOON says:

Two heads are better than one as long as they are not nuts.

Tomorrow's Friday and I've got to eat fish again. I hope it's not a sucker.

The advantage of a small boat is it takes less gas. That's different from a small man. He uses more gas.

There's not so very much difference between the parties, so why not elect Stork and let it go at that?

What I like about a stork is he has a habit of bringing things.

You love a man when he lends you money, but when he asks for it back you just hate him.

Why swear when you can get a radio set to make worse noises?

Look out for the last hose of summer.

There's nothing but politics in the newspapers these days. I think I shall quit reading them and then what'll they do about it.

Liberals say the elevator is the thing. So it is, by Jove. It looks good to me and they say Stork got it. Wonder they don't say it was H. H. Stevens or J. C. Brady.

Jake says he'd like to see Stork and Brady on the same political platform. So would I, only they could not both talk at once.

Man wants but little here below. Yes, little politics and more statesmanship.

Jake says he is no political prophet, but he knows he can't get any Conservative money on an election.

Possibly if His Royal Highness goes on writing some of those scathing editorials, some of his faithful followers will pluck up courage enough to venture a dime on Brady.

When a political party has a cinch on all the virtues, watch them. They sure need it.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

August 26, 1916

An interesting letter has been received by M. M. Stephens from Dr. N. M. McNeill who is at the Front. It states that Major S. P. McMorris, who was seriously injured on June 13, has been awarded the D.S.O. as has also Major G. W. Peck. The letter also refers to Capt. J. A. Kirkpatrick, Major Gibson, Pa Beak and Trave Lucas.

George M. Hanson has arrived in Prince Rupert to take over his duties as United States consul and Irving N. Linnell will leave in a few days for Vancouver.

C. Gardiner Johnson of Vancouver, well known shipping man, is visiting the city. He inspected the local dry dock and declares it to be second to none in the world in the matter of equipment.

The Awful Truth

"You look fed up, old man."
"Yes, I've had a tiring day. That little beast of an office boy of mine came to me with the old gag about getting off for his grandmother's funeral, so just to teach him a lesson I said I would accompany him."

"Ah, not so bad; was it a good game?"

"No, it was his grandmother's funeral."

ARCHDEACON IS AN ENTHUSIAST

Urges Gyro Club Members to Spend Holidays in District.

MANY BEAUTY SPOTS

"Don't go to Vancouver for your next holiday trip. Go to the Stikine River country, the Peace River valley, Stuart or Ootsa Lake, to the interior or the Islands. Know the beauty, the resources, the prosperity of your own country tributary to the city." Such was the advice given by Archdeacon Rix at the Gyro Club yesterday in concluding an address, illustrated with many photographs, in which he revealed the scenic splendor and tremendous natural resources of many parts of Central and Northern British Columbia as seen by himself during the past two years in the course of his travels through the diocese of Caledonia, which extends from the Alberta border to the Queen Charlotte Islands and from Ocean Falls to the Alaska boundary.

"The future of the Peace River valley and the port of Prince Rupert interlock," declared the Archdeacon in speaking of the Peace River country. The people of that country with its potential grain and livestock possibilities and its coal and oil resources were looking to Prince Rupert as the ocean outlet. It was up to the people of Prince Rupert to pray and use every endeavor to have that great district opened up by the Canadian National Railways so that it might become tributary to Prince Rupert.

From the Peace River, Archdeacon Rix travelled in his address along the line of the Canadian National Railway through Central British Columbia with its great timber stand that, with proper care, could be made perpetual to Prince Rupert past Mount Robson, Hazelton and the Skeena River with their unexcelled scenic attractions. As for Prince Rupert, Archdeacon Rix stated it could be made one of the beauty spots of the world, its location in that respect was unrivalled and he urged that a community interest be aroused in developing it along those lines. It should not be all left for the government or the Canadian National Railways to do.

Wonderful Stikine

The wonderful Stikine River district was then mentioned by the speaker. Once almost inaccessible, it was now most very easy to reach he said. Boats offering all the comforts and conveniences such as those plying on the coast were now operated up the Stikine River through a district unrivalled in scenery from Wrangell to Telegraph Creek. Then from Telegraph Creek to Dease Lake was the roadway, a drive over which had many thrills to offer. The speaker referred to the work being done among the Indians by the missionary, Commander Hodgson. He also told of conditions there and referred humorously to the hotel conducted at Telegraph Creek by "Chick" McGee, brother of the well known G. G. McGee, K.C. The district had mineral resources as yet unproven but the speaker said it was essentially a "big man's" country from the standpoint of operation, although it also possessed possibilities for the small man in the way of sluicing and panning for gold.

Queen Charlottes

Archdeacon Rix also referred to the beautiful Massett Inlet country and declared that no more interesting a trip and perhaps no cheaper one could be taken than from Prince Rupert to Stewart, Anxox and Massett Inlet and back. Such a trip afforded all the natural contrasts to be found in Northern British Columbia and by taking it one could see at first hand the great mining and fishing operations. The speaker urged that local people should see more of their own district by taking such a trip.

The meeting of the club was presided over by President Stan Taylor and, in addition to a good attendance of Gyros, there were the following guests: Archdeacon Rix, Mr. Drake, Dr. F. P. Kennedy, J. H. McLeod and Rev. E. G. Turner of Prince Rupert, J. W. Rudson of Victoria, and W. A. Noble of Ocean Falls.

Deaconess A. O. Willing of Neena, Alaska, arrived in the city on the Princess Louise yesterday afternoon and proceeded East to Edmonton on this morning's train.

MEIGHEN AND GRAIN TRADE

Vancouver Sun Shows How Western Ports Affected by Action of Premier.

(Vancouver Sun)
Another thing that Vancouver people can thank Mr. Meighen, Mr. Stevens and their Tory Senate for, is killing Mackenzie King's bill giving Western farmers the right to control the destination of their grain.

When a farmer puts his grain into an elevator at a country station, he pays that elevator a proper charge for handling that grain and the farmer should have the right to ship that grain in whatever direction he pleases. This is not the case.

Those Eastern elevator interests, with their big terminals at Fort William, Buffalo and New York, once they get hold of that grain, demand and today actually have the right to route and handle that grain through their own terminals.

Just imagine the Western farmer walking into the only elevator in his country town and being told by the elevator that, in addition to paying an adequate charge for handling his grain at the country station, the farmer must give to the elevator company the right to ship and to handle that grain at its destination.

While those Western farmers were fighting for this right—the right in most cases to ship their grain to Vancouver—did Vancouver raise a hand to help them? Tory policies, working in with those Eastern grain interests, fought and lobbied against the grain bill every foot of the way

HEN TAKES CHARGE LITTER OF KITTENS

PASQUA, Sask., Aug. 26.—A peculiar case of adoption among animals is reported here at a farm of R. Foote, east of Pasqua. An unnatural feline gave up her litter of kittens and would not go near them. A hen then undertook to provide attention in the best way she knew how, and is found daily sitting over her charges.

The mother cat sometimes comes near now, but will have nothing to do with her offspring, since the hen had taken charge of affairs. The kittens are reported to be doing nicely.

A little chap was offered a chance to spend a week in the country, but refused. Coaxing, pleading, arguing, promising of untold wonders, alike brought from him nothing but the stubborn ultimatum: "No country for me!"

"But why not?" some one asked finally. "Because," he responded, "they have thrashin' machines down there an' it's bad enough here where it's done by hand."

TO WHITEHORSE AS SEEN BY THE SHIP'S BARBER

Victoria Man, Formerly in Prince Rupert, Tells of Recent Visit to Yukon Territory

(By Alderman J. A. Shanks, formerly Ship's Barber, ss. Princess Louise)

The best traditions of the Golden North are still strictly adhered to in Dawson City. Even from the beginning and it is so today "two-bits" is the smallest coin permitted to circulate in the far flung Yukon metropolis.

Coming back from Skagway a tourist told me how his money had been refused in Dawson City. He desired to purchase a "two-bit" cigar and offered in payment two dimes and a nickel, the cigarmen politely refused. "We don't understand that kind of money out here," he said as he pushed the three coins back.

At Whitehorse As any personal observations did not extend beyond Whitehorse, I shall begin my narrative at that famous point where the trail of '98 became merged with the roaring waters of the swift flowing Yukon.

Old-timers in Whitehorse tell and willingly so, of incidents that happened when the great rush was on. Everything from planks and soap boxes to sturdy builders, wheeled were used to convey the excited, impatient gold hunters down the river to Dawson. The Yukon is a veritable torrent. It rages and roars on its way propelled by a terrific current, while jutting rocks and dangerous rapids call for pilotage of an extremely skillful character.

Boats Now Shorn of Glory Many river boats of ancient vintage grace the banks of the Yukon at Whitehorse. Ships that were floating palaces in their day, now discarded for more up-to-date crafts.

Only Remnants Left The remnants of White Pass City are visible a few miles closer to Skagway. It is stated that White Pass City had a population of 30,000 at one period of the Klondyke stampede.

We look out of the coach window and we see Dead Horse Gulch, named so because of the thousands of pack horses that died on the trail.

known as Lou," immortalized by Robert Service, were apparently frequently passengers on the staunch craft Bonanza King, while hair-raising shooting affairs which helped pass the time on the tedious voyage, was without doubt what built up the immense popularity of the ss. Yukoner.

Whitehorse seems fairly prosperous with its 500 or so inhabitants. Hope rings strong in the minds of its people, and some day they predict another rush, another stampede, for they claim the Yukon has richer fields left than have yet been prospected. Incidentally, gasoline is six bits a gallon and autos are quite plentiful considering the limited roads that Whitehorse can boast of.

Scenery is Stupendous

We now board the White Pass and Yukon Railway train for Skagway. This road is narrow gauge, 108 miles long; two years were spent in its construction and the fare is ten cents a mile. The scenery along this little railroad is, to say the least of it, marvellous. Stupendous, perhaps, is a more suitable word. Extreme heights and hair-raising depths are continuously in view. Chasms, roaring rivers, wonderful waterfalls, glaciers and cloud-piercing snow-capped mountains prevail from Lake Bennett to Skagway, about halfway the scenic surprises are first one after another. Constantly the train is twisted into a horseshoe where the engineer could nearly shake hands with the passengers on the rear coach and on one section three engines are used where the grade, is particularly severe. About midway on the route Lake Linderman can be seen in the distance. The head waters of this lake was the terminus of the Chilkoot Trail, made famous in the Klondyke stampede before the White Pass Trail was used. Nearby is the townsite of Bennett, which, in the early days, had a population of 10,000 people. It was here the stamperers built their rafts and crude boats in which to continue their journey. Bennett is now practically confined to one business, employing fifteen or twenty people—a railway eating-house, and a mighty good one. Here meat of the moose, caribou, mountain sheep and delicious wild berries are served to the great delight of the tourist.

The International Boundary line at a point twenty miles from Skagway and at an elevation of nearly 3,000 feet, sooty rocks into view. The Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes are planted securely about fifty feet apart. Between them is a granite column which bears on one side the word "Canada" and on the other side "United States." It is an imposing sight when the tourists gather round and many of them have their cameras busy picturing each other with their feet spread so that they stand in both countries at the same time.

Dead Horse Gulch comes next, spanned by a cantilever bridge 215 feet high, which, according to a booklet issued by the railroad, is the most northerly bridge of its kind and height in the world.

The train does not enter the town through any rear gateway, but cuts a clear line down the centre of Skagway's main street. Business and traffic appears undisturbed as we go clanging along to the depot located at the other end of the town.

CHURCH BOYS DEFEAT NAVY

Y-Macs Scored 4 to 1 Last Night in Intermediate Soccer

Although both teams lacked regular players, the Naval Reserve and Y-Macs staged a merry battle in the Intermediate football league last evening, the latter winning 4 to 1.

The Navy, kicking up hill in the first half, after a few exchanges, took the lead when Gamm notched the side's only counter. Straehan evaded up for the Y-Macs just before half time.

On even terms, both sides worked hard for the first part of the second half until Bond's shot was deflected into the Navy's net. The Navy thereupon wilted while the Y-Macs increased the vigor of their attack.

The standing of the teams in the Intermediate League is as follows:

Table with 5 columns: Team, W, D, L, Pts. Y-Macs 2 1 0 5, Naval Reserve 1 0 2 2, High School 0 1 1 1.

John Dybbavn came in on last night's train from his summer home at Lake Kathleen. Mrs. Dybbavn and family will be returning to the city next week.

However we speed on. Over dizzy heights and roaring canyons, more corkscrew bends and mountain edges, until at last the brakeman sings out, in a resounding, unmistakable Northern voice, the rather pleasant and welcome name, "Skagway." Good! We are glad we're here. The trip we have enjoyed immensely, but our nerves are on edge. We have had enough, for one time, of these hair-breadth altitudes, these visions of bygone glory, this glittering gold of the past. Skagway means change, a good meal and a chance to step out for awhile.

The train does not enter the town through any rear gateway, but cuts a clear line down the centre of Skagway's main street. Business and traffic appears undisturbed as we go clanging along to the depot located at the other end of the town.

SPORT CHAT

With another baseball series between Ketchikan and Prince Rupert on tapis for Fair Week it is confidently hoped that the local players will be in shape to give the visitors from the north some better competition than they did in the Dominion Day games. Ketchikan, it may be admitted, has some exceptionally good baseball talent this year and a July sent a team down here that might go a long way in a bigger place than Prince Rupert. The locals were clearly outclassed at that time but now, with the eager season behind them and a little practice between now and September, they should be able to make a good battle of it with the northerners on the occasion of their forthcoming visit.

Orders for 130,000 tickets for the Dempsey-Tunney heavy-weight championship bout September 23, have been placed with the printers, according to Philadelphia despatches. In the meantime, other arrangements for the fight in the new Philadelphia stadium on the grounds of the exposition, are being completed. Although Dempsey is understood to have decided on finishing his training at Atlantic City, exposition officials are hoping they can persuade him to establish his camp in Philadelphia.

KETCHIKAN WINNERS BASEBALL SERIES FOR CHAMP. S. E. ALASKA KETCHIKAN, Aug. 26. — For the second day in succession, Ketchikan Monday evening turned back the invaders from Juneau, winning the second game of the series 6 to 4 and clinching the Southeastern Alaska baseball title for the 1926 season. Both Davis, speed ball merchant of the local aggregation, started both on the mound and with the willow, striking out 13 batters and getting two hits in three times up.

Manning, who opposed Davis, pitched a fine game and with a little better support might have copped. As it was he gave Ketchikan fans several bad moments.

Win in Fourth The locals put the game on ice in the last of the fourth frame after it seemed to be irretrievably lost. And Davis who got into trouble through his own wildness in the first of the fourth, delivered the blow that gave the cash customers a thrill and turned the Juneau roofing delegation into a band of mourners.

CAR SHORTAGE IS EXPLAINED

Express Company in Message States Plenty of Refrigerators are on Way Here

With respect to the recent shortage of express refrigerator cars here which interfered last week with the shipments of harvesters, the following telegram was received yesterday from headquarters of the Canadian National Express Co. at Montreal:

"Apparently the shortage of express refrigerators at Prince Rupert has been due to the slow movement of empties west due to the exceptionally heavy movement of harvesters' trains. There is the same number of cars in this service now that there has been all summer. The situation today checks 17 cars empty west of Edmonton, 8 between Winnipeg and Edmonton, one at Winnipeg, thirteen between Chicago and Winnipeg and 14 between Toronto and Winnipeg. These should all reach Prince Rupert in the course of a week or ten days and take care of the heaviest loadings. We are confident that there will be no car shortage very shortly."

DONAGHY'S IDEA OF LIBERAL GOVERNMENT

Candidate in Vancouver Centre Tells People There What He Stands For.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 26. — In addressing the electors of Vancouver Centre in opposition to H. H. Stevens, Dugald Donaghy summarizes the Liberal policy as follows:

The great achievements of the Liberal government, he said, were these:

Reduction of the cost of administering the country's affairs from $463,000,000 in 1922, to $354,000,000 last year.

Reduction of the national debt last year by $27,000,000, against an increase of $92,000,000 in 1921, when Mr. Meighen was in power.

Production of a surplus of $32,000,000 on C. N. R. operations as against a deficit of $34,000,000 in Mr. Meighen's time.

Taxes Reduced

Taxes had been reduced following reduced expenditures. Unearned income from dividends is to be taxed on the same basis as income earned by toil. This had been opposed by the Conservatives.

Savings deposits had increased to $74,000,000 last year, and during that year 30,000 Canadians had returned home from across the border.

Even more important were the policies for the future. These, he said, were:

Old Age Pensions

Re-enactment of old age pensions, revaluation of soldiers' lands, rural credits and other legislation blocked by Tory opposition in the Commons or Senate.

Equalization of freight rates.

Continued reduction of public expenditures and taxation.

Extension of Canada's trade by further marketing treaties.

In addition, for his own part, he pledged himself to work for a Vancouver man on the C. N. R. directorate, for construction of a Pacific Coast outlet for the Peace River, and to try to foster political and commercial co-operation between the people of B. C. and the prairie provinces.

Mrs. Lottie Anderson, Becomes Bride of Nels Pedersen, Captain of Ternon.

KETCHIKAN, Aug. 26. — The marriage of Mrs. Lottie Anderson and Nels Pedersen, both residents of Prince Rupert, took place at 7 o'clock Monday, August 23, in the office of the U. S. Commissioner of this city. Judge J. W. Kehoe performed the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives and close friends of the young couple.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding supper was given by the bride's sister, Mrs. Anna Midrust, for the bridal party in the banquet room of Richmond's. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the bridal place cards and decoration of the table, which was centered with sweet peas and maidenhair ferns. Covers were laid for eight guests: Mr. and Mrs. Nels Pedersen, Mrs. Anna Midrust, Mr. and Mrs. Thorsten Pedersen, Mrs. John Munson, Miss Evelyn Anderson and Miss Mary Pedersen.

Mrs. Pedersen arrived from Prince Rupert last week to visit her sister and Mrs. Thorsten Pedersen for a few days before her marriage. Mr. Pedersen is engaged in the fishing industry and is captain and owner of the Ternon. The young couple will spend their honeymoon in Ketchikan. They will make their home in Prince Rupert.

Raymond Griffiths in "HAND'S UP"

His high hat highness again hits the heights of hilarity. A spectacular super-comedy of Civil War times in which Raymond puts the merry in America. He had a spy job and wanted to win the war single-handed, so he fell in love with two girls at one time. He didn't mind Copd's arrows, but when it came to Indian arrows—! Come and laugh at him hob-nobbing with Lincoln and Lee, dodging Indians, and making love to pretty girls. Lincoln frees the slaves in "Hands Up;" Griffiths frees the laughs. Strong cast.
