FASCISM GRIP ON ITALY TIGHTENS WILL LEAVE BREWERY SHARES TO PROHIBITION LEADERS

Strong Measures to Be Taken in Italy to Entrench Mussolini in Power Destroying All Opposition

ROME, November 5.—Machinery is expected to be set in motion today to destroy every trace of organized opposition to the Fascist regime and to proscribe every individual suspected of antagonism to Mussolini. The Duce in one cryptic phrase during an address yesterday, after celebrating the eighth anniversary of the victor Austria, electrified Italy into the belief that they are on the eve of one of the most momentous decisions in Fascist history. "Tomorrow," said the Premier, "we will have acts you have been waiting for."

Effort Made to Reduce Rate on Alberta Coal

Effort to Prince Rupert would increase if dollar a ton taken off. The Alberta coal mines are using their utmost endeavors to bring about a reduction in the freight rate on coal from them to Prince Rupert and they are confident that their efforts within a few months will be crowned with success. Mr. Rowell predicted, will be a great increase in the coal movement from Alberta to the coast which will be of particular benefit to Prince Rupert.

FIVE THOUSAND MILES OVER AIR

A record for long distance communication was set up by the Digby Island wireless station a few days ago when the station spoke to Apea, a British station in the Samoan Islands, 14 degrees south of the equator and some 5,000 miles from here. Greetings were exchanged between the stations in a very distinct manner.

TOFUKU MARU TO LEAVE ON SUNDAY

Japanese Grain Boat Will Proceed to Norfolk, Virginia, for Orders. The "K" line tramp steamer Tokufu Maru, Capt. Y. Inagaki, which is loading grain at this port, should be ready to sail by Sunday. The vessel will be taken out to Triple Island by Capt. Larry Thomson, local pilot, and will sail via the Panama Canal for Norfolk, Virginia, where she will receive her orders for delivery of her cargo to the United Kingdom or continent. Owing to the Old Country coal strike, the Tokufu Maru is carrying several hundred tons extra Japanese coal, the presence of which caused some difficulty in lining and loading.

McIntosh, Miss Du Vernet and W. E. Allison.

JUDGMENT IN RAILWAY CASE

DECISION AGAINST ENGINEER WHO WAS DISMISSED FOR INTOXICATION AND INSUBORDINATION. CRITICISM OF JUDGE. Railroad and Boozing Like the East and West are Things that Cannot Meet.

MONTREAL, Nov. 5.—A decision has been handed down by the Exchequer Court of Canada dismissing the petition of the right of Theodore Vallancourt, a former locomotive engineer of the Intercolonial railway who claimed from the King, through the Intercolonial and the Canadian National Railways, the sum of $13,630.00, alleging unjust and illegal dismissal. The case is of considerable interest to railroad people throughout Canada.

In dismissing the petition Justice Audette found that insubordination and use of intoxicating liquors were proved, and it was held to be a justifiable reason for dismissal. The petitioner, according to the evidence presented to the court, was an engineer on the "spare list" at Riviere Du Loup in September, 1926. He was summoned on an emergency call on September 11, 1926, and did not immediately report to take out a waiting engine. A second telephone call was made by his foreman, and it was then some twenty minutes before Vallancourt appeared to take out the engine. By that time another engineer had been summoned and had taken out the engine on his arrival.

Vallancourt after an altercation with his foreman, was suspended by the locomotive foreman, who alleged that the engineer had been intoxicated and showed insubordination.

In his judgment, Justice Audette finds that insubordination and the use of intoxicating liquor, contrary to the company's rules of employment, which the petitioner denied, had been proved. Both were forbidden by the rules governing the man's employment, and were it not so provided, it would be a justifiable cause for dismissal," the judgment states.

"Railroading and boozing," the judgment continues, "like the east and west in Kipling's poem, are things that cannot meet. If the operation of trains is to be carried on with safety, one must bear with and give a vigorous and efficient support to the authority in the administration of the railway, the want of which would tend to destroy that control and management which have for its object to protect the public and the life of passengers. All employees owe loyalty and obedience to their superior officer acting within the scope of his duties and mandate."

VALHALLA CEMETERY DISPUTE ADJUSTED

VICTORIA, Nov. 5.—The Valhalla cemetery matter has been finally adjusted. Hon. T. D. Pattullo announced today. Purchasers of the site have been refunded the $25,000 paid on account of the purchase price and an additional sum of $12,500 by way of compensation.

RUSH SOON OF SETTLERS IS EXPECTED

PRINCE ALBERT, Nov. 5.—That he believed Western Canada was on the eve of a rush of settlers similar to that of twenty years ago, was the declaration of Minister of Agriculture Motherwell to the Prince Albert Agricultural Society at a banquet last night. He advocated the opening up of more homestead lands and declared the Hudson Bay Railway was justified if only as a colonization line. "The day of pioneering in the west is not over," said the minister, who agreed with Hon. Robert Forke, minister of immigration, when he said: "I care not where immigrants come from as long as they are healthy and willing to work." The minister said experiments with new varieties of grain had made possible the extension of the grain areas farther north.

Charles Millar Leaves Money to Leaders of Prohibition in Ontario

Freak will said to be to test the principles of moral reformers in Toronto by an opponent of theirs. TORONTO, Nov. 5.—The will of the late Charles Millar, lawyer, racehorse owner and mining magnate, dated 1921, according to the Telegram newspaper, distributes $25,000 worth of shares in the Ontario Jockey Club to Newton W. Rowell, K.C., William E. Raney, K.C., and Ben Spence, prohibition leaders. Millar is credited by the Telegram as the owner of $800,000 worth of stock in the O'Keefe brewery and the will bequeaths this stock to the Methodist ministers of Toronto Conference who are members of the Orange Order.

The most startling condition of the will is a provision for the ultimate disposal of the estate. If the men named refuse their bequests, the whole reverts to the estate and the executors will administer the whole property for nine years when it will be sold and the proceeds given to the parents of the largest families born in Ontario within nine years of the honoree's death.

Australia Would Have Fought Against Britain in the War of Independence Declares Premier

LONDON, November 5.—After declaring that his country would have fought with the American colonies against England if it had been a nation at the time of the war of independence, Premier Bruce of Australia said at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday that the commonwealth now, however, enjoyed full liberty as a member of the British Empire because of the victory of the colonies. "Americans and Australians," said Premier Bruce, "desire earnestly to keep free of entanglements in the Old World so that they may carry out their tasks of economic advancement. There is between them a very binding link—the same attitude of mind, the same outlook on world problems and they are both great Pacific powers which visualize in the future the transfer of the world's centre from the older continents to the newer world."

The time of the city police court was occupied this morning in hearing evidence in the case of Einar C. Hoppen, charged with keeping liquor for sale until this afternoon. E. F. Jones is prosecuting and Milton Gonzales, defending.

The General Manager of Great Northern Railway Drops Dead When Waiting for Queen Marie

Petty Scandal in Connection With Visit in Which Major Stanley Washburn is Involved is Officially Denied

SEATTLE, November 5.—While awaiting the arrival of Queen Marie outside his home, Sam Hill, general manager of the Great Northern Railway, who was host to the Queen, dropped dead before the Royal visitor arrived. He was in company with Mrs. Mortimer Brown, wife of A. V. Brown, at the time.

PORTLAND, November 5.—Sam Hill, host to Queen Marie, voiced some sharp words to Major Stanley Washburn, member of the Queen's party, at the horse show Wednesday night. According to members of the party in the Royal Box, Hill was quoted as saying to Washburn: "Shut up. If you talk back to me I'll slap your face."

Washburn made no reply to the remark. The affair was reported to have occurred following some words between Washburn and Hill over an incident earlier in the evening at Multnomah Hotel when the door was slammed in the face of Governor Walter Pierce. It is reported that Washburn told the Queen he could not remain in the party any longer with Hill but both arrived in Seattle on a special train yesterday afternoon.

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 5.—Governor Pierce today denied the incident between Hill and Washburn and also denied that he himself had been insulted by the door being slammed in his face. There was not a word of truth in it, said the Governor.

OPTIMISM ON ENDING COAL STRIKE SOON

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Optimism over the possible early ending of the coal strike increased today after a meeting between representatives of the government and the negotiating committee of the Trades Union Congress. The discussions cleared up the situation sufficiently to induce Premier Baldwin to receive the miners' representatives at Downing Street this afternoon.

The government was in communication with the mine owners during the day and it is expected they will be called into conference later.

GUN POWDER PLOT IN GREAT BRITAIN.

This is the anniversary of the gunpowder plot, a rather trivial event, which was used for many years to keep up the ill-feeling which prevailed between Protestants and Catholics in Great Britain and which was even carried by some into this new free country in an attempt to perpetuate the reign of hate between alleged followers of the Prince of Peace. Happily today the event is not looked upon as of any importance and is classed with other historic stories of the constant struggles which took place in the early days.

Briefly, there was a Protestant King in England and a plot was concocted by some Catholic families living in the north, to hire a man to blow up the Houses of Parliament and kill the Protestant leaders and the King at one stroke. It failed, although it is said that the train of powder was laid and everything was in readiness for setting a match to it, when the plot was discovered and the hired assassin, Guy Fawkes, was captured. While some Catholics are said to have been responsible for initiating the plot, it is also said that it was a Catholic who refused to be party to the plot who gave away the information and upset the plans. Whether this was true or not is immaterial. In those days there was bitter strife between members of the rival religions, and executions and murders were common at court and looked upon as quite the proper thing as between adversaries.

Today things have changed. We all live peaceably together and co-operate in the work of the churches. In Prince Rupert while Protestants flocked to the Catholic bazaar on the opening night, Catholics were taking part in an entertainment at the Salvation Army barracks. This is as it should be and is something to be encouraged. Let us forget such monstrosities as the gunpowder plot, except to use as interesting stories to illustrate the degeneracy of the past days and the progress that has been made in religion as well as in social industrial and political life.

IS COOLIDGE DOOMED TWO YEARS HENCE?

In the United States the trend of events seems against the present Republican regime and toward a return of the Democrats. That may all change in the next two years. Coolidge, the silent, my find his voice and help to bring back the wandering Republicans to the fold. No one can prophesy so far ahead what will happen. However, it is true that the effect of the election this week will be to turn the minds of the people of the United States toward the idea of change and, if a strong leader is chosen, it is probable he may be elected in 1928. At present Governor Al Smith is looked upon as the most likely choice but the people of the United States do not always choose their outstanding leaders.

TRUNK ROAD MOVEMENT TO BE COMMENCED.

The building of a trunk road out of Prince Rupert was commenced last year and a good deal of money was spent getting through a difficult part of the route. It has been continued this season and substantial progress has been made, as will be realized by any who may happen to drive out that way. The member for the district, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, announced some time ago that the work would be completed as far as Galloway Rapids next year. That is quite a good beginning.

But of course we all want to get to Terrace next year, which is impossible. However, anything the Daily News can do to expedite matters will be done. Meanwhile the other sections of the road which connects up the homes of settlers making life more attractive to them, are being completed, all being in the direction of giving us a highway joining Prince Rupert with Alberta and the southern part of British Columbia.

If we can get a survey of the Terrace highway next year it will be as much as we can expect. Then it will be possible to make an estimate of cost and follow it up by annual construction work.

SALMON LIFE IS DESCRIBED

DR. W. A. CLEMENS ADDRESSES THE ROTARY CLUB ON SOCKEYE
AND OTHER FISH

Some interesting facts about the life history of the salmon and particularly of the sockeye were given by Dr. W. A. Clemens, director of the biological station at Departure Bay yesterday afternoon at the luncheon of the Rotary Club. Colonel J. W. Nicholls presiding in the absence of C. H. Orme, president of the club.

Dr. Clemens classified the salmon family or Salmonidae into a group including whitefish, lake herrings and Inconnu in one group and Pacific Salmon, Atlantic salmon, steelhead, cutthroat and char in another group. The char, he explained, included the dolly varden and the eastern brook trout.

The speaker explained that the fishes of this family lent themselves well to cultural operations and were valuable commercially. They were also great sporting fish. All the Pacific salmon, he said, were given Russian names as they were first discovered in Siberia. Most of the salmon were four year fish returning to spawn and die at the place of birth after a life of a year in fresh water and three in the ocean. There were however, variations of this. The pink salmon was a two year fish. The others sometimes lived to five and even as much as seven years of age.

Speaking of the sockeye, Dr. Clemens said the majority spawned in the fourth year spending one year in a lake and the remainder of their lives in the ocean. The young fish at about a year old started to travel down stream tall first. At Cultus Lake on the Fraser River they had been able to watch them and count the number leaving. Some of them spent some time at the mouth of the river and others went directly into deep water.

The sockeye was difficult to study because the fish could not be caught with a fly or spoon. They did not live on other fish but on small shrimps and similar food.

An interesting speculation for scientists was as to what brought the salmon back to its spawning grounds. It was the sex urge that started it but what method it had of guiding it to the place it left years before was the subject of speculation and experiment. Journeying up stream they often arrived at the spawning grounds exhausted and soon died there. All the Pacific salmon spawned but once except the steelhead which sometimes spawned more than once.

COLLEEN SCORES A HIT AS SLAVEY IN "ELLA CINDERS"

Colleen Moore registers another genuine triumph with the delightful cinema entertainment called "Ella Cinders" which opened today.

For one thing her performance demonstrates beyond cavil that Miss Moore is one of the most versatile and winsome personalities of the screen today. Whether she be in satins or calicoes—and for a good section of this picture she is in calicoes—she is appealing to the nth degree.

"Ella Cinders" is a unique experiment in motion pictures, and a highly successful one. It marks the first attempt to make a feature motion picture from a newspaper comic strip, having been adapted from the joint creation of William Conselman and Charles Plumb now running in a hundred dailies. More of this sort of thing will be welcomed by movie-goers.

In the story Ella is the slavey in the Cinders household and how she gets away from the environment of her stepmother and stepsisters, falls in love with an ice man, wins a 'fake' beauty contest and "crashes the gate" to success in the movies furnishes a delightful entertainment in only the manner that is Colleen Moore's.

Lloyd Hughes, as Waite Lifter, who trains for football by delivering ice, makes an admirable leading man for Miss Moore. Excellent support is also given the First National star by Vera Lewis, Doris Baker, Emily Gerdes, Mike Donlin, Jed Prouty, Jack Duffy, Harry Allen and D'Arcy Corrigan.

TO IMPROVE AIR SERVICE

MANITOWA DOING GOOD WORK AND EFFORT TO BE MADE CONNECT
CANADIAN CITIES

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—Inauguration of an air mail service between the principal cities of Canada, may be a reality in the near future. Capt. J. S. Scott, M.C., director of the Royal Canadian Air Force, indicated in an interview here. Experiments along this line will be attempted shortly and the results of these tests will largely determine to what extent the service will be operated.

Cost of operation, climatic conditions, possibilities of revenue and other important factors will have to be studied before the undertaking is launched. Capt. Scott declared.

High praise was paid to the Manitoba wing of the force, which according to Capt. Scott is one of the best organized and highly efficient units in the Dominion. The Manitoba squadron, he stated, had rendered yeoman service in battling the forest fires in co-operation with the Dominion forestry department. Other branches of the force also had a notable record of good service. More than 215 fires were detected by the patrols and by speedy communication, forest rangers were rushed to the scene of danger and many menacing blazes were subdued and valuable timber limits saved.

He predicted that a reserve air force would be formed in the near future.

A total of 47,000 square miles were photographed by the air service during the past season, much of the territory being practically unknown as far as exact geographical data was concerned.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

NOVEMBER 5, 1916

The people aboard the coal barge Donald D. who were rescued by the Prince John in Queen Charlotte Sound were landed here yesterday, the party comprising Capt. Svendsen and his wife, Mate Hansen, the cook, and two other members of the crew. The Donald D. went adrift when the tow line of the tug Dols parted and Capt. Davies, master of the steamer Prince John, on arriving on the scene, decided all he could do was to rescue the people on board and let the barge go. The last seen of it was as it was drifting toward Calvert Island.

TURKEYS SCARCE ON PRAIRIE MARKETS

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—Many Canadian housewives will be compelled to change their menus for Thanksgiving dinner, for according to Prof. Herner of the Manitoba Agricultural College, there is a serious shortage of turkey in the Dominion this year.

In fact there is a general shortage of fowl, attributable chiefly to unfavorable weather last spring. Disease is also reported to have taken a heavy toll. Prices accordingly have remained at a high level and in the opinion of Prof. Herner, will remain so until after the New Year.

The speaker deprecated the trend followed by poultry breeders in the United States, who he asserted, are specializing more in quantity than quality production. The problem before the breeder was to broaden the scope of the industry to include both.

Prof. Herner stated that the more consideration should be given to the co-relation of the two branches of the industry in Canada and suggested that breeders should avail themselves of the scientific information gathered by government investigators.

THANKSGIVING AT LAWN HILL ON LAST SATURDAY EVENING

People Travelled For Many Miles in Order to Attend Services at Institute Hall

SKIDEGATE, Nov. 5.—Harvest thanksgiving services were held at Lawn Hill by Rev. J. Gillett of Massett last Saturday evening at the Farmers' Institute Hall. People from both north and south came from long distances, some of them travelling almost all day in cars or motorboats. All the white settlers at Skidegate and Tiel were there. The building was well decorated for the occasion. E. S. Richardson, N. Schafer, R. G. Emmerson and A. Beebe put their motor cars at the disposal of the public so that all might be there. After the service Mr. Gillett put on his moving pictures and this was the first time some of the children had ever seen movies.

At the close a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Gillett and the hope expressed that he would find it possible to come oftener.

MISSIONARIES CALLED FOOLS IN AFRICA

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—Natives of West Africa designate missionaries as "fools" it was related here in an address by Rev. A. Tucker, who for many years has served in that particular field.

The missionaries, he explained, were so dubbed, not from malice but rather because to the native, the expression was one of praise.

When the first missionaries ventured into West Africa, the natives had inquired from a Dutchman who spoke their language: "Who are these men who carry no whiskey for trade?" The Dutchman replied: "They are fools who come here to convert you." Since then the name had stuck, but with a different meaning to that conveyed to the average person.

BUILT BRIDGES ON QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS THIS YEAR

George Scott, local contractor, accompanied by his crew of men, returned to the city on the Prince Charles last night after having spent the summer in the vicinity of Skidegate on the Queen Charlotte Islands in charge of bridge building for the provincial department of public works.

While on the Islands Mr. Scott put in nine bridges which are said to be the best yet built on the Islands and with which the residents are very pleased.

SPRIGS OF NOBILITY
WORK AT TRADES OR ENGAGE IN BUSINESS

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Many of the sons and daughters of British titled people work at a trade or engage in business and they take their work quite seriously.

The Earl of Oxford and Asquith's son, the Hon. Anthony Asquith, is engaged in film work; Viscountess Grey of Fallodon's son, the Hon. Stephen Tennant, works with an engineering firm in the Midlands. His younger brother is an artist. The Master of Falkland and his brother the Hon. Byron Cary do their eight hours with a Commercial firm in the city.

The Marquis of Carmarthen, heir to the Duke of Leeds, works in the financial square mile of the city and the Duke of Portland's heir, the Marquis of Titchfield, is learning all about estate management. The Earl of Lathoun is director of a publicity business.

On the woman's side, daughters of many famous hostesses have gone to work following the example of Hon. Mrs. Richard Norton, who runs a film theatre. Miss Zita Jungmann and Lady Eleanor Smith are among several who earn a good salary with their pens. Viscountess Falkland has the reputation of being a clever dressmaker at her shop in Knightsbridge.

SAYS COMMONWEALTH OF NATIONS NOT THE BRITISH EMPIRE

(Victoria Times)

Apparently the Toronto Telegram has been worried for some time because Mr. Mackenzie King seems to use the expression "British Commonwealth of Nations" instead of "the British Empire." The Canadian Prime Minister will not agitate himself about the Telegram's opinion as to what it thinks is the right term to use. This is the reason: "I shall follow with interest and sympathy your discussions of those important questions which will come before you, and the settlement of which, I trust will promote the unity and greatness of the Commonwealth of British Nations."

The Toronto Telegram had better haul King George over the coals for alluding to the "Commonwealth of British Nations" and not to "the British Empire." For the above is an extract from His Majesty's own message to the Imperial Conference.

HIGH SCHOOL HEARS ABOUT JOURNALISM

ADDRESS GIVEN TO LITERARY SOCIETY AT HIGH SCHOOL YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Yesterday afternoon the High School Literary Society was addressed by H. F. Pullen, managing editor of the Daily News, on the subject of "Newspaper Making." The speaker explained that a newspaper was a commercial undertaking and had to pay its way else it went out of business. There was no magic way in which it could be kept going except by having the income equal or exceed the expenditures. It was operated primarily for the purpose of making profits for the shareholders, although those profits were usually meagre.

Mr. Pullen explained that there were really three distinct types or professions connected with the issuing of a newspaper. There was the mechanical department operated usually under the Typographical Union, the business department which included advertising, accounting and circulation, and the third department was the editorial department, in which the speaker was more particularly interested.

REWARDS SMALL

Telling more particularly of the work of the editorial department, Mr. Pullen explained that it was work in which the hours were long and the rewards small and a person going into it must be prepared to get a good deal of abuse. However the satisfaction was great if a person was interested in public service. Opportunities occurred there which were not seen in many other walks of life, for making suggestions and urging improvements or reforms which might benefit the community.

One of the first things a young reporter was told was that he must be accurate. It was the aim of all newspapers but often the results seemed to indicate otherwise. The speaker explained many of the problems connected with the work and how they were overcome. He told the students that everything had to be done very rapidly and there was little time for consideration or revision. The surprise was that there were not more mistakes made, under these circumstances.

One of the difficulties in gathering news, it was explained, was to get people to tell things correctly. Naturally most of the reports appearing in newspapers had to be secured from other people and those people, not being trained to observe, often did not see things as they really were. The result was that the newspapers were blamed for inaccuracy.

NEWS COLLECTING

The work of the Canadian Press in collecting news and forwarding it by telegraph was mentioned. For Prince Rupert the selection of telegraphic news was made at Vancouver, and the newspapers here were dependent on the selection of the men in the office at Vancouver. The cost of these despatches was large.

The speaker urged young people not to take up newspaper work unless prepared to work hard for little pay, but to those who liked it, the interest in its constant variations was so great that it became play and not work.

BLATCHFORD SHOWS VALUE OF WESTERN ROUTE TO SHIPPERS

Would Have More Grain Cleaned at Edmonton and Less at Fort William

EDMONTON, Nov. 5.—Congestion of the grain movement would be removed by greater use of such interior elevators as the one at Edmonton which was built for this purpose, said Mayor Blatchford in commenting upon the present situation. He also points out that after grain is taken into these interior houses, it is treated and ready to be shipped while the storage rates are considerably less than what are in effect at Fort William, Port Arthur or Vancouver.

"There should be no question of any congestion when these elevators are able to take in grain," says the mayor. "If the terminal facilities become congested, the interior terminals would be brought into service, thus relieving the railway cars and keeping the grain in desirable positions for handling on short notice."

Handling of screenings is also an important question for Alberta producers says the mayor. He says that at the present time the price paid for farmers dockage or screenings at Vancouver is $9 per ton whereas in Port William or Port Arthur the amount is only $3 per ton. In regard to Edmonton, it is advantageous to have as much grain cleaned here as possible. According to a return made to parliament on April 22, the local elevator disposed of 318 tons of screenings and the average price to the elevator was $14.10 per ton. This is apparently a better market than Vancouver and when one takes into account the saving on the freight rate of $4.20 from Edmonton to Vancouver, it would be equal to a price in Edmonton of $18.30 per ton to the farmer, as against $3 he receives when he ships to Fort William, says the mayor.

OPTIMISM REGARD TO HUDSON BAY ROUTE

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—Construction work is progressing favorably on the Hudson Bay Railway, and road operations will be continued as long as weather conditions will permit this winter. John Horton, representative of the On-to-the-Bay Association, declared on his return from a six-weeks' trip to Port Nelson and the northland. New ties have been laid along the line right up to the end of steel, he said.

Mr. Horton brought back with him samples of grain, vegetables and small fruit grown in the northern areas. He expressed the opinion that the territory traversed by the railway could be transformed into a thriving farming community. At the present time, however, he believed it would be advisable to concentrate on the development of the mineral and timber resources.

Mr. Horton said he had been informed by reliable authorities that the Nelson

GOOD PROGRESS OF THRESHING IN ALBERTA

C.P.R. Report Says 90 Per Cent of Work Completed in Alberta

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—The weather and crop report of the Canadian Pacific railway states that snow and rain on Friday last, and again Sunday caused entire suspension of threshing operations in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and at least two or three days of good weather will be required before stocks are in shape for resumption of work. Except for light snow flurries in scattered districts on Calgary and Edmonton divisions, which caused slight interruption, threshing made good progress in Alberta. At present in Manitoba 80 to 85 per cent of wheat, and 80 per cent of coarse grains have been threshed; Saskatchewan 90 per cent of wheat and 85 to 90 of other grains; Alberta, 90 per cent of wheat and about same percentage of coarse grains.

One week of good weather should be sufficient to enable completion of threshing throughout the west, and if this materializes there is no doubt that most of the grain which still remains to be threshed will prove to be in much better shape than seemed possible earlier in the season.

The matter of seed oats for next year, more particularly in Alberta, is one of some concern, as much of the oats appear to have lost considerable vitality as this crop suffered greater depreciation than wheat. Fall plowing varies considerably in percentage accomplished in individual districts. In Manitoba approximately 30 per cent of plowing is done, Saskatchewan 25 to 30 per cent and Alberta 25 per cent. The comparatively small amount of land prepared is, of course, due to the backward threshing conditions which hindered this and other field work, but there is still the chance that much plowing will yet be accomplished through frosty nights will probably interfere to some extent. A satisfactory feature is the large amount of moisture stored away, and the soil in this respect is in much better condition than usual.

COLD CLIMATE CLOVER PLANT IS PRODUCED

PROFESSOR KIRK OF SASKATCHEWAN UNIVERSITY UNDER RUTHERFORD MAKES DISCOVERY

SASKATOON, Nov. 5.—Scientific agriculturists throughout Canada and the United States are now following with keen interest research work now proceeding at the University of Saskatchewan into the production of a forage plant which apparently combines Arctic sweet clover and alfalfa, and eliminates the disadvantages of each.

The research work began when Prof. L. E. Kirk in charge of a forage crop work in the university's field husbandry department, discovered in a plot of Arctic sweet clover a number of strange plants, bearing evidence of being the result of a cross between Arctic and alfalfa. This was in 1924 and since that time the work has been progressing very quickly.

CAUSE FOR OPTIMISM

It will be a long time yet before any definite announcement can be made regarding the values of the new plant, but agricultural authorities at the university find some cause for optimism in the result of their research to date.

The far-reaching importance of the discovery is explained by Dean W. J. Rutherford, head of the Saskatchewan Agricultural College.

From year to year as the prairie soil is being used for wheat production, the nitrogen contents of the soil, without which wheat production is a practical impossibility, is becoming more and more depleted. As Dean Rutherford explains it, part of the nitrogen of the prairie soil is annually shipped east with the wheat.

Unless the nitrogen can be replaced, the great wheat producing areas of western Canada and the United States, will eventually reach the stage where wheat can no longer be grown. Leguminous plants have been enlisted by the scientific agriculturists to replace the lost nitrogen. Sweet clover and alfalfa, the supposed parents of the new plant, are both legumes. Both can give back to the soil the precious nitrogen taken away by the wheat crops.

An entirely new avenue is opened through the discovery of the plant and the progress made in the field of research to date. Whether the end of the avenue finds agriculture immeasurably benefited, cannot yet be conjectured.

"If we can isolate a plant which is a biennial, as clover is, and which possesses the good qualities of alfalfa, it would be very valuable, not only from a scientific but from an economic point of view," Dean Rutherford asserted.

LIKE AMERICANS FOR PRAIRIE FARMERS

Harmful Impressions Must be Removed to Induce Farmers to Come

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—The mid-western states are among the fertile sources for prospective settlers for western Canada, in the opinion of Colin G. Groff, publicity director of the province of Alberta. He has just completed a tour around the southern exhibition circuit.

Nebraska, Iowa and other mid-western states, he said, had a large quota of farmers who were anxious to move to Canada where they were being attracted by cheap lands, low taxes and high productivity. Mr. Groff intimated that a number of prospective settlers would visit Alberta and other points on the prairies next spring to ascertain the possibilities of farming in Canada as compared with the United States.

According to Mr. Groff there is still a great deal of misunderstanding about Canada among the United States farmers. Before there is any extensive influx of settlers from the south, these harmful impressions must be removed, he said.

MAGGIE GREEN OF AMERIKEY WAS FOUND

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—People in Ireland frequently have a hazy notion of the United States, especially of distances.

Dr. W. L. Northbridge of Belfast, who was here making friends for the Irish-American Methodist Memorial church in the Ulster capital, tells this story:

"The last Sunday night I preached in Belfast before starting for this country. I stated in a polite way that if any of my hearers had friends in America and would give me the address I would look them up—if possible. Among others was one old saint, and she said, 'If you happen to see Maggie Green in Amerikay give her my best wishes.' That was the only address—Maggie Green, Amerikay.

"I thought this was good enough to tell, and some weeks later when I was preaching over the radio I told it. The next day I had a visitor, and who was it but Maggie Green, formerly of Belfast, who happened to be listening in."

PROGRESSIVES ARE NOT ABSORBED BY LIBERALS

(Edmonton Journal)

Many Saskatchewan Progressives joined hands with the Liberals at the federal election and it has been assumed that the absorption of the former by the latter would soon be as complete in that province as it is in Manitoba. But a campaign now in progress does not give much support to this view. A byelection is to be held in Kerrobert on November 9, which was made necessary by the resignation of the former Liberal representative in the legislature to contest a federal seat. The Progressive organization is making a strong effort to capture the riding and among those who are aiding its candidate is the recently elected U.F.A. member for Weasikwin, William Irvine. He is also receiving support from John Evans, who carried a Saskatchewan seat in September and has been listed as a Liberal-Progressive.

R. E. Allen, district forester, sailed last night on the Prince George for Ocean Falls on official business.
