NORTHERN FARMERS AND THE RAILWAYS

Question of Disposition of E.D. & B.C. Still Being Discussed in Peace Country

A special despatch to the Edmonton Bulletin from Beaver Lodge says:

Northern Alberta sees in the mooted operation of the E.D. & B.C. railway by the province of Alberta Conservative domination of the former government by Hon. V. W. Smith and Hon. George Hoadley.

More detailed stories regarding the attempt of the provincial minister of railways to barter the northern system on condition that Alberta Progressives wreck the King government, keep filtering in from a reliable source and lend color to the expressed fear that a far-reaching conspiracy between prominent U.F.A. cabinet ministers and certain line Tories is afoot to land the Conservative party in power in this province.

Old-timers recall the virulent criticism of the minister of agriculture directed against the Peace River country and the E.D. & B.C. and which finally resulted in the collapse of negotiations designed to fuse the Alberta roads with the C.N.R. system in 1917. They affirm that Mr. Hoadley, although active in U.F.A. circles, has never had a change of heart on this issue.

It is evident that the north country will seek a showdown on the whole railway situation at the present session of the Alberta Legislature.

CHIEF JUSTICE GRANTS ORDER

Gives Man $50 a Month From Deceased Wife's Estate When Cut off With Dollar

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20.—The "average woman" is lucky if she never gets more than one crack from her husband," said Chief Justice Hunter today in granting a $50 a month allowance to James Dickie, whose deceased wife, a Vancouver miller, left him with only $1.00 out of an $18,000 estate. The executors of the estate opposed the application of Dickie who said he was destitute. The grounds he assumed for his wife's action was because he was named co-respondent in a divorce case in 1910.

"I am not going to throw him out on the street if she supported him for 16 years in spite of this misconduct," said the Chief Justice.

DAILY EDITION Saturday, Feb. 20, 1926.

Secession Is Not Feasible Proposal.

Secession is being spoken of in Nova Scotia, not as a real issue, but for the purpose of venting a grievance against the rest of the Dominion. Nova Scotia has been in the habit of getting everything it wants and much more than its share of public expenditures. All they had to do in the past was to ask for something and the request was as effective as the rubbing of the lamp to Aladdin. Now things are different. The eastern maritimes are required to share more equally with the rest of the Dominion and they do not like it.

The chief grievance today is because the Canadian National will not reduce its grain rates to Halifax and St. John to a figure that will give an opportunity to compete with the American and Canadian ports about half the distance away from the producing centres. We all want to see the Canadian ports get the business but if the grain is carried below cost it means that the rest of Canada has to pay the bill. It is a bonus given by the rest of Canada to St. John and Halifax.

All We Ask Here Is Equality.

Compare this position with the position of British Columbia. All this maritime province asks is that ports here shall be placed on an equality with eastern ports. We ask no special favors but just an even break. We claim that the way to keep grain from being shipped through American ports is not to carry it a thousand miles farther by rail to the Eastern ports but to ship it out by Vancouver and Prince Rupert. Give us mile for mile the same rate as is given the east and we can do the business. We shall handle all the Alberta grain and much of the Saskatchewan product.

Wonderful Improvement In Phonographs.

There is a wonderful development going on in musical reproduction by what is known generally as the phonograph. Several makers are competing for supremacy in the field and the results are a great advancement in mechanical reproduction of music. So nearly perfect are the results that they bid fair to put the mechanical piano players out of business altogether.

The result of the changes should be a large increase in the number of reproducing instruments sold and also in the number of records. The improvement has been in both records and instruments.

Failure Of Snow Motors In North.

Apparently the snow motors in the north have been a failure. The Wilkins supply expedition banked on using them to get their supplies to Point Barrow but without results. Even on the smooth surface of the frozen river they have failed and they do not promise well for the overland trip of nearly seven hundred miles through the frozen wild country. Apparently some other means of carrying the supplies must be found.

Making Self Useful Step To Advancement.

Many boys and young men are always ready to make themselves useful. They do not stand on their dignity but put their hands to anything that is needed. Such lads are seldom let out when a time of stress comes. Efforts are made to keep them. They cannot be spared. Those who do not make themselves generally useful, however, are not so valuable and are the first to go when the staff has to be cut. This is true in all business houses. In this country we cannot afford to be too particular as to the work we undertake.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

says: "A man of the great open spaces" is the dentist.

NOW that a divorce may be obtained in South Africa, for thirteen shillings, a considerable exodus may be expected to that country from eastern Canada.

REV. H. R. Grant, formerly of this city, joined the curling club at Fort William and very soon afterwards admitted nearly 100 new members to his congregation. Apparently curling is some kind of religion.

SINCE Badminton has been played in the Cathedral hall, it is said more interest is being taken in Anglican church work.

SOME false prophet says the end of bobbed hair is in sight. And perhaps he was correct at that.

I AM thinking how much better off I should be if there were not so many good causes in Prince Rupert.

I KNOW a man who thinks he does nothing else but work all day and night, but fails to impress his neighbors with the fact.

C.N.R. steamer Prince Charles, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands at 8:30 last evening and will return south over the same route at 8 o'clock tonight. The genial skipper and his popular officers reported a rough passage north especially so while coming up from the south to the north end of the Islands. However, they are used to that kind of thing now and old man Neptune holds no terrors for them. The vessel made a new call this trip at Blunden Harbor, off Queen Charlotte Sound, south of Allison Harbor, where the Blunden Harbor Logging Co., a syndicate of ex-army officers, has opened a new camp. The Charles, which brought a light passenger list and freight cargo to this port, was at the elevator this morning taking on some of the Carter-Halls-Aldinger Co. equipment which is being removed from here now that the elevator contract is finished.

Always a blessing at the Army.

Company offer is rejected by fishermen---shortage of fresh bait---some troubles of halibut fleet

Members of the Deepsea Fishermen's Union voting in Prince Rupert, Seattle and Ketchikan on Thursday afternoon of this week rejected a proposed scale of 3c per pound for halibut and 2c for black cod offered by the New England Fish Co. as remuneration for services on boats operating on the company lay. The Prince Rupert vote was 25 to 4 against.

While the offer on which the fishermen voted was submitted by the New England Fish Co., which stated that it proposed to operate the trawler New England this season but was not prepared to pay any more than 3c and 2c, it was regarded as a general test of the Union's feeling on the question. No doubt other companies were watching the way the vote went and, if the fishermen had accepted the offer, it is believed that it might have resulted in the Canadian Fish & Gold Storage Co. here operating its trawlers again in the halibut fisheries this season, perhaps not quite so active as the past as Pete in the fishing game but quite as well known.

The fishermen took the view that the 3c and 2c was not adequate. Last year fishermen on the New England are said to have averaged $1900 working on a 3 1/2c-2 1/2c scale, the one that prevailed on the local trawlers when they were last operated in halibut fishing in 1924.

In the meantime, the result of this latest vote makes it look as if there may be no boats operated at all this year on the company lay. The fishermen feel that they cannot accept the 3c-2c scale and, on the other hand, the companies feel that they cannot afford to pay more, especially in view of the fact that the production of the independent boats is ever increasing, this having the tendency to lower prices offered on the Exchange. There is a certain amount of gamble attached to the question which may work either way. If the boats, operating independently, can obtain fair or high prices the fishermen will be better off through not having accepted the offer. On the other hand, should prices drop very often to the 6c and 3c level on the Exchange, the fishermen might be better off working on the company boats for 3c per pound. It is also to be taken into consideration that, when they are working on the latter basis, they are not taking chances of going in the hole on operations.

With the exception of possibly half-a-dozen boats that may still be in port today, all the schooners of the local halibut fleet, large and small, are now out on their first trips following the lifting of the halibut close season of the past three months on Monday last. Though it was thought that an odd small boat or so might arrive with the first fresh halibut of the season by the end of this week, there will probably be no quantity of fish in until the middle of next week and it will likely be next Friday or Saturday before the first of the larger schooners arrives.

With the run of herring having not yet started, the halibut boats have so far been unable to obtain fresh bait so the most of them are now out tempting the succulent and hungry halibut with the frozen variety. Some of the boats seem to be rather partial to fresh bait and the desire to obtain this may have caused some delays in getting to the banks. The schooner Ingrid H., owned by Charles Lindquist and Fred Lindquist, for instance, returned to port on Thursday because it was unable to obtain fresh bait. There is plenty of frozen bait on hand here from last year.

Sea Maid's Plight
The schooner Sea Maid, belonging to the Dorren family of this city and captained by Fred Walters, has had a discouraging start this season. While proceeding last week to western Alaska in order to get to the banks as soon as the season opened, the vessel sustained a broken crank shaft and is now lying crippled in Anchorage. Due to the fact that it is necessary to send East for a new shaft, it may be a month or six weeks before the vessel will be able to start fishing and a cost of perhaps $4000 will be involved.

In the departure of Capt. Pete Borvik, for Barkley Sound, Vancouver Island, where he has become interested with the N.M. &

R. Fish Co., of which he is a principal, in a fish reduction plant, the northern district loses one of its best known pioneers fishermen and navigators. His many friends will wish Pete the best of luck in his new venture and will hope that the time may not be far removed when he is operating in George Macdonald, who thought the halibut fisheries this season, perhaps not quite so active as the past as Pete in the fishing game but quite as well known, may return north. It is said to be not beyond the realm of possibility that, if their venture is successful in the south, the Neville-Macdonald-Borvik interests may branch out into this district again in that line of activity.

The former forestry boat Leila R., which has been undergoing a thorough renovation at the hands of her new owners, the Prince Rupert Boat House, will be running again in about ten days' time it is expected. The new engine for the boat, which was formerly in the Grier Starrett, has been put in place and deck work is now proceeding apace. It is not yet decided what the new name of the vessel will be. Capt. Swanson says that he wants to get her in running shape before he worries much about a name.

Jim's Trunks Arrive
Jim Lee, the genial manager of the Alin Fisheries, who has been spending the winter in Scotland, is expected home next week. His trunks are already home and many of Jim's friends are impatiently awaiting his return with the keys so they may see if they contain anything interesting.

Capt. Claude Ketchum made a trip to Onah River the end of last week taking over the gasoline engine which was sold to the Hodland interests there by the Prince Rupert Boat House and which will be used as the motive power for their new portable sawmill.

Capt. "Handsome" Jim Morrison, now of the Bushby towboat fleet, has sold his halibut schooner Gaygeon to Dominic Marra and John Wiek. The latter will skipper the vessel when she leaves for the halibut banks early next week following an overhaul which is now in progress at the McLean ways.

Capt. Chris Hendricksen, new owner of the halibut schooner Gibson which he purchased last fall from Herman Newell, is another who is having his share of tribulations these days and whose hopes of an early departure for the halibut banks have been shattered. While repairs were being made to the Gibson's engine a few weeks ago, it was found that her crankshaft was broken. A new shaft was brought from Oakland and, when it arrived last week, it was found that

A Pimply Face Is Unsightly

Miss C. C. M. Smart, South Battleford, Sask., writes: "A while ago I was troubled with facial blemishes, especially pimples, and was really ashamed to go out with such a bad looking face."

I tried 2 or 3 different remedies, but they didn't help me any, so one day a friend, who had been troubled the same as I was, advised me to use it did not fit. This has necessitated the sending for another and it will probably be three weeks or so before this arrives, is fitted and the Gibson will be allowed to get away on the halibut quest. Capt. Hendricksen says that troubles never come singly in his direction—they are always double headers.

After I had taken two bottles there wasn't a pimple of any kind left on my face, and I now have a clear, smooth and velvety complexion. Put up only by The T. Muburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The lighthouse tender Newington, Capt. Harry Ormiston, left on Tuesday of this week on a ten day trip to Ivory Island and other points in the Millbank Sound neighborhood. The Birnie made a trip the latter part of this week to Banks and Lucy Islands.

After having spent the winter in Nova Scotia, Capt. Peter Meuse returned to the city during the past week. Pete last year was with Merritt Sollows on the Ring-leader but, when he left the city last fall, it was his intention to remain in the East. His place on the Ringleader was, therefore, filled and now Pete, who is a fisherman and navigator of no mean repute, is looking for a berth.

Charlie Raitt and Harold Anderson got away last week on board the power boat Kayex, recently bought by Anderson from Jack Prescott, for the Queen Charlotte Islands where they will be engaged in hand logging. The party which consisted of some seven men, will probably be away by year.

Charlie Starr, the popular manager of the Pacific Fisheries, is home again after his adventures on an automobile trip from Seattle to Florida followed by a visitation to the seductive isle of Cuba. The Whiff man on Thursday afternoon sought an exclusive interview from Charlie on his trip for these columns but that was just after the Rotary Club luncheon where Charlie apparently falked himself dry and hoarse. So if you want to get his official record of the experiences of a wild and woolly northwesterner at large—in the staid and sunny south, we would refer you to yesterday's Daily News where said record was given in full.

Salmon Prospecting

Capt. Kohr, well known skipper of the trolling boat Bonito, plans leaving about the middle of March for the southwest end of Queen Charlotte Islands to prospect for salmon grounds. Capt. Nick Nelson of the Halvoren, Capt. Lund of the Dundas and Capt. Sorenson on the Jennie will probably accompany him to see that he behaves himself and incidentally does not get exclusive rights on anything that may be of exceptional value. If things turn out the way he expects them to, Capt. Kohr will use the Bonito to pack salmon to this port. In readiness for the season's operations, the Bonito has been undergoing a good deal of going over lately including the installation of a new automatic salmon gurdy.

Flewin & Brown's powerboat Taplow was in port from Port Simpson at the end of this week undergoing some touching up at the McLean ways preparatory to the starting of the salmon trolling season. The Flewin & Brown trolling camp at Warke Island will be reopened in about ten days' time.

The halibut schooner White Lily is at the McLean ways for recaulking and other repairs before setting out about the first of next week for the fishing grounds.

The trolling boat Elida, belonging to the estate of the late John Oland of Lewis Island, who died in the city last month, was sold this week by John Dybhavu to R. E. Hudson who will use the vessel this season in trolling work in which he was formerly engaged. The Elida, which is a staunch little vessel in good condition, is 32 feet long, has a 9' 6" beam and a three foot hold. She is powered with an 8 h.p. Imperial engine.

The halibut schooner Alu returned to port on Thursday afternoon on account of the illness of her skipper, Capt. William Bussey, who is now under the doctor's care at his residence, 1136 Second Avenue. The Alu put out for the banks again yesterday in command of Capt. Chris Hendricksen, formerly of the Alliance No. 1, and now owner of the schooner Gibson which is laid up in port awaiting the arrival of a new chank shaft.

Union steamer Catala was in port from the south at midnight last night and, after making her calls at Anyox and the Naas River today, will be back again tonight southbound. Capt. J. A. Findlay is at present on the bridge of the Catala relieving Capt. Andy Johnstone who is ashore in Vancouver on holidays.

Arthur Graves, the well known purser of the steamer Princess Beatrice, who has been holding down the office on the Princess Ena recently and who since he was last here has assumed the title of Count de Graves, will grace the city with his presence for the next week or so having arrived this morning to relieve in the local C.P.R. office while Wallace Orchard makes a trip next week to the Portland Canal region.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Beatrice, with her lengthy skipper, Tom Cliffe on the bridge, arrived from the south at 10 o'clock this morning and returned south at noon.

Answers to Questions Give Insight in Working of Youthful Minds

JAPANESE ALSO ANSWER

Aims of Boys and Their Authors and Heroes Brought out in Query
Some interesting answers from the boys of New Zealand, South Africa, and Japan have just come to hand in connexion with the inquiry which has been started by the Y.M.C.A. World's Committee throughout the 58 countries in which the organization is at work. A statement issued by the Y.M.C.A. contains the following:
The question "Who are the most important men in the world?" has aroused wide interest among the New Zealand boys, whose answers show a marked preference for the outstanding men of the Empire. On most papers appear the names of King George and the Prince of Wales, and also that of Henry Ford. Others of British nationality include Mr. Baldwin, the Prime Minister of New Zealand, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, Ramsay MacDonald, Admiral Jellicoe and the Archbishop of Canterbury. The only writer who receives mention is Rudyard Kipling. The boys, however, have many other heroes, such as General Foch, the Pope, Marconi, Gandhi, Amundsen, Mussolini, Hindenburg, Paderewski, Kreisler, and President Coolidge.

Conversation
In the answers to the question "What are the chief subjects of conversation among you and your friends?" sport comes easily first. Other subjects mentioned are politics, motors, picture shows, schools, women and girls, clubs, religion, school masters. The great majority of the New Zealand boys regard their parent as the most important good influence on their lives up to the mentioned are sports, school, an church.
New Zealand boys under 16 include the following among their favorite books: "Robin Hood," "Robinson Crusoe," "Goral Islands," "Black Arrow," "Tom Brown's School-days," "Gulliver's Travels," "Treasure Island," "David Copperfield," "Westward Ho!" and "Pilgrim's Progress."
The question "How do boys treat foreigners?" brought the following among other answers: "With little respect," "Sometimes good, sometimes bad," "Treat them rough," "Treat

"Burning the Candle At Both Ends"

THERE is an old saying about "burning the candle at both ends" which seems to apply to modern life.
How is a girl or boy, or man or woman to enjoy social life to the limit, keep up their daily work and escape a breakdown of health.
The nervous system will not stand the strain. There is too short a time for recuperation, too little rest and sleep. The energy consumed in daily activity is not replaced—bankruptcy is sure.
You find yourself nervous, irritable and sleepless. You are worried, have nervous headaches and spells of drowsiness.

A restorative is necessary and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food exactly fills the bill. Most women and many men know this from personal experience and use it as occasion arises.
Prevention is by far the wiser plan with disorders of the nerves. By using this great restorative at the first indication of trouble you avoid a physical breakdown and weeks of tedious treatment. Keep the vitality at high water mark and you will know the joys of healthful living.

Football and Marriage
As to what else beside war might develop qualities which come out in war, some of the replies are: "International campaigns," "Famine," "Sports," and "Politics and arguments," while one boy (who in the rest of his paper shows no intention of being humorous) answers "Football and marriage."

TEACHERS RESIGN ON MATTER OF PRINCIPLE

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., Feb. 20.—The East Pictou Local Council of Women tried to help the situation in the high school here, requesting the school board to reconsider its attitude in the best interests of the school, and give Miss Clara Murray more support in her disciplining of a pupil. Miss Murray is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray, New Glasgow, and a graduate in Arts from Dalhousie University, where she was a member of the debating team. The boy, 18, according to Miss Murray's story was insolent; the board suggested an apology, but Miss Murray insisted on some disciplining as well.
Four other members of the High School staff, including the principal, also stated that this decision of the board was unsatisfactory to them, because of the detrimental effect on the discipline of the school should it be known that the school board did not support the teachers. This, however, did not alter the decision of the board, and resignations of the teachers followed. Miss Murray writes in the Halifax Herald: "To me it seems an appalling thing that a town's education department should value so lightly the services of a handful of its citizens who are willing to sacrifice position and a half year's salary when principle, self respect and dignity are at stake."

OBSCENE LANGUAGE
As a result of an altercation which took place at noon yesterday on Second Avenue, Joseph Sigmund and William Goldbloom were principals in a city police court case this morning when the latter charged the former with using obscene language. The matter developed into a case of one man's word against another's, so Magistrate McClymont gave the accused the benefit of the doubt and dismissed the charge.

Japanese Answers
A more detailed report comes from Japan, where the question "What three great men have exerted the greatest influence in the world?" has been answered by over 600 boys, and no fewer than 83 different names are included in their lists. The seven who are mentioned most often in these lists are as follows:—Christ, 400; Buddha, 249; Confucius, 185; Napoleon, 96; Meiji Tenno, 81; Kaiser Wilhelm, 71; and Thomas Edison, 64. Others receiving more than 20 "votes" are:—Edward Jenner, Stephenson the inventor, Abraham Lincoln, Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, Socrates, Columbus and Nogi. The majority of these Japanese boys, in answer to another question, place the white race as superior both to the yellow and the black.

Japanese boys who wish to work for their country during the next ten years gave the following reasons:—"To make the country great"; "To help return the foreign debt"; "To help settle foreign questions"; "To help in agriculture"; and "To help her recover from the effects of the earthquake." Three boys affirm that they intend to spend their time preparing for a Japan-American war. A large number of Japanese boys urge greater social mingling between the sexes, but some add such words as these:—"Without the bad influence which has recently come from the west."

Tale of a Tub

George Clelland is suffering from a severe catch in the back which he sustained while lifting a tub of water. George had the tub lifted up in midair when a catch in his back would permit him to neither put the tub down or raise it higher, and ever since he has not been able to straighten up.—Personal item in a California paper.

Reginald Denny

Oh Doctor!
"An outrageously funny comedy of pills and pills with Reginald as a sick man who had nothing the matter with him. Doctor Weiskrak says the best medicine for a sick man is a pretty nurse—he is sure to get well. Especially a man with a strong heart—it helps to weaken it. Reggie's nurse sure was pretty and she cured him with a spoon. He tried in two days to get the thrills he had missed in twenty years. He rode his speedster through a fence, skidded head-first into the curb on his motorbike and climbed to the top of the flagpole on the tallest skyscraper in the city and all because he was in love. You'll have temperature when you finish seeing it for it is the funniest story Harry Leon Wilson ever wrote. Rousing laughs. Gasping thrills! Absorbing romance! Noted cast!"
