CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONERS RESIGNED

DANGER OF COAL STRIKE IN GREAT BRITAIN COMMENCING AT MIDNIGHT

Civil Service Commissioners Who Received Consignments of Liquor from Inspector Resign

Premier Mackenzie King suggested that they should take this action pending report of customs investigating committee

OTTAWA, April 30.—Revelations before the parliamentary committee investigating the administration of the customs department resulted in the resignation on the suggestion of the premier of two members of the civil service commission, Clarence Jameson and M. C. LaRoche, who submitted their resignations to Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King last night.

The resignation of the two members contained two brief letters which the commissioners sent to the premier. Jameson stated that in the discharge of his official duties he had not been in any way influenced by the occurrences referred to before the committee. He felt, however, the incidents referred to would be subject of such misconception and comment as to impair his usefulness as a member of the civil service commission.

"I have scrupulously accomplished my duty for nearly eighteen years and my conscience is absolutely clear," LaRoche states in his letter.

Evidence submitted before the committee was that R. H. Clark, inspector of customs at Montreal, forwarded consignments of liquor to Messrs. Jameson and LaRoche.

Prior to the announcement of the resignations, Premier King informed the Canadian press he suggested to Jameson and LaRoche the advisability of their asking to be relieved of their duties of office pending the report of the customs investigating committee of the House. The premier stated that when he learned of the disclosures before the committee, he considered it his duty to interview them Tuesday afternoon and advise that they ask to be relieved of their duties pending the report of the committee.

The greatest thing in front of them, the governor said, was unity. Unity of Canada, he said, was coming, not perhaps by leaps and bounds, but by steady recognizable progress. He saw coming both east and west, saw coming between French and English, because they could not exist without each other.

They were of a very primitive type and neither had even seen before cows, cats, chickens or eggs. The sight of these objects, the officers report, aroused great interest in the pair of natives.

Proposal to Eliminate Fishing Licenses to All Orientals in Province Within Next 10 Years

OTTAWA, April 30.—Orientals will be unable to obtain salmon and cod fishing licenses on the Pacific coast after 1937 if the resolution passed yesterday by the Marine and Fisheries Committee, of which Fred Stork is chairman, is put into effect by the government.

The resolution was introduced by Neill of Comox-Alberni and approved in an amended form. The original resolution proposed that the issuance of licenses should terminate in six years. It is now recommended that a cut be made at the beginning issued in 1926, so that elimination of 1937 of ten per cent in each year will be completed with ten succeeding years of the number years.

Strike in Britain Likely to Begin at Midnight Unless Efforts to Settle Successful

LONDON, April 30.—It looks very much as if there would be a strike of miners in this country with possible tie-up of transportation and industries, unless the wiser heads of both sides are successful this afternoon in reaching an agreement.

The miners today rejected a revised offer from the mine owners in an effort to settle the wage dispute.

The cabinet considered the matter at a special meeting and it was reported that negotiations might be reopened.

King George returned to Buckingham Palace from Windsor and it is understood there was a meeting of the privy council following his arrival.

The government food control board is considering what action will be necessary to insure the feeding of the population in the event of a general strike at midnight when the miners' agreement terminates.

Tax Exemption Bylaw Passes with Only Ten Votes Cast Against It

Agreement has already been signed by Wheat Pool and probably by Government and elevator will be operated to capacity

Only ten people voted against the bylaw granting freedom from taxation to the Canadian Grain Producers Limited on the grain elevator for ten years if they continue to lease or operate it for that length of time. Sixty per cent of the vote was required but the vote was almost unanimous, there being 347 for it and 10 against, with 6 spoiled ballots.

Last Monday Douglas Stork of this city received a letter from his father Fred Stork, member for this district at Ottawa, written from the capital a week earlier, in which he said that the lease agreement had already been signed by the Wheat Pool and been received from them and the government was expected to sign it the following day.

The Pool has taken the elevator on lease for two years with an option to purchase at the end of that time. As wheat can be shipped through this port cheaper than through any other, provided other facilities are the same, it is understood it is the intention of the Pool to operate the house to capacity and there is even talk of more elevators going up.

The street surfacing bylaw was carried by a good majority so that work will be able to proceed immediately. The vote was very light owing partly to the weather conditions. The detail of the votes follows:

- Elevator Bylaw
For 347, against 10, spoiled ballots 6. Number of votes required 215, majority 132.
- Street Surfacing Bylaw
For 285, against 74, spoiled 4. Number required 216, majority 69.

Swimming Club Off To A Good Start.

The swimming club is off to a good start and expects to make a record this year. The Salt Lakes Park is to be popularized and made more suitable for children to learn to swim. There is a good list of officers elected and all that seems necessary now is proper public support.

The Salt Lakes Park is one of Prince Rupert's greatest assets. It is a picturesque place and every effort should be made to have its beauty retained. Doubtless in time the land across the harbor will be surveyed and a road at or near the shore will be built so that there will then be plenty of places for cottages. In the meantime the Parks Board is making no objection to cottages going on park property as long as they do not destroy the beauty of the place or become a nuisance.

More interest is being taken in the district surrounding the city than ever before, caused doubtless by the tendency of the city to keep pace with the march of modern civilization.

Prohibition in United States.

The little magazine "Overseas" published in England has an article on Prohibition in the United States which seems very fair in its view. It says:

Two Englishmen, a parson and a commercial traveller, returning from America, exchanged experiences on shipboard. "All the time I was in America," said the parson, "I never saw any one drink, and I was never offered a drink." "That's very extraordinary," said the commercial traveller, "for in every place in America that I visited I was offered all the drink that I wanted."

Both men spoke quite honestly according to what they had seen. The one was coming home to proclaim the success of Prohibition, the other to scoff at it as a mere pretence. No wonder that the stay-at-home Englishman asks himself what is the real truth about this matter.

There are two sides to the Prohibition question. It has caused a great increase in lawlessness and corruption; it has given rise to a vast semi-organized illicit traffic which has acquired enormous wealth, and is a menace to the State; and for much comparatively harmless liquor it has substituted a smaller quantity of crude abominable "moonshine," dangerous to health and even sometimes to life. But at the same time it has materially decreased poverty, added to the efficiency of labor, and bettered the lot of many.

I am neither parson nor "drummer," and have seen something of both sides. I was in New York in July, 1919, when National Prohibition was first introduced under war legislation. Leaving soon afterwards, I returned in 1925, on business that took me all over the country—except the Pacific coast—from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico. My American friends include all classes, from world-famous multi-millionaires to village mechanics, and from police captains to "movie" stars. Of course, we all discussed Prohibition. It is the one unceasing and universal topic of interest in America, in palace and in county jail alike.

How Prohibition Came Into Being.

First let me explain, for those English readers who do not closely follow American affairs, how Prohibition came. In the United States each state has power to pass legislation for its own internal affairs, while the central government passes federal legislation that affects the country as a whole. In 1917, when the drive for National Prohibition began, sixteen states, mainly in the west, middle-west and south, had already adopted local Prohibition. The Federal Congress, in 1917, carried an amendment to the National Constitution (the world-famous eighteenth amendment) prohibiting the manufacture, transportation or sale of intoxicating liquors within the United States for beverage purposes. This had to be approved by the legislatures of two-thirds of the states before it became law, and can only be repealed by the consent of two-thirds. By February, 1919, every state but three, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Jersey, had given its approval, and National Prohibition was declared in January, 1920. Actually, however, it came into force in July, 1919, under special legislation carried during the World War.

Congress enacted that any drink containing one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol or more is an intoxicating liquor. A special body was instituted, under a Prohibition Commissioner, to enforce the law. This had one curious result. The local police do not regard it as part of their business, as a rule, to stop drinking. "That is the Prohibition agents' job. In New York, if you want a drink, "ask the cop."

An immense illicit traffic at once sprang up. The profits were so vast that bribery could be employed on the most wholesale scale. The Prohibition official, receiving a very small salary, could obtain ten, twenty or more thousand dollars by keeping his eyes shut for a few hours. There were some good Prohibition agents, but the force soon got the reputation of being eaten through and through by bribery and corruption. There were not enough federal judges, even then, to try liquor law offenders. Last year this service was reorganized, and a fine soldier, Brigadier-General Andrews, was placed in charge. Every one expects great changes for the better, and there are signs that they are coming.

ADVANCE PARTY LOST LIVES IN RED LAKE DIST.

Country Which Had Record of Failure Until Recently is Now Hive of Industry

WINNIPEG, April 30.—While every day prospectors are pressing eagerly forward from Hudson, Ont., the mining camp at Red Lake has become a bustling hive of industry—a living memorial to the courage and enterprise of three men who lost their lives on the gold trail long before the present "rush" started.

About thirty years ago a party of prospectors, well equipped with canoes and supplies, left Kenora, Ont., at that time Rat Portage, to search for gold in the district surrounding Red Lake.

They struck north, probably to Sandy Lake, by canoe and portage, into the vast wooded wilderness, past Frenchman's Lake, Lac Seul, and Matawan River. From that time nothing was heard of them until months later meagre details reached J. R. Bunn, dominion government Indian inspector, who at the time was manager of the Hudson's Bay post at Rat Portage.

The inspector learned that the leader of the trio of adventurers had accidentally shot and killed himself while cleaning his rifle. The other two had disappeared mysteriously.

According to Mr. Bunn, they were well bred men. The one who was shot was a graduate of an English university, one was an artist, connected with a London illustrated paper, while the third was an adventurer, in search of a fortune.

"They evidently had financial backing," Mr. Bunn declared, "for they were supplied with the best outfits, and I really believe they were returning for more supplies when misfortune overtook them. I firmly believe they found gold."

"About this time," Mr. Bunn said, "reports of discovery of gold in the Red Lake area were branded as 'wild cat' and the bottom gradually fell out of the embryonic rush."

Two other prospectors believed to have lost their lives in the Red Lake district were Chris O'Kelly, V.C., and his guide. No trace was ever found of O'Kelly on the canoe which the pair had taken north was found overturned in a small stream. The body of the guide was later recovered.

LIVING WAGE FIRST OBJECT LABOR PARTY

Socialism in Our Time Ultimate Aim as Set Forth at Annual Conference

LONDON, April 30.—"Socialism in our time" was the policy laid down by the Independent Labor Party at its annual conference at Whitley Bay. This is the policy that has been discouraged by J. Ramsay MacDonald, parliamentary leader of the party.

The program as laid down at the conference sets forward as the first attainment to which Labor should direct its energies a national living wage—or in the words which now seem to find most favor, "a national living income," meaning not only adequate money wages but the development of social and educational services. One of the items in this living income is to be a children's allowance—5s. a week for every child is the figure mentioned today—to be paid to every mother by the state out of direct taxation. The clause embodying this proposal was put separately to the conference and its adoption was unanimous.

After the attainment of this living income must come the nationalisation of banking and the other drastic measures which the I.L.P. considers necessary if the community is to control not only wages but the purchasing power of those wages. And so by stages will be attained the commercial control of all industries and the winning of Socialism for this generation.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

says:

THERE'S the right side of the question and the one that has to be defended with bluster and noise.

PITY the wife! She has to live with a lout of a husband.

Are any in need of pity?

It's the wife who has to live with a lout of a husband such as you.

Who will take but has nothing to give.

Yes, so, I just pity that wife who must sit at breakfast each day

With a creature who calls himself a man

But acts the other way.

TIMES are as good as you make them and a person is as happy as he thinks he is.

I MET a man in Rupert just walking up the street He meandered along with a hang-dog look

And had anchors on his feet. And I thought as I saw him passing

Of the changes that we all miss

To make of ourselves upstanding men

And live all our lives in bliss.

IN most households there is a majority and a minority party. You can tell which is which at a glance

ITS several years ago now since a man married a wife just to have someone at home to cook the meals and wash the dishes.

I SUGGEST one of the valiant men who opposed the elevator privilege get up at once and move that the vote be unanimous.

WHAT should we do without a few who would be always ready to oppose anything!

THEN here's to the ten Reactionary men

Who vote against every measure;

May they live with us long

Then go where they belong

To the land where there's no need of treasure.

FORKE TELLS OF HIMSELF

Progressive Leader Has Aims and a Philosophy of Life

WINNIPEG, April 30.—Contributing a special article to the Manitoba Free Press, Robert Forke, leader of the federal Progressive party, sets forth the following code which he says to a measure has served as a chart to guide his course of life: Service, faithfulness, honesty, tolerance and justice in dealings with others; courage, cheerfulness, belief in a power that maketh for righteousness, play the game.

"Happiness," Mr. Forke writes, "is said to be the most elusive of human possessions—often sought, difficult to find—perhaps more often found in the circumstances of the home surroundings, than in more ambitious social circles.

"I like to think of my early boyhood days in the Lammermoor hills of Scotland. It was during these days of exuberant youth that I honestly believed that the Liberal party had a mon-

YOUNG PEOPLE BETTER TODAY

More Consideration for Others and Less Class Distinction is Seen Says Authority

LONDON, Eng., April 30.—Dame Millicent Fawcett, who is 79, declares that the manners of young people today are superior to those of 19th century youths and maidens. "They may be more outspoken," she says, "but that can be in consonance with good manners. There is much more consideration for others and less class snobishness nowadays."

"When I went for a walk in Kensington Gardens I noticed husbands wheeling the prams and carrying the children while their wives strolled by their sides. In the same district I saw a well-dressed girl go up to the driver of a lorry in difficulties and say, 'Can I help you?' The other day when I was on the platform of a bus which was full inside, and I hesitated whether to go on top, a young girl seated near the door insisted that I should take her place. Such politeness as in these cases was not so generally experienced 30 years ago. I attribute the change to boys and girls being educated and brought up together, to the greater liberty enjoyed, to the enfranchisement of women, and the respect which women gained for the part they played in the war."

Dame Fawcett is the widow of Rt. Hon. Henry Fawcett, who although blind, was for some time postmaster-general. Her sister is Mary Garrett Anderson, a Doctor of Medicine, and the first woman in England to be elected Mayor. Her daughter earned honors at Cambridge higher than those of the Senior Wrangler. Dame Fawcett was for some time President of the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies.

BETTY BRONSON WAS HONORED BY BARRIE KISS FOR CINDERELLA

First Was Chosen to Star in Peter Pan and Again Has Leading Part

Betty Bronson, twice honored by J. M. Barrie, has more than justified that noted author's faith in her. It was Barrie, a year ago, who picked Betty, then an absolute unknown, to play the title role in Paramount's screen version of his immortal fantasy, "Peter Pan." And it was Barrie again, a few months back, who unhesitatingly selected the now world-famous Betty for the leading part in the picturization of this notable stage success, "A Kiss for Cinderella."

BRINGING UP FATHER

history of the screen has a girl of seventeen had the honors heaped upon her as has Betty Bronson. In a little more than one short year she has risen from obscurity to world-wide prominence. Yet success has made no change in her. Many girls of seventeen would have had their heads turned by this sudden rush of popularity and fame, but not Betty. She accepted it all gratefully, a little nervous and surprised to find herself in the limelight, but not the least little bit puffed up about it.

DOUKHOBORS HAVE DISAGREEMENTS IN COURT AT NELSON

NELSON, April 30.—Because the authorities of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, following the tenets of the late Peter Verigin, rotated his crops for him by force, plowing under the crop he had sown against their orders and sowing another over it, Lukian Verigin, a Shoreacres Doukhor of the "Peter-Lordly" group, brought him to court on a charge of damaging his crops.

The evidence showed that early in March Lukian Verigin was plowing the land operated by him but owned by the community, when N. Chemenkoff, the foreman of that district, told him to stop, as he had not paid his assessment. He refused, and Chemenkoff informed the directors, who later came to Verigin's place to talk with him. But he was not at home, and they went ahead disking and harrowing the land and sowing oats.

ALBERTA CROP WAS HUNDRED MILLION TEN NOT MARKETED

EDMONTON, April 30.—Alberta had a hundred million bushel wheat crop last year, returns announced by the provincial department of agriculture show. Reports from railway companies in the hands of the government state that approximately 90,000,000 of the 1925 wheat crop have been marketed, including wheat in store in line elevators on March 31.

Canadian Pacific lines in Alberta shipped 45,710,000 bushels during the crop movement season from August 1 to March 31. Canadian National lines shipped

BUFFALO TRANSPORT TO FAR NORTH IS INTERESTING TASK

EDMONTON, April 30.—Transportation of 2,000 buffalo from Wainwright, Alta., to the park near Fort Fitzgerald, will commence about June 15 and continue until the contract has been filled, according to Col. J. K. Cornwall, who recently returned from an official visit to Ottawa. The shipment will include 1,400 yearlings, 400-odd two-year-olds and more than 100 three-year-olds, the distribution being on the basis of two females to one bull. These animals will be unloaded 30 miles farther north this year, while the manner of transportation will be the same as that followed in 1925. Rangers have reported that the animals now in the northern park are in good condition and wintered well.

ALBERTA LEADS IN NUMBER GOLF COURSES

CALGARY, April 29.—Comparative statistics, compiled according to population, show that Alberta has more golf courses than any other province in the Dominion. There are at present 60 golf courses in Alberta, while Ontario with five times the population has somewhere around 160 and Quebec 70. Figures show that Saskatchewan has 53 courses, Manitoba 51, and British Columbia 39. These same statistics reveal that population considered, Canada is better supplied with courses than is the United States. It is known that the Royal and Ancient pastime was played in Canada many years before it was introduced across the line.

SPORT CHAT

A lacrosse team, representative of Oxford and Cambridge, is now touring the United States and playing matches at different universities there. The contests are being given a good deal of prominence in American newspapers. It is a strange thing that what was long regarded as Canada's national summer-time game should have obtained such a hold both in Britain and across the border, where our teams introduced it while it has declined almost to the point of disappearance in the Dominion. It had no serious rivals at one time in western Ontario, but there, according to the London Free Press, it is now almost dead, surviving in only a few towns. There was some talk not long ago about a concerted movement to bring it back. A wealthy Canadian was said to have offered to provide a large sum of money to help it along. But of late nothing has been heard of this effort.

It is a matter of great regret that lacrosse has gone the way it has, both from a strictly athletic and also from a broader standpoint. We have not so much that is distinctively Canadian in sport or otherwise that we can regard its virtual elimination without concern. Various explanations have been given, but the most important factor in the game's loss of ground was undoubtedly the failure to control it properly. Abuses crept in, which caused both players and public to turn to other pastimes. It will be difficult, but by no means impossible, to revive it and certainly steps towards that end should be taken without further delay. When other countries are showing so much appreciation of the inherent merits of lacrosse, there is something very wrong with Canadians if they allow it to die out entirely.

KING APPEALS FOR TIDINESS

Desecration of Parks and Other Public Property Deplored in England

LONDON, April 30.—In opening a new public breathing space at Ken Wood, near London, last summer the King appealed to the public who would use it not to desecrate what was after all their own property by throwing about litter and in other ways destroying much of the beauty of such places.

Some of the Press here has been noting the effect of this and of similar appeals, as shown in the spectacle which public spaces presented after the Easter holiday-making. The Daily Mail comes to the conclusion that the public are taking to heart the King's appeal. The Daily Telegraph, however, finds that the hope for better things has been breathed in vain, although it acknowledges that the baskets provided for litter were full to overflowing. The Manchester Guardian also deplors the universal untidiness, but declares that in most other ways the behavior of the holiday crowds was better than ever before.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agriculture, husbandry, and which is not timber land, i.e. carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner. Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

Minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $2 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 19, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

EFFORT TO SECURE REMISSION OF FINE OF AMELIUS JARVIS

Sir Joseph Flavelle Takes Hand in Matter and Presents Petition to Minister

OTTAWA, April 30.—A sensational sequel to the now famous Jarvis treasury bond case in Queen's Park has come to light with the visit to this city of Sir Joseph Flavelle. It is learned on good authority that Sir Joseph presented to Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, a petition largely subscribed to by prominent financiers of Toronto and other parts of Ontario, asking for the remission of the fine paid by Amelius Jarvis, Sr. What action will be taken by the government has not yet been disclosed.

It will be recalled that Amelius Jarvis Sr. was convicted in connection with the Ontario government treasury department bond scandals two or three years ago and was sentenced to imprisonment at Portsmouth penitentiary and the payment of a large fine which he paid under protest, maintaining his innocence even since his release from prison.

In connection with the same case Hon. Peter Smith, then provincial treasurer, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary and a fine which has not yet been paid. Representations looking to Smith's release from prison were made to the federal government last fall.

PRESENTATION MADE TO ALEX. RIX BY THE IMPERIAL OIL STAFF

Before leaving for the south, where he is to be married on Tuesday, Alex. Rix was presented with a fine mahogany clock by his fellow employees of the Imperial Oil Company Ltd. as an expression of the esteem in which he is held by them. Those taking part in the presentation were G. A. Woodland, G. E. MacKenzie, H. B. Smith, J. M. Collison, H. L. Pierce, D. Kristmanson and J. Finess.

SKIT ON TENDENCY OF MODERN GIRL

In presenting the prizes at the Francis Holland School for Girls recently the Dean of Westminster recited the following rhyme:

I can swing a six pound dumb-bell,
 I can fence and I can box,
 I can walk across the heather,
 And clamber over rocks,
 I can make a score at cricket,
 And play hockey all day long,
 But I cannot help my mother,
 I am not, really, very strong

The Slight Cold Of To-day May Be Serious To-morrow

On the first appearance of a cough or cold, do not neglect it, but get rid of it at once before it has a chance to grow worse and becomes settled on the lungs, for once it does become deep-seated you are going to have a lot of trouble in getting rid of it.

Our advice to you is that on the first sign of a cough or cold you should procure a bottle of

 as by its timely use you may save yourself many years of suffering from some serious bronchial or lung troubles.

MINERS' WAGES BRITAIN TODAY

In view of the fact that a strike is possible in the coal industry in Great Britain it will be of interest to know what wages are paid there. Part of the wages only have during the past year been paid by the operator, the state making up the difference. Since the government has refused to continue the subsidy the employers claim they cannot continue to pay the wages asked. Following is the scale:

MEDERIC MARTIN OF MONTREAL PROCEEDS PUT THINGS RIGHT

MONTREAL, April 30.—When Mayor Mederic Martin entered his office at the city hall to take possession for his term, he immediately started, to use his own words, "putting things right." Before taking the oath, he entered the council chamber and ordered away the desk which was provided in front of the mayor's dais. "There is no table in front of the throne at Ottawa," was his reason. Then he stated that he would immediately order that a rug be placed on the black walnut mosaic floor in his own office, and that a rug be laid on the floor of the council chamber.

Drappings would also be provided on the walls of the chamber, and hangings would adorn the walls, to help acoustics, the mayor stated.

Blinds are to be provided for the windows to prevent the glare from the afternoon sun, also on the command of the mayor.

SCOTTISH SABBATH UNDER DISCUSSION

Lord Inchcape Precipitates Avalanche of Letters in Glasgow Herald

Christian people in Scotland have been quite stirred this summer by a widespread discussion of the old question of Sabbath observance says the Toronto Globe. The agitation was precipitated by an article by Lord Inchcape published on the editorial page of the Glasgow Herald. This article was only a few hundred words in length, but it resulted in an unexpected avalanche of letters. As Lord Inchcape is well known as a very successful business man, the head of a great shipping enterprise, a director of the Suez Canal, and a man of cosmopolitan experiences and observations, his words naturally carried weight. Two weeks after his article was published, the Herald announced that it would have to bring the discussion to a close so far as its columns were concerned. The closing instalment of published letters filled more than four full columns of the paper, and the editors stated that, in addition to the nearly one hundred letters which they had printed, several hundreds more had come to hand.

Other Papers

Such publicity on this ancient and at the same time modern and vital question could not be confined to one newspaper. The British Weekly took the matter up, and undoubtedly good has resulted from the focusing of attention on one of God's pivotal provisions for mankind.

Lord Inchcape was rather severe in his criticisms of "certain reverend Scottish parsons," and radical in his suggestions for Sabbath observance. He says he was "brought up in the narrow atmosphere of the Scottish Sabbath," and "I certainly do not look back with much pleasure to the Sabbath restaints to which when a youth I was subjected." He believes, after "knocking about the world for fifty years," that people in other parts of the world who are free from Scotland's "bondage" are not more wicked than those of his native land. He would like to see church services commence at 10 o'clock or 10:30, and last for not more than an hour, "leaving the people free for the rest of the day to indulge in rational recreation."

For and Against

Some of the many letters published by The Glasgow Herald have expressed agreement with Lord Inchcape's position, but the frank protests and earnest objections to his article have been significant and distinctly encouraging.

CHEEK SLASHING IS ALLOWED IN GERMANY

Courth Decide that it is Legal to Develop Nerve by Slicing Each Other

BERLIN, April 29.—Mensur, or student cheek-slashing, is not properly duelling, and cannot be condemned as such, according to judgment pronounced in the Heidelberg court. Henceforth students can continue to slice each other and develop "nerve" as heretofore.

The sudden arrest of a number of students a short time ago in an historical student tavern in Heidelberg on the strength of a Parliamentary decision that student duelling was included in the anti-duelling law alarmed duelling students throughout Germany, since it would have destroyed the time honored institution of student drinking and duelling corps. The Heidelberg decision restores this traditional right. This decision reassured the students assembled for the Berlin conference.

A deputation of students this week proceeded to Potsdam, visited the grave of Frederick the Great at Sans-Souci, and later visited the aviation field, where they were addressed by Dr. Eckener, to whom the students had promised financial and moral support for the coming North Pole flight. Dr. Eckener congratulated the students on safeguarding the old German idealism, which shows that the German spirit cannot be withered by gross violence. He explained that the coming North Pole flight aims less at reaching the Pole than in testing the capacity of a Zeppelin under Polar conditions.

The whaling steamer Gray, which lightered the stranded C.P.R. steamer Princess Ena of her cargo on the west coast of Vancouver Island, arrived from there at 1:30 this afternoon and is tied up at the ocean dock preparatory to proceeding to Kelchikan and other Alaska ports at 6 o'clock this evening.

NOT ENOUGH GIRLS COMING TO CANADA

Demand on Part of Farmers' Wives Much Greater Than Supply

REGINA, April 30.—Saskatchewan farmers' wives are looking anxiously for the household help which the Bureau of Labor and Industries of the provincial government arranged to be sent to them from the British Isles under the Imperial Government Overseas Settlement scheme. The bureau contracted for 400 domestic to be sent to Saskatchewan during the year and barely half have arrived. The girls are coming in ones and twos while 20 could be placed every month. Most of the demand is from farm women. The pay offered is from $20 to $25 a month and fully 50 per cent of the girls placed remain in the first position, while the remainder have to be changed once or twice. Out of 150 who have come under the assisted passage arrangement in the last year and a half only two have failed to repay the passage loan.

"Imaginary" Rheumatism Caused by Illfitting Shoes

MANY, many times physicians have diagnosed what appears to be rheumatism, as really being pains arising from the effects of Fallen Arches. When the foot arches begin to break down, the pain is often ascribed to a sprain or rheumatism. Pain occurs along the inside of the foot, in the heel, also the calf of the leg, and is often located in the knee or hip joints. This condition brings on general muscular weakness—the ligaments are strained, interfering with proper nourishment of the foot. The circulation becomes poor—attendant symptoms appear—numbness, cold, and at times, undue perspiration. To prevent and cure this condition the foot must be given support, combined with the utmost freedom of movement. Arch Defender Shoes give support to the scaphoid bone where needed, while allowing full flexibility and freedom to the muscular structure of the foot. If you value your health—join the thousands who have banished foot trouble. Get a pair today.
