IMPORTANT FIND OF RICH ORE AT TOPLEY

RUBY DOLAN CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER; TO BE SENTENCED MONDAY

Excitement at Smithers Today Over Rich Strike of Gold and Silver Neighborhood of Topley

SMITHERS, June 12.—Considerable excitement was caused at Smithers yesterday when Frank H. Taylor came in on the morning train from Topley to record a group of mineral claims located six miles east of Topley.

The new strike showing gold and silver was discovered early this week. A representative sample of the ore exposed and assayed by J. D. Boulding of Hazelton shows gold 847.20 and silver 40 ounces, lead a trace.

The ore, which has been exposed by nature, shows a width of 150 feet and has been traced 300 feet long in an unprospected area.

Taylor has had considerable experience in mining claims and he says this is the best he has seen in British Columbia. The iron capping he considers to be a good indication of the presence of gold ore.

Several motor cars carrying Smithers prospectors immediately started for the new discovery, on the arrival of the news in town.

SMUGGLING IN THE CUSTOMS

OTTAWA, June 12.—The Parliamentary committee investigating the administration of the department of customs and excise continued their public sittings last night and will meet again Tuesday morning. The sittings are private for the purpose of considering the report to be made to the House of Commons, which will probably be presented to the House on Wednesday.

The committee has been sitting for four months and its activities have revealed an extended system of commercial smuggling in silks, alcohol, automobiles and other commodities across the international line.

Woman Who Shot Jas. Donald at Stewart is Guilty Manslaughter

Recommendation for clemency made by jury and sentence will be passed by Judge probably on Monday

Guilty of manslaughter with a recommendation for leniency was the verdict brought in at 9.05 o'clock Friday night by the jury in the case of Rex vs. Ruby Dolan in connection with the killing of James Neil Donald, a steel sharpener, in a house of prostitution at Stewart on the early morning of January 1. Sentence was reserved until the end of the Assizes by Mr. Justice W. A. MacDonald who stated that due consideration would be given the recommendation for clemency. In answer to A. M. Johnson, K.C., crown prosecutor, who, on behalf of Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., defence counsel, spoke of the jury's recommendation, His Lordship stated that he felt he was fully aware of the circumstances of the case. He would prefer, however, not to pass sentence before Monday at the earliest.

The jury was in consideration of its verdict nearly five hours, having left the courtroom to deliberate at 4.20 in the afternoon. Twice, however, the jury returned—at 5.30 to take out the exhibits in the case and at 8.30 to report disagreement. His Lordship asked the jury to retire again and "make an honest effort to think things over" and pointed out that it was important that a verdict should be obtained if at all possible. Deliberating another half an hour, the jury returned to report that a verdict of manslaughter had been agreed upon.

The verdict of the jury was received by accused in the same calm and collected manner that had characterized her conduct throughout the trial. There was not an emotion apparent in her demeanor as the finding was announced by Frank Morris, the foreman.

A forceful and at times dramatic plea on behalf of accused was eloquently presented by J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., who spent just about an hour in addressing the jury. At the outset Mr. Farris said that no attempt would be made to create in the minds of the jury any prejudice or undue sympathy in favor of accused. The issues in the case had been much simplified by the evidence of the unfortunate woman herself. There had been only speculation as to who had done the shooting until she had admitted herself that the gun was in her hands when the shooting took place. This admission on her part, when it was unnecessary for her to make a confession, exemplified her good faith. There had been circumstances coupled with the incident which Mr. Farris submitted justified accused in telling her story and should justify the jury in believing it. There was only one main issue in the case: was her story true or was the jury satisfied with the theory of the crown that accused had intended to and had actually committed a deliberate murder in cold blood? What evidence had been adduced by the crown in support of the theory that the circumstances of the killing were not exactly as accused had stated? The crown had not even proven that accused had killed the man. Only from the girl's own evidence had that been learned. Accused's story must stand or fall as a whole. The jury had no right to stop and (continued on page four)

General Strike Was Deliberate Declared Premier Baldwin; Coal Strike Must be Settled Soon

CHIPPENHAM, Eng., June 12.—Speaking of the general strike through which the nation passed recently, Premier Baldwin said that what had occurred was inevitable. "If it had not come in my time it would have come in that of my successor. There was nothing accidental about the decision taken by the trades union executives. It was deliberate. If it had had its way, contrary to what I am sure to many of those who launched it, it might have destroyed the very civilization which it has taken to build up."

Speaking of the coal strike, Mr. Baldwin said a settlement must be reached before long in order to stop the decline of the nation's purchasing power. The premier said the one tragedy at the present time was the purchasing power being diminished daily because of the industrial crisis through which the nation has passed.

The address was given before 45,000 Conservatives.

Fair is to be Biggest and Best Yet Says Dave Thomson Who Arranged for Attractions Here

Exhibit From New Westminster; 8-Piece Jazz Orchestra; High Class Boxers, and Exhibit from the Islands are Coming

Returning enthusiastic over his visit and convinced that Prince Rupert will have the biggest and best fair this year that she has ever had, David Thomson, fair manager, returned this morning from Vancouver, where he has been looking after the interests of Prince Rupert for the past week or two. Speaking of some of the most tangible results of his visit, Mr. Thomson said he was assured by B. C. Keeley, coast manager of the Canadian National Steamships, that the Prince John would call at both Queen Charlotte City and Massett and nearby points on the Queen Charlotte Islands and arrive in Prince Rupert with exhibits and visitors on the day before the opening of the fair.

The secretary of the New Westminster Fair has agreed to place an exhibit here which is to be a duplicate of the best exhibit of fruit, vegetables and dairy produce at their own fair. This will be an example to northern exhibitors how to do things and something which they may this year strive to beat.

The secretary of the Vancouver Fair has promised to co-operate in every way to make the fair here a success.

Vic Foley, the boxer, has agreed to come here during fair week and box ten rounds against Jackie Newman, the man he out-pointed in Edmonton a few weeks ago and who hopes to reverse the decision.

Britain Objects To Soviet Interference.

Undoubtedly the British government is doing right in making a protest to the Soviet against the sending of money to help in what was practically a revolutionary movement in that country. The Russians do not, apparently understand the British character. The Britisher has been trained to go after what he wants in a constitutional manner. If there is a general demand for something, it is usually obtained. All that is needed in a British country is to get a majority of the people to want something and they get it by the simple process of voting. In Italy they had to do it by force and similarly in Russia and Poland, but the English speaking countries are different. There is so much liberty in those countries that people often do not seem to know what to do with it.

In Canada we have not an ideal government all the time because we are not always an ideal people but we get along very well and should resent any interference in our affairs by Russia or any other country. We should resent it just as much from Mussolini if it were offered.

Railway Building In Peace River.

It seems rather a new thing to suggest that the building of railways must wait until the country is settled. It is contrary to practice heretofore in this country. If it is to be the method then the Hudson Bay Railway is certainly a mistake. The country there is not settled and yet the minister says that the railway will be justified because of the natural resources it will open up. Peace River is already partially settled and if a railway were built there, no one doubts but there would be a rush to get into the country. That is especially true because of the character of the land in the district. If people can go in there today and live from the produce of their farms it will be much more easy for them to do so when the railway is built. We are not suggesting that the railway should be built this year but we do feel that it is time to seriously consider the proposal with a view to early construction.

American Railways Built That Way.

Most of the American railways preceded colonization. The steel ran through the farming country and with it came the immigrants with the result that the lines began to pay almost immediately. The case of Jim Hill was mentioned yesterday. He was a man of vision and did not wait for the settlers to go ahead and endure hardships for years before the line came. If the G.P.R. is ready to build the railway it is to be hoped the Canadian government will treat them in no niggardly spirit. If the Canadian National is to handle the work, similar treatment should be given them. It lies for one of the two big systems which have a monopoly on the railway business of the country to show that the monopoly is a beneficent one and not the kind that retards business and stops development.

Ladies' Music Club To Be Congratulated.

The Ladies' Club is to be congratulated on its effect in giving Prince Rupert one of the best musical entertainments it has had heretofore. Those who attended the event Thursday evening to hear the visiting pianist and boy soprano say it was a great treat and they would like an opportunity to hear something equally good at some other time. Possibly next season the ladies will make an effort to repeat the experience by bringing other artists to the city. It is difficult work and entails a great deal of self-sacrifice but it is all in the interest of the cause of musical education and high class entertainment.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE SMALLER AS RESULT OF FLU IN THE CITY

Readjustment of Rooms to be Arranged After Holidays Allowing Westview Pupils to Attend Borden St.

The reports of the school principals to the School Board at the meeting last night showed a reduction in the average attendance owing to the prevalence of flu last month. At Borden Street the average percentage was 92.6, Booth School 90.63 and at Seal Cove it dropped to 77.24. The total pupils attending during the month was 767 of which Booth School had 421, Borden Street 296 and Seal Cove 50.

In reply to a question by Miss Mills as to how it was proposed to care for the extra pupils next term, whether by absorbing them at Booth school or by opening another room in the basement of her school, Miss Mills was told there was to be a general readjustment. All the pupils in Section two would be taken to Borden Street and the school would then be filled up as far as the accommodation allowed taking the pupils in order of location making the dividing line between the two schools wherever it was found advisable. There would be eight grades only at Borden Street school taken from the pupils living in the district beginning at Section two and extending as far as possible in the other direction.

Complaint in regard to the bus service was made at the meeting. The secretary was instructed to interview the driver and insist that the bus must not leave before the appointed time. It was also mentioned that probably a bus service would not be needed next year under the new arrangement.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE AND MANUAL CLASSES ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Many Attended Interesting Event Yesterday Afternoon and Inspected Work

Many interested parents and others attended at the Booth Memorial School yesterday afternoon for the annual exhibition of handicraft produced by the domestic science and manual training classes under the direction respectively of Mrs. Darlington and Donald Ross, the instructors.

Outstanding articles among the manual training exhibits were a full-sized flat bottomed powder boat which had been built by Bruce Wilson and James Donaldson and a shot gun butt and library table made by Jack Deane. Several excellently sewn dresses featured the domestic science exhibit, girls of which classes served tea and cake during the afternoon as well as conducting a candy booth. The refreshments and candy had all been made on the premises.

PRINCIPAL DEFENDS COMMERCIAL CLASSES

High School Course an Elaborate One and Pupils Mostly Young When they Enter

Principal Brady of the High School yesterday made a report to the Board of Trustees on the work of the Commercial Class. He pointed out that graduates from the class were often too young to take positions and that gave the impression that people did not want them. In other schools pupils were usually older when they commenced. The course in the high school was an elaborate one and quite different from the short courses often given to commercial students.

To show what good work had been done, Mr. Brady stated that two silver medals had been won by students writing 50 to 60 words a minute, four bronze medals for those writing 40 to 50 words and eight certificates to those writing 30 to 40 words. He made this report because he had heard that derogatory remarks regarding the work of the school in this department had been made.

SOUTH SEA ISLANDS IN PICTURE TONIGHT

"Never The Twain Shall Meet" is Made Mostly at Tahiti and Moorea and is Love Story

At last the South Sea Islands have been brought to the screen in a completely enchanting and effective story, "Never The Twain Shall Meet," adapted from Peter B. Kyne's novel of the same name. The picture had its first showing here last night.

Picturized in the South Sea Islands, "Never The Twain Shall Meet" brings to the screen a note of realism and a series of gorgeously beautiful backgrounds that vie with any ever recorded by the motion picture camera. Tahiti and Moorea are used as the South Sea Island backgrounds for this torrid story of love, romance and adventure. As Tamea, the half-caste princess, Anita Stewart has an unusual opportunity to portray the various facets of a dual nature - the passionate and stormy temperament of her native mother and the more civilized and reserved disposition of her French father.

The Island Spell Bert Lytell has the role of the American youth who is lured away from his ambitions and civilized mode of living by the bewitching Tamea, only to be compelled to return to his former state of life by the knowledge that a continuance of his lazy existence in the islands will spell destruction to his moral and physical nature.

Huntly Gordon, as the newspaper man, does exceptionally interesting work in a difficult role, while Justine Johnstone, as a beautiful young woman of society, has a splendid opportunity for depicting a highly polished interpretation.

Semi-Humorous Special mention should be made of the work of Lionel Belmore, whose role of Tamea's father is one of the outstanding characterizations of the year. Combining a semi-humorous situation with a tragic incident, Belmore accomplished the almost impossible on the screen in bringing to his portrayal a stoicism and philosophical understanding of the native Tahitian and the temperamental qualities of the well-bred Frenchman.

Another feature will be a sweep-stake handicap race open to all power boats in the harbor, relay race with two boats to a team and speed boat race, the entries in the last two mentioned events also being confined to club members. Conditions in Malay
Following this Rev. W. F. Barfoot gave a very interesting talk on conditions in the Malay Peninsula where he spent two years in the mission fields. He referred to the population, industries, educational system, etc. specially stressing the desirability and necessity of a higher ideal in the education of the eastern races received from the west if we are to look forward to an improvement in world affairs. History showed that only the ideals of nations at one time powerful, but now of little importance in world affairs, were remembered and were still influencing the more powerful nations of the present day.

A social half hour was then spent and refreshments served. Annual Meeting The next meeting will be the annual meeting of the Association and will be held in the school house the second Thursday in September.

Mrs. R. H. Carson and child of Premier Mine are in the city or board the Prince Rupert today returning north after a trip to Winnipeg. They were met here by Dr. Carson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Goodrick returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning after a holiday visit to Vancouver and Victoria.

Q—"Why does a dog hang out his tongue when running?"
Ans.—"To balance its tail."
Q—"What is steel wool?"

JELLYFISH RUIBAY IN FRENCH RIVIERA

NICE, June 12.—All is not roses and sweet-scented scenery in the neighborhood of the French Riviera. The little fishing village of Gros-de-Cagnes, just outside Nice, soon will be uninhabitable unless some means is found of destroying the millions of jelly fish which have appeared in the bay. Huge piles of dead fish are nightly thrown up on the beach and the authorities recently were unable to clean them away before they commenced to rot. Attempts to burn the fish had been unsuccessful.
