REALISTIC STORY OF ANNA J. ADVENTURES

EVACUATION OF TIEN TSIN TOOK PLACE AND TROOPS RETREAT TO PEKIN

Miraculous Escape of Crew of Anna J. When Struck by Huge Wave

Everything above deck carried away by sea and only strenuous efforts and good luck saved them

The miraculous escape of the six men forming the crew of the American halibut schooner Anna J. from being drowned like rats in a trap when certain death seemed facing them, a fate that probably would never have been known, after a huge sea struck their vessel 60 miles from shore outside Yakutat, swept it clean of everything above deck including the pilot house, turned it over with five men in the fo'c'sle and then righted it again constitutes only one feature of the graphic story that is told by J. Dohl, one of the members of the crew of the unlucky schooner who arrived in the city yesterday to visit with his family who reside here. The circumstances of the incident that befel the Anna J. are probably unprecedented in the annals of the halibut fleet. There have been disasters and near disasters but never such a one as this when Capt. Edward Lawler and his crew consisting of Lawrence Lawler, Sam Warren, M. Sparks, James Mansfield and J. Dohl were plunged into death's grip, from which there seemed to be no possible escape, and miraculously snatched out again. Their vessel was cleared of pilot house, mast, rails and everything above deck by one mighty wave and the hold was also damaged. Had the hull been injured nothing would probably have ever been heard again of the vessel or her crew. As it so happened, the vessel, after capsizing, was righted again and the Anna J. was able to limp, under her own power, into Cordova where she is now awaiting a tow to Ketchikan where repairs will be effected. Capt. Lawler is staying with the vessel while the five other members of the crew were brought to Ketchikan, Mr. Dohl coming on here.

Evacuation of Tien Tsin by National Army is Proceeding Before Manchurian Dictator

TIEN TSIN, March 22.—This city of more than 700,000 inhabitants was completely evacuated today by the troops of the National Army in their 86 mile retreat toward Pekin before the victorious troops of Tso Lin, the Manchurian dictator and his allies of Shantung Province. The nationalist power seems to be gradually waning. Since the firing on student demonstrators at Pekin, there has been a gradual falling away and the city is now under strict military rule.

AUSTRALIANS CANNOT SEE WHY CANADIANS SHOULD MAKE RUMPUS

Do Not See That Farmers in This Country are Injured by Trade Treaty

SYDNEY, N.S.W., March 22.—(By the Australian correspondent of the Canadian Press).—Cable news to Australia recently has contained a good deal of adverse criticism of the Canadian-Australian trade treaty, as expressed by Canadian dairymen. The arrival in Vancouver of 15,000 cases of Australian butter—the first shipment under the treaty—and 5,000 cases of New Zealand top grade by the steamer Niagara was apparently the cause of the rumpus. But the cablegrams informed Australians that a rise in price of the Canadian product occurred simultaneously with the arrival of the "Niagara" shipment, due to prairie butter being sent east for higher prices and leaving no surplus in the west. In view of the position the Canadian Press correspondent made enquiries in Sydney's trade centre. The merchants point out that the butter has not been sent to Canada by factories on consignment. Most, if not all of it, was bought by Canadian representatives and it is their property now. Evidently the difference in the price in the two countries, or the prospects at the time of sales of appreciation in Canadian values were such as to justify the purchases, otherwise no business would have passed. In any case, on the day of the "Niagara's" arrival, Canadian prices actually advanced. The Sydney merchants point out that it would appear that Canadian dairymen have been looking forward to a possible shortage of butter in the Dominion with high prices, and object to anything likely to upset calculations. Treaty or no treaty, if a sufficient margin exists between prices in any two countries as to make importing profitable, business will always result.

GRAIN GROWING THIS DISTRICT

Official Returns of Wheat, Barley and Oat Crops in Skeena District

The total area of the occupied farms was 89,607 acres of which 15,633 was improved, 65 acres was orchard and 1,736 pasture. In the district only eleven acres of fall wheat was grown, yielding 260 bushels. There was 112 acres of spring wheat yielding 2,204 bushels. The acreage to barley was 51 yielding 1,419 bushels and the acreage to oats was 1086 from which 33,418 bushels was taken.

Where Will Payroll Come From This Year?

Someone asks where the payroll will come from this year with the elevator work completed and the mill out of business. It is difficult to secure exact figures without a lot of troublesome inquiry but at a rough guess here is where some of it will come from:

Railways machine shops	100 men
Drydock and shipyards	150
C.N.R. office and warehouse staffs	50
Gold Storage	75
Reel Mill	25
Big Bay Mill construction	50
Kaen Island Road	50
City street work, etc.	100
Building trades	200
Halibut fishermen	200
Salmon trollers	200
Fish houses	50
Railway operating staff	25
Elevator operating staff	20
Government offices	50

This estimate, it will be generally acknowledged is a very conservative one and several hundred should be added for minor employments which cannot be particularized. It is probable that the building trades will far exceed two hundred and that the operation of the elevator will increase business in all directions to such an extent that it is impossible just now to estimate it. Then there are the business houses uptown, the school teachers, those who cater to the amusement or well being of the community. The tourist trade will be worth considerable and the Indian business, mining and other travel. This will give an idea of why Prince Rupert is a prosperous community.

Advantage Of Living In Small Places.

While there are obvious disadvantages in living in a small place, there are also compensations which are often not fully realized. The life of a small town is more or less of a community life. All are interested in their neighbors and when any big event takes place most of the neighbors join in its celebration. If it is a funeral, there is a big turnout of neighbors and friends. A wedding is equally as attractive and losses and successes are subjects of sympathy or congratulation as the case may be.

While in a big city a man may never know his next door neighbor, in a small place he may know his neighbor all too well. Friends are made easily in the small community and often they remain life friends.

Those who have lived in a small place find it very lonely if they move to a big city.

Insurance Men Are In This City.

A large number of insurance men are in the city today on the way to a big convention at Victoria. They are men who are engaged in a useful calling and they are usually good citizens.

Life insurance is one of the necessities of the present day. It is something that everyone should carry according to his means of paying premiums. Provision for those who are left is one of the first duties of a good citizen.

Many men are "good fellows," they have many friends and are looked upon as extremely popular but they fail in one essential. They are not good providers for their families. They fall down on one of the essentials of good citizenship. One of the means of providing well for those who may have a hard battle to fight alone, is life insurance. It is a well established business proposition.

The man who sells another a life insurance policy is often a public benefactor. He places the power within reach of a man of providing for his family after he is gone. Without life insurance there would be much more hardship and suffering in the world today.

We are glad to welcome the life insurance men and hope they will come to see us again and sell us all the insurance we can possibly carry. It is a good work.

Studies Of Fish Are Now Being Made.

The difficulty with the study of fish life is that it takes time. Conclusions hastily arrived at are often found to be wrong. That is particularly true where the creatures being dealt with are as elusive as the salmon or the halibut.

The scientists at Departure Bay Biological station near Nanaimo are finding that many of the conclusions arrived at previously have been wrong. New light is being shed on fish life and the better they come to know the fish the easier it will be to make regulations which will protect them against extinction and make them a steady source of revenue to the country.

HAROLD LLOYD
THE FRESHMAN

Famous and Popular Comedian to be Here Three Days

"The Freshman" played by the inimitable Harold Lloyd leaves the audience limp with laughter and wanting to stand up and cheer. It's one of those comedies that airs all your emotions in public, and you laugh and cry and shout and completely forget all dignity.

"The Freshman" continues the same sort of sympathetic characterization established by the comedian in "Grandma's Boy," but is even more poignantly appealing than that record breaking comedy classic. This new offering should be classed as a comedy drama, rather than as a straight comedy, for it has more than the usual quota of heart-throbs and human interest.

Dashing Figure

Harold is well named as Harold Lamb. He dreams of cutting a dashing figure in college and reads books about it and models his life along the lines of the college hero of romantic fiction. As Harold's dad says, "When he goes to college, they'll break his heart or his neck, or both."

Dad was right! Harold becomes the unconscious goat of the college. He's badgered and bullied by everybody except the little girl behind the cigar counter—you guessed it—Jobyna Ralston, herself. Harold falls for her as hard as he does for the line the college bully is handing him. He appears at the "Fall Frolic" in a tuxedo that the college tailor only had time to basic together. The complications are uproarious. Parts of Harold's clothes keep falling off, and the tailor, who accompanies him to the party in case of those very complications, seizes opportunistic moments in the merry-making to sew the suit together again. This sequence is a genuine inspiration, and Lloyd is personally responsible for much of its success.

Football Match

The freshman has been made a water-boy for the football team though he believes he "made the team." At the big game, when his college is losing fast and is out of substitutes, it is the poor heroic little Lamb that steps in and saves the day. Gosh, it's exciting! And funny!

As a characterization, Lloyd's freshman is splendid stuff, and the cast is not only competent, but each player is imbued with the real college atmosphere and looks and acts his part with utter naturalness. Pat Harmon especially stands out as the football coach, according to a subtitle, so tough he shaves with a blow torch. As is usual with Lloyd's pictures, "The Freshman" is a great picture for the whole family.

THE WHITE DESERT AT THIS WEEK END

Film Deals With Hazards of Drilling a Railway Tunnel Through Rocky Mountains

"The White Desert," here at the week end was filmed at the top of the Continental Divide in Colorado and Barker believes at the "Top of the United States" presents more obstacles and perils than anything he has tackled in his directorial career. The story was adapted for the screen from the popular novel by Courtney Ryley Cooper. In order to lose none of the vivid portrayal of the book Barker took his entire company up into the great snowlands where they faced ever-present death.

The story deals with the hazards of drilling a railroad tunnel through the Rocky Mountains. The undertaking is considered so important that the president of the company, Saul Macarlane, is living with his daughter, Robinette, near the construction camp. John Keith, the head engineer, and Barry Houston, his assistant, are both in love with Robinette. She distributes her favor evenly. An avalanche starts and sweeps down over the camp, carrying most of the buildings and men over the precipice.

DRAMATIC COMEDY OF MATRIMONIAL LIFE

Fine Clothes is to be Shown Here on Thursday Only of This Week

"Fine Clothes" coming here Thursday only of this week, is an adaptation from a stage play by Franz Molnar. Benjamin F. Glazer, who translated "Liliom," "The Swan" and many other of Molnar's stories and plays, prepared the translation of this picture and also collaborated with Producer John M. Stahl on the continuity.

Like many of Stahl's past successes, such as "Why Men Leave Home" and "Husbands and Lovers," this new story is a dramatic comedy of matrimonial life. It was one of the most popular of Molnar's plays.

STAKING CLAIMS IN SILVER AND GOLD AREA OF GREAT SLAVE LAKE

FORT SMITH, N.W.T., March 20.—The arrival of outsiders is adding greatly to the excitement in the settlements close to the new silver and gold field. All the treaty Indians have gone out to stake today and persons whose positions debar them from staking are buying claims.

Fitzgerald residents had all recorded with Mr. Haight, emergency recorder, but it was suddenly discovered that Mr. Haight could not take the records of more than five people, so another rush was staged on the Fort Smith office where all the papers were once more recorded.

Many people are arriving from the south, including old time prospectors, and it seems that every white trapper on the Slave has come down to stake his claim.

SOW WENT MAD AND CHARGED AUCTIONEER

LONDON, March 22.—The cattle market at Selby, in Yorkshire, a forty-stone sow suddenly went mad. It charged the door of the auctioneer's box, smashing it in, and tearing away the seat where the auctioneer sat with his clerk. The sow seized the leg of the auctioneer, who scrambled over the top of the box into the sale ring. The sow put its paws on top of the ledge of the box and glared at the buyers. It took ten minutes to secure the animal, and the auctioneer's box was completely wrecked.

A. S. Paul, local manager of the Pacific Stevedoring Co., sails tonight on the Prince Rupert for Victoria where he will receive eye treatment. He will be accompanied by his little daughter.

INSURANCE MEN VISITING HERE

Something Like One Hundred in Party Arrive in City Today

On their way from Winnipeg and various points to Victoria where they will attend a convention that is to be held toward the end of this week, a party of officers and agents of the great West Life Assurance Co., one hundred or more strong, is visiting Prince Rupert this afternoon. The main body of the party, which was assembled at Winnipeg and which was joined on the way west by other agents of the company, came in on a special Canadian National Railway train at 1:30 this afternoon. Yesterday afternoon some twenty officers and agents from the south arrived on the steamer Cardena from Vancouver to join the party here. All will proceed south aboard the steamer Prince Rupert which sails this evening at 6 o'clock on a special trip to Victoria via Ocean Falls.

First Large Party

In spite of the fact that it is the first large party that has come through this year and the tourist season can hardly be said to have opened yet, members of the excursion are unanimous in stating that it has so far been a delightful trip. They are keenly anticipating their sail down the coast through the celebrated "inside passage." Accompanying the party on the entire trip is T. E. P. Pringle, C.N.R. city passenger agent at Winnipeg. R. E. McNaughton, district passenger agent here, went out from here to meet the party at Prince George and will proceed south with it from here. On the way west, the special train stopped at various points of interest.

The party was met here by the entertainment committee of the board of trade and is being taken on a cruise of the harbor before the boat sails. The trip will include a visit to the plant of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., the largest fish cold storage establishment in the world, also to the dry dock and grain elevator. The offices of M. M. Stephens & Co. and Hunters' are assisting in the reception of the party here.

SPORT CHAT

Except for the play-off between the champion men's and ladies' teams for the whist championship of the city which will probably be arranged for next week, the coming week will see the close of the winter's sports activities. Tonight the Daughters of England and Moose Ladies will have a special session at the home of Mrs. H. Jackson, to decide the championship in the ladies' section for which they are tied. On Thursday night the last games of the season in the men's section will be played. The St. Andrew's team has the edge on things but it is still possible that they be tied for the season's honors in which case a play-off would be necessary. The teams will meet Thursday night as follows: Oddfellows vs. Moose; Knights of Columbus vs. Elks; Loyal Orange Lodge vs. Sons of England; St. Andrew's vs. Great War Veterans.

With the Orange Lodge already having a cinch on the Cribbage league honors, the final session in that organization will take place this evening with the teams meeting as follows: Gold Storage vs. Prince Rupert Hotel; St. Andrew's vs. C. N. Operating Department; Moose vs. Dry Dock; Canadian National Mechanical Department vs. Loyal Orange Lodge; Knights of Columbus vs. Great War Veterans; Sons of Canada vs. Elks. A meeting of the Cribbage League will be held on Wednesday night of this week to wind up the season's affairs.

A move is on foot to bring the billiard, whist and cribbage leagues together in the near future at one large joint affair at which the trophies won during the past winter would be officially presented. There are, as usual, a number of trophies to be distributed and it is thought that it might be fitting to have the whole thing done at one time and have a real good time in doing so.

ELKS LOSE CHANCE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP MEN'S WHIST LEAGUE

The Elks lost their chance of figuring in the finals for the championship of the men's section of the Fraternal Whist League when they were defeated in a postponed game with the Great War Veterans at the end of the week by a score of 6 to 3.

The St. Andrew's are leading in the league standing with the Moose still having a chance to tie them, providing the former lose their final game this week and the latter win theirs.

TOURNAMENT AT BADMINTON CLUB

Handicap Event Yesterday Resulted in Close Competition for Leadership

There was a handicap badminton tournament yesterday afternoon at the courts of the Prince Rupert Badminton Club at which R. Mortimer and Miss Johnstone were declared winners. Some of the crack players of the club were rather severely handicapped so that it became difficult for them to secure a look in. The final results as declared by the official handicapper, E. G. Gibbons was as follows:

- Mortimer and Miss Johnstone 83, Johns and Miss Rorie, 75, Wyles and Miss Rivett, 65, Rix and Miss Cameron, 65, Pullen and Miss Peie Tremayne, 61, Thompson and Mrs. Bryant, 60, Scott and Miss Aitchison, 59, Hartness and Mrs. Wright, 57, Carmichael and Miss Creech, 54, Connon and Miss Irwin, 49. Without the handicap Wyles and Miss Rivett had 75, which meant they did not lose a game. Mortimer and Miss Johnstone had 68; Johns and Miss Rorie, 65; Connon and Miss Irwin, 44; and Hartness and Mrs. Wright, 42.

The tournament was in charge of Harold Thompson and Larry Wyles with Val. Tomlinson scorer, and E. G. Gibbons handicapper. Tea was served by Miss Caroline Mitchell.

LOCAL TEAM IS WINNER AGAIN

Maple Leafs Beat Mine Ladies of Anyox by 23 to 1 on Saturday Evening

The second game of the basketball series between the Maple Leafs of Prince Rupert and the Mine Ladies of Anyox for the ladies' basketball championship of Northern B.C. on Saturday night was a better match than the first on both sides in spite of the fact that the victory of the locals was by an increased margin—28 to 14. The local girls were in excellent form and they displayed their usual splendid combination as well as being very effective in shooting. Closely checked, the visitors were unable to shoot effectively and they were also unfortunate with some of their chances. On the whole, the locals proved themselves to be too fast all around for the visitors.

The second game of the evening between the Intermediate Colts and Groffo resulted in victory for the former by 16 to 13. George Mitchell refereed both games which were witnessed by a good crowd. The visitors and the Maple Leafs, the latter accompanied by
