PUBLIC NEEDS TO BE EDUCATED REGARDING NURSE, SAYS DOCTOR

OTTAWA, Ont., July 8. — (Canadian Press).—In the opinion of Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller foundation, speaking at a Victorian Order meeting, the public needs educating with regard to the nurse.

The public must be taught that many social careers were competing with nursing for the services of young women today; that personality, family and cultural back-ground were of vital importance to the nurse; that sound professional training was essential, that high standards for such training and for nursing service must be maintained for the protection of society; that a system of registration for nursese was indispensable; that adequate compensation and superannuation must be accorded her. The public expect a good deal of the nurse. Oft-times this expectation was exaggerated and unreasonable. She was supposed to possess an ample fund of scientific knowledge and magic skill. She was counted upon for sympathy and friendliness under often the most trying circumstances. Many households thought she must lend a hand with domestic tasks. There was a feeling also that she must not ask very substantial remuneration, but should be content with the consciousness of sacrifice and with the knowledge that she was helping her fellows.

Its pastor, Dr. Clem Davies, in a public announcement stated that this was the same method followed last year. This left members free to go camping or holidaying without feeling any church ties. It resulted in renewed interest with the opening in September.

A resolution was also passed disapproving the formation of a Canadian Legion on the ground that it advocated a militaristic policy on the part of Canada.

MORALITY QUESTION IS BEING TRIED N GREAT BRITAIN TODAY

Professor Eloped With Another Man's Wife and Claims it Was Not Immoral

LONDON, July 8. — Cambridge university is preparing for its first official study of the modern sex problem. It will hold a trial by a special court of distinguished graduates to determine whether Prof. J. B. B. Haldane irretrievably offended the university's moral code by eloping with another man's wife.

Haldane is a bright, young scientist and was lecturer in biochemistry at Cambridge.

Students and faculty alike at the university were astounded when he was named co-respondent in a divorce suit and offered no defense. He was convicted of "gross immorality" and his connection with the school was severed.

Haldane declared that his elopement was not immoral and appealed against the decision. He said that as he loved the woman and she him, it would have been immoral for her to have continued living with her husband.

The senate committee of the university is attempting to select a committee of judges from a special panel of graduates headed by Sir Horace Avory, a distinguished high court judge.

Lively Scenes in British House Over Purchase of German Coal During Strike of Coal Miners

LONDON, July 8.—Lively scenes were enacted in Parliament yesterday during consideration of an appropriation of one hundred million pounds sterling to pay the bills abroad for the purchase of coal purchased by the Government since the miners' strike started.

John Wheatley, minister of health in the former labor cabinet, objected particularly to the Government buying German coal to beat the British miners who responded to the call to arms to defeat Germany in 1914.

Premier Baldwin announced that the Yorkshire mine owners had agreed to pay the same ratio of wages as other districts, thus making possible the final stages of the eight hour bill being reached tonight, which will be followed by the official posting of terms under which men have the option of returning to work. Early next week the extent of the response will be known.

Dominion Status Discussed in House of Lords and Question of Equal Partnership Mentioned

LONDON, July 8.—The issue in regard to the status of the Dominions and treaties between Great Britain and other nations was raised in the House of Lords here when Lord Parmoor asked for information in regard to the nature of the obligations which treaties contracted by Britain would impose on the Dominions. He called attention to the inconsistency arising from the fact that the Dominions were subject to dangers and obligations if Britain declared war to enforce the treaties, whereas the Dominions after a war which they had helped to win were now claiming positions of equal partners who had achieved their full status.

Lord Charleston, under-secretary for Dominion affairs, replying for the Government, said they were most anxious to assert to the full the strong importance attached to the principle of equal status and said it was his opinion that the strength of the Empire did not depend on the form of constitutional principles as much as in the belief of the people in the righteousness of the cause they upheld.

Passing of Socialism As Universal Panacea.

It is curious how time changes our ideas. It was not very long ago that many people thought socialism would be the panacea of all the ills of the world and then Russia taught them that the human factor had a lot to do with every system of government. It was seen that no government could be better than the people who formed the government, which in our case consists of the voters of the country.

The result seems to be that socialism as an active factor in the world has passed.

There was an inevitable innocence about the socialism of the eighties and nineties, as though metamorphosis by manifesto were an easy cure for the world's old aches and pains. There was nothing strange about that. Every movement, when it is fresh in the world, naturally carries the virtues of a child and is innocent, confident, and unabashed. The trial comes when the movement discovers with the moving years that the world will humor a child but not yield to it. Then is the hard necessity for laying aside the innocence of the child and assuming the brain of the bargainer. But the fact that taking involves giving and that coming to terms means leaving Utopia ought not to bring serious disillusion to those whose minds have matured in any kind of realistic thinking.

Evolution of Government

The evolution of Government is still going on. Many people today see only the failures of democracy and like Mussolini, would return to absolutism. That is for the Latin mind. It does not fit the Anglo-Saxon. The northerners are slower to action, less excitable and therefore more stable. They do not take to new things as quickly as the Italian or French.

On the surface Italy today has switched from a socialistic government to a reactionary absolutism that smacks of the middle ages. Not so Britain. An attempt was made to bring about a change through a general strike, but it failed. So would any movement fail designed to return to a form which smacked of the Mussolini method.

But What About Things in Canada?

But what about Canada? It looks as if an attempt was being made to introduce a measure of absolutism here, but it will fail. The people will not stand for it. All that is needed now is a clear and definite expression at the polls that Canada will not support any government which has not attained its position by constitutional methods. If one false step is allowed to pass without strong protest, we deserve to be ruled by a dictator.

But Canada will speak plainly, it is to be hoped. The people will have an opportunity to vote when our dictator allows. She will say with clear and definite voice that she will stand for no overruling of the constitution in order to favor any political party. The sovereign people must assert themselves in order to retain their rights for all time inviolate.

Coloquial Names Versus Official.

The other day mention was made in the news columns of some of colloquial names as if they meant nothing. Yet colloquial names are often the ones that stick and are used for all time while official names sink into the discard. Names of local significance, as long as they do not duplicate others and cause confusion, are always preferable to those set by people who have had nothing to do with the development of the country and its resources.

GIRLS ARE BACK FROM KETCHIKAN

High School Drill Team Given Fine Reception in Alaskan Town.

Yesterday afternoon the girls' physical drill class of the Prince Rupert High School returned on the steamer Princess Alice from a friendly visit to Ketchikan. They report an excellent excursion and are loud in their praises of the splendid reception and entertainment given them in the Alaskan town.

Upon arrival at Ketchikan on Monday night a demonstration was given on Harding Square and the crowds lining the streets readily showed appreciation of the girls' efforts. Later, the visitors were guests of honor at a dance. Tuesday was spent in sightseeing through the courtesy of Messrs. Heckmann, Bennett and Wentworth who gave their cars for the whole afternoon. Incidentally, they had taken great care that a supply of hot dogs would be on hand at the end of the tour. Mr. Ferris and school trustees arranged to have the local students visit their school which is a very efficient school plant in every sense. The spacious gymnasium and beautifully finished auditorium were the objects of many envious sighs.

It was not on the boat alone, however, that the girls were feeding the fish, as they all had the opportunity to spoon out the food at the hatchery. Some expressed considerable surprise when they discovered that the mush was preserved salmon eggs. To a great number it had been the first visit to a hatchery and the appearance of so many fish brought forth numerous exclamations. The same evening a theatre party was organized at the Coliseum Theatre.

ANNIE BESANT GIVES LECTURE

Tells People of London About World Teacher, or Reappeared Christ.

EXPOUNDS HER DOCTRINE

Defends Fact That Krishnamurti is of Member of Oppressed Nation.

LONDON, July 7.—The ritual at the Queen's Hall tonight when Dr. Annie Besant addressed her followers was the same that is always observed at these remarkable gatherings. When all was ready Mrs. Besant swept on to the platform clad in a voluminous white garment embroidered with gold. She took her place in the little brass-railed platform from which Sir Henry Wood conducts the orchestra, with her hands placed palm to palm as in the effigy of a saint. There was complete silence and everyone rose to receive her. Without any preliminaries she launched into her address, which took exactly an hour, and when she had finished she left the platform again alone.

79 Years Old

Mrs. Besant, as she told us, is now 79 years of age, and she is more impressive than ever. There is a slight huskiness of age in her voice. She speaks slowly, very carefully, and every sentence expresses the dominating power of a formidable personality. The scene was highly picturesque—the white figure crowned with ample white hair standing there above a sort of bower of flowers arranged along the platform. She was heard in reverent quiet; only once did her hearers break into applause, and tha twas when she spoke with unusual personal feeling about her attachment in the past "to a cause which brought no glory." Mrs. Besant at once and sternly suppressed this demonstration.

Perhaps nine-tenths of her audience were women. One noticed there were a few clergymen and priests in the audience and a fair number of Indians. The most remarkable Indian of all was not there, though he was eagerly looked for. I mean, of course, Mr. Krishnamuti, the young man now living in seclusion at Wimbledon who has been accepted by Mrs. Besant and many others as "the vehicle of the World Teacher"—in other words, as a reincarnation of "the Christ."

Expression of Faith

Mrs. Besant was giving the first of a series of lectures on "The coming of the World Teacher as seen by modern and ancient psychology." One may say that she spoke as the solemn prophet of Krishnamurti in his character of the reappeared Christ. (On a stall outside photographs were being sold of "the World Teacher"—a young Hindu of extreme beauty. Her lecture was really, in spite of its logical form and philosophical argument, an expression of personal faith, and she made it clear that the grounds of that belief cannot be proved by appeals to history or science. "They would only be endorsed by the knowledge of a few and perhaps the intuition of many." She compared herself to a traveller come back from an unexplored country stating what he has seen and heard. If she was asked why she herself believed she would reply that it was because she had many times seen Him and had heard Him say that He would again visit the earth in a mortal body as when He last came in Palestine.

Gnostic Theory

The theory on which this new religion is based would appear to be, from what Mrs. Besant said, that of the early Christian Gnostics who held that the Christ took the body of a disciple named Jesus. The Gnostics looked upon Jesus and the Christ as two separate beings, the former being a great disciple who "lent the use of his body to the "World Teacher." The Christ was the tenant of that body during His ministry. Mrs. Besant affirmed her belief that this theory is true, and she went on to declare her faith that the World Teacher is about again to occupy a particular body—a body, she said, which has been carefully trained in purity of life for the purpose. It was now time to speak more plainly, and the reason for doing so was, she indicated, so that the suspicion and ridicule with which every World Teacher had been received might be got over before he came out into the world, "not as the disciple but as the master of masters." Was it strange that the Teacher should again use the body of an oppressed nation?

PHENOMENAL DROP IN JUNE WEDDINGS

TORONTO, July 8.—It is again becoming fashionable for brides to desire their banns to be published in churches. Incidentally a five dollar fee is saved. But the phenomenal drop in June wedding licenses is chiefly attributable to the cold weather it is asserted. "It's no weather for honey-mooning."

FOUR WOMEN EXPECTED TO TRY CHANNEL SWIM

Success Is Possible but Not Probable Declares Man Who has Tried Difficult Feat

CAPE GRIZ NEZ, July 8. — Hardened veterans of the sea and peasants who have watched the moods of the "manche" for many a long year are speculating over the possibility of any woman being able to swim from here to the English coast.

This summer at least four women will make the attempt, and Jabez Wolffe, who has tried twenty-one times to reach the other shore, declares:

"The victory of a woman over the Channel is possible, but is it probable? I will not say it is."

The torments of seasickness, indigestion, inflammation of the eyes, great cold and other disagreeable features may prove too much for any woman swimmer, he says, adding that as a woman loses ten seconds in 100 metres to a man she may not be able to reach the English coast.

"If, in spite of all these handicaps, a woman can swim the Channel it will be an outstanding athletic feat of the present century," in Wolffe's opinion.

SPORT CHAT

After a two weeks' lapse during which the players were practising for and engaged in the series with Ketchikan, the city baseball schedule will be resumed tonight. With the Native Sons at the top of the league with four victories and two defeats, the Grand Terminals following with three wins and two losses and the Gyros third with two wins and five losses, there is still a chance for all the teams and there will doubtless be a good deal of interest taken in the final lap for the season's honors. The schedule for the second half, published today, includes the games postponed from the first half of the season.

Poor fielding was what lost the baseball series with Ketchikan for the locals. There were no remarkable pitching exhibitions on either side but the Ketchikanites certainly proved themselves to be an efficient aggregation in the field, far excelling the locals. Be it said for the Prince Rupert bunch, however, that they seemed to be stage struck or something in the Ketchikan series. Their work in the field was not even up to the quality displayed in the league games and they are capable of much better than they showed the visitors. In the two games played here, the crying need of having the rockpile removed was evident. Had it not been for said rockpile, there would very likely have been fielding put outs where, as it happened, the Ketchikan batsmen were awarded two baggers and home runs.

Her Face Was Covered With Large, Red Pimples

Miss Greta Carlisle, 23 Leonard St., Brantford, Ont., writes:—"A short while ago, my face was completely covered with large red pimples, and it seemed that it was almost impossible for me to get rid of them, as nothing I took seemed to do me any good.

One day I noticed an advertisement of

and I will never regret the day I bought it, as, now, my face is entirely cleared up of blotches and pimples of every kind."

EXCITING FOOTBALL GAME LAST NIGHT IS TIE FOR LOCAL TEAMS

An exciting football game was played last night when the Naval Reserve and High School elevens fought to a two-all draw. In the first half the High School had the better of the exchanges and the sound of the whistle found them a single goal in the lead.

The Reserve pressed hard in the second stanza and tied matters up. They were unfortunate in their shooting and were unable to make the necessary winning goal with the result that full time found the score even.

W. E. Williscroft handled the game with C. P. O. Kineh and E. Smith as linesmen.

TRANSPORTING GRAIN IS BEING DISCUSSED

Officials of Car Service of C.N.R. in Conference at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, July 8—The question of transporting grain was discussed at a meeting of the officials of the car service and accounting departments of the Canadian National Railways in the Fort Garry Hotel.

It was pointed out that weather conditions last autumn were such that the movement of the season's crop was evenly distributed over a longer period than usual. This year it is proposed to so arrange that distribution of the grain may be made to the markets of the world with as little delay as possible.

The conference is continuing today.

HUSBAND SUIT AGAINST WIFE

Asks Damages for Being Tipped into Ditch from Skidding Auto

EDMONTON, July 8.—Determined to stop this vicious practice of wives occasionally tipping their hubbies into the ditch while in control of the family car, an unusual action was heard before Mr. Justice Walsh in the supreme court recently, when Jas. Benjamin Smith brought action against his wife Minnie, charging that she had caused him considerable damage as a result of a motor car mishap last summer. He asked for $2,500 general, and $325 special damages, attesting that while making a trip from the city to Calgary in July last, with his wife at the wheel of the car, going 30 miles an hour the auto suddenly skidded on a patch of greasy roadbed and was ditched. His clothes were burned by acids and he received personal injuries. Judgment in the case was reserved.

SCIENCE PRACTITIONER RANKING AS DOCTOR

Question of Admitting Medical Certificate Discussed by Toronto School Board

TORONTO, July 8.—"What is a doctor?" This was the conundrum which under pressure from Arthur W. Roebuck, appearing on behalf of the Christian Scientists, and Trustee Edmunds, who constituted himself his supporter, puzzled the minds of the Finance Committee of the Board of Education recently.

The case in question involved the payment of some $20 to a teacher at Parkdale Collegiate for salary deducted owing to the fact that she had submitted a medical certificate of sickness signed only by a Christian Science practitioner. Mr. Roebuck admitted however, that in one sense the matter constituted a test case since the application was not being made in reality by the teacher herself but by the Christian Science Church. The committee had before them the opinion of the Board's solicitor that the certificate of a Christian Science practitioner as distinguished from a physician or licentiate of dentistry did not meet the requirements either under the act or according to the bylaws of the Board. The committee referred the matter back to the Solicitor.

NEW BRITISH NOVELS BEING CRITICIZED BY AN AMERICAN WRITER

LONDON, July 7.—Max Pemberton says the trouble with modern English novels is that they do not tell a story.

Conan Doyle, Stevenson and Rider Haggard won a great following because they told stories, and the public would instantly respond today to novelists who invent and have the necessary technique to carry invention through, so Mr. Pemberton believes.

"The public is tired of sheiks and hysterical women veiled obscenity and all the nastiness and poverty of the modern novel as it now is being written. The story is the thing the public wants."

PREPARING TO OPEN SMELTER

Ladysmith Plant to Blow in for Handling Ores Containing Zinc Under New Process

VICTORIA, July 8. — In the course of about two months, it is anticipated that the ore separation works at Ladysmith will be in operation for taking care of products of Coast mines which contain zinc or lead, or both of them, in conjunction with other mineral contents.

For some time, Herbert Carmichael and H. B. Thomson, of this city, associated with some other investors, have been investigating the process which is now to be put into use, and the bringing of the plant of the Ladysmith smelter into condition to take care of the ore will be proceeded with without delay.

David McBride, who has had experience with this line of work arrived here a few weeks ago with Mr. Carmichael, and will remain to take charge of the plant at Ladysmith.

New machinery is being ordered, and this will be put into use with the equipment now on the ground in carrying out the plans of the new owners. It is the intention to use gas, which will be manufactured by the owners on the ground.

Mount Sicker Ore

The decision to start up the plant at Ladysmith carries with it also the announcement that the same owners will utilize ore from Mount Sicker as the basis of supply at the start. Work is now going on at Mount Sicker looking to the opening up of new ore bodies there, and a tunnel is being driven through the Lenora with the ultimate design of tapping ore bodies in the Tyee.

At present the tunnel is in about 700 feet. At that point water was encountered, which will require the installation of a pump. This delays the work a little, but it is expected soon to resume the driving of this main tunnel.

Tyee Ore on Hand

The Tyee, which in former years shipped a great amount of ore to the smelter, is one of the producers which the present process is adapted to meet. In conjunction with the copper contents of the Tyee there is considerable zinc. Under the process of smelting by the ordinary methods it was impossible to treat the ore when it ran more than four per cent zinc.

The result was that when the smelter shut down there was at the Tyee 70,000 tons of ore in sight that could not be treated at the smelter in consequence of the fact that it carried about nine per cent zinc. This will at once be shipped to the Ladysmith works when the new plant is installed.

Before the plant is ready at Ladysmith it will be necessary to have bunkers for the handling of ore which may be received there. This matter will be attended to without delay.

Will Meet Want

On the Pacific Coast in this Province and in Alaska, there is a vast amount of ore that contains zinc and lead. In the past this class of ore has been heavily penalized owing to the fact that the ordinary smelter was not able to separate the ore into its constituent parts without loss of one or other of the constituents.

The new process of separation does away with this situation, and the lead and zinc can be separated from the other metals and made available. In connection with the process there are a number of by-products which may be recovered and which will be of use in an industrial way, adding to the returns from the plant.

The opening up of the plant will, therefore, be a boon to the many owners of mining properties on the Coast, who have in the past been heavily penalized in the treatment of their ores or have had to allow the mines in many instances to remain idle.

WATER NOTICE

Use and Storage

TAKE NOTICE that J. M. Ruffner, whose address is Atlin, B. C., will apply for a licence to take and use 70 C. F. S. and to store 42 C. F. S. of water out of 4th of July Creek, which flows south westerly and drains into Atlin Lake, about 6 miles north of Atlin.

The storage dam will be located at or near the foot of a chain of small lakes. The capacity of the reservoir to be created is about 1250 million cubic feet, and it will flood about 2900 acres of land, including the lakes. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about and below the proposed dam about 5 miles westerly of west line of 4th of July Mineral Claim, and will be used for power for mining purposes upon the mines, described as Atlin Silver-Lead Mines and Ruffner Groups of Mineral Claims.

This notice was posted on the ground on the 16th day of June, 1926.

A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act, 1914," will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Atlin. Objections to the application may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B. C., within thirty days after first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper. The date of the first publication of this notice is July 2, 1926.

NATIVE SONS TAKE ACTION

Action of Governor in Refusing King Dissolution Was Assumption of Authority.

EDMONTON, July 8.—Edmonton council of the Native Sons of Canada is only awaiting action by the Grand Council of that order before renewing the agitation for a Canadian-born Governor General which has been fanned into white heat as a result of the situation at Ottawa.

"Our position has been materially strengthened by the unprecedented assumption of authority by the Governor General and his refusal to grant Premier King the dissolution asked for.

The Edmonton assembly of the Native Sons had already placed itself on record in the matter of appointing a Canadian-born Governor General before the present Ottawa crisis was reached, having acted at the request of several other councils in passing strong resolutions. The action of Baron Byng has brought the matter very forcibly to the front again, and another Dominion wide movement is starting to have some attention paid to the protests being raised.

LEPER COLONY FORMOSA TODAY

Newspaper Tells of Work Being Done in Alleviating Sufferings of Patients

TAIHOKU, Formosa, July 8.—We have heard of the fearful leprosy disease, and again that Formosa is a leper country, says the Formosan Daily News. These lepers together reverence but one savior, the MacKay Memorial Hospital. We have been to visit the out-patient dispensary for lepers at this hospital. The day was Saturday. Each Saturday morning is wholly given over to the treatment of lepers.

The room for treatment is the other side of the dispensary, well situated for the admission of light and air. It is a section of the verandah which has been enclosed and made into a little house. There the attendants are dressed in hygienic white clothes. Talking with lepers and writing their histories and treatment is Dr. Taylor. Again, like to Miss Nightingale, Nurse Mrs. Taylor is present, also young doctors and nurses doing work.

Mingle With Patients

Treatment begins at 8 o'clock. At this time the lepers have gathered. Dr. Taylor, using cleverly-spoken Formosan words, asks them one by one of their symptoms of the previous week and diagnoses their condition as each sits before him. From their answers he sees whether they have slightly altered or not, or any strange sign, or great pain, etc.

The doctor according to their condition prescribes medicine. If the patient needs a dressing, this is done, and then they go back to their homes. This is the work.

Each Saturday the number of patients is from fifty to 100, usually fifty to seventy. They come from many distant places.

The place has no notice board up, and it is not so very large a house. There are many lepers in the hospital, so that in the dispensary there is lots of life and movement.

Symptoms and Cure

Standing near the doctor's side is a young doctor injecting medicine. At the beginning of leprosy the body easily tires, memory fails, the skin in place has a tingling sensation like ants crawling over it, in the bones and ligaments comes a sensation of tightness, loss of the physical appearance of the face. From the injection of the medicine the tiredness goes, they can walk more naturally.

Then they take needful medicine which is not only one kind, sometimes many kinds are given. One week's medicine is seventy sen only, but, even so, only ten out of seventy patients pay anything. All the others have free treatment, for these are poor people. To make up the deficiency, according to the doctor, the Canadian Church sends expenses.

STOMACH SO BAD CAN'T EAT EVEN FRUIT

"For year was badly constipated and troubled with gas after eating. Could not eat fruit and many other things. Adlerika has done me good—can now eat anything." (signed) W. H. Fletcher. Adlerika removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach. Brings out a surprising amount of old waste matter you never thought was in the system. Stops that full bloated feeling and makes you enjoy eating. Excellent for chronic constipation. — Ormes Limited, Druggists.

"The Talker"

A big photoplay concerning the ultra-modern women of today. Meet "The Talker," the wife who thinks she has new ideas of love, who talks herself into a mess of trouble, who talks others into trouble, who loses love only to regain it when she learns that silence is golden. A woman who talks a lot doesn't say much as a rule, but this one's talk brings about a mighty drama. A big cast of big people.
