TRAGIC DEATH LAST THURSDAY NIGHT OF WILLIAM ARCHER ABOARD GASBOAT JEAN

While at the wheel of the logging amp gasboat tender Jean, William Archer, aged about 36, collapsed at about 12:30 on the night of Oct. 4, and fell the engine room of the boat and broke his neck in contract with the fly wheel of the motor. The tragic accident occurred as the Jean was proceeding from Butedale to a logging camp in the vicinity with some floating bunkhouses in tow. The provincial police was notified on Saturday and Sergeant McNeil, Constable Bella and Constable Camm proceeded to the scene abcard the powerboat Pachena, Capt. Paul Armour, returning to the city Sunday night at 10:30 with the boat and witnesses. This morning au inquiry was held by Coroner Norman A. Watt and it was established that death was accidental. The remains are in the city pending notification from relatives as to interment.

According to Capt. Hanson, who was on board the gasboat at the time of the accident, he (Capt. Hanson) had been relieved at the wheel by Archer at midnight. The captain went below and, after oiling the engine, retired to his bunk. About half an hour later, he heard something go wrong with the COLORED WOMAN engine and came out to investigate.

Everything was in darkness and he stumbled over the body of Archer who had apparently fallen from the wheelhouse onto the engine. The body was removed from the engine and communication was made with the Prin-Alberta Daniels, colored piano cess Beatrice which was passing and

IMMORTAL MEMORY CANADIAN HEROES.

Armistice Day, which comes this week, reminds us that while there are a great many things in regard to the Great War that it is well to forget, there is one outstanding feature that must never be forgotten, and that is the heroism of noble men and women who went at their country's call and offered their lives on the field of battle. Some of them died nobly as became representatives of great people. Some were wounded and returned bearing the scars of the conflict. Others passed through all the horrors of that awful time unscathed except by the mental and physical impressions of the battlefield.

The things which men endured in those days cannot be told. They are too horrible. Happily the healing influence of time has smoothed the scars and softened the remembrances. However, young men and women growing up should know what Canadian men and women are able to do and have done as an incentive, not to follow in their footsteps, necessarily, but to do noble things when the occasion arises, whether in peace or in war.

Already it has done a good deal of work in investigating the life histories of fish and other phases of marine life. The extension of the work to the field of commerce is a comparatively new move and is in line with modern commercial development.

BEGINNING TO PREPARE FOR CHRISTMAS.

Those who are sending parcels to the Old Country for Christmas have now to think about getting them ready as very soon they will have to be mailed. At the holiday season there are apt to be delays caused by the amount of mail matter moved, so it is well to be on time. It is very disappointing for Christmas mail to arrive a week or two late.

Also it is time to begin thinking about the proper celebration of the holiday season locally. It is often wise to purchase gifts early in order to secure a good selection. A hastily purchased Christmas present is often worse than no present. This is the time to make plans and one by one to secure the desired articles.

Different people have different methods of handling the Christmas present problem. Some make out a list of all those they wish to remember and about how much they wish to spend on each. Then they go to work and carefully select the presents. ticking them off the list as each is procured. Others take the more haphazard method of buying articles and then alloting them after purchase or of buying when they happen to see something they think would suit. At the end there is usually a rush and a frantic effort is made to get what is needed, often without results and both the giver and recipient is disappointed.

AND SOME WERE TURNED AWAY IN EVENING

Special choral and musical programs at the First Presbyterian Church at both morning and evening services on Sunday constituted another achievement to the credit of John E. Davey, the organist and choir master of the church. The church was filled on both occasions and, in the evening, people were turned away from the doors, so large was the congregation.

Both senior and junior choirs participated in the services and there was, as well, an orchestra consisting of Mrs. H. C. Fraser, organist; William Balagno and James L. Iee, first violinists; J. B. Mackay, second violinist, and A. J. Lancaster, cellist.

Soloists were Billy Fuller who sang "My Task" and Billy Williscroft, whose selection was "He Loves Me Too," Miss othey Christie and Master Earl Eby. Miss program was to a large extent repeated in the evening with the addition of a duet by Mrs. Waugh and Mrs. James Lee and quartette by Mrs. Waugh, Mrs. Lee. Frank Derry and A. Clapperton. Rev. Dr. Charles J. Cameron preached appropriate sermons at both services.

SMITHERS, Nov. 9 .- The third annual Friday and Saturday and proved to be the most successful of any yet held. Twenty-six teachers were present at the business meetings held in high school on Friday, representing a section of Central B.C. of over three hundred miles along the line of the C.N. Railway from Dorreen on the west to Fort Fraser on the east. In the district represented there are over fifty teachers but in a number of instances it meant closing the schools for two days to allow the teachers to attend and this could not very well be done.

School Inspector H. C. Fraser of Prince Rupert was the principal speaker at the convention and gave two addresses. At the morning session he spoke on preparing scholars for entrance examinations and gave the teachers many valuable hints on the subject. At the afternoon session, "Intelligence Tests" and "Achievement Tests" were his main topics, and as these are comparatively new ideas in present day education his remarks were followed very closely.

OBJECTIVE EXAMINATION It was pointed out that in the past. school examinations have been of a subjective nature, that is, the pupil was called upon to write essays and competitions to supply answers to the various questions, and the marks given for the papers could vary to a considerable extent according to the temprement of the examiner reading the papers. In comparison to this are the objective examinations, which consist of a number of statements which are answered by the pupil with one word either "true" or "false" thus saving considerable time for the examiner and assuring the same markings, irrespective of who is doing the examining. This latter method is now gradually taking the place of the former in British Columbia public school examinations.

Principal Cockrane of Burns Lake spoke on "Making History Interesting' dealing with history for the intermediate grades. R. B. Bronchitis More Than a Cold

Often develops rapidly into pneumonia-relief is found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Any cold is serious enough when its dreadful possibilities are considered, but when there is soreness or tightness in the chest and a dry hard cough you can look for bronchitis, which is often confused with an ordinary cold.

It is usually known by aching limbs and body pains, chilly feelings, weariness and weakness, pain in the chest and a tight, tearing cough. Fever, dry skin, thirst, coated tongue and constipation are other symptoms.

Dr Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine seems almost like a specific for bronchitis because it is so success ful in loosening up the cough, aiding expectoration and preventing the inflammation from reaching the lungs.

GREAT FAITH

BELIEVES IN CANADA AND HIS OWN ABILITY TO MAKE RAILWAY SUCCESS

VICTORIA, Nov. 8 .- "We who live in Canada have much to be thankful for. we have reason to be proud of the past and to be confident of our future. Our present problems, in the light of the passing years will prove to be small ones after all, just as those of the past appear to have been now. Our posi-We stand high among the nations enjoying their respect and their confidence and in that great commonwealth which forms the British Empire we stand first. In my mind Canada is today the best economic bet of any country on the face of the earth."

In these words Sir Henry W. Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways epitomized his thoughts on the present and future status of Canada in a thanksgiving address to the Canadian Club of Victoria at noon today.

EVENTS PROVE IT

Sir Henry who was introduced by the president of the club, as the super-optimist of the Dominion, acknowledged the charge with "almost criminal cheerfulness," but he stated that he thought that the events of the past few years and the steady progress which Canada has been making, more than justified his highest expressions of faith in the

Had I not had unlimited faith in the future of Canada and in the ability of the Canadian National Railways to become an issue of great value to the people of the Dominion, I never would have accepted the position which I now occupy and had I found my faith unfounded I would not have remained."

In dealing specifically with the position of British Columbia Sir Henry said he looked forward with a great deal of confidence to the future of the province. It is a matter on which the people of the province could be complimented that they had been able to make such excellent progress in the past few years and he believed that a continued application of the same industry, zeal, and confidence in the conduct of their affairs would make British Columbia the most important section of the whole Pacific slope.
